REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the Member of
Rialto Markets LLC

Opinion on the Financial Statement

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Rialto Markets LLC (the "Company") as of June 30, 2022, and the related notes (collectively referred to as the "financial statement"). In our opinion, the financial statement presents fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as of June 30, 2022 in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

This financial statement is the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's financial statement based on our audit. We are a public accounting firm registered with the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) (PCAOB) and are required to be independent with respect to the Company in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB.

We conducted our audit in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statement is free of material misstatement, whether due to error or fraud. Our audit included performing procedures to assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statement, whether due to error or fraud, and performing procedures that respond to those risks. Such procedures included examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our audit also included evaluating the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

Rialto Markets LLC

(a wholly-owned subsidiary of Rialto Trading Holdings LLC)

Notes to Statement of Financial Condition

June 30, 2022

1. Nature of operations

Rialto Markets LLC (the “Company”) is a limited liability company formed under the laws of the state of Delaware on August 5, 2016. The Company is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Rialto Trading Holdings LLC (the “Parent”). The Company is a broker-dealer registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”) and is a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (“FINRA”).

The Company is permitted to act as a placement agent for privately offered securities, in the primary market, and to operate as an alternative trading system (“ATS”) creating an electronic matching system for non-publicly traded securities, corporate debt securities, US government securities and municipal securities in the secondary market. However, the Company, currently acts only as a service provider to issuers that engage in self issuance of private securities. The Company earns fees commensurate with the amount of capital that the issuers raise via exempt offerings (ex. Regulation CF, Regulation A+, etc.).

2. Summary of significant accounting policies

Basis of presentation

These financial statements were prepared in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America which requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

Revenue recognition

The Company recognizes revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. The guidance requires an entity to follow a five-step model to (a) identify the contract(s) with a customer, (b) identify the performance obligations in the contract, (c) determine the transaction price, (d) allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract, and (e) recognize revenue when (or as) the entity satisfies a performance obligation. In determining the transaction price, an entity may include variable consideration only to the extent that it is probable that a significant reversal in the amount of cumulative revenue recognized would not occur when the uncertainty associated with the variable consideration is resolved. This revenue recognition guidance does not apply to revenue associated with financial instruments and interest income.

The Company’s revenues are generally from one-time nonrecurring transactions.

Significant judgments

Revenue from contracts with customers includes commission income. The recognition and measurement of revenue is based on the assessment of individual contract terms. Significant judgment is required to determine whether performance obligations are satisfied at a point in time or over time; how to allocate transaction prices where multiple performance obligations are identified; when to recognize revenue based on the appropriate measure of the Company’s progress under the contract; and whether constraints on variable consideration should be applied due to uncertain future events.

2. Summary of significant accounting policies (continued)

Commissions

The Company earns transaction-based fees for acting as a service provider to issuers that engage in self issuance of private securities. The Company has determined that the performance obligation is satisfied at the time that all contingencies have been met and funds are available to be distributed by the escrow agent.

Platform fees

The Company receives offering set up and processing fees which are earned and recognized upon signing an agreement.

Consulting

Revenue is recognized when control of the promised services is transferred to the Company's customer.

Cash

All cash deposits are held by one financial institution and therefore are subject to the credit risk at that financial institution and may at times exceed amounts insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. The Company has not experienced any losses in such accounts and does not believe there to be any significant credit risk with respect to these deposits.

Income taxes

The Company is a single member limited liability company and is treated as a disregarded entity for income tax reporting purposes. The Internal Revenue Code ("IRC") provides that any income or loss is passed through to the ultimate beneficial individual member for federal and state income taxes. Accordingly, the Company has not provided for federal and state income taxes.

At June 30, 2022, management has determined that the Company had no uncertain tax positions that would require financial statement recognition. This determination will always be subject to ongoing reevaluation as facts and circumstances may require.

Accounts Receivable

Accounts receivable include commissions due from clients and held by an escrow agent. Management reviews all accounts receivable balances, determines a course of action on any delinquent amounts, and provides an allowance for amounts which collection is considered to be doubtful. At June 30, 2022 management believed no valuation allowance was warranted.

2. Summary of significant accounting policies (continued)

Allowance for Credit Losses

ASC Topic 326, Financial Instruments – Credit Losses (“ASC 326”) impacts the impairment model for certain financial assets by requiring a current expected credit loss (“CECL”) methodology to estimate expected credit losses over the entire life of the financial asset. Under ASC 326, the Company could determine there are no expected credit losses in certain circumstances (e.g., based on the credit quality of the client).

The allowance for credit losses is based on the Company's expectation of the collectability of financial instruments, including fees and other receivables utilizing the CECL framework. The Company considers factors such as historical experience, credit quality, age of balances and current and future economic conditions that may affect the Company's expectation of the collectability in determining the allowance for credit losses. Under the standard, the allowance for credit losses must be deducted from the amortized cost of the financial asset to present the net amount expected to be collected.

The statement of operations would reflect the measurement of credit losses for newly recognized financial assets as well as the expected increases or decreases of expected credit losses that might have taken place during the period. The Company has not provided an allowance for credit losses at June 30, 2022.

3. Transactions with related parties

The Company may be dependent on its access to funding from the Parent. The Parent intends to continue to fund the operational and regulatory needs of the Company for the foreseeable future.

The Company maintains an administrative services agreement (the “Expense Sharing Agreement”) with its Parent and affiliates owned by the Parent (the “Affiliates”) whereby the Affiliates provide accounting, administrative, office space, human resources and other services. The Company does not have any obligation, direct or indirect, to reimburse or otherwise compensate the Affiliates for any or all costs that the Affiliates have paid on behalf of the Company.

During the period ending June 30, 2022, the affiliate paid expenses on behalf of the Company in the amount of $1,800 and the Company had loaned the affiliate $10,000 that had been repaid during the year.

Additionally, the Company loaned the Parent $375,000 during the year of which $10,000 remains outstanding at June 30, 2022.

The Company received revenue in the form of stock compensation that was distributed to the Parent.

3. Transactions with related parties (continued)

All transactions with related parties are settled in the normal course of business. The terms of any of these arrangements may not be the same as those that would otherwise exist or result from agreements and transactions among unrelated parties.

4. Concentration

Accounts receivable at June 30, 2022 are due from 10 clients the largest of which comprises 43% of that balance. One customer comprised approximately 59% of total revenue for the year ended June 30, 2022.

5. Regulatory requirements

The Company is subject to SEC Uniform Net Capital Rule 15c3-1 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, shall not exceed 15 to 1. At June 30, 2022, the Company had net capital of $570,267 which exceeded the required net capital by $565,267. The ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, at June 30, 2022 was .11 to 1.

The Company does not hold customers' cash or securities and, has no requirements under SEC Rule 15c3-3 and therefore does not claim an exemption under paragraph (k).

6. Subsequent events

Management of the Company has evaluated events or transactions that may have occurred since June 30, 2022.

The Parent paid off its loan balance of $10,000. The Company made capital distributions to the Parent in the aggregate amount of $380,000. The Company loaned the Parent $142,000 of which $62,000 has been repaid.
