Crypto Asset Rating, Inc.

Dec 2017 - Present

Co-founder and CEO

Crypto Asset Rating Inc. (or “CAR”) is the USA based Fintech firm dedicated to bringing transparency and credibility in the crypto space through a robust and structured rating system for the crypto assets. CAR aims to offer in-depth research analysis and insights and research so investors can make informed decisions. CAR has designed a comprehensive rating algorithm for the crypto assets to help people understand the long-term viability of a crypto asset and the company/ platform issuing it. CAR’s analytical rating framework is divided into several categories to ensure salient qualitative and quantitative issues are considered. For example, the qualitative categories are oriented towards analysis of business fundamentals, such as the firm’s competitiveness within its industry, the experience and complementary expertise of the team, technological disruption, regulatory exposure, etc. and the quantitative categories relate to financial analysis (if available) etc.
