THE COMPANY AND ITS BUSINESS

The company's business

We are a brand new company formed for the single purpose of producing and marketing a warmhearted and witty new Christmas movie called "I'll Be Next Door For Christmas." We plan to release the film for the 2017 holiday season through an established distribution network in international markets, and to self-distribute in North America. In North America, we plan to release the film in select theatres, as well as to iTunes, Hulu, cable Video-On-Demand, Google Play, and other online avenues. For physical media such as DVDs and Blu-Ray, the company will have no inventory, but rather license rights to a third party, who will then distribute to the big box stores. As for competition, there is really nothing in this exact space. We don't compete with the major Hollywood studios because they don't make family Christmas movies very often, as they are busy with all the comic book sequels. We don't really compete with the Hallmark Christmas movies -- we come from a very strong comedy writing background, and the Hallmark movies have a different focus. (There's a term in our business called "joke density," which is how many jokes per minute a piece has. "Frasier" had a little over 4 per minute, "Modern Family" and "Big Bang Theory" have from 5-6. Hallmark Christmas movies have only a few jokes per entire movie. It's just not their purpose. "I'll Be Next Door For Christmas" will average 4-5 jokes per minute, with some scenes having no jokes, and some with a new joke every few seconds.) There's not much competition in the Christmas movie marketplace. That's why when people talk about their favorite Christmas movies, they often mention films from decades past. They just aren't made very often.

RISK FACTORS

These are the principal risks that related to the company and its business:

- Company Is Newly Formed The Company has a limited operating history and has not generated revenue from intended operations yet. We are a startup Company and our business model currently focuses on our film's production rather than generating revenue. While we intend to generate revenue in the future, we cannot assure you when or if we will be able to do so. We rely on external financing to fund our operations. We anticipate, based on our current proposed plans and assumptions relating to our operations (including the timetable of, and costs associated with, new product development) that, if the Minimum Amount is raised in this Offering, it will be sufficient to satisfy our contemplated cash requirements through approximately June 1, 2017 assuming that we do not accelerate the development of other opportunities available to us, engage in an extraordinary transaction or otherwise face unexpected events, costs or contingencies, any of which could affect our cash requirements.

- Economic Conditions The Company's business and operations are sensitive to general business and economic conditions in the U.S. and worldwide along with local, state, and federal governmental policy decisions. A substantial portion of our revenue will be derived from discretionary spending by individuals, which typically falls during times of economic instability. Declines in economic conditions in the US or in other countries in which our films will be shown may adversely impact our consolidated financial results. Inflation, hyperinflation, currency exchange rates, recession, depression, high unemployment levels, and other unfavorable economic conditions could affect our ability to be profitable. A severe and/or prolonged economic downturn or a negative or uncertain political climate could adversely affect our customers' financial condition and the levels of business activity of our customers we serve. This may reduce demand for our products or depress pricing of those products and have a material adverse effect on our results of operations. In addition to having an impact on general economic conditions, events such as acts of terrorism, war, or similar unforeseen events, may adversely affect our ability to service our customers and our results of operations, although the impact of such events can be difficult to quantify. If we are unable to successfully anticipate changing economic and political conditions, we may be unable to effectively plan for and respond to those changes, and our business could be negatively affected.
- Competition Competition from better-funded companies with more experience may affect our success. We face competition with respect to any films that we may seek to develop or commercialize in the future. Our competitors include major companies worldwide. Many of our competitors have significantly greater financial, technical and human resources than we have and superior expertise in the production and marketing of films and thus may be better equipped than us to develop and commercialize films. These competitors also compete with us in recruiting and retaining qualified personnel and acquiring technologies. Smaller or early stage companies may also prove to be significant competitors, particularly through collaborative arrangements with large and established companies. Accordingly, our competitors may commercialize their films more rapidly or effectively than we are able to, which would adversely affect our competitive position, the likelihood that our film will achieve initial market acceptance and our ability to generate meaningful additional revenues from our products.
- Labor Laws / Conditions Labor laws for actors, or strike by actors' unions may affect our ability to complete the Picture. Various federal and state labor laws govern our relationship with our employees and affect operating costs. These laws include minimum wage requirements, overtime pay, healthcare reform and the implementation of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, unemployment tax rates, workers' compensation rates, citizenship requirements, union membership and sales taxes. A number of factors could adversely affect our operating results, including additional government-imposed increases in minimum wages, overtime pay, paid leaves of absence and mandated health benefits, mandated training for employees, increased tax reporting and tax payment, changing regulations from the National Labor Relations Board and increased employee litigation including claims relating to the Fair Labor Standards Act.

- We face risks relating to competition for the leisure time and discretionary spending of audiences, which has intensified in part due to advances in technology and changes in consumer expectations and behavior. Our business is subject to risks relating to increasing competition for the leisure time and discretionary spending of consumers. We compete with all other sources of entertainment and information delivery. Technological advancements, such as new video formats and Internet streaming and downloading of programming that can be viewed on televisions, computers and mobile devices have increased the number of entertainment and information delivery choices available to consumers and intensified the challenges posed by audience fragmentation. The increasing number of choices available to audiences, including low-cost or free choices, could negatively impact not only consumer demand for our products and services, but also advertisers' willingness to purchase advertising from us. Our failure to effectively anticipate or adapt to new technologies and changes in consumer expectations and behavior could significantly adversely affect our competitive position and its business and results of operations.
- In order for the Company to compete and grow, it must attract, recruit, retain and develop the necessary personnel who have the needed experience. Recruiting and retaining highly qualified personnel is critical to our success. These demands may require us to hire additional personnel and will require our existing management personnel to develop additional expertise. We face intense competition for personnel. The failure to attract and retain personnel or to develop such expertise could delay or halt the development and commercialization of our product candidates. If we experience difficulties in hiring and retaining personnel in key positions, we could suffer from delays in the production of our films, which could adversely affect operating results. Our consultants, partners, team members, and advisors may be employed by third parties and may have commitments under consulting or advisory contracts with third parties that may limit their availability to us. Donald Markowitz, Geralyn Flood, Katherine Botts, Jay Kogen, and Jenna Park may not be available during the Production or Post Production phase of the Picture, in which case suitable personnel will be substituted by management. Loss of talent through sickness or conflict may adversely affect the schedule or ability to complete production.
- Our success is primarily dependent on audience acceptance of our films, which is extremely difficult to predict and, therefore, inherently risky. We cannot predict the economic success of any of our feature films because the revenue derived from the distribution of a film (which does not necessarily directly correlate with the production or distribution costs incurred) depends primarily upon its acceptance by the public, which cannot be accurately predicted. The economic success of a film also depends upon the public's acceptance of competing series and films, the availability of alternative forms of entertainment and leisure-time activities, general economic conditions and other tangible and intangible factors, all of which can change and cannot be predicted with certainty. The economic success of a film is largely determined by our ability to produce content and develop stories and characters that appeal to a broad audience and by effective marketing. If we are unable to accurately judge audience acceptance of our film content or to have the film effectively marketed, the commercial success of the film will be in doubt, which could result in costs not being recouped or anticipated profits not being realized. Moreover, we cannot assure you that any particular feature film will generate enough revenue to offset its distribution, fulfillment services and marketing costs.

- Although dependent on certain key personnel, the Company does not have any key man life insurance policies on any such people. The Company is dependent on David Willis and Jay Kogen in order to conduct its operations and execute its business plan, however, the Company has not purchased any insurance policies with respect to those individuals in the event of their death or disability. Therefore, if David Willis or Jay Kogen die or become disabled, the Company will not receive any compensation to assist with such person's absence. The loss of such person could negatively affect the Company and its operations. In particular, the Company is dependent on David Willis, who is the producer of the film that our Company plans to produce. The Company has entered or intends to enter into employment agreements with Jay Kogen, Geralyn Flood, Tom Shell, Donald Markowitz, Katherine Botts, and Jenna Park, although there can be no assurance that it will do so or that they will continue to be employed by the Company for a particular period of time. The loss of David Willis or any member of the board of directors or executive officer could harm the Company's business, financial condition, cash flow and results of operations.
- The film might never be made. If the film fails for any reason, is never produced or is abandoned, the Purchasers will not receive any return on their investment and will lose all of their investment amount. The revenue participation rights only provide a right to share in the revenues of the "I'll Be Next Door For Christmas" feature film. Accordingly, investors should be aware that their investment is not diversified and totally dependent upon the success of a single film. The film might not be made due to unforeseen circumstances such as a loss of key personnel, industry strike, weather, natural disaster, illness of cast or other key personnel.
- Limited Rights of Investors. Holders of Revenue Participation Rights have no voting rights. The Purchasers will have no right to participate in the business or affairs of the Company. The Financing Agreement does not contain any affirmative or negative covenants relating to the operation of the business or otherwise. The Company does not have any voting agreements in place for Revenue Participation Rights participants. The Company does not have any shareholder/equity holder agreements in place. Investors under no circumstances shall have the right to rescind, terminate or enjoin the exploitation of the Picture by, or interfere with any rights granted to, any distributor or licensee under any agreement entered into by Producer (or in Producer's name). As between Producer and Financier, all business and creative decisions with regard to the Picture shall be made solely by Producer.

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND FINANCIAL CONDITION; MATERIAL INDEBTEDNESS

Financial Statements

Our financial statements can be found attached to this document. The financial review covers the period ending in 2017-03-22.

Financial Condition

Results of Operation

We have not yet generated any revenues and do not anticipate doing so until we have completed the building and delivery of product, which we do not anticipate occurring until November, 2017. Based on our forecast, with the liquidity of the anticipated full raise amount, we anticipate that we can operate the business for 12 months without revenue generation.

It is possible to receive advances from distributors on the film before completion, and offers have already been made to us, but the company has not accepted them since we believe better offers will be available upon completion of the film.

Financial Milestones

All the funds raised will be used for production and marketing of the film "I'll Be Next Door For Christmas," which is expected to be released for the holiday season of 2017, and we believe it will generate revenue at that time, and for decades afterwards.

We forecast (but do not guarantee) gross revenues of $3.2 million over a three year period after release.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

The company was formed in February and has no assets or liabilities. Funding is required to commence and complete production and marketing the motion picture.

If the company is successful in this offering, we will likely seek to continue to raise capital under crowdfunding offerings, equity or debt issuances, or any other method available to the company, not to exceed the amount of $2 million, all such funds to be used for production and marketing of the motion picture.

Indebtedness

The Company has not had any material terms of indebtedness.

Valuation

$2,000,000.00

We have not undertaken any efforts to produce a valuation of the Company. The price of the shares merely reflects the opinion of the board as to what would be fair market value. It is based on the cost of producing and marketing the motion picture.

USE OF PROCEEDS

We are seeking to raise $100,000.00 in this offering through Regulation Crowdfunding, with a minimum target raise of $10,000.00. We have agreed to pay Start Engine Capital LLC ("Start Engine"), which owns the intermediary funding portal StartEngine.com, a fee of 6.0% on all funds raised.

If we raise $10,000, the money will be used as seed money, for legal fees, and to advertise/market the offering. Specifically:

1. Highly targeted ads on Facebook to small and medium investors who are also interested in Christmas.

2. Highly targeted ads on Christmas radio stations that play holiday music throughout the year, thereby targeting superfans of Christmas.

3. Highly targeted ads on websites that cater specifically to Christmas fans every day of the year.

4. Fees to third party consultants to maximize SEO and SEM to draw traffic to the offering. ($500 maximum.)

If we raise $10,000 - $100,000, some of the money will be used to advertise the offering, and the rest as proof of concept to attract high net worth individuals as investors.

1. Leverage further advertising, broadening the target audience listed above.

2. Third party consultants to increase reach of campaign.

3. Keep the majority of the funds in reserve for use in production of the movie.

4. Demonstrate proof-of-concept to secure name talent for roles in the movie.

Irregular Use of Proceeds

"The Company might incur Irregular Use of Proceeds that may include but are not limited to the following over $10,000: Vendor payments and salary made to one's self, a friend or relative; Any expense labeled "Administration Expenses" that is not strictly for administrative purposes; Any expense labeled "Travel and Entertainment"; Any expense that is for the purposes of inter-company debt or back payments."

NOTE 1 – NATURE OF OPERATIONS

That Christmas Movie, LLC was formed on February 17, 2017 ("Inception") in the State of California. The Company was originally formed under The Xmas Movie, LLC and later changed to That Christmas Movie, LLC. The balance sheet of That Christmas Movie, LLC (which may be referred to as the "Company", "we," "us," or "our") are prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("U.S. GAAP"). The Company's headquarters are located in Studio City, California.

That Christmas Movie, LLC is producing and marketing a motion picture product.

NOTE 2 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Use of Estimates
The preparation of balance sheet in conformity with US GAAP requires management to make certain estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, and the reported amount of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could materially differ from these estimates. It is reasonably possible that changes in estimates will occur in the near term.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments
Fair value is defined as the exchange price that would be received for an asset or paid to transfer a liability (an exit price) in the principal or most advantageous market for the asset or liability in an orderly transaction between market participants as of the measurement date. Applicable accounting guidance provides an established hierarchy for inputs used in measuring fair value that maximizes the use of observable inputs and minimizes the use of unobservable inputs by requiring that the most observable inputs be used when available. Observable inputs are inputs that market participants would use in valuing the asset or liability and are developed based on market data obtained from sources independent of the Company. Unobservable inputs are inputs that reflect the Company's assumptions about the factors that market participants would use in valuing the asset or liability. There are three levels of inputs that may be used to measure fair value:

Level 1	- Observable inputs that reflect quoted prices (unadjusted) for identical assets or liabilities in active markets.
Level 2	- Include other inputs that are directly or indirectly observable in the marketplace.
Level 3	- Unobservable inputs which are supported by little or no market activity.

The fair value hierarchy also requires an entity to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs when measuring fair value.

Fair-value estimates discussed herein are based upon certain market assumptions and pertinent information available to management as of Inception. Fair values were assumed to approximate carrying values because of their short term in nature or they are payable on demand.

Risks and Uncertainties
The Company has a limited operating history and has not generated revenue from intended operations. The Company's business and operations are sensitive to general business and economic conditions in the U.S. and worldwide along with local, state, and federal governmental policy decisions. A host of factors beyond the Company's control could cause fluctuations in these conditions. Adverse conditions may include: competition from better funded companies with more experience, labor laws for actors, consumer tastes for the Company's offerings, and loss of talent through sickness or conflict. These adverse conditions could affect the Company's financial condition and the results of its operations.

Cash and Cash Equivalents
For purpose of the statement of cash flows, the Company considers all highly liquid debt instruments purchased with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Revenue Recognition
The Company will recognize revenues from motion picture distribution when (a) pervasive evidence that an agreement exists, (b) the product or service has been delivered, (c) the prices are fixed and determinable and not subject to refund or adjustment, and (d) collection of the amounts due are reasonably assured.

Income Taxes
The Company is taxed as a Limited Liability Company (LLC). Under these provisions, the Company does not pay federal corporate income taxes on its taxable income. Instead, the shareholders are liable for individual federal and state income taxes on their respective shares of the Company's taxable income. The Company will pay state income taxes at reduced rates.

Concentration of Credit Risk
The Company maintains its cash with a major financial institution located in the United States of America, which it believes to be credit worthy. The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation insures balances up to $250,000. At times, the Company may maintain balances in excess of the federally insured limits.

NOTE 3 – COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

The Company is not currently involved with, and does not know of any pending or threatening litigation against the Company or its member.

NOTE 4 – MEMBERS' EQUITY

LLC Interests
Profits and losses will be allocated pro-rata among the interest holders of the entity.

5 – SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

The Company has evaluated subsequent events that occurred after February 17 2017 through March 22, 2017. There have been no other events or transactions during this time that would have a material effect on the balance sheet.

Join a filmmaking team with an Oscar® and 4 Emmys® to make a Christmas movie!

"I'll Be Next Door For Christmas" – the world's first Christmas comedy created by investors... ...like you.

The Christmas Movie IQ series is based on a new, world-leading, next-people-could-watch-based-on-investor-passions, Only-Fans-type-of-individualized-data-form-IP that we created from data we've been quietly amassing for 10 years. It's a unique, never-before-seen, mind-blowing, crowdfunding-like-formation-of-a-Hollywood, but-you-weren't-allowed-to-share-it-are-pretty-the-movies-might-have.

That's all changed with this movie. Because we've built a new kind of IP that's owned by the fans. Our movie is the first feature-length narrative film to give you opportunity under Regulation Crowdfunding in the United States. By investing, you will be a part of filmmaking history.

Our short-term goal: produce the best Christmas movie we can released during the 2017 holiday season, with the aim of seeming profitability in the process.

Our long-term goal: continue to market the film to create a revenue stream for dividends to you, because we believe that Christmas movies are an investment.

A Career of Creating Comedy and Heartwarming Stories

The Movie

I'll Be Next Door for Christmas is a quarantined, upbeat comedy about a family that comes to the rescue of their neighbor on the holiday. The family's new neighbor who doesn't speak a word (see Gavin and Jane Hall's family) "It's a Wonderful Life") is planning your parents that you HAVE have a Santa Claus. "A Christmas Carol" (a Victorian family's Christmas Eve is interrupted by the ghost of Christmas Past, Present, and Future). "Home Alone" (a family accidentally leaves their son behind when they go on vacation).

There are a lot of great Christmas movies, but I wish there were more. And that's why we're making this.

– David Willis, Director/Producer

Business Model

Produce the film to make money for you. Then, sell it to distributors and recoup all of your money right in the source where people are watching movies with their families: iTunes, Google Play, Amazon, Hulu, Netflix, Vudu, Fandango Now, Cable On Demand, Redbox, Walmart, Target, and Best Buy. Then, sell it to international distributors. Because we're the first actors to play the parents and stages a fake Christmas dinner in the empty house two days after Christmas.

Distribute in Select Theaters via Tugg

The hard-line presence of starring with David Willis many times over and the first years and have already made a lot of money, talented, and a great opportunity to find out right story and a unique opportunity to be a part of the Christmas movie.

– Christopher Lloyd, "Back to the Future" and "Taxi" Actor, Executive Producer

It's time to stick, wear, sell-sell!

You'll own a piece of the company however percentage you invest in. Your investment will be attached documents for exact terms, but it's basically this: if you invest $1,000, you'll own 1% of the company. Getting into the numbers a bit more, we're selling you shares in the form of a promissory note. And now [the terms] should be pretty clear for you.

The Christmas Movie IQ, the company we're creating to own, has a eight-purpose to make and market movies "I'll Be Next Door For Christmas," and to derive revenue from that intellectual property.

Mmm. Pie! (Chart)

This is the Production Budget for the movie.

If the budget is to bring downtown and the staff in charging contributors, such as weather, actor availability, script rewrites, location scandals, and more. Production budget is the amount we've determined we need to make the movie we envision. Our goal is to spend $850,000 and go through like with more streaming days. Increase the music budget. Last scene as actor gear, and increase production value.

Where the Money Goes

"Put It Up On the Screen"

There's a phrase in our business. "Put it up on the screen" is the phrase we use to describe the something that shows up on the screen. producers met nearby efforts to Monday's individual movie or more Hitchcockian, those new dollars spent don't appear on the screen. Using Hollywood accounting, studios can make a movie that earns millions of dollars in profit look like a loss. We're not going to do that. We're going to make a movie that earns money and keep it. Hollywood accounting, and it takes more work financially because it might be quite IRR for the event.

Foreign Distribution

In addition to self-distributing in North America, we will sell the foreign rights to distributors around the world. Foreign distributors already invested millions from such distributors with minimum guarantees in the $100,000 range.

Worldwide box office continues to rise, and is reflective of the demand for entertainment.

Home Video Sales

In addition to video on demand, we will sell DVDs. We will also release the film on DVD on demand, too. We will offer a deal to retail distributor like Wal-on physical media throughout North America. Home video sales have declined 15% in the last 5 years.

There's Money in Comedy

The Comedy genre gets the second-biggest market share.

Market Share for each genre from 1995 - 2011.

Competition

There isn't much direct competition with this project. The huge studio don't make many low-action family Christmas movies. That's what you can see from the Hallmark Channel and Lifetime. We're going to make a movie that's funny and heartwarming.

And the Christmas movies on cable (such as Hallmark) are certainly very successful. But they're not funny. They're not edgy. They're not smart. And they're not going to make you laugh.

Our goal with this movie is to help you get your Christmas on, bring with the fun, and share with your family and friends.

A silly video to know us better.

No one's hearing or eyes in the offering. Perks are meant to be a "thank you" from the company to investors, and to provide you with an experience not available to the general public. If you qualify for a perk that can only be fulfilled by a person who can or a person who standing the set, coming to the premiere, etc., you can designate someone else to receive the perk. For example, if you invest $3,000 and want to bring your spouse to the premiere, that's fine.

Additionally, investing at one level does not automatically give the perk to the person in next level, unless specifically stated in that perk. (Except for the $100 investment level, which includes all perks.)

Perks will be fulfilled after the movie is released. Perks are not transferable. Perks have no cash value. Perks are not part of the investment. Not all investors receive the same perk even some of the money! Whether or not they share a perk.

FAQ

- How can you make a quality movie for such a low budget?
  The movie we're making will be a character-driven story with a few budget. Most of the film takes place in two houses right next door to each other. Additionally, we're not paying ourselves anything to make the movie. We're doing it because we love Christmas movies. We're not paying for talent or actors, the movie is for a gift at the end of the year, most benefits, and producing for a network TV show. We've shared it with our investors, and we're not paying ourselves anything to make the movie.
- Why are you spending so much? There are plenty of movies made for less.
  We're spending money on the movie because we want to make a quality movie. The budget you have determined is very experienced and professional crew. We're not paying ourselves anything to make the movie. We're doing it because we love Christmas movies. We're not paying for a certain amount of days in order to tell the story right, and each day costs more money. Additionally, we are marketing the film. Marketing costs money, and we're spending it.
- What happens if you don't raise $50,000? Can you still make the movie?
  We're not going to make the movie if we don't raise $50,000. Here's why:
  - $15k - $20k is the minimum amount we need to hire a professional marketing campaign in order to let more investors learn of the opportunity (which is why we are a 90-day campaign). Use the remainder as proof of concept to attract equity from other sources.
  - $30k - $40k is the minimum amount we need to produce a movie that's worthy of your investment. We're not going to make a movie that's not worthy of your investment. If we don't raise $50k, there's not enough money to produce a movie that's worthy of your investment. We're not going to waste your money. $30k - $40k is marketing funds, we will then invest $10k - $20k which is enough to fund the film and marketing, and we're not going to do that.
  - If we only raise $30k-$40k but not $50k, we raise a perfect strategy of marketing funds and leave against distribution contracts.
- What about the "Hollywood Accounting" thing? I've been told movies make a lot of money but they never seem to show a profit.
  Hollywood accounting is a term used to describe how studios can show that a movie that made money actually lost money. We're not going to do that. We're in Hollywood. The studio that is also different. We're going to pay with their advantage is by distributing agreements. We're distributing the money we contribute down to profit participants. But on this project, we, as producers, don't get a dime in profit participation until the investors have received their money back. We're not going to do Hollywood accounting. We're going to make a movie that earns money and keep it.
- Some parts of your video look like a finished movie. Did you shoot some of the movie already?
  Yes. We've shot a few scenes to help us with the fundraising campaign. We've shot a few scenes for the marketing of the story. We hired a DP, Steadicam Op, Chef, Gaffer & Best Boy, Production Assistant, and Key Grip, and the Movie Doing after the film. We've shot a great deal of the final product with good production value, but that actual footage probably won't be in the released version of the movie.
- You say you're the first Reg CF movie. Are there other movies using Regulation Crowdfunding in the U.S. What about "I Still Gotta to Get"?
  The team at "Need Gotta to Get" is to be congratulated for being the first future-to-target film in the U.S. to use Equity Crowdfunding to get its movie made. We're not competing with them. We're not competing with anyone. We're making a movie that we want to see, and we're going to make it work. It is an exhilarating, collaborative process, whereas our movie is one continuous narrative. Also, we are Christmas and they are Easter.

VIDEO TRANSCRIPT (Exhibit D)

Transcript of That Christmas Movie LLC

DAVID:

Hi, I'm David Willis, director and cowriter.

JAY:

And I'm Jay Kogen, executive producer.

DAVID:

And we're here at a Hollywood prop house to tell you about a feature film we are making called "I'll Be Next Door for Christmas."

JAY:

It's a warm-hearted family comedy about a young woman named Nicky, whose parents are so over-the-top Christmas crazy--

DAVID:

That it's caused her problems her whole life.

NICKY'S PARENTS:

It's adorable! Come on, Nicky. Be the gingerbread man. Yes, that's, oh, Nicky. Awww. Nicky—

AGE 7 NICKY:

No!

BOY:

You wanna make out?

AGE 14 NICKY:

I've never kissed a boy before.

MOTION-ACTIVATED SANTA:

AGE 14 NICKY:

Motion-activated Santa!

MOTION-ACTIVATED SANTA:

Merry Christmas! Ho, ho, ho, ho!

AGE 14 NICKY:

No!

DAVID:

Flash-forward to when Nicky is sixteen. She meets a dreamy boy at music camp.

:trumpet SFX:

JAY:

But he wants to visit her – at Christmas. Since she doesn't want her crazy-Christmas family to scare him away, she auditions actors, hires two to play her parents, then stages a Christmas dinner at the empty house next door.

DAVID:

You know, we all love our family but sometimes they—

JAY:

Chase after us in terrifying Christmas costumes.

JENNA:

Hi, I'm Jenna Park. Co-writer and associate producer and I love Christmas. So why are we making this movie? We all love curling up by the fire and watching our favorite Christmas movies with our family.

DAVID:

And we're passionate about telling this story because it's about a family who drives each other crazy at Christmas but comes together in the end. And making a movie is like being part of a big family.

JENNA:

We come together and collaborate with the goal of making a great movie that people can curl up with and watch year after year.

DAVID:

When you put money into this project, it's not a donation, it's an investment. We want to bring you along on the journey and to share in whatever success the film may have. If the movie makes money, you'll make money.

JENNA:

One of the things that makes a film successful is a great cast. We'll use our contacts to get the best cast we can.

DAVID:

And our team which has an Oscar and four Emmys, has the expertise to make a high-quality film at a very cost-effective budget. Did you do something different with your hair?

JAY:

One of the cool things about becoming involved in a project like this, is that when it's finished and it's been released, it's a pretty good feeling to say, "Hey, I made that happen".

DAVID:

So if you've always wanted to be a movie producer, now's your chance. Unlike some other crowd-funding film campaigns you might have seen, we're not trying to break into Hollywood—

JAY:

We're in Hollywood. I've got awards, I swear.

JENNA:

And we'd like to invite you in too.

JAY:

We believe in this project and we're excited to tell the story.

DAVID:

And we'd love to have you join us, as part of our filmmaking family.

THE END.

STARTENGINE SUBSCRIPTION PROCESS (Exhibit E)

Platform Compensation

- As compensation for the services provided hereunder by StartEngine Capital, Issuer shall pay to StartEngine Capital at the conclusion of the offering a fee consisting of a 5% (five percent) commission based on the amount of investments raised in the Offering and paid upon disbursement of funds from escrow at the time of a closing. The commission is paid in cash and in securities of the Issuer identical to those offered to the public in the Offering at the sole discretion of StartEngine Capital and reimbursement of certain expenses related to the Offering. The securities paid to the Site, if any, will be of the same class and have the same terms, conditions and rights as the securities being offered and sold by the Issuer on the Site.

Information Regarding Length of Time of Offering

- Investment Cancellations: Investors will have up to 48 hours prior to the end of the offering period to change their minds and cancel their investment commitments for any reason. Once the offering period is within 48 hours of ending, investors will not be able to cancel for any reason, even if they make a commitment during this period.
- Material Changes: Material changes to an offering include but are not limited to: A change in minimum offering amount, change in security price, change in management, etc. If an issuing company makes a material change to the offering terms or other information disclosed, including a change to the offering deadline, investors will be given five business days to reconfirm their investment commitment. If investors do not reconfirm, their investment will be cancelled and the funds will be returned.

Hitting The Target Goal Early & Oversubscriptions

- StartEngine Capital will notify investors by email when the target offering amount has hit 25%, 50% and 100% of the funding goal. If the issuing company hits its goal early, and the offering minimum of 21 days has been met, the issuing company can create a new target deadline at least 5 business days out. Investors will be notified of the new target deadline via email and will then have the opportunity to cancel up to 48 hours before new deadline.
- Oversubscriptions: We require all issuers to accept oversubscriptions. This may not be possible if: 1) it vaults an issuer into a different category for financial statement requirements (and they do not have the requisite financial statements); or 2) they reach $1M in investments. In the event of an oversubscription, shares will be allocated at the discretion of the issuer.
- If the sum of the investment commitments does not equal or exceed the target offering amount at the offering deadline, no securities will be sold in the offering, investment commitments will be cancelled and committed funds will be returned.
- If a StartEngine issuer reaches their target offering amount prior to the deadline, they may conduct an initial closing of the offering early if they provide notice about the new offering deadline at least five business days prior to the new offering deadline (absent a material change that would require an extension of the offering and reconfirmation of the investment commitment). StartEngine will notify investors when the issuer meets its target offering amount. Thereafter, the issuer may conduct additional closings until the offering deadline.

Minimum and Maximum Investment Amounts

- In order to invest, to commit to an investment or to communicate on our platform, users must open an account on StartEngine Capital and provide certain personal and non-personal information including information related to income, net worth, and other investments.
- Investor Limitations: Investors are limited in how much they can invest on all crowdfunding offerings during any 12-month period. The limitation on how much they can invest depends on their net worth (excluding the value of their primary residence) and annual income. If either their annual income or net worth is less than $100,000, then during any 12-month period, they can invest up to the greater of either $2,000 or 5% of the lesser of their annual income or net worth. If both their annual income and net worth are equal to or more than $100,000, then during any 12-month period, they can invest up to 10% of annual income or net worth, whichever is less, but their investments cannot exceed $100,000.

ADDITIONAL FINANCIAL DOCUMENTS

COMPANY FINANCING AGREEMENT

FINANCING AGREEMENT – REVENUE PARTICIPATION RIGHTS

The following agreement (the "Agreement"), dated as of %%TODAY%%, sets forth the understanding between That Christmas Movie LLC ("Producer"), on the one hand, and %%INVESTOR_NAME%% ("Financier"), on the other hand, in connection with Financier's provision of funds to Producer for the purpose of producing, completing and delivering the motion picture presently entitled "I'll Be Next Door For Christmas" (the "Picture"), which will be produced by Producer. For good and valuable consideration, the receipt and adequacy of which is hereby acknowledged, the parties agree as follows:

Financier Funds.

Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, Financier agrees to provide Producer with %%VESTING_AMOUNT%% Dollars (the "Financier Funds"), which Financier Funds will be applied toward the production & marketing budget of the Picture.

Producer will be responsible for securing the remainder of the budget for the Picture from additional equity financing contributions (the "Additional Equity Funds") and other sources (e.g., crowdfunding revenues, loans, etc.) (together, the "Additional Funds") from third party equity financiers (the "Additional Equity Financiers") and other sources (together, the "Additional Financiers").

Adjusted Gross Proceeds.

Adjusted Gross Proceeds (as defined in Paragraph 2.2 below) shall be allocated as follows:

First, 100 (100%) of Adjusted Gross Proceeds shall be paid to Financier and the Additional Equity Financiers on a pro rata (based on the ratio that their respective financing contributions bears to the aggregate of the Financier Funds and the Additional Equity Funds) and pari passu basis until such time, if ever, as Financier has received an amount equal to one hundred percent (100%) of the Financier Funds and the Additional Equity Financiers have received an amount equal to one hundred percent (100%) of the Additional Equity Funds; and following such time, if ever, as Financier has recouped an amount equal to one hundred percent (100%) of the Financier Funds and the Additional Equity Financiers have recouped an amount equal to one hundred percent (100%) of the Additional Equity Funds, then any remaining Adjusted Gross Proceeds shall be referred to as "Net Proceeds", and shall be paid as follows: (a) fifty percent (50%) to Producer ("Producer's Net Proceeds"); and (b) fifty percent (50%) to Financier and the Additional Equity Financiers on a pro rata (based on the ratio that their respective financing contributions bears to the aggregate of the Financier Funds, the Additional Equity Funds and the Filmmaker Funds (as defined below)) and pari passu basis. All third-party participations in Net Proceeds (other than those payable to Additional Financiers) shall be borne out of Producer's share of Net Proceeds.

The 50% distribution split assumes that the Financier and Additional Financiers contribute the entire budget of the project, which is projected to be $1 million (and not to exceed $2 million), to the Company. To the extent they contribute less than the entire budget, the 50% distribution split shall be adjusted on a pro rata basis. For purposes of clarity and by way of example, if $800,000 of a $1 million budget is raised by the Financier and Additional Equity Financiers, that would equal 80% of the $1M, which would result in them receiving 80% of the 50% split, or 40% of the Net proceeds, resulting in the Financier and Additional Financiers receiving 40% and the Producer receiving 60%.

"Filmmaker Funds" is defined as all the additional funds required to produce and market the Picture in addition to Financier Funds, Additional Funds, and Additional Equity Funds, e.g. loans, advances, minimum guarantees, etc.

As used herein, "Gross Proceeds" shall mean any and all amounts, including nonrefundable advances, received by Producer from the exploitation of the Picture and all elements thereof and all rights therein, in any and all manner and media, now known or hereafter devised, worldwide, in perpetuity. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Agreement: (a) if a distributor(s) of the Picture pays for the costs of deliverables, such amounts shall not be included in Gross Proceeds; (b) any amounts used to fund production costs of the Picture shall not be included in Gross Proceeds; (c) any advance received from a record company in connection with a soundtrack album for the Picture shall be included in Gross Proceeds only to the extent that such advance is not used to pay music or other production costs; and (d) tax credits or other tax incentives received in connection with the production of the Picture shall be included in Gross Proceeds only to the extent not used to repay financiers providing financing secured by such tax credits or incentives or used to directly fund production costs of the Picture. "Adjusted Gross Proceeds" shall mean Gross Proceeds remaining after deduction of the following: (i) third party sales agent and producer representative fees and expenses; (ii) actual, third party, out of pocket amounts incurred by or on behalf of Producer in connection with the sale, marketing, licensing, delivery, distribution and/or exploitation of the Picture; (iii) ongoing third party accounting costs and expenses actually incurred by or on behalf of Producer in connection with the processing of payments to profit participants (including, without limitation, collection agent fees and expenses), and audit costs; (iv) actual, third party, out of pocket expenses incurred by or on behalf of Producer in connection with the ongoing ownership of the Picture (e.g., costs incurred in connection with the preservation and storage of negatives and master prints and digital storage of the Picture and any expenses incurred in connection with the copyrighting of the Picture); (v) actual, third party, out of pocket expenses incurred in connection with the existence and management of Producer (e.g., taxes, accounting fees, filing fees, etc.); (vi) any residual and/or pension, health and welfare payments paid to unions, guilds, or their members in accordance with the agreements between Producer and the applicable guild with respect to the Picture (to the extent not assumed by the distributor(s) of the Picture); (vii) any amounts required to be withheld by law; (viii) payments pursuant to music licensing "step" deals which require additional payments based on the performance of the Picture; (ix) any actual, third party, out of pocket costs incurred by or on behalf of Producer or its affiliates in connection with enforcement of Producer's rights in the Picture, including, without limitation, actual, direct, out-of-pocket accounting, legal and auditor fees and expenses; (x) any amounts used to repay loans received in connection with the production of the Picture; (xi) any deferred compensation and bonuses (e.g., box office bonuses, award bonuses) payable to parties rendering services in connection with the Picture (to the extent not assumed by the distributor(s) of the Picture); (xii) any amounts paid to the completion guarantor of the Picture (if any) in repayment of sums advanced by such completion guarantor; and (xiii) any reasonable reserve amounts, as determined by Producer in its good faith business judgment, required to cover anticipated future costs or liabilities, provided that such reserve amounts shall be liquidated every twelve (12) months. It is understood that Producer makes no representations or warranties as to the amount of Gross Proceeds, if any, that Producer will receive from the exploitation of the Picture.

Copyright. As between Producer and Financier, Producer shall own all rights, including copyrights, pertaining to the Picture throughout the world and any renewals and extensions thereof. For the sake of clarity, Producer shall have the right to assign its rights in the Picture, in whole or in part, to third parties, in Producer's sole discretion.

4. Risk of Investment. Financier acknowledges the following: (i) there can be no assurance that any Additional Funds will be obtained; (ii) there can be no assurance that the Picture will be completed or that if completed that the Picture will be released or distributed;

(iii) there can be no assurance that the Picture will generate any revenues (including without limitation Gross Proceeds) or that any such revenues will be sufficient to return to Financier all or any part of the Financier Funds; (iv) investments in the motion picture industry involve a high degree of risk; and (v) all other risks of investment set forth in Exhibit A hereto.

Control. As between Producer and Financier, all business and creative decisions with regard to the Picture shall be made solely by Producer.

Financier’s Representations, Warranties and Indemnities.

Financier hereby represents and warrants that: (i) Financier has the full right and authority to enter into this Agreement and to perform its obligations contained herein; (ii) Financier has not made or assumed and will not hereafter make or assume any commitment, agreement or obligation that will or might (as reasonably foreseeable) conflict with or impair Financier’s ability to perform its obligations hereunder; (iii) Financier has read and evaluated the merits and risks of the prospective investment in the Picture (including those set forth in Paragraph 4 and Exhibit A hereto); (iv) Financier has obtained, to the extent Financier deems necessary, Financier’s own personal professional advice and counsel with respect to the risks inherent in this investment, tax or other economic considerations in this investment, and the suitability of the investment in light of Financier’s financial condition and investment needs; (v) Financier and/or Financier’s advisors (if any) has/have been afforded full opportunity to conduct a due diligence investigation of the facts and circumstances relating to this investment, including (but not limited to) asking all questions of Producer necessary in order to make an informed decision; (vi) to the extent that Financier and/or Financier’s advisors conducted a due diligence investigation, Producer fully cooperated with the investigation to Financier’s satisfaction; (vii) except as set forth above, Financier has relied solely on the information contained in this Agreement, and Financier has neither relied on, nor is relying on, Producer with respect to tax or other economic considerations involved in this investment; and (viii) Financier has no intention of selling or otherwise transferring or assigning Financier's interest in this production as set forth herein, and that Financier is acquiring such interest for investment purposes only and not with a view to the resale or distribution thereof.

Financier shall indemnify, defend (at Producer's election), and hold harmless Producer from and against any and all claims, damages, liabilities, costs and expenses, including reasonable outside attorneys' fees and disbursements, arising out of any breach or, in the case of a third party claim, alleged breach, of any representation, warranty, covenant or agreement made by Financier herein.

A "business day" shall mean any weekday (i.e., Monday through Friday) during which banks are generally open in both the U.S. Until otherwise specified by written notice, the addresses for any such notice shall be as first set forth above, with a copy of notices to Producer to P.O. Box 50201, Studio City, CA, 91614.

Miscellaneous.

It is expressly understood, agreed and covenanted that the parties do not by this Agreement intend to form an employment relationship or a partnership or joint venture between them, and in no event shall this Agreement be construed to constitute such an employment relationship, partnership or joint venture. This Agreement is not for the benefit of any third party and shall not be deemed to give any right or remedy to any third party, whether referred to herein or not.

This Agreement embodies the entire understanding of the parties hereto and supersedes and replaces all other agreements (written and oral) between the parties relating to the subject matter hereof, and no change, modification or amendment will be valid or effective unless in writing and signed by both parties.

In the event that Financier should determine to seek any recourse, action or claim to which it may be entitled under or by reason of this Agreement, it hereby agrees that any such recourse, action or claim shall extend only to Producer and not to any of Producer’s owners, shareholders, partners or members.

Financier agrees that under no circumstances shall Financier have the right to rescind, terminate or enjoin the exploitation of the Picture by, or interfere with any rights granted to, any distributor or licensee under any agreement entered into by Producer (or in Producer's name).

In the event that there is any conflict between (i) any provision of this Agreement and (ii) any statute, law, or regulation, the latter (set forth in subpart (ii)) shall prevail; provided, however, that in such event the provision of this Agreement so affected shall be curtailed and limited only to the minimum extent necessary to permit compliance with the minimum requirement, and no other provision of this Agreement shall be affected thereby and all other provisions of this Agreement shall continue in full force and effect.

This Agreement may be executed simultaneously or in any number of counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. Facsimile or scanned electronic signatures shall have the same force as original signatures.
The foregoing reflects our understanding of the essential terms of our agreement, and this Agreement will serve as a binding agreement between us.

Risk Factors

Providing Financier Funds to Producer involves various risks relating both to the nature of the management of Producer and the movie industry itself and such investment of Financier Funds is therefore suitable only for persons or entities with the financial capability of making and holding long- term investments. Prospective financiers should consider the following factors, among others, before making a decision to contribute capital to Producer.

Risks Related to the Company's Business and Industry

To date, we have not generated revenue, do not foresee generating any revenue in the near future and therefore rely on external financing.

We are a startup Company and our business model currently focuses on our film's production rather than generating revenue. While we intend to generate revenue in the future, we cannot assure you when or if we will be able to do so.

We rely on external financing to fund our operations. We anticipate, based on our current proposed plans and assumptions relating to our operations (including the timetable of, and costs associated with, new product development) that, if the Minimum Amount is raised in this Offering, it will be sufficient to satisfy our contemplated cash requirements to move forward with further financing assuming that we do not accelerate the development of other opportunities available to us, engage in an extraordinary transaction or otherwise face unexpected events, costs or contingencies, any of which could affect our cash requirements.

We expect capital outlays and operating expenditures to increase over the next several months as we expand our infrastructure, commercial operations, development activities and establish offices.

Our future funding requirements will depend on many factors, including but not limited to the following:

The cost of expanding our operations;
The rate of progress and cost of development activities;
The costs of filing, prosecuting, defending and enforcing our intellectual property rights;
The cost and delays in the production of our films that may result from changes in regulatory requirements applicable to our films;
Sales and marketing efforts to bring our films to market;
Unforeseen difficulties in establishing and maintaining an effective sales and distribution network; and Lack of market acceptance of our films.
We may have difficulty obtaining additional funding and we cannot assure you that additional capital will be available to us when needed, if at all, or if available, will be obtained on terms acceptable to us. If we raise additional funds by issuing additional revenue participation rights or debt securities, such revenue participation rights or debt instruments may provide for rights, preferences or privileges senior to the Securities. In addition, the terms of the debt securities issued could impose significant restrictions on our operations. If we raise additional funds through collaborations and licensing arrangements, we might be required to relinquish significant rights to our intellectual property, or grant licenses on terms that are not favorable to us. If adequate funds are not available, we may have to delay, scale back, or eliminate some of our operations or our production and commercialization activities. Under these circumstances, if the Company is unable to acquire additional capital or is required to raise it on terms that are less satisfactory than desired, it may have a material adverse effect on its financial condition.

We have no operating history upon which you can evaluate our performance, and accordingly, our prospects must be considered in light of the risks that any new company encounters.

We were incorporated under the laws of California on February 17, 2017. Accordingly, we have no history upon which an evaluation of our prospects and future performance can be made. Our proposed operations are subject to all business risks associated with new enterprises. The likelihood of our creation of a viable business must be considered in light of the problems, expenses, difficulties, complications, and delays frequently encountered in connection with the inception of a business, operation in a competitive industry, and the continued development of advertising, promotions, and a corresponding client base. We anticipate that our operating expenses will increase for the near future. There can be no assurances that we will ever operate profitably. You should consider the Company's business, operations and prospects in light of the risks, expenses and challenges faced as an early-stage company.

Our management team has limited experience in self-distribution and has not overseen an operation with similar risks and challenges specific to our business.

Members of our management team may make decisions detrimental to our business and/or be unable to successfully manage our operations. The ineffective management of our business will have a negative effect on our results of operations.

In order for the Company to compete and grow, it must attract, recruit, retain and develop the necessary personnel who have the needed experience.

Recruiting and retaining highly qualified personnel is critical to our success. These demands may require us to hire additional personnel and will require our existing management personnel to develop additional expertise. We face intense competition for personnel. The failure to attract and retain personnel or to develop such expertise could delay or halt the development and commercialization of our product candidates. If we experience difficulties in hiring and retaining personnel in key positions, we could suffer from delays in the production of our films, which could adversely affect operating results. Our consultants, partners, team members, and advisors may be employed by third parties and may have commitments under consulting or advisory contracts with third parties that may limit their availability to us. Donald Markowitz, Geralyn Flood, Katherine Botts, Jenna Park may not be available during the Production or Post Production phase of the Picture, in which case suitable personnel will be substituted by management.

The development and commercialization of our film is highly competitive.

We face competition with respect to any films that we may seek to develop or commercialize in the future. Our competitors include major companies worldwide. Many of our competitors have significantly greater financial, technical and human resources than we have and superior expertise in the production and marketing of films and thus may be better equipped than us to develop and commercialize films. These competitors also compete with us in recruiting and retaining qualified personnel and acquiring technologies. Smaller or early stage companies may also prove to be significant competitors, particularly through collaborative arrangements with large and established companies. Accordingly, our competitors may commercialize their films more rapidly or effectively than we are able to, which would adversely affect our competitive position, the likelihood that our film will achieve initial market acceptance and our ability to generate meaningful additional revenues from our products.

In general, demand for our films is highly correlated with general economic conditions.

A substantial portion of our revenue will be derived from discretionary spending by individuals, which typically falls during times of economic instability. Declines in economic conditions in the US or in other countries in which our films will be shown may adversely impact our consolidated financial results.

The Company's success depends on the experience and skill of the board of directors, its executive officers and key employees.

In particular, the Company is dependent on David Willis, who is the producer of the film that our Company plans to produce. The Company has entered or intends to enter into employment agreements with Jay Kogen, Geralyn Flood, Tom Shell, Donald Markowitz, Katherine Botts, and Jenna Park, although there can be no assurance that it will do so or that they will continue to be employed by the Company for a particular period of time. The loss of David Willis or any member of the board of directors or executive officer could harm the Company's business, financial condition, cash flow and results of operations.

Although dependent on certain key personnel, the Company does not have any key man life insurance policies on any such people.

The Company is dependent on David Willis and Jay Kogen in order to conduct its operations and execute its business plan, however, the Company has not purchased any insurance policies with respect to those individuals in the event of their death or disability. Therefore, if David Willis or Jay Kogen die or become disabled, the Company will not receive any compensation to assist with such person's absence. The loss of such person could negatively affect the Company and its operations.

We are subject to income taxes as well as non-income based taxes, such as payroll, sales, use, value- added, net worth, property and goods and services taxes, in both the US and various foreign jurisdictions.

Significant judgment is required in determining our provision for income taxes and other tax liabilities. In the ordinary course of our business, there are many transactions and calculations where the ultimate tax determination is uncertain. Although we believe that our tax estimates are reasonable: (i) there is no assurance that the final determination of tax audits or tax disputes will not be different from what is reflected in our income tax provisions, expense amounts for non-income based taxes and accruals and (ii) any material differences could have an adverse effect on our financial position and results of operations in the period or periods for which determination is made.

We are not subject to Sarbanes-Oxley regulations and lack the financial controls and safeguards required of public companies.

We do not have the internal infrastructure necessary, and are not required, to complete an attestation about our financial controls that would be required under Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002. There can be no assurance that there are no significant deficiencies or material weaknesses in the quality of our financial controls. We expect to incur additional expenses and diversion of management's time if and when it becomes necessary to perform the system and process evaluation, testing and remediation required in order to comply with the management certification and auditor attestation requirements.

Changes in employment laws or regulation could harm our performance.

Various federal and state labor laws govern our relationship with our employees and affect operating costs. These laws include minimum wage requirements, overtime pay, healthcare reform and the implementation of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, unemployment tax rates, workers' compensation rates, citizenship requirements, union membership and sales taxes. A number of factors could adversely affect our operating results, including additional government-imposed increases in minimum wages, overtime pay, paid leaves of absence and mandated health benefits, mandated training for employees, increased tax reporting and tax payment, changing regulations from the National Labor Relations Board and increased employee litigation including claims relating to the Fair Labor Standards Act.

Changes in government regulation could adversely impact our business.

The media and entertainment industry is subject to extensive legislation and regulation at the federal and local levels and, in some instances, at the state level. Additionally, our film is also subject to regulation, and additional regulation is under consideration. Many aspects of such regulation are currently the subject of judicial and administrative proceedings, legislative and administrative proposals, and lobbying efforts by us and our competitors. Legislation under consideration could entirely rewrite our principal regulatory statute, and the FCC and/or Congress may attempt to change the classification of or change the way that our film is regulated and/or change the framework under which broadcast signals are carried, remove the copyright compulsory license and changing rights and obligations of our competitors. We expect that court actions and regulatory proceedings will continue to refine our rights and obligations under applicable federal, state and local laws, which cannot be predicted. Modifications to existing requirements or imposition of new requirements or limitations could have an adverse impact on our business.

We may not be able to adapt to new content distribution platforms and to changes in consumer behavior resulting from these new technologies.

We must successfully adapt to technological advances in our industry, including the emergence of alternative distribution platforms. Our ability to exploit new distribution platforms and viewing technologies will affect our ability to maintain or grow our business and may increase our capital expenditures. Additionally, we must adapt to changing consumer behavior driven by advances such as DVRs, video-on-demand, online based content delivery, Blu-ray™ players, game consoles and mobile devices. Such changes may impact the revenue we are able to generate from our traditional distribution methods by decreasing the viewership of our networks on cable and other MVPD systems. If we fail to adapt our distribution methods and content to emerging technologies, our appeal to our targeted audiences might decline and there would be a materially adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

We face risks relating to competition for the leisure time and discretionary spending of audiences, which has intensified in part due to advances in technology and changes in consumer expectations and behavior.

Our business is subject to risks relating to increasing competition for the leisure time and discretionary spending of consumers. We compete with all other sources of entertainment and information delivery. Technological advancements, such as new video formats and Internet streaming and downloading of programming that can be viewed on televisions, computers and mobile devices have increased the number of entertainment and information delivery choices available to consumers and intensified the challenges posed by audience fragmentation. The increasing number of choices available to audiences, including low-cost or free choices, could negatively impact not only consumer demand for our products and services, but also advertisers' willingness to purchase advertising from us. Our failure to effectively anticipate or adapt to new technologies and changes in consumer expectations and behavior could significantly adversely affect our competitive position and its business and results of operations.

Piracy of the Company's content may decrease the revenues received from the sale of our content and adversely affect our businesses.

The piracy of our content, products and other intellectual property poses significant challenges for us. Technological developments, such as the proliferation of cloud-based storage and streaming, increased broadband Internet speed and penetration and increased speed of mobile data transmission have made it easier to create, transmit, distribute and store high quality unauthorized copies of content in unprotected digital formats, which has in turn encouraged the creation of highly scalable businesses that facilitate, and in many instances financially benefit from, such piracy. Piracy is particularly prevalent in many parts of the world that lack effective copyright and technical legal protections or enforcement measures, and illegitimate operators based in these parts of the world can attract viewers from anywhere in the world. The proliferation of unauthorized copies and piracy of the Company's content, products and intellectual property or the products it licenses from others could result in a reduction of the revenues that the Company receives from the legitimate sale, licensing and distribution of its content and products. The Company devotes substantial resources to protecting its content, products and intellectual property, but there can be no assurance that the Company's efforts to enforce its rights and combat piracy will be successful.

Our success depends on consumer acceptance of our content and we may be adversely affected if our content fails to achieve sufficient consumer acceptance or the costs to create or acquire content increase.

We create and acquire media and entertainment content, the success of which depends substantially on consumer tastes and preferences that change in often unpredictable ways. The success of these businesses depends on our ability to consistently create, acquire, market and distribute our films and other content that meet the changing preferences of the broad domestic and international consumer market. We have invested, and will continue to invest, substantial amounts in our content, including in the production of original content, before learning the extent to which it would earn consumer acceptance.

There is substantial uncertainty that we will continue operations as a going concern, in which case you could lose your entire investment.

Our future existence remains uncertain. We were only recently formed, have generated no revenues to date and will have losses from our operations before we are able to generate revenues. We will require additional capital to execute our business plan. This means that there is substantial doubt that we can continue as a going concern for the next twelve months unless we obtain additional capital to pay our bills and debts and execute our plan of operations.

Our success is primarily dependent on audience acceptance of our films, which is extremely difficult to predict and, therefore, inherently risky.

We cannot predict the economic success of any of our feature films because the revenue derived from the distribution of a film (which does not necessarily directly correlate with the production or distribution costs incurred) depends primarily upon its acceptance by the public, which cannot be accurately predicted. The economic success of a film also depends upon the public's acceptance of competing series and films, the availability of alternative forms of entertainment and leisure-time activities, general economic conditions and other tangible and intangible factors, all of which can change and cannot be predicted with certainty.

The economic success of a film is largely determined by our ability to produce content and develop stories and characters that appeal to a broad audience and by effective marketing. If we are unable to accurately judge audience acceptance of our film content or to have the film effectively marketed, the commercial success of the film will be in doubt, which could result in costs not being recouped or anticipated profits not being realized. Moreover, we cannot assure you that any particular feature film will generate enough revenue to offset its distribution, fulfillment services and marketing costs.

Our operating results are primarily dependent on the success of the film "I'll Be Next Door For Christmas," and forecasting revenue and associated gross profits from that is extremely difficult.

For the next few years, our revenue, operating results, and earnings per share will be dependent upon the timing and amount of worldwide revenues and marketing and distribution costs for "I'll Be Next Door For Christmas." Marketing and distribution costs include worldwide release costs, costs related to merchandise and other distribution costs including third party participations and residuals. For our business to be successful, our "I'll Be Next Door For Christmas" film must achieve success and it is difficult to predict the success prior to its release at a date to be determined. Even if the film has a very successful worldwide run, it is difficult to predict the feature film, merchandising and ancillary revenue streams, if any. While customer acceptance of a film is initially measured by viewing audience, customer acceptance within each follow- on product category, such as merchandise, depends on factors unique to each type of product, such as pricing, competitive products, and the time of year or state of the economy into which a product is released, among many other factors. In addition, the degree of customer acceptance may vary widely among foreign countries. While a film's success is often a good indicator of general audience acceptance, the relative success of follow-on products is not always directly correlated, and the degree of correlation is difficult to predict.

There are significant risks associated with motion picture industry.

The completion and commercial success of a motion picture are extremely unpredictable, and the motion picture industry involves a substantial degree of risk. Commercial success is primarily determined by audience reaction, which is unpredictable. The completion and commercial success of a motion picture also depends upon other factors, such as:

talent and crew availability;
financing requirements;
distribution strategy, including the time of the year and the number of screens on which a motion picture is shown;
the number, quality and acceptance of other competing series or films released into the marketplace at or near the same time;
critical reviews;
the availability of alternative forms of entertainment and leisure time activities;
piracy and unauthorized recording, transmission and distribution;
general socioeconomic conditions and political events; and other tangible and intangible factors.
All of these factors can change and cannot be predicted with certainty. In addition, motion picture attendance is seasonal, with the greatest attendance typically occurring during the summer and holidays. The release of a film during a period of relatively low theater attendance is likely to affect the film's box office receipts adversely.

We expect that we will derive all of our revenue from a single source, the production of the "I'll Be Next Door For Christmas" motion picture, which could adversely affect us.

Unlike most of the major studios, which are part of large diversified corporate groups with a variety of other operations, we currently depend primarily on the success of the feature film that we plan to produce. For example, unlike us, many of the major studios are part of corporate groups that include television networks, cable channels and other distribution platforms that may provide sources of earnings and cash flows that offset fluctuations in the financial performance of their feature films. We, on the other hand, expect to derive all of our revenue from a single source —our feature film—and our lack of a sufficiently diversified business model could adversely affect us if our film or other properties fail to perform to our expectations.

The production and marketing of feature films and other properties is capital-intensive and our capacity to generate cash from our projects may be insufficient to meet our anticipated cash requirements.

The costs to produce and market a film are substantial.

Risks Related to the Securities

The revenue participation rights do not entitle the Purchasers to a share in any Company revenue other than revenue generated by the "I'll Be Next Door For Christmas" feature film.

If the film fails for any reason, is never produced or is abandoned, the Purchasers will not receive any return on their investment and will lose all of their investment amount. The revenue participation rights only provide a right to share in the revenues of the "I'll Be Next Door For Christmas" feature film. Accordingly, investors should be aware that their investment is not diversified and totally dependent upon the success of a single film.

The revenue participation rights give the Purchasers in this offering and any additional purchasers of those rights in the future a right to share in 50% of the revenues generated by the "I'll Be Next Door For Christmas" feature film in the aggregate (i.e., as a group). Accordingly, your interest in such revenue share will be diluted as additional investors are brought in to fund the costs of the production of the film.

Your funds will be among the initial funds used to begin production of the film. As additional costs are incurred more investors will be brought in to cover those costs. Both the Purchasers participating in this offering (you) and future investors who provide capital to the company will share in the 50% revenue share. Accordingly, your participation in that revenue share will be diluted as more investors receive revenue participation rights in the future. Furthermore, if the cost of producing the film is more than expected, then a significant amount of additional investor funds may be needed and your percentage of such 50% revenue share could be significantly diluted.

The revenue participation rights will not be freely tradable until one year from the initial purchase date. Although the revenue participation rights may be tradeable under federal securities law, state securities regulations may apply and each Purchaser should consult with his or her attorney.

You should be aware of the long-term nature of this investment. There is not now and likely will not be a public market for the revenue participation rights. Because the revenue participation rights have not been registered under the Securities Act or under the securities laws of any state or non-United States jurisdiction, the revenue participation rights have transfer restrictions and cannot be resold in the United States except pursuant to Rule 501 of Regulation CF. It is not currently contemplated that registration under the Securities Act or other securities laws will be effected. Limitations on the transfer of the Securities may also adversely affect the price that you might be able to obtain for the Securities in a private sale. Purchasers should be aware of the long-term nature of their investment in the Company. Each Purchaser in this Offering will be required to represent that it is purchasing the Securities for its own account, for investment purposes and not with a view to resale or distribution thereof.

Neither the Offering nor the Securities have been registered under federal or state securities laws, leading to an absence of certain regulation applicable to the Company.

No governmental agency has reviewed or passed upon this Offering, the Company or any Securities of the Company. The Company also has relied on exemptions from securities registration requirements under applicable state securities laws. Investors in the Company, therefore, will not receive any of the benefits that such registration would otherwise provide. Prospective investors must therefore assess the adequacy of disclosure and the fairness of the terms of this offering on their own or in conjunction with their personal advisors.

No Guarantee of Return on Investment

There is no assurance that a Purchaser will realize a return on its investment or that it will not lose its entire investment. For this reason, each Purchaser should read the Form C and all Exhibits carefully and should consult with its own attorney and business advisor prior to making any investment decision.

A majority of the Company is owned by a small number of owners.

Prior to the offering, the Company's current owners of 20% or more beneficially own 100.0% of the Company. Subject to any fiduciary duties owed to our other owners or investors under California law, these owners may be able to exercise significant influence over matters requiring owner approval, including the election of directors or managers and approval of significant Company transactions, and will have significant control over the Company's management and policies. Some of these persons may have interests that are different from yours. For example, these owners may support proposals and actions with which you may disagree. The concentration of ownership could delay or prevent a change in control of the Company or otherwise discourage a potential acquirer from attempting to obtain control of the Company, which in turn could reduce the price potential investors are willing to pay for the Company. In addition, these owners could use their voting influence to maintain the Company's existing management, delay or prevent changes in control of the Company, or support or reject other management and board proposals that are subject to owner approval.

The Company has the right to extend the Offering deadline.

The Company may extend the Offering deadline beyond what is currently stated herein. This means that your investment may continue to be held in escrow while the Company attempts to raise the Minimum Amount even after the Offering deadline stated herein is reached. Your investment will not be accruing interest during this time and will simply be held until such time as the new Offering deadline is reached without the Company receiving the Minimum Amount, at which time it will be returned to you without interest or deduction, or the Company receives the Minimum Amount, at which time it will be released to the Company to be used as set forth herein. Upon or shortly after release of such funds to the Company, the Securities will be issued and distributed to you.

There is no present market for the Securities and we have arbitrarily set the price.

We have arbitrarily set the price of the Securities with reference to the general status of the securities market and other relevant factors. The Offering price for the Securities should not be considered an indication of the actual value of the Securities and is not based on our net worth or prior earnings. We cannot assure you that the Securities could be resold by you at the Offering price or at any other price.

In addition to the risks listed above, businesses are often subject to risks not foreseen or fully appreciated by the management. It is not possible to foresee all risks that may affect us. Moreover, the Company cannot predict whether the Company will successfully effectuate the Company's current business plan. Each prospective Purchaser is encouraged to carefully analyze the risks and merits of an investment in the Securities and should take into consideration when making such analysis, among other, the Risk Factors discussed above.

THE SECURITIES OFFERED INVOLVE A HIGH DEGREE OF RISK AND MAY RESULT IN THE LOSS OF YOUR ENTIRE INVESTMENT. ANY PERSON CONSIDERING THE PURCHASE OF THESE SECURITIES SHOULD BE AWARE OF THESE AND OTHER FACTORS SET FORTH IN FORM C AND SHOULD CONSULT WITH HIS OR HER LEGAL, TAX AND FINANCIAL ADVISORS PRIOR TO MAKING AN INVESTMENT IN THE SECURITIES. THE SECURITIES SHOULD ONLY BE PURCHASED BY PERSONS WHO CAN AFFORD TO LOSE ALL OF THEIR INVESTMENT.

Executive Officer(s)' Discretion Regarding Production and Distribution Matters

The executive officer(s) of Producer have the sole authority to enter into agreements on behalf of Producer with motion picture or television studios, distributors and/or other third parties pursuant to which Producer, in exchange for such studios', distributors and/or other third parties' assistance in producing, distributing and/or otherwise exploiting the Picture, may commit to pay such parties out of revenues generated by the Picture at a point in the Picture's revenue stream prior to Producer's receipt of its Gross Proceeds. Such agreements may include but are not limited to flat fee arrangements, negative pickup deals or an outright sale of the Picture, if in the judgment of the executive officer(s), such a sale would be in the best interest of Producer. In addition, the executive officer(s) have the sole right to enter into agreements on behalf of Producer which provide that persons rendering services or other materials or facilities in connection with the development, production, distribution or other exploitation of the Picture shall receive, as salary or other compensation, deferred amounts or a percentage participation in Producer revenue. SUCH RELIANCE ON THE JUDGMENT AND DISCRETION OF THE EXECUTIVE OFFICER(S) PLACES A GREATER EMPHASIS ON THE SKILLS AND JUDGMENT OF THE EXECUTIVE OFFICER(S) AND HIS OR HER ADVISORS AND THEREFORE MAKES IT IMPERATIVE THAT PROSPECTIVE FINANCIERS CAREFULLY EXAMINE THE ABILITIES OF THE EXECUTIVE OFFICER(S) AND THE EXECUTIVE OFFICER(S)' ASSOCIATES BEFORE CHOOSING TO PROVIDE ANY CAPITAL CONTRIBUTIONS HEREUNDER.
