Param H.

Param H.

Software Product and Technology Leader.

November 28, 2017, Rob managed Param directly

I have known Param over the years. I was also Co-Founder and CEO with Param, at Beeonics (Now Gadget Software). Param was primarily responsible for Product and Engineering. Param wore many hats to get things done. Param built great team to build our SaaS product.

He is honest about his commitments. He is a team player, very committed to his team, co-founders and other stake holders in the company. He is intellectually honest, highly creative in his work and gets things done for the business. He is not afraid of getting out of his comfort zone and take on additional responsibilities. His integrity is unquestioned.

I highly recommend Param and would work with him again instantly.

Mike Yost

Mike Yost

iOS Developer at PastureMap

April 28, 2009, Rob was senior to Mike but didn't manage directly

I highly recommend Mike and would hire him in a heartbeat again. He is honest about his commitments and hits his dates. He is intellectually honest and puts in the extra hours to make sure the project is successful. He is highly creative in his work and in thinking about the business. His integrity is unquestioned.
