James Bay Distillers is a craft distillery producing Canadian whiskies as well as Pacific NW style and traditional gins. Founders have worked with other craft distilleries part-time in the U.S. and Canada and are members of the American Distilling Institute and the Distilled Spirits Council.

Our initial plan had been to locate in Virginia as bourbon distillers near Civil War battlefields. But over time our market research brought us to the Pacific NW and larger opportunities. In early March 2016 we changed our company name from "Battlefield Distilling" to James Bay Distillers Ltd. Our product names reflect aspect of Washington State and British Columbia geography. ...see more
