About

Dewey Moss is currently CEO of DMoss Productions LLC, formerly Vice President of Video Solutions at Symphony Talent. He is an Award-winning director, writer, and actor whose career has spanned Broadway shows, concert appearances, film/TV work, opera as well as a successful career in the corporate world. He has directed, written, and produced countless commercials, web videos, and industrial, earning many industry awards. His debut feature film A Normal Life won critical acclaim in film festivals worldwide and is currently in distribution. His play, Death of the Persian Prince, premiered at the 2015 Midtown International Theater Festival in NYC where it played to sold-out audiences and critical acclaim, then later at the 2015 South Asian International Performing Arts Festival where it won Best Play. The show enjoyed an Off-Off Broadway run at the Duo Theater, and is now in pre-production for an Off-Broadway run. Dewey's other current projects include a play about religion and gun violence called The Crusade of Connor Stephens (currently opening in June for an Off Broadway run), as well as a musical entitled The Southern Baptist Biddy Band and Their Dirty Little Secret. In addition, he recently made his Carnegie Hall debut as both singer and director when he performed the opera Puppet by Christian McLeer (a solo piece written specifically for Dewey), and directed the premiere of William Bolcom's Barnyard Boogaloo. His new play The Crusade of Connor Stephens recently received a successful premiere reading in NYC, and is currently in pre-production for an Off-Broadway run. Dewey holds a Master's Degree in Vocal Performance from CUNY-Hunter College. In addition to performing and directing, he also teaches acting and voice through his private New York City studio, DMoss Studios, with an emphasis on acting for the singer.
