Black Point Seafood, LLC dba Get Maine Lobster ("Black Point Seafood", the "Company," "we," "us", or "our"), a Maine limited liability company, is offering up to $1,000,000 worth of Series Seed Preferred Stock of the Company (the "Securities"). Purchasers of Securities are sometimes referred to herein as "Purchasers". The minimum target offering is $25,000 (the "Target Amount"). This Offering is being conducted on a best efforts basis and the Company must reach its Target Amount of $25,000 by October 19, 2018. Unless the Company raises at least the Target Amount of $25,000 under the Regulation CF Offering and a total of $450,000 under the Combined Offerings (the "Closing Amount") by October 19, 2018, no Securities will be sold in this Offering, investment commitments will be cancelled, and committed funds will be returned. The Company will accept oversubscriptions in excess of the Target Amount for the Offering up to $1,000,000 (the "Maximum Amount") on a first come, first served basis. SUMMARY

The following summary is qualified in its entirety by more detailed information that may appear elsewhere in this Form C and the Exhibits hereto. Each prospective Purchaser is urged to read this Form C and the Exhibits hereto in their entirety.

As of the date of this Agreement, the Company is a single member, manager-managed Maine limited liability company whose sole member is Black Point Seafood Holdings, Inc. (“Holdings”) and whose manager is the founder of the business, Mark Murrell (the “Founder” or “Manager”). The Company was formed on September 2, 2016, but from the founding of our business on June 1, 2009 through the Company’s formation date, all of our company’s business was conducted through Holdings.

The Company is located at 392 Fore Street 3rd floor, Portland, ME 04101.

The Company’s website is <https://getmainelobster.com/>.

The information available on or through the Company’s website is not part of this Form C. In making an investment decision with respect to our securities, you should only consider the information contained in this Form C.

The Business

We aim to deliver the finest lobster and seafood Maine has to offer from the dock to doorstep.

A more detailed description of our products as well as our services, process, and business plan can be found on the Company’s profile page on the SI Securities, LLC (“SeedInvest”) website under <https://seedinvest.com/lobster> and is attached as Exhibit C to the Form C of which this Offering Memorandum forms a part.

Taxation as Partnership

The Company has been formed so as to qualify and will be treated as a partnership for federal income tax purposes and in becoming a member of the Company you will agree not to take any action inconsistent with the Company’s classification as a partnership for federal income tax purposes. The Company will not be operated or treated, however, as a “partnership” for purposes of Section 303 of the United States Bankruptcy Code, 11 U.S.C. §101, et seq. The classification of the Company as a partnership applies only for federal and, as applicable, state and local, income tax purposes, and its characterization as such, solely for tax purposes, does not create or imply a general partnership or mutual agency between the Members for state law or any other purpose. Instead, the Members acknowledge the status of the Company as a limited liability company formed under the Maine Limited Liability Company Act.

Although the Company’s equity as of the Closing will be divided into classes named Series Seed Preferred Stock, Common Stock, and Subordinated Stock, such classes are equity interests or membership interests in a limited liability company rather than a corporation and upon your subscription of Series Seed Preferred Stock pursuant to a Subscription Agreement you will become a member of the Company, which, as discussed above, is taxed as a partnership rather than a stockholder of equity interests in a corporation, which equity interests are commonly referred to as stock.

RISK FACTORS

The SEC requires the Company to identify risks that are specific to its business and its financial condition. The Company is still subject to all the same risks that all companies in its business, and all companies in the economy, are exposed to. These include risks relating to economic downturns, political and economic events and technological developments (such as hacking and the ability to prevent hacking). Additionally, early-stage companies are inherently more risky than more developed companies. You should consider general risks as well as specific risks when deciding whether to invest.

Risks Related to the Company's Business and Industry

The reviewing CPA has included a "going concern" note in the reviewed financials. The financial statements have been prepared on the going concern basis, which assumes that the Company will continue in operation for the foreseeable future. However, management has identified the following conditions and events that created an uncertainty about the ability of the Company to continue as a going concern. The Company recorded net operating losses of $367,154 and $143,751 in 2017 and 2016, respectively. The following describes management's actions taken since December 31, 2017 that have alleviated substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern: the Company (i) has paid off certain of our high-interest debt, (ii) has taken other deliberate actions to reduce expenses in our supply chain and to increase revenues, and (iii) is conducting this equity crowdfund offering during fiscal year 2018. The Company's ability to meet its obligations as they become due is dependent upon the success of management's plans and actions, as described above. If we cannot continue as a going concern, you may lose your entire investment in our Series Seed Preferred Stock

We have not prepared any audited financial statements. Therefore, you have no audited financial information regarding the Company's capitalization or assets or liabilities on which to make your investment decision. If you feel the information provided is insufficient, you should not invest in the Company.

The Company has a significant amount of debt. Please see Note D of the CPA Reviewed Financial Statements (Exhibit B of the Form C and in Data Room) for details.

The Company deals with live animals (lobsters) and vast amounts of regulation applicable to shipping live animals. There is a risk that regulations could change in a manner that adversely affects the Company's ability to ship live lobsters across the country.

Climate change may adversely affect the Maine fishery. Drastic climate change may have a negative impact on the productive capacity of the Maine fishery. Accordingly, a decline in fishery stocks coupled with increases in worldwide demand for Maine seafood could negatively impact the Company's procurement and costs.

The Company's revenue is seasonal and heavily tied to either holidays or the summer months. Because of that, cash flow is very lumpy, and the Company will need to make accurate budgets to maintain proper cash positions.

The Company's sales are very heavily tied to expenditures on marketing and advertising. If the Company is not able to maintain strong advertising and marketing, our sales may be negatively impacted.

The Company has had limited outside investors and no true institutional round. Prior to the Offering, the Company has been a single-member, manager-managed limited liability company and operated as a closely held business.

Damage to our reputation could negatively impact our business, financial condition and results of operations. Our reputation and the quality of our brand are critical to our business and success in existing markets, and will be critical to our success as we enter into new markets. We believe that we have built our reputation on the high quality of our food and service, and our commitment to our customers, and we must protect and grow the value of our brand in order for us to continue to be successful. Any incident that erodes consumer loyalty for our brand could significantly reduce its value and damage our business.

We may be adversely affected by any negative publicity, regardless of its accuracy. Ultimately, the risks associated with any such negative publicity or incorrect information, whether disseminated through social media platforms or similar devices, including weblogs (blogs), social media websites and other forms of Internet-based communications, that provide individuals with access to a broad audience of consumers and other interested persons cannot be completely eliminated or mitigated and may materially harm our reputation, business, financial condition and results of operations.

Shortages or interruptions in the supply or delivery of food products could adversely affect our operating results.

We are dependent on frequent deliveries of food products that meet our specifications. Shortages or interruptions in the supply or delivery to our customers of our food products caused by problems in distribution, inclement weather, unanticipated demand or other conditions could adversely affect the availability, quality and cost of our products, which would adversely affect our operating results.

We have a limited number of suppliers for our major products and rely on only a few distribution companies for the majority of our deliveries. If our suppliers or distributors are unable to fulfill their obligations under our arrangements with them, we could encounter supply shortages or failed deliveries and incur higher costs. We have a limited number of suppliers for our major products, including live Maine lobster, lobster tails, lobster value-add products. In fiscal 2017, we purchased all of our (i) lobster and seafood from 2 suppliers. Due to this concentration of suppliers, the cancellation of our supply arrangements with these suppliers or the disruption, delay or inability of these suppliers to provide these major products to our distributors for delivery to our customers may materially and adversely affect our results of operations while we establish alternative supply channels. In addition, if our suppliers fail to comply with food safety or other laws and regulations, or face allegations of non-compliance, their operations may be disrupted. We cannot assure you that we would be able to find replacement suppliers on commercially reasonable terms or a timely basis, if at all. Although we believe that alternative supply and distribution sources are available, there can be no assurance that we will continue to be able to identify or negotiate with such sources on terms that are commercially reasonable to us. If our suppliers or distributors are unable to fulfill their obligations under their contracts or we are unable to identify alternative sources, we could encounter supply shortages and incur higher costs, each of which could have a material adverse effect on our results of operations.

Security breaches of confidential customer information, in connection with our electronic processing of credit and debit card transactions, may adversely affect our business. Our business requires the collection, transmission and retention of large volumes of customer data, including credit and debit card numbers and other personally identifiable information, in various information technology systems that we maintain and in those maintained by third parties with whom we contract to provide services. The integrity and protection of that customer data is critical to us. Further, our customers have a high expectation that we and our service providers will adequately protect their personal information. A significant theft, loss or misappropriation of, or access to, customers' or other proprietary data or other breach of our information technology systems could result in fines, legal claims or proceedings, including regulatory investigations and actions, or liability for failure to comply with privacy and information security laws, which could disrupt our operations, damage our reputation and expose us to claims from customers, any of which could have a material adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

Increased food commodity and energy costs could decrease our operating profit margins or cause us to limit or otherwise modify our product selection, which could adversely affect our business. Our profitability depends in part on our ability to anticipate and react to changes in the price and availability of food commodities, including among other things live lobster and frozen seafood. Prices may be affected due to market changes, increased competition, the general risk of inflation, shortages or interruptions in supply due to weather, disease or other conditions beyond our control, or other reasons. These events, combined with other more general economic and demographic conditions, could impact our pricing and negatively affect our sales and operating profit margins.

Prior to the closing, the Company has been a single member limited liability company with its founder as its manager, and has not therefore benefited from the critical role a board of directors can play in effective risk oversight. To date the Company has not yet formed a board of directors as it has been a single member limited liability company with its founder as its manager. Although the Company is not legally required to have a board of directors to oversee the management of the Company, boards also play a critical role in effective risk oversight. A board helps ensure that management's actions are consistent with corporate strategy, reflective of the culture of the business, and in line with the organization's risk tolerance. The Company, however, will have a board of directors in place on the closing pursuant to the terms of its LLC agreement.

Concentration of risk. Financial instruments that potentially subject the Company to credit risk consist of cash and cash equivalents. The Company places its cash and cash equivalents with a limited number of high quality financial institutions and at times may exceed the amount of insurance provided on such deposits.

Taxation as Partnership. The Company has been formed so as to qualify and will be treated as a partnership for federal income tax purposes and in becoming a member of the Company you will agree not to take any action inconsistent with the Company's classification as a partnership for federal income tax purposes. The Company will not be operated or treated, however, as a "partnership" for purposes of Section 303 of the United States Bankruptcy Code, 11 U.S.C. §101, et seq. The classification of the Company as a partnership applies only for federal and, as applicable, state and local, income tax purposes, and its characterization as such, solely for tax purposes, does not create or imply a general partnership or mutual agency between the Members for state law or any other purpose. Instead, the Members acknowledge the status of the Company as a limited liability company formed under the Maine Limited Liability Company Act.

Although the Company's equity as of the Closing will be divided into classes named Series Seed Preferred Stock, Common Stock, and Subordinated Stock, such classes are equity interests or membership interests in a limited liability company rather than a corporation and upon your subscription of Series Seed Preferred Stock pursuant to a Subscription Agreement you will become a member of the Company, which, as discussed above, is taxed as a partnership rather than a stockholder of equity interests in a corporation, which equity interests are commonly referred to as stock.

Risks Related to the Securities

The Series Seed Preferred Stock will not be freely tradable until one year from the initial purchase date. Although the Series Seed Preferred Stock may be tradable under federal securities law, state securities regulations may apply and each Purchaser should consult with his or her attorney. You should be aware of the long-term nature of this investment. There is not now and likely will not be a public market for the Series Seed Preferred Stock. Because the Series Seed Preferred Stock have not been registered under the 1933 Act or under the securities laws of any state or non-United States jurisdiction, the Series Seed Preferred Stock have transfer restrictions and cannot be resold in the United States except pursuant to Rule 501 of Regulation D. It is not currently contemplated that registration under the 1933 Act or other securities laws will be effected. Limitations on the transfer of the Series Seed Preferred Stock may also adversely affect the price that you might be able to obtain for the Series Seed Preferred Stock in a private sale. Purchasers should be aware of the long-term nature of their investment in the Company. Each Purchaser in this Offering will be required to represent that it is purchasing the Securities for its own account, for investment purposes and not with a view to resale or distribution thereof.

The founder of the Company beneficially owns substantially all of its equity. Prior to the Offering the Company's founder, Mark Murrell, beneficially owns 96% of the Company's outstanding Membership Interests. Subject to any fiduciary duties owed to our other owners or investors under Maine law, the Founder may be able to exercise significant influence over matters requiring owner approval, including the election of directors or managers and approval of significant Company transactions, and will have significant control over the Company's management and policies. The Founder may have interests that are different than yours. For example, the Founder may support proposals and actions with which you may disagree. The concentration of ownership could delay or prevent a change in control of the Company or otherwise discourage a potential acquirer from attempting to obtain control of the Company, which in turn could reduce the price potential investors are willing to pay for the Company. In addition, the Founder could use his voting influence to maintain the Company's existing management, delay or prevent changes in control of the Company, or support or reject other management and board proposals that are subject to owner approval.

Your ownership of the shares of preferred stock may be subject to dilution. Non-Major Purchasers (as defined below) of preferred stock do not have preemptive rights. If the Company conducts subsequent offerings of preferred stock or Securities convertible into preferred stock, issues shares pursuant to a compensation or distribution reinvestment plan or otherwise issues additional shares, investors who purchase shares in this Offering who do not participate in those other stock issuances will experience dilution in their percentage ownership of the Company's outstanding shares. Furthermore, Purchasers may experience a dilution in the value of their shares depending on the terms and pricing of any future share issuances (including the shares being sold in this Offering) and the value of the Company's assets at the time of issuance.

You will be bound by an investor proxy agreement, which limits your voting rights. All Non-Major Purchasers of Series Seed Preferred Stock will be bound by an investor proxy agreement. This agreement will limit your voting rights and at a later time may require you to convert your future preferred shares into common shares without your consent. Non-Major Purchasers will be bound by this agreement, unless Non-Major Purchasers holding a majority of the principal amount outstanding of the Series Seed Preferred Stock held by Non-Major Purchasers vote to terminate the agreement.

The Securities will be equity interests in the Company and will not constitute indebtedness. The Securities will rank junior to all existing and future indebtedness and other non-equity claims on the Company with respect to assets available to satisfy claims on the Company, including in a liquidation of the Company. Additionally, unlike indebtedness, for which principal and interest would customarily be payable on specified due dates, there will be no specified payments of dividends with respect to the Securities and dividends are payable only if, when and as authorized and declared by the Company and depend on, among other matters, the Company's historical and projected results of operations, liquidity, cash flows, capital levels, financial condition, debt service requirements and other cash needs, financing covenants, applicable state law, federal and state regulatory prohibitions and other restrictions and any other factors the Company's board of directors deems relevant at the time. In addition, the terms of the Securities will not limit the amount of debt or other obligations the Company may incur in the future. Accordingly, the Company may incur substantial amounts of additional debt and other obligations that will rank senior to the Securities.

There can be no assurance that we will ever provide liquidity to Purchasers through either a sale of the Company or a registration of the Securities. There can be no assurance that any form of merger, combination, or sale of the Company will take place, or that any merger, combination, or sale would provide liquidity for Purchasers. Furthermore, we may be unable to register the Securities for resale by Purchasers for legal, commercial, regulatory, market-related or other reasons. In the event that we are unable to effect a registration, Purchasers could be unable to sell their Securities unless an exemption from registration is available.

The Company does not anticipate paying any cash dividends or distributions for the foreseeable future, other than tax distributions. The Company currently intends to retain future earnings, if any, for the foreseeable future, to repay indebtedness and to support its business. The Company does not intend in the foreseeable future to pay any dividends or make any distributions to holders of its shares of Preferred Stock, other than quarterly distributions to cover your estimated tax liability.

Any valuation at this stage is difficult to assess. Unlike listed companies that are valued publicly through market-driven stock prices, the valuation of private companies, especially startups, is difficult to assess and you may risk overpaying for your investment. In addition, there may be additional classes of equity with rights that are superior to the class of equity being sold.

We have broad discretion in the use of the net proceeds from this Offering and may not use them effectively. Our management will have broad discretion in use of the net proceeds from this Offering, including for any of the purposes described in "Use of Proceeds." Accordingly, you will have to rely upon the judgment of our management with respect to the use of the proceeds, with only limited information concerning management's specific intentions. Our management may cause the Company to spend a portion or all of the net proceeds from this Offering in ways that our members may not desire or that may not yield a favorable return. The failure by our management to cause the Company to apply these funds effectively could harm our business. Pending their use, the Company may invest the net proceeds from this Offering in a manner that does not produce income or that loses value.

BUSINESS

Description of the Business

Online purveyor of Maine lobster and seafood, delivered direct-to-consumer.

Business Plan

After serving over a quarter of a million meals, we are experts in the highly perishable food business. We are obsessed with delivering our wild-caught experience to every doorstep in America.

In the past year there has been a 30% increase in seafood consumption by millennials and 70% have switched to a healthier diet. According to Technomic Surveys, 71% are more interested in where their foods come from and how it is grown or produced. We're excited to deliver our experience from dock to doorstep as more and more people seek lobster and seafood as their healthy protein of choice.

Our passion is to perfect how people discover, acquire, and experience highly perishable proteins. Today, there is fear and stigma surrounding the acquisition and preparation of fresh seafood. This is also the case with many other highly sought after proteins and it prevents a large number of people from experiencing tastes and foods that they are not familiar with. We have worked tirelessly to make these proteins not only easier to acquire but more approachable and enjoyable for the whole family.

We are continuously evolving in delivering an exceptional experience from the first "click" to the last dish. Not only do we strive to get our customers the best quality product from the best source, but we have even been known to work directly with our customers to teach them how to best prepare their gourmet proteins.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Please see the financial information listed on the cover page of this Form C and attached hereto in addition to the following information. Financial statements are attached hereto as Exhibit B.

Holdings is taxed as an S corporation. In September 2016, primarily for tax reasons, to accommodate an investment, the business was restructured as a limited liability company with Holdings as its sole member and the Founder as its manager. In connection with the restructuring, Holdings contributed all of its assets, including all of its contractual rights, to the Company, in exchange for 100% of the membership interests in the Company.

Following the restructuring, although all of Holdings' contractual rights had been contributed to the Company, vendors and other third parties continued to make payments to Holdings' accounts. Because the Company was a single member limited liability company, for tax purposes, it was disregarded, and only Holdings has filed tax returns. As a result, the Company's consolidated financials set forth herein include all payments made to and by Holdings on behalf of the Company since the restructuring.

Prior to the closing of this Offering, the Company and Holdings are taking steps to ensure that all future payments are properly paid to Company accounts rather than Holdings accounts.

In reviewing the Company's financials, investors should consider that even after the restructuring described above the following payments and deposits earned by the Company were paid or deposited to Holdings' accounts:

- All payments made by third party sellers such as Groupon, Amazon, and Ebay.
- All payments made by the Company's customers to Holdings' American Express merchant account.
- All so-called "remote deposits:" checks deposited into Holdings' bank account.

In addition to payments and deposits made to Holdings accounts that should have been paid or deposited into Company accounts, the following is a list of Company liabilities that were paid by Holdings:

- Loan payments
- Interest payments on loans
- UPS shipping payments
- Product payments to vendors and other third parties
- Contractor payments
- Miscellaneous operational costs

Operations

Since December 31, 2017, the Company has paid off certain high interest debt and taken deliberate actions to reduce expenses in its supply chain and increase its revenue. In the 12 months after receiving funding, the Company intends to return to and grow profitability by continuing to identify measures to reduce expenses in our supply chain and to increase our revenue.

Accounts Payable

Accounts payable comprises of current portions of outstanding debt and a credit card balance. The balance of the credit card is $44,504.40, with an interest rate of 16.74%.

Note Receivable

Note Receivable includes $196,565 due from related party, Mark Murrell and other shareholders. Mark is the founder and owner of 96% of the outstanding stock of Holdings, and Holdings is the sole member of the Company.

Revenue

The Company recognizes revenue when persuasive evidence of an arrangement exists, delivery has occurred, or services have been rendered, the fee for the arrangement is fixed or determinable and collectability is reasonably assured.

Income Taxes

Holdings applies ASC 740 Income Taxes (“ASC 740”). Deferred income taxes are recognized for the tax consequences in future years of differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their financial statement reported amounts at each period end, based on enacted tax laws and statutory tax rates applicable to the periods in which the differences are expected to affect taxable income.

Valuation allowances are established, when necessary, to reduce deferred tax assets to the amount expected to be realized. The provision for income taxes represents the tax expense for the period, if any and the change during the period in deferred tax assets and liabilities. ASC 740 also provides criteria for the recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosure of uncertain tax positions. A tax benefit from an uncertain position is recognized only if it is “more likely than not” that the position is sustainable upon examination by the relevant taxing authority based on its technical merit.

Holdings is subject to tax filing requirements as a corporation in the federal jurisdiction of the United States. Holdings sustained net operating losses during fiscal years 2016 and 2017. Net operating losses will be carried forward to reduce taxable income in future years. Due to management’s uncertainty as to the timing and valuation of any benefits associated with the net operating loss carryforwards, the Company has elected not to recognize an allowance to account for them in the financial statements. Net operating losses expire if unused after twenty tax years. Holdings’ federal tax filings for 2015, 2016, and 2017 will remain subject to review by the Internal Revenue Service until 2019, 2020, and 2021, respectively.

For the years ended December 31, 2017 and 2016, Black Point Seafood, LLC was a disregarded entity for federal income tax purposes.

The Company is subject to income tax filing requirements in the State of Maine. The Company’s tax filings in the State of Maine for 2015, 2016, and 2017 remain subject to review by that State until 2020 and 2021, respectively.

Holdings is subject to the income tax filing requirements in the State of Florida. Holdings’ tax filings in the State of Florida for 2015, 2016, and 2017 remain subject to review by that State until 2019, 2020, and 2021, respectively.

Upon the closing of the Offering, as described in “Taxation as a Partnership” above, the Company will be treated as a partnership for federal income tax purposes and in becoming a member of the Company you will agree not to take any action inconsistent with the Company’s classification as a partnership for federal income tax purposes. The classification of the Company as a partnership applies only for federal and, as applicable, state and local, income tax purposes, and its characterization as such, solely for tax purposes, does not create or imply a general partnership or mutual agency between the Members for state law or any other purpose.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

The proceeds from the Offering are essential to our operations. We plan to use the proceeds as set forth above under “Use of Proceeds”, which is an indispensable element of our business strategy. The Offering proceeds will have a beneficial effect on our liquidity, as we have approximately $93,855.65 in cash on hand as of 7/31/2018 which will be augmented by the Offering proceeds and used to execute our business strategy.

The Company currently does not have any additional outside sources of capital other than the proceeds from the Combined Offerings.

Capital Expenditures and Other Obligations

The Company does not intend to make any material capital expenditures in the future.

Trends and Uncertainties

After reviewing the above discussion of the steps the Company intends to take, potential Purchasers should consider whether achievement of each step within the estimated time frame is realistic in their judgment. Potential Purchasers should also assess the consequences to the Company of any delays in taking these steps and whether the Company will need additional financing to accomplish them.

The financial statements are an important part of this Form C and should be reviewed in their entirety. The financial statements of the Company are attached hereto as Exhibit B.

Valuation

Based on the Offering price of the Securities, the pre-Offering value ascribed to the Company is $9,000,000.

Before making an investment decision, you should carefully consider this valuation and the factors used to reach such valuation. Such valuation may not be accurate and you are encouraged to determine your own independent value of the Company prior to investing.

As discussed in "Dilution" below, the valuation will determine the amount by which the investor's stake is diluted immediately upon investment. An early-stage company typically sells its shares (or grants options over its shares) to its founders and early employees at a very low cash cost, because they are, in effect, putting their "sweat equity" into the Company. When the Company seeks cash investments from outside investors, like you, the new investors typically pay a much larger sum for their shares than the founders or earlier investors, which means that the cash value of your stake is immediately diluted because each share of the same type is worth the same amount, and you paid more for your shares (or the notes convertible into shares) than earlier investors did for theirs.

There are several ways to value a company. None of them is perfect and all of them involve a certain amount of guesswork. The same method can produce a different valuation if used by a different person.

Liquidation Value - The amount for which the assets of the Company can be sold, minus the liabilities owed, e.g., the assets of a bakery include the cake mixers, ingredients, baking tins, etc. The liabilities of a bakery include the cost of rent or mortgage on the bakery. However, this value does not reflect the potential value of a business, e.g. the value of the secret recipe. The value for most startups lies in their potential, as many early stage companies do not have many assets (they probably need to raise funds through a securities offering in order to purchase some equipment).

Book Value - This is based on analysis of the Company's financial statements, usually looking at the Company's balance sheet as prepared by its accountants. However, the balance sheet only looks at costs (i.e. what was paid for the asset), and does not consider whether the asset has increased in value over time. In addition, some intangible assets, such as patents, trademarks or trade names, are very valuable but are not usually represented at their market value on the balance sheet.

Earnings Approach - This is based on what the investor will pay (the present value) for what the investor expects to obtain in the future (the future return), taking into account inflation, the lost opportunity to participate in other investments, the risk of not receiving the return. However, predictions of the future are uncertain and valuation of future returns is a best guess.

Different methods of valuation produce a different answer as to what your investment is worth. Typically liquidation value and book value will produce a lower valuation than the earnings approach. However, the earnings approach is also most likely to be risky as it is based on many assumptions about the future, while the liquidation value and book value are much more conservative.

Future investors (including people seeking to acquire the Company) may value the Company differently. They may use a different valuation method, or different assumptions about the Company's business and its market. Different valuations may mean that the value assigned to your investment changes. It frequently happens that when a large institutional investor such as a venture capitalist makes an investment in a company, it values the Company at a lower price than the initial investors did. If this happens, the value of the investment will go down.

If in the next financing the Company undertakes to provide for more favorable provisions (e.g., registration rights, rights of co-sale, etc.), holders of Series Seed Preferred Stock will be entitled to substantially similar provisions. All Non-Major Purchasers of Series Seed Preferred Stock will be bound by an investor proxy agreement. This agreement will limit your voting rights and at a later time may require you to convert your future preferred shares into common shares without your consent. Non-Major Purchasers will be bound by this agreement, unless Non-Major Purchasers holding a majority of the principal amount outstanding of the Series Seed Preferred Stock held by Non-Major Purchasers vote to terminate the agreement.

Subordinated Stock

The Company is authorized to issue Subordinated Stock to directors, employees, consultants or other service providers of the Company (collectively, “Service Providers”). The Board of Directors is authorized to adopt a written plan pursuant to which all Subordinated Stock will be granted in compliance with Rule 701 of the Securities Act or another applicable exemption. Unless otherwise set forth in an award agreement between a Service Provider and the Company, with the exception of liquidation preference described above granted to holders of Series Seed Preferred Stock, whenever rights are granted to holders of Common Stock, those rights are deemed to include the holders of Subordinated Stock.

In each award agreement that the Company enters into with a Service Provider for the issuance of shares of Subordinated Stock, the Board of Directors will include an appropriate Subordinated Stock Liquidation Hurdle for the shares of Subordinated Stock. The “Subordinated Stock Liquidation Hurdle” means an amount set forth in each award agreement reflecting the amount per share of Common Stock that would be distributed to the holders of Common Stock if, immediately prior to the issuance of the relevant new shares of Subordinated Stock, the Company sold all of its assets for their fair market value and immediately liquidated, the Company’s debts and liabilities were satisfied and the proceeds of the liquidation were distributed in liquidation. A Holder of Subordinated Stock will have no right to liquidation distributions until an amount equal to the Subordinated Stock Liquidation Hurdle has been distributed to all other holders at the time of any such distribution.

Each share of Subordinated Stock will constitute a “profits interest” in the Company within the meaning of Rev. Proc. 93-27, and all shares of Subordinated Stock received by a Service Provider will be granted in exchange for the provision of services by the Service Provider to or for the benefit of the Company in a Service Provider capacity or in anticipation of becoming a Service Provider. The Company and each Service Provider who receives Subordinated Stock will agree to comply with the provisions of Rev. Proc. 2001-43, and neither the Company nor any Service Provider who receives Subordinated Stock may perform any act or take any position inconsistent with the application of Rev. Proc. 2001-43 or any future Internal Revenue Service guidance or other governmental authority that supplements or supersedes the foregoing Revenue Procedures.

Capitalization as of the Closing

The authorized capital of the Company, as of the Initial Closing for which $1,000,000 is subscribed (a “Fully-Subscribed Offer”), will consist of:

- (a) 13,500,000 shares of Common Stock, 7,897,032 shares of which will be issued and outstanding and held by Holdings;
- (b) 1,500,000 shares of Subordinated Stock, none of which will be issued and outstanding immediately prior to any Fully-Subscribed Offering; the Company has reserved 1,102,968 shares of such authorized shares of Subordinated Stock for issuance to the Company's officers, directors, employees and consultants pursuant to arrangements, contracts or plans approved by the Company's Board of Directors;
- (c) 2,500,000 Series Seed Preferred Stock, approximately 2,029,688 of which will be issued and outstanding in the event of Fully-Subscribed Offering, including 1,242,188 of which that will be issued to the holders of the Convertible Promissory Notes described above in connection with the conversion of the principal balance of such notes and certain of the interest accrued thereon.

What it means to be a minority holder

As an investor in Series Seed Preferred Stock of the Company, your rights will be more limited than the rights of the holders of common stock who control the Company in regards to the corporate actions of the Company, including additional issuances of securities, Company repurchases of securities, a sale of the Company or its significant assets, or Company transactions with related parties. Even if your securities convert to common stock of the Company, investors in this offering will hold minority interests, potentially with rights less than those of other investors, and will have limited influence on the corporate actions of the Company.

Dilution

Even once the Series Seed Preferred Stock convert into common equity securities, the investor's stake in the Company could be diluted due to the Company issuing additional shares. In other words, when the Company issues more shares (or additional equity interests), the percentage of the Company that you own will go down, even though the value of the Company may go up. You will own a smaller piece of a larger company. This increase in number of shares outstanding could result from a stock offering (such as an initial public offering, another crowdfunding round, a venture capital round or angel investment), employees exercising stock options, or by conversion of certain instruments (e.g. convertible bonds, preferred shares or warrants) into stock.

If a company decides to issue more shares, an investor could experience value dilution, with each share being worth less than before, and control dilution, with the total percentage an investor owns being less than before. There may also be earnings dilution, with a reduction in the amount earned per share (though this typically occurs only if the company offers dividends, and most early stage companies are unlikely to offer dividends, preferring to invest any earnings into the company).

The type of dilution that hurts early-stage investors mostly occurs when a company sells more shares in a "down round," meaning at a lower valuation than in earlier offerings. An example of how this might occur is as follows (numbers are for illustrative purposes only):

- In June 2014 Jane invests $20,000 for shares that represent 2% of a company valued at $1 million.
- In December, the company is doing very well and sells $5 million in shares to venture capitalists on a valuation (before the new investment) of $10 million. Jane now owns only 1.3% of the company but her stake is worth $200,000.
- In June 2015 the company has run into serious problems and in order to stay afloat it raises $1 million at a valuation of only $2 million (the "down round"). Jane now owns only 0.89% of the company and her stake is worth only $26,660.

This type of dilution might also happen upon conversion of convertible notes into shares. Typically, the terms of convertible notes issued by early-stage companies provide that in the event of another round of financing, the holders of the convertible notes get to convert their notes into equity at a "discount" to the price paid by the new investors, i.e., they get more shares than the new investors would for the same price. Additionally, convertible notes may have a "price cap" on the conversion price, which effectively acts as a share price ceiling. Either way, the holders of the convertible notes get more shares for their money than new investors. In the event that the financing is a "down round" the holders of the convertible notes will dilute existing equity holders, and even more than the new investors do, because they get more shares for their money.

If you are making an investment expecting to own a certain percentage of the Company or expecting each share to hold a certain amount of value, it's important to realize how the value of those shares can decrease by actions taken by the Company. Dilution can make drastic changes to the value of each share, ownership percentage, voting control, and earnings per share.

Tax Matters

Introduction

The following is a discussion of certain material aspects of the U.S. federal income taxation of the Company and its members that should be considered by a potential purchaser of Series Seed Preferred Stock. A complete discussion of all tax aspects of an investment in the Company is beyond the scope of this Form C. The following discussion is only intended to identify and discuss certain salient issues. In view of the complexities of U.S. federal and other income tax laws applicable to limited liability companies, partnerships and securities transactions, a prospective investor is urged to consult with and rely solely upon his tax advisors to understand fully the federal, state, local and foreign tax consequences to that investor of such an investment based on that investor's particular facts and circumstances.

This discussion assumes a closing of the Offering and that a holder holds his or its Series Seed Preferred Stock as capital assets with the meaning of the Code. This discussion does not address all aspects of U.S. federal taxation that may be relevant to a particular holder in light of the holder's individual investment or tax circumstances. In addition, this discussion does not address (i) state, local or non-U.S. tax consequences, (ii) any withholding taxes that may be required to be withheld by the Company with respect to any holder of Series Seed Preferred Stock or (iii) the special tax rules that may apply to certain holders, including, without limitation:

- insurance companies;
- tax-exempt organizations (except to the limited extent discussed in "Unrelated Business Taxable Income for Tax-Exempt Members" below);
- financial institutions or broker-dealers;
- Non-U.S. holders (as defined below);
- U.S. expatriates;
- subchapter S corporations;
- U.S. holders whose functional currency is not the U.S. dollar;
- regulated investment companies and REITs;
- trusts and estates;
- persons subject to the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Code; and
- persons holding Series Seed Preferred Stock through a partnership or similar pass-through entity.

This discussion is based on current provisions of the Code, final, temporary and proposed U.S. Treasury Regulations, judicial opinions, and published positions of the IRS, all in effect as of the date hereof and all of which are subject to differing interpretation or changes, possibly with retroactive effect. The Manager has not sought, and will not seek, any ruling from the IRS or any opinion of counsel with respect to the tax consequences discussed herein, and there can be no assurance the IRS will not take a position contrary to the tax consequences discussed herein or that any position taken by the IRS would not be sustained.

As used in this discussion, the term "U.S. holder" means a person that is, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, (i) an individual citizen or resident of the U.S., (ii) a corporation (or other entity treated as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes) created or organized in the U.S. or under the laws of the U.S., any state thereof, or the District of Columbia, (iii) an estate the income of which is subject to U.S. federal income taxation regardless of its source, or (iv) a trust if (a) a court within the U.S. is able to exercise primary supervision over the administration of the trust, or (b) it has in effect a valid election to be treated as a U.S. holder. As used in this discussion, the term "non-U.S. holder" means a beneficial owner of Series Seed Preferred Stock (other than a partnership or other entity treated as a partnership or as a disregarded entity for U.S. federal income tax purposes) that is not a U.S. holder.

The tax treatment of a partnership and each partner thereof will generally depend upon the status and activities of the partnership and such partner. A holder of Series Seed Preferred Stock that is treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes should consult its own tax advisor regarding the U.S. federal income tax considerations applicable to it and its partners.

This discussion is only a summary of material U.S. federal income tax consequences of the Offering. Each prospective Purchaser urged to consult with his or its own tax advisors with respect to the particular tax consequences to him or it of the Offering, including the effect of any federal tax laws other than income tax laws, any state, local, or non-U.S. tax laws and any applicable tax treaty. The summary of certain income tax considerations applicable to the Company and its members is considered to be a correct interpretation of existing laws and regulations in force on the date of this Form C. No assurance can be given that changes in existing laws or regulations will not occur after the date of this Form C or that such guidance or interpretation will not be applied retroactively.

Classification as a Partnership

Under the Code and Treasury Regulations promulgated thereunder (the “Regulations”), as in effect on the date of this Form C, including the “check the box” entity classification Regulations, a U.S. entity with more than one member that is not automatically classified as a corporation under the Regulations is treated as a partnership for tax purposes, subject to the possible application of the publicly traded partnership rules discussed below. Accordingly, the Company should be treated as a partnership for tax purposes, unless it files a “check the box” election to be treated as a corporation for tax purposes. The Company does not intend to file a “check the box” election to treat the Company as a corporation for tax purposes. Thus, so long as the Company complies with the LLC Agreement, the Company should be treated as a partnership for tax purposes, subject to the special rules for certain publicly traded partnerships described below. If it were determined that the Company should be classified as an association taxable as a corporation (as a result of changed interpretations or administrative positions by the IRS or otherwise), the taxable income of the Company would be subject to corporate income taxation when recognized by the Company, and distributions from the Company to its members would be treated as dividend income when received by the members to the extent of the current accumulated earnings and profits of the Company.

Even with the “check the box” Regulations, certain limited liability companies may be taxable as corporations for U.S. federal income tax purposes under the publicly traded partnership (“PTP”) rules set forth in the Code and the Regulations.

Code section 7704 treats publicly traded partnerships that engage in active business activities as corporations for federal income tax purposes. Publicly traded partnerships include those whose interests (a) are traded on an established securities market (including the over-the-counter market), or (b) are readily tradable on a secondary market or the substantial equivalent thereof. The Manager believes that interests in the Company will not be traded on an established securities market. The Manager also believes that interests in the Company probably should not be deemed to be readily tradable on a secondary market or the substantial equivalent thereof. However, there can be no assurance that the Internal Revenue Service (the “IRS”) would not successfully challenge these positions.

Code section 7704(c) provides an exception from the treatment as a PTP for partnerships 90% or more of the income of which is certain passive-type income, including interest, dividend and capital gain income from the disposition of property held to produce dividend or interest income. The Company does not expect to meet this test.

Even if the Company has 10% or more of its income in a year from income that does not qualify as passive-type income, the Company may not be treated as a PTP under Code section 7704 by virtue of certain safe harbors from such treatment provided in the Regulations. The failure to meet the safe-harbor requirements does not necessarily result in the Company being classified as a PTP. One safe-harbor rule provides that interests in a partnership will not be considered readily tradable on a secondary market or the substantial equivalent thereof if (a) all interests in the partnership were issued in a transaction (or transactions) that was not registered under the Securities Act and (b) the partnership does not have more than 100 partners at any time during the taxable year of the partnership. The Series Seed Preferred Stock will not be registered under the Securities Act. Generally, an entity that owns Series Seed Preferred Stock is treated as only 1 partner in determining whether there are 100 or more partners. However, all of the owners of an entity that is a pass-through vehicle for tax purposes and that invests in a partnership are counted as partners if substantially all of such entity’s value is attributable to its interest in the partnership, and a principal purpose of the tiered structure is to avoid the 100-partner limitation. The Company may not comply with the safe-harbor if the Company admits more than 100 Members.

Even if the Company exceeds 100 Members and thus does not qualify for this safe-harbor, the LLC Agreement contains provisions restricting transfers and withdrawals of Series Seed Preferred Stock and Common Stock that may cause the Series Seed Preferred Stock or Common Stock to be treated as not being tradable on the substantial equivalent of a secondary market.

Taxation of Operations

Assuming the Company is classified as a partnership and not an association taxable as a corporation, the Company is not itself subject to U.S. federal income tax but will file an annual information return with the IRS. Each member (holder of Series Seed Preferred Stock) is required to report separately on his income tax return his distributive share of the Company’s net long-term and short-term capital gain or losses, ordinary income, deductions and credits. The Company may produce short-term and long-term capital gains (or losses), as well as ordinary income (or loss). The Company will send annually to each holder of Series Seed Preferred Stock a form showing his distributive share of the Company's items of income, gains, losses, deductions, and credits.

Each holder of Series Seed Preferred Stock or Common Stock will be subject to tax, and liable for such tax, on his distributive share of the Company's taxable income and loss regardless of whether the Member has received or will receive any distribution of cash from the Company. Thus, in any particular year, a Member's distributive share of taxable income from the Company (and, possibly, the taxes imposed on that income) could exceed the amount of cash, if any, such holder receives or is entitled to withdraw from the Company.

Under Section 704 of the Code, the holder's distributive share of any item of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit is governed by the LLC Agreement unless the allocations provided by the LLC Agreement do not have "substantial economic effect." The Regulations promulgated under Section 704(b) of the Code provide certain "safe harbors" with respect to allocations which, under the Regulations, will be deemed to have substantial economic effect. The validity of an allocation which does not satisfy any of the "safe harbors" of these Regulations is determined by taking into account all facts and circumstances relating to the economic arrangements among the holders. While no assurance can be given, the Manager believes that the allocations provided by the LLC Agreement should have substantial economic effect. However, if it were determined by the IRS or otherwise that the allocations provided in the LLC Agreement with respect to a particular item do not have substantial economic effect, each holder's distributive share of that item would be determined for tax purposes in accordance with the holder's interest in the Company, taking into account all facts and circumstances.

Distributions of cash and/or marketable securities which effect a return of a holder's capital contribution (i.e., his investment in the Company) or which are distributions of previously taxed income or gain, to the extent they do not exceed a holder's basis in his interest in the Company, should not result in taxable income to that holder, but will reduce the holder's tax basis in his Series Seed Preferred Stock or Common Stock by the amount distributed or withdrawn. Cash distributed to a holder in excess of the basis in his Series Seed Preferred Stock or Common Stock is generally taxable either as a capital gain, or ordinary income, depending on the circumstances. A distribution of property other than cash generally will not result in taxable income or loss to the holder to whom it is distributed.

Information will be provided to holders so that they can report their income from the Company.

Taxation of Interests – Deductions of Losses; Limitations on Losses and Deductions

Deduction of Losses. Each holder of Series Seed Preferred Stock may deduct his allocable share of the Company's losses, if any, subject to the basis limitations of Code section 704(d), the "at risk" rules of Code section 465, and the "passive activity loss" rules of Code section 469. Unused losses generally may be carried forward indefinitely. The use of tax losses generated by the Company against other income may not provide a material benefit to holders who do not have taxable passive income from other passive activities.

20% Deduction of Pass-Through Entities. Assuming the Company is classified as a partnership for Federal income tax purposes, holders of Series Seed Preferred Stock might be entitled to deduct up to 20% of the amount of taxable income and gains allocated to them by the Company. Holders should consult with their personal tax advisors concerning the availability of this deduction in their personal tax circumstances.

Limitation of Losses to Amount at Risk. In the case of certain taxpayers, Code section 465 limits the deductibility of losses from certain activities to the amount the taxpayer has "at risk" in the activities. A holder of Series Seed Preferred Stock subject to these rules will not be permitted to deduct his allocable share of the Company's losses to the extent the losses exceed the amount such holder is considered to have at risk in the Company. If a holder's at-risk amount should fall below zero, he would generally be required to "recapture" such amount by reporting additional income. A holder generally will be considered at risk to the extent of his cash contribution (i.e., the purchase price for Series Seed Preferred Stock), his basis in other contributed property, and his personal liability for repayments of borrowed amounts. The Investor's amount at risk will generally be increased by further contributions and his allocable share of the Company's income, and decreased by distributions he receives and his allocable share of the Company's losses. With respect to amounts borrowed for investment in the Company, a holder will not be considered to be at risk even if he is personally liable for repayment if the borrowing was from a person who has certain interests in the Company other than an interest as a creditor. In all events, a holder will not be treated as at risk to the extent his investment is protected against loss through guarantees, stop-loss agreements or other similar arrangements.

Limitation on Losses from Passive Activities. In the case of certain taxpayers, Code section 469 generally provides for a disallowance of any loss attributable to “passive activities” to the extent the aggregate losses from all such passive activities exceed the aggregate income of the taxpayer from such passive activities. Losses that are disallowed under these rules for a given tax year may be carried forward to future years to be offset against passive activity income in such future years. Furthermore, upon the disposition of a taxpayer’s entire interest in any passive activity, if all gain or loss realized on such disposition is recognized, and such disposition is not to a related party, any loss from such activity that was not previously allowed as a deduction and any loss from the activity for the current year is allowable as a deduction in such year, first against income or gain from the passive activity for the taxable year of disposition, including any gain recognized on the disposition, next against net income or gain for the taxable year from all passive activities and, finally, against any other income or gain.

The Company will be treated as a passive activity to holders of Series Seed Preferred Stock and Common Stock. Hence, holders generally will not be permitted to deduct their losses from the Company except to the extent they have income from other passive activities. Similarly, tax credits arising from passive activity will be available only to offset tax from passive activity. However, all such losses, to the extent previously disallowed, will generally be deductible in the year a holder disposes of his shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock in a taxable transaction.

Limitation on Capital Losses

A holder of Series Seed Preferred Stock who is an individual may deduct only $3,000 of net capital losses every year (that is, capital losses that exceed capital gains). Net capital losses in excess of $3,000 per year may generally be carried forward indefinitely.

Limitation on Investment Interest

Interest that is characterized as “investment interest” generally may be deducted only against investment income. Investment interest would include, for example, interest paid by a holder on a loan that was incurred to purchase Series Seed Preferred Stock and interest paid by the Company to finance investments, while investment income would include dividends and interest but would not generally include long term capital gain. Thus, it is possible that a holder would not be entitled to deduct all of his investment interest. Any investment interest that could not be deducted may generally be carried forward indefinitely.

Treatment of Liabilities

When the Company borrows money or otherwise incurs indebtedness, the amount of the liability will be allocated among all of the holders in the manner prescribed by the Regulations. In general (but not for purposes of the “at risk” rules) each holder will be treated as having contributed cash to the Company equal to his allocable share of all such liabilities. Conversely, when a holder’s share of liabilities is decreased (for example, if the Company repays loans or a holder disposes of his shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock) then the holder will be treated as having received a distribution of cash equal to the amount of such decrease.

Sale or Exchange of Series Seed Preferred Stock

In general, the sale of shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock by a holder will be treated as a sale of a capital asset. The amount of gain from such a sale generally will be equal to the difference between the selling price and the holder’s basis. Such gain will generally be eligible for favorable long-term capital gain treatment if the shares have been held for at least 12 months. However, to the extent any of the sale proceeds are attributable to substantially appreciated inventory items or unrealized receivables, as defined in Code section 751, the holder will recognize ordinary income.

If, as a result of a sale of shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock, a holder’s share of liabilities is reduced, such holder could recognize a tax liability greater than the amount of cash received in the sale.

Code Section 6050K requires any holder who transfers shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock at a time when the Company has unrealized receivables or substantially appreciated inventory items to report such transfer to the Company. For these purposes, “unrealized receivables” includes depreciation subject to “recapture” under Code section 1245 or Code section 1250. If so notified, the Company must report the identity of the transferor and transferee to the IRS, together with other information described in the Regulations. Failure by a holder to report a transfer covered by this provision may result in penalties.

A gift of shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock will be taxable if the donor-holder's share of liabilities is greater than his adjusted basis in the gifted shares. The gift could also give rise to Federal gift tax liability. If the gift is made as a charitable contribution, the donor-holder is likely to realize gain greater than would be realized with respect to a non-charitable gift, since in general the holder will not be able to offset the entire amount of his adjusted basis in the donated shares against the amount considered to be realized as a result of the gift (i.e., the Company's debt).

Transfer of shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock by reason of death would not in general be a taxable event, although it is possible that the IRS would treat such a transfer as taxable where the deceased holder's share of liabilities exceeds his pre-death basis in his shares. The deceased holder's transferee will get a basis in the shares equal to their fair market value at death (or, in certain circumstances, on the date six (6) months after death), increased by the transferee's share of liabilities. For this purpose, the fair market value will not include the decedent's share of Company taxable income to the extent attributable to the pre-death portion of the taxable year.

Treatment of Distributions

Upon the receipt of any distribution or cash or other property, including a distribution in liquidation of the Company, a holder of shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock generally will recognize income only to the extent that the amount of cash and marketable securities he receives exceeds his basis in the shares. Any such gain generally will be considered as gain from the sale of such shares.

Alternative Minimum Tax

The Code imposes an alternative minimum tax on individuals and corporations. Certain items of the Company's income and loss may be required to be taken into account in determining the alternative minimum tax liability of the holders of Series Seed Preferred Stock.

Taxable Year

The Company will report its income and losses using the calendar year. In general, each holder will report His share of income and losses for the taxable year of such holder that includes December 31st; i.e., the calendar year for individuals and other holders using the calendar year.

Section 754 Election

The Company may, but is not required to, make an election under Code section 754 on the sale of shares of Series Seed Preferred Stock or the death of a holder. The result of such an election is to increase or decrease the tax basis of the Company's assets for purposes of allocations made to the buyer or beneficiary that would, in turn, affect depreciation deductions and gain or loss on sale, among other items.

Unrelated Business Taxable Income for Tax-Exempt Investors

A church, charity, pension fund, or other entity that is otherwise exempt from Federal income tax, including without limitation Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs) must nevertheless pay tax on "unrelated business taxable income." In general, interest and gains from the sale of property (other than inventory) are not treated as unrelated business taxable income. However, interest and gains from property that was acquired in whole or in part with the proceeds of indebtedness may be treated as unrelated business taxable income. Because the Company may borrow additional funds in the future, some of the income of the Company could be subject to tax in the hands of tax-exempt entities.

Tax Returns and Tax Information; Audits; Penalties; Interest

The Company will furnish each holder of Series Seed Preferred Stock with the information needed to be included in his or its Federal income tax returns. Each holder will be personally responsible for preparing and filing all personal tax returns that may be required as a result of his or its purchase (or ownership) of Series Seed Preferred Stock. The Company's tax returns will be prepared by accountants selected by the Company.

If the Company's tax returns are audited, it is possible that substantial legal and accounting fees will have to be paid to substantiate the Company's reporting position on its returns and such fees would reduce the cash otherwise distributable to holders of Series Seed Preferred Stock. Such an audit may also result in adjustments to the Company's tax returns, which adjustments, in turn, would require an adjustment to each holder's personal tax return. An audit of the Company's tax returns may also result in an audit of non-Company items on each holder's personal tax returns, which could result in adjustments to such items. The Company is not obligated to contest adjustments proposed by the IRS.

Each holder must either report Company items on his or its tax return consistent with the treatment on the Company's information return or file a statement with his or its tax return identifying and explaining the inconsistency. Otherwise the IRS may treat such inconsistency as a computational error and re-compute and assess the tax without the usual procedural protections applicable to Federal income tax deficiency proceedings.

The Manager will be treated as the "tax matters partner" of the Company and will generally control all proceedings with the IRS.

The Code imposes interest and a variety of potential penalties on underpayments of tax.

Other Tax Consequences

The foregoing discussion addresses only selected issues involving Federal income taxes, and does not address the impact of other taxes on an investment in the Company, including Federal estate, gift, or generation-skipping taxes, or State and local income or inheritance taxes. You should consult your own tax advisor with respect to such matters.

EACH PROSPECTIVE PURCHASER SHOULD CONSULT WITH HIS OWN TAX AND ERISA ADVISOR AS TO THE PARTICULAR CONSEQUENCES TO THE PURCHASER OF THE PURCHASE, OWNERSHIP AND SALE OF THE PURCHASER'S SECURITIES, AS WELL AS POSSIBLE CHANGES IN THE TAX LAWS.

SEEDINVEST INVESTMENT PROCESS

Making an Investment in the Company

How does investing work?

When you complete your investment on SeedInvest, your money will be transferred to an escrow account where an independent escrow agent will watch over your investment until it is accepted by the Company. Once the Company accepts your investment, and certain regulatory procedures are completed, your money will be transferred from the escrow account to the Company in exchange for your Series Seed Preferred Stock. At that point, you will be an investor in the Company.

SeedInvest Regulation CF rules regarding the investment process:

- Investors may cancel an investment commitment until 48 hours prior to the deadline identified in the issuer’s Offering materials;
- The intermediary will notify investors when the target offering amount has been met;
- The Company is making concurrent offerings under both Regulation CF and Regulation D and unless the Company raises at least the target amount under the Regulation CF Offering and the closing amount under both offerings, it will not close this Offering;

What will I need to complete my investment?

To make an investment you will need the following information readily available:

1. Personal information such as your current address and phone number
2. Employment and employer information
3. Net worth and income information
4. Social Security Number or government-issued identification
5. ABA bank routing number and checking account number

What is the difference between preferred equity and a convertible note?

Preferred equity is usually issued to outside investors and carries rights and conditions that are different from that of common stock. For example, preferred equity may include rights that prevent or minimize the effects of dilution or grants special privileges in situations when the Company is sold.

A convertible note is a unique form of debt that converts into equity, usually in conjunction with a future financing round. The investor effectively loans money to the Company with the expectation that they will receive equity in the Company in the future at a discounted price per share when the Company raises its next round of financing. To learn more about startup investment types, check out "How to Choose a Startup Investment" in the SeedInvest Academy.

How much can I invest?

An investor is limited in the amount that he or she may invest in a Regulation Crowdfunding Offering during any 12-month period:

- If either the annual income or the net worth of the investor is less than $107,000, the investor is limited to the greater of $2,000 or 5% of the lesser of his or her annual income or net worth.
- If the annual income and net worth of the investor are both equal to or greater than $107,000, the investor is limited to 10% of the lesser of his or her annual income or net worth, to a maximum of $107,000. Separately, the Company has set a minimum investment amount.

How can I (or the Company) cancel my investment?

For Offerings made under Regulation Crowdfunding, you may cancel your investment at any time up to 48 hours before a closing occurs or an earlier date set by the Company. You will be sent a reminder notification approximately five days before the closing or set date giving you an opportunity to cancel your investment if you had not already done so. Once a closing occurs, and if you have not cancelled your investment, you will receive an email notifying you that your Securities have been issued. If you have already funded your investment, let SeedInvest know by emailing cancellations@seedinvest.com. Please include your name, the Company's name, the amount, the investment number, and the date you made your investment.

After My Investment

What is my ongoing relationship with the Company?

You are an investor in the Company, you do own securities after all! But more importantly, companies that have raised money via Regulation Crowdfunding must file information with the SEC and post it on their website on an annual basis. Receiving regular company updates is important to keep investors educated and informed about the progress of the Company and their investments. This annual report includes information similar to the Company's initial Form C filing and key information that a company will want to share with its investors to foster a dynamic and healthy relationship.

In certain circumstances a company may terminate its ongoing reporting requirements if:

- (1) the Company is required to file reports under Section 13(a) or Section 15(d) of the Exchange Act;
- (2) the Company has filed at least three annual reports pursuant to Regulation CF and has total assets that do not exceed $10,000,000;
- (3) the Company has filed at least one annual report pursuant to Regulation CF and has fewer than 300 holders of record;
- (4) the Company or another party repurchases all of the Securities issued in reliance on Section 4(a)(6) of the 1933 Act, including any payment in full of debt securities or any complete redemption of redeemable securities; or
- (5) the Company liquidates or dissolves its business in accordance with state law.

However, regardless of whether a company has terminated its ongoing reporting requirements per SEC rules, SeedInvest works with all companies on its platform to ensure that investors are provided quarterly updates. These quarterly reports will include information such as: (i) quarterly net sales, (ii) quarterly change in cash and cash on hand, (iii) material updates on the business, (iv) fundraising updates (any plans for next round, current round status, etc.), and (v) any notable press and news.

How do I keep track of this investment?

You can return to SeedInvest at any time to view your portfolio of investment and obtain a summary statement. In addition to monthly account statements, you may also receive periodic updates from the Company about its business.

Can I get rid of my Securities after buying them?

Securities purchased through a Regulation Crowdfunding Offering are not freely transferable for one year after the date of purchase, except in the case where they are transferred:

1. To the Company that sold the Securities
2. To an accredited investor
3. As part of an Offering registered with the SEC (think IPO)
4. To a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, to a trust controlled by the purchaser, to a trust created for the benefit of a member of the family of the purchaser, or in connection with the death or divorce of the purchaser

Regardless, after the one year holding period has expired, you should not plan on being able to readily transfer and/or sell your security. Currently, there is no market or liquidity for these Securities and the Company does not have any plans to list these Securities on an exchange or other secondary market. At some point the Company may choose to do so, but until then you should plan to hold your investment for a significant period of time before a "liquidation event" occurs.

BLACK POINT SEAFOOD, LLC
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (REVIEWED)
DECEMBER 31, 2017 AND 2016

NOTE A- ORGANIZATION AND NATURE OF ACTIVITIES

Black Point Seafood, LLC ("the Company") is a limited liability company organized under the laws of the State of Maine. The Company is an online food retailer for fresh lobster, beef products, and other gourmet dishes. These consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Holdings and the Company.

NOTE B- GOING CONCERN MATTERS

The financial statements have been prepared on the going concern basis, which assumes that the Company will continue in operation for the foreseeable future. However, management has identified the following conditions and events that created an uncertainty about the ability of the Company to continue as a going concern. The Company recorded net operating losses of $367,154 and $143,751 in 2017 and 2016, respectively.

The following describes management's plans that alleviated substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. The Company will conduct an equity crowdfund offering during fiscal year 2018. The Company paid off certain high interest debt during 2018, and took other deliberate actions to reduce expenses in its supply chain and to increase revenue. The Company's ability to meet its obligations as they become due is dependent upon the success of management's plans, as described above.

Income Taxes

Holdings applies ASC 740 Income Taxes ("ASC 740"). Deferred income taxes are recognized for the tax consequences in future years of differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their financial statement reported amounts at each period end, based on enacted tax laws and statutory tax rates applicable to the periods in which the differences are expected to affect taxable income. Valuation allowances are established, when necessary, to reduce deferred tax assets to the amount expected to be realized. The provision for income taxes represents the tax expense for the period, if any and the change during the period in deferred tax assets and liabilities. ASC 740 also provides criteria for the recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosure of uncertain tax positions. A tax benefit from an uncertain position is recognized only if it is "more likely than not" that the position is sustainable upon examination by the relevant taxing authority based on its technical merit.

Holdings is subject to tax filing requirements as a corporation in the federal jurisdiction of the United States. Holdings sustained net operating losses during fiscal years 2016 and 2017. Net operating losses will be carried forward to reduce taxable income in future years. Due to management's uncertainty as to the timing and valuation of any benefits associated with the net operating loss carryforwards, the Company has elected not to recognize an allowance to account for them in the financial statements. Net operating losses expire if unused after twenty tax years. Holdings' federal tax filings for 2015, 2016, and 2017 will remain subject to review by the Internal Revenue Service until 2019, 2020, and 2021, respectively.

Q&A with Founder In the past year there has been a 30% increase in seafood consumption by millennials and 70% have switched to a healthier diet. According to Technomic Surveys, 71% are more interested in where their foods come from and how it is grown or produced. We're excited to deliver our experience from dock to doorstep as more and more people seek lobster and seafood as their healthy protein of choice.

Term Sheet

Investor Perks Our passion is to perfect how people discover, acquire, and experience highly perishable proteins.

Prior Rounds Today, there is fear and stigma surrounding the acquisition and preparation of fresh seafood. This is also the case with many other highly sought after proteins and it prevents a large number of people from experiencing tastes and foods that they are not familiar with. We have worked tirelessly to make these proteins not only easier to acquire but more approachable and enjoyable for the whole family.

Financial Discussion

Market Landscape We are continuously evolving in delivering an exceptional experience from the first "click" to the last dish. Not only do we strive to get our customers the best quality product from the best source, but we have even been known to work directly with our customers to teach them how to best prepare their gourmet proteins.

Seafood Experience as a Service

PROFILE MENU A consistent pain point for Grocery stores is shrink. Shrink is the product you end up throwing away when it fails to be sold. We've built and continue to improve online capabilities for grocery stores to sell seafood products online without ever handling the product. Because of non-disclosure agreements, we are not able to disclose those we currently serve (and are building), however, our latest project is Albertsons OWN brand, which is due to launch this year.

What we are most proud of...

When Mainer's need lobster delivered outside of Maine, they call me. From sending lobsters to their friends, to sending lobsters to Martha Stewart's studio, to a meeting of the Mayors along the US and Canadian border... they rely on us.

In 2010, we came on the scene and immediately put a dent in the market. We focused on the net experience of the customer, had a strong sense of the economics of the experience, and constantly iterated to be the most competitive, trusted, and fun service provider in the market.

Team Story

Mark grew up in Maine...so he knows lobster. When Get Maine Lobster was born, Mark was living in Chicago as a marketer. During a trip to Maine to see family, a friend in the lobster business shared that he wanted to sell on the internet. Mark offered to do some market research before jumping into uncharted waters. Soon after, Mark was at his friend's fish market strongly suggesting that he venture into selling lobster online. Thus, GetMaineLobster.com was born and surpassed Mark's wildest expectations by selling $1.2M of the lobster he grew up loving in its very first year....and then...

- We made INC 5000.
- Chase Bank asked me, of all the small businesses they serve, to be a part of a national ad campaign...I was truly honored and humbled.
- USA Today choose us to represent Maine >> 50 tastes from 50 states.
- We shipped lobster to Martha Stewart's studio in NYC.

Every year something new and amazing comes our way. We wake up every day feeling like winners. I mean think about it, we get to serve people's most treasured moments.

In the end, we're just a group of people completely obsessed with delivering unforgettable moments. When we're not hunched over laptops, watching the journey of every order, we do what most Mainer's do...we enjoy our families, the outdoors, the Sox, Patriots, Bruins, and Celtics. And yes, we eat lots of lobster!

Financial Discussion

Please see the financial information listed on the cover page of this Form C and attached hereto in addition to the following information. Financial statements are attached hereto as Exhibit B.

Holdings is taxed as an S corporation. In September 2016, primarily for tax reasons, to accommodate an investment, the business was restructured as a limited liability company with Holdings as its sole member and the Founder as its manager. In connection with the restructuring, Holdings contributed all of its assets, including all of its contractual rights, to the Company, in exchange for 100% of the membership interests in the Company.

Following the restructuring, although all of Holdings' contractual rights had been contributed to the Company, vendors and other third parties continued to make payments to Holdings' accounts. Because the Company was a single member limited liability company, for tax purposes, it was disregarded, and only Holdings has filed tax returns. As a result, the Company's consolidated financials set forth herein include all payments made to and by Holdings on behalf of the Company since the restructuring.

Prior to the closing of this Offering, the Company and Holdings are taking steps to ensure that all future payments are properly paid to Company accounts rather than Holdings accounts.

In reviewing the Company's financials, investors should consider that even after the restructuring described above the following payments and deposits earned by the Company were paid or deposited to Holdings' accounts:

- All payments made by third party sellers such as Groupon, Amazon, and Ebay.
- All payments made by the Company's customers to Holdings' American Express merchant account.
- All so-called "remote deposits:" checks deposited into Holdings' bank account.

In addition to payments and deposits made to Holdings accounts that should have been paid or deposited into Company accounts, the following is a list of Company liabilities that were paid by Holdings:

- Loan payments
- Interest payments on loans
- UPS shipping payments
- Product payments to vendors and other third parties
- Contractor payments
- Miscellaneous operational costs

Operations

Since December 31, 2017, the Company has paid off certain high interest debt and taken deliberate actions to reduce expenses in its supply chain and increase its revenue. In the 12 months after receiving funding, the Company intends to return to and grow profitability by continuing to identify measures to reduce expenses in our supply chain and to increase our revenue.

Accounts Payable

Accounts payable comprises of current portions of outstanding debt and a credit card balance. The balance of the credit card is $44,504.40, with an interest rate of 16.74%.

Note Receivable includes $196,565 due from related party, Mark Murrell and other shareholders. Mark is the founder and owner of 96% of the outstanding stock of Holdings, and Holdings is the sole member of the Company.

Income Taxes

Term Sheet

Holdings applies ASC 740 Income Taxes ("ASC 740"). Deferred income taxes are recognized for the tax consequences in future years of differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their financial statement reported amounts at each period end, based on enacted tax laws and statutory tax rates applicable to the periods in which the differences are expected to affect taxable income.

Prior Rounds

Valuation allowances are established, when necessary, to reduce deferred tax assets to the amount expected to be realized. The provision for income taxes represents the tax expense for the period, if any and the change during the period in deferred tax assets and liabilities. ASC 740 provides criteria for the recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosure of uncertain tax positions. A tax benefit from an uncertain position is recognized only if it is "more likely than not" that the position is sustainable upon examination by the relevant taxing authority based on its technical merit.

Market Landscape

Holdings is subject to tax filing requirements as a corporation in the federal jurisdiction of the United States. Holdings sustained net operating losses during fiscal years 2016 and 2017. Net operating losses will be carried forward to reduce taxable income in future years. Due to management's uncertainty as to the timing and valuation of any benefits associated with the net operating loss carryforwards, the Company has elected not to recognize an allowance to account for them in the financial statements. Net operating losses expire if unused after twenty tax years. Holdings' federal tax filings for 2015, 2016, and 2017 will remain subject to review by the Internal Revenue Service until 2019, 2020, and 2021, respectively.

Upon the closing of the Offering, as described in "Taxation as a Partnership" above, the Company will be treated as a partnership for federal income tax purposes and in becoming a member of the Company you will agree not to take any action inconsistent with the Company's classification as a partnership for federal income tax purposes. Market Landscape

Data from NMFS Landings Query (2012-2016, LOBSTER, AMERICAN, New England) This data shows the total amount of lobster that is caught in New England per year valued at Market Price.

The online seafood business is a continuously growing and involving industry. At an average retail price of $30 per pound, the online lobster market has a Total Addressable Market of about $4.75 billion dollars. With the expanding popularity of online grocers and meal kit services, there have been continual upward shifts in the market. There has also been a consolidation of online lobster merchants as eCommerce technology becomes available. Combine these factors with a rapidly growing demand for lobster in China, and the industry is ripe for the expansion of Get Maine Lobster.

At Get Maine Lobster, our target market is constantly growing as more and more people are able to obtain gourmet proteins. With the increasingly popular online grocery and home meal kit markets, more and more people are becoming more comfortable with ordering and preparing expensive proteins. With the acquisition of Whole Foods by Amazon, the legitimacy of the online grocery store is cemented and more and more consumers are turning to the internet for their grocery shopping.

We believe that with the unbeatable and undeniable quality of our seafood and our industry standard customer service and shipping, we stand out amongst all competition and are ready to become the leading source of online gourmet seafood.

Risks Related to the Company's Business and Industry

 Highlights Overview Product 	The reviewing CPA has included a “going concern” note in the reviewed financials. The financial statements have been prepared on the going concern basis, which assumes that the Company will continue in operation for the foreseeable future. However, management has identified the following conditions and events that created an uncertainty about the ability of the Company to continue as a going concern. The Company recorded net operating losses of $367,154 and $143,751 in 2017 and 2016, respectively. The following describes management’s actions taken since December 31, 2017 that have alleviated substantial doubt about the Company’s ability to continue as a going concern: the Company (i) has paid off certain of our high-interest debt, (ii) has taken other deliberate actions to reduce expenses in our supply chain and to increase revenues, and (iii) is conducting this equity crowdfunding offering during fiscal year 2018. The Company’s ability to meet its obligations as they become due is dependent upon the success of management’s plans and actions, as described above. If we cannot continue as a going concern, you may lose your entire investment in our Series Seed Preferred Stock.

 Investor Perks Prior Rounds 	The Company deals with live animals (lobsters) and vast amounts of regulation applicable to shipping live animals.  Financial Discussion Market Landscape 	Climate change may adversely affect the Maine fishery. Drastic climate change may have a negative impact on the productive capacity of the Maine fishery. Accordingly, a decline in fishery stocks coupled with increases in worldwide demand for Maine seafood could negatively impact the Company’s procurement and costs. The Company’s revenue is seasonal and heavily tied to either holidays or the summer months. Because of that, cash flow is very lumpy, and the Company will need to make accurate budgets to maintain proper cash positions.
 Data Room  0 comments FAQs  	The Company’s sales are very heavily tied to expenditures on marketing and advertising. If the Company is not able to maintain strong advertising and marketing, our sales may be negatively impacted. The Company has had limited outside investors and no true institutional round. Prior to the Offering, the Company has been a single-member, manager-managed limited liability company and operated as a closely held business.
Seedinvest	Damage to our reputation could negatively impact our business, financial condition and results of operations. Our reputation and the quality of our brand are critical to our business and success in existing markets, and will be critical to our success as we enter into new markets. We believe that we have built our reputation on the high quality of our food and service, and our commitment to our customers, and we must protect and grow the value of our brand in order for us to continue to be successful. Any incident that erodes consumer loyalty for our brand could significantly reduce its value and damage our business. We may be adversely affected by any negative publicity, regardless of its accuracy. Ultimately, the risks associated with any such negative publicity or incorrect information, whether disseminated through social media platforms or similar devices, including weblogs (blogs), social media websites and other forms of internet-based communications, that provide individuals with access to a broad audience of consumers and other interested persons cannot be completely eliminated or mitigated and may materially harm our reputation, business, financial condition and results of operations. Shortages or interruptions in the supply or delivery of food products could adversely affect our operating results. We are dependent on frequent deliveries of food products that meet our specifications. Shortages or interruptions in the supply or delivery to our customers of our food products caused by problems in distribution, inclement weather, unanticipated demand or other conditions could adversely affect the availability, quality and cost of our products, which would adversely affect our operating results. We have a limited number of suppliers for our major products and rely on only a few distribution companies for the majority of our deliveries. If our suppliers or distributors are unable to fulfill their obligations under our arrangements with them, we could encounter supply shortages or failed deliveries and incur higher costs. We have a limited number of suppliers for our major products, including live Maine lobster, lobster tails, lobster value-add products. In fiscal 2017, we purchased all of our (i) lobster and seafood from 2 suppliers. Due to this concentration of suppliers, the cancellation of our supply arrangements with these suppliers or the disruption, delay or inability of these suppliers to provide these major products to our distributors for delivery to our customers may materially and adversely affect our results of operations while we establish alternative supply channels. In addition, if our suppliers fail to comply with food safety or other laws and regulations, or face allegations of non-compliance, their operations may be disrupted. We cannot assure you that we would be able to find replacement suppliers on commercially reasonable terms or a timely basis, if at all. Although we believe that alternative supply and distribution sources are available, there can be no assurance that we will continue to be able to identify or negotiate with such sources on terms that are commercially reasonable to us. If our suppliers or distributors are unable to fulfill their obligations under their contracts or we are unable to identify alternative sources, we could encounter supply shortages and incur higher costs, each of which could have a material adverse effect on our results of operations. Security breaches of confidential customer information, in connection with our electronic processing of credit and debit card transactions, may adversely affect our business. Our business requires the collection, transmission and retention of large volumes of customer data, including credit and debit card numbers and other personally identifiable information, in various information technology systems that we maintain and in those maintained by third parties with whom we contract to provide services. The integrity and protection of that customer data is critical to us. Further, our customers have a high expectation that we and our service providers will adequately protect their personal information. A significant theft, loss or misappropriation of, or access to, customers’ or other proprietary data or other breach of our information technology systems could result in fines, legal claims or proceedings, including regulatory investigations and actions, or liability for failure to comply with privacy and information security laws, which could disrupt our operations, damage our reputation and expose us to claims from customers, any of which could have a material adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations. Increased food commodity and energy costs could decrease our operating profit margins or cause us to limit or otherwise modify our product selection, which could adversely affect our business. Our profitability depends in part on our ability to anticipate and react to changes in the price and availability of food commodities, including among other things live lobster and frozen seafood. Prices may be affected due to market changes, increased competition, the general risk of inflation, shortages or interruptions in supply due to weather, disease or other conditions beyond our control, or other reasons. These events, combined with other more general economic and demographic conditions, could impact our pricing and negatively affect our sales and operating profit margins. Prior to the closing, the Company has been a single member limited liability company with its founder as its manager, and has not therefore benefited from the critical role a board of directors can play in effective risk oversight. To date the Company has not yet formed a board of directors as it has been a single member limited liability company with its founder as its manager. Although the Company is not legally required to have a board of directors to oversee the management of the Company, boards also play a critical role in effective risk oversight. A board helps ensure that management’s actions are consistent with corporate strategy, reflective of the culture of the business, and in line with the organization’s risk tolerance. The Company, however, will have a board of directors in place on the closing pursuant to the terms of its LLC agreement. Concentration of risk. Financial instruments that potentially subject the Company to credit risk consist of cash and cash equivalents. The Company places its cash and cash equivalents with a limited number of high quality financial institutions and at times may exceed the amount of insurance provided on such deposits. Taxation as Partnership. The Company has been formed so as to qualify and will be treated as a partnership for federal income tax purposes and in becoming a member of the Company you will agree not to take any action inconsistent with the Company’s classification as a partnership for federal income tax purposes. The Company will not be operated or treated, however, as a “partnership” for purposes of Section 303 of the United States Bankruptcy Code, 11 U.S.C. §101, et seq. The classification of the Company as a partnership applies only for federal and, as applicable, state and local, income tax purposes, and its characterization as such, solely for tax purposes, does not create or imply a general partnership or mutual agency between the Members for state law or any other purpose. Instead, the Members acknowledge the status of the Company as a limited liability company formed under the Maine Limited Liability Company Act. Although the Company’s equity as of the Closing will be divided into classes named Series Seed Preferred Stock, Common Stock, and Subordinated Stock, such classes are equity interests or membership interests in a limited liability company rather than a corporation and upon your subscription of Series Seed Preferred Stock pursuant to a Subscription Agreement you will become a member of the Company, which, as discussed above, is taxed as a partnership rather than a stockholder of equity interests in a corporation, which equity interests are commonly referred to as stock.
Risks Related to the Securities	The Series Seed Preferred Stock will not be freely tradable until one year from the initial purchase date. Although the Series Seed Preferred Stock may be tradable under federal securities law, state securities regulations may apply and each Purchaser should consult with his or her attorney. You should be aware of the long-term nature of this investment. There is not now and likely will not be a public market for the Series Seed Preferred Stock. Because the Series Seed Preferred Stock have not been registered under the 1933 Act or under the securities laws of any state or non-United States jurisdiction, the Series Seed Preferred Stock have transfer restrictions and cannot be resold in the United States except pursuant to Rule 501 of Regulation D. It is not currently contemplated that registration under the 1933 Act or other securities laws will be effected. Limitations on the transfer of the Series Seed Preferred Stock may also adversely affect the price that you might be able to obtain for the Series Seed Preferred Stock in a private sale. Purchasers should be aware of the long-term nature of their investment in the Company. Each Purchaser in this Offering will be required to represent that it is purchasing the Securities for its own account, for investment purposes and not with a view to resale or distribution thereof. The founder of the Company beneficially owns substantially all of its equity. Prior to the Offering the Company’s founder, Mark Murrell, beneficially owns 96% of the Company’s outstanding Membership Interests. Subject to any fiduciary duties owed to our other owners or investors under Maine law, the Founder may be able to exercise significant influence over matters requiring owner approval, including the election of directors or managers and approval of significant Company transactions, and will have significant control over the Company’s management and policies. The Founder may have interests that are different than yours. For example, the Founder may support proposals and actions with which you may disagree. The concentration of ownership could delay or prevent a change in control of the Company or otherwise discourage a potential acquirer from attempting to obtain control of the Company, which in turn could reduce the price potential investors are willing to pay for the Company. In addition, the Founder could use his voting influence to maintain the Company’s existing management, delay or prevent changes in control of the Company, or support or reject other management and board proposals that are subject to owner approval. Your ownership of the shares of preferred stock may be subject to dilution. Non-Major Purchasers (as defined below) of preferred stock do not have preemptive rights. If the Company conducts subsequent offerings of preferred stock or Securities convertible into preferred stock, issues shares pursuant to a compensation or distribution reinvestment plan or otherwise issues additional shares, investors who purchase shares in this Offering who do not participate in those other stock issuances will experience dilution in their percentage ownership of the Company’s outstanding shares. Furthermore, Purchasers may experience a dilution in the value of their shares depending on the terms and pricing of any future share issuances (including the shares being sold in this Offering) and the value of the Company’s assets at the time of issuance.
 PROSPECTUS MEMORANDUM 	You will be bound by an investor proxy agreement, which limits your voting rights. All Non-Major Purchasers of Series Seed Preferred Stock will be bound by an investor proxy agreement. This agreement will limit your voting rights and at a later time may require you to convert your Series Seed Preferred shares into common shares without your consent. Non-Major Purchasers will be bound by this agreement, unless Non-Major Purchasers holding a majority of the principal amount outstanding of the Series Seed Preferred Stock held by Non-Major Purchasers vote to terminate the agreement.

SeedInvest

General Risks and Disclosures

The Securities will be equity interests in the Company and will not constitute indebtedness. The Securities will rank junior to all existing and future indebtedness and other non-equity claims on the Company with respect to assets available to satisfy claims on the Company, including in a liquidation of the Company. Additionally, unlike indebtedness, for which principal and interest would customarily be payable on specified due dates, there will be no specified payments of dividends with respect to the Securities and dividends are payable only if, when and as authorized and declared by the Company and depend on, among other matters, the Company's historical and projected results of operations, liquidity, cash flows, capital levels, financial condition, debt service requirements and other cash needs, financing covenants, applicable state law, federal and state regulatory prohibitions and other restrictions and any other factors the Company's board of directors deems relevant at the time. In addition, the terms of the Securities will not limit the amount of debt or other obligations the Company may incur in the future. Accordingly, the Company may incur substantial amounts of additional debt and other obligations that will rank senior to the Securities.

There can be no assurance that we will ever provide liquidity to Purchasers through either a sale of the Company or a registration of the Securities. There can be no assurance that any form of merger, combination, or sale of the Company will take place, or that any merger, combination, or sale would provide liquidity for Purchasers. Furthermore, we may be unable to register the Securities for resale by Purchasers for legal, commercial, regulatory, market-related or other reasons. In the event that we are unable to effect a registration, Purchasers could be unable to sell their Securities unless an exemption from registration is available.

The Company does not anticipate paying any cash dividends or distributions for the foreseeable future, other than tax distributions. The Company currently intends to retain future earnings, if any, for the foreseeable future, to repay indebtedness and to support its business. The Company does not intend in the foreseeable future to pay any dividends or make any distributions to holders of its shares of Preferred Stock, other than quarterly distributions to cover your estimated tax liability.

Any valuation at this stage is difficult to assess. Unlike listed companies that are valued publicly through market-driven stock prices, the valuation of private companies, especially startups, is difficult to assess and you may risk overpaying for your investment. In addition, there may be additional classes of equity with rights that are superior to the class of equity being sold.

We have broad discretion in the use of the net proceeds from this Offering and may not use them effectively. Our management will have broad discretion in use of the net proceeds from this Offering, including for any of the purposes described in "Use of Proceeds." Accordingly, you will have to rely upon the judgment of our management with respect to the use of the proceeds, with only limited information concerning management's specific intentions. Our management may cause the Company to spend a portion or all of the net proceeds from this Offering in ways that our members may not desire or that may not yield a favorable return. The failure by our management to cause the Company to apply these funds effectively could harm our business. Pending their use, the Company may invest the net proceeds from this Offering in a manner that does not produce income or that loses value.

Start-up investing is risky. Investing in startups is very risky, highly speculative, and should not be made by anyone who cannot afford to lose their entire investment. Unlike an investment in a mature business where there is a track record of revenue and income, the success of a startup or early-stage venture often relies on the development of a new product or service that may or may not find a market. Before investing, you should carefully consider the specific risks and disclosures related to both this offering type and the company which can be found in this company profile and the documents in the data room below.

Your shares are not easily transferable. You should not plan on being able to readily transfer and/or resell your security. Currently there is no market or liquidity for these shares and the company does not have any plans to list these shares on an exchange or other secondary market. At some point the company may choose to do so, but until then you should plan to hold your investment for a significant period of time before a "liquidation event" occurs. A "liquidation event" is when the company either lists their shares on an exchange, is acquired, or goes bankrupt.

The Company may not pay dividends for the foreseeable future. Unless otherwise specified in the offering documents and subject to state law, you are not entitled to receive any dividends on your interest in the Company. Accordingly, any potential investor who anticipates the need for current dividends or income from an investment should not purchase any of the securities offered on the Site.

Valuation and capitalization. Unlike listed companies that are valued publicly through market-driven stock prices, the valuation of private companies, especially startups, is difficult to assess and you may risk overpaying for your investment. In addition, there may be additional classes of equity with rights that are superior to the class of equity being sold.

You may only receive limited disclosure. While the company must disclose certain information, since the company is at an early-stage they may only be able to provide limited information about its business plan and operations because it does not have fully developed operations or a long history. The company may also only be obligated to file information periodically regarding its business, including financial statements. A publicly listed company, in contrast, is required to file annual and quarterly reports and promptly disclose certain events — through continuing disclosure that you can use to evaluate the status of your investment.

Investment in personnel. An early-stage investment is also an investment in the entrepreneur or management of the company. Being able to execute on the business plan is often an important factor in whether the business is viable and successful. You should be aware that a portion of your investment may fund the compensation of the company's employees, including its management. You should carefully review any disclosure regarding the company's use of proceeds.

Possibility of fraud. In light of the relative ease with which early-stage companies can raise funds, it may be the case that certain opportunities turn out to be money-losing fraudulent schemes. As with other investments, there is no guarantee that investments will be immune from fraud.

Lack of professional guidance. Many successful companies partially attribute their early success to the guidance of professional early-stage investors (e.g., angel investors and venture capital firms). These investors often negotiate for seats on the company's board of directors and play an important role through their resources, contacts and experience in assisting early-stage companies in executing on their business plans. An early-stage company may not have the benefit of such professional investors.

What is Side by Side?

A Side by Side offering refers to a deal that is raising capital under two offering types. This Side by Side offering is raising under Regulation CF and Rule 506(c) of Regulation D.

FAQs

SeedInvest

What is a Form C?

The Form C is a document the company must file with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") which includes basic information about the company and its offering and is a condition to making a Reg CF offering available to investors. It is important to note that the SEC does not review the Form C, and therefore is not recommending and/or approving any of the securities being offered. Before making any investment decision, it is highly recommended that prospective investors review the Form C filed with the SEC (included in the company's profile) before making any investment decision.

What is Rule 506(c) under Regulation D?

Rule 506(c) under Regulation D is a type of offering with no limits on how much a company may raise. The company may generally solicit their offering, but the company must verify each investor's status as an accredited investor prior to closing and accepting funds. To learn more about Rule 506(c) under Regulation D and other offering types check out our blog and academy.

What is Reg CF?

Title III of the JOBS Act outlines Reg CF, a type of offering allowing private companies to raise up to $1 million from all Americans. Prior capital raising options limited private companies to raising money only from accredited investors, historically the wealthiest ~2% of Americans. Like a Kickstarter campaign, Reg CF allows companies to raise funds online from their early adopters and the crowd. However, instead of providing investors a reward such as a t-shirt or a card, investors receive securities, typically equity, in the startups they back. To learn more about Reg CF and other offering types check out our blog and academy.

Making an Investment in Get Maine Lobster

How does investing work?

When you complete your investment on SeedInvest, your money will be transferred to an escrow account where an independent escrow agent will watch over your investment until it is accepted by Get Maine Lobster. Once Get Maine Lobster accepts your investment, and certain regulatory procedures are completed, your money will be transferred from the escrow account to Get Maine Lobster in exchange for your securities. At that point, you will be a proud owner in Get Maine Lobster.

What will I need to complete my investment?

To make an investment, you will need the following information readily available:

1. Personal information such as your current address and phone number
2. Employment and employer information
3. Net worth and income information
4. Social Security Number or government-issued identification
5. ABA bank routing number and checking account number (typically found on a personal check or bank statement)

If you are investing under Rule 506(c) of Regulation D, your status as an Accredited Investor will also need to be verified and you will be asked to provide documentation supporting your income, net worth, revenue, or net assets or a letter from a qualified advisor such as a Registered Investment Advisor, Registered Broker Dealer, Lawyer, or CPA.

After My Investment

What is my ongoing relationship with the Issuer?

You are a partial owner of the company, you do own securities after all! But more importantly, companies which have raised money via Regulation CF must file information with the SEC and post it on their websites on an annual basis. Receiving regular company updates is important to keep shareholders educated and informed about the progress of the company and their investment. This annual report includes information similar to a company's initial Reg CF filing and key information that a company will want to share with its investors to foster a dynamic and healthy relationship.

In certain circumstances a company may terminate its ongoing reporting requirement if:

1. The company becomes a fully-reporting registrant with the SEC
2. The company has filed at least one annual report, but has no more than 300 shareholders of record
3. The company has filed at least three annual reports, and has no more than $10 million in assets
4. The company or another party purchases or repurchases all the securities sold in reliance on Section 4(a) (6)
5. The company ceases to do business

However, regardless of whether a company has terminated its ongoing reporting requirement per SEC rules, SeedInvest works with all companies on its platform to ensure that investors are provided quarterly updates. These quarterly reports will include information such as: (i) quarterly net sales, (ii) quarterly change in cash and cash on hand, (iii) material updates on the business, (iv) fundraising updates (any plans for next round, current round status, etc.), and (v) any notable press and news.

How can I (or the company) cancel my investment under Regulation CF?

For offerings made under Regulation CF, you may cancel your investment at any time up to 48 hours before a closing occurs or an earlier date set by the company. You will be sent a reminder notification approximately five days before the closing or set date giving you an opportunity to cancel your investment if you had not already done so. Maine Lobster - Why We Do What We Do at GetMaineLobster.com

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=6F7dQVO2naw>

You know, it's rare these days that people actually sit down and eat together. All too often our busy lifestyles have us constantly eating on the go. There's too much life going on to actually stop and enjoy family and friends and have a great meal at the dinner table.

00:15

I deliver fresh Maine lobster and seafood right from the docks in Maine, directly to your doorstep. Live Maine lobster is an experience. It's not an ordinary food, it's a celebratory food. People come together, the lobster arrives alive, they cook together, they eat together, and the process of actually getting at the lobster meat, having to crack the claws, and get at the meat and then dip it in the butter and plop it in your mouth, the exquisite flavor. Nothing beats that.

00:51

As a Mainer, we're adventurous we love the outdoors. So the fact that I can go out on the boat, pull some lobsters, I can deliver those and share a piece of Maine with people all over the country. The best part of my day is when I go to my Facebook page and I'll see a comment, like from the Odette, who says that the first thing she does when she gets back from deployment is she places an order with us. And that's just awesome, I love that I can connect her back with America, with home, through lobster. I'm proud, I'm proud of that.

Chase Platinum Business – Black Point Seafood

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=-1imY2nEvWM>

00:05

Being a Maine boy and growing up here, it took me moving to Chicago to discover the pride that I had in being a Mainer. You know, Casco Bay in the morning off of Union Wharf it's just a great way to start the day, you know with the Sun rising and you know that you've got to hustle your way through and it's gonna be cold, but at least you've got this beautiful scenery.

I deliver Maine lobster from the dock to the doorstep. Fishermen go out early in the morning, they get their catch. "Looks like a nice pick." "Pretty"

00:45

Ships that night, it's on your dinner table the next day. Some people actually order but not really understand that it's actually alive. So they'll call, they'll be startled and I'll say just keep calm here's the best way to do it.

Black Point seafood was growing rapidly, and I needed help managing it. I knew when I made the decision to move to Chase, that I had made the right choice. They're very customer centric, just like myself and my company.

01:11

For me if I can't provide solutions, if I can't be there for mark and my client then, you know, you're not really being effective banker. The chase platinum business checking account is great for Black Point Seafood. Here's a guy that's got a business that's entirely online, very, very cost-conscious. When I went out to Mark that anything incoming electronic was free it made all the sense the world to you, well why should you pay for those fees.

It feels like it was tailored towards me and my needs. There feels like there isn't anything that I can't do with just a couple of keystrokes. I don't know if it's some magic crustacean, but the lobster preparing and eating process brings joy to people. It's a happy time.

01:44

I built a team that's pretty solid, with Chase, the guys that I work with, we're gonna really be able to put this into a variety of opportunities.

The Unforgettable Gift

<https://vimeo.com/193755861>

00:00

Meet Melissa, she just received the gift of a lifetime. A box of Maine lobsters flown all the way to Chicago. And now, her friends and family are about to have an unforgettable experience.

00:12

It all started two weeks ago, when Melissa received a handwritten, personalized lobster gift card from her colleague. Scheduling the lobsters arrival was a cinch, she actually did it from her iPhone.
