RISK FACTORS

Risks Related to the Company's Business and Industry

We have a history of losses and our future profitability is uncertain.

We have incurred losses since we began our company and we will continue to have losses in the future as we incur additional expenses to execute our business plan, fuel our potential growth and conduct further research and development. We expect to make significant expenditures to commercialize our genetic testing platform, further develop our business and make technology enhancements to our genetic tests. We will have to begin to generate and sustain and increase revenues to achieve or maintain profitability. We may not generate sufficient revenues to achieve or maintain profitability in the future. We may incur significant losses in the future for a number of reasons, including those discussed in other risk factors and factors that we cannot foresee.

We have a limited operating history upon which you can evaluate our performance, and accordingly, our prospects must be considered in light of the risks that any new company encounters.

We were organized as a Delaware corporation in 2017. Accordingly, we have a limited history upon which an evaluation of our prospects and future performance can be made. Our proposed operations are subject to all business risks associated with new enterprises. The likelihood of our creation of a viable business must be considered in light of the problems, expenses, difficulties, complications, and delays frequently encountered in connection with the inception of a business, operation in a competitive industry, and the continued development of advertising, promotions, and a corresponding client base. We anticipate that our operating expenses will increase for the near future. There can be no assurances that we will ever operate profitably. You should consider the Company's business, operations and prospects in light of the risks, expenses and challenges faced as an early-stage company.

We may not be able to manage future growth effectively.

If our business plan is successful, we may experience significant growth in a short period of time and potential scaling issues. Should we grow rapidly, our financial, management and operating resources may not expand sufficiently to adequately manage our growth. If we are unable to manage our growth, our costs may increase disproportionately, our future revenues may stop growing or decline and we may face dissatisfied customers. Our failure to manage our growth may adversely impact our business and the value of your investment.

Direct-to-consumer genetic testing for non-medical, general wellness, or low-risk medical purposes is not a regulated industry.

The FDA generally does not review direct-to-consumer genetic tests that are intended for non-medical, general wellness, or low-risk medical purposes. Therefore, there is no assurance that the FDA, or any third party, has evaluated the analytical or clinical validity of LifeDNA genetic tests or what the Company states about its tests and test results. A May 2017 paper published by the European Journal of Human Genetics noted that "Concerns have also been raised about the scientific integrity and clinical utility of some DTC-GT (direct-to-consumer genetic testing) services, particularly those based on genome-wide association studies, which tend to have low discriminatory and predictive validity. The transparency of providers' activities has also been called into question relating to quality criteria and quality assurance. Although some guidelines cover scientific considerations, for example, how to communicate the strength of evidence underpinning various genetic predictions, consistent global industry standards for transparency in the DTC-GT sector do not currently exist. Importantly, aside from scientific and clinical considerations, the ethical principles such as transparency, accountability and accessibility and choices and the quality of companies' supporting information for customers is largely unchecked; a situation which has drawn attention from policymakers and the biomedical industry itself.

The FTC recommends that consumers considering a DTC genetic test:

- Discuss the potential usefulness of such a test with a doctor health care practitioner and understand the test results' benefits and limitations;
- Ask a doctor or genetic counselor to help understand test results;
- Discuss test results with a doctor or health care practitioner before making dietary or other health-related decisions; and
- Read and understand the test provider's privacy policy.

In order for the Company to compete and grow, it must attract, recruit, retain and develop the necessary personnel who have the needed experience.

Recruiting and retaining highly qualified personnel is critical to our success. These demands may require us to hire additional personnel and will require our existing management personnel to develop additional expertise. The failure to attract and retain personnel or to develop such expertise could delay the development and commercialization of our product candidates. If we experience difficulties in hiring and retaining personnel in key positions, we could suffer from delays in product development, loss of customers and sales and diversion of management resources, which could adversely affect operating results. Our consultants and advisors may be employed by third parties and may have commitments under consulting or advisory contracts with third parties that may limit their availability to us.

Changes in employment laws or regulation could harm our performance.

Various federal and state labor laws govern our relationship with our employees and affect operating costs. These laws include minimum wage requirements, overtime pay, healthcare reform and the implementation of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, unemployment tax rates, workers' compensation rates, citizenship requirements, union membership and sales taxes. A number of factors could adversely affect our operating results, including additional government-imposed increases in minimum wages, overtime pay, paid leaves of absence and mandated health benefits, mandated training for employees, increased tax reporting and tax payment, changing regulations from the National Labor Relations Board and increased employee litigation including claims relating to the Fair Labor Standards Act.

The products we sell are advanced, and we need to rapidly and successfully develop and introduce new products in a competitive, demanding and rapidly changing environment.

To succeed in our intensely competitive industry, we must continually improve, refresh and expand our product and service offerings to include newer features, functionality or solutions, and keep pace with price-to-performance gains in the industry. Shortened product life cycles due to customer demands and competitive pressures impact the pace at which we must introduce and implement new technology. This requires a high level of innovation by both our software developers and the suppliers of the third-party software components included in our systems. In addition, bringing new solutions to the market entails a costly and lengthy process, and requires us to accurately anticipate customer needs and technology trends. We must continue to respond to market demands, develop leading technologies and maintain leadership in analytic data solutions performance and scalability, or our business operations may be adversely affected.

We must also anticipate and respond to customer demands regarding the compatibility of our current and prior offerings. These demands could hinder the pace of introducing and implementing new technology. Our future results may be affected if our products cannot effectively interface and perform well with software products of other companies and with our customers' existing IT infrastructures, or if we are unsuccessful in our efforts to enter into agreements allowing integration of third-party technology with our database and software platforms. Our efforts to develop the interoperability of our products may require significant investments of capital and employee resources. In addition, many of our principal products are used with products offered by third parties and, in the future, some vendors of non-Company products may become less willing to provide us with access to their products, technical information and marketing and sales support. As a result of these and other factors, our ability to introduce new or improved solutions could be adversely impacted and our business would be negatively affected.

The personal genomics space is a competitive market.

We face competition with respect to any products that we may seek to develop or commercialize in the future. Our competitors include major companies worldwide. Many of our competitors have significantly greater financial, technical, and human resources than we have and superior expertise in research and development and marketing their DNA tests and thus may be better equipped than us to develop and commercialize DNA-based products. These competitors also compete with us in recruiting and retaining qualified personnel and acquiring technologies. Smaller or early stage companies may also prove to be significant competitors, particularly through collaborative arrangements with large and established companies. Accordingly, our competitors may commercialize products more rapidly or effectively than we are able to, which would adversely affect our competitive position, the likelihood that our DNA-products will achieve initial market acceptance and our ability to generate meaningful additional revenues from our products.

Industry consolidation may result in increased competition, which could result in a loss of customers or a reduction in revenue.

Some of our competitors have made or may make acquisitions or may enter into partnerships or other strategic relationships to offer more comprehensive services than they individually had offered or achieve greater economies of scale. In addition, new entrants not currently considered to be competitors may enter our market through acquisitions, partnerships or strategic relationships. We expect these trends to continue as companies attempt to strengthen or maintain their market positions. The potential entrants may have competitive advantages over us, such as greater name recognition, longer operating histories, more varied services and larger marketing budgets, as well as greater financial, technical and other resources. The companies resulting from combinations or that expand or vertically integrate their business to include the market that we address may create more compelling service offerings and may offer greater pricing flexibility than we can or may engage in business practices that make it more difficult for us to compete effectively, including on the basis of price, sales and marketing programs, technology or service functionality. These pressures could result in a substantial loss of our customers or a reduction in our revenue.

We depend on third-party service providers and outsource providers for a variety of services and we outsource a number of our non-core functions and operations.

In certain instances, we rely on single or limited service providers and outsourcing vendors worldwide because the relationship is advantageous due to quality, price, or lack of alternative sources. If production or service was interrupted and we were not able to find alternate third-party providers, we could experience disruptions in manufacturing and operations including product shortages, higher freight costs and re-engineering costs. If outsourcing services are interrupted or not performed or the performance is poor, this could impact our ability to process, record and report transactions with our customers and other constituents. Such interruptions in the provision of supplies and/or services could result in our inability to meet customer demand, damage our reputation and customer relationships and adversely affect our business.

As a distributor of DNA testing services, our business depends on developing and maintaining close and productive relationships with our vendors.

We depend on our partnered laboratories to sequence our customers' DNA tests. Many factors outside our control, including, without limitation, raw material shortages, inadequate manufacturing capacity, labor disputes, transportation disruptions or weather conditions, could adversely affect our vendors' ability to deliver to us quality results at favorable prices in a timely manner. Furthermore, financial or operational difficulties with a particular vendor could cause that vendor to increase the cost of the sequencing. Vendor consolidation could also limit the number of laboratories from which we may partner with and could materially affect the prices we pay for the sequencing. We would suffer an adverse impact if our vendors limit or cancel the return privileges that currently protect us from inventory obsolescence.

Quality management plays an essential role in determining and meeting customer requirements, preventing defects, improving the Company's products and services and maintaining the integrity of the data that supports the safety and efficacy of our products.

Our future success depends on our ability to maintain and continuously improve our quality management program. An inability to address a quality or safety issue in an effective and timely manner may also cause negative publicity, a loss of customer confidence in us or our current or future products, which may result in the loss of sales and difficulty in successfully launching new products. In addition, a successful claim brought against us in excess of available insurance or not covered by indemnification agreements, or any claim that results in significant adverse publicity against us, could have an adverse effect on our business and our reputation.

In general, demand for our products and services is highly correlated with general economic conditions.

A substantial portion of our revenue is derived from discretionary spending by individuals, which typically falls during times of economic instability. Declines in economic conditions in the U.S. or in other countries in which we operate may adversely impact our consolidated financial results. Because such declines in demand are difficult to predict, we or the industry may have increased excess capacity as a result. An increase in excess capacity may result in declines in prices for our products and services.

The use of individually identifiable data by our business, our business associates and third parties is regulated at the state, federal and international levels.

Costs associated with information security – such as investment in technology, the costs of compliance with consumer protection laws and costs resulting from consumer fraud – could cause our business and results of operations to suffer materially. Additionally, the success of our online operations depends upon the secure transmission of confidential information over public networks, including the use of cashless payments. The intentional or negligent actions of employees, business associates or third parties may undermine our security measures. As a result, unauthorized parties may obtain access to our data systems and misappropriate confidential data. There can be no assurance that advances in computer capabilities, new discoveries in the field of cryptography or other developments will prevent the compromise of our customer transaction processing capabilities and personal data. If any such compromise of our security or the security of information residing with our business associates or third parties were to occur, it could have a material adverse effect on our reputation, operating results and financial condition. Any compromise of our data security may materially increase the costs we incur to protect against such breaches and could subject us to additional legal risk.

The collection, processing, storage, use and disclosure of personal data could give rise to liabilities as a result of governmental regulation, conflicting legal requirements or differing views of personal privacy rights.

We receive, collect, process, transmit, store and use a large volume of personally identifiable information and other sensitive data from customers and potential customers. There are federal, state and foreign laws regarding privacy, recording telephone calls and the storing, sharing, use, disclosure and protection of personally identifiable information and sensitive data. Specifically, personally identifiable information is increasingly subject to legislation and regulations to protect the privacy of personal information that is collected, processed and transmitted. Any violations of these laws and regulations may require us to change our business practices or operational structure, address legal claims and sustain monetary penalties and/or other harms to our business.

The regulatory framework for privacy issues in the United States and internationally is constantly evolving and is likely to remain uncertain for the foreseeable future. The interpretation and application of such laws is often uncertain, and such laws may be interpreted and applied in a manner inconsistent with our current policies and practices or require changes to the features of our platform. If either we or our third party service providers are unable to address any privacy concerns, even if unfounded, or to comply with applicable laws and regulations, it could result in additional costs and liability, damage our reputation and harm our business.

Security breaches and other disruptions could compromise our information and expose us to liability, which would cause our business and reputation to suffer.

We collect and store sensitive data, including intellectual property, our proprietary business information and that of our customers, and personally identifiable information of our customers and employees, in our data centers and on our networks. The secure processing, maintenance and transmission of this information is critical to our operations. Despite our security measures, our information technology and infrastructure may be vulnerable to attacks by hackers or breached due to employee error, malfeasance or other disruptions. Any such breach could compromise our networks and the information stored there could be accessed, publicly disclosed, lost or stolen. Any such access, disclosure or other loss of information could result in legal claims or proceedings, liability under laws that protect the privacy of personal information, and regulatory penalties, disrupt our operations and the services we provide to customers, and cause a loss of confidence in our products and services, which could adversely affect our business/operating margins, revenues and competitive position.

The secure processing, maintenance and transmission of this information is critical to our operations and business strategy, and we devote significant resources to protecting our information by encrypting the DNA data, storing it separately from the consumer's data and working with top cyber security experts in the US. The expenses associated with protecting this information could reduce our operating margins.

An intentional or unintentional disruption, failure, misappropriation or corruption of our network and information systems could severely affect our business.

Such an event might be caused by computer hacking, computer viruses, worms and other destructive or disruptive software, "cyber attacks" and other malicious activity, as well as natural disasters, power outages, terrorist attacks and similar events. Such events could have an adverse impact on us and our customers, including degradation of service, service disruption, excessive call volume to call centers and damage to our plant, equipment and data. In addition, our future results could be adversely affected due to the theft, destruction, loss, misappropriation or release of confidential customer data or intellectual property. Operational or business delays may result from the disruption of network or information systems and the subsequent remediation activities. Moreover, these events may create negative publicity resulting in reputation or brand damage with customers.

Our business could be negatively impacted by cyber security threats, attacks and other disruptions.

Like others in our industry, we continue to face advanced and persistent attacks on our information infrastructure where we manage and store various proprietary information and sensitive/confidential data relating to our operations. These attacks may include sophisticated malware (viruses, worms, and other malicious software programs) and phishing emails that attack our products or otherwise exploit any security vulnerabilities. These intrusions sometimes may be zero-day malware that are difficult to identify because they are not included in the signature set of commercially available antivirus scanning programs. Experienced computer programmers and hackers may be able to penetrate our network security and misappropriate or compromise our confidential information or that of our customers or other third-parties, create system disruptions, or cause shutdowns. Additionally, sophisticated software and applications that we produce or procure from third-parties may contain defects in design or manufacture, including "bugs" and other problems that could unexpectedly interfere with the operation of the information infrastructure. A disruption, infiltration or failure of our information infrastructure systems or any of our data centers as a result of software or hardware malfunctions, computer viruses, cyber attacks, employee theft or misuse, power disruptions, natural disasters or accidents could cause breaches of data security, loss of critical data and performance delays, which in turn could adversely affect our business.

Negative public opinion could damage our reputation and adversely affect our business.

Reputation risk, or the risk to our business from negative public opinion, is inherent in our business. Negative public opinion can result from our actual or alleged conduct in any number of activities, including corporate governance, and actions taken by government regulators and community organizations in response to those activities. Negative public opinion can also result from media coverage, whether accurate or not. Negative public opinion can adversely affect our ability to attract and retain customers and employees and can expose us to litigation and regulatory action.

From time to time, third parties may claim that one or more of our products or services infringe their intellectual property rights.

Any dispute or litigation regarding patents or other intellectual property could be costly and time-consuming due to the complexity of our technology and the uncertainty of intellectual property litigation and could divert our management and key personnel from our business operations. A claim of intellectual property infringement could force us to enter into a costly or restrictive license agreement, which might not be available under acceptable terms or at all, could require us to redesign our products, which would be costly and time-consuming, and/or could subject us to an injunction against development and sale of certain of our products or services. We may have to pay substantial damages, including damages for past infringement if it is ultimately determined that our products infringe on a third party's proprietary rights. Even if these claims are without merit, defending a lawsuit takes significant time, may be expensive and may divert management's attention from other business concerns. Any public announcements related to litigation or interference proceedings initiated or threatened against us could cause our business to be harmed. Our intellectual property portfolio may not be useful in asserting a counterclaim, or negotiating a license, in response to a claim of intellectual property infringement. In certain of our businesses we rely on third party intellectual property licenses and we cannot ensure that these licenses will be available to us in the future on favorable terms or at all.

A majority of the Company is owned by a small number of owners.

Prior to the Offering the Company's current owners of 20% or more beneficially own up to 86% of the Company. Subject to any fiduciary duties owed to our other owners or investors under Delaware law, these owners will be able to exercise significant influence over matters requiring owner approval, including the election of directors or managers and approval of significant Company transactions, and will have significant control over the Company's management and policies. Some of these persons may have interests that are different from yours. For example, these owners may support proposals and actions with which you may disagree. The concentration of ownership could delay or prevent a change in control of the Company or otherwise discourage a potential acquirer from attempting to obtain control of the Company, which in turn could reduce the price potential investors are willing to pay for the Company. In addition, these owners could use their voting influence to maintain the Company's existing management, delay or prevent changes in control of the Company, or support or reject other management and board proposals that are subject to owner approval.

The Company's success depends on the experience and skill of the board of directors, its executive officers and key employees.

In particular, the Company is dependent on Chairman Steven Markowitz and Chief Executive Officer Cyril Moukarzel. The Company has or intends to enter into employment agreements with these individuals, although there can be no assurance that it will do so or that he will continue to be employed by the Company for a particular period of time. The loss of these individuals, or any member of the board of directors or executive officer, could harm the Company's business, financial condition, cash flow and results of operations.

Although dependent on certain key personnel, the Company does not have any key man life insurance policies on any such people.

The Company is dependent on Steven Markowitz and Cyril Moukarzel to execute its business plan; however, the Company has not purchased any insurance policies with respect to those individuals in the event of their death or disability. Therefore, if any of Steven Markowitz and Cyril Moukarzel die or become disabled, the Company will not receive any compensation to assist with such person's absence. The loss of such person could negatively affect the Company and its operations.

We have not prepared any audited financial statements.

Therefore, you have no audited financial information regarding the Company's capitalization or assets or liabilities on which to make your investment decision. If you feel the information provided is insufficient, you should not invest in the Company.

We are not subject to Sarbanes-Oxley regulations and lack the financial controls and safeguards required of public companies.

We do not have the internal infrastructure necessary, and are not required, to complete an attestation about our financial controls that would be required under Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002. There can be no assurance that there are no significant deficiencies or material weaknesses in the quality of our financial controls. We expect to incur additional expenses and diversion of management's time if and when it becomes necessary to perform the system and process evaluation, testing and remediation required in order to comply with the management certification and auditor attestation requirements.

The Company's business operations may be materially adversely affected by a pandemic such as the Coronavirus (COVID-19) outbreak.

In December 2019, a novel strain of coronavirus was reported to have surfaced in Wuhan, China, which spread throughout other parts of the world, including the United States. On January 30, 2020, the World Health Organization declared the outbreak of the coronavirus disease (COVID-19) a "Public Health Emergency of International Concern." On January 31, 2020, U.S. Health and Human Services Secretary Alex M. Azar II declared a public health emergency for the United States to aid the U.S. healthcare community in responding to COVID-19, and on March 11, 2020 the World Health Organization characterized the outbreak as a "pandemic." COVID-19 resulted in a widespread health crisis that adversely affected the economies and financial markets worldwide. The Company's business could be materially and adversely affected. The extent to which COVID-19 impacts the Company's business will depend on future developments, which are highly uncertain and cannot be predicted, including new information which may emerge concerning the severity of COVID-19 and the actions to contain COVID-19 or treat its impact, among others. If the disruptions posed by COVID-19 or other matters of global concern continue for an extended period of time, the Company's operations may be materially adversely affected.

Maintaining, extending and expanding our reputation and brand image are essential to our business success.

We seek to maintain, extend, and expand our brand image through marketing investments, including advertising and consumer promotions, and product innovation. Increasing attention on marketing could adversely affect our brand image. It could also lead to stricter regulations and greater scrutiny of marketing practices. Existing or increased legal or regulatory restrictions on our advertising, consumer promotions and marketing, or our response to those restrictions, could limit our efforts to maintain, extend and expand our brands. Moreover, adverse publicity about regulatory or legal action against us could damage our reputation and brand image, undermine our customers' confidence and reduce long-term demand for our products, even if the regulatory or legal action is unfounded or not material to our operations.

In addition, our success in maintaining, extending, and expanding our brand image depends on our ability to adapt to a rapidly changing media environment. We increasingly rely on social media and online dissemination of advertising campaigns. The growing use of social and digital media increases the speed and extent that information or misinformation and opinions can be shared. Negative posts or comments about us, our brands or our products on social or digital media, whether or not valid, could seriously damage our brands and reputation. If we do not establish, maintain, extend and expand our brand image, then our product sales, financial condition and results of operations could be adversely affected.

We must correctly predict, identify, and interpret changes in consumer preferences and demand, offer new products to meet those changes, and respond to competitive innovation.

Consumer preferences on our products change continually. Our success depends on our ability to predict, identify, and interpret the tastes and habits of consumers and to offer products that appeal to consumer preferences. If we do not offer products that appeal to consumers, our sales and market share will decrease. We must distinguish between short-term fads, mid-term trends, and long-term changes in consumer preferences. If we do not accurately predict which shifts in consumer preferences will be long-term, or if we fail to introduce new and improved products to satisfy those preferences, our sales could decline. In addition, because of our varied customer base, we must offer an array of products that satisfy the broad spectrum of consumer preferences. If we fail to expand our product offerings successfully across product categories, or if we do not rapidly develop products in faster growing and more profitable categories, demand for our products could decrease, which could materially and adversely affect our product sales, financial condition, and results of operations.

In addition, achieving growth depends on our successful development, introduction, and marketing of innovative new products and line extensions. Successful innovation depends on our ability to correctly anticipate customer and consumer acceptance, to obtain, protect and maintain necessary intellectual property rights, and to avoid infringing the intellectual property rights of others and failure to do so could compromise our competitive position and adversely impact our business.

Substantial disruption to production at our partner laboratories and distribution facilities could occur.

A disruption in production at our third-party laboratories could have an adverse effect on our business. In addition, a disruption could occur at the facilities of our suppliers or distributors. The disruption could occur for many reasons, including fire, natural disasters, weather, water scarcity, manufacturing problems, disease, strikes, transportation or supply interruption, government regulation, cybersecurity attacks or terrorism. Alternative facilities with sufficient capacity or capabilities may not be available, may cost substantially more or may take a significant time to start production, each of which could negatively affect our business and results of operations.

Successful development of our products is uncertain.

The product candidates that we expect to develop are based on processes and methodologies that are not currently widely employed. Our development of current and future product candidates is subject to the risks of failure and delay inherent in the development of new products and products based on new technologies, including:

- delays in product development
- unplanned expenditures in product development
- failure to receive regulatory approvals;
- inability to manufacture on our own, or through any others, product candidates on a commercial scale;
- failure to achieve market acceptance; and
- emergence of superior or equivalent products.

Because of these risks, our research and development efforts may not result in any commercially viable products. If a significant portion of these development efforts are not successfully completed, required regulatory approvals are not obtained, or any approved products are not commercially successful, our business, financial condition, and results of operations may be materially harmed.

The amount of capital the Company is attempting to raise in this Offering is not enough to sustain the Company's current business plan.

In order to achieve the Company's near and long-term goals, the Company will need to procure funds in addition to the amount raised in the Offering. There is no guarantee the Company will be able to raise such funds on acceptable terms or at all. If we are not able to raise sufficient capital in the future, we will not be able to execute our business plan, our continued operations will be in jeopardy and we may be forced to cease operations and sell or otherwise transfer all or substantially all of our remaining assets, which could cause an Investor to lose all or a portion of his or her investment.

Risks Related to the Securities

Neither the Offering nor the Securities have been registered under federal or state securities laws, leading to an absence of certain regulation applicable to the Company.

No governmental agency has reviewed or passed upon this Offering, the Company or any Securities of the Company. The Company also has relied on exemptions from securities registration requirements under applicable state securities laws. Investors in the Company, therefore, will not receive any of the benefits that such registration would otherwise provide. Prospective investors must therefore assess the adequacy of disclosure and the fairness of the terms of this Offering on their own or in conjunction with their personal advisors.

No Guarantee of Return on Investment

There is no assurance that a Purchaser will realize a return on its investment or that it will not lose its entire investment. For this reason, each Purchaser should read the Form C/A and all Exhibits carefully and should consult with its own attorney and business advisor prior to making any investment decision.

Upon conversion of the Crowd Notes, Purchasers who are not “Major Investors” will grant a proxy to vote their underlying securities to the intermediary or its affiliate, and, thus, will not have the right to vote on any matters coming before the shareholders of the Company for a vote. By granting this proxy you are giving up your right to vote on important matters, including significant corporate actions like mergers, amendments to our certificate of incorporation, a liquidation of our company and the election of our directors.

Upon conversion of the Crowd Notes and by virtue of a provision contained in the Crowd Notes, if you are not a Major Investor, that is, an investor who has purchased at least $25,000 in principal amount of the Crowd Notes, you will grant a proxy to the intermediary or its affiliate to vote the underlying securities that you will acquire upon conversion on all matters coming before the shareholders for a vote. The intermediary does not have any fiduciary duty to you to vote shares in a manner that is in your best interests. Accordingly, the intermediary may vote its proxy in a manner that may not be in the best interests of you as a security holder. For example, the intermediary may vote the proxy in favor of an amendment to our charter that adversely affects the rights of the holders of your class of securities in order to allow for a new investment to occur where the new investor requires senior rights.

The Crowd Note will not be freely tradable until one year from the initial purchase date. Although the Crowd Note may be tradable under federal securities law, state securities regulations may apply and each Purchaser should consult with his or her attorney.

You should be aware of the long-term nature of this investment. There is not now and likely will not be a public market for the Crowd Note. Because the Crowd Note have not been registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the “Securities Act”) or under the securities laws of any state or non-United States jurisdiction, the Crowd Note have transfer restrictions and cannot be resold in the United States except pursuant to Rule 501 of Regulation CF. It is not currently contemplated that registration under the Securities Act or other securities laws will be effected. Limitations on the transfer of the Crowd Note may also adversely affect the price that you might be able to obtain for the Crowd Note in a private sale. Purchasers should be aware of the long-term nature of their investment in the Company. Each Purchaser in this Offering will be required to represent that it is purchasing the Securities for its own account, for investment purposes and not with a view to resale or distribution thereof.

You will not have a vote or influence on the management of the Company.

All decisions with respect to the management of the Company will be made exclusively by the officers, directors, managers or employees of the Company. You, as a Purchaser of Crowd Notes, will have no ability to vote on issues of Company management and will not have the right or power to take part in the management of the company and will not be represented on the board of directors or managers of the Company. Accordingly, no person should purchase a Security unless he or she is willing to entrust all aspects of management to the Company.

The Company has the right to extend the Offering deadline.

The Company may extend the Offering deadline beyond what is currently stated herein. This means that your investment may continue to be held in escrow while the Company attempts to raise the Minimum Amount even after the Offering deadline stated herein is reached. Your investment will not be accruing interest during this time and will simply be held until such time as the new Offering deadline is reached without the Company receiving the Minimum Amount, at which time it will be returned to you without interest or deduction, or the Company receives the Minimum Amount, at which time it will be released to the Company to be used as set forth herein. Upon or shortly after release of such funds to the Company, the Securities will be issued and distributed to you.

There is no present market for the Securities, and we have arbitrarily set the price.

We have arbitrarily set the price of the Securities. The Offering price for the Securities should not be considered an indication of the actual value of the Securities and is not based on our net worth or prior earnings. We cannot assure you that the Securities could be resold by you at the Offering price or at any other price.

Purchasers will be unable to declare the Security in “default” and demand repayment.

Unlike convertible notes and some other securities, the Securities do not have any “default” provisions upon which the Purchasers will be able to demand repayment of their investment. With respect to Purchasers who invest less than $25,000 in the Securities, the Company has ultimate discretion as to whether or not to convert the Securities upon a future equity financing and such Purchasers have no right to demand such conversion. Only in limited circumstances, such as a liquidity event, may Such Purchasers demand payment and even then, such payments will be limited to the amount of cash available to the Company.

The Company may never elect to convert the Securities or undergo a liquidity event.

The Company may never receive a future equity financing or, with respect to those Purchasers who invest less than $25,000, elect to convert the Securities upon such future financing. In addition, the Company may never undergo a liquidity event such as a sale of the Company or an IPO. If neither the conversion of the Securities nor a liquidity event occurs, the Purchasers could be left holding the Securities in perpetuity. The Securities have numerous transfer restrictions and will likely be highly illiquid, with no secondary market on which to sell them. The Securities are not equity interests, have no ownership rights, have no rights to the Company’s assets or profits and have no voting rights or ability to direct the Company or its actions.

Affiliates of the Company, including officers, directors and existing shareholders of the Company, may invest in this Offering and their funds will be counted toward the Company achieving the Minimum Amount.

There is no restriction on affiliates of the Company, including its officers, directors and existing shareholders, investing in the Offering. As a result, it is possible that if the Company has raised some funds, but not reached the Minimum Amount, affiliates can contribute the balance so that there will be a closing. The Minimum Amount is typically intended to be a protection for investors and gives investors confidence that other investors, along with them, are sufficiently interested in the Offering and the Company and its prospects to make an investment of at least the Minimum Amount. By permitting affiliates to invest in the offering and make up any shortfall between what non-affiliate investors have invested and the Minimum Amount, this protection is largely eliminated. Investors should be aware that no funds other than their own and those of affiliates investing along with them may be invested in this Offering.

The Company has the right to conduct multiple closings during the Offering.

If the Company meets certain terms and conditions, and more than thirty (30) days remain before the Offering Deadline, an intermediate close of the Offering can occur, which will allow the Company to draw down on the first $75,000 of the proceeds of the offering committed and captured during the relevant period, as well as every $125,000 raised after. The Company may choose to continue the Offering thereafter. Purchasers should be mindful that this means they can make multiple investment commitments in the offering, which may be subject to different cancellation rights. For example, if an intermediate close occurs and later a material change occurs as the Offering continues, Purchasers previously closed upon will not have the right to re-confirm their investment as it will be deemed completed.

In addition to the risks listed above, businesses are often subject to risks not foreseen or fully appreciated by the management. It is not possible to foresee all risks that may affect us. Moreover, the Company cannot predict whether it will successfully effectuate its current business plan. Each prospective Purchaser is encouraged to carefully analyze the risks and merits of an investment in the Securities and should take into consideration when making such analysis, among other things, the Risk Factors discussed above.

THE SECURITIES OFFERED INVOLVE A HIGH DEGREE OF RISK AND MAY RESULT IN THE LOSS OF YOUR ENTIRE INVESTMENT. ANY PERSON CONSIDERING THE PURCHASE OF THESE SECURITIES SHOULD BE AWARE OF THESE AND OTHER FACTORS SET FORTH IN THIS FORM C/A AND SHOULD CONSULT WITH HIS OR HER LEGAL, TAX AND FINANCIAL ADVISORS PRIOR TO MAKING AN INVESTMENT IN THE SECURITIES. THE SECURITIES SHOULD ONLY BE PURCHASED BY PERSONS WHO CAN AFFORD TO LOSE ALL OF THEIR INVESTMENT.

BUSINESS

Description of the Business

LifeDNA leverages its proprietary algorithm that is based on a database of peer-reviewed studies to create DNA-personalized health and wellness recommendations for its customers. The Company's products include DNA tests, DNA reports, and subscription fitness and meal plans.

Business Plan

LifeDNA aims to bring continuous value to personal genomics consumers through its subscription-based, platform. In addition to providing detailed, comprehensive, and easy-to-understand DNA reports, LifeDNA is focused on developing and creating actionable health and wellness plans derived from the consumer's genetic profile. From there, the Company will continuously track customers' progress, as they continue following their DNA-based health and wellness plans. The Company believes that tracking and showing progress will lead to consumer stickiness and higher retention rates. Initially, tracking will be done subjectively via detailed surveys called "Medical Symptom Questionnaires" that consumers fill out. In the future, LifeDNA hopes to enter into partnerships with wearable devices and other biometric companies in order to start tracking consumer metrics more objectively. The Company is developing a platform that combines lifestyle, environment, biometrics, and genetics to create an integrated and fully personalized approach to health, wellness, and medicine.

History of the Business

From 2017 through part of 2019, the Company focused on selling supplements, vitamins, and skincare products based on an individual's DNA makeup. However, the Company was unable to find meaningful product market fit. It then pivoted to selling DNA reports and DNA-based wellness plans.

The Company's Products and/or Services

Product / Service	Description	Current Market
DNA Health Reports	DNA health reports that provide a variety of key health insights based on a consumer's genetics. The list of reports includes nutrition, health, vitamins, and skincare.	These DNA reports are sold to customers worldwide that have already gotten their DNA tested and are interested in finding out more information about how their genetics impacts their health and wellness.
DNA Health Tests	DNA tests that gather personal genetic data from a cheek swab analysis that enables the Company to obtain the genetic data the Company needs to create comprehensive DNA Health Reports.	Our DNA tests are sold to consumers in the U.S. and Canada that are interested in analyzing their genetics and understanding how their DNA impacts their health and wellness. Customers purchasing our DNA test have typically never done a DNA test in the past.

We are constantly researching and developing new reports and new ways of using genetics to improve health and wellness. We hope to launch many products between now and Q1 2021, including a COVID-19 DNA report, a fitness plan app and subscription, a meal plan app and subscription, a carrier trait report, integration with biometric data from a wearable, and health tracking via a comprehensive questionnaire and monitoring system.

We currently offer our DNA tests and reports via our online website, www.lifedna.com.

Competition

The Company's primary competitors are 23andMe, Vitagene, AncestryDNA, and GenoPalate.

The personal genomics space is competitive. However, some companies in this space are focused on an ancestral breakdown as their main offering, or on obtaining data to provide to medical or pharmaceutical companies. LifeDNA's main area of focus is on nutrition, fitness, and wellness. LifeDNA hopes to create stickiness and recurring revenue on its platform by providing continuous value to its users through monthly lifestyle recommendations and tracking.

Customer Base

LifeDNA is targeting two primary types of customers. The first cohort are individuals that have already completed a DNA test in the past and are interested in exploring how their genetics impacts their health and wellness. The second group are health-conscious consumers that have never done a DNA test but are interested in exploring what their genetics can tell them about their health. Our initial target geographies are the U.S. and Canada.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Please see the financial information listed on the cover page of this Form C/A and attached hereto in addition to the following information. Financial statements are attached hereto as Exhibit A.

Operations

Our most recent financing was the closing of our SAFE Round in July 2020. Following the Offering, assuming the minimum amount is raised, we should have enough liquidity to execute our business plan until August 2021. Following that, we hope to reach profitability by Q2 or Q3 2021.

The Company intends to focus on revenue growth, user acquisition, and retention through increasing its customer lifetime value by creating product stickiness, improving retention, reducing its customer acquisition cost through increased organic traffic and implementation and optimization of various paid marketing channels, entering into business partnerships that enable the company to provide more value to its consumers.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

The Offering proceeds are essential to our operations. We plan to use the proceeds as set forth above under "use of proceeds", which is an indispensable element of our business strategy. The Offering proceeds will have a beneficial effect on our liquidity, as of July 2020 we have $125,000 in cash on hand which will be augmented by the Offering proceeds and used to execute our business strategy.

The Company does not have any additional sources of capital other than the proceeds from the Offering.

Capital Expenditures and Other Obligations

The Company does not intend to make any material capital expenditures in the future.

Trends and Uncertainties

After reviewing the above discussion of the steps the Company intends to take, potential Purchasers should consider whether achievement of each step within the estimated time frame is realistic in their judgment. Potential Purchasers should also assess the consequences to the Company of any delays in taking these steps and whether the Company will need additional financing to accomplish them.

The financial statements are an important part of this Form C/A and should be reviewed in their entirety. The financial statements of the Company are attached hereto as Exhibit A.

THE OFFERING AND THE SECURITIES

The Offering

The Company is offering up to 1,070,000 Crowd Notes for up to $1,070,000.00. The Company is attempting to raise a minimum amount of $25,000.00 in this Offering (the "Minimum Amount"). The Company must receive commitments from investors in an amount totaling the Minimum Amount by March 1, 2021 (the "Offering Deadline") in order to receive any funds. If the sum of the investment commitments does not equal or exceed the Minimum Amount by the Offering Deadline, no Securities will be sold in the Offering, investment commitments will be cancelled and committed funds will be returned to potential investors without interest or deductions. The Company has the right to extend the Offering Deadline at its discretion. The Company will accept investments in excess of the Minimum Amount up to $1,070,000.00 (the "Maximum Amount") and the additional Securities will be allocated on at the Company's discretion.

The price of the Securities does not necessarily bear any relationship to the Company's asset value, net worth, revenues or other established criteria of value, and should not be considered indicative of the actual value of the Securities.

In order to purchase the Securities, you must make a commitment to purchase by completing the Subscription Agreement. Purchaser funds will be held in escrow with Evolve Bank & Trust until the Minimum Amount of investments is reached. Purchasers may cancel an investment commitment until 48 hours prior to the Offering Deadline or the Closing, whichever comes first using the cancellation mechanism provided by the Intermediary. The Company will notify Purchasers when the Minimum Amount has been reached. If the Company reaches the Minimum Amount prior to the Offering Deadline, it may close the Offering at least five (5) days after reaching the Minimum Amount and providing notice to the Purchasers. If any material change (other than reaching the Minimum Amount) occurs related to the Offering prior to the Offering Deadline, the Company will provide notice to Purchasers and receive reconfirmations from Purchasers who have already made commitments. If a Purchaser does not reconfirm his or her investment commitment after a material change is made to the terms of the Offering, the Purchaser's investment commitment will be cancelled and the committed funds will be returned without interest or deductions. If a Purchaser does not cancel an investment commitment before the Minimum Amount is reached, the funds will be released to the Company upon closing of the Offering and the Purchaser will receive the Securities in exchange for his or her investment. Any Purchaser funds received after the initial closing will be released to the Company upon a subsequent closing and the Purchaser will receive Securities via Digital Registry in exchange for his or her investment as soon as practicable thereafter.

In the event that $75,000 in investments is committed and received by the escrow agent and more than thirty (30) days remain before the Offering Deadline, the Company may conduct the first of multiple closings of the Offering (an "Intermediate Close"), provided all investors receive notice that an Intermediate Close will occur and funds will be released to the Company, at least five (5) business days prior to the Intermediate Close (absent a material change that would require an extension of the offering and reconfirmation of the investment commitment). Investors who committed on or before such notice will have until 48 hours before the Intermediate Close to cancel their investment commitment.

In the event the Company does conduct the first of multiple closes, the Company agrees to only withdraw $75,000 from escrow and will only conduct the Intermediate Close if more than thirty

(30) days remain before the Offering Deadline. The Company may only conduct another Intermediate Close before the Offering Deadline if: (i) the amount of investment commitments made and received in escrow exceeds $125,000 since the time of the last Intermediate Close; and (ii) more than thirty (30) days remain before the Offering Deadline.

The Company has agreed to return all funds to investors in the event a Form C-W is ultimately filed in relation to this Offering, regardless of any subsequent closes.

Subscription Agreements are not binding on the Company until accepted by the Company, which reserves the right to reject, in whole or in part, in its sole and absolute discretion, any subscription. If the Company rejects all or a portion of any subscription, the applicable prospective Purchaser's funds will be returned without interest or deduction.

The price of the Securities was determined arbitrarily. The minimum amount that a Purchaser may invest in the Offering is $100.00.

The Offering is being made through MicroVenture Marketplace, Inc., the Intermediary. The following two fields below sets forth the compensation being paid in connection with the Offering.

Commission/Fees

At the conclusion of the Offering, the Issuer shall pay to the Intermediary a fee consisting of five percent (5%) commission based on the amount of investments raised in the Offering and paid upon distribution of funds from escrow at the time of closing.

Stock, Warrants and Other Compensation

The Intermediary will receive a number of Crowd Notes of the Issuer equal to two percent (2%) of the total number of Securities sold by the Issuer in the Offering.

Transfer Agent and Registrar

The Company will act as transfer agent and registrar for the Securities. The Securities will not be certificated. Instead, they will be issued in book-entry format through a Digital Securities Registry maintained by the Company. The Company will provide confirmation of the issuance of Securities to Purchasers upon request.

The Securities

We request that you please review our organizational documents in conjunction with the following summary information.

General

A Crowd Note is similar to a SAFE (Simple Agreement for Future Equity) security where an investor makes a cash investment in our company, but gets company stock at a later date, in connection with a specific event. Although the security is called a Crowd Note, the Crowd Note is not a debt instrument. It is intended to be an alternative to a convertible note that is beneficial for both our company and you as an investor.

Events Triggering Conversion of Crowd Notes

If you are a Major Investor, which is defined as an investor who invests at least $25,000 in this offering, then the specified events upon which the Crowd Note would convert into capital stock of our company are (i) a Qualified Equity Financing, which we define below, or (ii) a Corporate Transaction, which we define below. If you are not a Major Investor, then the Crowd Note will only convert into capital stock of our company upon the earlier of (i) our company's election to convert your Crowd Note, or (ii) a Corporate Transaction.

Qualified Equity Financing

The Crowd Note defines "Qualified Equity Financing" as the first sale (or series of related sales) by us of our preferred stock following the closing of this offering from which we receive gross proceeds of not less than $1,000,000.00 (excluding the aggregate amount of securities converted into preferred stock in connection with such sale (or series of related sales)).

If the Crowd Note converts into equity in connection with a Qualified Equity Financing, then we will convert the Crowd Note into shares of our preferred stock that are issued in connection with the Qualified Equity Financing, which we refer to as Conversion Shares, equal to the quotient obtained by dividing the outstanding principal amount of the Crowd Note by the Conversion Price, which is defined below. The issuance of Conversion Shares will be on the same terms and conditions applicable to the stock sold in the Qualified Equity Financing; provided, however, that if you are not a Major Investor, you will receive shares of a shadow series, as we describe below, with certain limited rights. The Conversion Price applicable to a Qualified Equity Financing is the lower of (A) the product of (1) one minus the Discount (which is 20%), and (2) the price paid per share for preferred stock by the investors in the Qualified Equity Financing, or (B) the quotient resulting from dividing (1) the Valuation Cap ($8 million for Purchasers who acquire the first $250,000 of Crowd Notes and $10 million for all other Purchasers), as defined below by (2) the total number of our shares of capital stock that are outstanding on a fully diluted basis (assuming for this purpose the exercise, exchange or conversion of all securities exercisable or exchangeable for, or convertible into, our capital stock), immediately prior to the closing of the Qualified Equity Financing.

Any investor who is not a Major investor will receive a shadow series of preferred stock upon conversion of such investor's Crowd Note. A shadow series is a series of our preferred stock that is identical in all respects to the shares of preferred stock issued in the Qualified Equity Financing (e.g., if the Company sells Series A Preferred Stock in the Qualified Equity Financing, the shadow series would be Series A-1 Preferred Stock), except that the liquidation preference per share of the shadow series shall equal the Conversion Price and the following additional differences will apply: (i) shadow series shareholders will grant their vote on any matter that is submitted to a vote or for the consent of the stockholders of our company (except for on matters required by law) by irrevocable proxy; and (ii) shadow series shareholders will receive quarterly business updates from the company through the Platform but will have no additional information or inspection rights (except with respect to such rights which are required by law).

Corporate Transaction and Corporate Transaction Payment

The Crowd Note defines "Corporate Transaction" as (i) the closing of the sale, transfer or other disposition of all or substantially all of our assets, (ii) the consummation of the merger or consolidation of our company with or into another entity (except a merger or consolidation in which the holders of capital stock of our company immediately prior to such merger or consolidation continue to hold at least 50% of the voting power of the capital stock of our company or the surviving or acquiring entity), (iii) the closing of the transfer (whether by merger, consolidation or otherwise), in one transaction or a series of related transactions, to a person or group of affiliated persons (other than an underwriter of our securities), of securities of our company if, after such closing, such person or group of affiliated persons would hold 50% or more of the outstanding voting stock of our company (or the surviving or acquiring entity), or (iv) the initial public offering, liquidation, dissolution or winding up of our company; provided, however, that a transaction shall not constitute a Corporate Transaction if its sole purpose is to change the state of our incorporation or to create a holding company that will be owned in substantially the same proportions by the persons who held our securities immediately prior to such transaction.

If the Crowd Note converts in connection with a Corporate Transaction (defined above) then you will receive an amount equal to two times (2X) the price you paid for your Crowd Note (i.e., 2x your principal amount). If there are not enough funds to pay you and other Crowd Note investors in full, then proceeds from the respective transaction will be distributed with equal priority and pro rata among the Crowd Note investors in proportion to their Purchase Price.

Termination of Crowd Note

The Crowd Notes will terminate upon the earlier of: (a) a conversion of the entire purchase price under the Crowd Notes into Conversion Shares; or (b) the payment of amounts due to the investor pursuant to a Corporate Transaction.

Additional Transfer Restrictions

In addition, you may not transfer the Crowd Notes or any securities into which they are convertible to any of our competitors, as determined by us in good faith.

IPO Lock Up

Furthermore, upon the event of an initial public offering, the equity interest into which the Crowd Notes are converted will be subject to a lock-up period and may not be sold for up to 180 days following such initial public offering.

Voting Agreement and Investor Rights Agreement

On September 10, 2018, in connection with the Company's sale of its Series Seed II Preferred Stock, the Company, certain holders of the Company's Common Stock, the holders of the Company's Series Seed Preferred Stock and the holders of the Company's Series Seed II Preferred Stock entered into a voting agreement. Under the voting agreement, the parties agreed to vote their stock to keep the size of the board of directors at four (4) with one person designated by Millennium Trust Company, LLC, which individual is initially Steven M. Markowitz, one person designated by BeeStripe Ventures, LLC, which individual is initially Ciaran Thompson, one person designated by the holders of a majority of the outstanding Common Stock, which person is the Company's chief executive officer, who initially is Cyril Moukarzel. The voting agreement also contained a customary drag-along along right and other provisions.

In addition, holders of the Company's preferred stock entered into an Investor Rights Agreement with the Company that provides such investors with certain registration rights, information and observer rights, rights to participate in future offerings and other rights as described therein.

No Voting Rights and No Anti-Dilution Rights

The Crowd Notes do not have any voting rights. Further, upon conversion of the Crowd Notes into Conversion Shares, shadow series shareholders shall grant their vote on any matter that is submitted to a vote or for the consent of the members of the Company (except for on matters required by law) by irrevocable proxy.

The Securities do not have anti-dilution rights.

Restrictions on Transfer

Any Securities sold pursuant to Regulation CF being offered may not be transferred by any Purchaser of such Securities during the one-year holding period beginning when the Securities were issued, unless such Securities were transferred: 1) to the Company, 2) to an accredited investor, as defined by Rule 501(d) of Regulation D of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, 3) as part of an Offering registered with the SEC or 4) to a member of the family of the Purchaser or the equivalent, to a trust controlled by the Purchaser, to a trust created for the benefit of a family member of the Purchaser or the equivalent, or in connection with the death or divorce of the Purchaser or other similar circumstances. "Member of the family" as used herein means a child, stepchild, grandchild, parent, stepparent, grandparent, spouse or spousal equivalent, sibling, mother/father/daughter/son/sister/brother-in-law, and includes adoptive relationships. Remember that although you may legally be able to transfer the Securities, you may not be able to find another party willing to purchase them.

In addition to the restrictions on transfer described above, the bylaws of the Company contain a right of first refusal that applies to all outstanding stock of the company regardless of class. The right of first refusal prohibits any stockholder from selling or otherwise transferring such stockholder's stock unless the stockholder first offers to the Company (or its assignee) the right to purchase that stock on the same terms and conditions offered to the third party transferee.

Other Material Terms

The Company does not have the right to repurchase the Crowd Notes. The investor agrees to take any and all actions determined in good faith by the Company's Manager to be advisable to reorganize the instrument and any shares issued pursuant to the terms of the Crowd Notes into a special purpose vehicle or other entity designed to aggregate the interests of holders of Crowd Notes.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

December 31, 2019 and 2018

NOTE A – ORGANIZATION AND DESCRIPTION OF BUSINESS

LifeDNA, Inc. (the “Company”) was formed on May 8, 2017 as a Delaware Corporation. The Company uses genetics to identify health and wellness requirements and provide personalized insights and products uniquely tailored to the individual needs of each customer. The Company is building a platform that combines lifestyle, environment, biometrics, and genetics to create an integrated and fully personalized approach to health, wellness, and medicine. The Company's mission is to inspire people to unlock the power of their DNA so they can live healthier, more fulfilling lives.

NOTE B – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

This summary of significant accounting policies for the Company is presented to assist in understanding the Company's financial statements. These accounting policies conform to generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America (“U.S. GAAP”) and have been consistently applied in the preparation of the financial statements.

1. Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company considers all unrestricted cash and highly liquid investments, including certificates of deposit purchased with an original maturity of three months or less, to be cash and cash equivalents.

2. Concentrations of Credit Risk

Financial instruments that potentially expose the Company to concentrations of credit risk consist principally of cash and cash equivalents. The Company maintains substantially all of its cash and cash equivalents with one major financial institution in Hawaii. The Company had no amount in excess of federally insured limits as of December 31, 2019 and 2018.

3. Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and the accompanying notes. Estimates in these financial statements include asset valuations, estimates of future cash flows from and the economic useful lives of long-lived assets, valuations of stock compensation, certain accrued liabilities, income taxes and tax valuation allowances, and fair value estimates. Despite management's intention to establish accurate estimates and reasonable assumptions, actual results could differ materially from these estimates and assumptions.

4. Inventory

Inventory consists of retail supplements, skin care products, and DNA test kits, and is stated at the lower of cost (first-in, first-out method) or market (net realizable value).

5. Intangible

Domain name costs are accounted for in accordance with the Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”) Accounting Standards Codification (“ASC 350-30”) guidance pertaining to Intangibles-Goodwill and Other, Website Development Costs.

As the ownership of the domain name can be renewed for a nominal renewal fee each year prior to their expiration date, the useful lives of the domain names are deemed to be indefinite. The Company reviews intangibles for impairment whenever changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. Recoverability of assets to be held and used is measured by a comparison of the carrying amount of an asset to estimated undiscounted future cash flows expected to be generated by the asset. If the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its estimated future cash flows, an impairment charge is recognized in the amount by which the carrying amount of the asset exceeds the fair value of the asset. No such impairment charge was recognized in 2019 or 2018.

6. Revenue Recognition

On January 1, 2019, the Company adopted Accounting Standards Codification (“ASC”) No. 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers, using the full retrospective approach to all contracts resulting in no cumulative adjustment to accumulated deficit. The adoption of this standard did not impact the timing of the Company’s revenue recognition based on the short-term, day-to-day nature of operations.

Performance Obligations

The Company’s revenues are derived from the sale of stand-alone digital wellness reports, digital wellness reports with a Company DNA kit, skin care products, and supplements.

For digital wellness reports, the Company is obligated to deliver access to the online report to each customer as soon as their DNA information is uploaded. Access to the report is provided instantly. Once the customer has accessed the report it is non-refundable and the Company’s obligation has been fulfilled at that point in time. For digital wellness reports with a Company DNA kit, the Company is obligated to provide the customer with a test kit and process the results upon its submission. Access to the digital wellness report is provided upon processing of the test kit. Once the customer has been shipped the test kit, it is non-refundable. The Company fulfills its performance obligations upon completion of the report. The Company sells supplements on a stand-alone and subscription basis and skincare products on a stand-alone basis to its customers. Once an order is shipped, the Company’s obligation has been satisfied and the order is non-refundable.

Contract Assets and Liabilities

The Company had no material contract assets or liabilities as of December 31, 2019 and 2018.

7. Taxes Collected from Customers

The Company incurred and billed its Hawaii customers for excise taxes during the years ended December 31, 2019 and 2018. These amounts are reported gross as a component of operating revenues and expenses in the accompanying Statements of Operations. These taxes amounted to $110 and $54 for the years ended December 31, 2019 and 2018, respectively.

8. Advertising and Promotional Costs

Advertising costs are charged to expense as incurred. The Company incurred $135,876 and $158,819, respectively, in advertising and promotion expenses for the years ended December 31, 2019 and 2018.

9. Share-Based Compensation

The Company accounts for share-based compensation costs, which requires the measurement and recognition of compensation expense related to the fair value of share-based compensation awards that are ultimately expected to vest. Share-based compensation expense recognized includes the compensation cost for all share-based payments granted to employees, officers, directors, and consultants based on the grant date fair value of the shares, and is also applied to awards modified, repurchased, or canceled during the periods reported.

10. Income Taxes

The Company accounts for income taxes under the asset and liability method. Deferred income taxes reflect the impact of temporary differences between assets and liabilities recognized for financial reporting purposes and the amounts recognized for income tax reporting purposes, net operating loss carryforwards, and other tax credits measured by applying currently enacted tax laws. A valuation allowance is provided when necessary to reduce deferred tax assets to an amount that is more likely than not to be realized.

The Company determines whether a tax position is more likely than not to be sustained upon examination, including resolution of any related appeals or litigation processes, based on the technical merits of the position. The Company uses a two-step approach to recognizing and measuring uncertain tax positions. The first step is to evaluate the tax position for recognition by determining if the weight of available evidence indicates that it is more likely than not that the position will be sustained upon tax authority examination, including resolution of related appeals or litigation processes, if any. The second step is to measure the tax benefit as the largest amount that is more than 50% likely of being realized upon ultimate settlement.

The Company files income tax returns in the United States (“U.S.”) federal jurisdiction and in the states of Hawaii and Connecticut. Tax filings since 2017 (formation) are open for inspection by both the U.S. federal jurisdiction and states of Hawaii and Connecticut. No uncertain tax positions were recorded as of December 31, 2019 and 2018.

The Company did not recognize any tax liabilities for income taxes associated with unrecognized tax benefits as of December 31, 2019 and 2018. It is the Company’s policy to include interest and penalties related to unrecognized tax benefits, if any, within the provision (benefit) for income taxes in the income statements.

11. Recently Adopted Accounting Pronouncements

In May 2014, the FASB and the International Accounting Standards Board jointly issued Accounting Standards Update (“ASU”) No. 2014-09, Revenue from Contracts with Customers (“Topic 606”). The standard’s core principle is that a company will recognize revenue when it transfers promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which a company expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. The standard is effective for nonpublic entities beginning after January 1, 2019. The standard allows for either “full retrospective” adoption, meaning the standard is applied to all of the periods presented, or “modified retrospective” adoption, meaning the standard is applied only to the most current period presented in the financial statements.

In August 2016, the FASB issued ASU 2016-15, Statement of Cash Flows (“Topic 230”): Classification of Certain Cash Receipts and Cash Payments. ASU 2016-15 clarifies how cash receipts and cash payments in certain transactions are presented on the statement of cash flows. ASU 2016-15 is effective for the Company for the fiscal years, and interim periods within those fiscal years, beginning after December 15, 2018, and early adoption is permitted. The Company adopted ASU 2016-15 in 2019.

In July 2018, the FASB issued ASU No. 2018-07, Compensation – Stock Compensation (“Topic 718”): Improvements to Nonemployee Share-Based Payment Accounting. The standard, among other things, modified the method of estimating the fair value of the equity instruments granted or offered to grant, during the period, and to remove reference to the fair value of the goods or services received. The Company adopted ASU 2018-07 in 2019.

In October 2018, the FASB issued ASU No. 2018-17, “Targeted Improvements to Related Party Guidance for Variable Interest Entities,” (“ASU 2018-17”) which provided an accounting alternative for private companies to elect an accounting policy to not apply VIE guidance to legal entities under common control if both the company and the legal entity being evaluated for consolidation under VIE guidance are not public business entities. ASU 2018-17 is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2021; early adoption is permitted. The Company early adopted ASU 2018-17 effective beginning as of and for the year ended December 31, 2018.

12. Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements

In February 2016, the FASB issued ASU No. 2016-02, Leases. This ASU requires management to recognize lease assets and lease liabilities for all leases. ASU No. 2016-02 retains a distinction between finance leases and operating leases. The classification criteria for distinguishing between finance leases and operating leases are substantially similar to the classification criteria for distinguishing between capital leases and operating leases in the previous lease guidance. The result of retaining a distinction between finance leases and operating leases is that under the lessee accounting model, the effect of leases in the statement of operations and statement of cash flows is largely unchanged from previous U.S. GAAP.

In July 2017, the FASB voted to propose delaying the effective date for portions of its major accounting standards, including ASU No. 2016-02, Leases, for privately held companies and nonprofit organizations. The delay means those companies now have an extra year to adopt the new lease accounting rules, subject to the FASB issuing a formal proposal for public comment before finalizing new effective dates. The new leasing standard took effect for the calendar year public companies in January 2019. With the deferral, private companies will be required to adopt for annual financial reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2020 (2021 for calendar year-end companies.). Reasons cited for the implementation delay included struggles public companies have experienced with adopting and complying with then new lease standard and the ongoing implementation of FASB’s new revenue recognition standard.

12. Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements (continued)

In June 2020, the FASB issued ASU 2020-05, Revenue from Contracts with Customers (“Topic 606”) and Leases (“Topic 842”): Effective Dates for Certain Entities in response to the novel and highly contagious form of coronavirus (“COVID-19”). ASU No. 2020-05 defers the effective date for one year for entities in the “all other” category that have not yet issued their financial statements. As the Company adopted Topic 606 in its 2019 financial statements, this ASU pertains solely to Topic 842 for the Company. The Company is currently assessing the impact of Topic 842 on the Company’s financial statements.

13. Variable Interest Entity

Generally accepted accounting principles require the “primary beneficiary” of a variable interest entity (“VIE”) to include the VIE’s assets, liabilities and operating results in its consolidated financial statements. In general, a VIE is a corporation, partnership, limited liability corporation, trust or any other legal structure used to conduct activities or hold assets. A variable interest is a controlling financial interest in another entity which is not based on a voting interest. Under generally accepted accounting principles, a company has a controlling financial interest when it has the power to direct activities that significantly affect the economic performance of another entity and has the obligation to absorb losses or the right to receive benefits of the other entity. Management analyzes the Company’s variable interests, including loans, guarantees, and related party relationships to determine if the Company has any variable interests in VIEs.

The Company has a convertible promissory note payable to a related party under common control, BeeStripe Ventures, LLC (“BeeStripe Ventures”). The Company determined that it is the primary beneficiary of this VIE because the Company’s Chairman is a partial owner of BeeStripe Ventures and BeeStripe Ventures’ sole purpose is investment in the Company. As discussed above, the Company has adopted ASU 2018-17 and therefore has not consolidated the assets, liabilities, or operating results of BeeStripe Ventures.

Options may be granted under the Plan for up to ten years after the grant date, subject to accelerated expiration upon termination of employment, if sooner. Under the Plan, the maximum aggregate number of shares which may be issued pursuant to all awards (including Incentive Stock Options and Nonqualifying Stock Options) is 500,000 common shares. The Company determined the fair value of options issued through December 31, 2017 based upon the offering price of its Series Seed I Preferred Stock.

Further, effective December 5, 2019, the Company amended its Incentive Plan increasing the number of shares of Common Stock available for issuance by 294,120 to an aggregate of 2,083,333 shares. The calculated fair value of the options available to be issued under the Plan were estimated as of May 31, 2019 using a market approach based valuation by a third-party specialist. The expected stock price volatility was calculated based on historical data of publicly traded, peer companies. The risk-free rates for periods within the contractual life of the options are based on the yields of U.S. Treasury instruments with terms comparable to the estimated option terms.

The fair value assumptions related to options outstanding as of December 31, 2019 were as follows:

Dividend yield	0.000%
Risk-free rate	2.730%
Expected volatility	80.000%
Expected term	2 years

The expected dividend yield was zero as the Company does not anticipate paying a dividend within the relevant time frame. The following table summarizes the share option activity under the Plan for the years ended December 31, 2019 and 2018:

The Company's valuation allowance was primarily related to the operating losses. The valuation allowance is deemed in accordance with the provisions of ASC No. 740, Income Taxes, which requires an assessment of both negative and positive evidence when measuring the need for a valuation allowance. Based on the available objective evidence and the Company's history of losses, management provides no assurance that the net deferred tax assets will be realized. As of December 31, 2019 and 2018, the Company has applied a valuation allowance against its deferred tax assets net of the expected income from the reversal of the deferred tax liabilities. The valuation allowance increased by $260,000 and $192,000 in 2019 and 2018, respectively, primarily due to increases in the operating losses of the Company.

As of December 31, 2019 and 2018, the Company had federal net operating loss carryforwards of $1,759,775 and $981,872, respectively, which can be carried forward indefinitely. As of December 31, 2019 and 2018, the Company had state of Hawaii net operating loss carryforwards of $1,451,051 and $673,148, respectively which can be carried forward indefinitely. As of December 31, 2019 and 2018, the Company had state of Connecticut net operating loss carryforwards of $6,363 and $6,363, respectively which can be carried forward indefinitely.

Recent Tax Legislation

On December 22, 2017 the Tax Cuts and Job Act ("TCJA") was enacted into law, which significantly changes existing U.S. tax law and includes numerous provisions that affect the Company's business, such as reducing the U.S. federal statutory tax rate. The TCJA reduces the U.S. federal statutory tax rate from 35% to 21% effective January 1, 2018.

On March 27, 2020, the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act (the "CARES Act") removed the 80% limitation on the use of net operating losses ("NOLs") enacted by the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act of 2017 ("TCJA") with respect to NOLs carried to any taxable year beginning before January 1, 2021, and, thus, NOLs can generally be used to offset fully taxable income in these taxable years.

NOTE H - SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

The recent outbreak of a COVID-19, which the World Health Organization has declared to constitute a pandemic, has resulted in numerous deaths, adversely impacted global commercial activity and contributed to significant volatility in financial and business markets globally. The global impact of the outbreak is rapidly evolving, and many countries have reacted by instituting quarantines, prohibitions on travel and the closure of offices, businesses, schools, retail stores and other public venues. Businesses are also implementing similar precautionary measures. Such measures, as well as the general uncertainty surrounding the dangers and impact of COVID-19, are creating significant disruption in supply chains and economic activity and are having a particularly adverse impact on transportation, hospitality, tourism, entertainment and other industries.

As COVID-19 continues to spread, the potential impacts, including a global, regional or other economic recession, are increasingly uncertain and difficult to assess. Any public health emergency, including any outbreak of COVID-19 or other existing or new epidemic diseases, or the threat thereof, and the resulting financial and economic market uncertainty could have a significant adverse impact on the Company's income and results of operations. Management considers the emergency of the COVID-19 pandemic to be a non-adjusting post balance sheet event and hence any future impact is likely to be at future reporting dates.

Management has evaluated its December 31, 2019 and 2018 financial statements for subsequent events through August 14, 2020, the date the financial statements were available to be issued, and except as disclosed below, is not aware of any subsequent events that would require recognition or disclosure in the financial statements.

On July 21, 2020, the Company executed conversions of its convertible promissory into Simple Agreement for Future Equity ("SAFE") instruments. The 2020 SAFE has an aggregate purchase price limit of $500,000, unless the Company elects to increase such amount, and provides for a $10,000,000 pre-money valuation cap.

Effective July 24, 2020, the Company amended its Incentive Plan increasing the number of shares of Common Stock available for issuance by 3,500,000 to an aggregate of 5,583,333 shares.

COMPANY SUMMARY

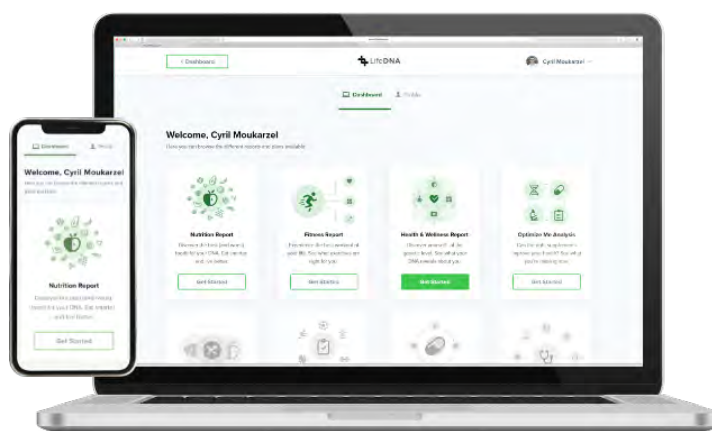

Opportunity

The $4T+ health and wellness global industry is becoming an increasingly large part of the economy and consumers' lives. Wellness has moved from being an episodic thought for consumers, to something that drives daily decisions around food purchases, mental health, fitness, environmental consciousness, and more.^{viii} Now, there is increasing demand for personalized care solutions for individual medical, nutritional, and wellness profiles.^{ix}

Founded in 2017, LifeDNA is a health and wellness platform designed to leverage genomics to deliver personalized recommendations and insights to consumers. As indicated on the LifeDNA website, the company leverages peer-reviewed research to generate detailed DNA reports, with the company initially focusing on helping users better understand their general health, nutrition, skincare, fitness, and more. Looking ahead, the company is expanding into physical retail through a pilot partnership with Health First Network in Canada, as well as into new reports and product lines.

Product

LifeDNA aims to empower consumers with deeper, personalized insights around their health and wellness. The company formulates these insights through an in-house algorithm that incorporates a consumer's genetics and the company's database of third-party research, with LifeDNA's goal being to provide a platform that combines lifestyle, environment, biometrics, and genetics to create an integrated and fully personalized approach to health, wellness, and medicine.

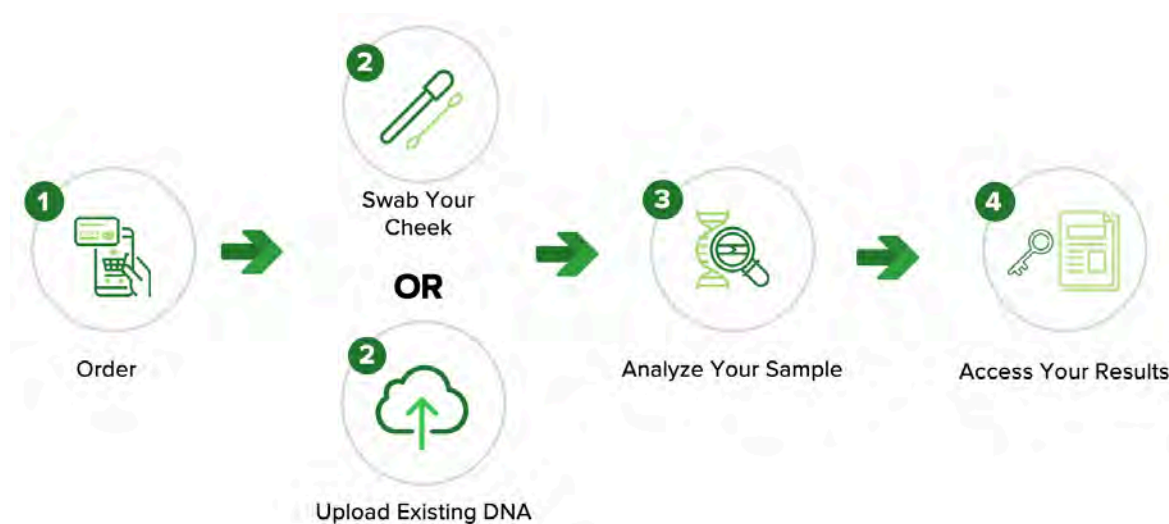

How It Works

The steps for consumers who are interested in gaining these personalized insights from LifeDNA reports are as follows:

MICROVENTURES

1. DNA Analysis: LifeDNA can analyze DNA data from websites like 23andMe, Ancestry, MyHeritage, and more that consumers provide. Alternatively, the company can send over a DNA swab test kit for consumers to obtain DNA data for the first time.
2. Research Database: As outlined on the company website, LifeDNA references an extensive database of peer-reviewed studies to develop the recommendations for users.
3. Personalized Reports: After examining the variations (single nucleotide polymorphisms, or SNPs) in a consumer's genome through its algorithm – the most common type of genetic variation among people^x – LifeDNA generates personalized reports to inform users of potential genetic strengths, weaknesses, and health concerns.
4. Access: Users are then able to access their personalized reports and insights online.

Reports

LifeDNA aims to offer reports that address health and wellness holistically, so users can better understand their personal needs. When a consumer purchases a LifeDNA report bundle, they gain access to unique insights in the following areas:

General Health and Wellness

Nutrition

Health and Wellness

The global health and wellness industry has been growing quickly, reaching $4.2 trillion in 2017 according to the Global Wellness Institute (GWI). From 2015 to 2017, the wellness economy grew at a rate of 6.4% annually, compared to 3.6% for global economic growth. One contributing factor to this growth is the changing consumer mindset related to wellness. Consumers now take wellness into consideration into many of their daily decisions, whether its food purchases, mental wellness, fitness, environmental consciousness, or more. According to Katherine Johnston, a Global Wellness Institute senior research fellow, wellness for consumers is evolving from episodic to essential.^{xii}

MICROVENTURES

Genetic Testing

The direct to consumer (DTC) genetic testing market surpassed $1 billion in value in 2019 and is expected to grow at a compounded annual growth rate (CAGR) of 12.8% from 2020 to 2028, reaching a size of $6.36 billion by the end of the forecasting period.^{xiii} There are thousands of genetics tests available that can be used in the following ways:^{xiv}

- Diagnostics: Identifies whether an individual has a certain genetic disease (e.g. cystic fibrosis and Huntington's disease)
- Predictive genetic testing: Determines whether an individual may have an increased risk for a specific disease
- Carrier Screening: Tests performed on a large segment of the asymptomatic population to determine whether they need more definitive testing to diagnose a genetic disease (e.g. newborn screening and noninvasive prenatal screening)
- Pharmacogenomics: Identifies variations in an individual's genetic makeup to determine whether a drug is suitable for that patient
- Whole-genome and whole-exome sequencing: Most often used in complex diagnostic cases, but is being explored for use in asymptomatic individuals to predict future disease
- Tumor analysis: Examines genetic markers in a tumor to determine which genetic alterations are driving tumor growth and which therapies would be most effective
- Ancestry: Used help explore genetic ancestry

While most genetic tests are only available through a healthcare provider, the DTC genetic testing market still covers a wide range of tests, including potential predisposition to inherited diseases, traits (e.g. male hair loss), wellness, carrier status, and paternity testing.^{xv} Prices of DTC genetic tests range from less than $100 to a few thousand dollars. While some companies claim that DTC genetic tests can measure the risk of developing a specific disease, the FDA and Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) state that the risk of such diseases comes from many sources, not just genetics. Consumers are encouraged to speak with a doctor or healthcare practitioner about these tests before making health-related decisions.^{xvi}

LifeDNA currently offers reports that fall under “Low Risk General Wellness” generic testing that cover topics such as fitness, skincare, and nutrition. The FDA generally does not review these types of products.^{xvii}

mHealth

The practice of leveraging mobile applications to monitor and seek to improve one's health is known as “mHealth”. In 2018, the global mHealth market, which incorporates segments such as fitness, lifestyle management, nutrition and diet, and disease management was valued at $12.4 billion, and is projected to grow at a compounded annual growth rate (CAGR) of 44.7% between 2019 and 2026. Grandview Research notes that rising promotion of mHealth apps to create positive health outcomes, along with the increasing preference for mobile apps, are some of the driving factors for the mHealth applications market. In addition, mHealth platforms are expected to increase as more physicians recommend health-related apps.^{xviii}

RISKS

Industry Risk

Most genetic tests are not regulated and can be marketed to consumers without independent verification of product accuracy and cited benefits.^{xi} Direct-to-consumer genetic tests are not comprehensive; additional factors that can affect health and wellness include lifestyle, family medical history, and environment.^{xli} The FDA has reminded consumers that these tests are not a substitute for traditional healthcare evaluations such as regular health screenings and visits to a healthcare provider.^{xlii}

Regulatory Risk

MICROVENTURES

In February 2018, the Federal Trade Commission published consumer guidance regarding DTC genetic tests, noting specifically that the FDA and CDC are not aware of any valid scientific studies that support the theory that genetic tests can be used to recommend nutritional choices, customize dietary supplements or cosmetics, or predict an individual's response to certain environmental exposures.^{xliii}

The Company's agreements with each Investor are separate agreements, and the sales of the Crowd Notes to each Investor are separate sales.

6. Dispute Resolution.

1. General Rule. Any dispute under this Crowd Note will be resolved through arbitration, not through the court system. All arbitration will be conducted in the State where the Company's principal business office is located at such time, unless both parties agree otherwise in writing in a specific case. All arbitration will be conducted before a single arbitrator in following the rules of the American Arbitration Association. Except as required by law, neither a party nor the arbitrator may disclose the existence, content or results of any arbitration without the prior written consent of the other parties.
2. Appeal of Award. Within thirty days of a final award by the single arbitrator, either party may appeal the award for reconsideration by a three-arbitrator panel. If there is an appeal, the other party

4. No Class Action Claims. NO ARBITRATION SHALL PROCEED ON A CLASS, REPRESENTATIVE, OR COLLECTIVE BASIS. No party may join, consolidate, or otherwise bring claims for or on behalf of two or more individuals or unrelated corporate entities in the same arbitration unless those persons are parties to a single transaction. An award in arbitration shall determine the rights and obligations of the named parties only, and only with respect to the claims in arbitration, and shall not (i) determine the rights, obligations, or interests of anyone other than a named party, or resolve any claim of anyone other than a named party, or (ii) make an award for the benefit of, or against, anyone other than a named party. No administrator or arbitrator shall have the power or authority to waive, modify, or fail to enforce this paragraph, and any attempt to do so, whether by rule, policy, and arbitration decision or otherwise, shall be invalid and unenforceable. Any challenge to the validity of this paragraph shall be determined exclusively by a court and not by the administrator or any arbitrator. If this paragraph shall be deemed unenforceable, then any proceeding in the nature of a class action shall be handled in court, not in arbitration.
7. Approval. The Company hereby represents that its Board of Directors, in the exercise of its fiduciary duty, has approved the Company's execution of this Crowd Note based upon a reasonable belief that the Purchase Price provided hereunder is appropriate for the Company after reasonable inquiry concerning the Company's financing objectives and financial situation. In addition, the Company hereby represents that it intends to use the proceeds primarily for the operations of its business, and not for any personal, family or household purpose.
8. Subscription Procedure. Each Investor, by providing his or her name, and subscription amount, confirms such investment through the Platform and has signed this Crowd Note electronically. Investor agrees that his or her electronic signature is the legal equivalent of his or her manual signature on this Crowd Note. By confirming, the Investor consents to be legally bound by the Crowd Note's terms and conditions, and to the terms and conditions of subscription established by the Platform. All Investors will be processed via Regulation CF. Investments may be accepted up to the Maximum Raise Amount up until the Offering End Date.

The Company's agreements with each Investor are separate agreements, and the sales of the Crowd Notes to each Investor are separate sales.

6. Dispute Resolution.

1. General Rule. Any dispute under this Crowd Note will be resolved through arbitration, not through the court system. All arbitration will be conducted in the State where the Company's principal business office is located at such time, unless both parties agree otherwise in writing in a specific case. All arbitration will be conducted before a single arbitrator in following the rules of the American Arbitration Association. Except as required by law, neither a party nor the arbitrator may disclose the existence, content or results of any arbitration without the prior written consent of the other parties.

2. Appeal of Award. Within thirty days of a final award by the single arbitrator, either party may appeal the award for reconsideration by a three-arbitrator panel. If there is an appeal, the other party may cross-appeal within thirty days after notice of the appeal. The panel will reconsider all aspects of the initial award that are appealed, including related findings of fact.
 3. Effect of Award. Any award by the individual arbitrator that is not subject to appeal, and any panel award on appeal, shall be final and binding, except for any appeal right under the Federal Arbitration Act, and may be entered as a judgment in any court of competent jurisdiction.
 4. No Class Action Claims. NO ARBITRATION SHALL PROCEED ON A CLASS, REPRESENTATIVE, OR COLLECTIVE BASIS. No party may join, consolidate, or otherwise bring claims for or on behalf of two or more individuals or unrelated corporate entities in the same arbitration unless those persons are parties to a single transaction. An award in arbitration shall determine the rights and obligations of the named parties only, and only with respect to the claims in arbitration, and shall not (i) determine the rights, obligations, or interests of anyone other than a named party, or resolve any claim of anyone other than a named party, or (ii) make an award for the benefit of, or against, anyone other than a named party. No administrator or arbitrator shall have the power or authority to waive, modify, or fail to enforce this paragraph, and any attempt to do so, whether by rule, policy, and arbitration decision or otherwise, shall be invalid and unenforceable. Any challenge to the validity of this paragraph shall be determined exclusively by a court and not by the administrator or any arbitrator. If this paragraph shall be deemed unenforceable, then any proceeding in the nature of a class action shall be handled in court, not in arbitration.
7. Approval. The Company hereby represents that its Board of Directors, in the exercise of its fiduciary duty, has approved the Company's execution of this Crowd Note based upon a reasonable belief that the Purchase Price provided hereunder is appropriate for the Company after reasonable inquiry concerning the Company's financing objectives and financial situation.
