We're proud to have an experienced investment professional such as Jeff on the Advisory Board of our startup! Jeff successfully mentored me through the NASDAQ Milestone Maker program, an intense 12-week curriculum that helped me grow personally and professionally. Jeff was a big reason that I was able to identify crucial goals for our startup and to accomplish them during the program to help me graduate from the program. I am impressed about Jeff's deep knowledge and experience in the tech industry and his ability to analytically approach and solve the complex problems we face as a young company. I'm super happy that Jeff has decided to support me beyond the Milestone Maker program and accepted a role as an advisor. Even if we ask 100 questions about our financial model or business plan, Jeff answers the call and takes time for us. His personality, knowledge and leadership have been a proven asset to our social business and earns my highest recommendation.
