Tyme

Tyme is an AI platform that automatically cosines and sells products for groups

Why you may want to support us...

- We are the team with the vision & focus to drive Tyme to become a market leading platform
- We are building a unique ecosystem of the ‘personal’ Tyme, the ‘business’ Tyme and the ‘commerce’ Tyme to maximise the network effect
- We are working on an advanced financial services interface with a tiered membership model to maximise the value of the ecosystem to our members
- Our technology is unique and is a key differentiator of the platform, and we are continuously developing and enhancing it to maximise the value to our members and to maximise the barriers to entry
- Based on our results, we have a clear path to profitability and a strong cash position to support our growth
- We have a comprehensive investment opportunity for product users, experts of our industry and investors who want to be part of the Tyme ecosystem and community

Please find the opportunity Tyme Capital and I work with the Tyme management team to invest in Tyme and help it become a market leading platform.

Yours Sincerely

Andy Pemberton (Founder & CEO of Tyme)

Tyme to Fix L-Commerce

Limitations of Commerce and Social

We have battled head-to-head, Goliaths in the world of retail commerce. Amazon like Tesco, Walmart like Sainsbury's, Alibaba like Carrefour. Each of these retailers has a unique offering, but they all have the same limitations. Their customers are limited to the products that they have in their portfolio and their focus is on them selling more than they have in the past. Social media platforms have a similar limitation. Their focus is on selling more ads to their users, and their users are limited to the products that they see in their feeds. Both commerce and social are limited by the products that they have in their portfolio.

Tyme is a new type of platform that is not limited by these limitations. Tyme is a platform that is focused on the user and their needs. Tyme is a platform that is focused on helping users find the products that they want to buy, and it is a platform that is focused on helping users sell the products that they want to sell. Tyme is a platform that is focused on the user and their needs.
