BUSINESS AND ANTICIPATED BUSINESS PLAN

7. Describe in detail the business of the issuer and the anticipated business plan of the issuer.

Gulf Coast Canna Meds, Inc. ("GCCM" or the "Company") was formed with the main purpose of attempting to acquire the required license to operate a medical marijuana extraction, manufacturing and distribution company in the Tampa-St. Petersburg-Clearwater Metro Area after the passage of Amendment 2, which has increased the scope of legalized medical marijuana in Florida. GCCM intends to be a community leader and serve Florida's qualifying patients by producing safe, pure and precisely formulated medical marijuana concentrates and infused products.

GCCM plans to manufacture precisely formulated medical marijuana extractions and marijuana infused products utilizing safety, sanitization and Good Manufacturing Protocols (GMP) found in the pharmaceutical industry at its production facility conforming to food prep FDA rules and regulations.

The Company will offer delivery of its products to retail dispensary clients in the greater Tampa-St. Petersburg-Clearwater Metro Area and throughout the State of Florida. In addition to offering educational services to dispensary clients, GCCM will also sponsor informative meetings for patients and the public, as well as educational seminars about medical cannabis products. To see detailed list of the Company's products and services see: "GCCM Products" and "GCCM Services" on pages 16-18 of this Memorandum.

Maturity of Industry

The medical marijuana market in Florida is in a relatively nascent stage, as the limited Compassionate Use program that legalized CBD/low-THC cannabis for just two qualifying conditions was signed into law in 2014. The program, overseen by the Department of Health's Office of Compassionate Use, allows for just seven dispensing organizations, with the first recently opening its doors and beginning to serve patients in late July 2016. The program was expanded in March 2016 to include high-THC medical marijuana products for terminally ill patients.

Amendment 2, Florida's ballot initiative to fully legalize medical marijuana and create a new comprehensive state regulated program with many more licensees, was approved by voters in November 2016.

Now that the amendment has been approved, it will take at least one to two years for the state to write new regulations, award all initial Medical Marijuana Treatment Center (MMTC) licenses; and for licensees to grow, harvest and process medical marijuana, develop marijuana infused products, and have the medicine available for patients in retail dispensaries. A realistic potential start date for the new program is mid to late 2018, although that projection could easily change.

Nationally, the medical marijuana market is poised for more robust growth ahead. There are relatively more mature but still surging markets in states with long-established programs like Colorado, California, Washington and Oregon; states with smaller programs that have seen their patient numbers and sales totals rapidly expand in the last year such as New Mexico and Arizona; and additional markets emerging as more states come online, with Pennsylvania, Ohio, Arkansas and Florida among the latest to join, pushing the total U.S. states with comprehensive medical marijuana programs to 28 – more than half of the nation.

Regulatory Issues

While all businesses are influenced by regulation to some degree, the Florida medical marijuana industry will be particularly affected by government regulation as dictated by the state's Department of Health, along with additional regulations and zoning restrictions in certain cities and municipalities. The state's regulations and licensing requirements are expected to create specific restrictions for how and where legal medical marijuana businesses may operate.

The Amendment language provides few details on the future program's regulatory requirements, with the Florida DOH or its successor agency required to establish and put into effect full regulations within six months after the measure was approved by voters and added to the state's constitution.

Taking that into consideration, assumptions can be made about how those regulations will eventually look based on regulatory restrictions commonly found in other comprehensive state-run medical marijuana programs. The regulations in place for Florida's current Low-THC/CBD medical program, overseen by the Department of Health's Office of Compassionate Use, also serve as a guide.

Before commencing operations, the Company will be required to acquire a license from the Department of Health to operate a Medical Marijuana Treatment Center (MMTC) and be approved by the Department to begin operations. The application fee and the cost of the license have not yet been determined, but the fee required by the state for those who applied to be one of five licensed operators under Florida's current CBD/low-THC program was $60,063, without an additional license fee for the winners. It is expected that the fees for Florida's new comprehensive program will be more in line with the $10,000 application fee and $200,000 license fee required by Pennsylvania for its new comprehensive medical marijuana program.

According to the Amendment language, an MMTC should be able to wholesale any medical marijuana it produces and/or marijuana infused products it manufactures to other registered and licensed MMTCs, in addition to dispensing it directly to qualifying patients or caregivers who possess a valid and current Florida Medical Marijuana Identification Card. This should not prohibit the company from focusing exclusively on processing and manufacturing marijuana concentrates and infused products, and wholesaling these products to other MMTCs for retail sale in dispensaries.

The likely conditional nature of the license may also be a factor, as it is expected that the controlling majority of a MMTC's owners, principal officers or board members will be required to be current Florida residents who have resided in the state for a yet-to-be-determined number of years before the Department begins the license application process. It is also expected that an MMTC's owners, principal officers or board members will be required to be 21 years of age or older, and not have been convicted of a violent felony offense or a felony drug offense.

The Department will likely also require applicants to verify at the time of the initial application that they have a certain amount of capital available to successfully run the business and serve the needs of qualifying patients. For example, Florida's CBD/low-THC program requires applicants to post a $5 million performance bond, while Pennsylvania's new program requires applicants to have $2 million in capital, with $500,000 on deposit.

The location of the company's processing/manufacturing facility must be compliant with any local zoning restrictions, including the distances the municipality requires the facility to be from other medical marijuana businesses, certain residential areas, any schools, public parks, playgrounds and community centers. While specific distance restrictions are still to be determined in Florida, other states require marijuana businesses to be anywhere from 500 to 1,000 feet away from such areas. Therefore, the company will only consider locations for its facility that are at least 1,000 feet away from such areas.

The facility will also likely be required to be under 24-hour video surveillance with a security company available to monitor the live feed at any time and alert authorities in the event of a security breach. The company will likely be restricted to only hiring employees who have not been convicted of a violent felony offense or a felony drug offense. The Department will likely also require an MMTC's employees to pass a criminal background check, and be registered and approved by the Department as an MMTC agent.

Supply and Distribution

There is a conflict between the language of the current law and the language of the new Amendment; this conflict will have to be resolved by the FL DOH. The current language of Amendment 2, which legalized medical marijuana for qualifying patients and created a comprehensive, state-run medical marijuana program in the State of Florida, allows for the creation of a licensed medical marijuana business: a Medical Marijuana Treatment Center (MMTC).

An MMTC will no longer be required to operate as a vertically integrated business, to include a cultivation and infused product manufacturing facility in addition to a separate retail medical marijuana dispensary. The Amendment language is limited in scope, with the Department of Health responsible for writing and implementing full regulations within six months of the new law going into effect. As it stands now under Amendment 2, an MMTC should be able to wholesale any medical marijuana it produces and/or marijuana infused products it manufactures to other state-licensed MMTCs for retail sale to patients in dispensaries.

Gulf Coast Canna Meds (GCCM) will only be conducting extraction, processing, manufacturing, and distribution operations at its facility, with finished products such as medical marijuana concentrates, vaporizer cartridges, topicals and other infused products sold wholesale to other MMTCs. GCCM plans to establish strategic partnerships with top-level, state-licensed cultivators across the state, who share its operating philosophies and who consistently cultivate strains of medical marijuana that feature the various cannabinoids and terpenes necessary to produce the different concentrates and infused products the company will manufacture. This will ensure that the company always has necessary raw materials that meet its standards, in order to guarantee production of the highest quality final product.

The Company will utilize state-of the-art extraction equipment and innovative technology to create pharmaceutical-grade product formulations, which will allow it to produce the best quality, competitively priced medical marijuana products. GCCM will track sales trends and follow the market closely to gather data for strategic planning in its extraction and manufacturing facility, to ensure its production output can successfully meet market demands and maintain client orders.

In addition to its own independent brand, the Company also plans to establish strategic partnerships with leading licensed retail dispensaries who share GCCM's philosophy on patient care and community leadership. The Company will also offer white labeled products to select clients, as well as a co-branding option for others.

The Company anticipates high demand for the unique medical marijuana concentrates and infused products it develops as the distinct cannabinoid profiles they will feature will be effective at treating various, specific qualifying illnesses and conditions. The Company plans to maintain its competitive edge through its diverse product offering, production of precise formulations of marijuana infused products, and unique delivery systems.

Financial Considerations

The Company will likely be required to pay a yet-to-be-determined application fee to the Florida Department of Health to apply for a license to operate a Medical Marijuana Treatment Center (MMTC), in addition to a license fee if the company acquires a license, along with a yearly renewal fee. Gulf Coast Canna Meds should not have to obtain a sales tax license or collect sales taxes, as the company intends to exclusively wholesale its products to other MMTCs for retail sale in dispensaries.

In addition to those likely licensing and renewal fees and requirements, there are two specific and unique financial factors the Company must consider to operate a medical marijuana business in the State of Florida: 1) the company's ability to access banking, and 2) the inability of the company to deduct normal business expenses from its tax burden due to IRS section 280E.

Banking Access

Marijuana businesses are technically restricted from depositing money in banks because of federal banking laws, making access to traditional banking a factor that must be considered. This is not an insurmountable problem, however, as many medical marijuana businesses in Colorado, Oregon and Washington already have accounts with established banks and credit unions. The key is that they are small, local, state-chartered institutions with unrecognizable names, as opposed to national brands like JP Morgan Chase or Bank of America.

The Financial Crimes Enforcement Network (FinCEN), the Treasury Department bureau that fights money laundering, reports that 266 depository institutions nationwide currently maintain accounts with marijuana-related businesses. In a recent survey of 400 respondents in the cannabis industry, Marijuana Business Daily reported that 40% had bank accounts.

So while it technically remains illegal on a federal level, the company has secured access to banking with First Green Bank in Orlando, Florida. The US Senate Appropriations Committee approved an amendment to the Financial Services and General Government Appropriations Bill on June 16, 2016, that would prevent the spending of federal funds to prohibit or penalize banks and other financial institutions for providing services to state-legal marijuana businesses. This is intended to ease the access to banking for state-compliant cannabis businesses, as financial institutions will be able to work with them without the fear of federal penalties.

Since Gulf Coast Canna Meds will likely be dealing with significant amounts of cash as it conducts normal business operations, the company must be aware of IRS Form 8300. Federal law requires the company to report to the IRS and FinCEN any cash transaction in excess of $10,000 as a result of a single transaction or two or more related transactions, using Form 8300.

Unusual Tax Burdens

Many marijuana businesses cannot deduct significant indirect expenses such as payroll, rent payments, utility bills, advertising, etc., on their Federal income tax returns. Section 280E is the federal income tax code clause responsible for restricting marijuana businesses from claiming standard deductions, forcing them to pay taxes on a much larger percentage of their revenues than non-marijuana businesses with the same earnings and costs.

The provision, enacted in 1982 and still enforced by the IRS today, bans all tax credits and deductions from the illegal “trafficking” of Schedule 1 narcotics. This unusual tax burden must be taken into serious consideration, as it could be a crippling factor for a company not prepared for it.

The tax situation is notably better for cultivators and processors. Dispensaries engage primarily in the sale of marijuana products, while cultivators and processors only assign small percentages of their operating expenses to the actual sale of marijuana. Because a processor can deduct all costs “incident to and necessary for production or manufacturing operations or processes,” the company should be able to avoid the debilitating effective tax rate incurred by dispensaries. This will allow Gulf Coast Canna Meds to deduct the cost of facility employees, electricity, facility repairs, facility improvements; extraction, processing and manufacturing supplies; packaging, license fees and insurance. These deductions are only allowed for businesses who deal exclusively in the production of medical marijuana products, not dispensaries which focus on the sale of marijuana products.

The wording of the tax laws and their interpretation since states began to legalize medical marijuana has allowed businesses to deduct the expenses of wholesale marijuana extractions and infused products, and the expenses related to manufacturing these products. The heavier tax restrictions only kick in when the business sells the marijuana product, which Gulf Coast Canna Meds will only be doing in a limited fashion when it wholesales the products out of its facility. The company should be able to take advantage of allowable deductions and reduce its tax burden as the current wording of the new Florida law does not prevent an MMTC from focusing exclusively on processing and manufacturing.

The company will still have added tax burdens specifically relative to marketing, administration and sales costs for its processing facility, which will not be deductible since these expenses are directly related to the sale of the product. This is an unusual tax burden that currently only applies to the marijuana industry. Gulf Coast Canna Meds will still be able to deduct the depreciation on equipment and the other operating expenses outlined above like any other business. The company will comply with all laws and requirements set forth by the IRS and the State of Florida relative to both reporting and the filing of applicable tax documents.

Facility Location

Gulf Coast Canna Meds will rent an appropriate existing building located in an industrial or agricultural zoned area of Pinellas County, FL, with approximately 4,000 square feet of space that can be retrofitted to accommodate and house the company’s extraction, processing and manufacturing operations. The initial search will focus specifically on the Gateway section of St. Petersburg, off I-275 and Roosevelt Boulevard, just across the Howard Frankland Bridge from Tampa-St. Petersburg-Clearwater.

Pinellas County is the sixth-most populous county in Florida, with a population of nearly a million people. It is in the heart of the greater Tampa-St. Petersburg-Clearwater Bay area, a metropolitan region of west central Florida adjacent to Tampa Bay and is home to nearly 3 million people.

A state-of-the-art, automated climate control system, including reliable ventilation and a cooling system, will be key to maintaining the necessary temperature and humidity requirements needed to protect the integrity of Gulf Coast Canna Meds’ raw materials, extracted oils and final manufactured products. Therefore, the company will install a sophisticated and robust

GCCM will employ the latest technology distillation equipment to refine the chilled ethanol extractions so that the final product is completely free of residual solvents with a purity in the 90% range.

Testing & Screening

The company will do internal product testing for cannabinoid profiles and potency, terpene levels and profiling, residual solvents and heavy metals, utilizing state-of-the-art equipment manufactured by Shimadzu. The Company will use the Shimadzu i-Series liquid chromatograph to reliably test for cannabis potency profiles with relative ease. GCCM will be testing the incoming raw product prior to processing to make sure that there are no banned pesticide residues or any heavy metals present; and will then be further testing the distilled product to be sure of an exemplary quality control system.

GCCM will use the Shimadzu GCMS-QP2010 Ultra with HS-20 Head Space Sampler and NIST spectral library to conduct comprehensive terpene analyses. The alarm system will be integrated with panic buttons to be used in the event of a robbery or other emergency incident, and a duress alarm code which can be used in the event of a hold-up. Panic buttons will be placed strategically throughout the facility with greater concentrations in sensitive areas.

Interior cameras with complete 360-degree coverage will provide 24-hour video surveillance and record all activities inside the facility at all times. A security and alarm company will be capable of monitoring the live video feed if necessary and can alert the police in case of an emergency.

Surveillance recording equipment will be housed in a designated, locked and secure room within a room. All surveillance recordings will be kept on-site in the locked and secure room, as well as remotely via a cloud based system, for a minimum of 90 days in a format that can be easily accessed for viewing, as will likely be required by law.

Health and Environmental Concerns

GCCM will have a dedicated Safety & Quality Assurance Officer who will be responsible for developing and implementing strict safety protocols before operations begin and training all employees in safety concerns relevant to their position.

Gulf Coast Canna Meds (GCCM) will operate transparently, through the use of a management information system (MIS). Not only will MIS reports provide a complete digital overview of the company, they will also act as a communication and planning tool. These systems will allow the company to identify operational strengths and weaknesses through various reports, such as revenue reports, inventory reports, employee performance records, extraction and manufacturing reports, customer data, etc. This data will help the company improve its business processes and operations.

Inventory Management System

The company will select a comprehensive cloud-based inventory & information management system which has demonstrated success with legal marijuana businesses. The business management platform will offer the company intuitive tools for the management of raw materials, product testing, production costs, and task delegation to easily handle extraction, manufacturing, packaging and distribution. The platform will perform multiple functions for the company, including production costing, employee & task scheduling, state compliant labeling, state compliance reporting & integration, integrated test results, time clock, multi-location support, and custom reporting.

Even though GCCM will not be cultivating or harvesting medical marijuana, the company will utilize this industry-specific seed-to-sale tracking software to both maintain compliance with expected regulations and comprehensively manage all inventory; from raw plant material received from cultivators for extraction and processing, to products in varying stages of the extraction and production process, to packaged items which are allocated for delivery or sale. This system will efficiently track all material within the processing facility, including every gram of processed oil the facility produces, and each final packaged product the facility manufactures, including waste. It will allow the company to not only meet all state tracking requirements, but also create a streamlined and sustainable inventory management process that will enable increased productivity and efficiency.

The business management platform the company chooses will be dynamic, establishing compatibility with newly regulated states as their regulatory structure comes online. The platform will conform its reporting process to align to Florida's requirements. To the best of its ability, GCCM will work directly with platform developers to modify the platform to ensure total compliance with Florida's regulatory mandates relative to the capturing of data and record keeping.

Relative to security, the business management platform will be a permission-based platform, featuring bank level encryption. Platform administrators will assign permissions to each user based on their level of employment within the company. This enables administrators to limit what hourly level employees can see and do within the platform, while allowing management level employees more freedom to navigate and view items and transactions, perform audits and adjustments, and pull reports.

The business management platform will also serve as GCCM's system for recording inventory and sales tracking. The platform will allow the company to monitor, in real time, inventory levels and movement, in addition to sales totals. The platform will allow users to track the purchasing habits of clients and accurately predict demand. This tool will be effective for forecasting inventory needs, as it will allow the inventory manager to analyze historical purchase data and inventory trends.

In order to ensure the freshest product is provided to customers, a first-in-first-out inventory system will be used. This means that the product that has been in storage the longest will be the product sold to clients, making sure that all product is rotating through storage within a reasonable time frame.

Order Fulfillment System

Any disruption in raw materials will have an impact on the company's ability to keep to a strict production schedule and could result in failure to fulfill orders accurately and on time. In order to ensure GCCM is capable of consistently producing quality products, the company will establish relationships with several top tier, licensed medical marijuana cultivators across the state. This will ensure the company can source the same quality raw materials for each batch at the lowest price possible as well as provide insurance against natural disasters. All raw materials in the facility will be recorded in the platform, which will prompt reordering when supply levels fall below a set point. The system will also keep track of material expiration dates and prompt reordering when the date approaches.

The company's Inventory Manager will be responsible for product allocation and order fulfillment. This individual will oversee both the testing process and distribution from the processing facility to wholesale clients. The Inventory Manager will coordinate testing schedules, ensuring samples are gathered properly and delivered to the laboratory in a timely fashion, while adhering to a strict chain of custody throughout the process. Test results will be entered in the platform immediately upon return from the laboratory.

The Inventory Manager will utilize the platform to create electronic travel manifests sufficiently detailing each line item contained within the order. Products will be transferred utilizing these manifests, whether it is from the processing facility to a wholesale client or from a licensed cultivator to the processing facility.

The executive team will utilize the business management platform to assess needs and track trends. Regular inventory audits will be performed to mitigate theft and ensure inventory counts within the platform are always accurate.

Community Outreach

The Gulf Coast Canna Meds team has a laudable history of community participation and outreach. Collectively, the team has a long-standing track-record of successful business endeavors in the both the Tampa-St. Petersburg-Clearwater Metro Area, and across the country. Aside from their demonstrated business acumen, the Gulf Coast Canna Meds team has established themselves as pillars of the community on the coast of Central Florida, many of them having lived and done business there for more than 30 years.

The company features a group of 18 founders, who came together with the intention of providing the best quality extracted cannabis products to promote a healthy lifestyle and alternative pharmacological options to treat various chronic medical conditions. Gulf Coast Canna Meds will accomplish this by utilizing the best possible extraction equipment that is available on the market, creating strategic relationships with top-tier cultivators throughout the State for excellent, consistent source material, and most importantly, acting as a social enterprise. The company will prioritize perpetuating a community and a statewide message of compassion, mindfulness, responsibility, and accountability.

The Company will further establish its local roots through participation in community groups that focus on veterans and the betterment of the community, such as the American Legion, The Crohn's and Colitis Foundation and hopefully, Hospice.

Focus on Veterans

Gulf Coast Canna Meds has veterans on its executive team and a personal commitment to working with the local veteran community to find the strains and products that demonstrate the most efficacy for those suffering from chronic pain and PTSD. In addition to ongoing work with the American Legion and other local veteran's organizations, the company will identify and hire qualified veterans to fill various roles throughout the organization. It is the intention of Gulf Coast Canna Meds to utilize veterans in both the development and implementation of the security contingent of the company as well as the extraction and packaging departments.

Social Enterprise

The Gulf Coast Canna Meds team is committed to operating as a social enterprise. This means that the company will focus on developing and accomplishing clear social and environmental missions for the duration of its operation. The company will reinvest a portion of its profits in community and charitable organizations that meet its criteria and to the degree it is able, partner with like-minded entities to further accomplish its goal of bettering the community on a personal and environmental level.

As mitigation of environmental impact is a key element of a self-aware social enterprise, the company will deploy environmentally friendly strategies to reduce its carbon footprint and operate sustainably. Where possible, Gulf Coast Canna Meds will utilize solar panels to supplement power needs, and in processing operations the company will recycle and reuse the water that will power some of the equipment.

Future Opportunities

As we progress in the development of our Medical Marijuana business, we will continue to monitor the marketplace for additional opportunities. Whenever the arrival of Adult Recreational Marijuana occurs, we will be well positioned to move into that space with a new, additional business enterprise.

So far, the established history of the State of Florida regarding marketplace expansions, is that usually all pre-existing businesses are automatically "grand-fathered" into the new expansion, ahead of any/all newcomers; however, there is no guarantee that the State will continue in that manner.

An added benefit that will accrue to all GCCM Shareholders is that they will be offered the first purchase opportunity for shares, ahead of any new purchasers, in our future Adult Recreational business. Should the GCCM Shareholders opt to not purchase the complete offering, then the remaining shares will be offered to new investors.

Capital Raise Timeline Parameters

As in all endeavors, nothing lasts forever, and it is best to establish timeline parameters at the outset. The history of state licensing processes has been fraught with delays and we wish to bring a sense of deliberate expectation to this process.

Consequently, the Offering will terminate on the earliest of: (a) the date the Company, in its discretion, elects to terminate, or (b) the date upon which all Shares have been sold, or (c) March 31, 2018, or such date as may be extended from time to time by the Company, but not later than 180 days thereafter (the "Offering Period".) The Company has set a date of March 31, 2019 as a time by which the Company will have to achieve the objective of obtaining a license or offer the Investor Shareholders a vote to determine forward course of action for the Company as described on page 88 of this Memorandum.

All funds from the Offering will be accumulated and deposited, in escrow, with the First Green Bank of Orlando, Florida. No funds will be released to GCCM to proceed in the creation and growth of the company until the minimum raise of $2 Million has been reached. Once the minimum has been reached, the Company may utilize funds for operations to include repayment of outstanding balances and any accrued interest for the installment loan (outstanding balance as of February 28, 2017 is $135,847) provided by Gulf Coast Botanicals, Inc. to GCCM. Should the capitalization effort not be successful, GCCM will call a meeting of all shareholders, present an accounting, discuss the options available and then the Shareholders will vote on the course of action they wish the company to pursue as disclosed below.

Political/Legislative Environment

The Cannabis marketplace in Florida is still evolving and the Legislature is actively creating new rules and regulations. GCCM must be ready to alter/amend our original business plan and adapt to newly developing realities. To this end, we continue to be open to new joint venture possibilities and other emerging synergies as we move thru this embryonic process. Moving forward with an open mind is essential to our survival and to creating a thriving enterprise.

Contingency Plan - Failure to Acquire License and Investor Shareholder Rights

Management of the Company has decided it is best to establish definitive parameters regarding the time frame to execute and potentially terminate efforts to acquire a Florida cannabis license and provide contingency options for investors should the Company fail in this endeavor. The history of state licensing processes has been fraught with delays and the Company's Management wants to provide a definitive expectation regarding this process and the associated time frames.

Therefore, the Company has chosen March 31, 2019 as the definitive date by which the Company shall either; (a) have acquired a Florida cannabis license and therefore is moving forward with planned business operations as outlined in this Memorandum or; (b) the Company has not acquired a Florida cannabis license by March 31, 2019 and, in this case, the following contingency plan has been developed:

Should the Company not acquire a Florida Cannabis license by March 31, 2019, then all investors who have subscribed for Common Shares through this Offering shall be provided a specific right to execute a one-time majority vote of investor shareholders to determine the forward course of action for the Company. The vote would include, but not be limited to the following options regarding forward operations; (a) an option for investors to divest of the investment in the Shares and obtain a pro-rata return of any Offering Funds that may remain and, in this case, the Company would most likely wind up and terminate operations or; (b) an option may also be presented to continue with operations which may include seeking to acquire a cannabis license in another State or continuing to work towards acquiring a Florida cannabis license.

Prospective investors for the Shares should note that, should the majority of investor shareholders choose to execute a divestiture of the Shares and a return of remaining funds, that there can be no assurance that there will be any available funds remaining for distribution to such investors as the Offering Funds raised through this Offering may have been fully expended in execution of the Company's forward plans. Furthermore, only investors who have subscribed for Common Shares through this Offering shall be allowed to participate in the vote regarding the options outlined above. The vote shall be conducted as a simple majority vote and the option that obtains the highest number of investor shareholder votes will be deemed the option that is in force and binding upon all investor and current shareholders.

RISK FACTORS

A crowdfunding investment involves risk. You should not invest any funds in this offering unless you can afford to lose your entire investment.

In making an investment decision, investors must rely on their own examination of the issuer and the terms of the offering, including the merits and risks involved. These securities have not been recommended or approved by any federal or state securities commission or regulatory authority. Furthermore, these authorities have not passed upon the accuracy or adequacy of this document.

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission does not pass upon the merits of any securities offered or the terms of the offering, nor does it pass upon the accuracy or completeness of any offering document or literature.

These securities are offered under an exemption from registration; however, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission has not made an independent determination that these securities are exempt from registration.

8. Discuss the material factors that make an investment in the issuer speculative or risky:

MANAGEMENT STATEMENT OF RISK

Inadequacy Of Funds: Gross offering proceeds of a maximum of 1,070,000 may be realized. Management believes that such proceeds will capitalize and sustain Gulf Coast Canna Meds, Inc. sufficiently to allow for the continued development and operation of the Company. If only a fraction of this Offering is sold, or if certain assumptions contained in Management's business plans prove to be incorrect, the Company may have inadequate funds to fully develop its business and may need debt financing or other capital investment to fully implement the Company's business plans.

Dependence On Management: In the early stages of development the Company's business will be significantly dependent on the Company's management team. The Company's success will be particularly dependent upon Thomas J. Murphy, Lonnie Orns, and David Kitenplon. The loss of any of these individuals could have a material adverse effect on the Company.

Risks Associated With Expansion of Operations: Any expansion of operations the Company may undertake will entail risks, such actions may involve specific operational activities which may negatively impact the profitability of the Company. Consequently, shareholders must assume the risk that (i) such expansion may ultimately involve expenditures of funds beyond the resources available to the Company at that time, and (ii) management of such expanded operations may divert Management's attention and resources away from its existing operations, all of which factors may have a material adverse effect on the Company's present and prospective business activities.

Gulf Coast Canna Meds, Inc. commenced preliminary business development operations in January 2017 and is organized as a C corporation under the laws of the State of Florida. Accordingly, the Company has only a limited history upon which an evaluation of its prospects and future performance can be made. The Company's proposed operations are subject to all business risks associated with new enterprises. The likelihood of the Company's success must be considered in light of the problems, expenses, difficulties, complications, and delays frequently encountered in connection with the expansion of a business, operation in a competitive industry, and the continued development of advertising, promotions and a corresponding customer base. There is a possibility that the Company could sustain losses in the future.

General Economic Conditions: The financial success of the Company may be sensitive to adverse changes in general economic conditions in the United States, such as recession, inflation, unemployment, and interest rates. Management believes that the niche products and services they market will insulate the Company from excessive reduced demand. Gulf Coast Canna Meds, Inc. has no control over these changes.

Possible Fluctuations In Operating Results: The Company's operating results may fluctuate significantly from period to period as a result of a variety of factors, including purchasing patterns of customers, competitive pricing, debt service and principal reduction payments, and general economic conditions. Consequently, the Company's revenues may vary by quarter, and the Company's operating results may experience fluctuations.

Risks Of Borrowing: If the Company incurs indebtedness, a portion of its cash flow will have to be dedicated to the payment of principal and interest on such indebtedness. Typical loan agreements also might contain restrictive covenants which may impair the Company's operating flexibility. Such loan agreements would also provide for default under certain circumstances, such as failure to meet certain financial covenants. A default under a loan agreement could result in the loan becoming immediately due and payable and, if unpaid, a judgment in favor of such lender which would be senior to the rights of owners of Common Stock of the Company. A judgment creditor would have the right to foreclose on any of the Company's assets resulting in a material adverse effect on the Company's business, operating results or financial condition.

Unanticipated Obstacles To Execution Of The Business Plan: The Company's business plans may change significantly. Many of the Company's potential business endeavors are capital intensive and may be subject to statutory or regulatory requirements. Management believes that the Company's chosen activities and strategies are achievable in light of current economic and legal conditions with the skills, background, and knowledge of the Company's principals and advisors. Management reserves the right to make significant modifications to the Company's stated strategies depending on future events.

Management Discretion As To Use Of Proceeds: The net proceeds from this Offering will be used for the purposes described under "Use of Proceeds." The Company reserves the right to use the funds obtained from this Offering for other similar purposes not presently contemplated which it deems to be in the best interests of the Company and its shareholders in order to address changed circumstances or opportunities. As a result of the foregoing, the success of the Company will be substantially dependent upon the discretion and judgment of Management with respect to application and allocation of the net proceeds of this Offering. Investors for the Common Stock offered hereby will be entrusting their funds to the Company's Management, upon whose judgment and discretion the investors must depend.

Control By Management and Current Shareholders: As of August 14, 2017, the Company's officers, directors, and current shareholders owned 100% of the Company's issued common shares. Upon completion of this Offering, the Company's Managers and current shareholders will continue to own approximately 75% of then issued and outstanding common stock, and will be able to continue to control GCCM. New investor shareholders will not have the ability to control either a vote of the Company's Shareholders or Board of Directors.

Limited Transferability & Liquidity: To satisfy the requirements of certain exemptions from registration under the Securities Act, and to conform with applicable state securities laws, each investor must acquire his Shares for investment purposes only and not with a view towards distribution. Consequently, certain conditions of the Securities Act may need to be satisfied prior to any sale, transfer, or other disposition of the Shares. Some of these conditions may include a minimum holding period, availability of certain reports, including financial statements from Gulf Coast Canna Meds, Inc., limitations on the percentage of Shares sold and the manner in which they are sold. Gulf Coast Canna Meds, Inc. can prohibit any sale, transfer or disposition unless it receives an opinion of counsel provided at the holder's expense, in a form satisfactory to Gulf Coast Canna Meds, Inc., stating that the proposed sale, transfer or other disposition will not result in a violation of applicable federal or state securities laws and regulations. No public market exists for the Shares and no market is expected to develop.

Consequently, owners of the Shares may have to hold their investment indefinitely and may not be able to liquidate their investments in Gulf Coast Canna Meds, Inc. or pledge them as collateral for a loan in the event of an emergency.

Broker - Dealer Sales Of Shares: The Company's Common Stock is not presently included for trading on any exchange, and there can be no assurances that the Company will ultimately be registered on any exchange.

No assurance can be given that the Common Stock of the Company will ever qualify for inclusion on the NASDAQ System or any other trading market. As a result, the Company's Common Shares are covered by a Securities and Exchange Commission rule that imposes additional sales practice requirements on broker-dealers who sell such securities to persons other than established customers and accredited investors. For transactions covered by the rule, the broker-dealer must make a special suitability determination for the purchaser and receive the purchaser's written agreement to the transaction prior to the sale. Consequently, the rule may affect the ability of broker dealers to sell the Company's securities and may also affect the ability of shareholders to sell their shares in the secondary market.

Long Term Nature Of Investment: An investment in the Shares may be long term and illiquid. As discussed above, the offer and sale of the Shares will not be registered under the Securities Act or any foreign or state securities laws by reason of exemptions from such registration which depends in part on the investment intent of the investors. Prospective investors will be required to represent in writing that they are purchasing the Shares for their own account for long-term investment and not with a view towards resale or distribution. Accordingly, purchasers of Shares must be willing and able to bear the economic risk of their investment for an indefinite period of time. It is likely that investors will not be able to liquidate their investment in the event of an emergency.

No Current Market For Shares: There is no current market for the Shares offered in this private Offering and no market is expected to develop in the near future.

Compliance With Securities Laws: The Shares are being offered for sale in reliance upon certain exemptions from the registration requirements of the Securities Act, applicable Florida Securities Laws, and other applicable state securities laws. If the sale of Shares were to fail to qualify for these exemptions, purchasers may seek rescission of their purchases of Shares. If a number of purchasers were to obtain rescission, Gulf Coast Canna Meds, Inc. would face significant financial demands which could adversely affect Gulf Coast Canna Meds, Inc. as a whole, as well as any non-rescinding purchasers.

Lack Of Firm Underwriter: The Shares are offered on a "best efforts" basis by the officers and directors of Gulf Coast Canna Meds, Inc. without compensation and on a "best efforts" basis through certain FINRA registered broker-dealers which enter into Participating Broker-Dealer Agreements with the Company. Accordingly, there is no assurance that the Company, or any FINRA broker-dealer, will sell the maximum Shares offered or any lesser amount.

Projections: Forward Looking Information: Management, along with professional industry consulting firm, Canna Advisors, located at 1731 15th St #220, Boulder, CO 80302, has prepared projections regarding Gulf Coast Canna Meds, Inc.'s anticipated financial performance. The Company's projections are hypothetical and based upon factors influencing the business of Gulf Coast Canna Meds, Inc. The projections are based on Management's best estimate of the probable results of operations of the Company, based on present circumstances, and have not been reviewed by Gulf Coast Canna Meds, Inc.'s independent accountants. These projections are based on several assumptions which Management believes are reasonable. Some assumptions upon which the projections are based, however, invariably will not materialize due the inevitable occurrence of unanticipated events and circumstances beyond Management's control. Therefore, actual results of operations will vary from the projections, and such variances may be material. Assumptions regarding future changes in sales and revenues are necessarily speculative in nature. In addition, projections do not and cannot take into account such factors as general economic conditions, unforeseen regulatory changes, the entry into the Company's market of additional

MARIJUANA INDUSTRY RISK FACTORS

Our proposed Company is highly dependent on state and federal laws pertaining to the Industry. Any number of events or occurrences could slow or halt legalization progress altogether in the Cannabis Industry. While progress within the cannabis industry channel is currently encouraging, growth is not assured. While there appears to be ample public support for favorable legislative action, numerous factors may impact or negatively affect the legislative process(es) within the various states where the Company invests. Any one of these factors could slow or halt use of cannabis, which would negatively impact our business up to possibly causing us to discontinue operations as a whole and disposing of our assets.

Cannabis Remains Illegal Under Federal Law: Despite the development of a cannabis industry legal under state laws, state laws legalizing medicinal and adult cannabis use are in conflict with the Federal Controlled Substances Act, which classifies cannabis as a schedule 1 controlled substance and makes cannabis use and possession illegal on a national level. The U.S. Supreme Court has ruled that it is the Federal government that has the right to regulate and criminalize cannabis, even for medical purposes, and thus Federal law criminalizing the use of cannabis preempts state laws that legalize its use. However, the current administration has effectively stated that it is not an efficient use of resources to direct Federal law enforcement agencies to prosecute those lawfully abiding by state-designated laws allowing the use and distribution of medical and recreational cannabis. Yet, there is no guarantee that the current Federal Administrations will not change the stated policy regarding the low-priority enforcement of Federal laws in states where cannabis has been legalized. Federal enforcement practices could change with respect to the providers of services to participants in the Industry, which could adversely impact the Company. If the Federal government were to change its practices, or were to expend its resources attacking providers in the Industry, such action could have a materially adverse effect on the Company's operations and its customers.

Competition May Increase Costs: The Company will experience competition from other medical marijuana companies operating in Florida. Competition may have the effect of increasing promotional costs for the Company and decreasing the sales price of developed products.

Terrorist Attacks Or Other Acts Of Violence Or War May Affect The Industry In Which The Company Operates, Its Operations & Its Profitability: Terrorist attacks may harm the Company's results of operations and an Investor's investment. There can be no assurance that there will not be more terrorist attacks against the United States or U.S. businesses. Losses resulting from these types of events may be uninsurable or not insurable to the full extent of the loss suffered. Moreover, any of these events could cause consumer confidence and spending to decrease or result in increased volatility in the United States and worldwide financial markets and economy. They could also result in economic uncertainty in the United States or abroad.

Risks of Regulatory Uncertainty: The Company plans to operate in a sector that is at a regulatory frontier. The Company may rely on newly established regulations in multiple jurisdictions, either as legal basis for the sale of their own products, or as the legal basis for the sale of products upon which the business depends. These regulations are rapidly evolving and are subject to change with minimal notice. Regulatory changes may adversely affect the ability of the Company to operate or cause the Company to cease operations entirely.

Currently there is an evolving legal landscape with confusing and vague legislation that varies from state to state. The requirements to legally grow, distribute, prescribe, and use cannabis for either medical or recreational purposes vary by country, state, and county. It is possible that the Company may inadvertently violate legal statutes in one or more jurisdictions in which they operate. Cease and desist requirements from one jurisdiction could negatively impact other affiliated businesses and properties in that or other jurisdictions. In addition, these requirements are constantly changing, and the impact of any such changes on the business of the Company is uncertain. The failure by the Company to comply with relevant regulations could negatively affect the Company's performance.

Risks Associated With The Availability Of Financial Services: Financial service firms may refuse to provide services to the Company. Due to cannabis' status in the U.S. as a federally illegal Schedule I Narcotic and its long association with criminal activity globally, banks and other financial services firms often refuse to provide standard merchant services (such as checking or savings accounts, credit card processing, or business loans) to businesses that are in any way connected to the cannabis industry. This is currently a major problem faced by cannabis related businesses. Even when those services are offered, they may be revoked at any time, for any reason, with limited notice, and no recourse. Despite their best efforts, the Company may fail to obtain, or may lose access to, the financial services essential to successfully execute their business plans. Such a failure or loss could adversely affect the success of the Company.

Risks Of Historically Illegal Products: The Company's operations will involve historically illegal products and activities. Federal law has prohibited the use of cannabis since 1935. In 1973, President Nixon created the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA). The U.S. federal government regulates drugs through the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. § 811), which places controlled substances, including cannabis, in a schedule. Cannabis is classified as a Schedule I drug, which is viewed as highly addictive and having no medical value. Doctors may not prescribe cannabis for medical use under federal law; however, they can recommend its use under the First Amendment. Only recently has legislation indicated that federal authorities will not actively pursue legal action against medical cannabis producers and dispensaries in states where medical cannabis has been legalized. Any such legislation could become the subject of legal challenges. Even outside of illegal cannabis substances, there has been historical prohibitions and enforcement of sales cannabis paraphernalia and other products that are related to the use of cannabis, even if susceptible of other uses. Any association or relationship with the Cannabis Industry could have a material adverse effect on the Company.

Cannabis Business Taxation: As states trend towards decriminalization and legalization of medical and recreational marijuana, the impact of I.R.C. §280E is becoming more and more relevant. I.R.C. § 280E, titled "Expenditures in connection with the illegal sale of drugs," states: "No deduction or credit shall be allowed for any amount paid or incurred during the taxable year in carrying on any trade or business if such trade or business (or the activities which comprise such trade or business) consists of trafficking in controlled substances (within the meaning of schedule I and II of the Controlled Substances Act) which is prohibited by Federal law or the law of any State in which such trade or business is conducted." Investors should carefully assess with competent tax professionals the potential tax ramifications of an investment in our Company.

State Laws May Impact Investor Participation: Investors in the Company should carefully review with appropriate legal or other knowledgeable professionals the capacity for them to engage in purchasing Shares in compliance with State laws. Certain States may have laws that preclude a State resident from participating in an investment in a Company that operates in the cannabis industry. It is the investor's sole responsibility to ensure they are legally allowed to invest in the Company's Shares.

THE BOTTOM LINE: If we do well, the stock should do well also, yet life offers no guarantees and neither can we. If we make mistakes or have unforeseen things happen to us, our suppliers or the world, we can make little or no profit and can be driven out of business.

Please only invest what you can afford to lose.

Users may however prefer one method over another in determining their valuation estimate.

The weights for the above-mentioned valuation methods are: Scorecard (33%), Check-list (34%), Venture Capital (11%), DCF- Long Term Growth (11%), and DCF with Multiples (11%).

The full valuation report (17 pages) is part of this offering and is to be found on the in the Offering's Documents Section.

The valuation was calculated at pre- money of $8,100,000.

We will use this valuation to determine the Valuation Cap of the SAFE component of the security we are offering via this offering.

22. What are the risks to purchasers of the securities relating to minority ownership in the issuer?

OFFERING STATEMENT

4,000 Units of SAFE+REV at $5.00 per Unit
	# Of Shares	Total Proceeds	Net Proceeds
Target Offering	4,000	$20,000	$18,400
Maximum Amount	214,000	$1,070,000	$984,400

The right to demand current distributions from an operating business is limited. A majority owner, if she is committed to avoiding any distributions to a minority owner, can usually avoid making any distributions of profits. By establishing generous reserves for future expenses, paying a salary to herself or her relatives at the high range of what is reasonable, pre-paying expenses, investing in new business or new equipment, leasing expensive cars, etc., a majority owner can spend enough that there are rarely any profits to be distributed. So long as the expenses are not grossly unreasonable, the investor, probably, won't be able to force the company to allow you to share in any of the current income of the company.

No right to participate in any management decisions of the company. The majority owner may make a decision that the investor think is bad and puts your interest in the company at risk. The investor may see the majority owner running the company into the ground. The investor can try to convince him that it is the wrong decision, but he doesn't have to take your calls.

The investor has limited rights, if any, to have your interest bought out. You may want to cash out your interest and do other things with the money. State law may give you the right to force the company to buy you out, but these rights are limited.

While the investor would be entitled to a share of any profits on sale of the entire business, a sale can be structured in a way to avoid any payout to minority owners, such as a sale of assets over time with the proceeds reinvested in another business.

23. What are the risks to purchasers associated with corporate actions including:

☐ Additional issuances of securities:

Following the investor's investment in the Company, the Company may sell interest to additional investors, which will dilute the percentage interest of the investor in the Company. The Investor might have the opportunity to increase its investment in the Company in such transaction, but such opportunity cannot be assured. The amount of additional capital needed by the Company, if any, will depend upon the maturity and the objectives of the Company.

☐ Issuer repurchases of securities:

The company may have the authority to repurchase its securities from shareholders, which may serve to decrease any liquidity in the market for such securities, decrease the percentage interests held by other similarly situated investors to the Investor, and create pressure on the investor to sell its securities to the Company concurrently.

☐ A sale of the issuer or of assets of the issuer:

As a minority owner of the Company, the Investor will have limited or no ability to influence a potential sale of the Company or a substantial portion of its assets. Thus, the investor will rely upon the executive management of the Company and the Board of Directors of the Company to manage the Company so as to maximize value for shareholders.

☐ Transactions with related parties:

The Investor should be aware that there will be occasions when the Company may encounter potential conflicts of interest in its operations. On any issue involving conflicts of interest, the executive management and the Board of Directors of the Company will be guided by their good faith judgement as to the Company's best interests. The Company may engage in transactions with affiliates, subsidiaries or other related parties, which may be on terms which are not arm's-length, but will be in all cases consistent with the duties of the management of the Company to its shareholders. By acquiring and interest in the company, the investor will be deemed to have acknowledged the existence of any such actual or potential conflicts of interest and to have waived any claim with respect to any liability arising from the existence of any such conflict of interest.

SAFE (Simple Agreement for Future Equity)

THIS CERTIFIES THAT in exchange for the payment by [Investor Name] (the “Investor”) of $[] (the “Purchase Amount”) on or about [Date of SAFE], [Company Name], a [State of Incorporation] corporation (the “Company”), hereby issues to the Investor the right to certain shares of the Company’s capital stock, subject to the terms set forth below.

The “Valuation Cap” is $8,100,000.

The “Discount Rate” is N/A.

See Section 2 for certain additional defined terms.

1. Events

(a) Equity Financing. If there is an Equity Financing before the expiration or termination of this instrument, the Company will automatically issue to the Investor a number of shares of SAFE Preferred Stock equal to the Purchase Amount divided by the Conversion Price.

In connection with the issuance of SAFE Preferred Stock by the Company to the Investor pursuant to this Section 1(a):

(i) The Investor will execute and deliver to the Company all transaction documents related to the Equity Financing; provided, that such documents are the same documents to be entered into with the purchasers of Standard Preferred Stock, with appropriate variations for the SAFE Preferred Stock if applicable, and provided further, that such documents have customary exceptions to any drag-along applicable to the Investor, including, without limitation, limited representations and warranties and limited liability and indemnification obligations on the part of the Investor; and

(ii) The Investor and the Company will execute a Pro Rata Rights Agreement, unless the Investor is already included in such rights in the transaction documents related to the Equity Financing.

(b) Liquidity Event. If there is a Liquidity Event before the expiration or termination of this instrument, the Investor will, at its option, either (i) receive a cash payment equal to the Purchase Amount (subject to the following paragraph) or (ii) automatically receive from the Company a number of shares of Common Stock equal to the Purchase Amount divided by the Liquidity Price, if the Investor fails to select the cash option.

In connection with Section (b)(i), the Purchase Amount will be due and payable by the Company to the Investor immediately prior to, or concurrent with, the consummation of the Liquidity Event. If there are not enough funds to pay the Investor and holders of other SAFEs (collectively, the “Cash-Out Investors”) in full, then all of the Company’s available funds will be distributed with equal priority and pro rata among the Cash-Out Investors in proportion to their Purchase Amounts, and the Cash-Out Investors will automatically receive the number of shares of Common Stock equal to the remaining unpaid Purchase Amount divided by the Liquidity Price. In connection with a Change of Control intended to qualify as a tax-free reorganization, the Company may reduce, pro rata, the Purchase Amounts payable to the Cash-Out Investors by the amount determined by its board of directors in good faith to be advisable for such Change of Control to qualify as a tax-free reorganization for U.S. federal income tax purposes, and in such case, the Cash-Out Investors will automatically receive the number of shares of Common Stock equal to the remaining unpaid Purchase Amount divided by the Liquidity Price.

(c) Dissolution Event. If there is a Dissolution Event before this instrument expires or terminates, the Company will pay an amount equal to the Purchase Amount, due and payable to the Investor immediately prior to, or concurrent with, the consummation of the Dissolution Event. The Purchase Amount will be paid prior and in preference to any Distribution of any of the assets of the Company to holders of outstanding Capital Stock by reason of their ownership thereof. If immediately prior to the consummation of the Dissolution Event, the assets of the Company legally available for distribution to the Investor and all holders of all other SAFEs (the “Dissolving Investors”), as determined in good faith by the Company’s board of directors, are insufficient to permit the payment to the Dissolving Investors of their respective Purchase Amounts, then the entire assets of the Company legally available for distribution will be distributed with equal priority and pro rata among the Dissolving Investors in proportion to the Purchase Amounts they would otherwise be entitled to receive pursuant to this Section 1(c).

(d) Termination. This instrument will expire and terminate (without relieving the Company of any obligations arising from a prior breach of or non-compliance with this instrument) upon either (i) the issuance of stock to the Investor pursuant to Section 1(a) or Section 1(b)(ii); or (ii) the payment, or setting aside for payment, of amounts due the Investor pursuant to Section 1(b)(i) or Section 1(c).
