EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Real Estate Acquisition and Leasing

Transatlantic Real Estate LLC (TRE), is a diversified investment vehicle that acquires and leases specialized real estate assets. Our senior management team has significant experience in all aspects of the real estate industry, including acquisitions, dispositions, leasing, development, management and finance.

Special Purpose Industrial Real Estate

Our strategy is to acquire existing industrial real estate assets that can be converted to or are currently operating as medical cannabis cultivation facilities. We will then enter into triple-net lease transactions with experienced state-licensed medical cannabis operators. This lease agreement allows the tenant to pay for the maintenance of the property, taxes and insurance. Our company was attracted to the medical use cannabis sector due to the attractive rental market of State-Licensed Medical Cannabis tenants paying higher rents than typical industrial sector tenants. Therefore, providing a higher annual Net Operating Income and above market Internal rate of returns for our investors.

We plan to finance our acquisitions and growth from the proceeds from fund raising efforts, through equity and debt offerings. Our targeted range of investment will be in the range of $1 Million to $40 Million and average size of building will be between 25,000 Square feet and 100,000 Square Feet. For land acquisitions 1 Acre to 10 Acres.

We are actively seeking and evaluating medical-use cannabis facilities to purchase with the net proceeds of capital that we raise through our offerings. Our goal is to acquire 10 facilities over the next 3 years. Our senior management team has identified and is in various stages of reviewing in excess of $50 million of potential properties for acquisition, which amount is estimated based on preliminary discussions with sellers or our internal assessment of the values of such properties.

Market Opportunity

The Industrial Real Estate Sub-Market

The industrial real estate sub-market currently is performing quite well with vacancies in most, if not all, markets at historical lows due to many factors, including the move away from retail locations to local distribution locations for online retailers. The evolution of retail shopping is driving industrial real estate demand. Green Street Advisors estimates the increase in Ecommerce has led to a 20% annual increase in industrial real estate demand, equating to 30-40 million square feet of space. Green Street estimates 1 million square feet of additional industrial space is required for every $1 billion in online sales. Same day delivery, transportation expenses and access to a strong labor pool are creating the need for Ecommerce tenants to increase the quality of their locations. Leasing or owning industrial properties well outside of urban markets to take advantage of lower costs no longer works in an environment in which same day delivery is expected by customers. Demand from Ecommerce distribution is putting pressure on other non-traditional users of industrial space creating a great backdrop for owners of industrial real estate.

According to Collier's International, the U.S. industrial vacancy rate declined for the 22nd consecutive quarter in the first quarter of 2016, declining 10 basis points to 6.3% and down 70 basis points from the first quarter of 2015. Almost 64 million square feet of industrial real estate was absorbed in the first quarter of 2016, an increase of 9.6% year over year. Due to the lower vacancy rate, asking rates increased for the 18th consecutive quarter, according to Colliers.

This supply/demand dynamic creates significant opportunity for owners of industrial facilities, particularly those focused on niche categories, as options are limited for tenants requiring specialized buildings. We intend to purchase specialized industrial properties that are mission critical to the medical-use cannabis industry.

The Regulated Medical-Use Cannabis Industry

The regulated medical-use cannabis industry is a rapidly growing industry that we believe presents a unique real estate investment opportunity under current market conditions. In the United States, the development and growth of the industry has generally been driven by state law and regulation, and accordingly the market varies on a state-by-state basis. State laws that legalize and regulate medical-use cannabis allow patients to consume cannabis for medicinal reasons with a doctor's recommendation subject to various requirements and limitations. As of June 10, 2016, 26 states and the District of Columbia permit the medical-use of cannabis in some fashion.

We believe that the following conditions create a favorable environment at the current time for investing in real estate assets that support the regulated medical-use cannabis industry:

- Significant industry growth in recent years and expected continued growth: According to The ArcView Group, a cannabis industry research firm and investor network, of the $4.6 billion in estimated sales of legal cannabis in the U.S. in 2014, approximately 92% of such sales consisted of medical sales. We further expect that the size of the medical-use market will increase as new state markets, including Nevada, Illinois, Massachusetts, and New York, continue to expand.
- A shift in public opinion regarding the legalization of cannabis, especially as it relates to the medical-use of cannabis: The growth of the regulated cannabis industry has been fueled by changing public attitudes in the U.S. According to a poll by Harris Found 81% of Americans support the legalization of cannabis for medical-use.

- Increasing momentum toward legalization in many states, particularly for medical uses: Driven in part by shifts in public opinion, it is expected that in 2016 two additional states, Florida and Missouri, may vote to legalize the medical-use of cannabis. While the passage of measures in these states is not guaranteed and opposition is anticipated, expansion of the market opportunity to these states could nevertheless be significant.
- The federal government's current relaxed enforcement posture toward cannabis-related activities that are legal under state law: Cannabis is classified as a "Schedule I" controlled substance by the Drug Enforcement Agency and the United States Department of Justice. It is illegal to grow, possess and consume cannabis under Federal law. However, the U.S. Department of Justice has issued memoranda characterizing enforcement of federal cannabis prohibitions as low priority and instructing Federal prosecutors not to take action against individuals complying with state laws. In addition, members of the U.S. Congress have introduced various pieces of proposed legislation that would declassify cannabis as a Schedule I controlled substance or Otherwise remove cannabis from all schedules of controlled substances. Although there is no assurance that any of these proposals will be approved or that the Department of Justice's enforcement position will not change, we believe that the number and frequency of these proposals, when coupled with changing public attitudes and the prospect of legalization in additional states, indicate that the size and risk profile of the market in which our prospective tenants operate will likely improve.
- Limited access to capital by industry participants: To date, the status of cannabis under federal law has significantly limited the ability of state-licensed industry participants to fully access the U.S. banking system and traditional financing sources. Because of the lack of access to traditional financing sources, we believe that our sale-leaseback solutions will be attractive to state-licensed medical-use cannabis cultivators and producers.

We believe that the foregoing conditions create a unique window for investment in industrial real estate assets that are uniquely suitable for tenants in the regulated medical-use cannabis industry. We anticipate that future changes in federal and state laws may ultimately open up financing options that have not been available to date in this industry. We believe that such changes will take time, thereby creating an opportunity over the next few years to provide our sale-leaseback solutions to state- licensed industry participants.

We plan to take advantage of this market opportunity by purchasing the medical-use cannabis facilities of state-licensed growers with a focus on properties that we believe also have potential for long-term appreciation in value. We believe that our sale-leaseback solutions offer an attractive alternative to licensed cultivators who lack access to traditional financing alternatives. While we have entered into a non-binding letters of intent to purchase two properties, located in New York and Illinois, we also intend to acquire medical-use properties in other states that permit medical-use cannabis cultivation, including Washington, Oregon, Nevada, California, Arizona, and Maryland. We expect that our acquisition opportunities will continue to expand as additional states license additional medical-use cultivators.

Our Competitive Strengths

We believe that we have the following competitive strengths:

- The Experience of Our Executive Management Team. Our senior management team have substantial experience in the real Estate industry and sophisticated finance and capital markets expertise.
- Focus on Recurring and Dependable Revenue. Our business strategy will focus on acquiring real estate assets from and entering into long-term net leasing arrangements with licensed medical- use cultivators, which we believe will support a recurring and dependable revenue base from the properties that we expect to acquire.

- Focus on Underserved Industry with Less Competition. Our business strategy of focusing on specialized industrial real estate assets leased to tenants in the regulated medical-use cannabis industry may result in significantly less competition from existing institutional buyers due to the unique nature of the real estate and its tenants. Moreover, we believe the banking industry's general reluctance to finance owners of these facilities coupled with the owners' need for capital to fund the growth of their operations will result in significant opportunities for us to acquire specialized industrial properties that provide stable and increasing rental revenue along with the potential for long-term appreciation in value.
- Positive Medical-Use Cannabis Industry Trends. Based on the growth projections for the medical-use cannabis industry, we expect to see significant spending by state-licensed medical-use cannabis cultivators on their existing and new medical-use cannabis facilities.

Our Business Objectives and Growth Strategies

Our principal business objective is to maximize stockholder returns through a combination of distributions to our stockholders, (2) sustainable long-term growth in cash flows from increased rents, which we hope to pass on to stockholders in the form of increased distributions, and (3) potential long-term appreciation in the value of our properties for capital gains upon future sale. Our primary strategy to achieve our business objective is to invest in and own a portfolio of medical-use cannabis facilities leased to tenants holding the requisite licensing to operate in the regulated medical-use cannabis industry. This strategy includes the following components:

- ☐ Owning Medical-Use Cannabis Cultivation Properties and Related Real Estate Assets for Income. We primarily intend to acquire medical-use cannabis facilities from licensed growers who will continue their cultivation operations after our acquisition of the Property. We expect to hold acquired properties for many years and to generate stable and increasing rental income from leasing these properties to licensed growers.
- ☐ Owning Medical-Use Cannabis Cultivation Properties and Related Real Estate Assets for Appreciation. We primarily intend to lease our acquired properties under long-term net leases. However, from time to time we may elect to sell one or more properties if we believe it to be in the best interests of our stockholders. Potential purchasers may include others in the regulated medical-use cannabis industry desiring access to properties having the requisite zoning and regulatory approvals for cultivation and production of medical-use cannabis or financial purchasers seeking to acquire property for investment purposes. Accordingly, we will seek to acquire properties that we believe also have potential for long-term appreciation in value.
- ☐ Expanding Our Operations as Additional States Permit Medical-Use Cannabis Cultivation and Production. While we have entered into a letter of intent to purchase a property in California, we also intend to acquire properties in other states that permit cannabis cultivation for medical-use, including Washington, Oregon, Nevada, Arizona, and Maryland. We expect that our acquisition opportunities will continue to expand as additional states license additional cultivators.
- ☐ Owning Mortgages on Medical-Use Cannabis Cultivation Properties and Related Real Estate Assets. In circumstances where our purchase of medical-use cannabis facilities is not feasible, we may provide the owner of the property with a first lien mortgage loan secured by the property along with an option to sell the property to us in the future at a predetermined price.

Our Target Markets

Generally, we expect to target medical-use cannabis facilities owned and operated by licensed growers, which we will acquire from and concurrently lease to those growers under long-term net leases.

According to The ArcView Group, a cannabis industry research firm and investor network, nationwide sales of legal cannabis grew to $5.4 billion up from $4.6 billion in 2014. Of the $4.6 billion in estimated sales in 2014, approximately 92% of such sales consisted of medical sales. Demand is expected to remain strong in 2016 with legal markets projected to grow to $6.7 billion, a 24% increase over 2015, as new state medical markets, including Nevada, Illinois, Massachusetts and New York, expand. According to ArcView, by 2020, legal market sales will grow to estimated $21.8 billion, of which estimated medical-use sales will be approximately $10.15 billion.

States with Legal Access to Cannabis

It is expected that new states will continue to enter the marketplace, which would drive tremendous industry growth in 2018 and 2019, when cannabis businesses in states that legalize cannabis in 2016 will likely begin to generate revenues. Experience shows that it generally takes at least a year or two for a state to establish regulations and for cannabis businesses to generate revenue from operations. The ArcView Group's projected increase in legal cannabis sales by 2020 is, in part, attributable to this delay between legalization and revenue.

As of July 2018, 31 states and the District of Columbia allow their citizens to use medical cannabis. We expect that the medical-use facilities that we initially acquire will be geographically concentrated in California and Michigan. Continued development of the regulated medical-use cannabis industry depends upon continued legislative authorization of medical - use cannabis at the state level. Any number of factors could slow or halt progress in this area.

Size and Growth of California Medical Marijuana Market

According to the State of Legal Marijuana Markets Report (4th Edition), published by Arc View Market Research and produced by New Frontier, California is the largest medical marijuana program in the country among states where medical marijuana is currently legal. The California market is fueled by the state's large size, longevity as the first-in- the-nation medical marijuana program, and low barriers to patient access. Even with California's newly passed recreational marijuana law, which will significantly tighten the program with new restrictions; the market is still projected to reach $2.6 billion in sales in 2020. That is nearly double Colorado's $1.5 billion, and over five times the size of the markets in Arizona, Oregon, and Michigan for that year. If legalized in 2016, the medical marijuana markets in Ohio and Pennsylvania will become two of the largest in the country by 2020. According to the data, a handful of states in the western U.S. project to command over 50% of the medical marijuana market by 2020.

RISK FACTORS

A crowdfunding investment involves risk. You should not invest any funds in this offering unless you can afford to lose your entire investment.

In making an investment decision, investors must rely on their own examination of the issuer and the terms of the offering, including the merits and risks involved. These securities have not been recommended or approved by any federal or state securities commission or regulatory authority. Furthermore, these authorities have not passed upon the accuracy or adequacy of this document.

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission does not pass upon the merits of any securities offered or the terms of the offering, nor does it pass upon the accuracy or completeness of any offering document or literature.

These securities are offered under an exemption from registration; however, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission has not made an independent determination that these securities are exempt from registration.

8. Discuss the material factors that make an investment in the issuer speculative or risky:

(RISKS RELATING TO OUR BUSINESS AND INDUSTRY)

We will have access to your investment proceeds without regard to any minimum dollar amount that we raise.

There can be no assurance that we will raise sufficient funds to commence operations which may result in the entire loss of your investment.

We have limited operations to date.

We have limited operations to date, and limited cash available for operations. We will be reliant on the proceeds of this offering to implement our business plan. As a result, it will be difficult for you to evaluate our potential future performance without the benefit of an established track records from companies implementing a similar investment strategy. We may encounter unanticipated problems implementing our investment strategy, which may have a material adverse effect on our results of operations. Accordingly, no assurance can be given that we will be successful in implementing our investment strategy or that we will be successful in achieving our objective. Our prospects for success must be considered in the context of a new company with limited resources in a highly competitive industry. As a result, investors may lose their entire investment.

Our rental obligations and working capital requirements will put significant strain on our operations and cash flow.

Our monthly rental obligations and working capital requirements are substantial. Until the sale of our first harvest, if at all, we will require the proceeds of this offering to implement our business plan. If our cultivation fails or we do not generate sufficient revenues from our crop(s), it is unlikely that the Company will be able to make interest payments or repay the outstanding principal balance of the Note. Should this occur, you will lose your entire investment.

There can be no assurance that we will have sufficient funds to pay-off the mortgage on the property located in Via Real Carpinteria, California or make required monthly payments of interest and principal.

Target Offering	100	$10,000	$9,100
Maximum Amount	10,700	$1,070,000	$973,700

The payoff amount for the mortgage on the property is $15,000,000. There can be no assurance that we will have sufficient funds to pay-off the debt obligation or satisfy the ongoing mortgage obligation.

We may not generate sufficient revenues to satisfy our contractual obligations under the Note.

Our operating costs and capital requirements may prohibit us from paying interest on the Note. Moreover, if costs and capital expenditures exceed revenues, we will not be able to repay the outstanding principal balance due under the Note.

If we are unable to obtain capital, we may not be able to pay our debt obligations as they become due, and there is substantial doubt about our ability to continue as a going concern.

We may not generate sufficient cash flows from operations to retire our debt. Our ability to continue as a going concern is dependent upon our becoming profitable in the future and/or obtaining the necessary financing to meet our obligations and repay our liabilities arising from normal business operations when they come due. However, there can be no assurance that we will be successful in achieving these objectives.

We will need additional capital to sustain our operations and will likely need to seek further financing, which we may not be able to obtain on acceptable terms or at all. If we fail to raise additional capital, as needed, our ability to implement our business model and strategy could be compromised.

We have limited capital resources and operations. We require substantial capital to commence operations. We may not be able to obtain additional financing on terms acceptable to us, or at all. We have no commitments for further funding.

We face intense competition and many of our competitors have greater resources that may enable them to compete more effectively.

The industry in which we operate in general are subject to intense and increasing competition. Some of our competitors may have greater capital resources, facilities, and diversity of product lines, which may enable them to compete more effectively in this market. Our competitors may devote their resources to developing and marketing products that will directly compete with our product lines.

Federal regulation and enforcement may adversely affect the implementation of cannabis laws and regulations may negatively impact our revenues and profits.

Many states have laws and/or regulations that recognize, in one form or another, legitimate medical uses for cannabis and consumer use of cannabis in connection with medical treatment and recreational use. However, the policies and regulations of the federal government and its agencies are that cannabis has no medical benefit and a range of activities including cultivation and the personal use of cannabis is prohibited. Unless and until Congress amends these restrictions under the Controlled Substance Act ("CSA") there can be no assurance, that federal authorities may not enforce current federal law, and we may be deemed to be producing, cultivating, or dispensing cannabis in violation of federal law.

Variations in state and local regulation, and enforcement in states that have legalized either medical or recreational cannabis, may restrict cannabis-related activities, including activities related to medical cannabis, which may negatively impact our revenues and prospective profits.

Individual state laws do not always conform to the federal standard or to other states laws. A number of states have decriminalized cannabis to varying degrees, other states have created exemptions specifically for medical cannabis, and several have both decriminalization and medical laws. Variations exist among states that have legalized, decriminalized, or created medical cannabis or recreational exemptions. Active enforcement of state laws that prohibit personal cultivation of cannabis may indirectly and adversely affect our business and our revenue and profits.

Cannabis remains illegal under federal law.

Cannabis is a Schedule-I controlled substance and is illegal under federal law. Even in those states in which the use of cannabis has been legalized, its use remains a violation of federal law. Since federal law criminalizing the use of cannabis preempts state laws that legalize its use, strict enforcement of federal law regarding cannabis would likely result in our inability to proceed with our business plan.

Laws and regulations affecting the medical cannabis industry are constantly changing, which could detrimentally affect our proposed operations.

Local, state, and federal medical and recreational cannabis laws and regulations are broad in scope and subject to evolving interpretations, which could require us to incur substantial costs associated with compliance or alter certain aspects of our business plan. In addition, violations of these laws, or allegations of such violations, could disrupt certain aspects of our business plan and result in a material adverse effect on certain aspects of our planned operations.

We may not obtain the necessary permits and authorizations to operate in the cannabis business.

We may not be able to obtain or maintain the necessary licenses, permits, authorizations, or accreditations, or may only be able to do so at great cost, to operate its medical cannabis business. In addition, we may not be able to comply fully with the wide variety of laws and regulations applicable to the medical cannabis industry. Failure to comply with or to obtain the necessary licenses, permits, authorizations, or accreditations could result in restrictions on our ability to operate the medical cannabis business, which could have a material adverse effect on our business.

We may have difficulty accessing the service of banks, which may make it difficult for us to operate.

Since the use of cannabis is illegal under federal law, there is a strong argument that banks cannot accept for deposit funds from businesses involved with the cannabis industry. Consequently, businesses involved in the cannabis industry often have difficulty finding a bank willing to accept their business. The inability to open or maintain bank accounts may make it difficult for us to operate our contemplated medical cannabis businesses.

Any potential growth in the cannabis industry continues to be subject to new and changing state and local laws and regulations.

Continued development of the cannabis industry is dependent upon continued legislative legalization of cannabis at the state level, and a number of factors could slow or halt progress in this area, even where there is public support for legislative action. Any delay or halt in the passing or implementation of legislation legalizing cannabis use, or its sale and distribution, or the re-criminalization or restriction of cannabis at the state level could negatively impact our business.

The cannabis industry faces significant opposition, and any negative trends will adversely affect our business operations.

We are substantially dependent on the continued market acceptance, and the proliferation of consumers, of medical and recreational cannabis. We believe that with further legalization, cannabis will become more accepted, resulting in a growth in consumer demand. However, we cannot predict the future growth rate or future market potential, and any negative outlook on the cannabis industry may adversely affect our business operations.

We depend on our management, certain key personnel and board of directors, as well as our ability to attract, retain and motivate qualified personnel.

Our future success depends largely upon the experience, skill, and contacts of our officers and directors, and the loss of the services of these officers or directors, particularly our chief executive officer and chairman of our board of directors, may have a material adverse effect upon our business. Additionally, our revenues are largely driven by several employees with particular expertise in cannabis-related security, marketing and operations. If one of these key employees were to leave, it would negatively impact our short and long-term results from operations. Shortages in qualified personnel could also limit our ability to successfully implement our growth plan. As we grow, we will need to attract and retain highly skilled experts in the cannabis industry, as well as managerial, sales and marketing, security and finance personnel. There can be no assurance, however, that we will be able to attract and retain such personnel.

The amount of additional capital needed by the Company, if any, will depend upon the maturity and the objectives of the Company.

- Issuer repurchases of securities:

The company may have the authority to repurchase its securities from shareholders, which may serve to decrease any liquidity in the market for such securities, decrease the percentage interests held by other similarly situated investors to the Investor, and create pressure on the investor to sell its securities to the Company concurrently.

As a minority owner of the Company, the Investor will have limited or no ability to influence a potential sale of the Company or a substantial portion of its assets. Independent Accountant's Review Report

The Board of Directors
Transatlantic Real Estate LLC

I have reviewed the accompanying financial statements of Transatlantic Real Estate LLC, which comprises the balance sheet as of August 31, 2018, and the related statements of income, changes in members' equity, and cash flow for the one month then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements. A review includes primarily applying analytical procedures to management's financial data and making inquiries of company management. A review is substantially less in scope than an audit, the objective of which is the expression of an opinion regarding the financial statements as a whole. Accordingly, I do not express such an opinion.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement whether due to fraud or error.

Accountant's Responsibility

My responsibility is to conduct the review engagements in accordance with Statements on Standards for Accounting and Review Services promulgated by the Accounting and Review Services Committee of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. Those standards require me to perform procedures to obtain limited assurance as a basis for reporting whether I am aware of any material modifications that should be made to the financial statements for them to be in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. I believe that the results of my procedures provide a reasonable basis for our report.

Accountant's Conclusion

Based on my reviews, I am not aware of any material modifications that should be made to the accompanying financial statements in order for them to be in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.
