8. Discuss the material factors that make an investment in the issuer speculative or risky:

The Company's limited operating history makes the Company's business difficult to evaluate.

The Company was formed on June 13, 2016. Therefore, its prospects must be considered in light of the risks and uncertainties encountered by companies in an early stage of development in a competitive market. The Company has a history of operating losses, expects to continue to incur net losses in the immediate future, and may not achieve or maintain profitability for some time or at all. To generate significant revenue and achieve profitability, the Company must, among other things: continue to obtain market acceptance of its product; develop new products; attract, integrate, motivate and retain qualified personnel; successfully implement its marketing strategy; continue to build its financial and operational infrastructure and otherwise manage growth; develop and maintain brand awareness; and establish and maintain relationships with strategic partners. There can be no assurance that the Company will successfully implement these strategies, which could have a material adverse effect on its business. The Company cannot guarantee that it will achieve its stated business objectives or achieve positive or competitive results from its operations.

General economic conditions and volatility due to the Coronavirus in the worldwide economy has adversely affected consumer spending in certain sectors, which may negatively affect the Company. Until most recently most retail stores have been operating at minimum capacities and customers have been reluctant to shop. During the shutdown periods customers have nearly exclusively shopped online. It is expected to initially see some deterioration of online business due to a return to in-store shopping, but the significance of this potential trend is unknown but could be a considerable risk to online only companies like Ghost Flower.

The Company's performance will also depend significantly on economic conditions, particularly those in the United States, and their impact on levels of consumer spending. Consumer spending on non-essential items is affected by a number of factors, including consumer confidence in the strength of economies, fears of recession, the tightening of credit markets, higher levels of unemployment, higher tax rates, the cost of consumer credit and other factors. The current volatility in the United States economy in particular has resulted in an overall slowing in growth in the retail sector because of decreased consumer spending, which may remain depressed for the foreseeable future. These unfavorable economic conditions may delay or reduce consumer purchases of the Company's products.

The Company relies on third-party suppliers to provide fabrics and raw materials for and to produce the Company's products, and the Company has limited control over them and may not be able to obtain quality products on a timely basis or in sufficient quantity.

The Company does not manufacture its products or the raw materials for them and relies instead on third-party suppliers. If the Company experiences increased demand, or needs to replace an existing manufacturer, there can be no assurance that additional supplies of fabrics or raw materials or additional manufacturing capacity will be available when required on terms that are acceptable to us, or at all, or that any supplier or manufacturer would allocate sufficient capacity to us in order to meet the Company's requirements or fill the Company's orders in a timely manner. Even if the Company is able to expand existing or find new manufacturing or fabric/raw material sources, the Company may encounter delays in production. Delays related to supplier changes could also arise due to an increase in shipping times if new suppliers are located farther away from the Company's markets. Any delays, interruption or increased costs in the supply of fabric, raw materials or the manufacture of the Company's products could have an adverse effect on the Company's business. In addition, there can be no assurance that the Company's suppliers and manufacturers will continue to provide fabrics and raw materials or manufacture products that comply with the Company's specifications and are consistent with the Company's standards. Additionally, if defects in the manufacture of the Company's products are not discovered until after such products are purchased by the Company's customers, the Company's customers could lose confidence in the Company's products.

The Company operates in a highly competitive market and the size and resources of some of the Company's competitors may allow them to compete more effectively than the Company can.

The market for athletic apparel is highly competitive. Competition may result in pricing pressures, or the lack of ability to gain market share. The Company competes directly against wholesalers and direct retailers of athletic apparel, including large, diversified apparel companies with substantial market share and established companies expanding their production and marketing of athletic apparel, as well as against retailers specifically focused on women's athletic apparel. Many of the Company's competitors have significant competitive advantages, including longer operating histories, larger and broader customer bases, more established relationships with a broader set of suppliers, greater brand recognition and greater financial, research and development, marketing, distribution and other resources than the Company does.

The Company's competitors may be able to achieve and maintain brand awareness and market share more quickly and effectively than the Company can. The Company's competitors may also create and maintain brand awareness using traditional forms of advertising more quickly in new markets than the Company can. The Company's competitors may also be able to increase sales in their new and existing markets faster than the Company does by emphasizing different distribution channels than the Company.

Business disruptions such as natural disasters could seriously harm our future revenues and financial condition and increase our costs and expenses.

Our suppliers and design teams are concentrated in the greater Los Angeles, California area, a region known for seismic activity. A significant natural disaster, such as an earthquake, flood or fire could have a material and adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations and increase our costs and expenses.

If the Company's independent manufacturers fail to use ethical business practices and comply with applicable laws and regulations, the Company's brand image could be harmed due to negative publicity.

Violation of labor or other laws by the Company's independent manufacturers or the divergence of an independent manufacturer's labor or other practices from those generally accepted as ethical in the United States or other markets in which the Company does business could also attract negative publicity for the Company and its brand. Other apparel manufacturers have encountered significant problems in this regard, and these problems have resulted in organized boycotts of their products and significant adverse publicity. If the Company, or other manufacturers in the Company's industry, encounter similar problems in the future, it could harm the Company's brand image and results of operations.

The Company may not be successful in implementing its business plan, which may have an adverse impact on its business and financial results.

The Company's financial success depends upon its ability to grow and implement its business plan. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to implement such business plan or that the business plan will deliver on its intended results.

The Company may not be able to obtain sufficient funds to expand the Company's business.

The Company intends to continue to expand the Company's business. There can be no assurance that any revenue the Company generates or capital it raises will be sufficient to meet the Company's expected expenses in the foreseeable future. If additional financing is not available when required or is not available on favorable terms, the Company may be unable to successfully promote the Company's brand name, develop or enhance the Company's products, take advantage of business opportunities or respond to competitive pressures, any of which could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business.

The Company's future success is substantially dependent on the continued service of the Company's senior management.

The Company's future success is substantially dependent on the continued service of the Company's senior management. The loss of the services of the Company's senior management could make it more difficult to successfully operate the Company's business and achieve the Company's business goals.

The Company's officers and directors beneficially own a majority of the Company's equity securities.

Susan M. Peebler, the President, chief executive officer, and a director of the Company, and Robert P. Peebler, the Executive Chairman and a director of the Company, are collectively the beneficial owners of a large part of the Company's outstanding equity securities. As such, they are able to control most matters requiring approval by shareholders including the election of directors and the approval of significant corporate transactions. In addition Susan M. Peebler and Robert M. Peebler are the only directors of the Company, enabling them to also control matters requiring approval by the board.

Actual results may vary materially from the projections provided to prospective purchasers.

The financial projections which were provided to prospective purchasers were prepared to illustrate the expected results based upon the assumptions made by the Company without the assistance of accounting and financial professionals. The assumptions upon which the projections are based are subject to variations, many of which are beyond the control of the Company. There can be no assurance that actual events will correspond with these assumptions. Actual results may be materially adversely different from the projections. While the projections represent the Company's estimates based upon circumstances expected to exist and the Company's own expected course of action, neither the Company nor any other person or entity makes any representations or warranty as to the projections or the future profitability of the Company. The projections have been prepared by the Company and have not been independently reviewed or verified.

Covid 19 has introduced risks to both the potential purchase patterns of our customers and the companies supply chain including materials and manufacturing. There is also the possibility of key contractors or employees could become sick with Covid 19 and impact their ability to work with or for the company. Even though Covid in the USA is on the decline, the risk to our suppliers and supply chain is still present.

Apple has announced a major change in their operating system. The change affects Apple's ID for Advertisers (IDFA), an identifier that allows the digital ad industry to track iOS users' activity across apps to better target ads and measure the effectiveness of marketing campaigns. Until now, users have had the option to opt out of being tracked by flipping a switch in the settings menu. But with the release of Apple's latest operating system, which rolled out on April 26, all apps will have to ask users to opt in before they can begin tracking. Ghost Flower advertises heavily on Facebook and Instagram and retargeting is an important part of our digital strategy. Market research suggests that over 95% of Apple users have opted out and that has impacted Ghost Flower's business. The company is moving away from being so dependent on Facebook/Instagram advertising and retargeting and have developed an omni-channel strategy, but there is no guarantee that the company will be successful in its implementation including raising the required capital to implement the omni-channel plans.

Robert Peebler is a part-time officer. As such, it is likely that the company will not make the same progress as it would if that were not the case.

Bonnie Crotzer is a part-time officer. As such, it is likely that the company will not make the same progress as it would if that were not the case.

Our future success depends on the efforts of a small management team. The loss of services of the members of the management team may have an adverse effect on the company. There can be no assurance that we will be successful in attracting and retaining other personnel we require to successfully grow our business.

INSTRUCTION TO QUESTION 8: Avoid generalized statements and include only those factors that are unique to the issuer. Discussion should be tailored to the issuer's business and the offering and should not repeat the factors addressed in the legends set forth above. No specific number of risk factors is required to be identified.

If an issuer has identified a range of possible uses, the issuer should identify and describe each probable use and the factors the issuer may consider in allocating proceeds among the potential uses. #### DELIVERY & CANCELLATIONS

11. How will the issuer complete the transaction and deliver securities to the investors?

Book Entry and Use of XX Investments LLC as Transfer Agent and Custodian. Investments will be in book entry form. This means that the investor will not receive a certificate representing his or her investment. Each investment will be recorded in the books and records of our transfer agent, XX Investments LLC. XX Investments LLC will act as custodian and hold legal title to the investments for investors that enter into a Custodial and Voting Agreement with XX Investments LLC and will keep track of those investors' beneficial interests in the investments. In addition, investors' interests in the investments will be recorded in each investor's "My Investments" screen. The Investor Agreement and, if applicable, the Custodial and Voting Agreement will also be available on the "My Investments" screen.

12. How can an investor cancel an investment commitment?

NOTE: Investors may cancel an investment commitment until 48 hours prior to the deadline identified in these offering materials.

The intermediary will notify investors when the target offering amount has been met. If the issuer reaches the target offering amount prior to the deadline identified in the offering materials, it may close the offering early if it provides notice about the new offering deadline at least five business days prior to such new offering deadline (absent a material change that would require an extension of the offering and reconfirmation of the investment commitment).

If an investor does not cancel an investment commitment before the 48-hour period prior to the offering deadline, the funds will be released to the issuer upon closing of the offering and the investor will receive securities in exchange for his or her investment.

If an investor does not reconfirm his or her investment commitment after a material change is made to the offering, the investor's investment commitment will be cancelled and the committed funds will be returned.

An Investor's right to cancel. An Investor may cancel his or her investment commitment at any time until 48 hours prior to the offering deadline.

If there is a material change to the terms of the offering or the information provided to the investor about the offering and/or the Company, the investor will be provided notice of the change and must re-confirm his or her investment commitment within five business days of receipt of the notice. If the investor does not reconfirm, he or she will receive notifications disclosing that the commitment was cancelled, the reason for the cancellation, and the refund amount that the investor is required to receive. If a material change occurs within five business days of the maximum number of days the offering is to remain open, the offering will be extended to allow for a period of five business days for the investor to reconfirm.

If the investor cancels his or her investment commitment during the period when cancellation is permissible, or does not reconfirm a commitment in the case of a material change to the investment, or the offering does not close, all of the investor's funds will be returned within five business days.

Within five business days of cancellation of an offering by the Company, the Company will give each investor notification of the cancellation, disclose the reason for the cancellation, identify the refund amount the investor will receive, and refund the investor's funds.

The Company's right to cancel. The Investment Agreement you will execute with us provides the Company the right to cancel for any reason before the offering deadline.

If the sum of the investment commitments from all investors does not equal or exceed the target offering amount at the time of the offering deadline, no securities will be sold in the offering, investment commitments will be cancelled and committed funds will be returned.

DESCRIPTION OF ISSUER'S SECURITIES

17. What other securities or classes of securities of the issuer are outstanding? Describe the material terms of any other outstanding securities or classes of securities of the issuer.

Class of Security	Securities (or Amount) Authorized	Securities (or Amount) Outstanding	Voting Rights
Preferred Stock	1,896,220	1,896,220	Yes
Common Stock	3,599,270	603,050	Yes

Securities Reserved for Issuance upon Exercise or Conversion

Warrants:

Options: 200,000

Describe any other rights:

Preferred Stock has liquidation preferences over Common Stock.

18. How may the rights of the securities being offered be materially limited, diluted or qualified by the rights of any other class of security identified above?

The holders of a majority-in-interest of voting rights in the Company could limit the Investor's rights in a material way. For example, those interest holders could vote to change the terms of the agreements governing the Company's operations or cause the Company to engage in additional offerings (including potentially a public offering).

These changes could result in further limitations on the voting rights the Investor will have as an owner of equity in the Company, for example by diluting those rights or limiting them to certain types of events or consents.

To the extent applicable, in cases where the rights of holders of convertible debt, SAFES, or other outstanding options or warrants are exercised, or if new awards are granted under our equity compensation plans, an Investor's interests in the Company may be diluted. This means that the pro-rata portion of the Company represented by the Investor's securities will decrease, which could also diminish the Investor's voting and/or economic rights. In addition, as discussed above, if a majority-in-interest of holders of securities with voting rights cause the Company to issue additional equity, an Investor's interest will typically also be diluted.

Based on the risk that an Investor's rights could be limited, diluted or otherwise qualified, the Investor could lose all or part of his or her investment in the securities in this offering, and may never see positive returns.

Additional risks related to the rights of other security holders are discussed below, in Question 20.

19. Are there any differences not reflected above between the securities being offered and each other class of security of the issuer?

No.

20. How could the exercise of rights held by the principal shareholders identified in Question 6 above affect the purchasers of the securities being offered?

As holders of a majority-in-interest of voting rights in the Company, the shareholders may make decisions with which the Investor disagrees, or that negatively affect the value of the Investor's securities in the Company, and the Investor will have no recourse to change these decisions. The Investor's interests may conflict with those of other investors, and there is no guarantee that the Company will develop in a way that is optimal for or advantageous to the Investor.

For example, the shareholders may change the terms of the Articles of Incorporation for the company, change the terms of securities issued by the Company, change the management of the Company, and even force out minority holders of securities. The shareholders may make changes that affect the tax treatment of the Company in ways that are unfavorable to you but favorable to them. They may also vote to engage in new offerings and/or to register certain of the Company's securities in a way that negatively affects the value of the securities the Investor owns. Other holders of securities of the Company may also have access to more information than the investor, leaving the investor at a disadvantage with respect to any decisions regarding the securities he or she owns. The shareholders have the right to redeem their securities at any time. Shareholders could decide to force the Company to redeem their securities at a time that is not favorable to the Investor and is damaging to the Company. Investors' exit may affect the value of the Company and/or its viability. In cases where the rights of holders of convertible debt, SAFES, or other outstanding options or warrants are exercised, or if new awards are granted under our equity compensation plans, an Investor's interests in the Company may be diluted. This means that the pro-rata portion of the Company represented by the Investor's securities will decrease, which could also diminish the Investor's voting and/or economic rights. In addition, as discussed above, if a majority-in-interest of holders of securities with voting rights cause the Company to issue additional stock, an Investor's interest will typically also be diluted.

Based on the risks described above, the Investor could lose all or part of his or her investment in the securities in this offering, and may never see positive returns.

21. How are the securities being offered being valued? Include examples of methods for how such securities may be valued by the issuer in the future, including during subsequent corporate actions.

The offering price for the securities offered pursuant to this Form C has been determined arbitrarily by the Company, and does not necessarily bear any relationship to the Company's book value, assets, earnings or other generally accepted valuation criteria. In determining the offering price, the Company did not employ investment banking firms or other outside organizations to make an independent appraisal or evaluation. Accordingly, the offering price should not be considered to be indicative of the actual value of the securities offered hereby.

In the future, we will perform valuations of our common stock that take into account factors such as the following:

1. unrelated third party valuations of our common stock;
2. the price at which we sell other securities, such as convertible debt or preferred Stock, in light of the rights, preferences and privileges of our those securities relative to those of our common stock;
3. our results of operations, financial position and capital resources;
4. current business conditions and projections;
5. the lack of marketability of our common stock;
6. the hiring of key personnel and the experience of our management;
7. the introduction of new products;
8. the risk inherent in the development and expansion of our products;
9. our stage of development and material risks related to our business;
10. the likelihood of achieving a liquidity event, such as an initial public offering or a sale of our company given the prevailing market conditions and the nature and history of our business;
11. industry trends and competitive environment;
12. trends in consumer spending, including consumer confidence;
13. overall economic indicators, including gross domestic product, employment, inflation and interest rates; and
14. the general economic outlook.

We will analyze factors such as those described above using a combination of financial and market-based methodologies to determine our business enterprise value. For example, we may use methodologies that assume that businesses operating in the same industry will share similar characteristics and that the Company's value will correlate to those characteristics, and/or methodologies that compare transactions in similar securities issued by us that were conducted in the market.

22. What are the risks to purchasers of the securities relating to minority ownership in the issuer?

An Investor in the Company will likely hold a minority position in the Company, and thus be limited as to its ability to control or influence the governance and operations of the Company.

The marketability and value of the Investor's interest in the Company will depend upon many factors outside the control of the Investor. The Company will be managed by its officers and be governed in accordance with the strategic direction and decision-making of its Board Of Directors, and the Investor will have no independent right to name or remove an officer or member of the Board Of Directors of the Company.

Following the Investor's investment in the Company, the Company may sell interests to additional investors, which will dilute the percentage interest of the Investor in the Company. The Investor may have the opportunity to increase its investment in the Company in such a transaction, but such opportunity cannot be assured.

The amount of additional financing needed by the Company, if any, will depend upon the maturity and objectives of the Company. The declining of an opportunity or the inability of the Investor to make a follow-on investment, or the lack of an opportunity to make such a follow-on investment, may result in substantial dilution of the Investor's interest in the Company.

23. What are the risks to purchasers associated with corporate actions, including additional issuances of securities, issuer repurchases of securities, a sale of the issuer or of assets of the issuer or transactions with related parties?

Additional issuances of securities. Following the Investor's investment in the Company, the Company may sell interests to additional investors, which will dilute the percentage interest of the Investor in the Company. The Investor may have the opportunity to increase its investment in the Company in such a transaction, but such opportunity cannot be assured. The amount of additional financing needed by the Company, if any, will depend upon the maturity and objectives of the Company. The declining of an opportunity or the inability of the Investor to make a follow-on investment, or the lack of an opportunity to make such a follow-on investment, may result in substantial dilution of the Investor's interest in the Company.

Issuer repurchases of securities. The Company may have authority to repurchase its securities from shareholders, which may serve to decrease any liquidity in the market for such securities, decrease the percentage interests held by other similarly situated investors to the Investor, and create pressure on the Investor to sell its securities to the Company concurrently.

A sale of the issuer or of assets of the issuer. As a minority owner of the Company, the investor will have limited or no ability to influence a potential sale of the Company or a substantial portion of its assets. Thus, the investor will rely upon Company of a substantial portion of its assets. Thus, the Investor will rely upon the executive management of the Company and the Board of Directors of the Company to manage the Company so as to maximize value for shareholders. Accordingly, the success of the Investor's investment in the Company will depend in large part upon the skill and expertise of the executive management of the Company and the Board of Directors of the Company. If the Board Of Directors of the Company authorizes a sale of all or a part of the Company, or a disposition of a substantial portion of the Company's assets, there can be no guarantee that the value received by the Investor, together with the fair market estimate of the value remaining in the Company, will be equal to or exceed the value of the Investor's initial investment in the Company.

Transactions with related parties. The Investor should be aware that there will be occasions when the Company may encounter potential conflicts of interest in its operations. On any issue involving conflicts of interest, the executive management and Board of Directors of the Company will be guided by their good faith judgement as to the Company's best interests. The Company may engage in transactions with affiliates, subsidiaries or other related parties, which may be on terms which are not arm's-length, but will be in all cases consistent with the duties of the management of the Company to its shareholders. By acquiring an interest in the Company, the Investor will be deemed to have acknowledged the existence of any such actual or potential conflicts of interest and to have waived any claim with respect to any liability arising from the existence of any such conflict of interest.

FINANCIAL CONDITION OF THE ISSUER

27. Does the issuer have an operating history?

- Yes
 No

28. Describe the financial condition of the issuer, including, to the extent material, liquidity, capital resources and historical results of operations.

Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

You should read the following discussion and analysis of our financial condition and results of operations together with our financial statements and the related notes and other financial information included elsewhere in this offering. Some of the information contained in this discussion and analysis, including information regarding the strategy and plans for our business, includes forward-looking statements that involve risks and uncertainties. You should review the "Risk Factors" section for a discussion of important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from the results described in or implied by the forward-looking statements contained in the following discussion and analysis.

Overview

We design, manufacture, and sell luxurious women's activewear that flatters all body shapes while offering a deeper purpose of self-healing and revitalization. We are the world's only activewear with the body's energy network and acupressure points woven into the designs. This serves as a self-care guide for women's health and wellness.

Our plan is to be a multi-million dollar, profitable company that sells fashionable activewear and related products and services that serve our mission. We are moving from mainly an online business to an omni-channel strategy that will include a holiday pop-up store this year followed by the construction of our first experiential Ghost Flower retail store in 2022/23. These projections cannot be guaranteed.

Milestones

Ghost Flower Inc was incorporated in the State of Texas in June 2010.

Since then, we have:

- 2021 off to a roaring start with 250%+ YR/YR revenue growth through May.
- Founders are personally investing with over $1.7 million to-date and are again purchasing shares.
- Many popular items continuously selling out requiring a special run in March to replenish.
- New accelerated omni channel growth strategy that includes pop-up and experiential retail stores.
- High customer satisfaction: 95% of reviews are 5-star and returning customers over 32%
- Featured in Vanity Fair, Vogue, Shape, Goop, Thrive Global, and Cut
- Integrating online training classes with Ghost Flower activewear led by co-founders Bonnie and Kaita

Historical Results of Operations

- Revenues & Gross Margin. For the period ended December 31, 2020, the Company had revenues of $217,903 compared to the year ended December 31, 2019, when the Company had revenues of $70,314.
- Assets. As of December 31, 2020, the Company had total assets of $255,495, including $49,931 in cash. As of December 31, 2019, the Company had $353,172 in total assets, including $49,153 in cash.
- Net Loss. The Company has had net losses of $401,480 and net losses of $382,105 for the fiscal years ended December 31, 2020 and December 31, 2019, respectively.
- Liabilities. The Company's liabilities totaled $64,114 for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2020 and $43,768 for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2019.

Related Party Transaction

Refer to Question 26 of this Form C for disclosure of all related party transactions.

Liquidity & Capital Resources

To-date, the company has been financed with $151,800 in debt, $203,500 in equity, and $568,000 in convertibles.

After the conclusion of this Offering, should we hit our minimum funding target, our projected runway is 3 months before we need to raise further capital.

We plan to use the proceeds as set forth in this Form C under "Use of Funds". We don't have any other sources of capital in the immediate future.

We will likely require additional financing in excess of the proceeds from the Offering in order to perform operations over the lifetime of the Company. We plan to raise capital in 2 months. Except as otherwise described in this Form C, we do not have additional sources of capital other than the proceeds from the offering. Because of the complexities and uncertainties in establishing a new business strategy, it is not possible to adequately project whether the proceeds of this offering will be sufficient to enable us to implement our strategy. This complexity and uncertainty will be increased if less than the maximum amount of securities offered in this offering is sold. The Company intends to raise additional capital in the future from investors. Although capital may be available for early-stage companies, there is no guarantee that the Company will receive any investments from investors.

Runway & Short/Mid Term Expenses

Ghost Flower Inc cash in hand is $20,000, as of July 2021. Over the last three months, revenues have averaged $23,254/month, cost of goods sold has averaged $14,746/month, and operational expenses have averaged $31,305/month, for an average burn rate of $22,797 per month. Our intent is to be profitable in 30 months.

Since the date of our financials, we have short term borrowing from Shopify and Peebler's of $125,000. There is also short term debt of $26,500 due on Sept 30th that is also owed to The Peebler's. Bob & Susie Peebler, with Board Approval are planning to convert the short term debt plus $50,000 of the recent $100,000 loaned in February into preferred shares at the same share price as the other early bird investors. Although revenue growth through June compared to the year before was over 250%, the rate of growth declined YOY for the month of May. The company believes that the slowdown has been caused by the combination of the economy opening up and people getting out of their homes including shopping in stores plus the well documented impact of the IOS change by Apple which has had a severe impact on digital marketing ad efficiency on Facebook and Instagram. The company is in the process of pivoting to an omni-channel approach in the short term has significantly cut Facebook ad spend and increased spend on Google Ads. The company believes that quickly moving to multiple channels verses revenues for new customers being primarily driven by Facebook ads is an imperative shift for the company. The Company as expects that during the transition to omni-channel that revenues will decline for the short term (July-Aug).

Assuming a successful omni-channel approach including pop-up(s) during the holiday season, some strategic wholesale agreements for the fall/winter release, restocking of out of stock popular items late summer (assumes Wefunder Raise is successful), then we would expect the revenues for the entire year to end approximately $400K. Expenses for online will be down due to cut back in Facebook ads, but we will be investing in the pop-up and other omni-channel activities. Expenses will likely continue to run around $25K/month on average (not including manufacturing related expenses).

Beyond income being generated by sales and the Wefunder raise, the only other potential source of capital is Shopify Capital or the possibility of a small private equity round outside of Wefunder in the fall. If need be, we can cover short-term burn with founder-contributed capital.

INSTRUCTIONS TO QUESTION 28: The discussion must cover each year for which financial statements are provided. For issuers with no prior operating history, the discussion should focus on financial milestones and operational, liquidity and other challenges. For issuers with an operating history, the discussion should focus on whether historical results and cash flows are representative of what investors should expect in the future. Take into account the proceeds of the offering and any other known or pending sources of capital. Discuss how the proceeds from the offering will affect liquidity, whether receiving these funds and any other additional funds is necessary to the viability of the business, and how quickly the issuer anticipates using its available cash. Describe the other available sources of capital to the business, such as lines of credit or required contributions by shareholders. References to the issuer in this Question 28 and these instructions refer to the issuer and its predecessors, if any.

INSTRUCTIONS TO QUESTION 30: Final order means a written directive or declaratory statement issued by a federal or state agency, described in Rule 503(a)(2) of Regulation Crowdfunding, under applicable statutory authority that provides for notice and an opportunity for hearing, which constitutes a final disposition or action by that federal or state agency.

No matters are required to be disclosed with respect to events relating to any affiliated issuer that occurred before the affiliation arose if the affiliated entity is not (i) in control of the issuer or (ii) under common control with the issuer by a third party that was in control of the affiliated entity at the time of such events.

OTHER MATERIAL INFORMATION

31. In addition to the information expressly required to be included in this Form, include:

- (1) any other material information presented to investors; and
- (2) such further material information, if any, as may be necessary to make the required statements, in the light of the circumstances under which they are made, not misleading.

The Company is using the services of XX as part of its offering. XX is comprised of XX Investments, LLC, XX Team LLC, and the Lead Investors who provide services on behalf of XX Team LLC. The services of XX are available to companies that offer securities through Wefunder Portal LLC and to investors who invest in such companies through Wefunder Portal, but XX is not affiliated with Wefunder Portal or its affiliates.

XX Investments is the Company's transfer agent and also acts as custodian, paying agent, and proxy agent on behalf of all investors that enter into the Custodial and Voting Agreement with XX Investments through the Wefunder Portal website ("Investors"). XX Investments holds legal title to the securities the Company issues through Wefunder Portal (which are uncertificated) on behalf of Investors. Investors, in turn, hold the beneficial interests in the Company's securities. XX Investments keeps track of each Investor's beneficial ownership interest and makes any distributions to the Investors (or other parties, as directed by the Investors).

In addition to the above services, at the direction of XX Team, XX Investments votes the securities and take any other actions in connection with such voting on behalf of the Investors. XX Investments acts at the direction of XX Team, because XX Team holds a power of attorney from each Investor that has entered into the Investor Agreement to make voting decisions on behalf of that Investor. XX Investments will not charge Investors for its services. XX Investments does charge the Company $1,000/year for services; however, those fees may be paid by Wefunder Inc. on behalf of the Company.

As noted, XX Team holds a power of attorney from each Investor that has entered into the Investor Agreement to make voting decisions on behalf of that Investor. Pursuant to the power of attorney, XX Team will make voting decisions and then direct XX Investments to vote and take any other actions in connection with the voting on Investors' behalf. XX Team will act, with respect to the Company, through our Lead Investor, who is a representative of XX Team. As compensation for its voting services, each Investor authorizes XX Investments to distribute to XX Team 10% of any distributions the Investor would otherwise receive from the Company. XX Team will share its compensation with our Lead Investor. XX Team, through our Lead Investor, may also provide consulting services to the Company and may be compensated for these services by the Company; although, fees owed by the Company may be paid by Wefunder Inc. XX Team will share its consulting compensation with our Lead Investor.

The Lead Investor is an experienced investor that we choose to act in the role of Lead Investor, both on behalf of the Company and on behalf of Investors. As noted, the Lead Investor will be a representative of XX Team and will share in compensation that XX Team receives from the Company (or Wefunder Inc. on the Company behalf) or from Investors. The Lead Investor will be chosen by the Company and approved by Wefunder Inc., and the identity of the Lead Investor must be disclosed to Investors before Investors make a final investment decision to purchase the Company's securities. Investors will receive disclosure regarding all fees that may be received by the Lead Investor. In addition to the fees described above, the Lead Investor may receive compensation if, in the future, Wefunder Advisors LLC forms a special purpose vehicle ("SPV") for the purpose of investing in a non-Regulation Crowdfunding offering of the Company. In such a circumstance, the Lead Investor may act as a portfolio manager for that SPV (and as a supervised person of Wefunder Advisors) and may be compensated through that role. Although the Lead Investor may act in multiple roles and be compensated from multiple parties, the Lead Investor's goal is to maximize the value of the Company and therefore maximize the value of the Company's securities. As a result, the Lead Investor's interests should always be aligned with those of the Investors.

Investors that wish to purchase the Company's securities through Wefunder Portal must agree to (1) hire XX Investments to serve as custodian, paying agent, and proxy agent with respect to the Company's securities; (2) give a power of attorney to XX Team to make all voting decisions with respect to the Company's securities; and (3) direct XX Investments to share 10% of the Investor's distribution from the Company with XX Team. The Company may waive these requirements for certain investors with whom the Company has a pre-existing relationship.

The XX arrangement described above is intended to benefit the Company by allowing the Company to reflect one investor of its capitalization table (XX Investments) and by simplifying the voting process with respect to the Company's securities by having one entity (XX Team), through one person (the Lead Investor), make all voting decisions and having one entity (XX Investments) carry out XX Team's voting instruments and any take any related actions. The XX arrangement also is intended to benefit Investors by providing the services of an experienced Lead Investor (acting on behalf of XX Team) who is expected to make value-maximizing decisions regarding Investors' securities. XX Team (acting through the Lead Investor) may further benefit both the Company and Investors by providing consulting services to the Company that are intended to maximize both the value of the Company's business and also the value of its securities.
