(b) Summary of significant accounting policies –

(i) Basis of presentation –

The Company's fiscal year ends on August 31st of each year. The Company has evaluated subsequent events through November 20, 2017, the date the financial statement was available to be issued.

(ii) Income taxes –

The Company elected to be treated as a partnership under the provisions of the 2011 Puerto Rico Internal Revenue Code. The Company follows the accounting standard on accounting for uncertainty in income taxes. As a result, management assessed whether there were any uncertain tax positions which may give rise to income tax liabilities and determined that there were no such matters requiring recognition in the accompanying financial statement.

(iii) Concentration of credit risk –

Financial instruments that may potentially expose the Company to concentration of credit risk consist of cash in its bank accounts. The Company maintains its cash in bank deposit accounts at high quality financial institutions. At times, such deposits may exceed federal insured limits. The Company has not experienced any losses in such accounts.

(iv) Use of estimates –

The accompanying financial statement has been prepared in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, which require management to make certain estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statement and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting year end. Actual results could differ from those estimates.
