RISK FACTORS

Risks Related to the Company's Business and Industry

The Company's success depends on the experience and skill of the board of directors, its executive officers and key employees.

In particular, the Company has been built based on and is dependent on the knowledge and experience of Amber McDonald and Alan Erickson, who are President/CEO and Chief Technology Officer of the Company. The Company has or intends to enter into employment agreements with Amber McDonald and Alan Erickson, although there can be no assurance that it will do so or that they will continue to be employed by the Company for a particular period of time. The loss of Amber McDonald and Alan Erickson or any member of the board of directors or executive officer could harm the Company's business, financial condition, cash flow and results of operations.

Although dependent on certain key personnel, the Company does not have any key man life insurance policies on any such people.

The Company is dependent on Amber McDonald and Alan Erickson in order to conduct its operations and execute its business plan, however, the Company has not purchased any insurance policies with respect to those individuals in the event of their death or disability. Therefore, if either Amber McDonald or Alan Erickson die or become disabled, the Company will not receive any compensation to assist with such person's absence. The loss of such person could negatively affect the Company and its operations.

We rely on third-party suppliers for the substantially all of the materials used in the manufacturing of our products.

In 2017, the following supplier provided the following percentage of the listed services, inputs or raw materials.

Supplier or Description: DSM Dyneema LLC

Service: Dyneema Composite Fabric

% of such service: 100%

If this supplier changed its sales strategy to reduce its reliance on distribution channels, or decided to terminate its business relationship with us, sales and earnings could be adversely affected until we are able to establish relationships with suppliers of comparable products. Any delay or interruption in manufacturing operations (or failure to locate a suitable replacement for such suppliers) could materially adversely affect our business, prospects, or results of operations. Most of our agreements with suppliers are terminable by either party on short notice for any reason. Although we believe our relationships with these key suppliers are good, they could change their strategies as a result of a change in control, expansion of their direct sales force, changes in the marketplace or other factors beyond our control, including a key supplier becoming financially distressed.

We rely on various intellectual property rights, including patents, trademarks, and licenses in order to operate our business.

Such intellectual property rights, however, may not be sufficiently broad or otherwise may not provide us a significant competitive advantage. In addition, the steps that we have taken to maintain and protect our intellectual property may not prevent it from being challenged, invalidated, circumvented or designed-around, particularly in countries where intellectual property rights are not highly developed or protected. In some circumstances, enforcement may not be available to us because an infringer has a dominant intellectual property position or for other business reasons, or countries may require compulsory licensing of our intellectual property. Our failure to obtain or maintain intellectual property rights that convey a competitive advantage, adequately protect our intellectual property or detect or prevent circumvention or unauthorized use of such property, could adversely impact our competitive position and results of operations. We also rely on nondisclosure and noncompetition agreements with employees, consultants and other parties to protect, in part, trade secrets and other proprietary rights. There can be no assurance that these agreements will adequately protect our trade secrets and other proprietary rights and will not be breached, that we will have adequate remedies for any breach, that others will not independently develop substantially equivalent proprietary information or that third parties will not otherwise gain access to our trade secrets or other proprietary rights.

As we expand our business, protecting our intellectual property will become increasingly important. The protective steps we have taken may be inadequate to deter our competitors from using our proprietary information. In order to protect or enforce our patent rights, we may be required to initiate litigation against third parties, such as infringement lawsuits. Also, these third parties may assert claims against us with or without provocation. These lawsuits could be expensive, take significant time and could divert management's attention from other business concerns. The law relating to the scope and validity of claims in the technology field in which we operate is still evolving and, consequently, intellectual property positions in our industry are generally uncertain. We cannot assure you that we will prevail in any of these potential suits or that the damages or other remedies awarded, if any, would be commercially valuable.

From time to time, third parties may claim that one or more of our products or services infringe their intellectual property rights.

Any dispute or litigation regarding patents or other intellectual property could be costly and time-consuming due to the complexity of our technology and the uncertainty of intellectual property litigation and could divert our management and key personnel from our business operations. A claim of intellectual property infringement could force us to enter into a costly or restrictive license agreement, which might not be available under acceptable terms or at all, could require us to redesign our products, which would be costly and time-consuming, and/or could subject us to an injunction against development and sale of certain of our products or services. We may have to pay substantial damages, including damages for past infringement if it is ultimately determined that our product candidates infringe a third party's proprietary rights. Even if these claims are without merit, defending a lawsuit takes significant time, may be expensive and may divert management's attention from other business concerns. Any public announcements related to litigation or interference proceedings initiated or threatened against us could cause our business to be harmed. Our intellectual property portfolio may not be useful in asserting a counterclaim, or negotiating a license, in response to a claim of intellectual property infringement. In certain of our businesses we rely on third party intellectual property licenses and we cannot ensure that these licenses will be available to us in the future on favorable terms or at all.

The amount of capital the Company is attempting to raise in this Offering is not enough to sustain the Company's current business plan.

In order to achieve the Company's near and long-term goals, the Company will need to procure funds in addition to the amount raised in the Offering. There is no guarantee the Company will be able to raise such funds on acceptable terms or at all. If we are not able to raise sufficient capital in the future, we will not be able to execute our business plan, our continued operations will be in jeopardy and we may be forced to cease operations and sell or otherwise transfer all or substantially all of our remaining assets, which could cause a Purchaser to lose all or a portion of his or her investment.

The Company intends to use the proceeds from the Offering for unspecified working capital.

This means that the Company has ultimate discretion to use the proceeds as it sees fit and has chosen not to set forth any specific uses for you to evaluate. The net proceeds from this Offering will be used for the purposes, which our management deems to be in our best interests in order to address changed circumstances or opportunities. As a result of the foregoing, our success of will be substantially dependent upon our discretion and judgment with respect to application and allocation of the net proceeds of this Offering. The Company may choose to use the proceeds in a manner that you do not agree with and you will have no recourse. A use of proceeds that does not further the Company's business and goals could harm the Company and its operations and ultimately cause a Purchaser to lose all or a portion of his or her investment.

We have not prepared any audited financial statements.

Therefore, you have no audited financial information regarding the Company's capitalization or assets or liabilities on which to make your investment decision. If you feel the information provided is insufficient, you should not invest in the Company.

We are subject to income taxes as well as non-income-based taxes, such as payroll, sales, use, value-added, net worth, property and goods and services taxes, in the U.S.

Significant judgment is required in determining our provision for income taxes and other tax liabilities. In the ordinary course of our business, there are many transactions and calculations where the ultimate tax determination is uncertain. Although we believe that our tax estimates are reasonable: (i) there is no assurance that the final determination of tax audits or tax disputes will not be different from what is reflected in our income tax provisions, expense amounts for non-income-based taxes and accruals and (ii) any material differences could have an adverse effect on our financial position and results of operations in the period or periods for which determination is made.

We are not subject to Sarbanes-Oxley regulations and lack the financial controls and safeguards required of public companies.

We do not have the internal infrastructure necessary, and are not required, to complete an attestation about our financial controls that would be required under Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002. There can be no assurance that there are no significant deficiencies or material weaknesses in the quality of our financial controls. We expect to incur additional expenses and diversion of management's time if and when it becomes necessary to perform the system and process evaluation, testing and remediation required in order to comply with the management certification and auditor attestation requirements.

The Company has indicated that it has engaged in certain transactions with related persons.

Please see the section of this Memorandum entitled "Transactions with Related Persons and Conflicts of Interest" for further details.

Changes in employment laws or regulation could harm our performance.

Various federal and state labor laws govern our relationship with our employees and affect operating costs. These laws include minimum wage requirements, overtime pay, healthcare reform and the implementation of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, unemployment tax rates, workers' compensation rates, citizenship requirements, union membership and sales taxes. A number of factors could adversely affect our operating results, including additional government-imposed increases in minimum wages, overtime pay, paid leaves of absence and mandated health benefits, mandated training for employees, increased tax reporting and tax payment changing regulations from the National Labor Relations Board and increased employee litigation including claims relating to the Fair Labor Standards Act.

To date, we have not generated revenue, do not foresee generating any revenue in the near future and therefore rely on external financing.

We are a startup company. While we intend to generate revenue in the future, we cannot assure you when or if we will be able to do so. Indemnis, Inc. is a technology development company and the success of the Company's operations relies heavily on government regulation and the ability to enable customers to commercially operate drones over urban environments. The speed of regulation and an inability to attract customers will affect the Company's future earning timeline. We rely on external financing to fund our operations. We anticipate, based on our current proposed plans and assumptions relating to our operations (including the timetable of, and costs associated with, new product development) that, if the Minimum Amount is raised in this Offering, it will be sufficient to satisfy our contemplated cash requirements through approximately January 2019, assuming that we do not accelerate the development of other opportunities available to us, engage in an extraordinary transaction or otherwise face unexpected events, costs or contingencies, any of which could affect our cash requirements. We expect capital outlays and operating expenditures to increase over the next several years as we expand our infrastructure, commercial operations, development activities and establish offices. Our future funding requirements will depend on many factors, including but not limited to the following: the cost of expanding our operations; the financial terms and timing of any collaborations, licensing or other arrangements into which we may enter; the rate of progress and cost of development activities; the need to respond to technological changes and increased competition; the costs of filing, prosecuting, defending and enforcing any patent claims and other intellectual property rights; the cost and delays in product development that may result from changes in regulatory requirements applicable to our products; sales and marketing efforts to bring these new product candidates to market; unforeseen difficulties in establishing and maintaining an effective sales and distribution network; and lack of demand for and market acceptance of our products and technologies. We may have difficulty obtaining additional funding and we cannot assure you that additional capital will be available to us when needed, if at all, or if available, will be obtained on terms acceptable to us. If we raise additional funds by issuing additional debt securities, such debt instruments may provide for rights, preferences or privileges senior to the Securities to the Purchasers. In addition, the terms of the debt securities issued could impose significant restrictions on our operations. If we raise additional funds through collaborations and licensing arrangements, we might be required to relinquish significant rights to our technologies or product candidates or grant licenses on terms that are not favorable to us. If adequate funds are not available, we may have to delay, scale back, or eliminate some of our operations or our research development and commercialization activities. Under these circumstances, if the Company is unable to acquire additional capital or is required to raise it on terms that are less satisfactory than desired, it may have a material adverse effect on its financial condition.

We have a limited operating history upon which you can evaluate our performance, and accordingly, our prospects must be considered in light of the risks that any new company encounters.

We were incorporated under the laws of Delaware on September 21, 2016. Accordingly, we have a limited history upon which an evaluation of our prospects and future performance can be made. Our proposed operations are subject to all business risks associated with new enterprises. The likelihood of our creation of a viable business must be considered in light of the problems, expenses, difficulties, complications, and delays frequently encountered in connection with the inception of a business, operation in a competitive industry, and the continued development of advertising, promotions, and a corresponding client base. We anticipate that our operating expenses will increase for the near future. There can be no assurances that we will ever operate profitably. You should consider the Company's business, operations and prospects in light of the risks, expenses and challenges faced as an early-stage company.

We may face potential difficulties in obtaining capital.

We may have difficulty raising needed capital in the future as a result of, among other factors, our lack of revenues from sales, as well as the inherent business risks associated with our company and present and future market conditions. Our business currently does not generate any sales and future sources of revenue may not be sufficient to meet our future capital requirements. We will require additional funds to execute our business strategy and conduct our operations. If adequate funds are unavailable, we may be required to delay, reduce the scope of or eliminate one or more of our research, development or commercialization programs, product launches or marketing efforts, any of which may materially harm our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Negative public opinion could damage our reputation and adversely affect our business.

Reputational risk, or the risk to our business from negative public opinion, is inherent in our business. Negative public opinion can result from our actual or alleged conduct in any number of activities, and actions taken by government regulators, licensing authorities or self-regulatory bodies in response to those activities. Negative public opinion can also result from media coverage, whether accurate or not, and may affect our ability to attract and retain customers and employees or expose us to litigation and regulatory action.

Investor is not an owner of the Company and has no decision-making rights or vote.

You are not entitled, as a holder of the Securities, to vote or receive dividends or be deemed the holder of capital stock for any purpose, nor will you have any of the rights of a stockholder or member of the Company, as applicable, or any right to vote for the election of directors or upon any matter submitted at any meeting thereof, or to give or withhold consent to any Company action (other than as pursuant to the Security) or to receive notice of meetings, or to receive subscription rights. Accordingly, no person should purchase a Security unless he or she is willing to entrust all aspects of management to the Company. Furthermore, you will not have any rights to the profits or intellectual property of the Company, and your only claim to the assets of the Company are the rights of payment as set forth in the Security.

You will not have a vote or influence on the management of the Company.

Substantially all decisions with respect to the management of the Company will be made exclusively by the management of the Company. You, as a Purchaser, will have no vote on issues of Company management and will not have the right or power to take part in the management of the Company and will not be represented on the board of directors or managers of the Company. Accordingly, no person should purchase a Security unless he or she is willing to entrust all aspects of management to the Company.

Currently no market for the product exists without government regulation.

Although we have identified what we believe to be a need in the market for our services, there can be no assurances that demand, or a market will develop or that we will be able to create a viable business. Our future financial performance will depend, upon the speed of the regulatory environment, as it applied to flight operations over people. Regulatory failure to enact a mechanism for waiver approval for operations over people will hinder the Company's ability to gain market acceptance of our product. Full commercial operation of drones for business utilization over urban environments will never materialize without a regulatory approval and mechanism to approve said operations with an approved safety system. Potential customers may be unwilling to accept, utilize or recommend any of our proposed product or services. If we are unable to commercialize and market our proposed product or services when planned, we may not achieve any market acceptance or generate revenue.

In order for the Company to compete and grow, it must attract, recruit, retain and develop the necessary personnel who have the needed experience.

Recruiting and retaining highly qualified personnel is critical to our success. These demands may require us to hire additional personnel and will require our existing management personnel to develop additional expertise. We face intense competition for personnel. The failure to attract and retain personnel or to develop such expertise could delay or halt the development and commercialization of our product candidates. If we experience difficulties in hiring and retaining personnel in key positions, we could suffer from delays in product development, loss of customers and sales and diversion of management resources, which could adversely affect operating results. Our consultants and advisors may be employed by third parties and may have commitments under consulting or advisory contracts with third parties that may limit their availability to us.

Risks Related to the Securities

The Units of Crowd SAFE (Simple Agreement for Future Equity) will not be freely tradable until one year from the initial purchase date. Although the Units of Crowd SAFE may be tradable under federal securities law, state securities regulations may apply, and each Purchaser should consult with his or her attorney.

You should be aware of the long-term nature of this investment. There is not now and likely will not be a public market for the Units of Crowd SAFE. Because the Units of Crowd SAFE have not been registered under the Securities Act or under the securities laws of any state or non-United States jurisdiction, the Units of Crowd SAFE have transfer restrictions and cannot be resold in the United States except pursuant to Rule 501 of Regulation CF. It is not currently contemplated that registration under the Securities Act or other securities laws will be effected. Limitations on the transfer of the Units of Crowd SAFE may also adversely affect the price that you might be able to obtain for the Units of Crowd SAFE in a private sale. Purchasers should be aware of the long-term nature of their investment in the Company. Each Purchaser in this Offering will be required to represent that it is purchasing the Securities for its own account, for investment purposes and not with a view to resale or distribution thereof.

Neither the Offering nor the Securities have been registered under federal or state securities laws, leading to an absence of certain regulation applicable to the Company.

No governmental agency has reviewed or passed upon this Offering, the Company or any Securities of the Company. The Company also has relied on exemptions from securities registration requirements under applicable state securities laws. Investors in the Company, therefore, will not receive any of the benefits that such registration would otherwise provide. Prospective investors must therefore assess the adequacy of disclosure and the fairness of the terms of this Offering on their own or in conjunction with their personal advisors.

No Guarantee of Return on Investment

There is no assurance that a Purchaser will realize a return on its investment or that it will not lose its entire investment. For this reason, each Purchaser should read the Form C and all Exhibits carefully and should consult with its own attorney and business advisor prior to making any investment decision.

A majority of the Company is owned by a small number of owners.

Prior to the Offering the Company's current owners of 20% or more beneficially own up to 61.0% of the Company. Subject to any fiduciary duties owed to our other owners or investors under Delaware law, these owners may be able to exercise significant influence over matters requiring owner approval, including the election of directors or managers and approval of significant Company transactions, and will have significant control over the Company's management and policies. Some of these persons may have interests that are different from yours. For example, these owners may support proposals and actions with which you may disagree. The concentration of ownership could delay or prevent a change in control of the Company or otherwise discourage a potential acquirer from attempting to obtain control of the Company, which in turn could reduce the price potential investors are willing to pay for the Company. In addition, these owners could use their voting influence to maintain the Company's existing management, delay or prevent changes in control of the Company, or support or reject other management and board proposals that are subject to owner approval.

The Company has the right to extend the Offering deadline.

The Company may extend the Offering deadline beyond what is currently stated herein. This means that your investment may continue to be held in escrow while the Company attempts to raise the Minimum Amount even after the Offering deadline stated herein is reached. Your investment will not be accruing interest during this time and will simply be held until such time as the new Offering deadline is reached without the Company receiving the Minimum Amount, at which time it will be returned to you without interest or deduction, or the Company receives the Minimum Amount, at which time it will be released to the Company to be used as set forth herein. Upon or shortly after release of such funds to the Company, the Securities will be issued and distributed to you.

Purchasers will not become equity holders until the Company decides to convert the Securities into CF Shadow Securities or until an IPO or sale of the Company.

Purchasers will not have an ownership claim to the Company or to any of its assets or revenues for an indefinite amount of time and depending on when and how the Securities are converted, the Purchasers may never become equity holders of the Company. Purchasers will not become equity holders of the Company unless the Company receives a future round of financing great enough to trigger a conversion and the Company elects to convert the Securities. The Company is under no obligation to convert the Securities into CF Shadow Securities (the type of equity Securities Purchasers are entitled to receive upon such conversion). In certain instances, such as a sale of the Company, an IPO or a dissolution or bankruptcy, the Purchasers may only have a right to receive cash, to the extent available, rather than equity in the Company.

Purchasers will not have voting rights, even upon conversion of the Securities into CF Shadow Securities.

Purchasers will not have the right to vote upon matters of the Company even if and when their Securities are converted into CF Shadow Securities. Upon such conversion, CF Shadow Securities will have no voting rights and even in circumstances where a statutory right to vote is provided by state law, the CF Shadow Security holders are required to vote with the majority of the security holders in the new round of equity financing upon which the Securities were converted. For example, if the Securities are converted upon a round offering Series B Preferred Shares, the Series B-CF Shadow Security holders will be required to vote the same way as a majority of the Series B Preferred Shareholders vote. Thus, Purchasers will never be able to freely vote upon any director or other matters of the Company.

Purchasers will not be entitled to any inspection or information rights other than those required by Regulation CF.

Purchasers will not have the right to inspect the books and records of the Company or to receive financial or other information from the Company, other than as required by Regulation CF. Other security holders may have such rights. Regulation CF requires only the provision of an annual report on Form C and no additional information. This lack of information could put Purchasers at a disadvantage in general and with respect to other security holders.

In a dissolution or bankruptcy of the Company, Purchasers will be treated the same as common equity holders.

In a dissolution or bankruptcy of the Company, Purchasers of Securities which have not been converted will be entitled to distributions as if they were common stockholders. This means that such Purchasers will be at the lowest level of priority and will only receive distributions once all creditors as well as holders of more senior securities, including any preferred stockholders, have been paid in full. If the Securities have been converted into CF Shadow Securities, the Purchasers will have the same rights and preferences (other than the ability to vote) as the holders of the Securities issued in the equity financing upon which the Securities were converted.

Purchasers will be unable to declare the Security in “default” and demand repayment.

Unlike convertible notes and some other securities, the Securities do not have any “default” provisions upon which the Purchasers will be able to demand repayment of their investment. The Company has ultimate discretion as to whether or not to convert the Securities upon a future equity financing and Purchasers have no right to demand such conversion. Only in limited circumstances, such as a liquidity event, may the Purchasers demand payment and even then, such payments will be limited to the amount of cash available to the Company.

The Company may never elect to convert the Securities or undergo a liquidity event.

The Company may never receive a future equity financing or elect to convert the Securities upon such future financing. In addition, the Company may never undergo a liquidity event such as a sale of the Company or an IPO. If neither the conversion of the Securities nor a liquidity event occurs, the Purchasers could be left holding the Securities in perpetuity. The Securities have numerous transfer restrictions and will likely be highly illiquid, with no secondary market on which to sell them. The Securities are not equity interests, have no ownership rights, have no rights to the Company’s assets or profits and have no voting rights or ability to direct the Company or its actions.

The Securities do not have a discount rate.

The Securities do not have a discount rate, which would be applied to the conversion price of the Securities based on the price of a future equity financing. Convertible securities often provide a discount rate, which is applied to the price of the future financing to determine the conversion price. For instance, if the future equity financing were priced at $10 per share, convertible securities that incorporated a discount rate might be convertible at $8 per share. Such discount rate benefits the convertible security holders, who receive more securities from the conversion than the purchase price of their convertible securities would suggest. The Securities do not have a discount rate and thus, will be convertible at the price established by the future equity financing regardless of the price of such future securities or the future valuation of the Company.

In addition to the risks listed above, businesses are often subject to risks not foreseen or fully appreciated by the management. It is not possible to foresee all risks that may affect us. Moreover, the Company cannot predict whether the Company will successfully effectuate the Company’s current business plan. Each prospective Purchaser is encouraged to carefully analyze the risks and merits of an investment in the Securities and should take into consideration when making such analysis, among other, the Risk Factors discussed above.

THE SECURITIES OFFERED INVOLVE A HIGH DEGREE OF RISK AND MAY RESULT IN THE LOSS OF YOUR ENTIRE INVESTMENT. ANY PERSON CONSIDERING THE PURCHASE OF THESE SECURITIES SHOULD BE AWARE OF THESE AND OTHER FACTORS SET FORTH IN THIS FORM C AND SHOULD CONSULT WITH HIS OR HER LEGAL, TAX AND FINANCIAL ADVISORS PRIOR TO MAKING AN INVESTMENT IN THE SECURITIES. THE SECURITIES SHOULD ONLY BE PURCHASED BY PERSONS WHO CAN AFFORD TO LOSE ALL OF THEIR INVESTMENT.

BUSINESS

Description of the Business

Indemnity, Inc. is a technology company focused on making safe, regulated commercial flight over people possible. Indemnity provides both the hardware and the services that enables the integration of small unmanned aerial vehicles (sUAS) into the national airspace, for the purpose of safely performing commercial operations over urban environments.

Business Plan

Indemnity combines an aviation mindset with Silicon Valley technology. We started with the customer experience, mapped the bigger picture, and then engineered a solution to address the problem.

The Company was built for drone operators by drone operators who found that existing parachute systems did not work reliably. We were tired of damaging and losing expensive equipment, so we decided to change that. Taking testing out of the lab, and into the field, our team spent thousands of hours designing, testing, and extensively studying the real-world failure dynamics of aviation that are unique to multi-rotor unmanned aerial vehicle (“UAV”) flight. We have created a new standard in the industry, and this is just the beginning. Our materials technology and advanced fall detection software, partnered with our patented deployment system, has enabled the Nexus to become the solution that is unmatched in the market today. We believe that a fundamental measure of our success will be the customer experience, which will create value for our shareholders long term. Indemnity is committed to providing the best complete user experience to its customers through its innovative hardware, software, and services. We not only enable flight operations over people and help companies expand their current business operations, we also hold their hand through the process and allow users to fly with more confidence than ever before. In May 2017, Indemnity launched the Nexus and created a new standard in the industry.

Through the process of vetting the functionality of our system with regulators and industry leaders, we have become leaders and experts in the failure dynamics unique to multi-rotor UAV flight. Regulators have entrusted our team to help author the rules that are enabling the industry to expand. Indemnity was appointed as the technical lead for the American Society for Testing and Materials (“ASTM”) testing standard specification WK59171 for Small Unmanned Aircraft System (“sUAS”) Parachutes. That standard is intended to set the bar for safety requirements for operations over people. Indemnity was also recently appointed as technical lead for a new initiative: to create a complete guide for all flight-over-people operations and the process of obtaining a waiver. This is a tall order, and the responsibility speaks volumes about the capabilities of our management team and the respect from our industry. The stronger our leadership is in the market, the more economic impact we will have when the regulation allows for mass sales. The foundation we are building today will directly translate to higher revenue and higher profitability for the future.

History of the Business

The name Indemnity, Latin for “without hurt, harm or damage,” stands as a reminder of the company’s protective promise and mission. In 2014, our founding team set out to make a solution that would protect life and property on the ground when a drone falls out of the sky. What began as a drawing on a napkin quickly turned into assembling a cut-up air mattress and our first prototype. Since then, we’ve worked to bridge the gap between concept and reality. Indemnity became formalized in 2015 as Indemnity Systems, LLC, an Alaskan entity with 6 founders. In September 2016, Indemnis Systems, LLC was converted to a Delaware corporation for the purpose of taking on investment and more shareholders.

The Company's Products and/or Services

Product / Service	Description	Current Market
Nexus UAV parachute recovery system	The Nexus by Indemnis is the only UAV parachute recovery system to be publicly proven reliable in any failure scenario. Our system was designed to meet and exceed the expected Federal Aviation Administration ("FAA") and international aviation reliability and safety standards for flight operations over people with the use of a parachute recovery system as a risk mitigation tool.	The current market has been limited because parachutes have been viewed as technologically ineffective and there is currently no regulation that allows for flight operations over people, with or without the use of a risk mitigation tools.

We are constantly researching and developing new adaptations of our parachute recovery system for other UAV companies, that are useful to customers. We currently have designed the Nexus for the DJI Inspire 2 series, DJI Matrice 200, and DJI Matrice 600 and are under development for two other platforms. Our continued research and development allow us to enhance our existing capabilities for our customers, while adapting to the needs of the market.

We are not currently selling any products. The company plans to sell its products through indirect distribution channels, such as third-party wholesalers, retailers, and value-added resellers. In select volumes, we may also sell directly to medium and large sized business fleets.

Competition

The Company's primary competitors are other manufactures of UAV recovery systems.

Although there is not currently a direct market for our product, the overall growth in the global UAV market has sparked corresponding rapid growth in the market for UAV risk mitigation tools. It is a highly competitive race for the same market share and there are many companies who are developing UAV parachute recovery systems in hopes of achieving approval from the FAA for flight operations over people. These companies include but are not limited to: Skycat, Opale Paramodels, ParaZero, MARS Parachutes, Fruity Chutes, Galaxy, Flying Eye, and emerging companies with greater capital resources than us to invest in research and development and marketing. Our strategy is to be the leader in enabling flight operations over people without limitations, from the regulation and waiver processes to hardware and service. For this reason, we believe that the principal competitive factor in the industry in which we compete will be proving compliance with the ASTM testing standard specification WK59171 for Small Unmanned Aircraft System (sUAS) Parachutes and receiving a waiver from the FAA for flight operations over people. Other competitive factors may also include: technical and industry expertise; innovative service and product offerings; ability to add business value and improve performance; reputation of product performance; contractual terms for wholesalers, including competitive pricing; ability to timely and reliably deliver a product; quality of customer service and maintenance program; and scalability, including a level of presence in key emerging markets.

Supply Chain and Customer Base

Our UAV parachute recovery systems were developed based on our team's advanced working knowledge and experience of working with Ultra High Molecular Weight Polyethylenes ("UHMWPE") and the ability to bond the material to create light-weight, high strength tubular structures. Raw Dyneema composite is essential to our product manufacturing and can only be purchased directly from DSM Dyneema LLC. We have successfully secured an exclusive material purchase agreement with DSM Dyneema LLC and have fostered a positive working relationship with its management over the past 3 years. In general, all other raw materials essential to our products and business can be purchased worldwide in the ordinary course of business from numerous suppliers and have had no shortages in recent years. We have developed relationships with multiple suppliers in multiple geographical areas and can quickly scale without predicted imbalances between supply and demand.

The Company is dependent on the following suppliers:

Supplier or Description	Service, input or raw material provided	Percent of such service, input or raw material from such supplier
DSM Dyneema LLC	Dyneema® composite fabric	100.0%

UAV or drone technology is revolutionizing business operations across the globe. Flight operations over urban areas will increase efficiency, improve safety, and expand commercial operations in virtually every industry.

Our potential customers are companies that wish to expand their business operations. Common sectors include film and television production, aerial photography, public safety, law enforcement, security, search and rescue, telecommunication, infrastructure inspections, construction, geographic information system surveying, science and research, oil and gas companies, labor, electrical, agriculture, healthcare, supply transport, and, of course, drone delivery.

Governmental/Regulatory Approval and Compliance

The ability to operate a UAV for commercial purposes is critical for the industry to expand. The danger of putting drones in the air is that flight conditions are never the same, and drones are unpredictable when failure happens. The FAA and other international aviation authorities have prohibited commercial flight operations in urban environments and thus prevented this rapidly evolving industry from growing until there is a safe solution. Industry leaders have been working together to author and create the regulatory framework that will set the testing benchmark and lessen the operational restrictions for those that can meet that standard. The ASTM has many standards in draft form that the FAA has indicated they will reference as a guide to allow for flight operations over people. The most important standard specification for our industry is WK59171, which is focused on standards for sUAS Parachutes. Other key factors that are being worked on currently are standards around remote identification of UAVs, flight operation over people operational risk assessments, as well as federal preemption in regard to the national airspace.

Valuation

Based on the Offering price of the Securities, there is no pre-Offering value ascribed to the Company.

Before making an investment decision, you should carefully consider this valuation and the factors used to reach such valuation. Such valuation may not be accurate, and you are encouraged to determine your own independent value of the Company prior to investing.

A majority of the Company is owned by the founding 6 members. Those people are Alan Erickson, Michael Collier, Mackenzie Banbury, Amber McDonald, Mitchell Monnett, and Matti Dupre, collectively the founders still own 78.14% of the total shares outstanding. The remaining percentage is broadly held amongst 32 shareholders.

Below the beneficial owners of 20% percent or more of the Company's outstanding voting equity securities, calculated on the basis of voting power, are listed along with the amount they own.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Please see the financial information listed on the cover page of this Form C and attached hereto in addition to the following information. Financial statements are attached hereto as Exhibit A.

Operations

The Company does not expect to achieve profitability in the next 12 months and intends to focus on getting a minimum viable product to market that can qualify for a waiver with the FAA for flight operations over people.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

The Offering proceeds are important to our operations. While not dependent on the Offering proceeds, the influx of capital will assist in the achievement of our next milestones and expedite the realization of our business plan, specifically research and development that is needed to continue for the product to meet the regulations for shipping with the Department of Transportation. Because we have already allocated the proceeds to a specific use dependent on the completion of this Offering, the proceeds will not have a material effect on our liquidity.

The Company does not have any additional sources of capital other than the proceeds from the Offering.

Capital Expenditures and Other Obligations

The Company does not intend to make any material capital expenditures in the future.

Trends and Uncertainties

After reviewing the above discussion of the steps the Company intends to take, potential Purchasers should consider whether achievement of each step within the estimated time frame is realistic in their judgment. Potential Purchasers should also assess the consequences to the Company of any delays in taking these steps and whether the Company will need additional financing to accomplish them.

The financial statements are an important part of this Form C and should be reviewed in their entirety. The financial statements of the Company are attached hereto as Exhibit A.

THE OFFERING AND THE SECURITIES

The Offering

The Company is offering up to 1,070,000 of Units of Crowd SAFE (Simple Agreement for Future Equity) for up to $1,070,000.00. The Company is attempting to raise a minimum amount of $50,000.00 in this Offering (the "Minimum Amount"). The Company must receive commitments from investors in an amount totaling the Minimum Amount by October 31, 2018 (the "Offering Deadline") in order to receive any funds. If the sum of the investment commitments does not equal or exceed the Minimum Amount by the Offering Deadline, no Securities will be sold in the Offering, investment commitments will be cancelled and committed funds will be returned to potential investors without interest or deductions. The Company has the right to extend the Offering Deadline at its discretion. The Company will accept investments in excess of the Minimum Amount up to $1,070,000.00 (the "Maximum Amount") and the additional Securities will be allocated on a first-come, first-served basis.

The price of the Securities does not necessarily bear any relationship to the Company's asset value, net worth, revenues or other established criteria of value, and should not be considered indicative of the actual value of the Securities.

In order to purchase the Securities you must make a commitment to purchase by completing the Subscription Agreement. Purchaser funds will be held in escrow with PrimeTrust, LLC until the Minimum Amount of investments is reached. Purchasers may cancel an investment commitment until 48 hours prior to the Offering Deadline or the Closing, whichever comes first using the cancellation mechanism provided by the Intermediary. The Company will notify Purchasers when the Minimum Amount has been reached. If the Company reaches the Minimum Amount prior to the Offering Deadline, it may close the Offering at least five (5) days after reaching the Minimum Amount and providing notice to the Purchasers. If any material change (other than reaching the Minimum Amount) occurs related to the Offering prior to the Offering Deadline, the Company will provide notice to Purchasers and receive reconfirmations from Purchasers who have already made commitments. If a Purchaser does not reconfirm his or her investment commitment after a material change is made to the terms of the Offering, the Purchaser's investment commitment will be cancelled, and the committed funds will be returned without interest or deductions. If a Purchaser does not cancel an investment commitment before the Minimum Amount is reached, the funds will be released to the Company upon closing of the Offering and the Purchaser will receive the Securities in exchange for his or her investment. Any Purchaser funds received after the initial closing will be released to the Company upon a subsequent closing and the Purchaser will receive Securities via Electronic Certificate/PDF in exchange for his or her investment as soon as practicable thereafter.

Subscription Agreements are not binding on the Company until accepted by the Company, which reserves the right to reject, in whole or in part, in its sole and absolute discretion, any subscription. If the Company rejects all or a portion of any subscription, the applicable prospective Purchaser's funds will be returned without interest or deduction.

The price of the Securities has been arbitrarily set at $1.00. The minimum amount that a Purchaser may invest in the Offering is $100.00.

The Offering is being made through OpenDeal Inc. dba "Republic", the Intermediary. The following two fields below sets forth the compensation being paid in connection with the Offering.

Commission/Fees

6.0% of the amount raised

Stock, Warrants and Other Compensation

2% of the Securities being issued in this Offering.

Transfer Agent and Registrar

The Company will act as transfer agent and registrar for the Securities.

The Securities

We request that you please review our organizational documents and the Crowd Safe instrument in conjunction with the following summary information.

Authorized Capitalization

At the initial closing of this Offering (if the minimum amount is sold), our authorized capital stock will consist of (i) 18,000,000 shares of common stock, par value $0.0001 per share, of which 5,206,611 common shares will be issued and outstanding, and (ii) 2,000,000 shares of preferred stock, par value $0.0001 per share, of which 0 preferred shares will be issued and outstanding.

Not Currently Equity Interests

The Securities are not currently equity interests in the Company and can be thought of as the right to receive equity at some point in the future upon the occurrence of certain events.

Dividends

The Securities do not entitle the Purchasers to any dividends.

Conversion

Upon each future equity financing of greater than $10,000,000.00 (an “Equity Financing”), the Securities are convertible at the option of the Company, into CF Shadow Series Securities, which are securities identical to those issued in such future Equity Financing except 1) they do not have the right to vote on any matters except as required by law, 2) they must vote in accordance with the majority of the investors in such future Equity Financing with respect to any such required vote and 3) they are not entitled to any inspection or information rights (other than those contemplated by Regulation CF). The Company has no obligation to convert the Securities in any future financing.

Conversion Upon the First Equity Financing

If the Company elects to convert the Securities upon the first Equity Financing following the issuance of the Securities, the Purchaser will receive the number of CF Shadow Series Securities equal to:

(a) if the valuation of the Company immediately prior to such Equity Financing is less than or equal to $25,000,000.00, the quotient obtained by dividing the amount the Purchaser paid for the Securities (the “Purchase Amount”) by the lowest price per share of the Securities sold in such Equity Financing;

OR

(b) if the valuation of the Company immediately prior to such Equity Financing is greater than $25,000,000.00, the quotient obtained by dividing the Purchase Amount by the Safe Price (see below).

The applicable denominator that is used above (either the lowest price per share of Securities sold in such Equity Financing or the Safe Price) shall be deemed the “First Financing Price” and may be used to establish the conversion price of the Securities at a later date, even if the Company does not choose to convert the Securities upon the first Equity Financing following the issuance of the Securities.

The “Safe Price” is equal to $25,000,000.00 divided by the “Fully Diluted Capitalization,” which is the aggregate number of issued and outstanding shares of capital stock, assuming full conversion or exercise of all convertible and exercisable Securities then outstanding, including shares of convertible preferred stock and all outstanding vested or unvested options or warrants to purchase capital stock, but excluding (i) the issuance of all shares of capital stock reserved and available for future issuance under any of the Company's existing equity incentive plans, (ii) convertible promissory notes issued by the Company, (iii) any Simple Agreements for Future Equity, including the Securities (collectively, "Safes"), and (iv) any equity Securities that are issuable upon conversion of any outstanding convertible promissory notes or Safes.

Conversion After the First Equity Financing

If the Company elects to convert the Securities upon an Equity Financing after the first Equity Financing following the issuance of the Securities, the Purchaser will receive the number of CF Shadow Series Securities equal to the quotient obtained by dividing (x) the Purchase Amount by (y) the First Financing Price.

Conversion Upon a Liquidity Event Prior to an Equity Financing

In the case of an initial public offering of the Company ("IPO") or Change of Control (see below) (either of these events, a "Liquidity Event") of the Company prior to any Equity Financing, the Purchaser will receive, at the option of the Purchaser, either (a) a cash payment equal to the Purchase Amount (subject to the following paragraph) or (b) a number of shares of common stock of the Company equal to the Purchase Amount divided by the quotient resulting from dividing (x) the Company's current valuation immediately prior to the closing of the Liquidity Event by (y) the Fully Diluted Capitalization immediately prior to the closing of the Liquidity Event.

In connection with a cash payment described in the preceding paragraph, the Purchase Amount will be due and payable by the Company to the Purchaser immediately prior to, or concurrent with, the consummation of the Liquidity Event. If there are not enough funds to pay the Purchasers and holders of other Safes (collectively, the "Cash-Out Investors") in full, then all of the Company's available funds will be distributed with equal priority and pro rata among the Cash-Out Investors in proportion to their Purchase Amounts.

"Change of Control" as used above and throughout this section, means (i) a transaction or transactions in which any person or group becomes the beneficial owner of more than 50% of the outstanding voting Securities entitled to elect the Company's board of directors, (ii) any reorganization, merger or consolidation of the Company, in which the outstanding voting security holders of the Company fail to retain at least a majority of such voting Securities following such transaction(s) or (iii) a sale, lease or other disposition of all or substantially all of the assets of the Company.

Conversion Upon a Liquidity Event Following an Equity Financing

In the case of a Liquidity Event following any Equity Financing, the Purchaser will receive, at the option of the Purchaser, either (i) a cash payment equal to the Purchase Amount (as described above) or (ii) a number of shares of the most recently issued preferred stock equal to the Purchase Amount divided by the First Financing Price. Shares of preferred stock granted in connection therewith shall have the same liquidation rights and preferences as the shares of preferred stock issued in connection with the Company's most recent Equity Financing.

Dissolution

If there is a Dissolution Event (see below) before the Securities terminate, the Company will distribute, subject to the preferences applicable to any series of preferred stock then outstanding, all of its assets legally available for distribution with equal priority among the Purchasers, all holders of other Safes (on an as converted basis based on a valuation of common stock as determined in good faith by the Company's board of directors at the time of the Dissolution Event) and all holders of common stock.

A "Dissolution Event" means (i) a voluntary termination of operations by the Company, (ii) a general assignment for the benefit of the Company's creditors or (iii) any other liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Company (excluding a Liquidity Event), whether voluntary or involuntary.

Termination

The Securities terminate upon (without relieving the Company of any obligations arising from a prior breach of or non-compliance with the Securities) upon the earlier to occur: (i) the issuance of shares in the CF Shadow Series to the Purchaser pursuant to the conversion provisions or (ii) the payment, or setting aside for payment, of amounts due to the Purchaser pursuant to a Liquidity Event or a Dissolution Event.

Voting and Control

The Securities have no voting rights at present or when converted.

The Company does not have any voting agreements in place.

The Company does not have any shareholder/equity holder agreements in place.

Anti-Dilution Rights

The Securities do not have anti-dilution rights, which means that future equity financings will dilute the ownership percentage that the Purchaser may eventually have in the Company.

Restrictions on Transfer

Any Securities sold pursuant to Regulation CF being offered may not be transferred by any Purchaser of such Securities during the one-year holding period beginning when the Securities were issued, unless such Securities are transferred: 1) to the Company, 2) to an accredited investor, as defined by Rule 501(d) of Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act, 3) as part of an IPO or 4) to a member of the family of the Purchaser or the equivalent, to a trust controlled by the Purchaser, to a trust created for the benefit of a member of the family of the Purchaser or the equivalent, or in connection with the death or divorce of the Purchaser or other similar circumstances. "Member of the family" as used herein means a child, stepchild, grandchild, parent, stepparent, grandparent, spouse or spousal equivalent, sibling, mother/father/daughter/son/sister/brother-in-law and includes adoptive relationships. Remember that although you may legally be able to transfer the Securities, you may not be able to find another party willing to purchase them.

In addition to the foregoing restrictions, prior to making any transfer of the Securities or any Securities into which they are convertible, such transferring Purchaser must either make such transfer pursuant to an effective registration statement filed with the SEC or provide the Company with an opinion of counsel stating that a registration statement is not necessary to effect such transfer.

In addition, the Purchaser may not transfer the Securities or any Securities into which they are convertible to any of the Company's competitors, as determined by the Company in good faith.

Furthermore, upon the event of an IPO, the capital stock into which the Securities are converted will be subject to a lock-up period and may not be sold for up to 180 days following such IPO.

Other Material Terms

- The Company does not have the right to repurchase the Securities.
- The Securities do not have a stated return or liquidation preference.
- The Company cannot determine if it currently has enough capital stock authorized to issue upon the conversion of the Securities, because the amount of capital stock to be issued is based on the occurrence of future events.

A review includes primarily applying analytical procedures to management's financial data and making inquiries of company management. A review is substantially limited in scope compared to an audit, the objective of which is the expression of an opinion regarding the financial statements as a whole. Accordingly, we do not express such an opinion.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement whether due to fraud or error.

Accountant's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to conduct the review engagement in accordance with Statements on Standards for Accounting and Review Services promulgated by the Accounting and Review Services Committee of the AICPA. Those standards require us to perform procedures to obtain limited assurance as a basis for reporting whether we are aware of any material modifications that should be made to the financial statements for them to be in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. We believe that the results of our procedures provide a reasonable basis for our conclusion.

Based on our review, we are not aware of any material modifications that should be made to the accompanying financial statements in order for them to be in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Going Concern

As discussed in the Notes and Additional Disclosures, certain conditions indicate the Company may be unable to continue as a going concern. The accompanying financial statements do not include any adjustments which might be necessary should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern. Our conclusion is not modified with respect to that matter.

Note 1 – Organization and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Organization

Indemnis, Inc. (the Company) was created in September of 2016, the Company is a startup technology company that is focused on making safe, regulated commercial flight over people possible through providing the next generation of UAV parachute recovery systems.. The Company's headquarters are located in Anchorage, Alaska.

Use of Estimates

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amount of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities as of the date of the financial statements, and revenue and expenses for the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. The significant policies and estimates applied in the preparation of the financial statements are discussed in following paragraphs.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purposes of the statements of cash flows, the Company considers all unrestricted demand deposits and time deposits due within ninety days to be cash and cash equivalents.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are capitalized at cost. Expenses for major additions and improvements are capitalized and minor replacements, maintenance, and repairs are charged to expenses as incurred. When property and equipment is retired, or otherwise disposed of, the cost and accumulated depreciation is removed from the accounts and any resulting gain or loss is included in the results of operations for the respective period. Depreciation is computed using the straight-line over the estimated useful lives of 5-15 years for the respective assets.

Stock Based Compensation

The Company accounts for stock options issued to employees under ASC 718 "Share-Based Payment". Under ASC 718, share-based compensation cost to employees is measured at the grant date, based on the estimated fair value of the award, and is recognized as expense over the employee's requisite vesting period. The fair value of each stock option or warrant award is estimated on the date of grant.

In accordance with the guidance, an asset acquired in exchange for issuance of fully vested, non-forfeitable equity instruments should not be presented or classified as an offset to equity on the grantor's balance sheet once the equity instrument is granted for accounting purposes. Accordingly, the Company has accounted for certain issuances as other assets in the accompanying balance sheets.

Research and Development

The Company incurred research and development costs during the process of researching and developing technologies. Research and development costs consist primarily of materials, outside services, and salaries for certain employees. The Company expense these costs as incurred until the resulting product has been completed, tested, and made ready for commercial use.

Advertising Expense

Advertising costs are expensed as incurred.

Income Taxes

The Company files income tax returns for both federal and state income tax purposes.

The Company adopted the provisions of Topic 740 of the FASB Accounting Standards Codification relating to accounting for uncertainty in income taxes. As a result of the implementation of ASC 740, the Company made a comprehensive review of its portfolio of uncertain tax positions in accordance with recognition standards established by ASC 740. In this regard, an uncertain tax position represents the Company's expected treatment of a tax position taken in a filed tax return or planned to be taken in a future tax return, that has not been reflected in measuring income tax expense for financial reporting purposes. The Company believes that it had appropriate support for the income tax positions taken and to be taken on its tax return and that its accruals for tax liabilities are adequate for all open years based on an assessment of many factors, including past experience and interpretations of tax law applied to the facts of each matter. As a result of applying the provisions of ASC 740, there was no cumulative effect on retained earnings.

For the year ended December 31, 2017 and 2016, there were no material changes to the amount of unrecognized tax benefits. The Company does not expect any significant increases or decreases for uncertain tax positions during the next 12 months.

Risks and Uncertainties

The Company has a limited operating history. The Company's business and operations are sensitive to general business and economic conditions in the United States. A host of factors beyond the Company's control could cause fluctuations in these conditions. Adverse conditions may include: recession, downturn or otherwise, local competition or changes in consumer taste. These adverse conditions could affect the Company's financial condition and the results of its operations. As of December 31, 2017, and 2016, the Company is operating as a going concern, see Note 9.

Subsequent Events

The Company has evaluated subsequent events through May 29, 2018, the date on which the financial statements were issued.

Note 2 – Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company maintains cash balances at one financial institution. Accounts at the institution are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) up to $250,000. At December 31, 2017 and 2016, the Company had $523,992 and $0 uninsured cash balances.

The SAFE agreements have no maturity date and bear no interest. The agreements provide the right of the investor to future equity in the Company per the terms of the agreement. Each agreement is subject to a valuation cap.

The valuation caps of the agreements entered into are $15,000,000 and $35,000,000 and all have a discount rate of 80%. Long term liabilities due to SAFE agreements entered into for the year and period ended December 31 consists of the following amounts per valuation cap:

	$ 2,155,300	$ 570,000

INDEMNIS, INC.
Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2017 and 2016

During the year ended December 31, 2017, the Company issued a SAFE Agreement for $55,800 for the acquisition of software and use of space. No cash consideration was provided.

Per the terms of the SAFE Agreements entered into, the instrument will expire and termite (without relieving the Company of any obligations arising from a prior breach of or non-compliance with this instrument) upon either: (1) the issuance of stock to the SAFE agreement holder due to an equity financing or a liquidity event; or (2) the payment, or setting aside for payment, of amounts due to the SAFE agreement holder pursuant to a liquidity event or a dissolution event.

If there is an equity financing before the instrument expires or is terminated, the company will automatically issue to the SAFE agreement holders either: (1) a number of shares of preferred stock sold in the equity financing equal to the purchase amount divided by the price per share of the preferred stock, if the pre-money valuation is less than or equal to the valuation cap; or (2) a number of shares of SAFE preferred stock equal to the purchase amount divided by the SAFE Price, if the pre-money valuation is greater than the valuation cap.

If there is a liquidation event before the expiration or termination of the SAFE Agreement, the SAFE agreement holder will at its option either: (1) receive a cash payment equal to the purchase amount or (2) receive from the Company a number of shares of common stock equal to the purchase amount divided by the liquidity price. If the SAFE agreement holder fails to select an option in conjunction with the liquidity event, the SAFE agreement holder will automatically receive option (2). In connection with a cash payment through a liquidity event, if there are not enough funds to pay the holders of all SAFE agreements in full, then all of the Company's available funds will be distributed with equal priority and pro rata among the SAFE agreement holders in proportion to their purchase amounts, and each SAFE agreement holder will automatically receive the number of shares of common stock equal to such SAFE agreement holder's remaining unpaid purchase amount divided by the liquidity price.

In a dissolution event, SAFE Agreement holders will be paid out of remaining assets prior and in preference to any distribution of any of the asset of the Company to holders of the Company's outstanding capital stock. Assets will be distributed with equal priority and pro rata among the SAFE agreement holders in proportion to the Purchase Amounts they would otherwise be entitled to receive pursuant to the dissolution event.

As of December 31, 2017 and 2016, no SAFE Agreements were converted into equity, nor have any terminated or expired based on the terms of the agreements.

Note 6 – Related Party Transactions

For the year ended December 31, 2017, the Company incurred related party expenses for promotional items from Big Dipper Clothing of $12,422 with no outstanding liability at year-end. The Company also incurred related party expenses for fixed asset equipment purchases from Evolution Strategies of $21,500 with no outstanding liability at year-end.

For the period ended December 31, 2016, the Company incurred related party expenses for promotional items from Big Dipper Clothing of $2,259 with no outstanding liability at year-end.

INDEMNIS, INC.
Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2017 and 2016

Note 7 – Provision for Income Taxes

Components of income tax (benefit) for the year and period ended December 31 consists of the following:

	2017	2016
Current expense (benefit)	$ -	$ -
Deferred expense (benefit)	(464,322)	(98,171)
	$ (464,322)	$ (98,171)

The actual income tax expense for the year differs from the “expected” tax expense (computed by applying the blended federal and state tax rate of 28% to income before income taxes) as follows:

	2017	2016
Computed “expected” income tax expense	$ (459,012)	$ (98,949)
Non-deductible expenses	9,639	2,779
Other	(14,949)	(2,001)
	$ (464,322)	$ (98,171)

The sources of temporary differences that comprise the gross deferred tax assets and gross deferred tax liabilities balances at December 31 are as follows:

	2017	2016
Deferred tax asset:
Net operating loss carryforwards	$ 583,697	$ 108,136
Deferred tax liabilities:
Basis difference in property and equipment	(21,204)	(9,965)
Net deferred tax asset	$ 562,493	$ 98,171

In assessing the realizability of deferred tax assets, management considers whether it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. The ultimate realization of deferred tax assets is dependent upon the generation of future taxable income during the periods in which those temporary differences become deductible. Management considers the scheduled reversal of deferred tax liabilities, projected future taxable income, and tax planning strategies in making this assessment. In order to fully realize the net operating loss carryforwards deferred tax asset, the Company will need to generate future taxable income prior to the expiration of the net operating loss carryforwards. Based projections for future taxable income over the periods in which the deferred tax assets are deductible, management believes it is more likely than not that the Company will realize all the benefits of the deferred tax assets. The amount of the deferred tax asset considered realizable, however, could be reduced in the near term if estimates of future taxable income during the carryforward period are reduced.

The Company’s income tax return for 2016 remain subject to examination.

Note 8 – Leasing Commitments

In 2016 the Company entered into a leasing agreement for the use of office space. Rent expense related to the lease for December 31, 2016 was $11,200. In 2017 they extended the lease through May of 2019 and began leasing additional office space. For the year ended December 31, 2017 the total expense related to this lease was $34,800.

At December 31, 2017 the following minimum payments were required under noncancelable lease agreements of one year or greater:

2018	$ 81,750
2019	30,000
	$ 111,750

Note 9 – Going Concern

These financial statements are prepared on a going concern basis. The Company began operations in 2016 and has generated no operating revenues while it has accumulated net losses before income taxes of over $2,000,000. The Company's ability to continue is dependent upon management's plan to raise additional funds and achieve profitable operations. Management believes in the next year they will be able to raise the additional funds needed to maintain operations. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might be necessary if the Company is not able to continue as a going concern.

Flights over urban areas and commercial use of drones will cut cost, increase efficiency, improve safety, time, convenience, and overall expand commercial operations.

Drones have the potential to make a difference in virtually every industry.

The danger of putting drones in the air is that flight conditions are never the same and drones are unpredictable when failure happens.

That is not a risk that the public should have to accept, therefore FAA has prevented this rapidly evolving industry to expand until there is a solution.
That solution is here.

Indemnis is focused on making safe regulated commercial flight over people possible.

Indemnis was built for drone operators by drone operators.

The founders recognize the need to mitigate the risk of human injury and found that existing parachute systems did not work reliably.

Taking testing out of the lab and into the field, Indemnis has extensively studied real-world failure dynamics of drone Aviation.

Pushing technology to the limits, pushing their systems to their limits.

Creating a solution that not only exceeds the upcoming FAA safety standards for flight over people but allows work to be performed safely in ways that were not previously economical. THE PROBLEM

100,000+ Commercial drone pilots in US who cannot fly over people

Per the FAA, as of January 2018, there are 100,000+ Part 107 commercial pilots in the US using drones in business. Their numbers grow by 300 each day. The ability to operate a UAV over urban environments for commercial purposes is critical for the industry to expand. Commercial use of drones will cut cost, increase efficiency, improve safety, time, convenience, and overall expand commercial operations.

The danger of operating drones over urban environments is that flight conditions are constantly changing, and drones are unpredictable when failure happens. When a 20-pound object falls out of the sky, it is not just hurting someone—it is killing someone. That is not a risk the public should have to accept.

As a result, the FAA and other international aviation authorities have prohibited commercial flight operations over non-involved people. This risk-averse restriction is preventing growth of this rapidly evolving industry—and will continue to restrict growth until there is a reliable failsafe solution...

THE SOLUTION

Indemnis—making safe, regulated commercial flight over people possible

Indemnis provides both the hardware and the services that enables the integration of small unmanned aerial vehicles (sUAS) into the national airspace, for the purpose of safely performing commercial operations over urban environments.

- “Just in case” safety Like seat belts or airbags in cars, Indemnis UAV recovery systems are the next generation of safety technology. Our products were developed in response to public concerns over injury. We add the necessary measure of “just in case” safety.
- Setting the bar Indemnis recovery solutions are designed to exceed expected FAA safety standards for flight over people.
- Unmatched in the market Indemnis is the only company to publicly prove and validate the functionality and reliability of a parachute recovery system to the FAA and industry leaders.

HOW IT WORKS

1. Quick release clamp for easy installation and user friendly arming process with visual LED and audible status updates.

2. Does not rely on the aircraft in a failure scenario — Auto deployment software detects a fall within 6–10 feet of vertical descent (and our product also includes a manual trigger-by-pilot option).
3. Deploys in under 30 milliseconds at 90 mph, escaping the roll radius to prevent entanglement so the chute will open successfully.
4. Deployment tube, made from ultra-high-strength Dyneema Composite Fabric TM materials, remains rigid — removing the attachment point of the parachute lines away from the control surfaces of the drone.
5. Decelerates the UAV to a stabilized vertical descent rate of 6.8 mph (Nexus i2).

MARKET

$127B market for commercial drone operation by 2020

All previous market predictions have continuously underestimated the size and value of the drone market, and investment bankers have refused to make new predictions for the industry until the necessary regulatory framework is in place. Evaluating the industry drone use breakdown, a majority of business use cases involve some form of operation above non-participating human beings and beyond-line-of-sight operations; this requires a need to prove the operations can be completed safely before they will be approved by the FAA.

People are just beginning to understand that machines will be buzzing above our heads on a daily basis and the sky is about to become far busier than ever imagined. Time Magazine recently published an article and declared this the drone age, "Drones are here to stay. Get used to it." (<http://time.com/longform/time-...>)

Indemnity is focused on growing the market share and being the leader in enabling flight operations over people without limitations, from the regulation and waiver processes to hardware and service.

CUSTOMERS

The dream of Jetson-style transportation is becoming reality

UAV or drone technology is revolutionizing business operations across the globe. Flight operations over urban areas will increase efficiency, improve safety, and expand commercial operations in virtually every industry.

We are prepared to succeed.

- IP portfolio includes: approved patent on the generation 1 inflatable parachute airbag system (SLS) and approved patent on the generation 2 inflatable deployment apparatus for descent restraint system for aerial vehicles (Nexus); patents pending on material welding technology, material prep process, valve assembly, and shock cord technology.
- To make our product possible we developed the technology to weld the Dyneema® composite fabric to allow the creation of our products to be possible. (Dyneema® is the world's strongest mass produced fiber on the planet and is 15 times stronger than steel. This technology has many market uses).
- Because the market is so rapidly changing, many of our technological advances and/or research and development breakthroughs are kept confidential.

Leading the Pack...

When Indemnis began in 2014, the website was a white background with the words, "If you knew what we were up to, you would know we are about to change the world", and that slogan still rings true today. Flight over people is going to change the landscape of the way businesses operate and Indemnis is the solution that is going to make it possible for non-robust consumer drones to safely be allowed to conduct commercial flight operations over people.

Since launching the Nexus last May, Indemnis has created a new standard in the industry. Through the process of vetting the functionality of our system with regulators and industry leaders, we have become leaders and experts in the failure dynamics unique to multi-rotor UAV flight.

Regulators have entrusted our team to help author the rules that are enabling the industry to expand. Indemnis was appointed as the technical lead for the ASTM testing standard specification WK59171 for Small Unmanned Aircraft System (sUAS) Parachutes. That standard is intended to set the bar for safety requirements for operations over people. Indemnis was also recently appointed as technical lead for a new initiative: to create a complete guide for all flight-over-people operations and the process of obtaining a waiver to fly drones over populated areas. This is a tall order, and the responsibility speaks volumes about the capabilities of our management team and the respect from our industry.

We are privileged to have pulled together some of the brightest minds and out-of-the-box thinkers, and we humble ourselves daily with the speed at which we make advancements.

We work hard to continually create a culture where everyone feels respected and challenged, where people love their jobs. The executive team does not expect anything out of others, that we wouldn't do ourselves. We have worked together as a team for almost ten years and built an environments of trust. To the outside world, Amber leads everything business related and externally focused and Alan leads the technical R/D and product innovation – in reality we lead as a super unit.

Flight over people is going to change the landscape of the way businesses operate and Indemnis is the solution. Our hardware makes it possible for non-robust consumer drones to safely be allowed to fly without limitations, but our leadership team gives Indemnis the ability to take calculated risks and quickly course correct when needed so that we continuously head in the right direction in a rapidly evolving industry.

FAQ

What is Indemnis?

Indemnis combines an aviation mindset with silicon valley technology. We started with the customer experience, mapped the bigger picture, and then engineered a solution to address the problem - we aren't in the business of selling parachutes, we are in the business of selling flight over people.

Literally engineered from the ground up...

Indemnis was built for drone operators by drone operators who found that existing parachute systems did not work reliably. We were tired of damaging and losing expensive equipment, so we decided to change that. We started with the customer experience, mapped the bigger picture, and then engineered a solution to address the problem—we aren't in the business of selling parachutes, we are in the business of selling flight over people.

Indemnis is committed to providing the best complete user experience to its customers through its innovative hardware, software, and services. We are not only enabling flight operations over people and helping companies expand their current business operations, we hold their hand through the process and allow users to fly with more confidence than ever before.

Who are the Company's primary competitors?

The Company's primary competitors are other manufactures of UAV recovery systems. Although there is not currently a direct market for our product, the overall growth in the global UAV market has sparked corresponding rapid growth in the market for UAV risk mitigation tools. It is a highly competitive race for the same market share and there are many companies who are developing UAV parachute recovery systems in hopes of achieving approval from the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) for flight operations over people. These companies include but are not limited to: Skycat, Opale Paramodels, ParaZero, MARS Parachutes, Fruity Chutes, Galaxy, Flying Eye, and emerging companies with greater capital resources to invest in research and development and marketing. Our strategy is to be the leader in enabling flight operations over people without limitations, from the regulation and waiver processes to hardware and service. For this reason, we believe that the principal competitive factor in the industry in which we compete will be proving compliance with the ASTM testing standard specification WK59171 for Small Unmanned Aircraft System (sUAS) Parachutes and receiving a waiver from the FAA for flight operations over people. Other competitive factors may also include: technical and industry expertise; innovative service and product offerings; ability to add business value and improve performance; reputation of product performance; contractual terms for wholesalers, including competitive pricing; ability to deliver product reliably and on a timely basis; quality of customer service and maintenance program; and global and scale, including level of presence in key emerging markets.

Governmental/Regulatory Approval and Compliance

The ability to operate a UAV for commercial purposes is critical for the industry to expand. The danger of putting drones in the air, is that flight conditions are never the same, and drones are unpredictable when failure happens. When a 20lb mass falls out of the sky, it is not just hurting someone - it is killing someone. That is not a risk the public should have to accept, therefore the FAA and other international aviation authorities have prohibited commercial flight operations in urban environments and thus prevented this rapidly evolving industry from growing until there is a solution. Industry leaders have been working together to author and create the regulatory framework that will set the testing benchmark and lessen the operational restrictions for those that can meet that standard. The American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM) has many standards in draft form that the FAA has indicated they will reference as a guide to allow for flight operations over people. The most important standard specification for our industry is WK59171, which is focused on standards for Small Unmanned Aircraft System (sUAS) Parachutes. Other key factors that are being worked on currently are standards around remote identification of UAVs, flight operation over people operational risk assessments, as well as federal preemption in regards to the national airspace.

What Will The Funds Raised Be Used For?

We are not currently selling product and funds will be used for continued operations and scaling. We will continue to push the regulatory framework, scale up and order components for manufacturing, expand our customer facing teams, and there will also be a small amount used on marketing and campaign related expenses.

The Offering proceeds are important to our operations. While not dependent on the Offering proceeds, the influx of capital will assist in the achievement of our next milestones and expedite the realization of our business plan, specifically research and development that is needed to continue for the product to meet the regulations for shipping with the Department of Transportation. Because we have already allocated the proceeds to a specific use dependent on the completion of this Offering, the proceeds will not have a material effect on our liquidity.

We believe that a fundamental measure of our success will be the customer experience and that is what will create value for our shareholders long term. Indemnis is committed to providing the best complete user experience to its customers through its innovative hardware, software, and services. We are not only enabling flight operations over people and helping companies expand their current business operations we hold their hand through the process and allow users to fly with more confidence than ever before.

The stronger our leadership is in the market, the more economic impact we will have when the regulation allows for mass sales. The foundation we are building today will directly translate to higher revenue and higher profitability for the future.

SUCH LOCK-UP PERIOD IS BINDING ON TRANSFEREES OF THESE SECURITIES.

(d) Without in any way limiting the representations and warranties set forth in Section 4 above, the Investor further agrees not to make any disposition of all or any portion of this instrument or the underlying securities unless and until the transferee has agreed in writing for the benefit of the Company to make the representations and warranties set out in Section 4 and the undertaking set out in Section 5(a) and:

(i) There is then in effect a registration statement under the Securities Act covering such proposed disposition and such disposition is made in accordance with such registration statement; or

(ii) The Investor shall have notified the Company of the proposed disposition and shall have furnished the Company with a detailed statement of the circumstances surrounding the proposed disposition and, if reasonably requested by the Company, the Investor shall have furnished the Company with an opinion of counsel reasonably satisfactory to the Company that such disposition will not require registration of such shares under the Securities Act.

(e) The Investor agrees that it shall not make any disposition of this instrument or any underlying securities to any of the Company's competitors, as determined by the Company in good faith.

(f) The Investor understands and agrees that the Company will place the legend set forth below or a similar legend on any book entry or other forms of notation evidencing this Crowd Safe and any certificates evidencing the underlying securities, together with any other legends that may be required by state or federal securities laws, the Company's charter or bylaws, any other agreement between the Investor and the Company or any agreement between the Investor and any third party:
