RISK FACTORS

Risks Related to the Company’s Business and Industry

In order for the Company to compete and grow, it and its partner and contractor organizations must attract, recruit, retain and develop the necessary personnel who have the needed experience.

Recruiting and retaining highly qualified personnel is critical to our success. These demands may require us to hire additional personnel and will require our existing management personnel to develop additional expertise. We face intense competition for personnel. The failure to attract and retain personnel or to develop such expertise could delay our progress toward goals and milestones. If we experience difficulties in hiring and retaining personnel in key positions, we could suffer adverse effects on operating results. Our consultants and advisors may be employed by third parties and may have commitments under consulting or advisory contracts with third parties that may limit their availability to us.

NWH’s funded projects rely on other companies to provide many materials and services.

NWH’s funded projects depend on these suppliers and subcontractors to complete development projects. The projects’ ability to be completed on time and on budget may be adversely affected if suppliers or subcontractors do not provide the agreed-upon supplies or perform the agreed-upon services in compliance with customer requirements and in a timely and cost-effective manner. Likewise, the quality of the projects may be adversely impacted if companies to whom the projects or from whom the projects purchase do not provide materials and services which meet required specifications. Our suppliers may be less likely than us to be able to quickly recover from natural disasters and other events beyond their control and may be subject to additional risks such as financial problems that limit their ability to conduct their operations. The risk of these adverse effects may be greater in circumstances where we rely on only one or two subcontractors or suppliers for a particular material or service across projects.

NWH funded projects are subject to the risk of substantial environmental liability and limitations on our operations due to environmental laws and regulations.

NWH funded projects are subject to extensive federal, state, local and foreign environmental, health and safety laws and regulations concerning matters such as air emissions, wastewater discharges, solid and hazardous waste handling and disposal and the investigation and remediation of contamination. The risks of substantial costs and liabilities related to compliance with these laws and regulations are an inherent part of our business, and future conditions may develop, arise or be discovered that create substantial environmental compliance or remediation liabilities and costs. Compliance with environmental, health and safety legislation and regulatory requirements may prove to be more limiting and costly than we anticipate. We may be subject to legal proceedings brought by private parties or governmental authorities with respect to environmental matters, including matters involving alleged property damage or personal injury. New laws and regulations, including those which may relate to emissions of greenhouse gases, stricter enforcement of existing laws and regulations, the discovery of previously unknown contamination or the imposition of new clean-up requirements could require us to incur costs or become the basis for new or increased liabilities that could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition or results of operations.

Climate Change, Climate Change Regulations and Greenhouse Gas Effects May Adversely Impact our Operations.

There is growing concern from members of the scientific community and the general public that an increase in global average temperatures due to emissions of greenhouse gases (GHG) and other human activities have or will cause significant changes in weather patterns and increase the frequency and severity of natural disasters. Climate change, including the impact of global warming, creates physical and financial risk. Physical risks from climate change include an increase in sea level and changes in weather conditions, such as an increase in changes in precipitation and extreme weather events. Climate change could have a material adverse effect on our results of operations, financial condition, and liquidity. For example, more frequent storms or other extreme weather can adversely affect construction costs and timelines.

We may become subject to legislation and regulation regarding climate change, and compliance with any new rules could be difficult and costly. Concerned parties, such as legislators and regulators, shareholders and non-governmental organizations, as well as companies in many business sectors, are considering ways to reduce GHG emissions. Foreign, federal, state and local regulatory and legislative bodies have proposed various legislative and regulatory measures relating to climate change, regulating GHG emissions and energy policies. If such legislation is enacted, we could incur increased energy, environmental and other costs and capital expenditures to comply with the limitations. Due to the uncertainty in the regulatory and legislative processes, as well as the scope of such requirements and initiatives, we cannot currently determine the effect such legislation and regulation may have on our operations.

We could face increased costs related to defending and resolving legal claims and other litigation related to climate change and the alleged impact of our operations on climate change.

The Company's success depends on the experience and skill of the board of directors, its executive officers and key employees.

In particular, the Company is dependent on Sibley Simon who has been President of the Company since its founding in 2015. The loss of Sibley Simon or any member of the board of directors or other executive officer could harm the Company's business, financial condition, cash flow and results of operations.

We depend on a few major borrowers for a substantial portion of our net revenue.

By funding a small (thus far, typically 5-20) projects at a given time, any one project represents a material financial risk to New Way Homes.

We are not subject to Sarbanes-Oxley regulations and lack the financial controls and safeguards required of public companies.

We do not have the internal infrastructure necessary, and are not required, to complete an attestation about our financial controls that would be required under Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002. There can be no assurance that there are no significant deficiencies or material weaknesses in the quality of our financial controls. We expect to incur additional expenses and diversion of management's time if and when it becomes necessary to perform the system and process evaluation, testing and remediation required in order to comply with the management certification and auditor attestation requirements.

The Company has engaged in certain transactions with related persons.

Please see the section of this Memorandum entitled "Transactions with Related Persons and Conflicts of Interest" for further details. It is possible that those transactions may involve terms that are less favorable or may entail greater risk to New Way Homes than might have been possible if the transactions had not involved related persons.

Changes in employment laws or regulation could harm our performance.

Various federal and state labor laws govern our relationship with our employees and affect operating costs. These laws include minimum wage requirements, overtime pay, healthcare reform and the implementation of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, unemployment tax rates, workers’ compensation rates, citizenship requirements, union membership and sales taxes. A number of factors could adversely affect our operating results, including additional government-imposed increases in minimum wages, overtime pay, paid leaves of absence and mandated health benefits, mandated training for employees, increased tax reporting and tax payment changing regulations from the National Labor Relations Board and increased employee litigation including claims relating to the Fair Labor Standards Act.

We face risks related to health epidemics and other outbreaks, which could significantly disrupt the Company’s operations and could have a material adverse impact on us.

The outbreak of pandemics and epidemics could materially and adversely affect the Company’s business, financial condition, and results of operations. If a pandemic occurs in areas in which we have material operations or sales, the Company’s business activities originating from affected areas, including sales, materials, and supply chain related activities, could be adversely affected. Disruptive activities could include the temporary closure of facilities used in the Company’s supply chain processes, restrictions on the export or shipment of products necessary to run the Company’s business, business closures in impacted areas, and restrictions on the Company’s employees’ or consultants’ ability to travel and to meet with customers, vendors or other business relationships. The extent to which a pandemic or other health outbreak impacts the Company’s results will depend on future developments, which are highly uncertain and cannot be predicted, including new information which may emerge concerning the severity of a virus and the actions to contain it or treat its impact, among others. Pandemics can also result in social, economic, and labor instability which may adversely impact the Company’s business.

If the Company’s employees or employees of any of the Company’s vendors, suppliers or customers become ill or are quarantined and in either or both events are therefore unable to work, the Company’s operations could be subject to disruption. The extent to which a pandemic affects the Company’s results will depend on future developments that are highly uncertain and cannot be predicted.

The lending industry is highly regulated and changes in regulations or in the way regulations are applied to our business could adversely affect our business.

The regulatory environment in which lending institutions operate has become increasingly complex, and following the financial crisis of 2008, supervisory efforts to enact and apply relevant laws, regulations and policies have become more intense. Changes in laws or regulations or the regulatory application or judicial interpretation of the laws and regulations applicable to us could adversely affect our ability to operate in the manner in which we currently conduct business or make it more difficult or costly for us to originate or otherwise make additional loans, or for us to collect payments on loans by subjecting us to additional licensing, registration and other regulatory requirements in the future or otherwise. For example, if our loans were determined for any reason not to be commercial loans, we would be subject to many additional requirements, and our fees and interest arrangements could be challenged by regulators or our customers. A material failure to comply with any such laws or regulations could result in regulatory actions, lawsuits and damage to our reputation, which could have a material adverse effect on our business and financial condition and our ability to originate and service loans and perform our obligations to investors and other constituents.

A proceeding relating to one or more allegations or findings of our violation of such laws could result in modifications in our methods of doing business that could impair our ability to collect payments on our loans or to acquire additional loans or could result in the requirement that we pay damages and/or cancel the balance or other amounts owing under loans associated with such violation.

NWH may not achieve its projections.

The financial projections present NWH’s expectations, beliefs, plans and objectives regarding future financial performance, and assumptions or judgments concerning such performance. Any discussions contained in this document, except to the extent that they contain historical facts, are forward-looking and accordingly involve estimates, assumptions, judgments and uncertainties. There are a number of factors that could cause actual results or outcomes to differ materially from those presented in the projections. Such factors are detailed elsewhere in this Risk Factors section of this Memorandum. No commitments or guarantees can be made by the Issuer with respect to its future financial performance.

We operate in a highly regulated environment, and if we are found to be in violation of any of the federal, state, or local laws or regulations applicable to us, our business could suffer.

We are also subject to a wide range of federal, state, and local laws and regulations, such as local licensing requirements, and retail financing, debt collection, consumer protection, environmental, health and safety, creditor, wage-hour, anti-discrimination, whistleblower and other employment practices laws and regulations and we expect these costs to increase going forward. The violation of these or future requirements or laws and regulations could result in administrative, civil, or criminal sanctions against us, which may include fines, a cease and desist order against the subject operations or even revocation or suspension of our license to operate the subject business. As a result, we have incurred and will continue to incur capital and operating expenditures and other costs to comply with these requirements and laws and regulations.

The collection, processing, storage, use and disclosure of personal data could give rise to liabilities as a result of governmental regulation, conflicting legal requirements or differing views of personal privacy rights.

We receive, collect, process, transmit, store and use personally identifiable information and other sensitive data from investors and borrowers. There are federal, state and foreign laws regarding privacy, recording telephone calls and the storing, sharing, use, disclosure and protection of personally identifiable information and sensitive data. Specifically, personally identifiable information is increasingly subject to legislation and regulations to protect the privacy of personal information that is collected, processed and transmitted. Any violations of these laws and regulations may require us to change our business practices or operational structure, address legal claims and sustain monetary penalties and/or other harms to our business.

The regulatory framework for privacy issues in the United States and internationally is constantly evolving and is likely to remain uncertain for the foreseeable future. The interpretation and application of such laws is often uncertain, and such laws may be interpreted and applied in a manner inconsistent with our current policies and practices or require changes to the features of our platform. If either we or our third party service providers are unable to address any privacy concerns, even if unfounded, or to comply with applicable laws and regulations, it could result in additional costs and liability, damage our reputation and harm our business.

Our earnings may decrease because of changes in prevailing interest rates.

The profitability of NWH-funded projects is directly affected by changes in prevailing interest rates. The following are certain material risks we face related to changes in prevailing interest rates:

* an increase in prevailing interest rates could generate an increase in delinquency, default and foreclosure rates resulting in an increase in both operating expenses and interest expense and could cause a reduction in the value of our assets;

* an increase in prevailing interest rates would increase the cost of servicing our outstanding debt, including our ability to finance servicing advances and loan originations;

* a decrease in prevailing interest rates may increase prepayment speeds causing our servicing fees to decline more rapidly than anticipated;

* a decrease in prevailing interest rates may lead to higher compensating interest expense and increased amortization expense as we revise downward our estimate of total expected income as prepayment speeds increase; and a decrease in prevailing interest rates could reduce our earnings from our custodial deposit accounts.

Negative public opinion could damage our reputation and adversely affect our business.

Reputation risk, or the risk to our business from negative public opinion, is inherent in our business. Negative public opinion can result from our actual or alleged conduct in any number of activities, including community reaction to housing development. Negative public opinion can also result from media coverage, whether accurate or not. Negative public opinion can adversely affect our ability to attract and retain customers and employees and can expose us to litigation and regulatory action.

Our business and operating results may be impacted by adverse economic conditions.

General economic factors and conditions in the United States or worldwide, including the general interest rate environment, unemployment rates and residential home values, may affect borrower willingness to seek loans and investor ability and desire to invest in loans. For example, during the 2008 financial crisis, banks severely constrained lending activities, which caused a decline in loan issuances. A similar crisis could negatively impact the willingness of investors and borrowers to participate on our marketplace. Although the U.S. and global economies have shown improvement, the recovery remains modest and uncertain. If present U.S. and global economic uncertainties persist, many of our investors may delay or reduce their investment in the loans facilitated through our marketplace. Adverse economic conditions could also reduce the number of individuals seeking to invest in loans facilitated on our marketplace, reduce the number of qualified borrowers seeking loans on our marketplace and result in borrowers being unable to make payments. Should any of these situations occur, our revenue and transactions on our marketplace would decline and our business would be negatively impacted.

Residential Real Estate Assets may experience catastrophic events or major market value changes.

Events such as natural disasters, fires, or other events may cause significant loss of value to the real estate assets of NWH’s borrowers and/or a sudden need of capital. Over time, it is possible that the multifamily residential rental real estate market in the San Francisco Bay and Monterey Bay Region will change significantly; if rents go down, or if they increase much slower than historically has been the case, then a project may not be able to afford sufficient replacement reserves, operating funds, or debt service payments.

NWH’s financial model and project plans may not be accurate or successful.

Maintenance, utility, compliance, property management, variable interest rate, or other expenses may significantly exceed anticipated levels. Real estate development projects carry significant risks, such as legal risks, approval risks, contractor performance risks, and risks related to unanticipated issues with a building site (e.g. pollutants, geologic characteristics, archeological value, etc.). A failure of one or more NWH borrowers to repay their debt to NWH could jeopardize NWH’s ability to repay its investors.

NWH’s borrowers might not be able to service their debt obligations.

Projects will have debt from other lenders, and the debt to NWH will typically be subordinated to such debt to third parties. No assurances can be made that these entities will be able to achieve their operating or financial projections or that they will be able to service their debt, including the Notes. Repayment of Notes in particular may rely on the borrower’s ability to refinance or obtain other debt, of which there is no guarantee at the time Notes become payable.

There is no public market for the Securities.

The Securities described in this offering have not been registered under the Securities Act of 1933 (“Securities Act”), or under the various “Blue Sky Laws” of the states of residence of the investors. The Securities are being offered only to institutions and individuals who or that are “Accredited Investors” pursuant to the exemptions in the Securities Act, the rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission, and exemptions in the various “Blue Sky Laws.” The Securities may be acquired for investment purposes only and not with a view to resale or distribution. Such securities are “restricted securities” and cannot be resold without registration under the Securities Act unless an exemption from registration is available. Because the Securities are not readily transferable, an Investor’s ability to pledge the Securities as collateral for loans may be limited, and the restrictions on transfer even if permitted could reduce the price of the Securities in any permitted sale. Accordingly, an investment in Securities is suitable only for persons who have no need for liquidity with respect to their investment.

Documents to be Negotiated May Have Different Terms than Expected.

NWH’s materials make reference to documents or agreements that are not yet final or executed, and plans that have not been implemented. In some instances, such documents or agreements are not even in draft form. The definitive versions of those agreements, documents, plans or proposals may contain terms or conditions that vary significantly from the terms and conditions described. These tentative agreements, documents, plans or proposals may not be obtained by NWH or, if obtained, may not be on as favorable terms as NWH currently anticipates and may materially and adversely affect the ability of NWH to operate the business and meet its financial obligations.

Additional funds may be needed to sustain and expand NWH's operations. There can be no assurance that such funding will be available or will be available on favorable terms.

Adequate funds for ongoing operations and other purposes on terms acceptable to NWH may not be available when needed. NWH inability to obtain sufficient funds from operations and external sources could have a material adverse effect on results of operations or financial condition.

NWH may be subject to claims based on assets and/or activities.

While NWH has not yet experienced any claims, NWH may experience future claims for breach of contract, negligence or other torts based on NWH's activities. It is not uncommon for development projects to lead to legal disputes, and even when those disputes are between third parties and local jurisdictions, NWH may be required or it may be in NWH's best interest to participate in legal defense or related activities. NWH's insurance may not adequately cover these claims and even if such claims are unsuccessful, the costs incurred in defending against these claims, in terms of the money and the time and distraction of NWH Management, could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations or financial condition.

Purchasers in the offering will have no control over NWH's affairs.

Control over the affairs of New Way Homes is vested with the NWH Board of Directors and executive officers. Control over affairs of Envision Housing (NWH's development partner on certain projects) is vested in the owners of that entity. Consequently, purchasers in the offering will have limited control over NWH's affairs. Accordingly, no person should purchase Notes unless she or he is willing to entrust all aspects of management to the individuals and structures described herein.

NWH does not provide legal representation to prospective purchasers.

Attorneys representing NWH do not represent, and shall not be deemed under applicable codes of professional responsibility to have represented or be representing, any or all of the investors in any respect.

Risks Related to the Securities

You should be aware of the long-term nature of this investment. There is not now and likely will not be a public market for the Notes. Because the Notes have not been registered under the Securities Act or under the securities laws of any state or non-United States jurisdiction, the Notes have transfer restrictions and cannot be resold in the United States except pursuant to Rule 501 of Regulation CF. It is not currently contemplated that registration under the Securities Act or other securities laws will be effected. Limitations on the transfer of the Notes may also adversely affect the price that you might be able to obtain for the Notes in a private sale.

Purchasers should be aware of the long-term nature of their investment in the Company. Each Purchaser in this Offering will be required to represent that it is purchasing the Securities for its own account, for investment purposes and not with a view to resale or distribution thereof.

Neither the Offering nor the Securities have been registered under federal or state securities laws, leading to an absence of certain regulation applicable to the Company.

No governmental agency has reviewed or passed upon this Offering, the Company or any Securities of the Company. The Company also has relied on exemptions from securities registration requirements under applicable state securities laws. Investors in the Company, therefore, will not receive any of the benefits that such registration would otherwise provide. Prospective investors must therefore assess the adequacy of disclosure and the fairness of the terms of this Offering on their own or in conjunction with their personal advisors.

No Guarantee of Return on Investment

There is no assurance that a Purchaser will realize a return on its investment or that it will not lose its entire investment. For this reason, each Purchaser should read the Form C and all Exhibits carefully and should consult with its own attorney and business advisor prior to making any investment decision.

The Company has the right to extend the Offering deadline.

The Company may extend the Offering deadline beyond what is currently stated herein. This means that your investment may continue to be held in escrow while the Company attempts to raise the Minimum Amount even after the Offering deadline stated herein is reached. Your investment will not be accruing interest during this time and will simply be held until such time as the new Offering deadline is reached without the Company receiving the Minimum Amount, at which time it will be returned to you without interest or deduction, or the Company receives the Minimum Amount, at which time it will be released to the Company to be used as set forth herein. Upon or shortly after release of such funds to the Company, the Securities will be issued and distributed to you.

In addition to the risks listed above, businesses are often subject to risks not foreseen or fully appreciated by the management. It is not possible to foresee all risks that may affect us. Moreover, the Company cannot predict whether the Company will successfully effectuate the Company's current business plan. Each prospective Purchaser is encouraged to carefully analyze the risks and merits of an investment in the Securities and should take into consideration when making such analysis, among other, the Risk Factors discussed above.

THE SECURITIES OFFERED INVOLVE A HIGH DEGREE OF RISK AND MAY RESULT IN THE LOSS OF YOUR ENTIRE INVESTMENT. ANY PERSON CONSIDERING THE PURCHASE OF THESE SECURITIES SHOULD BE AWARE OF THESE AND OTHER FACTORS SET FORTH IN THIS FORM C AND SHOULD CONSULT WITH HIS OR HER LEGAL, TAX AND FINANCIAL ADVISORS PRIOR TO MAKING AN INVESTMENT IN THE SECURITIES. THE SECURITIES SHOULD ONLY BE PURCHASED BY PERSONS WHO CAN AFFORD TO LOSE ALL OF THEIR INVESTMENT.

BUSINESS

Description of the Business

New Way Homes’ revenue-generating business is making unsecured loans, typically for pre-development expenses, to other organizations (non-profits or LLCs) for certain types of real estate development projects that involve creating affordable housing in California. Lesser activities of the organization include two fiscally sponsored programs that involve advocating for or creating affordable housing and are funded by charitable donations. Occasionally New Way Homes temporarily owns development projects during certain stages of pre-development if needed for project funding.

Business Plan

New Way Homes funds the successful development of new supportive and affordable housing that uses no or less public funding for development in order to increase the rate of production of these types of housing beyond what is currently publicly subsidized. NWH specializes in projects created on land already owned by non-profit organizations, especially churches. Secondly NWH also pursues environmental justice through purchasing and cleaning up contaminated sites for housing development in lower income neighborhoods. NWH achieves these aims by enabling projects that often a) have a mix of incomes so that higher income units subsidize lower income units, b) are funded in part by impact investors with lower than market returns, c) use sites invested into the project via land leases by non-profit and mission-aligned land owners, d) obtain debt financing for pre-development and/or construction from non-profit sources with better-than-market terms, e) are long-term rental housing that can meet financial goals over a long time period, f) are overseen and/or partially executed by companies including Envision Housing, LLC and Workbench that take lower than market rate development fees, architectural service fees, and/or GC fees in order to contribute to the mission of the housing, g) use modular construction, h) include environmental sustainability features that pay off over time with lower operating costs, i) that include less or no motor vehicle parking in infill locations where residents can live without or with fewer such vehicles, j) that make use of some of the over 100 new state housing laws passed in recent years in CA that speed up permit approvals, reduce approval risk, allow variances on local zoning requirements, allow for increased housing density, and provide other benefits, k) make use of public subsidy that is not competitive, such as property tax exemptions for affordable housing, l) create housing that can preference tenants who themselves have rental subsidies, and other techniques to produce housing at a lower total cost and/or that is more affordable for lower income households. New Way Homes provides the most difficult to find and most impactful capital in these projects - i.e. the capital needed to find, initiate, and entitle (i.e. obtain planning or design review permits for) the projects and fill other gaps that can come up in a project’s capital needs. Other sources of capital, such as CDFI bridge loans for engineering and building permits and other impact investment and construction debt sources for construction, typically fund the other stages of projects. NWH provides this capital to projects via below-market rate loans that act as pseudo-equity relative to other debt; these unsecured loans accrue 6% interest but do not have any payments due until other development debt is repaid. This structure enables the most leverage from other debt sources while keeping the cost of capital low to the project - together these factors help maximize the affordability of the housing projects. NWH currently works in Santa Cruz County, Monterey County, and Alameda County and is currently considering a first project in Santa Clara County. In addition to the NWH fund, our system of development also includes a business called Workbench that employs the development, design, and general contracting staff to more efficiently create new types of affordable housing. This innovative model is having a significant impact and has attracted many non-profit land owners; NWH is now raising capital to expand the number of projects it can fund simultaneously.

History of Any Bankruptcies Related To the Business

NWH Director James Rector was the CEO and an owner of RCCubed, a solar financing company that went through bankruptcy in 2021. This organization did not have any direct relationship with NWH, and this bankruptcy did not have any financial impact on NWH.

The Company’s Products and/or Services

| Product / Service | Description | Current Market |
|-------------------|---|---|
| Loans | The loans made are unsecured and have no payments due until key project milestones or loan maturity dates are reached. Current loans made are all at 6% interest. | New Way Homes prioritizes funding projects that use less or no public subsidy and yet are pursuing affordability beyond local requirements. Because this is a new model, these are typically projects that involve development services by Envision Housing, LLC, Envision I, LLC and/or Workbench, which are organizations focused on developing this type of project. |

We have no new products in development; the purpose of this offering is for NWH to have the capacity to make more loans of the type it already makes.

NWH currently makes loans to Envision I, LLC or to project-specific LLCs or to 3rd party non-profits. These opportunities come to New Way Homes when developers aligned with the NWH mission and project type request such a loan or when non-profit landowners contact New Way Homes with an interest in having housing developed on their site.

Competition

The alternatives to NWH’s unsecured pre-development loans that we are aware of are a) higher interest rate hard money lenders and b) equity investors.

We are not aware of any other lending organizations in the housing development industry in California that will make loans for early-stage pre-development expenses and development costs without security and at a 6% interest rate. This product enables the creation of housing that is much more affordable than typical early-stage equity investment in individual real estate development projects. This is evidenced by the steady inbound interest NWH receives from non-profit site owners who are not finding alternative funding sources that allow for mission-driven housing development without significant risk to the site owning organization.

Supply Chain and Customer Base

NWH itself is only reliant on its sources of capital. The real estate development projects NWH funds, however, are reliant on a wide range of suppliers, from construction materials suppliers to many professional contractors (e.g. various engineers, surveyors, design consultants as well as construction contractors and subcontractors). The primary supplier of architecture and general contracting services for these projects is Workbench; however this is not exclusive. Across all of the many types of suppliers, there are generally multiple potential sources. Occasionally specific construction projects have been negatively impacted by shortages of specific materials (e.g. appliances or electrical panels) in recent years. We have always found products to perform the function required, but sometimes with delay and price increases.

We consider both funders to NWH and NWH’s borrowers and grantees to be customers. I. NWH Funders are: Individuals (both accredited and, through crowdfunding offerings, non-accredited), foundations, businesses, impact funds, and government agencies are all types of funders for New Way Homes. In total, NWH has over 200 lenders into its fund and over 240 donors/grantors. NWH provides all of these sources with a way to support the creation of more affordable housing than would otherwise be developed. II. NWH’s borrowers are: 1) Envision I, LLC, an LLC formed specifically to incubate the early stage development of multiple housing development projects that meet NWH’s mission and to blend capital across these early stage projects to reduce risk to the NWH fund. 2) Project specific LLCs that spin out of Envision I, LLC and that each own one specific real estate development project once a site is secured. Most of these LLCs are leasing sites owned by churches and may be in turn part-owned by a church. 3) 3rd Party non-profits that are pursuing a real estate development project aligned with NWH’s mission and guidelines. III. When receiving restricted funding for this purpose, NWH has also made grants to specific, charitable housing development projects.

The Company is dependent on the following customers:

| Customer or Description | Service/product provided | Percent revenue |
|-------------------------|--------------------------|-----------------|
| Envision I, LLC | Loans | 21.3% |

Intellectual Property

The Company is dependent on the following intellectual property:

The Company is not dependent on specific Intellectual Property. As a mission-driven non-profit, New Way Homes seeks to help others learn from our activities. We actively seek to distribute what we learn and create when possible in order to assist others in increasing mission-driven housing development.

Governmental/Regulatory Approval and Compliance

Existing government regulations most relevant to New Way Homes’ specific activities include: - Securities laws require NWH to file various forms, among other requirements, in order to offer debt securities to its individual lenders. - NWH is subject to a number of obligations and restrictions as a section 501(c)(3) charity. For example, due to the New Way Homes’ President’s involvement in managing some of New Way Homes’ borrowers and one of the service providers to some of the NWH-funded projects, conflict-of-interest policies must be followed and transactions between NWH and these entities must favor NWH relative to market rates and terms. As another example, NWH’s involvement in certain policy and political activities is strictly limited. - Housing development is highly regulated; risk in the early stages of real estate development projects often includes risk in determining what development is permissible under what specific requirements in a given specific location, and the development process can reveal conditions that alter what regulations are applicable. Further, land use regulations and building codes change frequently, which can change project costs and increase or decrease allowable housing development on a given site.

Litigation

There are no existing legal suits pending, or to the Company’s knowledge, threatened, against the Company.

The Company does have discretion to alter the use of proceeds as set forth above. The Company may alter the use of proceeds under the following circumstances: The Company may change the use of proceeds to include General Working Capital and/or making interest payments on other debt if other currently projected sources of funding do not sufficiently cover these uses of capital.

Ownership

The Company is a public benefit corporation with 501c(3) status and therefore does not have any owners. No ownership organizational chart of cap table is applicable.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Please see the financial information listed on the cover page of this Form C and attached hereto in addition to the following information. Financial statements are attached hereto as Exhibit A.

Operations

Since inception, the Company has - raised over $6.9M in loans to the Company to date and repaid over $1.09M of these loans; - raised over $2.3M in grants and donations to the Company, of which over $650k is equity for its loan fund (as opposed to grants received for other specific activities); - made loans with principal totaling $4.4M, of which $0.945M of principal has been repaid; - a loan to the Company of $1M from Common Spirit was approved in Q2, 2023; the Company anticipates closing this loan in Q3, 2023. The Company intends to be net revenue positive in its core operations (i.e. the New Way Homes loan fund) in 2024 and beyond. Cash flow will remain a significant challenge, as projects funded by New Way Homes take 3-7 years to achieve milestones that include repaying New Way Homes in full; in the meantime a significant part of the Company’s income is accrued interest to be repaid at project milestones. The Company will continue raising capital from other sources during and after the Offering, such as in the form of loans from CDFIs and foundations and grants from private and public sources.

The Company intends to achieve profitability in the next 12 months following the launch of the Offering by a) obtaining grant funding to cover fund operating costs and b) by making additional loans to specific project LLCs and Envision I, LLC for pre-development expenses on projects meeting NWH’s mission and guidelines. These steps are intended to increase NWH’s revenue to a greater degree than costs are increased.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

The proceeds of the offering will provide additional capital to initiate new and progress current housing development projects that are in the pre-development phases, while also increasing the organization’s interest reserves.

The Company has the following sources of capital in addition to the proceeds from the Offering: 1. Common Spirit approved a $1M loan to the Company in Q2, 2023 and loan agreements were executed as of August 15th, 2023. The Company has not yet drawn down on this loan as of the date of this filing. 2. Housing Matters is the owner of a project developed with funding from the Company. Approximately $300,000 is outstanding from that project that will become receivable to the Company in the future. This is expected to be paid across two payments, one 30 days after construction start and one 30 days after construction completion. We expect the first payment in 2023 and the second in 2024. 3. Adrian Dominican Sisters have approved a 5-year loan of $250,000 to replace the current loan of the same amount coming due on September 1, 2023.

Capital Expenditures and Other Obligations

The Company does not intend to make any material capital expenditures in the future.

The financial statements are an important part of this Form C and should be reviewed in their entirety. The financial statements of the Company are attached hereto as Exhibit A.

If a Purchaser does not reconfirm his or her investment commitment after a material change is made to the terms of the Offering, the Purchaser's investment commitment will be cancelled and the committed funds will be returned without interest or deductions. New Way Homes Crowdfunding Overview Script

[Sibley Simon]

The cost of housing in California is a disaster. The lack of any available housing that's affordable to a majority of our community is really the driving force behind increased poverty, increasing commuting times, a lack of teachers and many other essential workers, increased homelessness, and our inability to meet our climate goals.

New Way Homes exists to change that. We're creating new workforce and affordable housing, like what we're standing in here at Genesis Worship Center, in infill locations where there's transit, jobs, schools, many other services. So in the places where it's needed most and where it's most environmentally sustainable.

We're doing that with less or no public subsidy because there's not enough public dollars to solve this huge problem. How do we do that? There's a whole lot of ingredients, but the two big ingredients are first, we partner with churches and other nonprofits that own sites or buildings and really want to work closely together to envision and create mission-driven housing.

And the second major ingredient is that all of that work before construction starts is funded by impact investors, people like you.

[Serena Collins]

This project is an example of one of our church partnerships. Center of Hope Community Church is an African-American led church in East Oakland in a historically underserved neighborhood where many residents are currently being displaced due to rising housing costs. We received our permits to turn these two vacant buildings into 28 units of lower income housing and we can't wait for new families to move in.

Just a few blocks away, we have completed a project that is reentry transitional housing, serving 20 adults and run by Genesis Worship Center. And just down the street, we have applied to build 83 units of affordable housing. These projects are serving a wide range of income levels while revitalizing the community.

[Bishop George Matthews]

Hello, I'm Bishop George Matthews of Genesis Worship Center and we will forever be grateful for New Way Homes who assisted us in building our apartments to address the homelessness issue in the city of Oakland. And when I met them, we had entitlements for four units, but they assisted us in building 12 units with obtaining the financing and we're forever grateful to him and his whole staff who were wonderful.

[Sibley Simon]
The New Way Homes Fund is currently enabling the development of several hundred new homes in three counties in Northern California.

[Graphic: Map of CA highlighting Alameda, Santa Cruz and Monterey Counties]

[Sibley Simon]
Our success at that has led quite a few additional churches and non-profits to come to us wanting to partner and create thousands more housing units. So we want to not only grow how much housing we can produce, but also spread what we've learned so that a whole new part of the housing development industry can grow up and meet this major need for housing affordability.

For that end, we're asking you today to please consider making an investment in the New Way Homes Fund so that we can say yes to more of those partnerships and create more of this essential housing in more communities.

OUR FOUNDER
SIBLEY SIMON, PRESIDENT AND FOUNDER OF NEW WAY HOMES

Sibley is an experienced entrepreneur whose companies have won two technical Emmy awards and whose work has been listed on MIT Technology Review's 35 tech innovators under 35. Sibley has been a Director and Treasurer for 8 years of Housing Matters, the largest homelessness non-profit in Santa Cruz County. During this time Housing Matters more than tripled its size and impact and Sibley co-founded the 180/2020 Initiative that has housed over 950 veteran and chronically homeless individuals.

Building the Missing Part of the Housing Industry

In many regions, housing is too expensive, leading to rapidly increasing displacement, homelessness, length of commutes, overcrowding, and poverty. These changes affect everyone but are disproportionately displacing and burdening lower-income communities of color—the same communities that have long faced housing discrimination.

New Way Homes creates new below-market-rate, affordable, and supportive housing by pairing private impact investment with non-profit landowners and new development strategies. A majority of our current and future projects are partnerships with black churches, with those organizations gaining the long-term full ownership of the housing.

California has the largest per capita housing shortage of any state in the US.

A study by the McKinsey Global Institute in 2016 found California was missing compared with the amount of housing per capita that the rest of the US has.

2,000,000 housing units

Housing demand has outpaced building in California for decades, and the shortage keeps getting worse.

To catch up California needed to build 3.5 million homes by 2025 or 437,600 units per year (2017-2025). In reality, the state is creating fewer than 100,000 units per year of market rate housing and fewer than 20,000 units of affordable housing.*

¹ CA Department of Housing & Community Development, 2018

So, California housing becomes more and more unaffordable for many.

Pay for most jobs has only kept pace with inflation while rent has increased dramatically. For workers in an increasing number of essential jobs even a one bedroom apartment is no longer affordable.

As just one example, many teachers can no longer live in the communities where they work.

The current development models aren't solving the problem.

MARKET-RATE DEVELOPMENT:
A LESS EFFICIENT SOLUTION

Produces high-end units, typically for sale. This creates new housing supply (a good thing), but only to the extent there is a high-end market. It is the least effective housing type for improving the housing market for everyone — and in reducing homelessness and displacement.

The current market-rate housing business model is not capable of filling a majority of the housing supply gap.

PUBLICLY-FUNDED AFFORDABLE HOUSING:
A GROWING, BUT SMALL CONTRIBUTION TO A SOLUTION

Recent and proposed funding increases by California state and local governments will only increase affordable housing production by a few thousand units per year statewide at best.

This model is important, but can't scale to fill most of the housing gap or improve affordability for most lower-income households.

New Way Homes provides a solution to the housing crisis.

NWH is proving a new, scalable model to develop large amounts of rental housing — including affordable, workforce, supportive, and discounted units — without competing for the limited public housing construction subsidies that already get used to build great affordable housing.

We are building a new part

- We don't compete for government funding.
- We don't structure projects to maximize return.
- We get fixed-return private investments from foundations and individuals and partner with local community-oriented landowners.
- We use high-quality modular construction and new environmental sustainability construction techniques.
- We maximize income restricted affordable housing and other types of stable rental housing.

Here's how New Way Homes builds affordable housing.

IMPACT INVESTMENT CAPITAL RAISED SUPPORTS MISSION-DRIVEN HOUSING PROJECTS.

As a 501(c)(3) nonprofit, our design and management decisions are focused on maximizing social impact, community engagement and sustainability, not on maximizing profits.

NEW WAY HOMES OFTEN COLLABORATES WITH NONPROFIT ORGANIZATIONS THAT HAVE UNDER-USED LAND, SUCH AS CHURCHES AND SOCIAL SERVICES PROVIDERS.

Thousands of such organizations would like to build housing, but they often lack the capital and expertise to pursue a project. Most nonprofit landowners aren't a fit for the two current development models.

NEW WAY HOMES' INVOLVEMENT PROVIDES THESE PROJECTS WITH ACCESS TO CAPITAL AND EXPERIENCE IN DESIGN, CONSTRUCTION AND PROPERTY MANAGEMENT.

This is done while prioritizing the mission of the nonprofit land owner and providing them with a pathway for long-term, 100% ownership of the new units.

CASA AZUL 1 601 RIVER ST, SANTA CRUZ
7 Supportive Units

This long-vacant, historic Victorian is adjacent to the Housing Matters campus with comprehensive services for individuals and families experiencing homelessness. That made it the perfect place to transform into seven units of permanent supportive housing for individuals who have been chronically homeless and need ongoing services to be successful in housing.

New Way Homes' repayment model starts with you.

We have more than 350 mixed-income housing units in progress.

Our projects pursue different types of affordability on over 90% of units, with permanent supportive housing being the single biggest category.

New Way Homes combines many techniques to create less expensive housing.

- Lower cost of capital with fixed and/or capped return
- "Rent-level stack": mixed-income approach provides enough income for the development to be truly sustainable and repay impact investors
- Use new and under-utilized CA state laws to reduce risk and speed approvals.
- Including sufficient deed-restricted, low-income affordable housing brings the right under state law to:
 1. Build more total units in taller buildings
 2. Lower minimum number of parking places per unit
 3. Receive other moderate variances from zoning code if needed
 4. Greatly reduce local government discretion on approvals
- Environmental sustainability = affordability. Investing in energy efficiency, solar power, low-water use, all-electric utilities, and various new standards lowers costs.
- Transit-oriented smaller units
- Preference rental subsidy vouchers
- Use modular construction

Lower capital & operating costs yield higher net income, allowing debt financing to pay some extra sustainability costs, resulting in lower rents!

Creating affordable and below-market rate housing.

This model is important, but can't scale to fill most of the housing gap or improve affordability for most lower-income households.

There is a high cost of too little housing.

IN BROAD STROKES HIGH HOUSING COST:

INCREASES

- Homelessness
- Displacement, especially from lower-income communities of color
- Commuting distance & environmental effects
- Wealth & opportunity disparity

DECREASES

- Community diversity
- Local economic activity
- Home ownership

McKinsey also estimated there is more than $50 billion in lost annual economic activity in California due to high housing costs.
