Questions and Answers about the Separation and Distribution

Will Hewlett Packard Enterprise incur any indebtedness prior to or at the time of the distribution? page viii

1. When quantitative information on the amount of debt you expect to incur is available, please provide disclosure throughout your document and provide us with sufficient time to review such information. Also, please expand your discussion on page 25 to discuss the nature and purpose of the referenced financial arrangements and the underlying material terms.

Information Statement Summary

2. We note your description of the Hewlett-Packard Company ("HP Co.") segments that will be distributed to HP Enterprise and the resulting corporate structure. To provide background on how you arrived at this proposed structure, please expand your disclosure to describe the process by which HP Co. selected which business segments to retain and which to distribute to you. Briefly explain why the marketing optimization software product group, a business which has historically been included in your software segment is being retained by HP Co. Also explain the process you utilized to allocate assets and liabilities to each entity under the separation agreement, including the allocation of liabilities related to ongoing litigation.

3. We note your disclosure on page 18 that you may experience greater dis-synergies than expected, and the impact of the divestiture on your revenue growth may be larger than projected. We also note that Ms. Whitman described and quantified these dis-synergies in HP Co.'s May 21, 2015 earnings call. Please expand your disclosure in this section to briefly identify the nature of these dis-synergies, and discuss your expectations with regard to their amounts and scale. Also describe and quantify any significant separation costs. Provide similar information in your discussion of the separation transaction on page 45 of MD&A.

Hewlett Packard Enterprise's Post-Separation Relationship with HP Inc., page 5

4. Please expand this section to provide a concise description of your anticipated future relationship with HP Inc. For example, describe the most significant aspects and implications of your agreements with HP Inc. related to patent cross licenses, non-compete provisions, transition services, employment restrictions, and indemnification.
5. Please expand your disclosure to briefly describe any anticipated future areas of partnership. Additionally, expand your discussion in MD&A to describe any business challenges resulting from continuing to partner with HP Inc., where equivalent third-party products may be available.
6. Please clarify that Ms. Whitman will also serve as non-executive chairperson of HP Inc. To the extent there are any material challenges to your business resulting from Ms. Whitman serving on the board of HP Inc., please describe these challenges.

Risk Factors, page 10

7. We note your disclosure on page 147 stating that the separation agreement will contain a patent cross-license between you and HP Inc., and that covered licenses will be worldwide, royalty-free and perpetual for the life of the licensed patents. Tell us what consideration you gave to the inclusion of a separately captioned risk factor discussing risks to your business, if any, resulting from these provisions of the separation agreement.

“Any failure by us to identify, manage and complete acquisitions ...,” page 17

8. Tell us what consideration you gave to referencing the Autonomy acquisition discussed on page F-125 of your financial statements in the body of this risk factor, as the costs and expenses incurred related to that acquisition appear relevant to the discussion presented in this risk factor. In this regard, we note that HP Co.’s Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended October 31, 2014, specifically referenced the Autonomy impairment charges in the context of the risk factor discussion of acquisition integration and costs.

“Unanticipated changes in our tax provisions ...,” page 23

9. Tell us what consideration you gave to the inclusion of a separately captioned risk factor quantifying the amount of undistributed foreign earnings for which you have not provided for U.S. federal taxes.

Risks Related to the Separation

“Our plan to separate into two independent publicly traded companies ...,” page 26

10. Expand your discussion to provide quantitative context, here, or elsewhere in this section, illustrating the challenges associated with effectively executing the transition. To the extent the size of HP Co. presents unique financial and operational challenges ensure that you discuss and quantify such risks.

“The proposed separation may result in disruptions ...,” page 29

11. Clarify the extent of the contracts for which assignment is subject to customer consent, and the status of obtaining such consent. Also, clarify the extent of any known, or reasonably possible, lost business relationships or revenues that may result from the separation.

Unaudited Pro Forma Combined Financial Statements

Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Combined Balance Sheet, page 41

12. Please present each pro forma adjustment separately on the face of the pro forma balance sheet. Alternatively, provide the components of the adjustments in the notes to the pro forma balance sheet.

13. We note that your unaudited pro forma combined financial statements give effect to the incurrence of borrowings to redistribute debt between you and HP Co. with placeholders for the amounts. Please clarify whether the incurrence of such indebtedness is a condition to the separation and, if so, confirm that the debt agreements will be finalized prior to effectiveness. To the extent that such agreements may not be finalized prior to effectiveness, please explain how you determined that the pro forma adjustments related to such indebtedness meet the factually supportable criteria of Article 11(b)(6) of Regulation S-X.

14. Tell us how you considered debt issuance costs and the amortization of debt issuance costs in your pro forma adjustments.
15. Please clarify the scope of the corporate assets and liabilities that will be transferred to you, how these resources were managed prior to the separation, and why they are not included in your combined financial statements.
16. We note that HP Co. will retain the marketing optimization software product group, a continuing business that has historically been managed by you and included in your Software segment, and will also retain a very limited number of contracts historically included in your EG segment. Please further clarify the nature of the product groups and contracts that will be retained by HP Co. and how this is consistent with your reasons for the separation and post separation strategy.
17. We note your disclosure on page vii that you will enter into a tax matters agreement, an employee matters agreement, a transition services agreement, a real estate matters agreement, a commercial agreement and an IT service agreement with HP Inc. to effect the separation. Tell us what consideration you gave to including the effects of these agreements as pro forma adjustments.
18. Revise your disclosures to also include the additional separation expenses you expect to incur through the date of separation.
19. We will need sufficient time to process your amendments once your pro forma adjustments are finalized and the dollar amounts known.

Clarify whether any of the business units included in the Enterprise Group segment represent a component, as defined in ASC 350-20-35-34, and whether you are aggregating any of these components under the provisions of ASC 350-20-35-35. If so, clarify how you meet the criteria for aggregation. If you believe none of the business units represents a component, clarify the factors you considered in making this determination. Tell us how the segment manager reviews the results of the segment, including whether business unit results are reviewed and the measures of profitability that are reviewed. Further, clarify whether there are managers responsible for individual business units, or groups of business units, and how these managers are compensated. Tell us if compensation arrangements for the segment manager and business unit managers are based on the results of individual business units, or on the results of the segment as a whole.
25. Tell us how you considered any expected changes in your management and reporting structures resulting from the separation in determining your segments and reporting units.
26. We note that HP Co.'s Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended October 31, 2014 discloses that HP Exstream was transferred from the Printing segment that will be a part of HP, Inc., to the Software segment that will be a part of HP Enterprise. Please tell us how you determined HP Exstream could be aggregated with the existing components into a single reporting unit. We refer you to ASC 350-20-35-35.
