His center has been recognized as an ARTAS Center of Clinical Excellence for 2015 and 2016. Related Party Transactions

At the close of this Offering, Barber Surgeons' Guild, PC plans to wholly acquire the medical practice of Barber Surgeons current Founder, Medical Director, and Shareholder, Dr. Justin Rome. Barber Surgeons' Guild intends to acquire Dr. Rome's hair restoration practice in exchange for increasing Dr. Rome's salary from $200,000 to $250,000 annually. This transaction is not reflected in the financial statements presented because the transaction will take place between Barber Surgeons' Guild and the Dr. Rome's medical practice. Dr. Rome started his own plastic surgery business, Rome Institute for Plastic Surgery, in Beverly Hills, California in 2014 and most recently, introduced robotic hair restoration to his practice in 2015. Dr. Rome's practice has featured The Robotic Hair Restoration Center and uses the ARTAS robotic system for many procedures.

In addition, Dr. Rome is a minority shareholder of Restoration Robotics, Inc., the manufacturers of the ARTAS Robot, the robotic system used to conduct the company's hair restoration services. Dr. Rome's personal investment of $10,000 in exchange for equity was also available to other physicians that utilized the ARTAS technology. ARTAS profits from the sale of its robots as well as the SAAS fee collected per clip for each procedure conducted. The SAAS fees are included in the pricing for the hair restoration services provided by Dr. Rome's Robotic Hair Restoration Center.

Ari Goldberg is the Founder, Chairman, and 100% shareholder of RNMKR, a digital growth and private equity firm. RNMKR's objective is to partner with companies they can help the growth of a company by increasing its digital audience, adding new revenue streams and creating influential affiliate networks. Barber Surgeons will be RNMKR's first investment project. RNMKR currently does not have an equity stake in Barber Surgeons.

RISK FACTORS

The SEC requires the company to identify risks that are specific to its business and its financial condition. The company is still subject to all the same risks that all companies in its business, and all companies in the economy, are exposed to. These include risks relating to economic downturns, political and economic events and technological developments (such as hacking and the ability to prevent hacking). Additionally, early-stage companies are inherently more risky than more developed companies. You should consider general risks as well as specific risks when deciding whether to invest.

These are some of the risks that relate to our company:

- We are selling convertible notes that will convert into shares or result in payment in limited circumstances, and in certain circumstances only at the option of the company. These notes do not have a maturity date and only convert or result in payment in limited circumstances. If there is a merger, buyout or other corporate transaction occurs before a qualified equity financing, investors will receive a payment of the greater of two times their purchase price or the amount of preferred shares they would have been able to purchase using the valuation cap. If there is a qualified equity financing (and only a financing using preferred shares will count for the purpose), the conversion price will be set for conversion into non-voting shares of a to-be-determined class of Preferred Stock. Only major investors will have their notes converted at this time, notes held by non-major investors will only convert at the sole discretion of the company or in the event of subsequent corporate transaction. Further, the notes convert based on a valuation cap meaning investors would be rewarded for taking an early risk compared to later investors. But you won't know how much your investment is worth until that happens. The outside investors at the time conversion, if any, might value the company at an amount well below $7 million valuation cap, so you should not view the $7 million as being an indication of the company's value. Further the interest on the notes is accrued interest; therefore you will not be paid interest payments on these notes. If you choose to invest, you should be prepared that your notes will never convert and will have no value.
- We have not assessed the tax implications of using the Crowd Note. The Crowd Note is a type of debt security that does not include a set maturity date. As such, there has been inconsistent treatment under the state and federal tax law as to whether the Crowd Note can be considered a debt of the company, or the issuance of equity. Investors should consult their tax advisors.
- Does anyone want our product and will they pay enough for it? We will only succeed (and you will only make money) if there is sufficient demand for men's hair restoration products and services. Our clients must think that we offer a better option than competitor products and services (e.g., Bosley Medical, local plastic surgeons, dermatologist, Keihl's, local high-end barbershops and salons, etc.) and they must be willing to pay our set prices that allows the company to make a profit and still attract business.

- We have no operating history, and therefore, we cannot assess our growth rate and earnings potential. It is possible that our company will face many difficulties typical for development stage companies. These may include, among others: relatively limited financial resources; developing new products; delays in reaching its goals; unanticipated start-up costs; potential competition from larger, more established companies; and difficulty recruiting and retaining qualified employees for management and other positions. The company may face these and other difficulties in the future and some may be beyond its control. If the company is unable to successfully address these difficulties as they arise, the company's future growth and earnings will be negatively affected. The company cannot be assured that our business model and plans will be successful or that we will successfully address any problems that may arise. It is possible that you could lose your entire investment.
- Barber Surgeons' Guild, PC has not yet acquired Justin E. Rome, MD PC, the Robotic Hair Restoration Center that the business relies on. Barber Surgeons' Guild PC plans to acquire Justin E. Rome, MD PC, the medical practice of Barber Surgeons, Inc. Founder, President, Treasurer, Secretary and Medical Director, Dr. Justin Rome. Barber Surgeons Guild will acquire the medical practice at the close of this Offering, however, the company's business plan depends largely on the business of the medical practice and its robotic hair restoration services. If Barber Surgeons' Guild does not acquire the medical practice at the close of this Offering, then the company will not be able to pursue a large component its business plan.
- Our business plan relies on the operations of Dr. Rome's Robotic Hair Restoration Center as part of Barber Surgeons' Guild, PC. Our business plan does not rely the operations of the Barber Surgeons Guild nor Barber Surgeons, but of the clients Dr. Rome obtained through his own plastic surgery practice. Barber Surgeons, through its management and licensing agreement, manages the business of Barber Surgeons Guild, PC and it is Barber Surgeons' Guild that plans to acquire Dr. Rome's medical practice. We have no guarantee that these customers will be more inclined to obtain their services at an amalgamated business that features both a barbershop and hair restoration services. The clientele that Dr. Rome obtained were reliant on Dr. Rome's plastic surgery practice and his physician office, not a company that offers men's grooming products, services and treatments in addition to the hair restoration services. Therefore, the financial statements of the medical practice provided may not accurately indicate the future of Barber Surgeons Guild that we set out in our business plan.
- We have a small management team. We depend on the skills and experience of Dr. Justin Rome and Ari Goldberg. Dr. Rome works for the company full-time, however, Ari Goldberg has responsibilities to other companies. Our ability to raise sufficient capital may have an impact on our ability to attract and hire the right talent.

- We rely on licensed professionals to provide our services. The company's hair restoration services can only be provided by skilled and licensed professionals. Currently, Dr. Justin Rome is the only one capable of providing these services using the ARTAS robot. If we lose Dr. Rome, while we can find another licensed physician, it will impact our ability to hire someone with equivalent skills and talents; could financially affect the company and its business.
- Dr. Rome's medical practice owes lines of credit that are secured by the company's assets and will be transferred to Barber Surgeons' Guild when the company is acquired. As of September 30, 2016 the medical practice owes a total of $298,703 under lines of credit. Some of these loans payable are secured by the company's assets. We are not using the proceeds of this Offering to pay off this debt, but we need to grow our revenues enough to service and repay this debt if we are to survive.
- The company is going to need more money. We might not sell enough securities in this Offering to meet our operating needs and fulfill our plans, in which case we will cease operating and you will get nothing. Even if we raise everything we are looking for, we will probably need to raise more funds in the future, and if we can't get them, we will fail. Even if we do make a successful offering in the future, the terms of that offering might result in your investment in the company being worthless, because later investors might get better terms.
- We have a number of competitors. There are already a number of companies, barbershops, salons, plastic surgeons, and others individually providing similar hair restoration services, men's grooming, and products. While these competitors may not provide all the services at one location, they may be able to sell products and services that achieve similar benefits to consumers at a lower price.
- We rely on third party vendors for equipment, like the ARTAS Robot, to provide our hair restoration services. We rely on third party vendors for the ARTAS Robot and other equipment to conduct the hair transplant. If Restoration Robotics, Inc. faces manufacturing constraints (including more demand of the robot from our competitors), that could impact our ability to provide our services. If new technology is developed that is better than the ARTAS robot we could change technologies, but doing so may negatively impact our business or not provide the same benefit and outcome that the company aimed to achieve. However, if there is no new technology and we are unable to use the ARTAS robot, we will not be able to provide our services.

- We are not the only ones using the ARTAS system. We have a number of competitors that are also trained to use the ARTAS robot. Any physician can go through training to use the ARTAS system. Therefore, Dr. Rome is not the only physician in the United States specializing in this method of hair restoration. And even though there are currently 6 ARTAS Robots owned by other physicians in the Los Angeles area, any physician can train to use the ARTAS system and purchase the Robot; increasing this number over time and inversely effecting price.
- There already exists a Barbershop named Guild of Barber Surgeons. The Guild of Barber Surgeons is a barbershop based out of Fullerton, California. We are not associated with this local barbershop. Although the barbershop only provides haircutting and hot shave services, pomades, and shave products, this may conflict with our own business and our brand.
- Changes in healthcare regulation may impact our ability to conduct our business. The medical aspects of our business supported by the company are subject to various healthcare laws and heavy regulatory burden. Changes in healthcare regulation could materially impact or even eliminate the ability of our company's contract counterparts to provide medical services.
- The potential markets for our products are characterized by rapidly changing technology, evolving industry standards, frequent enhancements to existing treatments and products, the introduction of new services and products, and changing customer demands. The company's success could depend on our ability to respond to changing product standards and technologies on a timely and cost-effective basis. In addition, any failure by the company to anticipate or respond adequately to changes in technology and customer preferences could have a material adverse effect on its financial condition, operating results and cash flow.
- You can't easily resell the securities. There are restrictions on how you can resell your securities for the next year. More importantly, there is no market for these securities (or the equity securities into which they will eventually convert), and there might never be one. It's unlikely that the company will ever go public or get acquired by a bigger company. That means the money you paid for these securities could be tied up for a long time.

Description of securities

The securities offered in this offering

The following description is a brief summary of the material terms of the Offering and is qualified in its entirety by the terms contained in the note.

We are offering investors convertible notes that do not have a maturity date. The notes will only convert in the event of a future qualified financing involving preferred shares or in a corporate transaction (for example, a corporate sale, takeover, merger or liquidation). Investors who invest more than $20,000 will be major investors.

If you are a non-major investor and there is a qualified equity financing, the notes will only convert at the election of the company or in a subsequent corporate transaction. If you are a major investor and there is a qualified equity financing, your notes will convert. The notes will convert into shares of the company's Preferred Stock prior to the closing of the qualified equity financing, or within 30 days of purchasing this Crowd Note if the qualified equity financing has already occurred prior to purchase. However, in the event that a corporate transaction occurs prior to a qualified equity financing, you would receive in lieu of the converted shares a payment of the greater of twice the amount of your initial investment or the amount you would have been able to purchase preferred shares based on the $7 million valuation cap.

Our minimum target raise is $150,000 and we will accept up to $500,000 from investors through Regulation Crowdfunding before the deadline of March 2, 2017.

Securities sold pursuant to Regulation D

The company is selling securities in a concurrent offering to accredited investors under Rule 506(c) under the Securities Act at the same time as this Offering. The company is offering up to 500,000 shares of Preferred Stock on a best efforts basis at $1.00 per share.

Common Stock

The company has authorized up to 8,000,000 shares of Common Stock. The company's Articles of Incorporation do not set forth the rights, preferences, privileges, and restrictions relating to the Common Stock. These may be established by the company's Board of Directors.

Preferred Stock

The company has authorized up to 2,000,000 shares of Preferred Stock. The company's Articles of Incorporation do not set forth the rights, preferences, privileges, and restrictions relating to the Preferred Stock. These may be established by the company's Board of Directors.

Dilution

The investor's stake in a company could be diluted due to the company issuing additional shares. In other words, when the company issues more shares, the percentage of the company that you own will go down, even though the value of the company may go up. You will own a smaller piece of a larger company. This increase in number of shares outstanding could result from a stock offering (such as an initial public offering, another crowdfunding round, a venture-capital round, angel investment), employees exercising stock options, or by conversion of certain instruments (e.g., convertible bonds, preferred shares or warrants) into stock.

If the company decides to issue more shares, an investor could experience value dilution, with each share being worth less than before, and control dilution, with the total percentage an investor owns being less than before. There may also be earnings dilution, with a reduction in the amount earned per share (though this typically occurs only if the company offers dividends, and most early stage companies are unlikely to offer dividends, preferring to invest any earnings into the company).

The type of dilution that hurts early-stage investors most occurs when the company sells more shares in a "down round," meaning at a lower valuation than in earlier offerings. An example of how this might occur is as follows (numbers are for illustrative purposes only):

- In June 2014 Jane invests $20,000 for shares that represent 2% of a company valued at $1 million.
- In December the company is doing very well and sells $5 million in shares to venture capitalists on a valuation (before the new investment) of $10 million. Jane now owns only 1.3% of the company but her stake is worth $200,000.
- In June 2015 the company has run into serious problems and in order to stay afloat it raises $1 million at a valuation of only $2 million (the “down round”). Jane now owns only 0.89% of the company and her stake is worth only $26,660.

This type of dilution might also happen upon conversion of convertible notes into shares. Typically, the terms of convertible notes issued by early-stage companies provide that in the event of another round of financing, the holders of the convertible notes get to convert their notes into equity at a “discount” to the price paid by the new investors, i.e., they get more shares than the new investors would for the same price. Additionally, convertible notes may have a “price cap” on the conversion price, which effectively acts as a share price ceiling. Either way, the holders of the convertible notes get more shares for their money than new investors. In the event that the financing is a “down round” the holders of the convertible notes will dilute existing equity holders, and even more than the new investors do, because they get more shares for their money.

If you are making an investment expecting to own a certain percentage of the company or expecting each share to hold a certain amount of value, it’s important to realize how the value of those shares can decrease by actions taken by the company. Dilution can make drastic changes to the value of each share, ownership percentage, voting-control, and earnings per share.

Transferability of securities

For a year, the securities (and any securities they are converted into) can only be resold:

- In an IPO;
- To the company;
- To an accredited investor; and
- To a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, to a trust controlled by the purchaser, to a trust created for the benefit of a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, or in connection with the death or divorce of the purchaser or other similar circumstance.

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS; FINANCIAL CONDITION AND MATERIAL INDEBTEDNESS

Financial Statements

Our financial statements can be found at Exhibit B to the Form C of which this Offering Memorandum forms a part. Barber Surgeons MSO, LLC was formed in July 2016 and later converted to Barber Surgeons, Inc. on October 14, 2016. The company has no operating history.

Financial condition

As a newly incorporated company, we have never recognized any revenues and have no operating history. Accordingly, we are a development stage company and are dependent on additional financing, including this Offering, in order to have the funds to develop our products and services in the United States.

The preparation of financial statements includes estimates made by management and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results can differ from those estimates.

The company has an exclusive agreement to manage Barber Surgeons' Guild, PC in exchange for a previously agreed management fee. The management agreement is perpetual in duration but permits the company, or Barber Surgeons' Guild, PC, or both, to withdraw under certain circumstances. Additional agreements with future affiliates, if any, are expected to be substantially similar in their terms.

Results of Operations

Our company earned no revenue during the period ended November 15, 2016. The company will earn revenue in the form of management fees and share of net income from Barber Surgeons' Guild, PC and other affiliates, including Justin E. Rome MD PC that Barber Surgeons' Guild plans to acquire at the close of this Offering.

Operating expenses consist 62% from rent, 20% from professional services, 11% from general and administrative expenses, and the remaining 7% derived from advertising costs. Our operating expenses through November 15, 2016 were $14,144.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

As of November 15, 2016, we had cash on hand in the amount of $129,981. During this period ending November 15, 2016, the company raised $162,500 through the sale of Preferred Stock. The cash on hand includes this capital raise minus cash flows from operating activities in the amount of $32,544 for security deposits and net loss for the period.

The continuation of the company's business is dependent upon raising adequate additional financial support, which includes raising additional capital through the issuance of equity, incurring additional debt through a financial institution, or the sale or merger of the company.

We have not committed to make any capital expenditures, and in the event that we do not raise sufficient funds from this offering, we will defer the capital expenditures we have planned.

Indebtedness

The company has no debt as of November 15, 2016 and has no plans to use any portion of the proceeds from this Offering to pay off debt.

At the close of this Offering, Barber Surgeons Guild, PC will acquire the medical practice of Dr. Justin Rome, in exchange for cash and equity. This acquisition does not include any purchase of assets or licensing of intellectual property, which will occur in the ordinary course of business. Barber Surgeons Guild, PC plans to acquire the hair restoration practice, including equipment, workforce in place, and the right to all related items of revenue and expense for the fiscal year in exchange for increasing Dr. Rome's salary $50,000 annually.

Recent offerings of securities

Concurrently with this Offering, we are issuing Preferred Stock to accredited investors under Rule 506(c) under the Securities Act. Key differences are that accredited investors, including major investors (those investors that invest $20,000 or more), will be issued Preferred Stock with some rights and privileges the Crowd Note in this Offering will not have.

The company has already raised $162,500 in the concurrent Regulation D Offering of Preferred Stock. Matthew Rome's investment syndicate Barber Shop Guild Investments, LLC has already invested $162,500 in the concurrent Regulation D Offering for 162,500 shares of Preferred Stock. Barber Shop Guild Investments, LLC has no relation to the company other than Matthew Rome's intention to create a vehicle to invest in Barber Surgeons alongside some colleagues. As a result of the investment, the company plans to appoint Matthew Rome as a Director of Barber Surgeons' Board of Directors at the close of this Offering.

No interest was sold in the previous offering of LLC interest.

Valuation

We have not undertaken a valuation of the company.

USE OF PROCEEDS

We are seeking to raise a minimum of $150,000 (target amount) and up to $500,000 (overallotment amount) in this offering through Regulation Crowdfunding. The proceeds of this offering, along with our concurrent offering under Rule 506(c), will be used to cover the operating expenses, capital expenditure and other fees and expenses associated with Barber Surgeons.

The following illustrates our percent allocation for the funds that we raise in this Offering:

- Operating expenses include salaries.
- Changes to overhead expenses may be due to adding new locations with retail and grooming in addition to medical procedures. New products will be offered online through e-commerce and retail. We will hire a small team of full-time employees to scale the sale and productions of our products.
- CAPEX (capital expenditures) are associated with our plan to open 2 new locations over the next 3 years.

If we manage to raise funds in excess of our target amount, we plan to use our proceeds as follows:

	$150,000 (Target Raise)	$500,000 (Overallotment Raise)
Build-out of Los Angeles and/or New York Office(s)*	50%	40%
Product Development	25%	7.5%
Marketing, Advertising, Digital Media, and Customer Acquisition	25%	32.5%
Team Building	--	20%

*Building out of the Offices includes security deposit, rent payments, construction, design and related expenses. Company to hold off on leasing New York Office unless we raise more than the target raise.

Team building refers to hiring more employees.

In case we raise less than the overallotment amount and raise only the target amount, we will reduce our expenses with respect to the amount we spend on team building, product development, customer acquisition as well as hold back on opening a New York location and we will undertake additional financing efforts sooner.

Our main investment will be the hair restoration robots (ARTAS), which cost $200,000 each. We will put a $50,000 down payment for each of the 2 robots we plan to purchase. However, through the acquisition of Dr. Rome's medical practice, the company will also acquire all of Dr. Rome's procedural equipment including his current ARTAS Robot. We will need new equipment when we open our New York location and other locations in the future.

We will also use these funds to pay the expenses associated with this Offering. We have considered these Offering expenses in our percentage allocation of funds. The Offering itself will cost:

- Accountants: less than $3,000
- Lawyers: less than $7,000
- Printing and Video Production: Ongoing
- Advertising: more than $10,000

We do not plan to use any of the proceeds from this Offering to pay off debt.

The identified uses of proceeds are subject to change at the sole direction of the executive officers and directors based on the business needs of the company.

SeedInvest Investment Process

Making an investment in the company

How does investing work?

When you complete your investment on SeedInvest, your money will be transferred to an escrow account where an independent escrow agent will watch over your investment until it is accepted by the company. Once the company accepts your investment, and certain regulatory procedures are completed, your money will be transferred from the escrow account to the company in exchange for your convertible note. At that point, you will be an investor in the company.

Regulation CF rules regarding the investment process:

- Investors may cancel an investment commitment until 48 hours prior to the deadline identified in the issuer's offering materials;
- The intermediary will notify investors when the target offering amount has been met;
- If an issuer reaches a target offering amount prior to the deadline identified in its offering materials, it may close the offering early if it provides notice about the new offering deadline at least five business days prior to such new offering deadline;

- If there is a material change and an investor does not reconfirm his or her investment commitment, the investor's investment commitment will be cancelled and the committed funds will be returned;
- If an issuer does not reach the target offering amount prior to the deadline identified in its offering materials, no securities will be sold in the offering, investment commitments will be cancelled and committed funds will be returned; and
- If an investor does not cancel an investment commitment before the 48-hour period prior to the offering deadline, the funds will be released to the issuer upon closing of the offering and the investor will receive securities in exchange for his or her investment.

What will I need to complete my investment?

To make an investment you will need the following information readily available:

1. Personal information such as your current address and phone number
2. Employment and employer information
3. Net worth and income information
4. Social Security Number or government-issued identification
5. ABA bank routing number and checking account number

What is the difference between preferred equity and a convertible note?

Preferred equity is usually issued to outside investors and carries rights and conditions that are different from that of common stock. For example, preferred equity may include rights that prevent or minimize the effects of dilution or grants special privileges in situations when the company is sold.

A convertible note is a unique form of debt that converts into equity, usually in conjunction with a future financing round. The investor effectively loans money to the company with the expectation that they will receive equity in the company in the future at a discounted price per share when the company raises its next round of financing.

How much can I invest?

An investor is limited in the amount that he or she may invest in a Regulation Crowdfunding offering during any 12-month period:

- If either the annual income or the net worth of the investor is less than $100,000, the investor is limited to the greater of $2,000 or 5% of the lesser of his or her annual income or net worth.

- If the annual income and net worth of the investor are both greater than $100,000, the investor is limited to 10% of the lesser of his or her annual income or net worth, to a maximum of $100,000.

Separately, the company has set a minimum investment amount.

How can I (or the company) cancel my investment?

For offerings made under Regulation Crowdfunding, you may cancel your investment at any time up to 48 hours before a closing occurs or an earlier date set by the company. You will be sent a reminder notification approximately five days before the closing or set date giving you an opportunity to cancel your investment if you had not already done so. Once a closing occurs, and if you have not cancelled your investment, you will receive an email notifying you that your securities have been issued. If you have already funded your investment, let SeedInvest know by emailing cancellations@seedinvest.com. Please include your name, the company's name, the amount, the investment number, and the date you made your investment.

After my investment

What is my ongoing relationship with the company?

You are an investor in the company, you do own securities after all! But more importantly, companies that have raised money via Regulation Crowdfunding must file information with the SEC and post it on their website on an annual basis. Receiving regular company updates is important to keep investors educated and informed about the progress of the company and their investments. This annual report includes information similar to the company's initial Form C filing and key information that a company will want to share with its investors to foster a dynamic and healthy relationship.

In certain circumstances a company may terminate its ongoing reporting requirements if:

1. The company becomes a fully-reporting registrant with the SEC
2. The company has filed at least one annual report, but has no more than 300 shareholders of record
3. The company has filed at least three annual reports, and has no more than $10 million in assets
4. The company or another party repurchases or purchases all the securities sold in reliance on Section 4(a)(6) of the Securities Act
5. The company ceases to do business

However, regardless of whether a company has terminated its ongoing reporting requirements per SEC rules, SeedInvest works with all companies on its platform to ensure that investors are provided quarterly updates. These quarterly reports will include information such as: (i) quarterly net sales, (ii) quarterly change in cash and cash on hand,

(iii) material updates on the business, (iv) fundraising updates (any plans for next round, current round status, etc.), and (v) any notable press and news.

How do I keep track of this investment?

You can return to SeedInvest at any time to view your portfolio of investment and obtain a summary statement. In addition to monthly account statements, you may also receive periodic updates from the company about its business.

Can I get rid of my securities after buying them?

Securities purchased through a Regulation Crowdfunding offering are not freely transferable for one year after the date of purchase, except in the case where they are transferred:

1. To the company that sold the securities
2. To an accredited investor
3. As part of an offering registered with the SEC (think IPO)
4. To a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, to a trust controlled by the purchaser, to a trust created for the benefit of a member of the family of the purchaser, or in connection with the death or divorce of the purchaser

Regardless, after the one year holding period has expired, you should not plan on being able to readily transfer and/or sell your security. Currently, there is no market or liquidity for these securities and the company does not have any plans to list these securities on an exchange or other secondary market. At some point the company may choose to do so, but until then you should plan to hold your investment for a significant period of time before a “liquidation event” occurs. A “liquidation event” is when the company either lists its securities on an exchange, is acquired, or goes bankrupt.
