The General Corporate Law of the State of Delaware allows for the conversion of one type of entity into another type of entity. The Conversion will convert the Company from a limited liability company to a corporation. All assets, rights, liabilities and obligations of the Company prior to the Conversion will remain assets, rights, liabilities and obligations of the successor corporation following the Conversion. The Conversion has not yet been completed. However, the Conversion will take place prior to the closing of this Offering and the completion of the Conversion is a condition to the closing of this Offering. In other words, the Company will not sell any Securities to investors until after the Conversion has taken place. Accordingly, except where the context indicates otherwise, the information provided to investors in this Form C assumes that the Conversion has already taken place. RISK FACTORS

Risks Related to the Company's Business and Industry

In order for the Company to compete and grow, it must attract, recruit, retain and develop the necessary personnel who have the needed experience.

Recruiting and retaining highly qualified personnel is critical to our success. These demands may require us to hire additional personnel and will require our existing management personnel to develop additional expertise. We face intense competition for personnel. The failure to attract and retain personnel or to develop such expertise could delay or halt the development and commercialization of our product candidates. If we experience difficulties in hiring and retaining personnel in key positions, we could suffer from delays in product development, loss of customers and sales and diversion of management resources, which could adversely affect operating results. Our consultants and advisors may be employed by third parties and may have commitments under consulting or advisory contracts with third parties that may limit their availability to us.

The development and commercialization of consumer appliances is highly competitive.

Though we have little direct competitors now, competitors could develop similar competing products in the future.

We rely on other companies to provide subsystems and components for our products.

We depend on these suppliers and subcontractors to meet our contractual obligations to our customers and conduct our operations. Our ability to meet our obligations to our customers may be adversely affected if suppliers or subcontractors do not provide the agreed-upon supplies or perform the agreed-upon services in compliance with customer requirements and in a timely and cost-effective manner. Likewise, the quality of our products may be adversely impacted if companies to whom we delegate manufacture of major components or subsystems for our products, or from whom we acquire such items, do not provide subsystems and components which meet required specifications and perform to our and our customers' expectations. Our suppliers may be less likely than us to be able to quickly recover from natural disasters and other events beyond their control and may be subject to additional risks such as financial problems that limit their ability to conduct their operations. The risk of these adverse effects may be greater in circumstances where we rely on only one or two subcontractors or suppliers for a particular subsystems and components.

We depend on third-party service providers and outsource providers for a variety of services and we outsource a number of our functions and operations.

We do not manufacture the products that we sell. Instead, we contract with third parties to manufacture our products and are reliant on third parties to supply us with a sufficient supply of products to our specifications so that we can meet the demands of our customers. In certain instances, we rely on single or limited number of service providers and outsourcing vendors because the relationship is advantageous due to quality, price, or lack of alternative sources. If production or service was interrupted and we were not able to find alternate third-party providers, we could experience disruptions in manufacturing and operations, including product shortages, higher freight costs and re-engineering costs. If outsourcing services are interrupted or not performed or the performance is poor, this could impact our ability to process, record and report transactions with our customers and other constituents. Such interruptions in the provision of supplies and/or services could result in our inability to meet customer demand, damage our reputation and customer relationships and adversely affect our business.

Quality management plays an essential role in determining and meeting customer requirements, preventing defects, and improving the Company's products and services.

Our future success depends on our ability to ensure that the third parties that manufacture our products maintain and continuously improve their quality management program. An inability to address a quality or safety issue in an effective and timely manner may also cause negative publicity, a loss of customer confidence in us or our current or future products, which may result in the loss of sales and difficulty in successfully launching new products. In addition, a successful claim brought against us in excess of available insurance or not covered by indemnification agreements, or any claim that results in significant adverse publicity against us, could have an adverse effect on our business and our reputation.

One of the potential risks we face in the distribution of our products is liability resulting from counterfeit or tainted products infiltrating the supply chain.

Because we source raw materials from various sources, we rely on various suppliers and their quality control measures. While we have procedures to maintain the highest quality levels in our products, we may be subject to faulty, spoiled or tainted raw materials or components in our products, which would negatively affect our products and our customers' experience with them and could decrease customer demand for our products. In addition, if there are serious illness or injury due to our products, there can be no assurance that the insurance coverage we maintain is sufficient or will be available in adequate amounts or at a reasonable cost, or that indemnification agreements will provide us with adequate protection.

Manufacturing or design defects, unanticipated use of our products, or inadequate disclosure of risks relating to the use of the products can lead to injury or other adverse events.

We face risks associated with product liability claims or litigation. In the past, on three separate occasions, our customers reported minor cuts on their fingers from a sharp edge on our product. We have modified the design of our product to address this issue. In the future, however, other customers may be injured by our product as a result of a product defect. We had 3 incidents where customers had a minor cut on their finger from a sharp edge. The area has been corrected. The successful assertion of product liability claims against us could result in potentially significant monetary damages, diversion of management resources and require us to make significant payments and incur substantial legal expenses. Therefore, we may not have adequate resources to satisfy a judgment if a successful claim is brought against us. Even if a product liability claim is not successfully pursued to judgment by a claimant, we may still incur substantial legal expenses defending against such a claim. Finally, serious product quality concerns could result in governmental action against us, which, among other things, could result in the loss of certain licenses or other governmental penalties. In addition, product liability claims could have a material adverse effect on the demand for our products and on our business goodwill and reputation. Adverse publicity could result in a loss of consumer confidence in our products.

In general, demand for our products and services is likely to be correlated with general economic conditions.

A substantial portion of our revenue is derived from discretionary spending by individuals, which typically falls during times of economic instability. Declines in economic conditions in the US or in other countries in which we operate may adversely impact our consolidated financial results. Because such declines in demand are difficult to predict, we or the industry may have increased excess capacity as a result. An increase in excess capacity may result in declines in prices for our products and services.

The use of individually identifiable data by our business, our business associates and third parties is regulated at the state, federal and international levels.

Costs associated with information security – such as investment in technology, the costs of compliance with consumer protection laws and costs resulting from consumer fraud – could cause our business and results of operations to suffer materially. Additionally, the success of our online operations depends upon the secure transmission of confidential information over public networks, including the use of cashless payments. The intentional or negligent actions of employees, business associates or third parties may undermine our security measures. As a result, unauthorized parties may obtain access to our data systems and misappropriate confidential data. There can be no assurance that advances in computer capabilities, new discoveries in the field of cryptography or other developments will prevent the compromise of our customer transaction processing capabilities and personal data. If any such compromise of our security or the security of information residing with our business associates or third parties were to occur, it could have a material adverse effect on our reputation, operating results and financial condition. Any compromise of our data security may materially increase the costs we incur to protect against such breaches and could subject us to additional legal risk.

Through our operations, we collect and store certain personal information that our customers provide to purchase products, enroll in promotional programs, register on our web site, or otherwise communicate and interact with us.

We may share information about such persons with vendors that assist with certain aspects of our business. Security could be compromised and confidential customer or business information misappropriated. Loss of customer or business information could disrupt our operations, damage our reputation, and expose us to claims from customers, financial institutions, payment card associations and other persons, any of which could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. In addition, compliance with tougher privacy and information security laws and standards may result in significant expense due to increased investment in technology and the development of new operational processes.

Security breaches and other disruptions could compromise our information and expose us to liability, which would cause our business and reputation to suffer.

We collect and store sensitive data, including intellectual property, our proprietary business information and that of our customers, suppliers and business partners, and personally identifiable information of our customers and employees, in our data centers and on our networks. Despite our security measures, our information technology and infrastructure may be vulnerable to attacks by hackers or breached due to employee error, malfeasance or other disruptions. Any such breach could compromise our networks and the information stored there could be accessed, publicly disclosed, lost or stolen. Any such access, disclosure or other loss of information could result in legal claims or proceedings, liability under laws that protect the privacy of personal information, and regulatory penalties, disrupt our operations and the services we provide to customers, and damage our reputation, and cause a loss of confidence in our products and services, which could adversely affect our business/operating margins, revenues and competitive position.

We sell our products to virtually every part of the world and serve customers in more than 20 countries.

In 2016, approximately 15% of our revenue was attributable to activities outside the US. Our operations are subject to the effects of global competition and geopolitical risks. They are also affected by local economic environments, including inflation, recession, currency volatility and actual or anticipated default on sovereign debt. Political changes, some of which may be disruptive, can interfere with our supply chain, our customers and all of our activities in a particular location. While some of these global economic and political risks can be hedged using derivatives or other financial instruments and some are insurable, such attempts to mitigate these risks are costly and not always successful, and our ability to engage in such mitigation may decrease or become even more costly as a result of more volatile market conditions.

Our international operations could be affected by currency fluctuations, capital and exchange controls, expropriation and other restrictive government actions, changes in intellectual property legal protections and remedies, trade regulations and procedures and actions affecting approval, production, pricing, and marketing of, reimbursement for and access to our products, as well as by political unrest, unstable governments and legal systems and inter-governmental disputes.

Any of these changes could adversely affect our business. Many emerging markets have experienced growth rates in excess of the world's largest markets, leading to an increased contribution to the industry's global performance. There is no assurance that these countries will continue to sustain these growth rates. In addition, some emerging market countries may be particularly vulnerable to periods of financial instability or significant currency fluctuations or may have limited resources for healthcare spending, which can adversely affect our results.

We are required to comply with various import laws and export control and economic sanctions laws, which may affect our transactions with certain customers, business partners and other persons and dealings between our employees and subsidiaries.

In certain circumstances, export control and economic sanctions regulations may prohibit the export of certain products, services and technologies. In other circumstances, we may be required to obtain an export license before exporting the controlled item. Compliance with the various import laws that apply to our businesses can restrict our access to, and increase the cost of obtaining, certain products and at times can interrupt our supply of imported inventory.

The Company's success depends on the experience and skill of the board of directors, its executive officers and key employees.

The Company is dependent on Phillip Petracca who is our CEO since founding our in July 2014. The Company intends to enter into employment agreements with Phillip Petracca although there can be no assurance that it will do so or that he will continue to be employed by the Company for a particular period of time. The loss of Phillip Petracca or any member of the board of directors or executive officer could harm the Company's business, financial condition, cash flow and results of operations.

Although dependent Phillip Petracca, the Company does not have any key man life insurance policies on Mr. Petracca.

The Company is dependent on Phillip Petracca in order to conduct its operations and execute its business plan, however, the Company has not purchased any insurance policies with respect to Mr. Petracca in the event of his death or disability. Therefore, if Phillip Petracca should die or become disabled, the Company will not receive any compensation to assist with such person's absence. The loss of Mr. Petracca could negatively affect the Company and its operations.

We rely on third-party suppliers for the materials used in the manufacturing of our products.

In 2016, the following suppliers provided services, inputs or raw materials.

Supplier or Description: MicroTips
Service: Fizzics WayTap

Supplier or Description: iSGS
Service: Fizzics 101

If any of these suppliers changed its sales strategy to reduce its reliance on distribution channels, or decided to terminate its business relationship with us, sales and earnings could be adversely affected until we are able to establish relationships with suppliers of comparable products. Any delay or interruption in manufacturing operations (or failure to locate a suitable replacement for such suppliers) could materially adversely affect our business, prospects, or results of operations. Most of our agreements with suppliers are terminable by either party on short notice for any reason. Although we believe our relationships with these key suppliers are good, they could change their strategies as a result of a change in control, expansion of their direct sales force, changes in the marketplace or other factors beyond our control, including a key supplier becoming financially distressed.

We depend on a few major retail customers for a substantial portion of our net sales.

For example, during fiscal year ended 2016, Brookstone, Best Buy, Target, and Amazon accounted for 59 percent of our net sales, respectively. The loss of all or a substantial portion of our sales to any of our large-volume customers could have a material adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations by reducing cash flows and our ability to spread costs over a larger revenue base. In addition, our largest customers have an increased ability to influence pricing and other contract terms. Although we strive to broaden and diversify our customer base, a significant portion of our revenue is derived from a relatively small number of customers. Consequently, a significant loss of business from, or adverse performance by, our major customers, may have a material adverse effect on our financial condition, results of operations and cash flows. Similarly, the renegotiation of major customer contracts may also have an adverse effect on our financial results. We are also subject to credit risk associated with our customer concentration. If one or more of our largest customers were to become bankrupt, insolvent or otherwise were unable to pay for services provided, we may incur significant write-offs of accounts receivable or incur lease or asset-impairment charges that may have a material adverse effect on our financial condition, results of operations or cash flows.

Most of our significant long-term customer contracts permit quarterly or other periodic adjustments to pricing based on decreases and increases in component prices and other factors, however we typically bear the risk of component price increases that occur between any such re-pricings or, if such re-pricing is not permitted, during the balance of the term of the particular customer contract. Accordingly, certain component price increases could adversely affect our gross profit margins.

We rely on various intellectual property rights, including patents and trademarks in order to operate our business.

Such intellectual property rights, however, may not be sufficiently broad or otherwise may not provide us a significant competitive advantage. In addition, the steps that we have taken to maintain and protect our intellectual property may not prevent it from being challenged, invalidated, circumvented or designed-around, particularly in countries where intellectual property rights are not highly developed or protected. In some circumstances, enforcement may not be available to us because an infringer has a dominant intellectual property position or for other business reasons, or countries may require compulsory licensing of our intellectual property. Our failure to obtain or maintain intellectual property rights that convey competitive advantage, adequately protect our intellectual property or detect or prevent circumvention or unauthorized use of such property, could adversely impact our competitive position and results of operations. We also rely on nondisclosure and noncompetition agreements with employees, consultants and other parties to protect, in part, trade secrets and other proprietary rights. There can be no assurance that these agreements will adequately protect our trade secrets and other proprietary rights and will not be breached, that we will have adequate remedies for any breach, that others will not independently develop substantially equivalent proprietary information or that third parties will not otherwise gain access to our trade secrets or other proprietary rights.

As we expand our business, protecting our intellectual property will become increasingly important. The protective steps we have taken may be inadequate to deter our competitors from using our proprietary information. In order to protect or enforce our patent rights, we may be required to initiate litigation against third parties, such as infringement lawsuits. Also, these third parties may assert claims against us with or without provocation. These lawsuits could be expensive, take significant time and could divert management's attention from other business concerns. The law relating to the scope and validity of claims in the technology field in which we operate is still evolving and, consequently, intellectual property positions in our industry are generally uncertain. We cannot assure you that we will prevail in any of these potential suits or that the damages or other remedies awarded, if any, would be commercially valuable.

From time to time, third parties may claim that one or more of our products or services infringe their intellectual property rights.

Any dispute or litigation regarding patents or other intellectual property could be costly and time-consuming due to the complexity of our technology and the uncertainty of intellectual property litigation and could divert our management and key personnel from our business operations. A claim of intellectual property infringement could force us to enter into a costly or restrictive license agreement, which might not be available under acceptable terms or at all, could require us to redesign our products, which would be costly and time-consuming, and/or could subject us to an injunction against development and sale of certain of our products or services. We may have to pay substantial damages, including damages for past infringement if it is ultimately determined that our product candidates infringe a third party's proprietary rights. Even if these claims are without merit, defending a lawsuit takes significant time, may be expensive and may divert management's attention from other business concerns. Any public announcements related to litigation or interference proceedings initiated or threatened against us could cause our business to be harmed. Our intellectual property portfolio may not be useful in asserting a counterclaim, or negotiating a license, in response to a claim of intellectual property infringement. In certain of our businesses we rely on third party intellectual property licenses and we cannot ensure that these licenses will be available to us in the future on favorable terms or at all.

Indemnity provisions in various agreements potentially expose us to substantial liability for intellectual property infringement and other losses.

Our agreements with advertisers, advertising agencies, customers and other third parties may include indemnification provisions under which we agree to indemnify them for losses suffered or incurred as a result of claims of intellectual property infringement, damages caused by us to property or persons, or other liabilities relating to or arising from our products, services or other contractual obligations. The term of these indemnity provisions generally survives termination or expiration of the applicable agreement. Large indemnity payments would harm our business, financial condition and results of operations. In addition, any type of intellectual property lawsuit, whether initiated by us or a third party, would likely be time consuming and expensive to resolve and would divert management's time and attention.

We are subject to income taxes as well as non-income based taxes, such as payroll, sales, use, value-added, net worth, property and goods and services taxes, in the US.

Significant judgment is required in determining our provision for income taxes and other tax liabilities. In the ordinary course of our business, there are many transactions and calculations where the ultimate tax determination is uncertain. Although we believe that our tax estimates are reasonable: (i) there is no assurance that the final determination of tax audits or tax disputes will not be different from what is reflected in our income tax provisions, expense amounts for non-income based taxes and accruals and (ii) any material differences could have an adverse effect on our financial position and results of operations in the period or periods for which determination is made.

We are not subject to Sarbanes-Oxley regulations and lack the financial controls and safeguards required of public companies.

We do not have the internal infrastructure necessary, and are not required, to complete an attestation about our financial controls that would be required under Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002. There can be no assurance that there are no significant deficiencies or material weaknesses in the quality of our financial controls. We expect to incur additional expenses and diversion of management's time if and when it becomes necessary to perform the system and process evaluation, testing and remediation required in order to comply with the management certification and auditor attestation requirements.

Changes in employment laws or regulation could harm our performance.

Various federal and state labor laws govern our relationship with our employees and affect operating costs. These laws include minimum wage requirements, overtime pay, healthcare reform and the implementation of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, unemployment tax rates, workers' compensation rates, citizenship requirements, union membership and sales taxes. A number of factors could adversely affect our operating results, including additional government-imposed increases in minimum wages, overtime pay, paid leaves of absence and mandated health benefits, mandated training for employees, increased tax reporting and tax payment changing regulations from the National Labor Relations Board and increased employee litigation including claims relating to the Fair Labor Standards Act.

Maintaining, extending and expanding our reputation and brand image are essential to our business success.

We seek to maintain, extend, and expand our brand image through marketing investments, including advertising and consumer promotions, and product innovation. Increasing attention on marketing could adversely affect our brand image. It could also lead to stricter regulations and greater scrutiny of marketing practices. Existing or increased legal or regulatory restrictions on our advertising, consumer promotions and marketing, or our response to those restrictions, could limit our efforts to maintain, extend and expand our brands. Moreover, adverse publicity about regulatory or legal action against us could damage our reputation and brand image, undermine our customers' confidence and reduce long-term demand for our products, even if the regulatory or legal action is unfounded or not material to our operations.

In addition, our success in maintaining, extending, and expanding our brand image depends on our ability to adapt to a rapidly changing media environment. We increasingly rely on social media and online dissemination of advertising campaigns. The growing use of social and digital media increases the speed and extent that information or misinformation and opinions can be shared. Negative posts or comments about us, our brands or our products on social or digital media, whether or not valid, could seriously damage our brands and reputation. If we do not establish, maintain, extend and expand our brand image, then our product sales, financial condition and results of operations could be adversely affected.

We must correctly predict, identify, and interpret changes in consumer preferences and demand, offer new products to meet those changes, and respond to competitive innovation.

Consumer preferences our products change continually. Our success depends on our ability to predict, identify, and interpret the tastes and habits of consumers and to offer products that appeal to consumer preferences. If we do not offer products that appeal to consumers, our sales and market share will decrease. We must distinguish between short-term fads, mid-term trends, and long-term changes in consumer preferences. If we do not accurately predict which shifts in consumer preferences will be long-term, or if we fail to introduce new and improved products to satisfy those preferences, our sales could decline. In addition, because of our varied customer base, we must offer an array of products that satisfy the broad spectrum of consumer preferences. If we fail to expand our product offerings successfully across product categories, or if we do not rapidly develop products in faster growing and more profitable categories, demand for our products could decrease, which could materially and adversely affect our product sales, financial condition, and results of operations.

In addition, achieving growth depends on our successful development, introduction, and marketing of innovative new products and line extensions. Successful innovation depends on our ability to correctly anticipate customer and consumer acceptance, to obtain, protect and maintain necessary intellectual property rights, and to avoid infringing the intellectual property rights of others and failure to do so could compromise our competitive position and adversely impact our business.

We are vulnerable to fluctuations in the price and supply of ingredients, packaging materials, and freight.

The prices of the ingredients, packaging materials and freight are subject to fluctuations in price attributable to, among other things, changes in supply and demand of chemicals, electronic components, mechanical sub-systems. The sales prices to our customers are a delivered price. Therefore, changes in our input costs could impact our gross margins. Our ability to pass along higher costs through price increases to our customers is dependent upon competitive conditions and pricing methodologies employed in the various markets in which we compete. To the extent competitors do not also increase their prices, customers and consumers may choose to purchase competing products or may shift purchases to lower-priced private label or other value offerings which may adversely affect our results of operations.

We use significant quantities of chemicals and raw materials as well as aluminum and corrugated fiberboard and plastic packaging materials provided by third-party suppliers. Our contractors and the Company buys from a variety of producers and manufacturers, and alternate sources of supply are generally available. However, the supply and price are subject to market conditions and are influenced by other factors beyond our control. We do not have long-term contracts with many of our suppliers, and, as a result, they could increase prices or fail to deliver. The occurrence of any of the foregoing could increase our costs and disrupt our operations.

Substantial disruption to production at our manufacturing and distribution facilities could occur.

A disruption in production at our third-party manufacturing facilities could have an adverse effect on our business. In addition, a disruption could occur at the facilities of our suppliers, distributors or fulfillment service contractor. The disruption could occur for many reasons, including fire, natural disasters, weather, water scarcity, manufacturing problems, disease, strikes, transportation or supply interruption, government regulation, cybersecurity attacks or terrorism. Alternative facilities with sufficient capacity or capabilities may not be available, may cost substantially more or may take a significant time to start production, each of which could negatively affect our business and results of operations.

Future product recalls or safety concerns could adversely impact our results of operations.

We may be required to recall certain of our products should they be mislabeled, contaminated, spoiled, tampered with or damaged. We also may become involved in lawsuits and legal proceedings if it is alleged that the consumption or use of any of our products causes injury, illness or death. A product recall or an adverse result in any such litigation could have an adverse effect on our business, depending on the costs of the recall, the destruction of product inventory, competitive reaction and consumer attitudes. Even if a product liability or consumer fraud claim is unsuccessful or without merit, the negative publicity surrounding such assertions regarding our products could adversely affect our reputation and brand image. We also could be adversely affected if consumers in our principal markets lose confidence in the safety and quality of our products.

The consolidation of retail customers could adversely affect us.

Retail customers, such as supermarkets, warehouse clubs, and retailers in our major markets, may consolidate, resulting in fewer customers for our business. Consolidation also produces larger retail customers that may seek to leverage their position to improve their profitability by demanding improved efficiency, lower pricing, increased promotional programs, or specifically tailored products. In addition, larger retailers have the scale to develop supply chains that permit them to operate with reduced inventories or to develop and market their own white-label brands. Retail consolidation and increasing retailer power could adversely affect our product sales and results of operations. Retail consolidation also increases the risk that adverse changes in our customers' business operations or financial performance will have a corresponding material and adverse effect on us. For example, if our customers cannot access sufficient funds or financing, then they may delay, decrease, or cancel purchases of our products, or delay or fail to pay us for previous purchases, which could materially and adversely affect our product sales, financial condition, and operating results.

Evolving tax, environmental, food quality and safety or other regulations or failure to comply with existing licensing, labeling, trade, food quality and safety and other regulations and laws could have a material adverse effect on our consolidated financial condition.

Our activities or products, both in and outside of the United States, are subject to regulation by various federal, state, provincial and local laws, regulations and government agencies, including the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, U.S. Federal Trade Commission, the U.S. Departments of Agriculture, Commerce and Labor, as well as similar and other authorities outside of the United States, International Accords and Treaties and others, including voluntary regulation by other bodies. In addition, legal and regulatory systems in emerging and developing markets may be less developed, and less certain. These laws and regulations and interpretations thereof may change, sometimes dramatically, as a result of a variety of factors, including political, economic or social events. The manufacturing, marketing and distribution of food products are subject to governmental regulation that control such matters as food quality and safety, ingredients, advertising, product or production requirements, labeling, import or export of our products or ingredients, relations with distributors and retailers, health and safety, the environment, and restrictions on the use of government programs to purchase certain of our products. We are also regulated with respect to matters such as licensing requirements, trade and pricing practices, tax, anticorruption standards, advertising and claims, and environmental matters. The need to comply with new, evolving or revised tax, environmental, food quality and safety, labeling or other laws or regulations, or new, or changed interpretations or enforcement of existing laws or regulations, may have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations. Further, if we are found to be out of compliance with applicable laws and regulations in these areas, we could be subject to civil remedies, including fines, injunctions, termination of necessary licenses or permits, or recalls, as well as potential criminal sanctions, any of which could have an adverse effect on our business. Even if regulatory review does not result in these types of determinations, it could potentially create negative publicity or perceptions which could harm our business or reputation.

Significant additional labeling or warning requirements may inhibit sales of affected products.

Various jurisdictions may seek to adopt significant additional product labeling or warning requirements relating to the content or perceived adverse health consequences of our product(s). If these types of requirements become applicable to our product(s) under current or future environmental or health laws or regulations, they may inhibit sales of such products.

Our business is substantially dependent upon awareness and market acceptance of our products and brands.

Our business depends on acceptance by both our end consumers as well as our independent distributors of our brands as beverage brands that have the potential to provide incremental sales growth rather than reduce distributors' existing beverage sales. We believe that the success of our product name brands will also be substantially dependent upon acceptance of our product name brands. Accordingly, any failure of our brands to maintain or increase acceptance or market penetration would likely have a material adverse effect on our revenues and financial results.

We currently depend exclusively on one third-party co-manufacturer for each of our products.

The loss of a co-manufacturer or the inability of a co-manufacturer to fulfill our orders would adversely affect our ability to make timely deliveries of our product and would have a material adverse effect on our business.

We rely, in part, on our third-party co-manufacturers to maintain the quality of our products.

The failure or inability of these co-manufacturers to comply with the specifications and requirements of our products could result in product recall and could adversely affect our reputation. Our third-party co-manufacturers are required to maintain the quality of our products and to comply with our product specifications and requirements for certain certifications. Our third-party co-manufacturers are also required to comply with all federal, state and local laws with respect to food safety. Additionally, certain retail customers, such as Costco and WholeFoods, require our third-party co-manufacturer to maintain minimum independent certifications, such as SQF Level 2 Certification or Hazard Analysis and Critical Control Points, or HACCP, certification. However, our third-party co-manufacturers may not continue to produce products that are consistent with our standards or that are in compliance with applicable laws, and we cannot guarantee that we will be able to identify instances in which our third-party co-manufacturer fails to comply with our standards or applicable laws. Any such failure, particularly if it is not identified by us, could harm our brand and reputation as well as our customer relationships. We would have these same issues with any new co-manufacturer, and they may be exacerbated due to the newness of the relationship. The failure of any manufacturer to produce products that conform to our standards could materially and adversely affect our reputation in the marketplace and result in product recalls, product liability claims and severe economic loss.

Failure by our transportation providers to deliver our products on time or at all could result in lost sales.

We currently rely upon third-party transportation providers for a significant portion of our product shipments. Our utilization of delivery services for shipments is subject to risks, including increases in fuel prices, which would increase our shipping costs, and employee strikes and inclement weather, which may impact the ability of providers to provide delivery services that adequately meet our shipping needs. We may, from time to time, change third-party transportation providers, and we could therefore face logistical difficulties that could adversely affect deliveries. We may not be able to obtain terms as favorable as those we receive from the third-party transportation providers that we currently use or may incur additional costs, which in turn would increase our costs and thereby adversely affect our operating results.

If our brand or reputation is damaged, the attractive characteristics that we offer retailers may diminish, which could diminish the value of our business.

We are currently an attractive brand for our customers because our products are high quality and generate a high level of retail sales at a premium margin relative to their shelf space. This is due to both our premium price point and our sales velocity. If our brand or reputation is damaged for any reason, consumers may no longer be willing to pay a premium price for our products and we may no longer be able to generate a high sales velocity at our then-current prices. If we no longer offer these characteristics, retailers may decrease their orders of our products and downgrade the in-store placement of our products, which could have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

Changes in raw material and manufacturing input prices could adversely affect our business and results of operations.

Raw material costs and energy, such as metal are a significant operating expense. The cost of raw materials and energy can be volatile and are susceptible to rapid and substantial increases due to factors beyond our control, such as changing economic conditions, political unrest, instability in energy-producing nations, and supply and demand considerations. For example, metal, a key manufacturing input, has historically had significant price volatility. Price increases and general volatility could adversely affect our business and results of operations.

Failure to develop new products and production technologies or to implement productivity and cost reduction initiatives successfully may harm our competitive position.

We depend significantly on the development of commercially viable new products, product grades and applications, as well as process technologies, free of any legal restrictions. If we are unsuccessful in developing new products, applications and production processes in the future, our competitive position and results of operations may be negatively affected. However, as we invest in new technology, we face the risk of unanticipated operational or commercialization difficulties, including an inability to obtain necessary permits or governmental approvals, the development of competing technologies, failure of facilities or processes to operate in accordance with specifications or expectations, construction delays, cost over-runs, the unavailability of financing, required materials or equipment and various other factors. Likewise, we have undertaken and are continuing to undertake initiatives to improve productivity and performance and to generate cost savings. These initiatives may not be completed or beneficial or the estimated cost savings from such activities may not be realized.

We may incur additional expenses and delays due to technical problems or other interruptions at our manufacturing facilities.

Disruptions in operations due to technical problems or other interruptions such as floods or fire would adversely affect the manufacturing capacity of our facilities. Such interruptions could cause delays in production and cause us to incur additional expenses such as charges for expedited deliveries for products that are delayed. Additionally, our customers have the ability to cancel purchase orders in the event of any delays in production and may decrease future orders if delays are persistent. Additionally, to the extent that such disruptions do not result from damage to our physical property, these may not be covered by our business interruption insurance. Any such disruptions may adversely affect our business and results of operations.

Any disruption in our information systems could disrupt our operations and would be adverse to our business and results of operations.

We depend on various information systems to support our customers' requirements and to successfully manage our business, including managing orders, supplies, accounting controls and payroll. Any inability to successfully manage the procurement, development, implementation or execution of our information systems and back-up systems, including matters related to system security, reliability, performance and access, as well as any inability of these systems to fulfill their intended purpose within our business, could have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations. Such disruptions may not be covered by our business interruption insurance.

The potential impact of failing to deliver products on time could increase the cost of our products.

In most instances, we guarantee that we will deliver a product by a scheduled date. If we subsequently fail to deliver the product as scheduled, we may be held responsible for cost impacts and/or other damages resulting from any delay. To the extent that these failures to deliver occur, the total damages for which we could be liable could significantly increase the cost of the products; as such, we could experience reduced profits or, in some cases, a loss for that contract. Additionally, failure to deliver products on time could result in damage to customer relationships, the potential loss of customers, and reputational damage which could impair our ability to attract new customers.

Many of our customers do not commit to long-term production schedules, which makes it difficult for us to schedule production accurately and achieve maximum efficiency of our manufacturing capacity.

Many of our customers do not commit to firm production schedules and we continue to experience reduced lead-times in customer orders. Additionally, customers may change production quantities or delay production with little lead-time or advance notice. Therefore, we rely on and plan our production and inventory levels based on our customers' advance orders, commitments or forecasts, as well as our internal assessments and forecasts of customer demand. The variations in volume and timing of sales make it difficult to schedule production and optimize utilization of manufacturing capacity. This uncertainty may require us to increase staffing and incur other expenses in order to meet an unexpected increase in customer demand, potentially placing a significant burden on our resources. Additionally, an inability to respond to such increases may cause customer dissatisfaction, which may negatively affect our customers' relationships.

Further, in order to secure sufficient production scale, we may make capital investments in advance of anticipated customer demand. Such investments may lead to low utilization levels if customer demand forecasts change and we are unable to utilize the additional capacity. Additionally, we order materials and components based on customer forecasts and orders and suppliers may require us to purchase materials and components in minimum quantities that exceed customer requirements, which may have an adverse impact on our results of operations. Such order fluctuations and deferrals may have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

If we fail to maintain or expand our relationships with our suppliers we may not have adequate access to new or key technology necessary for our products, which may impair our ability to deliver leading-edge products.

In addition to the technologies we develop, our suppliers develop product innovations at our direction that are requested by our customers. Further, we rely heavily on our component suppliers to provide us with leading-edge components that conform to required specifications or contractual arrangements on time and in accordance with a product roadmap. If we are not able to maintain or expand our relationships with our suppliers or continue to leverage their research and development capabilities to develop new technologies desired by our customers, our ability to deliver leading-edge products in a timely manner may be impaired and we could be required to incur additional research and development expenses. Also, disruption in our supply chain or the need to find alternative suppliers could impact the costs and/or timing associated with procuring necessary products, components and services. Similarly, suppliers have operating risks that could impact our business. These risks could create product time delays, inventory and invoicing problems, staging delays, and other operational difficulties.

Cyclical and seasonal fluctuations in the economy, in internet usage and in traditional retail shopping may have an effect on our business.

Both cyclical and seasonal fluctuations in internet usage and traditional retail seasonality may affect our business. Internet usage generally slows during the summer months, and queries typically increase significantly in the fourth quarter of each year. These seasonal trends may cause fluctuations in our quarterly results, including fluctuations in revenues.

Our business could be negatively impacted by cyber security threats, attacks and other disruptions.

Like others in our industry, we continue to face advanced and persistent attacks on our information infrastructure where we manage and store various proprietary information and sensitive/confidential data relating to our operations. These attacks may include sophisticated malware (viruses, worms, and other malicious software programs) and phishing emails that attack our products or otherwise exploit any security vulnerabilities. These intrusions sometimes may be zero-day malware that are difficult to identify because they are not included in the signature set of commercially available antivirus scanning programs. Experienced computer programmers and hackers may be able to penetrate our network security and misappropriate or compromise our confidential information or that of our customers or other third-parties, create system disruptions, or cause shutdowns. Additionally, sophisticated software and applications that we produce or procure from third-parties may contain defects in design or manufacture, including “bugs” and other problems that could unexpectedly interfere with the operation of the information infrastructure. A disruption, infiltration or failure of our information infrastructure systems or any of our data centers as a result of software or hardware malfunctions, computer viruses, cyber attacks, employee theft or misuse, power disruptions, natural disasters or accidents could cause breaches of data security, loss of critical data and performance delays, which in turn could adversely affect our business.

If we do not respond to technological changes or upgrade our websites and technology systems, our growth prospects and results of operations could be adversely affected.

To remain competitive, we must continue to enhance and improve the functionality and features of our websites and technology infrastructure. As a result, we will need to continue to improve and expand our hosting and network infrastructure and related software capabilities. These improvements may require greater levels of spending than we have experienced in the past. Without such improvements, our operations might suffer from unanticipated system disruptions, slow application performance or unreliable service levels, any of which could negatively affect our reputation and ability to attract and retain customers and contributors. Furthermore, in order to continue to attract and retain new customers, we are likely to incur expenses in connection with continuously updating and improving our user interface and experience. We may face significant delays in introducing new services, products and enhancements. If competitors introduce new products and services using new technologies or if new industry standards and practices emerge, our existing websites and our proprietary technology and systems may become obsolete or less competitive, and our business may be harmed. In addition, the expansion and improvement of our systems and infrastructure may require us to commit substantial financial, operational and technical resources, with no assurance that our business will improve.

Risks Related to the Securities

The Series Seed Preferred Shares will not be freely tradable until one year from the initial purchase date. Although the Series Seed Preferred Shares may be tradeable under federal securities law, state securities regulations may apply and each Purchaser should consult with his or her attorney.

You should be aware of the long-term nature of this investment. There is not now and likely will not be a public market for the Series Seed Preferred Shares. Because the Series Seed Preferred Shares have not been registered under the Securities Act or under the securities laws of any state or non-United States jurisdiction, the Series Seed Preferred Shares have transfer restrictions and cannot be resold in the United States except pursuant to Rule 501 of Regulation CF. It is not currently contemplated that registration under the Securities Act or other securities laws will be effected. Limitations on the transfer of the Series Seed Preferred Shares may also adversely affect the price that you might be able to obtain for the Series Seed Preferred Shares in a private sale. Purchasers should be aware of the long-term nature of their investment in the Company. Each Purchaser in this Offering will be required to represent that it is purchasing the Securities for its own account, for investment purposes and not with a view to resale or distribution thereof.

Neither the Offering nor the Securities have been registered under federal or state securities laws, leading to an absence of certain regulation applicable to the Company.

No governmental agency has reviewed or passed upon this Offering, the Company or any Securities of the Company. The Company also has relied on exemptions from securities registration requirements under applicable state securities laws. Investors in the Company, therefore, will not receive any of the benefits that such registration would otherwise provide. Prospective investors must therefore assess the adequacy of disclosure and the fairness of the terms of this offering on their own or in conjunction with their personal advisors.

No Guarantee of Return on Investment

There is no assurance that a Purchaser will realize a return on its investment or that it will not lose its entire investment. For this reason, each Purchaser should read the Form C and all Exhibits carefully and should consult with its own attorney and business advisor prior to making any investment decision.

A portion of the proceeds from the Offering will be used to repay obligations of the Company currently in arrears.

These proceeds will not be available for the ongoing operations of the Company but will instead be paid to creditors for amounts which are currently overdue.

A majority of the Company is owned by a small number of owners.

Prior to the offering the Company's current owners of 20% or more beneficially own up to 56.9% of the Company. Subject to any fiduciary duties owed to our other owners or investors under Delaware law, these owners may be able to exercise significant influence over matters requiring owner approval, including the election of directors or managers and approval of significant Company transactions, and will have significant control over the Company's management and policies. Some of these persons may have interests that are different from yours. For example, these owners may support proposals and actions with which you may disagree. The concentration of ownership could delay or prevent a change in control of the Company or otherwise discourage a potential acquirer from attempting to obtain control of the Company, which in turn could reduce the price potential investors are willing to pay for the Company. In addition, these owners could use their voting influence to maintain the Company's existing management, delay or prevent changes in control of the Company, or support or reject other management and board proposals that are subject to owner approval.

The Company has the right to extend the Offering deadline.

The Company may extend the Offering deadline beyond what is currently stated herein. This means that your investment may continue to be held in escrow while the Company attempts to raise the Minimum Amount even after the Offering deadline stated herein is reached. Your investment will not be accruing interest during this time and will simply be held until such time as the new Offering deadline is reached without the Company receiving the Minimum Amount, at which time it will be returned to you without interest or deduction, or the Company receives the Minimum Amount, at which time it will be released to the Company to be used as set forth herein. Upon or shortly after release of such funds to the Company, the Securities will be issued and distributed to you.

Your ownership of the shares of stock will be subject to dilution.

Owners do not have preemptive rights. If the Company conducts subsequent offerings of or securities convertible into, issues shares pursuant to a compensation or distribution reinvestment plan or otherwise issues additional shares, investors who purchase shares in this offering who do not participate in those other stock issuances will experience dilution in their percentage ownership of the Company's outstanding shares. Furthermore, shareholders may experience a dilution in the value of their shares depending on the terms and pricing of any future share issuances (including the shares being sold in this offering) and the value of the Company's assets at the time of issuance.

The Securities will be equity interests in the Company and will not constitute indebtedness.

The Company currently has $100,000 of convertible debt outstanding that bears interest at an annual rate of 6%. The Securities will rank junior such debt and to all future indebtedness and other non-equity claims on the Company with respect to assets available to satisfy claims on the Company, including in a liquidation of the Company. Additionally, unlike indebtedness, for which principal and interest would customarily be payable on specified due dates, there will be no specified payments of dividends with respect to the Securities and dividends are payable only if, when and as authorized and declared by the Company and depend on, among other matters, the Company's historical and projected results of operations, liquidity, cash flows, capital levels, financial condition, debt service requirements and other cash needs, financing covenants, applicable state law, federal and state regulatory prohibitions and other restrictions and any other factors the Company's board of directors deems relevant at the time. In addition, the terms of the Securities will not limit the amount of debt or other obligations the Company may incur in the future. Accordingly, the Company may incur substantial amounts of additional debt and other obligations that will rank senior to the Securities.

Purchasers are granting a proxy to vote their Securities to Democracy VC Partners LLC and, thus, will not have the right to vote on any matters coming before the stockholders of the Company for a vote.

As indicated in the Term Sheet attached to this Form C as Exhibit B, all Purchasers will grant to Democracy VC Partners LLC an irrevocable proxy to vote their Securities. Accordingly, they will not be able to vote at stockholder meetings or sign written consents in lieu of stockholder meetings. Only Democracy VC Partners LLC will have the right to vote the Securities. Furthermore, the protective provisions described under the Term Sheet (i.e., veto rights) will similarly only be exercisable by the Proxy holder and not by the Purchasers.

There can be no assurance that we will ever provide liquidity to Purchasers through either a sale of the Company or a registration of the Securities.

There can be no assurance that any form of merger, combination, or sale of the Company will take place, or that any merger, combination, or sale would provide liquidity for Purchasers. Furthermore, we may be unable to register the Securities for resale by Purchasers for legal, commercial, regulatory, market-related or other reasons. If we are unable to effect a registration, Purchasers could be unable to sell their Securities unless an exemption from registration is available.

The Company does not anticipate paying any cash dividends for the foreseeable future.

The Company currently intends to retain future earnings, if any, for the foreseeable future, to repay indebtedness and to support its business. The Company does not intend in the foreseeable future to pay any dividends to holders of its capital stock.

In addition to the risks listed above, businesses are often subject to risks not foreseen or fully appreciated by the management. It is not possible to foresee all risks that may affect us. Moreover, the Company cannot predict whether the Company will successfully effectuate the Company's current business plan. Each prospective Purchaser is encouraged to carefully analyze the risks and merits of an investment in the Securities and should take into consideration when making such analysis, among other, the Risk Factors discussed above.

THE SECURITIES OFFERED INVOLVE A HIGH DEGREE OF RISK AND MAY RESULT IN THE LOSS OF YOUR ENTIRE INVESTMENT. ANY PERSON CONSIDERING THE PURCHASE OF THESE SECURITIES SHOULD BE AWARE OF THESE AND OTHER FACTORS SET FORTH IN THIS FORM C AND SHOULD CONSULT WITH HIS OR HER LEGAL, TAX AND FINANCIAL ADVISORS PRIOR TO MAKING AN INVESTMENT IN THE SECURITIES. Competition

We view the following companies as competitors.

SYNEK: Founded in 2013, SYNEK is a countertop beer dispenser that refrigerates, pressurizes, and dispenses beer from cartridges. Each cartridge holds one gallon and can be filled from a keg, tap, or inside a brewery's back room. The cartridge is pressurized by CO2, which helps the beer stay fresh longer and allows consumers to interchange the cartridges. The unit requires a CO2 canister and power outlet. SYNEK retails for $399 and comes with a 20-ounce refillable CO2 container, regulator, beer mat, tap handle, vented faucet, and growler adapter. Assembly is required. Replacement cartridges cost $9.99 for a pack of five. SYNEK raised over $645,000 from a 2014 Kickstarter campaign and $2.5 million from Arsenal Capital Management in 2015.

Sonic Foamer: The Sonic Foamer uses ultrasonic vibrations that produce ideal-sized bubbles to enhance the head of users' beer of choice and bring out the flavors. The unit looks like a base of a blender and runs on batteries. To use, consumers add two teaspoons of water to the base, place a compatible glass of beer on the base, and press a button that turns on the ultrasonic waves. The Sonic Foamer retails for $29.99.

BeerTender®: The BeerTender is an at-home mini kegerator manufactured by German kitchen appliance manufacturer Krups. The BeerTender was designed to exclusively work with the Heineken DraughtKeg system, which utilizes an internal carbonator pressure unit. The unit uses CO2 to keep the beer fresh for up to 30 days after tapping. To use, consumers run the keg's plastic tube to the BeerTender tap. The B100 BeerTender model retails for $391 on Amazon. The unit requires replacement tubes for each new keg loaded into the system which cost $9.99 for a set of 6.

EdgeStar®: EdgeStar's deluxe mini kegerator and draft beer dispenser uses Heineken's DraughtKeg carbonator pressure technology. The unit has electronic temperature controls, which can be adjusted from 38 to 43 degrees Fahrenheit. It is compatible with the Heineken DraughtKeg and can be modified for any standard-size 5-liter keg using an optional CO2 accessory kit. The EdgeStar mini kegerator retails for $149.99. The conversion kit retails for $44.99 and includes three mini CO2 cartridges, two reusable seals, a non-pressurized keg tap.

SPT: The SPT mini kegerator and countertop beer dispenser uses thermoelectric cooling technology. The unit is equipped with a CO2 cartridge pressure system that can keep beer chilled for up to 30 days. The unit is compatible with standard 5-liter kegs and has a temperature range of 36 to 53 degree Fahrenheit. The product retails for $160 on Amazon and requires CO2 cartridges. Assembly is required.

Other companies, often in conjunction with brewers, have offered products for dispensing -- such a small kegs for home use. These have only filled small niches. The company competes on the basis of innovative product, rapid time-to-market and marketing to key opinion leaders in beer loving world.

The Company has discretion to alter the use of proceeds as set forth above. If using the proceeds as listed above is no longer a viable business strategy the Company will change the use of proceeds in the discretion of its board.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Please see the financial information listed on the cover page of this Form C and attached hereto in addition to the following information.

Operations

We believe that our prior earnings and cash flows not indicative of future earnings and cash flows because the company expects to sign more re-sellers of its products and expand the points of presence with those re-sellers. The Company intends to achieve profitability in the next 12 months by growing the list of re-sellers and increasing the points of distribution within its re-seller customer base.

The Company currently requires approximately $80,000 a month to sustain operations.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

The proceeds of the offering are not necessary to the operations of the Company. The Offering proceeds are important to our operations. While not dependent on the offering proceeds, the influx of capital will assist in the achievement of our next milestones and expedite the realization of our business plan, specifically new product development, greater finished goods inventory to better serve our large re-sellers and improve working capital especially for holiday season.

The Company does not have any additional sources of capital other than the proceeds from the Offering.

Such additional sources of capital are not necessary to the operations of the Company.

Capital Expenditures and Other Obligations

The Company has made the following material capital expenditures in the past two years:
The single largest capital expenditure is for tooling (molds and dies) to manufacture the Company's products. The company owns this tooling for both the FZ101 and the Waytap products. Though the tooling can last for as long as five years, the Company depreciates tooling over two years.

The Company intends to make the following material capital expenditures in the future:
As in the past, future new products will require investment for tooling.

Material Changes and Other Information

Revenues for 2016 increased substantially over 2015 to approximately $5.6 million.

Trends and Uncertainties

The Company's business is highly dependent on broad consumer acceptance of its products. Failure to gain this acceptance would have a material negative impact on the Company's business.

After reviewing the above discussion of the steps the Company intends to take, potential Purchasers should consider whether achievement of each step within the estimated time frame is realistic in their judgement. Potential Purchasers should also assess the consequences to the Company of any delays in taking these steps and whether the Company will need additional financing to accomplish them.

The financial statements are an important part of this Form C and should be reviewed in their entirety. The financial statements of the Company are attached hereto as Exhibit A.

If any material change (other than reaching the Minimum Amount) occurs related to the Offering prior to the Offering Deadline, the Company will provide notice to Purchasers and receive reconfirmations from Purchasers who have already made commitments. If a Purchaser does not reconfirm his or her investment commitment after a material change is made to the terms of the Offering, the Purchaser's investment commitment will be cancelled and the committed funds will be returned without interest or deductions. If a Purchaser does not cancel an investment commitment before the Minimum Amount is reached, the funds will be released to the Company upon closing of the Offering and the Purchaser will receive the Securities in exchange for his or her investment. FIZZICS GROUP, LLC
Notes to the Financial Statements
December 31, 2015 and 2014

Note 1 - Nature of Business

Fizzics Group, LLC (“the Company”), was organized on July 3, 2014 in the State of Delaware. The Company changed its State of registration from Delaware to New Jersey on October 22, 2015.

The Company created the Fizzics System, a portable Draft Beer System, that improves the flavor and taste of ordinary canned, bottled and growler beer. The Company’s technology enhances the carbonation and aroma of beer while providing a smooth, creamy, full-body flavor and taste without the use of additives or chemicals.

Note 2 – Liquidity and Capital Resources

The Company has experienced net losses during the years ended December 31, 2015 and 2014. The Company's prospects are subject to the risks, expenses and uncertainties frequently encountered by companies in rapidly evolving markets. These risks include the failure to market the Company’s offerings, as well as other risks and uncertainties. The Company may also be adversely affected by factors influencing and impacting the industries of its potential customer base.

The Company has historically funded its operations through member contributions. The Company's ability to continue to generate positive cash flows depends on a variety of factors, including the continued development and successful marketing of the Company's portable Draft Beer System. Successful transition to attaining profitable operations is dependent upon achieving a level of revenue adequate to support the Company’s cost structure. Management of the Company expects to be successful in maintaining sufficient working capital and will manage operations commensurate with its level of working capital. In the event the Company does not successfully implement its ultimate business plan or raise additional capital, certain assets may not be recoverable.

Note 3- Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of accounting

The accompanying financial statements were prepared using accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Cash equivalents

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Company considers all short-term, highly liquid investments with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities, at the date of the financial statements, as well as the reported amount of revenue and expenses during the reporting periods. Actual results could differ from these estimates. The Company’s most significant estimates relate to the useful lives of property, equipment.

Accounts receivable

Accounts receivable are uncollateralized customer obligations due under normal trade terms generally requiring payment within 30-60 days from the invoice date. Accounts receivable are stated at the amount management expects to collect from outstanding balances. Management provides for probable uncollectible amounts through a charge to earnings and a credit to a valuation allowance based on its assessment of the current collectability status of accounts, which includes historical loss experience and the length of time receivables are past due. There were no provisions made for doubtful accounts as of December 31, 2015 and 2014.

Inventory

Inventory consists of finished goods stated at the lower of cost or market. Cost includes purchasing, merchandise handling and storage costs incurred to acquire inventory and costs to process and put away shipments received in order to prepare them to be picked for orders. Inventories are adjusted for estimated obsolescence and written down to net realizable value based upon estimates of future demand and market conditions. There were no provisions made for inventory reserve as of December 31, 2015 and 2014.

Property and equipment

Property and equipment consist principally of computers and furniture. Property and equipment are stated at cost with depreciation provided using the straight-line method over the estimated useful life of the depreciable assets ranging from five to seven years.

Expenditures for maintenance and repairs are charged to expense as incurred. Major expenditures for additions, replacements and betterments are capitalized. When assets are sold, retired or fully depreciated the cost, reduced by the related amount of accumulated depreciation, is removed from the accounts and any resulting gain or loss is recognized as income or expense.

Revenue recognition

Sales are recognized when merchandise is shipped, risk of loss and title passes to the customer and the Company has no further obligations to provide services related to such merchandise. Discounts, and most cooperative advertising amounts are recorded as a reduction of sales. The Company's practice on product returns is to accept and credit the return products from customers where the product is defective due to issues with design, manufacturing and workmanship. Provisions are made for estimated sales returns which are deducted from net sales at the time of shipment. There were no returns or provisions for estimated sales returns as of December 31, 2015 and 2014.

Cost of revenues

Cost of revenues consists of the cost of the product, inbound freight charges, purchasing and receiving costs, merchandise handling and storage costs. The cost of shipping and handling within cost of revenues was $99,369 and $0 for the years ended December 31, 2015 and 2014, respectively.

Marketing costs

The Company expenses marketing costs as incurred. Direct marketing costs were $393,521 and $0 during the years ended December 31, 2015 and 2014, respectively.

FIZZICS GROUP, LLC
Notes to the Financial Statements
December 31, 2015 and 2014

Income taxes

The Company has elected to be taxed as an S-Corp for U.S. federal income tax purposes. As such, the Company does not pay U.S. federal corporate income taxes on its taxable income. Instead, the members are liable for individual U.S. federal income taxes on their respective shares of taxable net income.

The Company regularly assesses uncertain tax positions in each of the tax jurisdictions in which it has operations and accounts for the related financial statement implications. Unrecognized tax benefits are reported using the two-step approach under which tax effects of a position are recognized only if it is “more-likely-than-not” to be sustained and the amount of the tax benefit recognized is equal to the largest tax benefit that is greater than fifty percent likely of being realized upon ultimate settlement of the tax position. Determining the appropriate level of unrecognized tax benefits requires the Company to exercise judgment regarding the uncertain application of tax law. The amount of unrecognized tax benefits is adjusted when information becomes available or when an event occurs indicating a change is appropriate. Future changes in unrecognized tax benefits requirements could have a material impact on the results of operations. The Company is subject to tax examinations relating to federal and state tax returns back to 2012.

Financial instruments and credit risk

Financial instruments that potentially subject the Company to credit risk include cash and cash equivalents and accounts receivable from customers. Cash is deposited in demand accounts in federal insured domestic institutions to minimize risk. Although the balances in these accounts can exceed the federally insured limit from time to time, the Company has not incurred losses related to these deposits. Accounts receivable are generally unsecured.

The amounts reported for cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable, accounts payable, accrued expenses and deferred revenue, are considered to approximate their market values based on comparable market information available at the respective balance sheet dates due to their short-term nature. However, the balances as of December 31, 2015 and 2014 approximate fair value due to the proximity of the agreements to the balance sheet date.

Management Review

Management of the Company has evaluated subsequent events through February 1, 2017, the date the financial statements were available to be issued.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In May 2014, the FASB issued ASU 2014-09, Revenue from Contracts with Customers (“ASU 2014-09”). ASU 2014-09 outlines a single, comprehensive model for entities to use in accounting for revenue arising from contracts with customers and supersedes most current revenue recognition guidance issued by the Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”), including industry specific guidance. ASU 2014-09 provides accounting guidance for all revenue arising from contracts with customers and affects all entities that enter into contracts with customers to provide goods and services. The guidance also provides a model for the measurement and recognition of gains and losses on the sale of certain nonfinancial assets, such as property and equipment, including real estate.

FIZZICS GROUP, LLC
Notes to the Financial Statements

ASU 2014-09 is effective for annual reporting periods, including interim reporting periods within those periods, beginning after December 15, 2018. The new standard must be adopted using either a full retrospective approach for all periods presented in the period of adoption or a modified retrospective approach. The modified retrospective approach requires that the new standard be applied to all new and existing contracts as of the date of adoption, with a cumulative catch-up adjustment recorded to the opening balance of retained earnings at the effective date for existing contracts that still require performance by the entity. Under the modified retrospective approach, amounts reported prior to the date of adoption will be presented under existing guidance. ASU 2014-09 also requires entities to disclose both quantitative and qualitative information to enable users of the financial statements to understand the nature, amount, timing, and uncertainty of revenue and cash flows arising from contracts with customers.

The Company has not yet determined the impact of adopting the standard on its financial statements, nor has it determined whether it will utilize the full retrospective or modified retrospective approach.

In August 2014, the FASB issued ASU 2014-15, Disclosure of Uncertainties About an Entity's Ability to Continue as a Going Concern ("ASU 2014-15"). The new standard provides guidance on determining when and how to disclose going-concern uncertainties in the financial statements. Management will be required to perform interim and annual assessments of the Company's ability to continue as a going concern within one year of the date the financial statements are issued. ASU 2014-15 is effective for annual periods ending after December 15, 2016, and interim periods thereafter, with early adoption permitted. The adoption of this standard is not expected to have an impact on the Company's financial statement disclosures.

Note 4 – Property and Equipment

Property and equipment consists of the following at December 31, 2015 and 2014:

	2015	2014
Computer equipment	$ 25,329	$ -

On December 31, 2015, the Company amended and restated the original Operating Agreement in full to, among other things, reflect the admission of new members. The terms, conditions, rights, and obligations of the members are summarized below.

Management and voting

The management and control of the affairs of the Company shall be vested in the managing member and founder of the Company.

Each member of the Company shall be entitled to vote in proportion to the membership interest held in the Company.

Allocations of net income and net loss

2016	$	10,000
2017		25,000
2018		26,900
	$	61,900

Litigation

The Company from time to time may be involved in litigation relating to claims arising out of its ordinary course of business. Management believes that there are no claims or actions pending or threatened against the Company, the ultimate disposition of which would have a material impact on the Company's financial position, results of operations or cash flows.

Risk Management

The Company is subject to various claims and liabilities in the ordinary course of business. The Company maintains various forms of insurance that the Company's management believes are adequate to reduce the exposure to these risks to an acceptable level.

Concentrations

Deposits of cash held in US banks sometimes exceed federally insured limits; however, the Company has not experienced any losses on its deposits. Accounts receivable are generally unsecured. The Company performs ongoing credit evaluations of customers and generally does not require collateral. The Company maintains reserves for potential credit losses on customer accounts when deemed necessary. As of December 31, 2015 and 2014, the Company had one customer who accounted for approximately 100% and 0% of accounts receivable, respectively.

In any given year, a single customer can account for a significant portion of sales. For the years ended December 31, 2015 and 2014, the Company had one customer who accounted for 86% and 0% of total revenue, respectively.

The Company contracts with third party vendors for its products. During the years ended December 31, 2015 and 2014, the Company had three vendors who accounted for 90% and 0% of total accounts payable, respectively.

COMPANY SUMMARY

Opportunity

Beer is American drinkers' beverage of choice, with 43% of Americans who drink alcohol preferring beer over liquor or wine. In 2015, U.S. beer sales totaled $105.9 billion.ⁱⁱⁱ Although Americans prefer beer, it is hard to get the same smooth straight-from-the-draught taste at home from a hand pour.

Fizzics is a universal beer dispenser that delivers a fresh-from-the-tap experience from any can, bottle, or growler. Enjoying an expertly poured, quality draft beer is no longer limited to high-end craft beer bars. Fizzics' portable beer device is engineered through hard science and technology to stimulate the consumer's sense of smell and taste, making any store-bought beer taste better.

Product

The Original Fizzics Beer System (pictured below) is compatible with cans and bottles of all sizes and can accommodate up to a 64-ounce growler.

The newer Fizzics Waytap is a modern and compact design that takes up less counter/bar space and is more portable than the Original Fizzics. Waytap fits up to a 25-ounce can or a 12-ounce bottle and comes in three colors: Black, White, and Slate Grey. The Original Fizzics Beer System retails for $169.99 and the Fizzics Waytap retails for $129.99 on Fizzics' website. Fizzics also sells ancillary items, including a carry case ($35), beer glasses (set of 6 for $25), a branded growler ($25) and a aluminum tap handle ($25).

The Fizzics Micro-Foam Technology leverages fluid dynamics and sound. Users place a can or bottle of beer into the system and pull the handle forward to “tap” the beer at a controlled rate to maintain the carbonation within the body of the beer. Users then push the handle backwards to begin the “sonication process” which applies sound waves to control the process of converting the beer’s natural carbonation into an ideal Micro-Foam. This Micro-Foam is comprised of uniformly sized bubbles with the perfect density that delivers enhanced aroma, flavor, and mouth-feel.

Fizzics controls pressure flow and utilizes sound to create a rich, creamy foam (head) that enhances the appearance, aroma, flavor, and a smooth bodied mouth-feel. Beer in a can, bottle, or barrel contains a lot of dissolved carbon dioxide under pressure. When beer is poured, the pressure is released and the carbon dioxide wants to escape. Fizzics assists in bubble retention to create ideal density foam, which allows the release of esters, a flavor compound naturally created in fermentation. Esters are fruity, flowery, or spicy and assist the nose in detecting different flavors. Fizzics encourages foam and carbonation to create the ideal mouth-feel. Fizzics allows consumers to choose their favorite level of foam head for each beer by adjusting the length of the pour when pulling the tap handle.

Fizzics creates ideal bubble formation by pressurizing the Fizzics canister and pouring the beer at a controlled rate. To counteract nucleation (the formation of large bubbles that dissipate quickly), Fizzics uses high-frequency sound waves and oscillation technology to diffuse gas and promote coagulation of malted proteins at the gas-liquid interface. Randomly packed bubbles of non-uniform shapes occupy more space and are thus less dense and frothy. Creaminess is achieved from gas-liquid formation where small bubbles are pressed against one another in a dense honeycomb-type structure (pictured on the right below).

The system is compatible with all standard-size cans and bottles and can be used to enhance the flavor of all beer styles of carbonated beer, including IPAs, Hefeweizens, Pilsners, Brown Ales, Lagers, Stouts, Porters, etc.

The system is powered by four standard AA batteries. Unlike other beer dispensers, there are no carbon dioxide cartridges, replacement parts, or ongoing consumable refills needed to operate the system. The system is easy to clean. The antimicrobial drip mat and system canister separate for easing rinsing and washing with a glass of warm water.

The Company owns or possesses sufficient legal rights to all Intellectual Property (as defined below) that is necessary to the conduct of the Company's business as now conducted and as presently proposed to be conducted (the "Company Intellectual Property") without any violation or infringement (or in the case of third-party patents, patent applications, trademarks, trademark applications, service marks, or service mark applications, without any violation or infringement known to the Company) of the rights of others. No product or service marketed or sold (or proposed to be marketed or sold) by the Company violates or will violate any license or infringes or will infringe any rights to any patents, patent applications, trademarks, trademark applications, service marks, trade names, copyrights, trade secrets, licenses, domain names, mask works, information and proprietary rights and processes (collectively, "Intellectual Property") of any other party, except that with respect to third-party patents, patent applications, trademarks, trademark applications, service marks, or service mark applications the foregoing representation is made to the Company's knowledge only. Other than with respect to commercially available software products under standard end-user object code license agreements, there is no outstanding option, license, agreement, claim, encumbrance or shared ownership interest of any kind relating to the Company Intellectual Property, nor is the Company bound by or a party to any options, licenses or agreements of any kind with respect to the Intellectual Property of any other person. The Company has not received any written communications alleging that the Company has violated or, by conducting its business, would violate any of the Intellectual Property of any other person.

2.8 Employee and Consultant Matters. Each current and former employee, consultant and officer of the Company has executed an agreement with the Company regarding confidentiality and proprietary information substantially in the form or forms made available to the Purchasers or delivered to the counsel for the Purchasers. No current or former employee or consultant has excluded any work or invention from his or her assignment of inventions. To the Company's knowledge, no such employees or consultants is in violation thereof. To the Company's knowledge, none of its employees is obligated under any judgment, decree, contract, covenant or agreement that would materially interfere with such employee's ability to promote the interest of the Company or that would interfere with such employee's ability to promote the interests of the Company or that would conflict with the Company's business. To the Company's knowledge, all individuals who have purchased unvested shares of the Company's Common Stock have timely filed elections under Section 83(b) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended.

2.9 Compliance with Other Instruments. The Company is not in violation or default (a) of any provisions of the Restated Charter or the Company's bylaws, (b) of any judgment, order, writ or decree of any court or governmental entity, (c) under any agreement, instrument, contract, lease, note, indenture, mortgage or purchase order to which it is a party that is required to be listed on the Disclosure Schedule, or, (d) to its knowledge, of any provision of federal or state statute, rule or regulation materially applicable to the Company. The execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement and the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement will not result in any such violation or default, or constitute, with or without the passage of time and giving of notice, either (i) a default under any such judgment, order, writ, decree, agreement, instrument, contract, lease, note, indenture, mortgage or purchase order or (ii) an event which results in the creation of any lien, charge or encumbrance upon any assets of the Company or the suspension, revocation, forfeiture, or nonrenewal of any material permit or license applicable to the Company.

2.10 Title to Property and Assets. The Company owns its properties and assets free and clear of all mortgages, deeds of trust, liens, encumbrances and security interests except for statutory liens for the payment of current taxes that are not yet delinquent and liens, encumbrances and security interests which arise in the ordinary course of business and which do not affect material properties and assets of the Company. With respect to the property and assets it leases, the Company is in material compliance with each such lease.

2.11 Agreements. Except for this Agreement, there are no agreements, understandings, instruments, contracts or proposed transactions to which the Company is a party that involve (a) obligations (contingent or otherwise) of, or payments to, the Company in excess of $50,000, (b) the license of any Intellectual Property to or from the Company other than licenses with respect to commercially available software products under standard end-user object code license agreements or standard customer terms of service and privacy policies for Internet sites, (c) the grant of rights to manufacture, produce, assemble, license, market, or sell its products to any other person, or that limit the Company's exclusive right to develop, manufacture, assemble, distribute, market or sell its products, or (d) indemnification by the Company with respect to infringements of proprietary rights other than standard customer or channel agreements (each, a "Material Agreement"). The Company is not in material breach of any Material Agreement. Each Material Agreement is in full force and effect and is enforceable by the Company in accordance with its respective terms, except as may be limited by (i) applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization or others laws of general application relating to or affecting the enforcement of creditors' rights generally, or (ii) the effect of rules of law governing the availability of equitable remedies.

2.12 Liabilities. The Company has no liabilities or obligations, contingent or otherwise, in excess of $25,000 individually or $100,000 in the aggregate.

3. REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES AND COVENANTS OF THE PURCHASERS. Each Purchaser hereby represents and warrants to the Company, severally and not jointly, as follows.

3.1 Authorization. The Purchaser has full power and authority to enter into this Agreement. This Agreement, when executed and delivered by the Purchaser, will constitute a valid and legally binding obligation of the Purchaser, enforceable in accordance with their terms, except (a) as limited by applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance, and any other laws of general application relating to or affecting the enforcement of creditors' rights generally, or (b) the effect of rules of law governing the availability of equitable remedies.

3.2 Purchase Entirely for Own Account. This Agreement is made with the Purchaser in reliance upon the Purchaser's representation to the Company, which by the Purchaser's execution of this Agreement, the Purchaser hereby confirms, that the shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock to be acquired by the Purchaser will be acquired for investment for the Purchaser's own account, not as a nominee or agent, and not with a view to the resale or distribution of any part thereof, and that the Purchaser has no present intention of selling, granting any participation in, or otherwise distributing the same. By executing this Agreement, the Purchaser further represents that the Purchaser does not presently have any contract, undertaking, agreement or arrangement with any person to sell, transfer or grant participations to such person or to any third person, with respect to any of the shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock. The Purchaser has not been formed for the specific purpose of acquiring the shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock.

3.3 Disclosure of Information. The Purchaser has had an opportunity to discuss the Company's business, management, financial affairs and the terms and conditions of the offering of the shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock with the Company's management. Nothing in this Section 3, including the foregoing sentence, limits or modifies the representations and warranties of the Company in Section 2 of this Agreement or the right of the Purchasers to rely thereon.

3.4 Restricted Securities. The Purchaser understands that the shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock have not been, and will not be, registered under the Securities Act, by reason of a specific exemption from the registration provisions of the Securities Act which depends upon, among other things, the bona fide nature of the investment intent and the accuracy of the Purchaser's representations as expressed herein. The Purchaser understands that the shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock are "restricted securities" under applicable United States federal and state securities laws and that, pursuant to these laws, the Purchaser must hold the shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock indefinitely unless they are registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission and qualified by state authorities or an exemption from such registration and qualification requirements is available. The Purchaser acknowledges that the Company has no obligation to register or qualify the shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock, or the Common Stock into which it may be converted, for resale. The Purchaser further acknowledges that if an exemption from registration or qualification is available, it may be conditioned on various requirements including, but not limited to, the time and manner of sale, the holding period for the shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock, and on requirements relating to the Company which are outside of the Purchaser's control, and which the Company is under no obligation and may not be able to satisfy.

3.5 No Public Market. The Purchaser understands that no public market now exists for the shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock, and that the Company has made no assurances that a public market will ever exist for the shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock.

3.6 Legends. The Purchaser understands that the shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock and any securities issued in respect of or exchange for the shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock, may bear any one or more of the following legends: (a) any legend set forth in, or required by, this Agreement; (b) any legend required by the securities laws of any state to the extent such laws are applicable to the shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock represented by the certificate so legended; and (c) the following legend:

"THE SHARES REPRESENTED BY THIS CERTIFICATE HAVE NOT BEEN REGISTERED UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT OF 1933, AS AMENDED, AND HAVE BEEN ACQUIRED FOR INVESTMENT AND NOT WITH A VIEW TO, OR IN CONNECTION WITH, THE SALE OR DISTRIBUTION THEREOF. NO TRANSFER MAY BE EFFECTED WITHOUT AN EFFECTIVE REGISTRATION STATEMENT RELATED THERETO OR AN OPINION OF COUNSEL IN A FORM REASONABLY SATISFACTORY TO THE COMPANY THAT SUCH REGISTRATION IS NOT REQUIRED UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT OF 1933, AS AMENDED.”

3.7 Accredited and Sophisticated Purchaser. The Purchaser is an accredited investor as defined in Rule 501(a) of Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act. The Purchaser is an investor in securities of companies in the development stage and acknowledges that Purchaser is able to fend for itself, can bear the economic risk of its investment, and has such knowledge and experience in financial or business matters that it is capable of evaluating the merits and risks of the investment in the shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock. If other than an individual, Purchaser also represents it has not been organized for the purpose of acquiring the shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock.

3.8 No General Solicitation. Neither the Purchaser nor any of its officers, directors, employees, agents, stockholders or partners has either directly or indirectly, including through a broker or finder (a) engaged in any general solicitation with respect to the offer and sale of the shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock, or (b) published any advertisement in connection with the offer and sale of the shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock.

3.9 Exculpation Among Purchasers. The Purchaser acknowledges that it is not relying upon any person, other than the Company and its officers and directors, in making its investment or decision to invest in the Company. The Purchaser agrees that neither any Purchaser nor the respective controlling persons, officers, directors, partners, agents, or employees of any Purchaser shall be liable to any other Purchaser for any action heretofore taken or omitted to be taken by any of them in connection with the purchase of the shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock.

3.10 Residence. If the Purchaser is an individual, then the Purchaser resides in the state identified in the address of the Purchaser set forth on the signature page hereto and/or on Schedule 1; if the Purchaser is a partnership, corporation, limited liability company or other entity, then the office or offices of the Purchaser in which its principal place of business is identified in the address or addresses of the Purchaser set forth on the signature page hereto and/or on Schedule 1. In the event that the Purchaser is not a resident of the United States, such Purchaser hereby agrees to make such additional representations and warranties relating to such Purchaser’s status as a non-United States resident as reasonably may be requested by the Company and to execute and deliver such documents or agreements as reasonably may be requested by the Company relating thereto as a condition to the purchase and sale of any shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock by such Purchaser.

4. COVENANTS OF THE COMPANY.

4.1 Information Rights.

4.1.1 Basic Financial Information. The Company shall furnish to each Purchaser holding that number of shares equal to or in excess of the quotient determined by dividing (x) the Major Purchaser Dollar Threshold by (y) the Purchase Price, rounded up to the next whole share (a “Major Purchaser”) and any entity that requires such information pursuant to its organizational documents when available (1) annual unaudited financial statements for each fiscal year of the Company, including an unaudited balance sheet as of the end of such fiscal year, an unaudited income statement, and an unaudited statement of cash flows, all prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and practices; and (2) quarterly unaudited financial statements for each fiscal quarter of the Company (except the last quarter of the Company’s fiscal year), including an unaudited balance sheet as of the end of such fiscal quarter, an unaudited income statement, and an unaudited statement of cash flows, all prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and practices, subject to changes resulting from normal year-end audit adjustments. If the Company has audited records of any of the foregoing, it shall provide those in lieu of the unaudited versions.

4.1.2 Confidentiality. Anything in this Agreement to the contrary notwithstanding, no Purchaser by reason of this Agreement shall have access to any trade secrets or confidential information of the Company. The Company shall not be required to comply with any information rights of any Purchaser whom the Company reasonably determines to be a competitor or an officer, employee, director, or holder of ten percent (10%) or more of a competitor. Each Purchaser shall keep confidential and shall not disclose, divulge, or use for any purpose (other than to monitor its investment in the Company) any confidential information obtained from the Company pursuant to the terms of this Agreement other than to any of the Purchaser's attorneys, accountants, consultants, and other professionals, to the extent necessary to obtain their services in connection with monitoring the Purchaser's investment in the Company.

4.1.3 Inspection Rights. The Company shall permit each Major Purchaser to visit and inspect the Company's properties, to examine its books of account and records and to discuss the Company's affairs, finances and accounts with its officers, all at such reasonable times as may be requested by such Major Purchaser.

4.2 Additional Rights and Obligations. If the Company issues securities in its next equity financing after the date hereof (the "Next Financing") that (a) have rights, preferences or privileges that are more favorable than the terms of the shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock, such as price-based anti-dilution protection, or (b) provide all such future investors other contractual terms such as registration rights, the Company shall provide substantially equivalent rights to the Purchasers with respect to the shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock (with appropriate adjustment for economic terms or other contractual rights), subject to such Purchaser's execution of any documents, including, if applicable, investor rights, co-sale, voting, and other agreements, executed by the investors purchasing securities in the Next Financing (such documents, the "Next Financing Documents"). Any Major Purchaser will remain a Major Purchaser for all purposes in the Next Financing Documents to the extent such concept exists. The Company shall pay the reasonable fees and expenses, not to exceed $5,000 in the aggregate, of one counsel for the Purchasers in connection with the Purchasers' review, execution, and delivery of the Next Financing Documents. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, subject to the provisions of Section 8.11, upon the execution and delivery of the Next Financing Documents by Purchasers holding a majority of the then-outstanding shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock held by all Purchasers, this Agreement (excluding any then-existing and outstanding obligations) shall be amended and restated by and into such Next Financing Documents and shall be terminated and of no further force or effect.

4.3 Assignment of Company's Preemptive Rights. The Company shall obtain at or prior to the Initial Closing, and shall maintain, a right of first refusal with respect to transfers of shares of Common Stock by each holder thereof, subject to certain standard exceptions. If the Company elects not to exercise its right of first refusal with respect to a proposed transfer of the Company's outstanding securities by any Key Holder, the Company shall assign such right of first refusal to the Major Purchasers. In the event of such assignment, each Major Purchaser shall have a right to purchase that portion of the securities proposed to be transferred by such Key Holder equal to the ratio of (a) the number of shares of the Company's Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of the shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock owned by such Major Purchaser, to (b) the number of shares of the Company's Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of the shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock owned by all Major Purchasers.

4.4 Reservation of Common Stock. The Company shall at all times reserve and keep available, solely for issuance and delivery upon the conversion of the Series Seed Preferred Stock, all Common Stock issuable from time to time upon conversion of that number of shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock equal to the Total Shares Authorized for Sale, regardless of whether or not all such shares have been issued at such time.

5. RESTRICTIONS ON TRANSFER; DRAG ALONG.

5.1 Limitations on Disposition. Each person owning of record shares of Common Stock of the Company issued or issuable pursuant to the conversion of the shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock and any shares of Common Stock of the Company issued as a dividend or other distribution with respect thereto or in exchange therefor or in replacement thereof (collectively, the “Securities”) or any assignee of record of Securities (each such person, a “Holder”) shall not make any disposition of all or any portion of any Securities unless:

(a) there is then in effect a registration statement under the Securities Act, covering such proposed disposition and such disposition is made in accordance with such registration statement; or

(b) such Holder has notified the Company of the proposed disposition and has furnished the Company with a statement of the circumstances surrounding the proposed disposition, and, at the expense of such Holder or its transferee, with an opinion of counsel, reasonably satisfactory to the Company, that such disposition will not require registration of such securities under the Securities Act.

Notwithstanding the provisions of Sections 5.1(a) and (b), no such registration statement or opinion of counsel will be required: (i) for any transfer of any Securities in compliance with the Securities and Exchange Commission’s Rule 144 or Rule 144A, or (ii) for any transfer of any Securities by a Holder that is a partnership, limited liability company, a corporation, or a venture capital fund to (A) a partner of such partnership, a member of such limited liability company, or stockholder of such corporation, (B) an affiliate of such partnership, limited liability company or corporation (including, any affiliated investment fund of such Holder), (C) a retired partner of such partnership or a retired member of such limited liability company, (D) the estate of any such partner, member, or stockholder, or (iii) for the transfer without additional consideration or at no greater than cost by gift, will, or intestate succession by any Holder to the Holder’s spouse or lineal descendants or ancestors or any trust for any of the foregoing; provided that, in the case of clauses (ii) and (iii), the transferee agrees in writing to be subject to the terms of this Agreement to the same extent as if the transferee were an original Purchaser under this Agreement.

5.2 “Market Stand-Off” Agreement. To the extent requested by the Company or an underwriter of securities of the Company, each Holder shall not sell or otherwise transfer or dispose of any Securities or other shares of stock of the Company then owned by such Holder (other than to donees or partners of the Holder who agree to be similarly bound) for up to 180 days following the effective date of any registration statement of the Company filed under the Securities Act; provided however that, if during the last 17 days of the restricted period the Company issues an earnings release or material news or a material event relating to the Company occurs, or before the expiration of the restricted period the Company announces that it will release earnings results during the 16-day period beginning on the last day of the restricted period, and if the Company’s securities are listed on the Nasdaq Stock Market and Rule 2711 thereof applies, then the restrictions imposed by this Section 5.2 will continue to apply until the expiration of the 18-day period beginning on the issuance of the earnings release or the occurrence of the material news or material event; provided, further, that such automatic extension will not apply to the extent that the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority has amended or repealed NASD Rule 2711(f)(4), or has otherwise provided written interpretive guidance regarding such rule, in each case, so as to eliminate the prohibition of any broker, dealer, or member of a national securities association from publishing or distributing any research report, with respect to the securities of an “emerging growth company” (as defined in the Jumpstart Our Business Startups Act of 2012) before or after the expiration of any agreement between the broker, dealer, or member of a national securities association and the emerging growth company or its stockholders that restricts or prohibits the sale of securities held by the emerging growth company or its stockholders after the initial public offering date. In no event will the restricted period extend beyond 215 days after the effective date of the registration statement. For purposes of this Section 5.2, “Company” includes any wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company into which the Company merges or consolidates. The Company may place restrictive legends on the certificates representing the shares subject to this Section 5.2 and may impose stop transfer instructions with respect to the Securities and such other shares of stock of each Holder (and the shares or securities of every other person subject to the foregoing restriction) until the end of such period. Each Holder shall enter into any agreement reasonably required by the underwriters to implement the foregoing within any reasonable timeframe so requested.

5.3 Drag Along Right. If a Deemed Liquidation Event (as defined in the Restated Charter) is approved by each of (i) the holders of a majority of the shares of Common Stock then-outstanding (other than those issued or issuable upon conversion of the shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock), (ii) the holders of a majority of the shares of Common Stock then issued or issuable upon conversion of the shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock then-outstanding and (iii) the Board, then each Stockholder shall vote (in person, by proxy or by action by written consent, as applicable) all shares of capital stock of the Company now or hereafter directly or indirectly owned of record or beneficially by such Stockholder (collectively, the “Shares”) in favor of, and adopt, such Deemed Liquidation Event and to execute and deliver all related documentation and take such other action in support of the Deemed Liquidation Event as may reasonably be requested by the Company to carry out the terms and provision of this Section 5.3, including executing and delivering instruments of conveyance and transfer, and any purchase agreement, merger agreement, indemnity agreement, escrow agreement, consent, waiver, governmental filing, share certificates duly endorsed for transfer (free and clear of impermissible liens, claims and encumbrances) and any similar or related documents. The obligation of any party to take the actions required by this Section 5.3 will not apply to a Deemed Liquidation Event if the other party involved in such Deemed Liquidation Event is an affiliate or stockholder of the Company holding more than 10% of the voting power of the Company. “Stockholder” means each Holder and Key Holder, and any transferee thereof.

5.4 Exceptions to Drag Along Right. Notwithstanding the foregoing, a Stockholder need not comply with Section 5.3 above in connection with any proposed Sale of the Company (the “Proposed Sale”) unless:

- (a) any representations and warranties to be made by the Stockholder in connection with the Proposed Sale are limited to representations and warranties related to authority, ownership and the ability to convey title to such Shares, including representations and warranties that (i) the Stockholder holds all right, title and interest in and to the Shares the Stockholder purports to hold, free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, (ii) the obligations of the Stockholder in connection with the transaction have been duly authorized, if applicable, (iii) the documents to be entered into by the Stockholder have been duly executed by the Stockholder and delivered to the acquirer and are enforceable against the Stockholder in accordance with their respective terms and, (iv) neither the execution and delivery of documents to be entered into in connection with the transaction, nor the performance of the Stockholder’s obligations thereunder, will cause a breach or violation of the terms of any agreement, law, or judgment, order, or decree of any court or governmental agency;

(b) the Stockholder will not be liable for the inaccuracy of any representation or warranty made by any other Person in connection with the Proposed Sale, other than the Company (except to the extent that funds may be paid out of an escrow established to cover breach of representations, warranties, and covenants of the Company as well as breach by any stockholder of any identical representations, warranties and covenants provided by all stockholders);

(c) the liability for indemnification, if any, of the Stockholder in the Proposed Sale and for the inaccuracy of any representations and warranties made by the Company or its Stockholders in connection with such Proposed Sale, is several and not joint with any other Person (except to the extent that funds may be paid out of an escrow established to cover breach of representations, warranties and covenants of the Company as well as breach by any stockholder of any identical representations, warranties, and covenants provided by all stockholders), and except as required to satisfy the liquidation preference of the Series Seed Preferred Stock, if any, is pro rata in proportion to, and does not exceed, the amount of consideration paid to such Stockholder in connection with such Proposed Sale;

(d) liability will be limited to the Stockholder's applicable share (determined based on the respective proceeds payable to each Stockholder in connection with the Proposed Sale in accordance with the provisions of the Restated Charter) of a negotiated aggregate indemnification amount that applies equally to all Stockholders but that in no event exceeds the amount of consideration otherwise payable to the Stockholder in connection with the Proposed Sale, except with respect to claims related to fraud by the Stockholder, the liability for which need not be limited as to the Stockholder;

(e) upon the consummation of the Proposed Sale, (i) each holder of each class or series of the Company's stock will receive the same form of consideration for their shares of such class or series as is received by other holders in respect of their shares of such same class or series of stock unless the holders of at least a majority of Series Seed Preferred Stock elect otherwise, (ii) each holder of a series of Series Seed Preferred Stock will receive the same amount of consideration per share of such series of Series Seed Preferred Stock as is received by other holders in respect of their shares of such same series, (iii) each holder of Common Stock will receive the same amount of consideration per share of Common Stock as is received by other holders in respect of their shares of Common Stock, and (iv) unless the holders of at least a majority of the Series Seed Preferred Stock elect to receive a lesser amount, the aggregate consideration receivable by all holders of the Preferred Stock and Common Stock shall be allocated among the holders of Preferred Stock and Common Stock on the basis of the relative liquidation preferences to which the holders of each respective series of Preferred Stock and the holders of Common Stock are entitled in a Deemed Liquidation Event (assuming for this purpose that the Proposed Sale is a Deemed Liquidation Event) in accordance with the Company's Restated Charter in effect immediately prior to the Proposed Sale.

6. PARTICIPATION RIGHT.

6.1 General. Each Major Purchaser has the right of first refusal to purchase the Major Purchaser's Pro Rata Share of any New Securities (as defined below) that the Company may from time to time issue after the date of this Agreement, provided, however, the Major Purchaser will have no right to purchase any such New Securities if the Major Purchaser cannot demonstrate to the Company's reasonable satisfaction that such Major Purchaser is at the time of the proposed issuance of such New Securities an "accredited investor" as such term is defined in Regulation D under the Securities Act. A Major Purchaser's "Pro Rata Share" for means the ratio of (a) the number of shares of the Company's Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of the shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock owned by such Major Purchaser, to (b) the Fully-Diluted Share Number.

6.2 New Securities. "New Securities" means any Common Stock or Preferred Stock, whether now authorized or not, and rights, options or warrants to purchase Common Stock or Preferred Stock, and securities of any type whatsoever that are, or may become, convertible or exchangeable into Common Stock or Preferred Stock; provided, however, that "New Securities" does not include: (a) shares of Common Stock issued or issuable upon conversion of any outstanding shares of Preferred Stock; (b) shares of Common Stock or Preferred Stock issuable upon exercise of any options, warrants, or rights to purchase any securities of the Company outstanding as of the Agreement Date and any securities issuable upon the conversion thereof; (c) shares of Common Stock or Preferred Stock issued in connection with any stock split or stock dividend or recapitalization; (d) shares of Common Stock (or options, warrants or rights therefor) granted or issued after the Agreement Date to employees, officers, directors, contractors, consultants or advisers to, the Company or any subsidiary of the Company pursuant to incentive agreements, stock purchase or stock option plans, stock bonuses or awards, warrants, contracts or other arrangements that are approved by the Board; (e) shares of the Company's Series Seed Preferred Stock issued pursuant to this Agreement; (f) any other shares of Common Stock or Preferred Stock (and/or options or warrants therefor) issued or issuable primarily for other than equity financing purposes and approved by the Board; and (g) shares of Common Stock issued or issuable by the Company to the public pursuant to a registration statement filed under the Securities Act.

6.3 Procedures. If the Company proposes to undertake an issuance of New Securities, it shall give notice to each Major Purchaser of its intention to issue New Securities (the "Notice"), describing the type of New Securities and the price and the general terms upon which the Company proposes to issue the New Securities. Each Major Purchaser will have (10) days from the date of notice, to agree in writing to purchase such Major Purchaser's Pro Rata Share of such New Securities for the price and upon the general terms specified in the Notice by giving written notice to the Company and stating therein the quantity of New Securities to be purchased (not to exceed such Major Purchaser's Pro Rata Share).

6.4 Failure to Exercise. If the Major Purchasers fail to exercise in full the right of first refusal within the 10-day period, then the Company will have one hundred twenty (120) days thereafter to sell the New Securities with respect to which the Major Purchasers' rights of first refusal hereunder were not exercised, at a price and upon general terms not materially more favorable to the purchasers thereof than specified in the Company's Notice to the Major Purchasers. If the Company has not issued and sold the New Securities within the 120-day period, then the Company shall not thereafter issue or sell any New Securities without again first offering those New Securities to the Major Purchasers pursuant to this Section 6.

7. ELECTION OF BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

7.1 Voting; Board Composition. Subject to the rights of the stockholders to remove a director for cause in accordance with applicable law, during the term of this Agreement, each Stockholder shall vote (or consent pursuant to an action by written consent of the stockholders) all shares of capital stock of the Company now or hereafter directly or indirectly owned of record or beneficially by the Stockholder (the "Voting Shares"), or to cause the Voting Shares to be voted, in such manner as may be necessary to elect (and maintain in office) as the members of the Board:

(a) that number of individuals, if any, equal to the Common Board Member Count (collectively, the “Common Board Designees”) designated from time to time in a writing delivered to the Company and signed by Common Control Holders who then hold shares of issued and outstanding Common Stock of the Company representing a majority of the voting power of all issued and outstanding shares of Common Stock then held by all Common Control Holders;

(b) that number of individuals, if any, equal to the Series Seed Board Member Count (collectively, the “Series Seed Board Designees”) designated from time to time in a writing delivered to the Company and signed by Purchasers who then hold a majority of the then-outstanding shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock issued pursuant to this Agreement;

(c) that number of individuals, if any, equal to the Mutual Consent Board Member Count (collectively, the “Mutual Consent Board Designees” and, together with any Common Board Designee and any Seed Board Designee, each a “Board Designee”) designated from time to time in a writing delivered to the Company and signed by (a) Purchasers who then hold a majority of the then-outstanding shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock issued pursuant to this Agreement and (b) Common Control Holders who then hold shares of issued and outstanding Common Stock of the Company representing a majority of the voting power of all issued and outstanding shares of Common Stock of the Company then held by all Common Control Holders.

Subject to the rights of the stockholders of the Company to remove a director for cause in accordance with applicable law, during the term of this Agreement, a Stockholder shall not take any action to remove an incumbent Board Designee or to designate a new Board Designee unless such removal or designation of a Board Designee is approved in a writing signed by the parties entitled to designate the Board Designee. Each Stockholder hereby appoints, and shall appoint, the then-current Chief Executive Officer of the Company, as the Stockholder’s true and lawful proxy and attorney, with the power to act alone and with full power of substitution, to vote all shares of the Company’s capital stock held by the Stockholder as set forth in this Agreement and to execute all appropriate instruments consistent with this Agreement on behalf of the Stockholder if, and only if, the Stockholder (a) fails to vote or (b) attempts to vote (whether by proxy, in person or by written consent), in a manner which is inconsistent with the terms of this Agreement, all of the Stockholder’s Voting Shares or execute such other instruments in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement within five days of the Company’s or any other party’s written request for the Stockholder’s written consent or signature. The proxy and power granted by each Stockholder pursuant to this Section are coupled with an interest and are given to secure the performance of the Stockholder’s duties under this Agreement. Each such proxy and power will be irrevocable for the term of this Agreement. The proxy and power, so long as any Stockholder is an individual, will survive the death, incompetency and disability of such Stockholder and, so long as any Stockholder is an entity, will survive the merger or reorganization of the Stockholder or any other entity holding Voting Shares.

8. GENERAL PROVISIONS.

8.1 Successors and Assigns. The terms and conditions of this Agreement shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the respective successors and assigns of the parties. Nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to confer upon any party other than the parties to this Agreement or their respective successors and assigns any rights, remedies, obligations, or liabilities under or by reason of this Agreement, except as expressly provided in this Agreement. No Stockholder may transfer Shares unless each transferee agrees to be bound by the terms of this Agreement.

8.2 Governing Law. This Agreement is governed by the Governing Law, regardless of the laws that might otherwise govern under applicable principles of choice of law.

8.3 Counterparts; Facsimile or Electronic Signature. This Agreement may be executed and delivered by facsimile or electronic signature and in two or more counterparts, each of which will be deemed an original, but all of which together will constitute one and the same instrument.

All communications must be sent to the respective parties at their address as set forth on the signature page or Schedule 1, or to such address, facsimile number or electronic mail address as subsequently modified by written notice given in accordance with this Section 8.5.

8.6 No Finder's Fees. Each party severally represents to the other parties that it neither is nor will be obligated for any finder's fee or commission in connection with this transaction. Each Purchaser shall indemnify, defend, and hold harmless the Company from any liability for any commission or compensation in the nature of a finder's or broker's fee arising out of this transaction (and the costs and expenses of defending against such liability or asserted liability) for which the Purchaser or any of its officers, employees, or representatives is responsible. The Company shall indemnify, defend, and hold harmless each Purchaser from any liability for any commission or compensation in the nature of a finder's or broker's fee arising out of this transaction (and the costs and expenses of defending against such liability or asserted liability) for which the Company or any of its officers, employees or representatives is responsible.

Fizzics Shark Tank Video Transcript

Phil Crowley (narrator)

First into the tank is an innovative new technology to enhance the flavor of a favorite beverage.

Phil Petracca

Hi sharks, I'm Philip Petracca.

David McDonald

And I'm David McDonald and we're the founders of Fizzics from Newark, New Jersey. We're seeking a $500,000 investment for 4% equity in our company.

Robert Herjavec

Wow.

Phil Petracca

Fizzics is changing the way people are drinking beer at home and on the go. Beers pretty awesome, and we all know that beer taste best fresh from the tap.

David McDonald

After all, that's how the brewers intended their beers to taste.

Phil Petracca

But in order to reach the masses, beer is sold in cans and bottles worldwide. And unfortunately for us beer lovers, it just doesn't taste as good as it does fresh from the tap. But drab beer is a thing of a past with Fizzics, the world's first and only portable draft beer system that delivers an awesome-

David McDonald

better than tap

Phil Petracca

-experience from any can or bottle. Simply place any size can or any size bottle-

Mark Cuban

Oh you can put a can in there?

Phil Petracca

-even up to a sixty-four growler into the system and insert the feed tube. Pull the tab handle forward and the system will begin to pour the beer under pressure at a controlled rate-

David McDonald

With no gas, no chemicals, and no replaceable cartridges.

Phil Petracca

-and then when you push the handle the backward position, behold, the magic of science. Utilizing sound waves, we perfect the density, stability, and texture of the foam, enhancing the aroma flavor of an authentic draft beer.

All

Wow. Whoa [laughter]

Phil Petracca

Who's ready to enjoy the great taste of a Fizzics beer?

Mark Cuban

Bring it

David McDonald

Because after all-

Phil Petracca and David McDonald

-tasting is believing. Cheers!

Robert Herjavec

Let's try it!

Mark Cuban

Bring it

David McDonald

So we've selected some beers for you. We will be serving a hand pour and a Fizzics pour so you can side by side comparison and taste the difference.

Lori Greiner

Interesting

David McDonald

For you, we have a classic American lager.

Robert Herjavec

This is the regular one?

David McDonald

This is the regular one, and then the one with the head on it is the Fizzics one.

Robert Herjavec
Got it.

Mark Cuban
Bring us a whole lot of them

All
[laughter]

Robert Herjavec
Try the little one. Alright, so I tried the normal one

Mark Cuban
Yo sharkies, to go in six deep.

Sharks
Cheers

Robert Herjavec
Wow! That was really good

Barbara Corcoran
That was like a dessert. Delicious

Phil Petracca
Raspberry

Mark Cuban
Oh, definitely smoother. Definitely better-

Barbara Corcoran
Like night and day

Mark Cuban
Oh, that's a good beer.

Daymond John
Wow

Lori Greiner
Oh that is good.

Robert Herjavec

Isn't that good?

Lori Greiner

Yeah

Robert Herjavec

And that's from a can

Lori Greiner

This is good

Robert Herjavec

That's from a can. The foam is really good.

Philip Petracca

The foam is the most critical element of the beer drinking experience.

Daymond John

Can I get a show of hands, sharks, who feels that the Fizzics is better than the other one?

Kevin O'Leary

I would say this definitely advances the flavor

Barbara Corcoran

Night and Day-

Robert Herjavec

-Oh, much better flavor

Barbara Corcoran

night and day, they're like two different beers

Philip Petracca

We always say, "tasting is believing"

Kevin O'Leary

Believe me, I was very skeptical when I saw this-

Robert Herjavec

-yeah, me too.

Kevin O'Leary

So you have achieved something. Now, I'm look at the valuation and I say, "are you guys out of your freaking minds?"

Philip Petracca

Well Kevin, we just started shipping products eight months ago-

Sharks

[groan]

Philip Petracca

-and we have done 3.2 million dollars in sales

Barbara Corcoran

Good for you, wow

Daymond John

Ok

Kevin O'Leary

Not bad, not bad

Lori Greiner

You just started shipping, how much does that cost?

Philip Petracca

This retails for a $199-

Lori Greiner

And what does it cost you to make?

David McDonald

35.88

Robert Herjavec

Oh wow, good for you.

Lori Greiner

Really?

Philip Petracca

So we launched a crowd-sourcing campaign-

Mark Cuban

Which one? Which platform?

Philip Petracca

-Indiegogo. Our initial goal was 50,000; we did about a quarter million dollars in our campaign-

Lori Greiner

Wow.

Philip Petracca

-David and I quit our jobs the next day, and we have been running ever since.

Robert Herjavec

Tell us exactly how- how it works. What's the technology in there?

Philip Petracca

Sure, David and I are technologists. We have commercialized technologized our whole careers, and what we found is the head of the beer is the most critical element of the beer drinking experience. And what we discovered is if we're able to get the density-tightly densely packed uniform bubbles, we can trick the brain to say, "this is smooth this is creamy". So we utilized sound waves, David and I have developed an oscillating sound pressure wave generator.

Robert Herjavec

Sound waves?

Lori Greiner

Do you have a patent?

David McDonald

We have applied for two utility patents and one international utility patent.

Robert Herjavec

Your current value that you're asking right now is 12.5 million.

Philip Petracca

Correct-

Lori Greiner

Wow

Philip Petracca

-And we came in with a very conservative valuation because we're here to get a deal

Mark Cuban

Very conservative

Philip Petracca

We're here to get a deal. Yes- It's 1.3 multiple of this year's revenue.

Robert Herjavec

How are you going to do 3 million this year?

Philip Petracca

No, We've already done 3.2 million; this year we are going to do 9 millions, so we're already cash flow positive. We just turned a profit $220,000.

Robert Herjavec

I've heard enough. You're asking for 500,000 for 4%. I think you're here to negotiate. I'll give you the 500,000 for 8%.

Philip Petracca

Robert, thank you so much for your offer. We believe its way below market; this is part of our Series A round. Have a-

Kevin O'Leary

What's a series A round struck at?

Philip Petracca

-2 million dollars. We already have a lead institutional investor

Daymond John

So then why are you here?

Philip Petracca

There is a wise man with great business acumen that once said-

Kevin O'Leary

Yes, I'm here

Philip Petracca

-"There are many VCs, but there's only one shark tank".

Robert Herjavec

Well, that's why I made you the offer at 8%. You're making my case.

Lori Greiner

Are you saying that you're not valuing the shark?

Kevin O'Leary

Let me raise the ante, let me raise the ante. I don't disagree with Robert; the value of a shark is huge, but there are sharks and then there's Mr. Wonderful because-

Robert Herjavec
Who's really not a shark

Lori Greiner
Who is a guppy

Kevin O'Leary
-because this falls right into my... right into my wine and food business in a huge way. I already have all your customers; I got hundreds of thousands of people who would buy it direct from me. They will trust me as they do in the wine business. Nobody sells wine like I do. So I will give you the same offer: $500,000 for 8%. I like this deal a lot; I can move a lot of units. A lot.

Mark Cuban
What are your biggest challenges?

Philip Petracca
This is the challenge, Mark. The great thing about our company is we're creating a category. The challenge with our company is we're creating a category

Mark Cuban
Right.

Kevin O'Leary
Mark, do you have an offer?

Mark Cuban
I'm trying to find out, you know, if it seems too good to be true.

Barbara Corcoran
It's always too good to be true. I'm wildly enthusiastic about the product, but I'm not wildly enthusiastic about you. I feel like you're too slick; you have every answer.

Phil Crowley
All six sharks are still in. David and Philip have two offers on the table for their draft beer system, Fizzics, but Barbara is skeptical about the entrepreneurs.

Barbara Corcoran
I'm wildly enthusiastic about the product, but I'm not wildly enthusiastic about you. I feel like you're too slick; you have every answer. And my gut is ringing – there's gotta be something wrong. You're too slick for me; I don't trust you, so I'm out.

Daymond John

Phil, the main reason that I started to do this show and love this program is all the people that really need help. You don't need any money; your cash flow is positive. Why are you here?

Philip Petracca

Well, we need to scale. There are some retailers that we want to go into that we currently can't because we have channel conflict so-

Kevin O'Leary

Give me an example of tat, give me an example.

Philip Petracca

What I want to show y'all is what we're anticipating and what we're investing in.

Daymond John

You didn't even get to your slides yet?

Philip Petracca

This is our next generation

Daymond John

Phil... Phil... I'm just gonna let everyone-

Lori Greiner

Wait, I want to see

Daymond John

-Phil...Phil...Phil... Phil, I'm out

Philip Petracca

Okay

Lori Greiner

Why did you do that?

Mark Cuban

Go, Phil. Go, Phil. You got five more to go

Lori Greiner

I'm interested; can you please show me what that is?

Philip Petracca

So we worked really hard to be here and we have a lot to share, and that's what we are trying to do. So this is Waytap, we're going to launch this. This is... it's a more cost-effective price point; it's much smaller.

Lori Greiner

How is that different though?

Philip Petracca

This one would only do a can and up to a 12oz bottle.

Lori Greiner

Phil, the great thing for you is I have QVC and TV sales because you need to get out there- education. You need people to know what it is-

Philip Petracca

Absolutely

Lori Greiner

-so it's free advertising. So I am also going to give you $500,000 for 8%.

Robert Herjavec

Ooooh

Lori Greiner

Ooh, everybody is at 8%.

Kevin O'Leary

Phil, just so you know... the number one provider of wine on QVC is me.

Mark Cuban

Where do you want to go that you can't get to right now?

Philip Petracca

Yeah, We want to be in Bed Bath and Beyond with that product-

Lori Greiner

Hello... that's where I have a huge relationship

Philip Petracca

-I think at $99 at Bed Bath and Beyond...

Mark Cuban

Ok that makes more sense, what about in commercial, in restaurants and bars, table-top type thing- what are you doing there?

Lori Greiner
Phil... Phil...Phil...Phil

Philip Petracca
So we have some discussions...

Mark Cuban
Can it withstand commercial abuse?

Philip Petracca
Yes

Daymond John
Phil, you have three offers

Mark Cuban
Ok, so I'm going to make an offer... and I'll even open up to Lori to come into my offer. I'll offer you $800,000 for 10%; that valuation is higher than the 500,000 for 8%, but it gives you more cash and so you can go to work faster and you have either one or two sharks.

Philip Petracca
I would like to make a counter to Mark and Lori-

Lori Greiner
I like the deal

Philip Petracca
-I think we would be great partners, these are series A rounders. If you want to take the whole series A, we're looking to raise 2 million at a 10 million pre-money valuation.

Mark Cuban
So that's 16%?

Philip Petracca
Yes, 16.67

Robert Herjavec
Well, I want to compete.

Lori Greiner
Ok, I'll do that deal

Mark Cuban
Done

Lori Greiner
It's really... it's really fabulous. I am not a beer drinker and you just converted me

Mark Cuban
You are now baby, you are now

Lori Greiner
I am now, whooo!

Philip Petracca
Yeah!!!

David McDonald
Yeah!!!!

Philip Petracca
We did it!! We risked it all, left great jobs. This is the American dream; I'm just so full of emotions. This is awesome.

INVESTOR DECK

MISSION

Fizzics Group is on a mission to make beer consumption a premium experience, no matter what beer is on tap and no matter where it is consumed.

BRAND PILLARS

Brand pillars are specific attributes that embody the brand and reflects what the brand stands for, with the intent to be communicated outwardly.

COMMUNITY

At the core of our consumer is the desire for togetherness, made possible through the sharing of stories centered around better beer.

DISCOVERY

There's a feeling we get when we discover something new. When we try and enjoy something for the first time. It's that aha moment we live for, and now, we can have it anytime we want.

BREAKING BARRIERS

The sentiment of breaking barriers is to rupture the status quo, bring people together even with their differences, to innovate beyond what we know and understand, and it speaks to the transformative nature of Fizzics technology.

IMPROVEMENT

We've made it our personal mission to improve not just the taste of beer, but life as a whole by bringing people together in the name of creativity and adventure. We never settle. We constantly improve. We continue to progress.

OPPORTUNITY AREA

People love the taste of draft beer, but 90%* of beer is consumed from cans or bottles and the experience, flavor and taste isn't as good as it is fresh from the tap.

* NBWA 2016

SOLUTION

Fizzics allows beer aficionados and novices alike to pour expert draft quality beer by reviving any can, bottle or growler of beer to brewery fresh draft.

UNDERLYING TECHNOLOGY

The Fizzics Technology that drives Waytap leverages fluid and gas dynamics.

By placing a beer container in the chamber, inserting the feed tube, and latching the lid, the chamber is pressurized and ready to dispense. Pulling the handle forward gently pours the body of the beer under pressure, controlling the flow digitally and keeping the bottle pressurized to keep the bulk of the carbonation within the beer. Pushing the handle backwards is where the “sonication” process begins by applying sound waves to control the process of abstracting and converting the beer’s natural carbonation into an ideal Micro-Foam™ comprised of uniformed sized bubbles with the perfect density that delivers the best aroma, flavor, and taste.
