Form C

Every company that conducts a Regulation Crowdfunding offering must first submit a Form C to the Securities and Exchange Commission. Wefunder has helped you generate this draft of a Form C based on information you have provided, which we've done solely as a convenience.

Because this is an official regulatory filing and you will have liability under the Securities Act of 1933 with respect to any misstatements or omissions, we strongly recommend that you have your lawyer review your Form C before having us file it on your behalf.

Offering Statement

Respond to each question in each paragraph of this part. Set forth each question and any notes, but not any instructions thereto, in their entirety. If disclosure in response to any question is responsive to one or more other questions, it is not necessary to repeat the disclosure. If a question or series of questions is inapplicable or the response is available elsewhere in the Form, either state that it is inapplicable, include a cross-reference to the responsive disclosure, or omit the question or series of questions.

Be very careful and precise in answering all questions. Give full and complete answers so that they are not misleading under the circumstances involved. Do not discuss any future performance or other anticipated event unless you have a reasonable basis to believe that it will actually occur within the foreseeable future. If any answer requiring significant information is materially inaccurate, incomplete or misleading, the Company, its management and principal shareholders may be liable to investors based on that information.

RISK FACTORS

A crowdfunding investment involves risk. You should not invest any funds in this offering unless you can afford to lose your entire investment.

In making an investment decision, investors must rely on their own examination of the issuer and the terms of the offering, including the merits and risks involved. These securities have not been recommended or approved by any federal or state securities commission or regulatory authority. Furthermore, these authorities have not passed upon the accuracy or adequacy of this document.

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission does not pass upon the merits of any securities offered or the terms of the offering, nor does it pass upon the accuracy or completeness of any offering document or literature.

These securities are offered under an exemption from registration; however, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission has not made an independent determination that these securities are exempt from registration.

8. Discuss the material factors that make an investment in the issuer speculative or risky:

Limited Operating History. The Company has limited operating history. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to achieve or sustain profitable operations or achieve or sustain cash flow required to conduct day to day business.

No Assurance of Profitability. There can be no assurance that the Company will generate sufficient revenues to result in profitability. The Company is a food and beverage company engaged in the business of operating retail shops and producing food products, including but not limited to Donuts, Chicken, and Whiskey. Results of sales, or lack thereof, could materially and adversely affect the Company's ability to earn a profit and make distributions to Members.

No Assurance of Regular Distributions. The timing and amount of distributions, if any, will be made in accordance with the Company's LLC Operating Agreement. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to make regular distributions, if any, or that cumulative distributions will exceed the investment of the Members.

Intense Competition. The Company plans to operate in the highly competitive retail food and beverage industry. While the Company intends for its products to be in demand, many of its competitors may have substantially greater financial resources than the Company. There can be no assurance that the Company will be successful in the face of increasing competition from existing or new competitors, or that competition will not have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations.

Lack of Liquidity. Investment in the Units is a long term, illiquid investment. There is no public market for the Units and none is expected to exist. The Units have not been registered and may not be sold by any member without an exemption from Registration. These units are considered to be securities and are subject to restrictions on transferability and resale and may not be transferred or resold except as permitted under the securities act of 1933, as amended, and the applicable state securities laws, pursuant to registration or exemption there from as noted and discussed in prior sections of this document. Investors should be aware that they will be required to bear the financial risks of this investment for an indefinite period of time.

LLC Agreement. Each new member of the Company will be required to approve the

"RODEO DONUT, LLC" LLC Operating Agreement (the "Agreement" or "Operating Agreement"). The Operating Agreement describes the rights and responsibilities of each Member. Additional persons may also become Members of the Company in accordance with the provisions of the Operating Agreement.

No Approval by Securities Division. The Units have not been registered under the Securities Act of 1933, and the Washington Administrator of Securities has not reviewed or recommended the offering and the securities have not been registered under the Security Act of Washington, Chapter 21.20 RCW and therefore, cannot be resold unless they are registered under the Securities Act of 1933 and the Securities Act of Washington, Chapter 21.20 RCW, or unless an exemption from registration is available. The Units also have not been registered under the Securities Act of any other State and no other securities division has reviewed or recommended the offering and, therefore, cannot be resold unless they are registered under the Security Act of 1933 and any applicable securities act.

Lack of Voting Rights and Potential Liability of Members. The Company's LLC Operating Agreement provides that the affairs of the Company are to be managed by the Managers. Voting rights of Members are limited. Members can only vote on certain limited topics in the manner specified in the Company's LLC Operating Agreement. Thus, Members will generally not have a voice in the management of the Company.

Limited Capitalization and Dilution. The Company is a newly formed entity, and will have limited capitalization. Initial capital will come from the Managers and the Members. The Company may issue Units as the Managers may determine from time to time. The Company will have the power to issue additional Units in the Company for any reason and at any price. Your Units, and your percentage ownership of the company may be diluted by additional Units in the Company being sold to new or existing investors.

Speculative Nature of Investment. The ever-changing economy and state of markets generally reflect conditions in which competition, inflation, unemployment, increases in development, construction and operating costs and fluctuating interest rates may make investments in the Company more speculative than other types of investments.

The company has not yet located a physical site from which to operate its retail store. Its ability to locate a site could have a material adverse impact on the business of the Company.

This will be the Company's first retail store. Therefore, unanticipated factors could have a material adverse affect on the business of the Company.

INSTRUCTION TO QUESTION 8: Avoid generalized statements and include only those factors that are unique to the issuer. Discussion should be tailored to the issuer's business and the offering and should not repeat the factors addressed in the legends set forth above. No specific number of risk factors is required to be identified.

The Offering

USE OF FUNDS

9. What is the purpose of this offering?

The purpose of this offering is to raise funds for our general business operations, as described in the "use of proceeds" section below.

10. How does the issuer intend to use the proceeds of this offering?

If we raise: $50,000

Use of Proceeds: Concept R and D (Chicken and Beverage program)

Law Fees/Finance Fees

(3% of $600,000 to WeFunder, $8,000 to Lawyer)

Use of Proceeds: Technology (POS, Website, APP)

If we raise: $100,000

Use of Proceeds: Equipment
(Type 1 hood, Chicken Fryers, smallwares, furniture, Mixer, sheeter)

INSTRUCTION TO QUESTION 10: An issuer must provide a reasonably detailed description of any intended use of proceeds, such that investors are provided with an adequate amount of information to understand how the offering proceeds will be used. If an issuer has identified a range of possible uses, the issuer should identify and describe each probable use and the factors the issuer may consider in allocating proceeds among the potential uses. If the issuer will accept proceeds in excess of the target offering amount, the issuer must describe the purpose, method for allocating oversubscriptions, and intended use of the excess proceeds with similar specificity. Please include all potential uses of the proceeds of the offering, including any that may apply only in the case of oversubscriptions. If you do not do so, you may later be required to amend your Form C. Wefunder is not responsible for any failure by you to describe a potential use of offering proceeds.

DELIVERY & CANCELLATIONS

11. How will the issuer complete the transaction and deliver securities to the investors?

The following describes how process to invest in the Company, including how the Company will complete an Investor's transaction and deliver securities to the investor.

1. Investor Commitment. The Investor will submit, through Wefunder Portal, a requested investment amount. When doing so, the Investor will also execute an investment contract with the Company ("Investment Agreement"), using the Investor's electronic signature.
2. Acceptance of the Investment. If the Investor Agreement is complete, the Investor will typically be automatically accepted for an investment in the Company within a few minutes. At this point, the Investor will be emailed a pdf version of the Investment Agreement signed by the Investor and the Company, as well as a confirmation of the commitment. This information will also be available on the Investor's "My Investments" screen on the wefunder.com website.
3. Investor Transfer of Funds. Upon receiving confirmation that an investment has been accepted, the Investor will be responsible for transferring funds from a source that is accepted by Wefunder Portal into an escrow account held with a third party bank on behalf of issuers offering securities through Wefunder Portal.
4. Progress of the Offering. The Investor will receive periodic email updates on the progress of the offering, including total amounts raised at any given time, and will be notified by email and through the "My Investments" screen when the target offering amount is met.
5. Closing: Original Deadline. Unless we meet the target offering amount early, Investor funds will be transferred from the escrow account to the Company on the deadline date identified in the Cover Page to this Form C and the Company's Wefunder Portal Profile.
6. Early Closings. If the target offering amount is met prior to the original deadline date, we may close the offering earlier, but no less than 21 days after the date on which information about the Company, including this Form C, is posted on our Wefunder Portal Profile. We will reschedule the offering deadline, and at least five days prior to the new deadline, investors will receive notice of it by email and through the "My Investments" screen. At the time of the new deadline, your funds will be transferred to the Company from the escrow account, provided that the target offering amount is still met after any cancellations.
7. Book Entry. All investments will be in book entry form. This means that the Investor will not receive a certificate representing his or her investment. Each investment will be recorded in our books and records and will be recorded in each Investors' "My Investments" screen. The Investor will also be emailed the Investment Agreement again. The Investment Agreement will also be available on the "My Investments" screen.

12. How can an investor cancel an investment commitment?

NOTE: Investors may cancel an investment commitment until 48 hours prior to the deadline identified in these offering materials.

The intermediary will notify investors when the target offering amount has been met. If the issuer reaches the target offering amount prior to the deadline identified in the offering materials, it may close the offering early if it provides notice about the new offering deadline at least five business days prior to such new offering deadline (absent a material change that would require an extension of the offering and reconfirmation of the investment commitment).

If an investor does not cancel an investment commitment before the 48-hour period prior to the offering deadline, the funds will be released to the issuer upon closing of the offering and the investor will receive securities in exchange for his or her investment.

If an investor does not reconfirm his or her investment commitment after a material change is made to the offering, the investor's investment commitment will be cancelled and the committed funds will be returned.

An Investor's right to cancel. An Investor may cancel his or her investment commitment at any time until 48 hours prior to the offering deadline.

If there is a material change to the terms of the offering or the information provided to the Investor about the offering and/or the Company, the Investor will be provided notice of the change and must re-confirm his or her investment commitment within five business days of receipt of the notice. If the Investor does not reconfirm, he or she will receive notifications disclosing that the commitment was cancelled, the reason for the cancellation, and the refund amount that the investor is required to receive. If a material change occurs within five business days of the maximum number of days the offering is to remain open, the offering will be extended to allow for a period of five business days for the investor to reconfirm.

If the Investor cancels his or her investment commitment during the period when cancellation is permissible, or does not reconfirm a commitment in the case of a material change to the investment, or the offering does not close, all of the Investor's funds will be returned within five business days.

Within five business days of cancellation of an offering by the Company, the Company will give each investor notification of the cancellation, disclose the reason for the cancellation, identify the refund amount the Investor will receive, and refund the Investor's funds.

The Company's right to cancel. The Investment Agreement you will execute with us provides the Company the right to cancel for any reason before the offering deadline.

If the sum of the investment commitments from all investors does not equal or exceed the target offering amount at the time of the offering deadline, no securities will be sold in the offering, investment commitments will be cancelled and committed funds will be returned.

In addition, we may cap at 480 the total number of investors who will be allowed to invest through the offering that are not "accredited investors," as defined in Rule 501(a) of Regulation D under the Securities Act of 1933. In the event that more than 480 non-accredited investors are initially accepted into an offering in step (2) described in Question 11, the Company may cancel investments based on the order in which payments by Investors were received, or other criteria at the discretion of the Company, before the offering deadline.

1. to the issuer;

Other Rights:

Describe any other rights:

18. How may the rights of the securities being offered be materially limited, diluted or qualified by the rights of any other class of security identified above?

Because the Investor holds no or limited voting rights, the holders of a majority-in-interest of voting rights in the Company could limit the Investor's rights in a material way. For example, those interest holders could vote to change the terms of the agreements governing the Company's operations or cause the Company to engage in additional offerings (including potentially a public offering), which could result in the dilution of an Investor's interest.

In cases where new awards are granted to Investors, an Investor's interests in the Company may be diluted. This means that the pro-rata portion of the Company represented by the Investor's securities will decrease. In addition, as discussed above, if a majority-in-interest of holders of securities with voting rights cause the Company to issue additional Units, an Investor's interest will typically also be diluted.

Based on the risk that an Investor's rights could be limited, diluted or otherwise qualified, the Investor could lose all or part of his or her investment in the securities in this offering, and may never see positive returns. Additional risks related to the rights of other security holders are discussed below, in Question 20. For further consideration of Investor rights, duties and obligations, please consider the LLC Operating Agreement, which you should carefully review with independent counsel selected by you.

19. Are there any differences not reflected above between the securities being offered and each other class of security of the issuer?

No.

20. How could the exercise of rights held by the principal shareholders identified in Question 6 above affect the purchasers of the securities being offered?

The holders of a majority-in-interest or voting rights in the Company may make decisions with which the Investor disagrees, or that negatively affect the value of the Investor's securities in the Company, and the Investor will have no recourse to change these decisions. The Investor's interests may conflict with those of other investors, and there is no guarantee that the Company will develop in a way that is optimal for or advantageous to the Investor.

For example, as Managing Members may change the terms of the operating agreement for the company, change the terms of securities issued by the Company, change the management of the Company, and even force out minority holders of securities. Such Managing Members may make changes that affect the tax treatment of the Company in ways that are unfavorable to you but favorable to them. They may also vote to engage in new offerings and/or to register certain of the Company's securities in a way that negatively affects the value of the securities the Investor owns. Other holders of securities of the Company may also have access to more information than the Investor, leaving the Investor at a disadvantage with respect to any decisions regarding the securities he or she owns.

Based on the risks described above, the Investor could lose all or part of his or her investment in the securities in this offering, and may never see positive returns.

For further consideration of Investor rights, duties and obligations, please consider the LLC Operating Agreement, which you should carefully review with independent counsel selected by you.

21. How are the securities being offered being valued? Include examples of methods for how such securities may be valued by the issuer in the future, including during subsequent corporate actions.

Units of the Company are valued at $1/each based on conversations with investors. In the future, we will perform valuations of our Units that take into account factors such as the following:

- unrelated third party valuations;
- the price at which we sell other securities, if any, in light of the rights, preferences and privileges of those securities relative to those of our Units;
- our results of operations, financial position and capital resources;
- current business conditions and projections;
- the lack of marketability of our Units;
- the hiring of key personnel and the experience of our management;
- the introduction of new products;
- the risk inherent in the development and expansion of our products;
- our stage of development and material risks related to our business;
- the likelihood of achieving a liquidity event, such as an initial public offering or a sale of our company given the prevailing market conditions and the nature and history of our business;
- industry trends and competitive environment;
- trends in consumer spending, including consumer confidence;
- overall economic indicators, including gross domestic product, employment, inflation and interest rates; and
- the general economic outlook.

We will analyze factors such as those described above using a combination of financial and market-based methodologies to determine our business enterprise value. For example, we may use methodologies that assume that businesses operating in the same industry will share similar characteristics and that the Company's value will correlate to those characteristics, and/or methodologies that compare transactions in similar securities issued by us that were conducted in the market.

22. What are the risks to purchasers of the securities relating to minority ownership in the issuer?

An Investor in the Company will likely hold a minority position in the Company, and thus be limited as to its ability to control or influence the governance and operations of the Company.

The marketability and value of the Investor's interest in the Company will depend upon many factors outside the control of the Investor. The Company will be managed by its officers and be governed in accordance with the strategic direction and decision-making of its Management, and the Investor will have no independent right to name or remove an officer or member of the Management of the Company.

Following the Investor's investment in the Company, the Company may sell interests to additional investors, which will dilute the percentage interest of the Investor in the Company. The Investor may have the opportunity to increase its investment in the Company in such a transaction, but such opportunity cannot be assured.

The amount of additional financing needed by the Company, if any, will depend upon the maturity and objectives of the Company. The declining of an opportunity or the inability of the Investor to make a follow-on investment, or the lack of an opportunity to make such a follow-on investment, may result in substantial dilution of the Investor's interest in the Company.

23. What are the risks to purchasers associated with corporate actions, including additional issuances of securities, issuer repurchases of securities, a sale of the issuer or of assets of the issuer or transactions with related parties?

Additional issuances of securities. Following the Investor's investment in the Company, the Company may sell interests to additional investors, which will dilute the percentage interest of the Investor in the Company. The Investor may have the opportunity to increase its investment in the Company in such a transaction, but such opportunity cannot be assured. The amount of additional financing needed by the Company, if any, will depend upon the maturity and objectives of the Company. The declining of an opportunity or the inability of the Investor to make a follow-on investment, or the lack of an opportunity to make such a follow-on investment, may result in substantial dilution of the Investor's interest in the Company.

Issuer repurchases of securities. The Company may have authority to repurchase its securities from unitholders, which may serve to decrease any liquidity in the market for such securities, decrease the percentage interests held by other similarly situated investors to the Investor, and create pressure on the Investor to sell its securities to the Company concurrently.

A sale of the issuer or of assets of the issuer. As a minority owner of the Company, the Investor will have limited or no ability to influence a potential sale of the Company or a substantial portion of its assets. Thus, the Investor will rely upon the executive management of the Company to manage the Company so as to maximize value for unitholders. Accordingly, the success of the Investor's investment in the Company will depend in large part upon the skill and expertise of the executive management of the Company. If the Management of the Company authorizes a sale of all or a part of the Company, or a disposition of a substantial portion of the Company's assets, there can be no guarantee that the value received by the Investor, together with the fair market estimate of the value remaining in the Company, will be equal to or exceed the value of the Investor's initial investment in the Company.

Transactions with related parties. The Investor should be aware that there will be occasions when the Company may encounter potential conflicts of interest in its operations. On any issue involving conflicts of interest, the executive management of the Company will be guided by their good faith judgement as to the Company's best interests. The Company may engage in transactions with affiliates, subsidiaries or other related parties, which may be on terms which are not arm's-length, but will be in all cases consistent with the duties of the management of the Company to its unitholders. By acquiring an interest in the Company, the Investor will be deemed to have acknowledged the existence of any such actual or potential conflicts of interest and to have waived any claim with respect to any liability arising from the existence of any such conflict of interest.

4. or (4) any immediate family member of any of the foregoing persons.

☐ Yes

☒ No

INSTRUCTIONS TO QUESTION 26: The term transaction includes, but is not limited to, any financial transaction, arrangement or relationship (including any indebtedness or guarantee of indebtedness) or any series of similar transactions, arrangements or relationships.

Beneficial ownership for purposes of paragraph (2) shall be determined as of a date that is no more than 120 days prior to the date of filing of this offering statement and using the same calculation described in Question 6 of this Question and Answer format.

FINANCIAL CONDITION OF THE ISSUER

27. Does the issuer have an operating history?

☐ Yes

☒ No

28. Describe the financial condition of the issuer, including, to the extent material, liquidity, capital resources and historical results of operations.

The Company is a newly formed entity, and has limited capitalization. Initial capital will come from the Managers and the Members. The company's inability to raise capital could have a material adverse impact on the Company's ability to establish operations from which to generate revenue and earn a profit. In order to achieve financial milestones, the Company will rely on sales of product, to include donuts, drip, whole bean coffee, merchandise, juice/drinks, chicken, alcohol, and side dishes. Volatility in the retail food industry, labor availability and cost, could limit the ability of the Company to achieve its financial milestones. The Company anticipates spending capital raised in year 1 of operations, to include anticipated physical space improvement costs. Milestone gross sales targets are $1,538,742 in year 1, $1,869,558 in year 2, $2,140,762 in year 3, $2,446,305 in year 4, and $2,756,512 in year 5. Because the Company is establishing its first store, unanticipated operational challenges could have a material adverse impact on the Company's ability to achieve gross sales milestones.

INSTRUCTIONS TO QUESTION 28: The discussion must cover each year for which financial statements are provided. For issuers with no prior operating history, the discussion should focus on financial milestones and operational, liquidity and other challenges. For issuers with an operating history, the discussion should focus on whether historical results and cash flows are representative of what investors should expect in the future. Take into account the proceeds of the offering and any other known or pending sources of capital. Discuss how the proceeds from the offering will affect liquidity, whether receiving these funds and any other additional funds is necessary to the viability of the business, and how quickly the issuer anticipates using its available cash. Describe the other available sources of capital to the business, such as lines of credit or required contributions by shareholders. References to the issuer in this Question 28 and these instructions refer to the issuer and its predecessors, if any.
