Netcapital and Portal do not make investment recommendations and no communication, through this website or in any other medium, should be construed as a recommendation for any security offered on or off this investment platform. Equity crowdfunding investments in private placements, Regulation A, D and CF offerings, and start-up investments in particular are speculative and involve a high degree of risk and those investors who cannot afford to lose their entire investment should not invest in start-ups. Companies seeking startup investments through equity crowdfunding tend to be in earlier stages of development and their business model, products and services may not yet be fully developed, operational or tested in the public marketplace. There is no guarantee that the stated valuation and other terms are accurate or in agreement with the market or industry valuations. Additionally, investors may receive illiquid and/or restricted stock that may be subject to holding period requirements and/or liquidity concerns. In the most sensible investment strategy for start-up investing, start-ups should only be part of your overall investment portfolio. Further, the start-up portion of your portfolio may include a balanced portfolio of different start-ups. Investments in startups are highly illiquid and those investors who cannot hold an investment for the long term (at least 5-7 years) should not invest.

Business and Anticipated Business Plan

6. Describe in detail the business of the issuer and the anticipated business plan of the issuer.

Priva is a marketplace for door-to-door regional transportation. Priva gives customers their time back by providing an alternative to commuter flights, such as Chicago to Detroit or New York to Boston. Though Priva's website, customers can reserve a black car or a bespoke mobile office which will transport them door to door. Customers pay Priva on a per ride basis. For black cars, Priva acts as a broker. Customers can place a ride request via Priva's website which is then passed along to a local black car provider. For the mobile offices, Priva is the owner & operator of those vehicles.

Risk Factors

A crowdfunding investment involves risk. You should not invest any funds in this offering unless you can afford to lose your entire investment.

In making an investment decision, investors must rely on their own examination of the issuer and the terms of the offering, including the merits and risks involved. These securities have not been recommended or approved by any federal or state securities commission or regulatory authority. Furthermore, these authorities have not passed upon the accuracy or adequacy of this document.

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission does not pass upon the merits of any securities offered or the terms of the offering, nor does it pass upon the accuracy or completeness of any offering document or literature.

These securities are offered under an exemption from registration; however, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission has not made an independent determination that these securities are exempt from registration.

7. Material factors that make an investment in Future Mobility Company Holdings, Inc. speculative or risky:

1. Future Mobility Company Holdings is a recently formed start-up entity with zero market share, limited revenues and cash flows. Unlike listed companies that are valued publicly through market-driven stock prices, the valuation of private companies, especially startups, is difficult to assess and you may risk overpaying for your investment. In addition, there may be additional classes of equity with rights that are superior to the class of equity being sold.
2. The company faces risks pertaining to customer acquisition and retention. The company is launching a new innovative travel service and must change existing consumer travel behavior. There is no guarantee that customers will prefer the company's travel offering. Additionally, even if the company is successful in providing customers a valuable service, competitors may emerge and undercut pricing, and erode the companies market position.
3. The company, to achieve its goals, will need to hire additional staff. Hiring and retaining the proper workforce to achieve the business objectives will be a challenge, especially to attract leading talent in the core fields of software development, design, and marketing.
4. The process of scaling the company to achieve scale and a significant market position will be costly. The company will need to seek outside capital to fuel the growth of the business. There is no assurance that this capital will be available, or that if available that it will be on favorable terms.
5. The company is faced with all risks associated with providing transportation services. Such risks include insurance costs, fuel costs, labor rates, vehicle wear, damage and/or collision. The company does its best to mitigate all operational risks, and holds insurance for its operational activities, in accordance with all applicable state & local laws. However, despite best efforts, operational risks remain. For example, increases in the price of diesel or wage rates of drivers will materially impact the financial performance of the company, and would likely reduce the value of the common stock.
6. The Company does not anticipate paying any cash dividends for the foreseeable future. The Company currently intends to retain future earnings, if any, for the foreseeable future, to repay indebtedness and to support its business. The Company does not intend in the foreseeable future to pay any dividends to holders of its shares of common stock.
7. Our management may not be able to control costs in an effective or timely manner. The Company's management anticipates it can use reasonable efforts to assess, predict and control costs and expenses. However, implementing our business plan may require more employees, capital equipment, supplies or other expenditure items than management has predicted. Likewise, the cost of compensating employees and consultants or other operating costs may be higher than management's estimates, which could lead to sustained losses.
8. Your shares are not easily transferable. You should not plan on being able to readily transfer and/or resell your security. Currently there is no market or liquidity for these shares and the company does not have any plans to list these shares on an exchange.
9. You may only receive limited disclosure. While the company must disclose certain information, since the company is at an early-stage they may only be able to provide limited information about its business plan and operations because it does not have fully developed operations or a long history. The company may also only obligated to file information periodically regarding its business, including financial statements. A publicly listed company, in contrast, is required to file annual and quarterly reports and promptly disclose certain events — through continuing disclosure that you can use to evaluate the status of your investment.

10. A sale of our company or of all the assets of our company may result in an entire loss of your investment. We cannot predict the market value of our company or our assets, and the proceeds of a sale may not be cash, but instead, unmarketable securities, or an assumption of liabilities. Our company currently has negative net worth (our liabilities exceed our assets) and it is unlikely that in the near term, a sale would result in a premium that is significant enough over book value to generate a return to our investors.

The Offering

Future Mobility Company Holdings, Inc. ("Company") is offering securities under Regulation CF, through Netcapital Funding Portal Inc. ("Portal"). Portal is a FINRA/SEC registered funding portal and will receive cash compensation equal to 4.9% of the value of the securities sold through Regulation CF. Investments made under Regulation CF involve a high degree of risk and those investors who cannot afford to lose their entire investment should not invest.

The Company plans to raise between $10,000 and $504,000 through an offering under Regulation CF. Specifically, if we reach the target offering amount of $10,000, we may conduct the first of multiple or rolling closings of the offering early if we provide notice about the new offering deadline at least five business days prior to such new offering deadline (absent a material change that would require an extension of the offering and reconfirmation of the investment commitment). Oversubscriptions will be allocated on a first come, first served basis. Changes to the offering, material or otherwise, occurring after a closing, will only impact investments which have yet to be closed.

In the event The Company fails to reach the offering target of $10,000, any investments made under the offering will be cancelled and the investment funds will be returned to the investor.

8. What is the purpose of this offering?

Proceeds are expected to go predominantly toward the salaries of our first three technical hires to help improve the website, tech backend and launch a mobile app.

9. How does the issuer intend to use the proceeds of this offering?

	If Target Offering Amount Sold	If Maximum Amount Sold
Total Proceeds	$10,000	$504,000
Less: Offering Expenses	$490	$24,696
Net Proceeds	$9,510	$479,304
Compensation for managers	$8,000	$400,000
Operational Expenses	$1,510	$79,304
Total Use of Net Proceeds	$9,510	$479,304

10. How will the issuer complete the transaction and deliver securities to the investors?

In entering into an agreement on the Netcapital Funding Portal to purchase securities, both investors and Future Mobility Company Holdings, Inc. must agree that a transfer agent, which keeps records of our outstanding Common Stock (the "Securities"), will issue digital Securities in the investor's name (a paper certificate will not be printed). Similar to other online investment accounts, the transfer agent will give investors access to a web site to see the number of Securities that they own in our company. These Securities will be issued to investors after the deadline date for investing has passed, as long as the targeted offering amount has been reached. The transfer agent will record the issuance when we have received the purchase proceeds from the escrow agent who is holding your investment commitment.

11. How can an investor cancel an investment commitment?

You may cancel an investment commitment for any reason until 48 hours prior to the deadline identified in the offering by logging in to your account with Netcapital, browsing to the Investments screen, and clicking to cancel your investment commitment. Netcapital will notify investors when the target offering amount has been met. If the issuer reaches the target offering amount prior to the deadline identified in the offering materials, it may close the offering early if it provides notice about the new offering deadline at least five business days prior to such new offering deadline (absent a material change that would require an extension of the offering and reconfirmation of the investment commitment). If an investor does not cancel an investment commitment before the 48-hour period prior to the offering deadline, the funds will be released to the issuer upon closing of the offering and the investor will receive securities in exchange for his or her investment. If an investor does not reconfirm his or her investment commitment after a material change is made to the offering, the investor's investment commitment will be cancelled and the committed funds will be returned.

12. Can the Company perform multiple closings or rolling closings for the offering?

If we reach the target offering amount prior to the offering deadline, we may conduct the first of multiple closings of the offering early, if we provide notice about the new offering deadline at least five business days prior (absent a material change that would require an extension of the offering and reconfirmation of the investment commitment). Thereafter, we may conduct additional closings until the offering deadline. We will issue Securities in connection with each closing. Oversubscriptions will be allocated on a first come, first served basis. Changes to the offering, material or otherwise, occurring after a closing, will only impact investments which have yet to be closed.

Ownership and Capital Structure

The Offering

13. Describe the terms of the securities being offered.

We are issuing Securities at an offering price of $0.84 per share.

14. Do the securities offered have voting rights?

The Securities are being issued with voting rights. However, so that the crowdfunding community has the opportunity to act together and cast a vote as a group when a voting matter arises, a custodian will cast your vote for you. Please refer to the custodian agreement that you sign before your purchase is complete.

15. Are there any limitations on any voting or other rights identified above?

You are giving your voting rights to the custodian, who will vote the Securities on behalf of all investors who purchased Securities on the Netcapital crowdfunding portal.

16. How may the terms of the securities being offered be modified?

We may choose to modify the terms of the securities before the offering is completed. However, if the terms are modified, and we deem it to be a material change, we need to contact you and you will be given the opportunity to reconfirm your investment. Your reconfirmation must be completed within five business days of receipt of the notice of a material change, and if you do not reconfirm, your investment will be canceled and your money will be returned to you.

Restrictions on Transfer of the Securities Offered

The securities being offered may not be transferred by any purchaser of such securities during the one-year period beginning when the securities were issued, unless such securities are transferred:

- to the issuer;
- to an accredited investor;
- as part of an offering registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission; or
- to a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, to a trust controlled by the purchaser, to a trust created for the benefit of a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, or in connection with the death or divorce of the purchaser or other similar circumstance.

The term “accredited investor” means any person who comes within any of the categories set forth in Rule 501(a) of Regulation D, or who the seller reasonably believes comes within any of such categories, at the time of the sale of the securities to that person.

The term “member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent” includes a child, stepchild, grandchild, parent, stepparent, grandparent, spouse or spousal equivalent, sibling, mother-in-law, father-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, brother-in-law, or sister-in-law of the purchaser, and includes adoptive relationships. The term “spousal equivalent” means a cohabitant occupying a relationship generally equivalent to that of a spouse.

Description of Issuer’s Securities

17. What other securities or classes of securities of the issuer are outstanding? Describe the material terms of any other outstanding securities or classes of securities of the issuer.

Securities

Class of Security	Amount Authorized	Amount Outstanding	Voting Rights	Other Rights
Common Stock	10,000,000	5,354,610	Yes

Options, Warrants and Other Rights

Type	Description	Reserved Securities
Stock Options	The Company adopted the 2018 Stock Plan (the "Plan") and reserved 555,556 shares of its common stock for issuance under the Plan. No terms have been determined and no stock options have been issued at the time of this filing.	555,556
Convertible Notes	In July of 2018, the Company issued convertible notes to two investors for total financing of $100,000. The convertible promissory notes bear interest at 5% and are due and payable, together with accrued and unpaid interest, on or after July 27, 2020. The notes' then outstanding principal and accrued interest are automatically convertible to the Company's stock upon the closing of the next equity financing (as defined in the agreements) resulting in gross proceeds of $250,000. The conversion price is the determined by the lesser of 80% of the price paid per share for such shares by the investors or the price determined by a $3,000,000 pre-money valuation on the Company's fully diluted capitalization prior to the Qualified Financing. The notes are also convertible into the Company's stock at a price per share determined by a $3,000,000 pre-money valuation on the Company's fully diluted capitalization upon maturity, at each noteholder's election. If the Company enters into a corporate transaction prior to maturity or conversion, the noteholders are to receive the greater of the then outstanding principal and accrued interest or the amount that would be received assuming the noteholders had converted to the Company's stock at a pre-money valuation of $3,000,000. The noteholders have preemptive rights to the Company's future financing offerings.	0

18. How may the rights of the securities being offered be materially limited, diluted or qualified by the rights of any other class of securities?

The Company has two outstanding convertible notes. These securities have a valuation cap of $3M and can convert into common equity once the company raises over $250k in funding in a priced round. This creates a risk of dilution for both the current shareholders and Netcapital investors.

19. Are there any differences not reflected above between the securities being offered and each other class of security of the issuer?

No.

20. How could the exercise of rights held by the principal owners identified in Question 5 above affect the purchasers of Securities being offered?

The Company's bylaws can be amended by the shareholders of the Company, and Directors can be added or removed by Shareholder vote. As minority owners, the Netcapital investors are subject to the decisions made by the majority owners. The issued and outstanding common stock gives management voting control of the company. As a minority owner, you may be outvoted on issues that impact your investment, such as the issuance of additional shares, or the sale of debt, convertible debt or assets of the company.

21. How are the securities being offered being valued? Include examples of methods for how such securities may be valued by the issuer in the future, including during subsequent corporate actions.

At issuer's discretion.

22. What are the risks to purchasers of the securities relating to minority ownership in the issuer?

Netcapital investors investing in Future Mobility Company Holdings should expect typical risks associated with minority ownership, including: A limited ability to impact day-to-day management decisions Limited to no representation on the Board of Directors An inability to demand monetary distributions from the business All of these risks stem from the fact that our majority shareholders may make decisions regarding the direction of the company with which you disagree, or that negatively affect the value of your investment. In this circumstance, you will have no recourse to change those decisions. Based on the risks described above, you may lose all or part of your investment in the securities that you purchase, and you may never see positive returns.

23. What are the risks to purchasers associated with corporate actions including:

- additional issuances of securities,
- issuer repurchases of securities,
- a sale of the issuer or of assets of the issuer or
- transactions with related parties?

As minority owners, Netcapital investors will be exposed to risk of corporate actions including: Issuance of additional securities. This will dilute the ownership percentage of the Netcapital investors. As a result, if we achieve profitable operations in the future, our net income per share will be reduced because of this dilution, and the market price of our common stock, if there is a market price, could decline. A repurchase of securities. While this would reduce the number of shares outstanding, the Company may then lack the cash required for growth, marketing expenses, or operating expenses. If we lack the ability to grow, we expect the market price of our common stock to decline. A sale of the issuer or of the assets of the company. This may result in an entire loss of your investment. We cannot predict the market value of our company or our assets, and the proceeds of a sale may not be cash, but instead, unmarketable securities. We may need to raise additional funds through public or private debt from sales to related parties. Such financing may not be available when needed. Even if such financing is available, it may be on terms that are materially adverse to your interests with respect to dilution of book value, dividend preferences, liquidation preferences, or other terms. No assurance can be given that such funds will be available or, if available, will be on commercially reasonable terms. If the terms of related-party financing are unfavorable to existing shareholders, we may still need to obtain such financing if the alternatives are even less desirable.

26. No.

Financial Condition of the Issuer

27. Does the issuer have an operating history?

No.

28. Describe the financial condition of the issuer, including, to the extent material, liquidity, capital resources and historical results of operations.

Future Mobility Company Holdings has been funded entirely by its founding team prior to the investment from Techstars. There is enough cash in the bank to sustain multiple months of operations. The transportation operations of the company are cash flow positive and generate enough revenue to operate sustainably. However, the company currently lacks the scale required to cover the overhead associated with the early employee salaries & office space, and as a result, should not be viewed as a going concern. The funds raised will be used to hire a software development team, expand to new markets, and digitally market the company's transportation services on platforms such as Expedia. The goals for the software development team are to build a digital backend for Priva's transportation service, and a mobile app to streamline the reservation experience. On market expansion, the goal is to operate in 3-4 cities in the Midwestern United States. The company will experience challenges in reaching these goals -- specifically around customer acquisition. The type of long-distance ground transportation that Priva is offering is a new concept to many regional travelers. Currently, travelers only consider driving or flying for the types of trips Priva intends to serve. Priva will need to break this existing mental model. Furthermore, acquiring and retaining customers is especially critical to ensuring that the vehicle fleet is utilized well enough to cover monthly financing payments. With an expansion of the fleet to additional geographic markets, Priva will be able to better fill return trips. Filling these return trips will have a very positive impact on Priva's financial performance because they are much higher margin trips. Proving out the financial performance of the business model should enable Priva to attract additional growth equity for further expansion.

Financial Information

29. Include the financial information specified by regulation, covering the two most recently completed fiscal years or the period(s) since inception if shorter.
