TAP

We have two pieces of exciting news.

- We are moving into the commercialization phase for our wrist wearable Tap Device. The wrist wearable is, by far, the most advanced wearable controller in the world. It provides more functionality, higher accuracy and greater comfort than the Tap Strap, and will further establish tapping as the input method of the future.
- We are inviting our community and followers to become shareholders in Tap Systems. For as little as $100, you can invest in Tap, and for larger investors, you can become one of the first owners of the wrist wearable when it goes into production next year.

For more information on all of this, please visit <https://wefunder.com/tapwithus>.

Thank you, as always, for your interest & support!

Sincerely,

Dovid Schick

A few days ago I sat down to discuss what makes Tap such an exciting investment with a couple of WeFunder investors.

Here is a recording of the conversation:

Why Tap in the Key to AR

Our round is still open and you are invited to join us, starting at as little as $100.

Invest in Tap here: <https://wefunder.com/tapwithus>.
