For example, Sentry is developing a car seat without fabric that can be wiped clean. Fabric seats have to be disassembled and machine washed, this seat can be wiped to sterilize. Sentry recently signed an arrangement with eHi car company (fastest growing car rental company in China) to offer this new Sentry car seat with their rentals. Sentry expects to add more car rental company channels in 2018 which should add to the revenue projected.

Material Indebtedness

The Company has indicated that it currently has outstanding material indebtedness. The general terms of the Company's current and outstanding indebtedness are reflected of the following table:

Creditor	Amount Outstanding	Interest Rate	Maturity Date	Material Terms
LSQ	$9469	24 %	June 2019	Sentry has established a $1 million receivables line to finance receivable to grade A retail accounts. No debt is currently financed by the line. The company can at any time send invoices from orders shipped to retailers (Walmart, Amazon, etc..) to the finance company and immediately receive 85% for the value of the invoice for roughly 2% interest (retailer terms are 90 days from time of shipment) and then the finance company owns the invoice receivable and receives the payment from the retailer directly. Once the payment is received the remaining 13% (15% deposit minus 2% finance fee) is paid back to Sentry. If a retailer defaulted on payment the debt would be placed back against sentry

Andy and Michele Fuentes $205,000 20 % June 2020

The Sentry members have convertible notes that they intend to convert to ownership at a $2M valuation. The members have the option to request payment or convert depending on the status of the company. If converted, it will convert into 18 units with accrued interest (currently 167 units outstanding)

Jim Holley $80,000 18 % June 2019

The company uses these credit cards to operate and the outstanding amount varies.

CROWDFUNDING RISK FACTORS

An investment in the Company's securities involves substantial risk. Prospective investors should carefully consider the risk factors referred to in this Material. An investor should not invest any funds in the Offering unless he or she can afford to lose his or her entire investment. In making an investment decision, investors must rely on their own examination of the Company and the terms of the Offering, including the merits and risks involved. The Shares have not been recommended or reviewed by any federal or state securities commission or regulatory authority. There is no ready market for the sale of the Shares and it may be difficult or impossible for an investor to sell or otherwise dispose of the Shares.

Risks from Relying on Issuer Supplied Information

There is the risk that some of the information supplied by the Company may be inaccurate. The management of the Company has provided all of the information stated in this Material without any third party verifying or investigating such information. The Company makes no express or implied representation or warranty as to the completeness of this information or, in the case of projections, estimates, future plans, or forward looking assumptions or statements, as to their attainability or the accuracy and completeness of the assumptions from which they are derived. It is expected that each prospective investor will pursue their own independent investigation. Forward-looking statements are subject to certain risks, trends and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from those projected.

Risks as a Minority Holder

Purchasers of a minority ownership have risks relating to limited control, limited information and limited rights. Minority owners have no control over the marketability and value of their purchased securities and they may be required to hold onto their minority ownership position for an indefinite period. Additionally, minority owners must address the following risks:

Minority owners have no right to participate in any management decisions of the Company or the day-to-day operations. There is the risk that the majority owners make decisions or take actions that a minority owner thinks is bad for the Company. A minority owner has limited ability to influence the governance and operations of a Company.

Minority owners have limited rights to information beyond those filings that are required by law to be made available. There is the risk that minority owners may be denied immediate information about the Company's performance or corporate affairs.

Minority owners have limited rights, if any, to demand current distributions from an operating business. Majority owners likely have the right and power to avoid making any distributions of profits at their discretion. There is also the risk that the management of the Company pursues a spending plan that causes the Company not to generate any profits to be distributed.

Minority owners have limited rights, if any, to have their interest bought out. There is the risk that a minority owner will want to sell their interest and they will have no right to force the Company to buy them out. There will also be liquidity risk if there is no secondary market for the Company's securities.

Minority owners have limited input into fundamental corporate changes such as sale of the Company. There is a risk that a sale could be structured in a way to avoid certain payouts to minority owners, such as a sale of assets over time with the proceeds reinvested in another business.

Minority owners may have interests that are different than shareholder-officers or shareholders that are part of the management team of the Company. There is the risk that minority owners perceive a conflict of interest if, for example, the managers that are shareholders receive a significant raise. Additionally, there is the risk that a minority owner will want to remove a manager or board member but have no independent power to do so.

Risks Regarding Corporate Actions

The Company may take certain corporate actions that could impact investors that purchase the Shares.

Regarding the additional issuances of securities, there is the risk that an investor has their ownership percentage diluted if, for example, the Company decides to raise additional amounts in the future. There is also the risk that an investor is excluded from the opportunity to participate in future fund-raising so that they are unable to maintain their ownership percentage.

Regarding the authorization of new securities with different rights, there is the risk that a future investor is able to obtain rights that are superior to the rights afforded to the purchasers of the security available in this offering.

To the extent that there is ever an offer to repurchase the Shares by the Company, there is the risk that investors may feel pressured to sell their Shares to the Company without fully participating in or capturing the potential increase in value of such Shares.

Regarding a sale of the Company or of assets of the Company, there is the risk that any such transaction fails to maximize the value of the Company's securities. The investor will be required to rely on the business judgement of the management team and the Board of Directors of the Company so there can be no guarantee that the investor will receive the full market value of their Shares

Regarding transactions with related parties, there is the risk that the Company is placed in a position that creates the possibility of a conflict of interest. The Company may choose to participate in transactions with affiliates and related persons, with limited disclosure required to investors.

Risks from an Investment in Securities

This Offering is being made on a conditional basis with no minimum number of Shares guaranteed to be sold. The Company has not engaged the services of an underwriter with respect to the Offering, and there is no guarantee that the minimum required amount of proceeds will be realized by the Company.

The Shares are not guaranteed or insured by any government agency or by any private party. The amount of earnings is not guaranteed and can vary with market conditions. The return of all or any portion of capital invested in the Shares is not guaranteed, and the Shares could become worthless.

Investors should be aware of the potentially long-term nature of their investment. Each purchaser of Shares will be required to represent that it is purchasing such securities for its own account for investment purposes and not with an intention to resell or distribute.

Purchasers may be required to bear the economic risks of the investment for an indefinite period of time. There is currently no public market for the Company's securities. Ultimately, each investor's risk with respect to this Offering includes the potential for a complete loss of their investment.

Risks from Uncertain Capital Needs

The Company believes that the net proceeds of the Offering will be sufficient to fund the implementation of the Company's business plan, operations and growth for the foreseeable future. Nevertheless, in the event that additional capital is required, no assurance can be given that additional financing will be available at all or on terms favorable to the Company. If adequate funds were not available to satisfy either short or long-term capital requirements, the Company may be unable to continue in business, with a resulting loss of all or part of investments made by the Company's investors. Moreover, if additional equity securities are issued in connection with future financings, the ownership percentages of then shareholders could be diluted. Dilution of ownership percentages may also occur as a result of equity securities issued pursuant to possible sales or grants to existing shareholders, officers, managers, consultants, advisors, and/or employees.

Risks from Relying on an Exemption from Registration

The Shares are being offered for sale in reliance upon certain exemptions from the registration requirements of the Securities Act and applicable state securities laws. If the sale of the Shares were to fail to qualify for these exemptions, purchasers may seek rescission of their purchases of the Shares. If a number of purchasers were to obtain rescission, the Company would face significant financial demands, which could adversely affect the Company as a whole, as well as any non-rescinding purchasers.

ISSUER-SPECIFIC RISK FACTORS

MARKET AND CUSTOMER RISK FACTORS

Failure to obtain new clients or renew client contracts on favorable terms could adversely affect results of operations.

We may face pricing pressure in obtaining customers. This reduction in revenue could result in an adverse effect on our business and results of operations. Further, failure to sell to new customers and convert inventory into sales could adversely affect operations.

Customer in a car accident

If a customer is involved in a car accident with a child riding in a Sentry car seat and the child is harmed, that could create negative publicity that would adversely affect sales and the ability to generate revenue.

Retail Default

If a Retail Customer ceases operations and amounts are owed to Sentry Baby Products, it is likely Sentry would lose those receivables and the loss of the revenue could adversely affect the ability to operate.

FINANCIAL RISK FACTORS

The company requires additional cash to continue to operate and without additional cash it could become insolvent.

OPERATIONAL RISK FACTORS

The factory in Asia could be damaged in a fire or if the production tooling was damaged that might interrupt the ability for the company to sell product and operate

COMPETITIVE RISK FACTORS

Established Brands

Safety products depend on the trust of the brand and those brands that have been in business for a long time have an advantage on maximizing customer trust and purchase intent. Inability to overcome brand recognition could affect the ability to compete with larger brands and generate revenue needed to operate.

PERSONNEL AND THIRD PARTY RISK FACTORS

LEGAL AND REGULATORY RISK FACTORS

Gouvernement safety certification

Sentry's products have been through testing and certification to government standards. If those standards change then Sentry's products may not be able to pass and continue as certified which could affect the ability to generate revenue to operate

Recall

If Sentry's products were designated as out of compliance with USA government standards, then the government agencies could force a recall of those products out of compliance which would generate large costs and adversely affect the brand of the company which could affect the ability to generate revenue and operate.
