Notes to Financial Statements

December 31, 2015 and March 31, 2016

Note 1 – Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Company's Organization and Activities. My Trail Company, PBC (the "Company") is organized as a public benefit corporation, and was incorporated in Colorado on April 9, 2015. On May 15, 2015, the Company acquired certain assets formerly owned by GoLite, LLC, a limited liability company previously controlled by the Company's controlling stockholder. The Company has been operating in the development stage, with efforts primarily focused on raising capital and debt financing, product development and marketing. The Company intends to produce, market and sell high quality outdoor equipment and apparel, and support trail systems in Colorado.

Basis of Accounting. The Company's records are maintained on the accrual basis of accounting. Revenues are recognized when earned and expenses are recognized when incurred.

Use of Estimates in Preparing Financial Statements. The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents. For the purposes of the statements of cash flows, the Company considers all highly liquid investments purchased with a maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Inventory. Inventory, consisting primarily of outdoor equipment and apparel, is stated at the lower of first-in, first-out (FIFO) cost, or market. The Company utilizes contract manufacturers to produce inventory.

Depreciation and Amortization. Equipment is stated at cost. Depreciation is computed using the straight-line method over estimated useful lives of the property and equipment, which are as follows:

	Life in Years
Warehouse equipment	7
Production equipment	7
Furniture and fixtures	7
Computer equipment	5

Product Prototypes. Product prototypes are used in development, and sales and marketing, and are expected to be sold at a later date.

Intangible Assets. Intangible assets consist of trademarks and other intangibles. Indefinite-lived intangibles are tested for impairment annually. Finite-lived intangibles are amortized over their estimated economic life on the straight-line method.

Notes to Financial Statements

Long-lived Assets. Long-lived assets to be held and used are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the related carrying amount may not be recoverable. When required, impairment losses on assets to be held and used are recognized based on the excess of the asset's carrying amount over fair value of the asset. Long-lived assets to be disposed of are reported at the lower of carrying amount or fair value less cost to sell.

Advertising. The Company expenses the cost of advertising as incurred. The Company expensed $6,949 and $3,822 to advertising and marketing during the period from April 9, 2015 (inception) through December 31, 2015 and the three months ended March 31, 2016, respectively.

Income Taxes. The Company recognizes deferred income tax assets and liabilities for the future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax basis. In addition, the Company recognizes future tax benefits to the extent that realization of such benefits is more likely than not. The recognition of deferred tax assets is reduced by the amount of any tax benefits that, based on available evidence, are not expected to be realized.

The Company utilizes the provisions of ASC 740, pertaining to accounting for uncertainty in income taxes. The pronouncement requires the use of a more-likely-than-not recognition criteria before and separate from the measurement of a tax position. An entity shall initially recognize the financial statement effects of a tax position when it is more likely than not, based on the technical merits, that the position will be sustained upon examination.

The Company has evaluated the recognition, measurement, presentation, and disclosure relating to uncertain tax positions. Management has determined that the effects of uncertain tax positions that are anticipated in its initial filing are not material to the Company for recognition or disclosure in the accompanying financial statements. Accordingly, no provision has been made in the financial statements for federal or state income tax expense or benefits for uncertain tax positions.

All income tax years open for examination are subject to taxation at corporate tax rates. The short tax year for the period from April 9, 2015 (inception) through December 31, 2015 is the initial tax year for the Company. Additionally, penalties and interest may be assessed on income taxes that become delinquent.

Concentrations. The Company has one supplier that currently accounts for all production of inventory since inception.

The Company maintains its cash balances in a limited number of financial institutions. Cash balances may exceed Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation limits from time to time.

If the request is made at least five years after the shares were issued, the Company must redeem the shares at a redemption price equal to the original purchase price plus any accrued but unpaid dividends.

In addition, the Company has the option to redeem any shares of preferred stock at any time. If the redemption is made less than ten years after the shares were issued, the redemption price is two times the original purchase price of such shares, less the aggregate amount of dividends previously paid.
