Summary of Risk Factors

Equity investments in startup business entities are highly speculative and have a significant risk of loss of capital.

RalliBox, Inc. is a recently formed entity. As such, we have not yet developed a customer base for our products and services. Our ability to generate revenue will depend upon our ability to develop, acquire, and retain a significant customer base.

Our main product and service involves the formation of a cooperative network of online retail merchants (see “Description of Business,” page 4). Inasmuch as the concept of a cooperative network for online retail merchants is a new innovation, our ability to acquire and retain a significant customer base is dependent on our ability to educate potential customers of the advantages and utility of participating in such a network.

While we will make every effort to protect and defend our intellectual property, potential competitors may duplicate the general concept of the products and services we are providing. Our future revenue will be dependent upon the speed with which we can develop a brand, as well as capturing and holding significant market share.

Dilution

Upon formation of RalliBox, Inc. the sole securityholder, Netherin Enterprises, LLC, received 12,000,000 shares of common stock through execution of a subscription agreement (See “Exhibit D: Subscription Agreement,” page 27). The Subscription Agreement was valued at $240,000; resulting in an effective stock price of $0.02 per share. The public offering price per share in this offering is $1.00 per share.

Plan of Distribution and Selling Securityholders

No underwriter or underwriters are involved in this offering. No brokers, dealers, or any other party is receiving commissions in connection with the sale of these securities. No securities are offered for the account of security holders. If all of the securities in this offering are not sold, there are no arrangements for the return of funds to subscribers.

In accordance with our projections and forecasts, the funds raised will be used as follows:

Consumer Awareness & Marketing	$1,000,000
General & Administrative Costs	385,000
Technology Development	1,000,000
Operations	600,000
Repayment of Loans & Advances	15,000
Total Funds Applied	$3,000,000

Description of Business

The principle product and service of ralliBox, Inc. is an internet-based platform which enables users to create and maintain an e-commerce website for retail products. Through use of this platform, the inventory owned by any given user is available for the other platform users to list and feature on their individual sites. Users have the capability to choose and list the products (owned by other users) that enhance the product mix featured on their site.

When a product owned by one user is sold through the site of another user, that product is shipped by the owner of the inventory. The profit is split by the inventory owner and the seller. We retain 3% of the proceeds of each sale as a transaction fee. The services we provide are summarized as follows:

- ability for users to create an internet retail website with little or no previous web design skills
- hosting of internet retail websites on the internet
- ability to upload and maintain database of inventory items owned by individual users
- ability to feature products from other platform users on individual users' websites
- processing of individual website retail purchase transactions
 - calculation of applicable sales tax
 - calculation of shipping and handling charges
 - collection of credit/debit card payments
 - issuance of shipping instructions to the inventory owner
 - remittance of portion of profit and funds for shipping costs to inventory owner
 - remittance of portion of profit and sales tax collected to the seller
 - real-time update of inventory database for sales transactions
 - processing of chargebacks
 - issuance of periodic sales tax reports for inventory sellers to facilitate sales tax filings

We are unaware of any forecasts or projections predicting any decline in e-commerce in the foreseeable future. We are likewise unaware of any disruptive technologies that may immerge and have an adverse effect on our business model.

The software to establish and operate the platform is owned by the current sole securityholder of ralliBox, Inc. – Netherin Enterprises, LLC. Through a licensing agreement (see “Exhibit E: Software Service Agreement,” page 31), Netherin Enterprises, LLC provides access the software under a software-as-a-service (SAAS) model. Netherin Enterprises, LLC is required to host, maintain, operate, and update the software.

RalliBox, Inc. does not anticipate having employees. A management agreement with the current sole securityholder of ralliBox, Inc. – Netherin Enterprises, LLC, (see “Exhibit F: Management Services Agreement,” page 35) covers all management, operational, financial, and marketing functions. Members of Netherin Enterprises, LLC currently serve as the titular officers and board members of ralliBox, Inc. and receive no direct compensation or remuneration from ralliBox, Inc. (see “Directors, Executive Officers and Significant Employees,” page 5).

Description of Property

RalliBox, Inc. does not anticipate owning or acquiring any plant, property, or equipment. All personnel providing functional services to ralliBox, Inc. do so under contract (see “Exhibit F: Management Services Agreement,” page 35) and work remotely. Therefore, no office facilities will be required in the foreseeable future. We anticipate that the Co-commerce Platform required for operations will continue to be provided under a Software as a Service model (see “Exhibit E: Software Service Agreement,” page 31); therefore, we do not anticipate acquiring servers or computer hardware.

Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Operating results. As a recently formed entity, ralliBox, Inc. has had no significant operations or transactions since its inception.

Liquidity and capital resources. Management anticipates that the funds raised in this offering will be sufficient to finance all operational and business development activities until revenues generated from operations provide all required working capital. Due to the nature of business operations (see “Description of Business,” page 4) when revenue generating activities commence (anticipated in Spring of 2016) there will be no requirement to finance inventory purchases or other costs of goods available for sale. Based on forecasts and projections, we do not anticipate incurring any debt.

Plan of Operations. In the 12 months following the commencement of this offering, management anticipates using the offering proceeds to fund operational, marketing, and business development activities (see “Use of Proceeds to Issuer,” page 3). Revenue generating activities are anticipated to begin in Spring 2016. Management is of the opinion that the proceeds from this offering will satisfy its cash requirements. We do not anticipate it will be necessary to raise additional funds in the next six months to implement the plan of operations.

Trend information. As a recently formed entity, there are no significant trends to identify. We are unaware of any trends, uncertainties, demands, commitments or events (other than those issues addressed in “Summary and Risk Factors” on page 3) that would be reasonably likely to have a material effect on the business’ net sales or revenues, income from continuing operations, profitability, liquidity or capital resources, or that would cause reported financial information not necessarily to be indicative of future operating results or financial condition.

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. NOTE 1 - NATURE OF BUSINESS AND ORGANIZATION

RalliBox, Inc. ("the Company") was organized on June 01, 2015 as a C-Corporation under the laws of the State of Utah. The Company is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Netherein Enterprises, LLC. The Company is a business whose planned operations are to serve a cooperative network of online retail merchants by providing and maintaining an e-commerce website for retail products. The Company is in the process of raising additional equity capital to support future operations.

The Company's activities are subject to significant risks and uncertainties, including failing to secure additional funding to operationalize the Company's current technology before another company develops similar technology or offers similar services.

NOTE 2 - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

This summary of significant accounting policies of the Company is presented to assist in understanding the Company's financial statements. The financial statements and notes are a representation of the Company's management, which is responsible for their integrity and objectivity. These accounting policies conform to accounting policies generally accepted in the United States of America and have been consistently applied in the preparation of the financial statements.

a. Accounting Method

The financial statements are prepared using the accrual method of accounting. The Company has elected a December 31 year-end.

b. Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company considers all cash accounts and highly liquid investments with maturities of three months or less when purchased to be cash equivalents for the purposes of the statement of cash flows.

c. Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates. Key estimates made by management in the accompanying financial statements include, among others, the collectability and valuation of the Company's stock subscriptions receivable. The current economic environment has increased the degree of uncertainty inherent in those estimates and assumptions.

RALLIBOX, INC.
Notes to the Financial Statements

d. Revenue Recognition

The Company plans to generate revenue from commissions earned from sales generated from their website. The Company will recognize this revenue at the point of sale for all online sales based on a fixed commission rate agreed-upon by the licensee of the commission-bearing products.

e. Income Taxes

The Company has adopted the provisions of Accounting Standards Codification 740, Income Taxes (ASC 740). ASC 740 requires a company to determine whether it is more likely than not that a tax position will be sustained upon examination based upon the technical merits of the position. If the more-likely-than-not threshold is met, a company must measure the tax position to determine the amount to recognize in the financial statements. The Company will perform a review of its material tax positions in accordance with and measurement standards established by ASC 740.

Deferred taxes are provided on a liability method whereby deferred tax assets are recognized for deductible temporary differences and operating loss and tax credit carryforwards and deferred tax liabilities are recognized for taxable temporary differences. Temporary differences are the differences between the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and their tax bases. Deferred tax assets are reduced by a valuation allowance when, in the opinion of management, it is more likely that not that some portion or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are adjusted for the effects of changes in tax laws and rates on the date of enactment.

f. Advertising and Marketing

The Company expenses the cost of advertising and marketing as incurred.

g. Research and Development

The Company expenses research and development costs as incurred.

NOTE 3 - RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

At June 1, 2015, the Company had $240,000 of uncollected stock subscriptions receivable owed from a related party which are reported as a reduction of stockholders' equity. The stock subscriptions receivable are collateralized by the stock issued and are expected to be collected during 2015.

Section 1. Annual Meeting. An annual meeting shall be held once each calendar year for the purpose of electing directors and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting. The annual meeting shall be held at the time and place designated by the Board of Directors from time to time.

Section 2. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the shareholders may be requested by the President, the Board of Directors, or the holders of a majority of the outstanding voting shares.

Section 3. Notice. Written or electronically transmitted notice of all shareholder meetings, whether regular or special meetings, shall be provided under this section or as otherwise required by law. The Notice shall state the place, date, and hour of meeting, and if for a special meeting, the purpose of the meeting. Such notice shall be mailed or electronically transmitted to all shareholders of record at the address shown on the corporate books, at least 10 days prior to the meeting. Such notice shall be deemed effective when deposited in ordinary U.S. mail, properly addressed, with postage prepaid; or when transmitted electronically.

Section 4. Place of Meeting. Shareholders` meetings shall be held at the corporation's principal place of business unless otherwise stated in the notice. If deemed to be appropriate or advantageous by the Board of Directors, meetings may be held using web-based conferencing tools. If notice is given of a meeting using web-based conferencing tools, and if a shareholder is unable to access such a meeting; the Board of Directors shall inform the shareholder of a physical location where participation will be facilitated, upon request from the shareholder.

Section 5. Quorum. A majority of the outstanding voting shares, whether represented in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum at a shareholders` meeting. In the absence of a quorum, a majority of the represented shares may adjourn the meeting to another time without further notice. If a quorum is represented at an adjourned meeting, any business may be transacted that might have been transacted at the meeting as originally scheduled. The shareholders present at a meeting represented by a quorum may continue to transact business until adjournment, even if the withdrawal of some shareholders results in representation of less than a quorum.

Section 6. Informal Action. Any action required to be taken, or which may be taken, at a shareholders meeting, may be taken without a meeting and without prior notice if a consent in writing, setting forth the action so taken, is signed by the shareholders who own all of the shares entitled to vote with respect to the subject matter of the vote.

ARTICLE II DIRECTORS

Section 1. Number of Directors. The corporation shall be managed by a Board of Directors consisting of 3 director(s).

Section 2. Election and Term of Office. The directors shall be elected at the annual shareholders' meeting. Each director shall serve a term of 1 year year(s), or until a successor has been elected and qualified.

Section 3. Quorum. A majority of directors shall constitute a quorum.

Section 4. Adverse Interest. In the determination of a quorum of the directors, or in voting, the disclosed adverse interest of a director shall not disqualify the director or invalidate his or her vote.

Section 5. Regular Meeting. An annual meeting shall be held, without notice, immediately following and at the same place as the annual meeting of the shareholders. The Board of Directors may provide, by resolution, for additional regular meetings without notice other than the notice provided by the resolution.

Section 6. Special Meeting. Special meetings may be requested by the President, Vice-President, Secretary, or any two directors by providing five days' written notice by ordinary United States mail, effective when mailed. Minutes of the meeting shall be sent to the Board of Directors within two weeks after the meeting.

Section 7. Procedures. The vote of a majority of the directors present at a properly called meeting at which a quorum is present shall be the act of the Board of Directors, unless the vote of a greater number is required by law or by these by-laws for a particular resolution. A director of the corporation who is present at a meeting of the Board of Directors at which action on any corporate matter is taken shall be presumed to have assented to the action taken unless their dissent shall be entered in the minutes of the meeting. The Board shall keep written minutes of its proceedings in its permanent records.

Section 8. Informal Action. Any action required to be taken at a meeting of directors, or any action which may be taken at a meeting of directors or of a committee of directors, may be taken without a meeting if a consent in writing setting forth the action so taken, is signed by all of the directors or all of the members of the committee of directors, as the case may be.

Section 9. Removal / Vacancies. A director shall be subject to removal, with or without cause, at a meeting of the shareholders called for that purpose. Any vacancy that occurs on the Board of Directors, whether by death, resignation, removal or any other cause, may be filled by the remaining directors. A director elected to fill a vacancy shall serve the remaining term of his or her predecessor, or until a successor has been elected and qualified.

Section 10. Committees. To the extent permitted by law, the Board of Directors may appoint from its members a committee or committees, temporary or permanent, and designate the duties, powers and authorities of such committees.

b. Vice President. The Vice President shall perform the duties of the President in the absence of the President and shall assist that office in the discharge of its leadership duties.

c. Secretary. The Secretary shall give notice of all meetings of the Board of Directors and Executive Committee, if any, shall keep an accurate list of the directors, and shall have the authority to certify any records, or copies of records, as the official records of the organization. The Secretary shall maintain the minutes of the Board of Directors' meetings and all committee meetings.

d. Treasurer/CFO. The Treasurer shall be responsible for conducting the financial affairs of the organization as directed and authorized by the Board of Directors and Executive Committee, if any, and shall make reports of the organizations finances as required, but no less often than at each meeting of the Board of Directors and Executive Committee.

ARTICLE VI

This notice shall describe with sufficient detail the nature of the default. The party receiving such notice shall have 10 days from the effective date of such notice to cure the default(s). Unless waived in writing by a party providing notice, the failure to cure the default(s) within such time period shall result in the automatic termination of this Contract.
