Valuation of Our Common Stock

The valuations of our common stock Non-Voting Series is determined by our board of directors, with input from management, and in consideration of the guidance prescribed by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants Practice Aid, Valuation of Privately-Held-Company Equity Securities Issued as Compensation. Our board of directors considered numerous objective and subjective factors to determine our best estimate of the fair value of our common stock Non-Voting Series, including but not limited to, the following factors:

- the recent valuation of companies perceived by investors to be comparable to us;

- our historical financial results and estimated trends and prospects for our future financial performance;
- our performance and market position relative to our competitors and/or similar companies;
- the likelihood of achieving a discrete liquidity event, such as an IPO, sale or dissolution;
- the economic and competitive environment, including the industry in which we operate.

Possible Valuation Methods In the Future

Our board of directors believe if our operations generates revenue, profits and cash flow in the future, in addition to the factors described above, we will use a combination of financial and market-based methodologies to determine our business enterprise value (BEV) including the following approaches:

- Discounted Cash Flow Method (DCFM). DCFM involves estimating the future cash flows of a business for a certain discrete period and discounting such cash flows to present value. If the cash flows are expected to continue beyond the discrete time period, then a terminal value of the business is estimated and discounted to present value. The discount rate reflects the risks inherent in the cash flows and the market rates of return available from alternative investments of similar type and quality as of the valuation date.

- Guideline Public Company Method (GPCM). GPCM assumes that businesses operating in the same industry will share similar characteristics and that the subject business's value will correlate to those characteristics. Therefore, a comparison of the subject business to similar businesses whose financial information and public market value are available may provide a reasonable basis to estimate the subject business's value. The GPCM provides an estimate of value using multiples derived from the stock prices of publicly traded companies. In selecting guideline public companies for this analysis, we focused primarily on quantitative considerations, such as financial performance and other quantifiable data, as well as qualitative considerations, such as industry and economic drivers.

However, if the subject business is privately owned, its value must be adjusted for lack of marketability. This is usually represented by a discount, or a percentage reduction in the value of the company when compared to its publicly traded counterparts. This reflects the higher risk associated with holding stock in a private company. The difference in value can be quantified by applying a discount for lack of marketability. This discount is determined by studying prices paid for shares of ownership in private companies that eventually offer their stock in a public offering. Alternatively, the lack of marketability can be assessed by comparing the prices paid for restricted shares to fully marketable shares of stock of public companies.

- Market Based Business Valuation Method (MBBVM). MBBVM estimates the value of a business by comparing the selling prices of similar businesses that have recently been sold, adjusted for differences in size, quantity or quality. MBBVM can be used to determine the value of a business ownership interest, security or intangible asset.

22. What are the risks to purchasers of the securities relating to minority ownership in the issuer?

- Purchasers (Purchasers) of the securities in this offering have limited rights to demand distributions (e.g. dividends) from the Issuer.

- The majority owner may make a decision that the Purchasers consider bad and puts Purchaser's interest in the Issuer at risk.
- Although, as common stock shareholders, the Purchasers would be entitled to a share of any proceeds from a sale of the entire business, the Purchasers may not veto the sale even though the price of sale is below its fair valuation. Moreover, a sale can be structured in a way to avoid any payout to minority owners, such as a sale of assets over time with the proceeds reinvested in another business.
- Since the securities in this offering are not publicly traded and are subject to restrictions on resale or transfer including holding period requirements, the securities in this offering are illiquid.
- The Purchasers of the securities offered are entitled no voting rights and therefore they are not entitled to exert influence in the affairs of the company or the composition of its board of directors.
- The Purchasers of the securities offered are entitled no anti-dilution rights (other than proportionate adjustments for stock splits and similar events) and therefore future equity financings may dilute their ownership percentage in the issuer.

23. What are the risks to purchasers associated with corporate actions:

a. Additional Issuances of Securities

Moreover, a sale can be structured in a way to avoid any payout to minority owners, such as a sale of assets over time with the proceeds reinvested in another business.

d. Transactions with Related Parties

Transactions with related parties are transactions between the issuer (Issuer) or any of its subsidiaries and a connected person. These transactions include both capital and revenue nature transactions. They may be one-off transactions or continuing transactions. Appendix A - BUSINESS AND ANTICIPATED BUSINESS PLAN

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Your Active World Holdings Inc. ("YAW Inc.") was recently formed as a holding company. Your Active World LLC ("YAW"), formed in 2013, is a subsidiary of YAW Inc. YAW Inc. may acquire other companies to grow the business faster through such acquisitions but there are no guarantees this will be accomplished.

Overview

Your Active World developed a socially integrated, intuitive and cost efficient Registration and Event Management platform. We have integrated conventional Online Registration & Event Management with a Town Hall and Community Master calendaring technology that is our blueprint for achieving growth.

We want to become the go-to source to find any type of Event, offered by anyone in the Community and surrounding areas. It will be used by locals and visitors alike. YAW's mission is to be the Meta Search (like Kayak.com) and online community for various activities and events within specific geographic areas, which we have the flexibility to define.

We provide a fully integrated platform, cloud based and redundant, for Online Registration/Event Management; Facility/Staff Management; rentals/permits; Scheduler/League Manager

Our gross revenues in 2014 was $70k; 2015-$300,000; 2016 -$450,000 equivalent* or $381,000 non-adjusted

During 2016 YAW changed its pricing structure to an a recurring annual fee plus credit card fee. This should increase revenues on a going forward basis. Certain Clients will not use credit card processing and thus an annual billing expands our client base. Therefore, to be consistent with revenue projections, YAW created an equivalent revenue analysis for 2016 which in its financial statements will be addressed by its accounting firm.*

Funding is required for sales and marketing

Many competitive advantages but unique: ease of use for Client & Registrant; integrated platform not just for online registration but the other modules listed above; focus on accounting, financial & marketing reports; Town Hall; new Event APP and Master/Client technology.

Our pricing is competitive but we do not use pricing as a reason to buy, anyone can match pricing. We focus on our technology to stand us apart.

Market- any entity offering Events requiring registration. All we need is one anchor tenant in a market (size not critical, we simply need a foothold and over time earn the majority of Event Management business in that market). We have a flow chart and projections to build local sales and separately a national sales staff.

Our Special Advisor has an extensive track record of success. He has invested over $550,000; our Chairman Advisor was in similar business related to travel and plans to build the same in this vertical. President has earned great respect from our Clients as noted from our testimonials; she provides the glue to our relationships.

YAW's online registration and event management software is driving convergence with our social networks beyond simply linking to Facebook, Twitter, Pinterest, etc. YAW is engaging the Registrant with its Community & Registrant-centric site. Its calendaring technology lets the Registrants organize their daily activities and add personal events for family and friends. Every event registered for automatically shows on their My Calendar page. Being a Community-centric social network when Family & Friends posts pictures and videos, they have options: keep it within the Community and not to the masses, or, link to Facebook. Most significant differentials between YAW and its competitors:

1. YAW drives revenues to its Clients, a unique feature encompassed within our software
2. YAW focuses on engaging the Registrants who pay for these events

YAW's software platform is more intuitive and less expensive for our Clients while providing them an incremental revenue stream. We drive business to our Clients by engaging the Registrant, through social networking and social marketing. Our Registrants can view and manage their events; add Personal events to their Event Calendar; share pictures, videos and comments; invite friends to Events; fund raise and more in a Community setting. Every Registrant of our Clients becomes a member of Your Active World.

Your Active World offers an elegant solution: web-based, redundant software platform that simplifies the event management process and gets the fun underway. Attendees and event managers in all organizations – from YMCAs to universities to military organizations – will all benefit from the numerous features that it provides. YAW brings social aspects into the forefront that keep the connections going long after the event is over, and opens the door for revenue – digital advertising and affiliate programs.

Revenue Generation:

1. Recurring Event Registration Fees from Registrants
2. Recurring License Fees from Clients
3. Event Revenue from hosting our own Events or other third party events (non-Client events offered on our Clients' sites). Affiliate programs for travel, etc.
4. Digital Content:
 - Affiliate Programs (including advertising events of competitors)
 - Sponsorships
 - Local Events such as Garage sales, Estate sales...
 - Conventional Ad opportunities- Advertisers love our demographics! We are an aggregator of extremely targeted data > a network of people living an active lifestyle and/or friends/families following these people. The largest age group is females 38-50 (68%), with 2.5 average participants per family and an average transaction amount of $142.51.

As an example, there are approximately 12,000 Park & Recreation Departments in the United States. A significant number of these do not offer an Online Registration and Event Management platform.

Your Active World's lead investor is trying to build what he did from 1983-1998: Building a recurring revenue model in a fragmented market. Previously it was Cable Television. Today it's the convergence of Online Registration/Event Management with our social networks and social marketing.

Appendix B - MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATION

You should read the following discussion and analysis of our financial condition and results of our operations together with our financial statements and related notes appearing at the end of this Offering Circular. This discussion contains forward-looking statements reflecting our current expectations that involve risks and uncertainties. Actual results and the timing of events may differ materially from those contained in these forward - looking statements due to a number of factors, including those discussed in the section entitled "Risk Factors" and elsewhere in this Offering Circular.

At the top of Your Active World's list of grand goals is to change online registration and event management by bringing the focus to the Registrant coupled with no need for exclusive agreements with parties who offer Events for registration. Once we receive our patents, we hope we can do away with the need to have to register for a Community Event on one site. Like everything else Internet, it should be an open platform.

- The platform is optimized. Version 4.2 the latest major release, was complete and active in June 2016. This release features Digital Ad content.
- Customers are on board. Our Clients love our platform and so do our Registrants. A large pipeline of future customers is in place – highlighted by a prospect database with over 3,000 names.
- Launch engagement set. YAW spoke at the Florida Recreation & Park Annual Conference[1]. This was a significant marketing opportunity where YAW addressed the attendees on the "Convergence of Online Registration / Event Management and our Social Networks. YAW spoke to the benefits it offers for Community-centric social networks versus the global social networks, which is not a Community-centric inclusive approach. Response was very positive and adds to YAW's pipeline. YAW is interviewing various telemarketers to assist it in contacting over 1300 leads. Many of these communities indicate they are planning to evaluate new proposals over the next 18 months.
- Intellectual Property. YAW's calendar feature is protected as patent pending filing.

We have had a solid foundation building customers over the last three years, and we look forward to the opportunity to optimize our sales and marketing team. YAW can also leverage its bundled solutions by unbundling into separate modules and increase its marketing reach considerably.

Specifically, in January, 2017, YAW launched the stand alone version of Event Management with its first business client. Time to close was less than 3 weeks, much more efficient to launch, requires far less support, stronger pricing model and client paid for enhancements. Offering stand-alone services in this manner gives YAW appeal to a much broader spectrum of potential clients, including smaller recreational departments and independent event planners. Other stand-alone services will include:

- Express Registration
- Facility & Staff Management;
- Rentals;
- League Management.

The stand-alone services may be re-branded under the 365EventManager.com. They will be pushed nationally via personal sales and online. A number of domain names have been reserved for this.

Results of Operations

Liquidity and Capital Resources

We had net cash of $-0- at December 31, 2014, $-0- at December 31, 2015 and $31,000 at December 2016.

During the year to December 31, 2014, we used ($60,100) of cash for operating activities. A portion of the funds were used to pay general and administrative costs, bookkeeping fees, and professional fees. During 2014 operating cash was supplied by Bambach Enterprises LLC owned by John Bambach our then Chief Executive Officer and Chairman of the Board of Directors and now a key consultant.

During the year to December 31, 2015, we used ($67,137) of cash for operating activities. A large portion of the funds were used to pay for service fees incurred for the cultivation center and the website. During 2015 operating cash was supplied by Bambach Enterprises LLC owned by John Bambach our then Chief Executive Officer and Chairman of the Board of Directors and now a key consultant.

We will have additional capital requirements during 2017 and 2018. We do not expect to be able to satisfy our cash requirements through online sales, and therefore we will attempt to raise additional capital through the sale of our common stock.

We cannot assure that we will have sufficient capital to finance our growth and business operations or that such capital will be available on terms that are favorable to us or at all. We are currently incurring operating deficits that are expected to continue for the foreseeable future.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

We do not have any off-balance sheet arrangements that have or are reasonably likely to have a current or future effect on our financial condition, changes in financial condition, revenues or expenses, results of operations, liquidity, capital expenditures or capital resources that is material to investors.

Critical Accounting Policies

We have identified the policies outlined below as critical to our business operations and an understanding of our results of operations. The list is not intended to be a comprehensive list of all our accounting policies. In many cases, the accounting treatment of a particular transaction is specifically dictated by accounting principles generally accepted in the United States, with no need for management's judgment in their application. The impact and any associated risks related to these policies on our business operations is discussed throughout management's Discussion and Analysis or Plan of Operation where such policies affect our reported and expected financial results. Note that our preparation of the financial statements requires us to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amount of assets and liabilities, disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of our financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. There can be no assurance that actual results will not differ from those estimates.

Revenue Recognition

Revenue includes product sales. The Company recognizes revenue from product sales in accordance with Topic 605 "Revenue Recognition in Financial Statements" which is at the time customers are invoiced at shipping point, provided title and risk of loss has passed to the customer, evidence of an arrangement exists, fees are contractually fixed or determinable, collection is reasonably assured through historical collection results and regular credit evaluations, and there are no uncertainties regarding customer acceptance.

Stock Based Compensation Expense

We expect to account any share-based compensation pursuant to SFAS No. 123 (revised 2004) Share- Based Payment, or SFAS No. 123R. SFAS No. 123R requires measurement of all employee share-based payments awards using a fair-value method. When a grant date for fair value is determined we will use the Black-Scholes- Merton pricing model. The Black-Scholes-Merton valuation calculation requires us to make key assumptions such as future stock price volatility, expected terms, risk-free rates and dividend yield. The weighted-average expected term for stock options granted was calculated using the simplified method in accordance with the provisions of Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 107, Share-Based Payment. The simplified method defines the expected term as the average of the contractual term and the vesting period of the stock option. We will estimate the volatility rates used as inputs to the model based on an analysis of the most similar public companies for which Your Active World Holdings, Inc. has data. We will use judgment in selecting these companies, as well as in evaluating the available historical volatility data for these companies.

SFAS No. 123R requires us to develop an estimate of the number of share -based awards which will be forfeited due to employee turnover. Annual changes in the estimated forfeiture rate may have a significant effect on share-based payments expense, as the effect of adjusting the rate for all expense amortization after January 1, 2006 is recognized in the period the forfeiture estimate is changed. If the actual forfeiture rate is higher than the estimated forfeiture rate, then an adjustment is made to increase the estimated forfeiture rate, which will result in a decrease to the expense recognized in the financial statements. If the actual forfeiture rate is lower than the estimated forfeiture rate, then an adjustment is made to decrease the estimated forfeiture rate, which will result in an increase to the expense recognized in the financial statements. The risk-free rate is based on the U.S. Treasury yield curve in effect at the time of grant. We have never paid cash dividends, and do not currently intend to pay cash dividends, and thus have assumed a 0% dividend yield.

Your Active World Holdings, Inc. will continue to use judgment in evaluating the expected term, volatility and forfeiture rate related to its stock-based awards on a prospective basis, and in incorporating these factors into the model. If our actual experience differs significantly from the assumptions used to compute its stock-based compensation cost, or if different assumptions had been used, we may record too much or too little share-based compensation cost. Your Active World Holdings, Inc. recognizes expense using the straight-line attribution method.

Appendix C - RISK FACTORS

Risks Related to Business

We have a limited operating history, which makes it difficult to accurately evaluate our business prospects. Our limited operating history makes it difficult to evaluate our business and prospects. We were originally started in 2013 and have operated our event management services for only three years. As a result, we have only limited historical financial data upon which to predict our future operating results. In addition, the business of providing event management services to the participatory sports and activities industry is relatively new and unproven. You must consider our business and prospects in light of the risks and uncertainties we will continue to encounter as a company with an unproven business model. These risks and uncertainties include those risks disclosed throughout this Risk Factors section. Any failure to address these risks and uncertainties successfully would seriously harm our business and prospects.

We have a limited operating history and have yet to earn a profit because we have earned relatively little revenue, which makes it difficult to accurately evaluate our business prospects.

Your Active World, LLC (“the LLC”), our predecessor company, was formed under the laws of Florida on September 25, 2013. Your Active World Holdings, Inc. was incorporated under the laws of Florida on July 25, 2016. YAW provides Online Registration & Event Management software to various business entities individuals, governments, non-profit organizations, clubs, schools, and other entities that offer and/or wish to offer paid Events in an Online Marketplace.

We incurred a net loss (including the LLC) of approximately $96,245 for fiscal year 2015 and incurred a net loss of approximately $81,788 for fiscal year 2014. We have had cumulative net losses since our inception. Currently our liabilities exceed our assets. We believe that we may continue to incur operating and net losses. If we are to ever achieve consistent profitability it will be dependent upon growth in our sales, and the successful development, commercial introduction, and acceptance of our products, which may not occur.

Because we will incur the costs and expenses from these efforts before we receive any incremental revenues with respect thereto, our losses in future periods will be significantly greater than the losses we would incur if we developed our business more slowly. In addition, we may find that these efforts are more expensive than we currently anticipate or that these efforts may not result in increases in our revenues, which would further increase our losses.

Customer complaints regarding our services could hurt our business. From time to time, we may receive complaints from customers regarding the quality of services purchased from us. In the past we have not received such complaints. However, that is no guarantee that we will not experience complaints regarding our services. Any resulting litigation could be costly for us, divert management attention, and could result in increased costs of doing business, or otherwise have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, and financial condition. Any negative publicity generated as a result of customer frustration with our products or services, or with our websites, could damage our reputation and diminish the value of our brand name, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, and financial condition.

We have an unproven business model, which may make it difficult for you to evaluate our business and prospects.

We will derive our revenue primarily from simplified event planning, both individual consumers and businesses, inside and outside of the United States. Our business strategy may be unsuccessful. Our business and prospects are difficult to evaluate and must be considered in light of the risks and uncertainties often experienced by companies in the early stages of development. Some of these risks and uncertainties relate to our ability to do the following:

- maintain and strengthen our relationships with customers;
- augment and improve marketing channels to attract customers to use our products;
- improve our operational, financial and management controls and reporting systems and procedures;
- identify gaps in the our industry that can be exploited;
- respond effectively to competition;
- increase profit margins; and
- respond to government regulations relating to our industry and other aspects of our business.

If we are unable to do any of these successfully, our business and operations could be materially adversely affected.

We have an unproven business model, which may make it difficult for you to evaluate our business and prospects.

Event organizers, park and recreation department administrators, and league administrators may not widely adopt application services such as ours to manage important aspects of their businesses, which would cause our revenues to decline. If demand for and market acceptance of application services for the participatory sports and activities industry does not grow, our ability to grow our business will be adversely affected. Application services for managing important aspects of participatory sports and activities are relatively new and have not been widely adopted by event organizers, park and recreation department administrators, or league administrators. A market for application services such as ours for the sports and activities industry may not continue to develop and grow. Participatory sports and activities organizers who have already invested substantial resources in other registration methods may be reluctant to adopt a new approach like ours to supplement or replace their existing systems or methods. In addition, concerns about fraud, privacy, security, reliability and other issues may cause participatory sports and activities organizers not to adopt application services for managing important aspects of their business, including participant registrations. If event organizers, park and recreation department administrators, and league administrators do not widely adopt application services such as ours for managing aspects of their businesses, this will materially and adversely affect our business, operating results, financial condition and prospects.

Our businesses could be negatively affected by changes in Internet search engine algorithms and dynamics, or search engine disintermediation. Search engines, including Google, frequently update and change the logic that determines the placement and display of results of a user's search, such that the purchased or algorithmic placement of links to our websites can be negatively affected. In addition, a search engine could, for competitive or other purposes, alter its search algorithms or results causing our websites to place lower in search query results. If a major search engine changes its algorithms in a manner that negatively affects the search engine ranking of our websites or those of our partners, or if competitive dynamics impact the cost or effectiveness of SEO or SEM in a negative manner, our business and financial performance would be adversely affected, potentially to a material extent. Furthermore, our failure to successfully manage our SEO and SEM strategies could result in a substantial decrease in traffic to our websites, as well as increased costs if we were to replace free traffic with paid traffic.

If we are unable to continue to increase visitors to our website and to cost-effectively convert these visitors into repeat users or contributors, our revenue could decline. The primary asset that we use to attract visitors to our website and convert these visitors into repeat users is our ability to provide an enjoyable event organizing experience that meets users' particular interests and enables them to use the content and interact with their peers. There can be no assurances that we will continue to obtain content in a cost-effective manner or in a manner that meets rapidly changing consumer demand. Any failure to obtain and manage such content in a manner that will engage users, or a failure to provide content and products that are perceived as useful, reliable and trustworthy.

There is no assurance that any of our research and development activities will result in any further proprietary technology. As discussed, we plan to continue to develop new proprietary services for the event management industry. The development efforts for these services may fail to result in any commercial technology, products or services, or any proprietary or patentable technology. The technology may not work, competitors may develop and sell superior services performing the same function, or industry participants may not accept or desire those services. We may not be able to protect our proprietary rights, if any, from infringement or theft by third parties. We may have inadequate capital to successfully execute this aspect of our business plan.

Additional Financing may not be available. We cannot assure that we will earn net profits. Bambach Enterprises, a related and affiliated party, has provided funding of $550,000 in the past, but there is no assurance that it will provide funding in the future. We cannot assure that we will be able to raise capital in this placement of common stock, or that we will have sufficient capital to fund our business operations. We cannot assure that we could obtain additional financing or capital from any source, or that such financing or capital would be available to us on terms acceptable to us.

We may not be able to successfully compete against companies with substantially greater resources. Some of our competitors are much larger companies than us and better capitalized. They could choose to use their greater resources to finance their continued participation and penetration of this market, which may hamper our ability to generate sufficient revenue to cover our costs. Their better financial resources could allow them to significantly out-spend us on research and development, as well as marketing and production. We might not be able to maintain our ability to compete in this circumstance

There can be no assurance that the Company's products or services, existing or to be developed, will be more effective, innovative, or achieve greater market acceptance than competitive products or services, or that our competitors will not succeed in developing products, services and technologies that are more effective than those owned by or being used by us or that would render our products, services and technologies less competitive or obsolete.

Our business is subject to various government regulations. The impact of current laws and regulations, the effect of future changes in laws or regulations that impose additional requirements and the consequences of litigation relating to current or future laws and regulations, or an insufficient or ineffective response to significant regulatory or public policy issues, could increase our cost structure, operational efficiencies and talent availability, and therefore have an adverse effect on our results of operations. Failure to comply (whether actual or perceived) with the laws and regulatory requirements of federal, state and local authorities could result in, among other things, negative publicity, revocation of required licenses, administrative enforcement actions, fines and civil and criminal liability. Compliance with these laws and regulations and any changes thereto can be costly and can increase our exposure to litigation or governmental investigations or proceedings.

We are also subject to government laws and regulations governing health, safety, working conditions, employee relations, wrongful termination, wages, taxes and other matters applicable to businesses in general. We are not currently subject to direct federal, state or local regulation, or laws or regulations applicable to access to or commerce on the Internet, other than regulations applicable to businesses generally. It is possible that a number of laws and regulations may be adopted with respect to the Internet or other online services covering issues such as user privacy, freedom of expression, pricing, content and quality of products and services, taxation, advertising, intellectual property rights and information security. In addition, applicability to the Internet of existing laws governing issues such as property ownership, copyrights and other intellectual property issues, taxation, libel, obscenity and personal privacy is uncertain. The vast majority of such laws was adopted prior to the advent of the Internet and, as a result, do not contemplate or address the unique issues of the Internet and related technologies. We cannot assure that any state will not attempt to impose additional regulations upon us in the future or that such imposition will not have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, and financial condition. Several states have also proposed legislation that would limit the uses of personal user information gathered online or require online services to establish privacy policies. Changes to existing laws or the passage of new laws intended to address these issues, including some recently proposed changes, could create uncertainty in the marketplace that could reduce demand for our services or increase the cost of doing business as a result of litigation costs or increased service delivery costs, or could in some other manner have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, and financial condition. In addition, because our services are expected to be accessible worldwide, and we expect to eventually facilitate sales of services to users worldwide, other jurisdictions may claim that we are required to qualify to do business as a foreign corporation in a particular state or foreign country. We are qualified to do business in one state in the United States, and our failure to qualify as a foreign corporation in a jurisdiction where it is required to do so could subject us to taxes and penalties for the failure to qualify, and could result in our inability to enforce contracts in such jurisdictions. Any such new legislation or regulation, or the application of laws or regulations from jurisdictions whose laws do not currently apply to our business, could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, and financial condition.

We cannot assure that we will earn a profit or that our services will be accepted by consumers. Our operating performance will be heavily dependent on whether or not we are able to earn a profit on the sale of our services. We cannot assure that we will be successful or earn any revenue or profit, or that investors will not lose their entire investment.

We may not have adequate capital to fund our business. We will have limited capital available to us, to the extent that we raise capital from this offering. If our entire original capital is fully expended and additional costs cannot be funded from borrowings or capital from other sources, then our financial condition, results of operations, and business performance would be materially adversely affected. We cannot assure that we will have adequate capital to conduct our business.

We may incur uninsured losses. Although we maintain modest theft, casualty, liability, and property insurance coverage, along with workmen's compensation and related insurance, we cannot assure that we will not incur uninsured liabilities and losses as a result of the conduct of our business. Should uninsured losses occur, the holders of our common stock could lose their invested capital.

Like most purveyors of commercial services, and companies that raise capital, we will be subject to potential litigation. As a purveyor of commercial services, and a company that raises capital, we will be exposed to the risk of litigation for a variety of reasons, including employee lawsuits, commercial contract disputes, government enforcement actions, shareholder and investor lawsuits, and other legal proceedings. We cannot assure that future litigation in which we may become involved will not have a material adverse effect on our financial condition, operating results, business performance, and business reputation.

We cannot assure that we will have the resources to repay all of our liabilities in the future. We have liabilities and may in the future have other liabilities to affiliated or unaffiliated lenders. These liabilities represent fixed costs, which are required to be paid regardless of the level of business or profitability experienced by us. We cannot assure that we will not incur debt in the future, that we will have sufficient funds to repay our indebtedness or that we will not default on our debt, jeopardizing our business viability. Furthermore, we may not be able to borrow or raise additional capital in the future to meet our needs or to otherwise provide the capital necessary to conduct our business. We may utilize purchase order financing from third party lenders when we are supplying or distributing goods, which would increase our costs and the risks that we may incur a default, which would harm our business reputation and financial condition. We cannot assure that we will be able to pay all of our liabilities, or that we will not experience a default on our indebtedness.

We may incur cost overruns in the development, production and distribution of our various products. Management is not obligated to contribute capital to us. Unanticipated costs may force us to obtain additional capital or financing from other sources, or may cause us to lose our entire investment in us if we are unable to obtain the additional funds necessary to implement our business plan. We cannot assure that we will be able to obtain sufficient capital to successfully continue to implement our business plan. If a greater investment is required in the business because of cost overruns, the probability of earning a profit or a return of the shareholders' investment in us is diminished.

If we are unable to pay for material and services timely, we could be subject to liens. If we fail to pay for materials and services for our business on a timely basis, our assets could be subject to liens. We may also be subject to bank liens in the event that we default on loans from banks, if any.

Directors and officers have limited liability. Our bylaws provide that we will indemnify and hold harmless our officers and directors against claims arising from our activities, to the maximum extent permitted by Florida law. If we were called upon to perform under our indemnification agreement, then the portion of our assets expended for such purpose would reduce the amount otherwise available for our business.

If we were to lose the services of our key personnel, we may not be able to execute our business strategy. Our success is substantially dependent on the performance of our executive officers and key employees. The loss of any of our officers or directors would have a material adverse impact on us. We will generally be dependent upon Elizabeth Bambach for the direction, management and daily supervision of our operations. See "MANAGEMENT."

If we are unable to hire, retain or motivate qualified personnel, consultants, independent contractors, and advisors, we may not be able to grow effectively. Our performance will be largely dependent on the talents and efforts of highly skilled individuals. Our future success depends on our continuing ability to identify, hire, develop, motivate and retain highly qualified personnel for all areas of our organization. Competition for such qualified employees is intense. If we do not succeed in attracting excellent personnel or in retaining or motivating them, we may be unable to grow effectively. In addition, our future success will depend in large part on our ability to retain key consultants and advisors. We cannot assure that any skilled individuals will agree to become an employee, consultant, or independent contractor of Your Active World Holdings, Inc. Our inability to retain their services could negatively impact our business and our ability to execute our business strategy.

The consideration being paid to our management was not based on arm's length negotiation. The common stock and cash consideration paid or being paid by us to our management have not been determined based on arm's length negotiation. While management believes that the consideration is fair for the work being performed, we cannot assure that the consideration to management reflects the true market value of its services.

Our bylaws may be amended by our board and our articles and bylaws may be amended by a majority vote of our shareholders. Under Florida Corporations Law, a corporation's articles of incorporation may be amended by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares entitled to vote, and a majority of the outstanding shares of each class entitled to vote as a class, unless the certificate requires the vote of a larger percentage of shares. Our Articles of Incorporation, as amended, do not require the vote of a larger percentage of shares. As permitted under the Florida Corporations Law, our bylaws give our board of directors the power to adopt, amend, or repeal our bylaws. Our shareholders entitled to vote have concurrent power to adopt, amend, or repeal our bylaws.

Risks Related to the Offering

We determined the price of the shares arbitrarily. The offering price of the shares of common stock has been determined by management, and bears no relationship to our assets, book value, potential earnings, net worth or any other recognized criteria of value. We cannot assure that price of the shares is the fair market value of the shares or that investors will earn any profit on them.

Risks Related to the Common Stock

There is a minimum capitalization of $100,000 required in this offering. We cannot assure that all or a significant number of shares of common stock will be sold in this offering. Investors' subscription funds will be used, once the minimum is raised, by us as soon as they are received, and no refunds will be given after the minimum is reached. Although Bambach Enterprises LLC ("Bambach Enterprises"), an affiliate of the Company, has largely funded our operations to date, it has no obligation to purchase shares of common stock. If we raise less than the entire amount that we are seeking in the offering, then we may not have sufficient capital to meet our operating requirements. We cannot assure that we could obtain additional financing or capital from any source, or that such financing or capital would be available to us on terms acceptable to us. Under such circumstances, investors in our common stock could lose their investment in us. Furthermore, investors who subscribe for shares in the earlier stages of the offering will assume a greater risk than investors who subscribe for shares later in the offering as subscriptions approach the maximum amount.

Risks Related to Our Common Stock

If we issue additional shares of our stock, shareholders may experience dilution in their ownership of us. We are authorized to issue up to 20,000,000 shares of common stock, par value $0.001 per share. We have the right to raise additional capital or incur borrowings from third parties to finance our business. Our board of directors has the authority, without the consent of any of our stockholders, to cause us to issue more shares of our common stock and preferred stock. Consequently, shareholders may experience more dilution in their ownership of us in the future. Our board of directors and their family member shareholders have the power to amend our certificate of incorporation in order to effect forward and reverse stock splits, recapitalizations, and similar transactions without the consent of our other shareholders. We may also issue net profits interests in Your Active World Holdings, Inc. The issuance of additional shares of capital stock or net profits interests by us would dilute shareholders' ownership in us. Further, Bambach Enterprises has, through its ownership of the Class A Preferred Stock, has the right, to convert its stock once there is a trading market for the stock of YAWH.

We cannot assure that we will pay dividends. We do not currently anticipate declaring and paying dividends to our shareholders in the near future. It is our current intention to apply net earnings, if any, in the foreseeable future to increasing its capital base and marketing. Prospective investors seeking or needing dividend income or liquidity should therefore not purchase shares of our common stock. We cannot assure that we will ever have sufficient earnings to declare and pay dividends to the holders of our common stock, and in any event, a decision to declare and pay dividends is at the sole discretion of our board of directors.

Our principal shareholders own voting control of Your Active World Holdings, Inc. Our current officers, directors, founders and principal shareholders and their affiliates currently own a total of 2,092,500 shares of our common stock or approximately 87.25% of the total issued and outstanding capital stock of the Company. Our principal shareholders will own approximately 55.84% of the outstanding votes assuming that 1,350,000 shares of common stock are issued pursuant to this offering. These shareholders are able to exercise significant control over all matters requiring shareholder approval, including the election of directors and approval of significant corporate transactions. This concentration of ownership may have the effect of delaying or preventing a change in control and might adversely affect the market price of our common stock. This concentration of ownership may not be in the best interests of all of our shareholders.

You can't easily resell the securities. There are restrictions on how you can resell your securities for the next year. More importantly, there is no market for these securities, and there might never be one. It's unlikely that the company will ever go public or get acquired by a bigger company. That means the money you paid for these securities could be tied up for a long time.

We cannot assure that a public trading market for our common stock will ever be established. At present, there is no active trading market for our securities, and we cannot assure that a trading market will develop. Our common stock has no trading symbol. In order to obtain a trading symbol and authorization to have our common stock trade publicly, we must file an application on Form 211 with, and receive the approval by, the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA"), of which there is no assurance, before active trading of our common stock could commence. If our shares of common stock ever publicly trade, they may be relegated to the OTC Pink Sheets. The OTC Pink Sheets provide significantly less liquidity than FINRA's automated quotation system, or the NASDAQ Stock Market. Prices for securities traded solely on the Pink Sheets may be difficult to obtain and holders of common stock may be unable to resell their securities at or near their original price or at any price.

Our failure to maintain effective internal controls over financial reporting could have an adverse impact on us. We are required to establish and maintain appropriate internal controls over financial reporting. Failure to establish those controls, or any failure of those controls once established, could adversely impact our public disclosures regarding our business, financial condition or results of operations. In addition, management's assessment of internal controls over financial reporting may identify weaknesses and conditions that need to be addressed in our internal controls over financial reporting or other matters that may raise concerns for investors. Any actual or perceived weaknesses and conditions that need to be addressed in our internal control over financial reporting, disclosure of management's assessment of our internal controls over financial reporting or disclosure of our public accounting firm's attestation to or report on management's assessment of our internal controls over financial reporting may have an adverse impact on the price of our common stock.

1. ORGANIZATION AND NATURE OF SERIES A NON-VOTING CONVERTIBLE PREFERRED STOCK

Your Active World Holdings, Inc. ("YAWH") was incorporated in the State of Florida on July 25, 2016. Effective on July 25, 2016, YAWH acquired 100% of the issued and outstanding membership interests of Your Active World LLC ("YAW"), a limited liability company organized in Florida on September 25, 2013, from Bambach Enterprises LLC ("BE") in exchange for the delivery to BE of 2,601,500 shares of YAWH Series A Non-Voting Convertible Preferred Stock. Concurrent with this transaction, YAWH issued a total of 2,362,500 shares of YAWH common stock to certain vendors and creditors of YAW and 36,000 shares of YAWH common stock to a creditor of BE. Accordingly, this acquisition is being treated as a combination of entities under common control and is being accounted for in a manner similar to pooling of interests accounting. The consolidated financial statements include the operations of YAWH from July 25, 2016 and the operations of YAW from its inception on September 25, 2013.

YAW provides Online Registration and Event Management software to various business entities individuals, governments, non-profit organizations, clubs, schools, and other entities who offer and/or wish to offer paid Events in an Online Marketplace.

2. GOING CONCERN UNCERTAINTY

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern, which contemplates the realization of assets and satisfaction of liabilities in the normal course of business. At September 30, 2016 and December 31, 2015 the Company had cash of $6,310 and $0, respectively, and negative working capital of $(262,072) and $(180,742), respectively. For the nine months ended September 30, 2016 and 2015, the Company had net losses of $(711,892) [operating loss was $143,767, exclusive of $568,125 stock based compensation] and $(92,631) respectively. For the years ended December 31, 2015 and 2014, the Company had net losses of $96,245 and $81,788, respectively. These factors raise substantial doubt regarding the Company's ability to continue as a going concern.

The Company plans to improve its financial condition through the sale of its common stock and from obtaining sufficient additional clients to attain profitable operations. However, there is no assurance that the Company will accomplish these objectives. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

3. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Principles of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of YAWH (from its inception on July 25, 2016) and its wholly owned subsidiary YAW (from its inception on September 25, 2013). All intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation. YAWH and YAW are collectively referred to herein as the "Company".

Basis of presentation

The Financial Statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States ("US GAAP").

Significant accounting judgments and estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with US GAAP requires management to make certain estimates, judgments and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported revenues and expenses during the reporting periods. Although management uses historical experience and its best knowledge of the amount, events or actions to form the basis for judgments and estimates, actual results may differ from these estimates.

Revenue recognition

The Company provides clients with a cloud-based online event registration and management system pursuant to agreements with automatically renewable terms. Under the agreements, the Company earns fees (typically a percentage of the transaction amounts subject to a minimum flat rate amount per transaction) on any registration event transaction that occurs through use of the Company's electronic registration program. Such revenues are generally recognized when the registration event occurs.

Software development costs

Capitalized software development costs are carried at cost less accumulated amortization. Capitalized software development costs are amortized using the straight line method over a period of seven years.

The Company internally develops software for use by its clients, which is accessed via the Internet.

The Company capitalizes software development costs incurred during the application development stage in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These principles provide guidance for the treatment of costs associated with software development and defines those costs to be capitalized and those to be expensed. Costs that qualify for capitalization are external direct costs, payroll, and payroll-related expenses. Costs related to general and administrative functions are not capitalized and are expensed as incurred. The Company capitalizes software development costs when the projects under development reach technological feasibility.

The Company completed the development of Your Active World, an online registration and event management system, and placed it in use in 2013. Upgrades and enhancements to the system have been completed after 2013.

Impairment

Intangible assets are reviewed for impairment at the lowest level for which identifiable cash flows are independent of cash flows from other assets and when facts and circumstances indicate that net book values may not be recoverable. In performing this review, an undiscounted cash flow test is performed on the impairment unit. If the sum of the undiscounted future net cash flows is less than the net book value of the assets, an impairment loss is recognized for the excess, if any, of the assets' net book value over their estimated fair value. For the periods presented, there was no impairment loss recognized.

Income taxes

YAW is a limited liability company which was classified as a sole proprietorship for U.S. federal income tax purposes in 2014 and 2015. As such, YAW was not a taxable entity for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Rather, federal taxable income or loss was included in the federal income tax return of Bambach Enterprises LLC's sole member. Commencing July 25, 2016 (the date that YAW was acquired by YAWH), the federal taxable income or loss of YAW will be included in the federal income tax return of YAWH.

Stock- based compensation:

Stock- based compensation is accounted for at fair value in accordance with Accounting Standards Codification 718, "Compensation – Stock Compensation" ("ASC 718").

Net income (loss) per common share

Basic net income (loss) per common share is calculated based upon the weighted average number of shares of common stock outstanding during the reporting period. Diluted net income (loss) per share is based upon the weighted average number of shares of common stock and dilutive securities (such as convertible preferred stock) outstanding during the reporting period. Dilutive securities having an anti-dilutive effect on diluted net income (loss) per share are excluded from the calculation.

Recent accounting pronouncements

In May 2014, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued authoritative guidance for recognizing revenue from contracts with customers. The objective of this guidance is to establish principles for reporting information about the nature, amount, timing and uncertainty of revenue and cash flows arising from an entity's contracts with customers. As a result of an August 2015 FASB update, the new guidance will be effective for annual reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2017, including interim periods within that reporting period. Early adoption is permitted only as of annual reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2016, including interim reporting periods within that reporting period. The Company is in the process of evaluating the impact of this guidance on its financial statements and related disclosures.

Certain other accounting pronouncements have been issued by the FASB and other standard setting organizations which are not yet effective and therefore have not yet been adopted by the Company. The impact on the Company's financial position and results of operations from adoption of these standards is not expected to be material.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the Board of Directors and Stockholders of Your Active World Holdings, Inc.:

I have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of Your Active World Holdings, Inc. and subsidiary (the "Company") as of December 31, 2015 and 2014 and the related consolidated statements of operations, stockholders' equity, and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. My responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my audit.

I conducted my audit in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that I plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. I believe that my audit provides a reasonable basis for my opinion.

In my opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of Your Active World Holdings, Inc. and subsidiary as of December 31, 2015 and 2014 and the consolidated results of their operations and cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States.

The accompanying financial statements referred to above have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. As discussed in Note 2 to the financial statements, the Company's present financial situation raises substantial doubt about its ability to continue as a going concern. Management's plans in regard to this matter are also described in Note 2. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.
