NOTE 1 - BUSINESS ACTIVITIES AND SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Business Activity

Court Innovations Incorporated (the "Company") was incorporated under the laws of the State of Delaware on January 27, 2014. The Company designs and develops software for the use by courthouses and other government entities.

Basis of Accounting

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP), as promulgated by the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Accounting Standards Codification (ASC). The Company maintains its financial records on an accrual basis, reflecting revenues when earned and expenses when incurred.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results could differ from those estimates, and such differences could be material to the accompanying financial statements.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company considers all highly liquid instruments with a maturity of three months or less when purchased to be cash equivalents. The Company maintains cash in bank deposit accounts, which at times may exceed federally insured limits. The Company believes it is not exposed to any significant concentration of credit risk on cash and cash equivalents.

Trade Account Receivable

The Company does not perform ongoing credit evaluations nor require collateral as its customers are government entities.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are recorded at cost, including improvements that substantially add to the productive capacity or extend the useful life of the related asset, less accumulated depreciation. Maintenance, repairs and minor renewals are expensed as incurred. The cost and related accumulated depreciation of property and equipment are removed from the accounts upon disposition or retirement and any resulting gain or loss included in income.

Depreciation is calculated using the accelerated methods over the estimated useful lives of the assets as follows:

Description	Estimated Useful Lives
Furniture and equipment	5-7 years

Depreciation expense was $3,761 and $554 in 2015 and 2014, respectively.

NOTE 1 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)

Software Development Costs

Software development costs are expensed and billed for reimbursement from the University of Michigan Grant. This grant out of the U of M Provost Office's Third Century Fund has been the Company's main funding source. Total development costs were $539,001 for 2015 and $121,846 for 2014.

Intangible Assets

Intangible assets with definite lives are amortized on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives ranging from three to fifteen years.

Revenue Recognition

The Company's revenue is derived primarily from the University of Michigan Grant and software licensing and services provided to court customers (starting in July 2015). Arrangements with court customers are accounted for as license and service contracts, with revenue recognized in the period in which the services are provided. Upfront setup fees are recognized in the month the setup occurred and advance payment received from customers deferred and recognized as revenue when services are provided.

Royalties Expense

The Company pays $5,000 annual license fee to the University of Michigan. The annual fee is accrued on June 30 of the first year after the first commercial sale and shall continue for four additional annual payments. The first annual license payment was scheduled on June 30, 2016.

Income Taxes

Income taxes are accounted for under the asset and liability method. Deferred income tax assets and liabilities represent the future income tax effect of temporary differences between book and tax bases of assets and liabilities assuming they will be realized and settled in amounts reported in the financial statements. Valuation allowances are established when necessary to reduce deferred tax assets to the amount expected to be realized.

The Company recognizes the tax benefit from uncertain tax positions when it is more likely than not that the position will be sustained on examination by taxing authorities, including resolution of any related appeals or litigation processes. The related tax benefit is measured as the largest amount that is cumulatively more than 50% likely to be realized upon ultimate settlement.

Interest and penalties related to uncertain tax positions are included in income tax expense on the statement of income.
