Company Overview

- Homefree® creates high quality baked treats that are delicious and wholesome for everyone, while also including people with most special dietary needs.
- Founded with the mission of inclusion by Jill Robbins, clinical psychologist and mother of a child with food allergies.
- Certified Woman Owned Business (WBENC) and Woman Owned Small Business (WOSB).
- Certified B Corporation for strong commitment to environmental and social responsibility.
- Certified Safe Quality Food (SQF) Level III for outstanding food quality and safety.

The problem that inspired the creation of Homefree

- Jill's son Bradley is one of the 1 in 13 children, or on average 2 per classroom, with food allergies. Bradley's allergist strongly advised "never eat food made in a shared facility with nuts or peanuts." When Jill and Brad expressed surprise and upset, the allergist explained:
 - A trace amount of a food allergen can be life threatening.
 - Research has found 6.5% clinically significant cross-contamination from shared facilities with peanuts, yet most baked goods are made in shared facilities.
- That was a frightening number.
- But what was left to eat that was safe, especially for treats? Very little.
- What would be safe AND taste good so everyone would want to enjoy it together? ...
- As a mom and psychologist, Jill knew the importance of inclusion. So, she left her career and created a solution.

The Solution: Homefree “Treats You Can Trust”

- Safe, delicious cookies, made from a facility, people, ingredients, and process to trust:
 - Created allergy friendly cookies that tasted so good that everyone would be delighted to eat them together.
 - Developed own dedicated facility completely free from peanuts, tree nuts, eggs, dairy, wheat and other allergens.
 - Set industry leading standards to source ingredients carefully, conduct allergen ELISA tests, and much more!
- Further, it was so great to include people with allergies, soon Homefree wanted to include everyone. So Homefree made the ingredients and facility gluten free too, and became certified gluten free.

Including everyone provided a much needed, unique solution!

Homefree is a terrific option for anyone seeking a delicious, healthy treat. And “one cookie for all” makes it super easy for stores and foodservice operators to satisfy special diet requests:

Homefree – One cookie for all!
