The Company and its Business

Company Overview

As an innovative travel reservation service company, we proudly offer our entire military community and patriotic Americans outstanding travel value, by offering discounted leisure travel rates, on hotels, airline tickets, rental cars, and vacations. In addition, we contribute a percentage of our profits to veteran and military-related nonprofit organizations. We are empowering our community to book travel with meaning, while connecting them to world-class suppliers of travel services. Our website, OurMilitaryTravel.com, has the capacity of uniting millions of like-minded active and retired members of our Armed Forces and their families with an inspiring online travel brand whose mission is to help our community and veterans plan and book the perfect trip.

Competitors and Industry

Many of our current competitors are large Online Travel Agents (OTA's) and have a portfolio of branded websites. In addition, chain hotels and independent, alternative accommodation websites, such as Airbnb, catering to vacation homes, have existed longer than us, and have larger visitor bases, a wider range of travel offerings and services, and greater brand recognition, customer loyalty, and significantly greater financial, human, marketing, technical and other resources than us.

Current Stage and Roadmap

Our Military Travel, Inc. a Delaware corporation was formed in 2017 to engage in business in the online travel industry. To date, we have assembled our management and advisory teams, launched our flagship brand OurMilitaryTravel.com website, app, loyalty program and MilitaryMuseums.org, but have not yet launched the other components of our business plan. Specifically, we will have limited revenues from our operations in the near future. We intend to invest heavily in implementing and optimizing our marketing, advertising, strategic alliances, and branding initiatives. With our 45M+ strong military community, our future is very promising.

Risk Factors

The SEC requires the company to identify risks that are specific to its business and its financial condition. The company is still subject to all the same risks that all companies in its business, and all companies in the economy, are exposed to. These include risks relating to economic downturns, political and economic events and technological developments (such as hacking and the ability to prevent hacking). Additionally, early-stage companies are inherently more risky than more developed companies. You should consider general risks as well as specific risks when deciding whether to invest.

These are the risks that relate to the Company:

Uncertain Risk

An investment in the Company (also referred to as “we”, “us”, “our”, or “Company”) involves a high degree of risk and should only be considered by those who can afford the loss of their entire investment. Furthermore, the purchase of any of the Class A Common Stock should only be undertaken by persons whose financial resources are sufficient to enable them to indefinitely retain an illiquid investment. Each investor in the Company should consider all of the information provided to such potential investor regarding the Company as well as the following risk factors, in addition to the other information listed in the Company’s Form C. The following risk factors are not intended, and shall not be deemed to be, a complete description of the commercial and other risks inherent in investing in the Company.

Our business projections are only projections

There can be no assurance that the Company will meet our projections. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to find sufficient demand for our product, that people think it's a better option than a competing product, or that we will be able to provide the service at a level that allows the Company to make a profit and still attract business.

Any valuation at this stage is difficult to assess

The valuation for the offering was established by the Company. Unlike listed companies that are valued publicly through market-driven stock prices, the valuation of private companies, especially startups, is difficult to assess and you may risk overpaying for your investment.

The transferability of the Securities you are buying is limited

Any Class A Common Stock purchased through this crowdfunding campaign is subject to SEC limitations of transfer. This means that the stock that you purchase cannot be resold for a period of one year. The exception to this rule is if you are transferring the stock back to the Company, to an "accredited investor," as part of an offering registered with the Commission, to a member of your family, trust created for the benefit of your family, or in connection with your death or divorce.

Your investment could be illiquid for a long time

You should be prepared to hold this investment for several years or longer. For the 12 months following your investment there will be restrictions on how you can resell the securities you receive. More importantly, there is no established market for these securities and there may never be one. As a result, if you decide to sell these securities in the future, you may not be able to find a buyer. The Company may be acquired by an existing player in the industry. However, that may never happen or it may happen at a price that results in you losing money on this investment.

If the Company cannot raise sufficient funds it will not succeed

The Company is offering Class A Common Stock in the amount of up to ($107,000) in this offering, and may close on any investments that are made. Even if the maximum amount is raised, the Company is likely to need additional funds in the future in order to grow, and if it cannot raise those funds for whatever reason, including reasons relating to the Company itself or the broader economy, it may not survive. If the Company manages to raise only the minimum amount of funds sought, it will have to find other sources of funding for some of the plans outlined in the "Use of Proceeds."

We may not have enough capital as needed and may be required to raise more capital.

We anticipate needing access to credit in order to support our working capital requirements as we grow. Although interest rates are low, it is still a difficult environment for obtaining credit on favorable terms. If we cannot obtain credit when we need it, we could be forced to raise additional equity capital, modify our growth plans, or take some other action. Issuing more equity may require bringing on additional investors. Securing these additional investors could require pricing our equity below its current price. If so, your investment could lose value as a result of this additional dilution. In addition, even if the equity is not priced lower, your ownership percentage would be decreased with the addition of more investors. If we are unable to find additional investors willing to provide capital, then it is possible that we will choose to cease our sales activity. In that case, the only asset remaining to generate a return on your investment could be our intellectual property. Even if we are not forced to cease our sales activity, the unavailability of credit could result in the Company performing below expectations, which could adversely impact the value of your investment.

Terms of subsequent financings may adversely impact your investment

We will likely need to engage in common equity, debt, or preferred stock financings in the future, which may reduce the value of your investment in the Common Stock. Interest on debt securities could increase costs and negatively impact operating results. Preferred stock could be issued in series from time to time with such designation, rights, preferences, and limitations as needed to raise capital. The terms of preferred stock could be more advantageous to those investors than to the holders of Common Stock. In addition, if we need to raise more equity capital from the sale of Common Stock, institutional or other investors may negotiate terms that are likely to be more favorable than the terms of your investment, and possibly a lower purchase price per share.

Management Discretion as to Use of Proceeds

Our success will be substantially dependent upon the discretion and judgment of our management team with respect to the application and allocation of the proceeds of this Offering. The "Use of Proceeds" described below is an estimate based on our current business plan. We, however, may find it necessary or advisable to re-allocate portions of the net proceeds reserved for one category to another, and we will have broad discretion in doing so.

Projections: Forward Looking Information

Any projections or forward-looking statements regarding our anticipated financial or operational performance are hypothetical and are based on management's best estimate of the probable results of our operations and have not been reviewed by our independent accountants. These projections are based on assumptions which management believes are reasonable. Some assumptions invariably will not materialize due to unanticipated events and circumstances beyond management's control. Therefore, actual results of operations will vary from such projections, and such variances may be material. Any projected results cannot be guaranteed.

We are reliant on one main type of service

All of our current services are variants on one type of service, providing a platform for "Booking Travel". Our revenues are therefore dependent upon the market for online travel.

Minority Holder; Securities with Voting Rights

The Class A Common Stock that you are buying has voting rights. However, you will be part of the minority shareholders of the Company and therefore will have limited ability to influence management's decisions on how to run the business. You are trusting management's discretion to make good business decisions that will grow your investments. Furthermore, in the event of a liquidation of our company, you will only be paid out if there is any cash remaining after all of the creditors of our company have been paid out.

You are trusting that management will make the best decision for the company

You are trusting in management's discretion. You are buying voting common stock, but as a minority holder, and therefore you must trust the management of the Company to make good business decisions that grow your investment.

Insufficient Funds

The company might not sell enough securities in this offering to meet its operating needs and fulfill its plans, in which case it will cease operating and you will get nothing. Even if we sell all the common stock we are offering now, the Company will need to raise more funds in the future, and if it can't get them, we will fail. Even if we do make a successful offering in the future, the terms of that offering might result in your investment in the company being worth less, because later investors might get better terms.

Our new product could fail to achieve the sales projections we expected

Our growth projections are based on an assumption that with an increased advertising and marketing budget our services/products will be able to gain traction in the marketplace at a faster rate than our current services/products have. It is possible that our new services/products will fail to gain market acceptance for any number of reasons. If the new services/products fail to achieve significant sales and acceptance in the marketplace, this could materially and adversely impact the value of your investment.

We face significant market competition

We will compete with larger, established companies who currently have services/products on the market and/or various respective service/product development programs. They may have much better financial means and marketing/sales and human resources than us. They may succeed in developing and marketing competing equivalent services/products earlier than us, or superior services/products than those developed by us. There can be no assurance that competitors will render our technology or services/products obsolete or that the services/products developed by us will be preferred to any existing or newly developed technologies. It should further be assumed that competition will intensify.

We are competing against other recreational activities

Although we are a unique company that caters to a select market, we do compete against other recreational activities. Our business growth depends on the market interest in the Company over other activities.

We are an early stage company and have not yet generated any profits

Our Military Travel, Inc. was formed on May 18, 2017. Accordingly, the Company has a limited history upon which an evaluation of its performance and future prospects can be made. Our current and proposed operations are subject to all business risks associated with new enterprises. These include likely fluctuations in operating results as the Company reacts to developments in its market, managing its growth and the entry of competitors into the market. We will only be able to pay dividends on any shares once our directors determine that we are financially able to do so. Our Military Travel Inc. has incurred a net loss and has had limited revenues generated since inception. There is no assurance that we will be profitable in the next 3 years or generate sufficient revenues to pay dividends to the holders of the shares.

We are an early stage company and have limited revenue and operating history

The Company has a short history, few customers, and effectively no revenue. If you are investing in this company, it's because you think that Our Military Travel, Inc. is a good idea, that the team will be able to successfully market, and sell the service/product, that we can price products/services profitably, and sell products/services to enough peoples to make the Company successful. Further, we have never turned a profit and there is no assurance that we will ever be profitable.

We have existing patents that we might not be able to protect properly

One of the Company's most valuable assets is its intellectual property. The Company owns trademarks, copyrights, Internet domain names, and trade secrets. We believe one of the most valuable components of the Company is our intellectual property portfolio. Due to the value, competitors may misappropriate or violate the rights owned by the Company. The Company intends to continue to protect its intellectual property portfolio from such violations. It is important to note that unforeseeable costs associated with such practices may invade the capital of the Company.

Our trademarks, copyrights and other intellectual property could be unenforceable or ineffective

Intellectual property is a complex field of law in which few things are certain. It is possible that competitors will be able to design around our intellectual property, find prior art to invalidate it, or render the patents unenforceable through some other mechanism. If competitors are able to bypass our trademark and copyright protection without obtaining a sublicense, it is likely that the Company's value will be materially and adversely impacted. This could also impair the Company's ability to compete in the marketplace. Moreover, if our trademarks and copyrights are deemed unenforceable, the Company will almost certainly lose any potential revenue it might be able to raise by entering into sublicenses. This would cut off a significant potential revenue stream for the Company.

The cost of enforcing our trademarks and copyrights could prevent us from enforcing them

Trademark and copyright litigation has become extremely expensive. Even if we believe that a competitor is infringing on one or more of our trademarks or copyrights, we might choose not to file suit because we lack the cash to successfully prosecute a multi-year litigation with an uncertain outcome; or because we believe that the cost of enforcing our trademark(s) or copyright(s) outweighs the value of winning the suit in light of the risks and consequences of losing it; or for some other reason. Choosing not to enforce our trademark(s) or copyright(s) could have adverse consequences for the Company, including undermining the credibility of our intellectual property, reducing our ability to enter into sublicenses, and weakening our attempts to prevent competitors from entering the market. As a result, if we are unable to enforce our trademark(s) or copyright(s) because of the cost of enforcement, your investment in the Company could be significantly and adversely affected.

The loss of one or more of our key personnel, or our failure to attract and retain other highly qualified personnel in the future, could harm our business

To be successful, the Company requires capable people to run its day to day operations. As the Company grows, it will need to attract and hire additional employees in sales, marketing, design, development, operations, finance, legal, human resources and other areas. Depending on the economic environment and the Company's performance, we may not be able to locate or attract qualified individuals for such positions when we need them. We may also make hiring mistakes, which can be costly in terms of resources spent on recruiting, hiring and investing in the incorrect individual and in the time delay in locating the right employee that fits with our team. If we are unable to attract, hire and retain the right talent or make too many hiring mistakes, it is likely our business will suffer from not having the right employees in the right positions at the right time. This would likely adversely impact the value of your investment.

Our ability to sell our product or service is dependent on outside government regulation which can be subject to change at any time

Our ability to sell service/products is dependent on outside government regulation. The laws and regulations concerning selling services/products may be subject to change and if they do in fact change, then selling of services/products may no longer be in the best interest of the Company. At such point, the Company may no longer want to sell the services/products and therefore your investment in the Company may be affected.

We rely on third parties to provide services essential to the success of our business

We rely on third parties to provide a variety of essential business functions for us. It is possible that some of these third parties will fail to perform their services or will perform them in an unacceptable manner. It is possible that we will experience delays, defects, errors, or other problems with their work that will materially impact our operations and we may have little or no recourse to recover damages for these losses. A disruption in these key or other suppliers' operations could materially and adversely affect our business. As a result, your investment could be adversely impacted by our reliance on third parties and their performance.

The Company is vulnerable to hackers and cyber-attacks

As an internet-based business, we may be vulnerable to hackers who may access the data of our investors and the issuer companies that utilize our platform. Further, any significant disruption in service on Our Military Travel, Inc. / - website, OurMilitaryTravel.com or its computer systems could reduce the attractiveness of the platform and result in a loss of investors and companies interested in using our platform. Further, we rely on a third-party technology provider to provide some of our back-up technology. Any disruptions of services or cyber-attacks either on our technology provider or on Our Military Travel, Inc. could harm our reputation and materially negatively impact our financial condition and business.

Risk factors:

A crowdfunding investment involves risk. You should not invest any funds in this offering unless you can afford to lose your entire Investment. In making an Investment decision, Investors must rely on their own examination of the Issuer and the terms of the offering, Including the merits and risks Involved. These securities have not been recommended or approved by any federal or state securities commission or regulatory authority. Furthermore, these authorities have not passed upon the accuracy or adequacy of this document. The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission does not pass upon the merits of any securities offered or the terms or the offering, nor does It pass upon the accuracy or completeness of any offering document or literature. These securities are offered under an exemption from registration; however, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission has not made an Independent determination that these securities are exempt from registration.

We are a pre-revenue company:

We are a pre-revenue company, have limited operating history and have yet to earn a profit. Because we have no revenue, it is challenging to evaluate our business projections. If we cannot raise adequate funds, we will not succeed or we will be required to raise additional capital. Our Military Travel Inc., a Delaware corporation was formed in 2017 to engage in business in the online travel industry. To date, we have launched our flagship brand OurMilitaryTravel.com and MilitaryMuseums.org website and app, but have not yet launched the other components of our business plan. Specifically, we will have limited revenues from our operations in the near future. We cannot assure at this time that we will be able to execute our overall objectives, that we will operate profitably, or that we will have adequate working capital to operate our business. We intend to invest heavily in implementing and optimizing our marketing, advertisings, strategic alliances, and branding initiatives. As a result, we might incur operating losses until we earn sufficient revenue from our operations. Even if the maximum amount is raised in our crowdfunding offering, we may need additional funds in the future to successfully develop our business, we might have to find additional sources of funding, which may be unavailable on favorable terms, or not at all.

Our business plan is speculative and subject to various risks and uncertainties:

Our business plan is speculative and subject to various risks and uncertainties. Our website traffic, and visitors might not increase significantly enough to maintain operational revenue needed for success. We may not succeed in creating any commercial revenue due to the ability to maintain relationships with our travel agent suppliers/partners, lack of marketplace acceptance, technological inefficiencies, and duopoly-related competition, or for other reasons. The demand for hotel, airline ticket and rental car reservation services and military-related content is uncertain. There is no assurance that we will ever earn significant revenue or a profit.

We have only one director:

We have only one director. Currently, the only member of our board of directors is CEO Robert Rogener. At this time, we do not have any committees of the board of directors. Robert Rogener has complete control over the direction of the Company, and does not have board members to rely on for feedback.

We are dependent on the economic conditions of the U.S.

We are dependent on the economic conditions of the U.S. Declines in travel or discretionary spending generally could reduce the demand for our travel services. During general economic downturns and or recessions, travel demand will likely reduce consumer confidence, which could cause consumers not to travel. The Company's business also depends on seasonality, with some traveling only on seasonal times of the year, rather than the whole year. Any significant decline in overall travel, may reduce demand for our services. The occurrence of any of the above could have a long-term adverse effect, or success on our business, results of operations, financial condition and survival.

The Online Travel industry in the U.S. is considered extremely competitive:

The Online Travel industry in the U.S. is considered extremely competitive and we may not be able to successfully compete against companies with substantially greater resources. Many of our current competitors are large Online Travel Agents (OTA's) and have a portfolio of branded websites, in addition, chain hotels and independent, alternative accommodation websites, such as Airbnb, catering to vacation homes, have existed longer than us, and have larger visitor base, they also have a wider range of travel offerings and services, and have greater brand recognition, customer loyalty, and significantly greater financial, human resources, marketing, technical and other resources than us. In addition, some of these companies can be our online travel agent suppliers/partners, providing us travel inventory, and this might be considered a barrier. Any of our competitors, or future competitors may attempt to develop, or may be currently developing, robust online and app related travel offerings targeting the military community, this could directly compete with our company and reduce or limit our market opportunity.

If we are unable to maintain or establish commercial relationships:

If we are unable to maintain or establish commercial relationships with our online travel suppliers/partners, our financial performance could be materially adversely affected. We rely on our online travel agent suppliers/partners to manage and power most aspects of the reservation and travel services process, including booking module, payment gateways, billing, customer service, rate available and access to all travel offerings. If our company is unable to maintain relationships with our online travel agent suppliers/partners or the prosperity and solvency of our online travel agent suppliers/partners is limited, we could be materially adversely affected. Our ability to attract users to our website depends on providing a comprehensive array of travel offerings, including hotel, airline ticket and rental car. To do so, we need to maintain relationships with a single, or multiple travel agent supplier/partners. The loss of existing relationships with our travel agent suppliers/partners, or our inability to continue to add new ones, may cause our services to cease. In addition, nearly all of our agreements with our travel agent suppliers/partners may be terminated at will or by either party. We cannot guarantee that our travel agent suppliers/partners will continue to work with us. We may also be unable to negotiate rate access, pricing or other terms that are consistent or more favorable within a competitive environment.

As a new company we have a limited operating history:

As a new company we have a limited operating history, and our financial projections and certain assumptions may prove to be inaccurate. Any projections or assumptions could be incorrect and would be subject to future conditions that may be out of our control. We may experience unforeseen costs or anticipated revenues might not occur, resulting in lower than forecasted results. We are unable to reassure that the results discussed in any financial projections will in fact be realized.

We will rely on the value of our brands:

We will rely on the value of our brands, and the costs of maintaining and enhancing our brand awareness may increase over time. We anticipate investing financial and human resources in our brands in order to retain and expand our customer base in our target markets.

Our processing, storage, use and disclosure of personal data exposes us to risks

Our processing, storage, use and disclosure of personal data exposes us to risks of internal or external security breaches and could give rise to liabilities. The security of data when engaging in electronic commerce is essential to maintaining consumer and travel service provider confidence in our services. Any security breach whether instigated internally or externally on our systems or other Internet-based systems could significantly harm our reputation and therefore our business, brand, market share and results of operations. Our existing security measures may not be successful in preventing security breaches. A party that is able to circumvent our security systems could steal consumer information or transaction data or other proprietary information. In the last few years, several major companies, including Yahoo!, Sony, Home Depot, JPMorgan, Target, Zappos, Apple, AOL, LinkedIn and Google experienced high-profile security breaches that exposed their customers' and/or employees' personal information. We will expend resources to protect against security breaches, and in the future, we may need to increase our security-related expenditures to maintain or increase our systems' security or to address problems caused and liabilities incurred by breaches. Security breaches could result in severe damage to our information technology infrastructure, including damage that could impair our ability to offer our services or the ability of consumers to make reservations or conduct searches through our services, as well as loss of customer, or other data that could materially and adversely affect our ability to conduct our business, satisfy our commercial obligations or meet our public reporting requirements in a timely fashion or at all. Security breaches could also result in negative publicity, damage our reputation, expose us to risk of loss or litigation and possible liability, subject us to regulatory penalties and sanctions, or cause consumers to lose confidence in our security and choose to use the services of our competitors, any of which would have a negative effect on the value of our brand, our market share and our results of operations. We also face risks associated with security breaches affecting third parties conducting business over the Internet. Consumers generally are concerned with security and privacy on the Internet, and any publicized security problems could negatively affect consumers' willingness to provide private information or effect commercial transactions on the Internet generally, including through our services. Our business is conducted with our third-party supplier/partners, which generate travel reservations through our infrastructure. Additionally, consumers using our services could be affected by security breaches at third parties such as travel service providers, payment processors or global distribution systems ("GDSs") upon which our third-party suppliers/partners rely. A security breach at any such third-party, could be perceived by consumers as a security breach of our systems and in any event could result in negative publicity, damage our reputation, expose us to risk of loss or litigation and possible liability and subject us to regulatory penalties and sanctions. In addition, such third parties may not comply with applicable disclosure requirements, which could expose us to liability.

Statements and discussions contained in this offering:

Statements and discussions contained in this offering, its attachments and on our websites, does NOT constitute endorsement by any military branch or U.S. Government institution, Department of Defense, including the United States Army, United States Navy, United States Marine Corps, United States Air Force, United States Coast Guard, the National Guard, or U.S. veterans organizations. Furthermore, they do not endorse or authorize Our Military Travel, Inc. in any way. The selling of these securities haven't been sanctioned, recommended or encouraged by the federal government.

If we were to lose the services of our key personnel could have a material adverse effect.

If we were to lose the services of our key personnel, we may not be able to execute our business strategy. Our success is substantially dependent on the performance of our CEO Robert Rogener, executive officers and key employees. The loss of any of our officers, especially our CEO, would have a material adverse effect on operations. We will generally be dependent upon Robert Rogener for the direction, management and daily supervision of our operations.

We may be unable to maintain or establish commercial relationships.

If we are unable to maintain or establish commercial relationships with our online travel suppliers/partners, our financial performance could be materially adversely affected. We rely on our online travel agent suppliers/partners to manage and power most aspects of the reservation and travel services process, including booking module, payment gateways, billing, customer service, rate available and access to all travel offerings. If our company is unable to maintain relationships with our online travel agent suppliers/partners or the prosperity and solvency of our online travel agent suppliers/partners is limited, we could be materially adversely affected. Our ability to attract users to our website depends on providing a comprehensive array of travel offerings, including hotel, airline ticket and rental car. To do so, we need to maintain relationships with a single, or multiple travel agent supplier/partners. The loss of existing relationships with our travel agent suppliers/partners, or our inability to continue to add new ones, may cause our services to cease. In addition, nearly all of our agreements with our travel agent suppliers/partners may be terminated at will or by either party. We cannot guarantee that our travel agent suppliers/partners will continue to work with us. We may also be unable to negotiate rate access, pricing or other terms that are consistent or more favorable within a competitive environment.

Website traffic to our site may be diverted due to changes in search engine algorithms and this would have a material adverse effect on the Company.

We rely on search engines, like Google and Yahoo, which may change their business models in ways that could have a negative impact on our business and financial performance. We use Google, Yahoo and Bing and other Internet search engines to generate traffic to our websites, principally through organic and paid keyword placements. We obtain traffic via search engines and therefore utilize SEO techniques, and search engine marketing to improve our organic placement in relevant search queries. These search engines regularly update and change algorithms that determine the placement and display of organic results of a user's search. These changes could negatively affect our website traffic. In addition, traffic is directed to our website through our participation in cost per click advertising (CPC), display advertising, advertising networks, affiliate websites and social networking websites. Pricing and deliverable dynamics for these traffic sources can be expensive, and experience rapid variation, and varying levels of efficiency and effectiveness may occur. This can negatively affect our ranking, our reduction in website traffic may have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects.

Our marketing, advertising, and branding initiative may be unsuccessful

Our marketing, advertising, and branding initiatives may not be adequately implemented, or fail to resonate with our customers. We will market and advertise through a diverse spectrum of online and offline marketing techniques, some might include seasonal promotions, loyalty programs, hotel rebate programs, etc. Many of these initiatives might not connect and fail to resonate with our affinity target audience, if our initiatives are unsuccessful, we will not create enough traffic to sustain business operations.

Any significant disruption in our loyalty offerings could damage our reputation.

Any significant disruption in our loyalty offerings "Free Gift Rewards Program", or TextToTravel Hotel Concierge Service, could damage our reputation and result in a loss of users, which would harm our business. We depend on supplier connectivity and on the use of various technologies and systems used for administering our programs.

We rely on third party technology platforms and if they fail, we will be unable to administer and fulfill the programs.

If these third-party technology platforms fail, we will be unable to administer and fulfill the programs. As our Company grows in size, scope and complexity, we need to continue to fund the programs, if we are unable to adequately offer these programs, it could damage our brand, reputation and ability to offer an attractive loyalty program.

Technology interruptions would affect our ability to operate our businesses and maintain our competitiveness.

We rely on technology to operate our businesses and maintain our competitiveness, and any failure to invest in and adapt to technological developments could harm our business. We depend on the use of various technologies and systems, some from third parties, including technology and systems used for websites, apps, telephony, supplier connectivity, communications, fraud detection and administration. As our Company grows in size, scope and complexity, we might not have the financial resources to constantly improve and upgrade our systems and infrastructure functionalities. Any significant service disruption on our websites and apps or in our computer systems, some of which are currently hosted by third-party service providers, could damage our reputation and result in a loss of users, which would harm our business and results of operations. Interruptions in these systems, whether due to system failures, computer viruses or physical or electronic break-ins, could affect the security or availability of our services on our websites and apps and prevent or inhibit the ability of users to access our services.

Management may fail to apply the use of the proceeds effectively and this could permanently harm our business or have a negative effect on our business success.

We have broad discretion over the use of the proceeds we receive from this offering and may not apply the proceeds in ways that increase the value of your investment. We will have broad discretion in the usage of the net proceeds from this offering and, as a result, you will have to rely upon the judgment of our management with respect to the use of these proceeds. Our management may spend a portion or all of the net proceeds in ways that not all investors approve of or that may not yield a satisfactory return. The failure by our management to apply these funds effectively could permanently harm our business and have a negative effect on our business success.

If we become subject to legal proceedings, this could have a significant adverse effect on our financial condition and ability to operate.

From time to time, we could be involved in legal proceedings, which could adversely affect us. In the future, we could become subject to legal proceedings, litigations, claims or government investigations or inquiries, which can be expensive, lengthy and disruptive to our normal operations. The outcomes of any potential legal proceedings, litigations, claims or government investigations or inquiries could have a significant adverse effect on our financial condition, and ability to operate.

If we fail to be competitive, our business would be adversely affected.

The industry in which we operate is dynamic. We will need to continuously adapt our business to remain competitive, including potential investments in evolving channels such as metasearch and mobile, as well as offering new consumer choices, including inventory types and transactional models, and increasing supplier inventory on our existing platform through partnerships. If we fail to appropriately adapt to competitive or consumer preference developments, our business could be adversely affected. Our attempts to adapt our current business model or practices or to adopt new business models and practices in order to compete, may involve significant risks and uncertainties, including distraction of management from current operations, expenses associated with the initiatives, different legal or tax requirements, inadequate return on investments, and other difficulties, as well as limit our ability to develop new site features. In addition, adaptations to our business may require significant investments. These new initiatives may not be successful and may harm our financial condition and operating results.

We may not be able to keep up with rapid technological changes, our business would be adversely affected.

We may not be able to keep up with rapid technological changes. The market in which we compete is characterized by rapidly changing technology, evolving industry standards, consolidation, frequent new service announcements, introductions and enhancements and changing consumer demands. We may not be able to keep up with these rapid changes. In addition, these market characteristics are heightened by the progress of technology adoption in various markets, including the continuing adoption of the Internet and online commerce in certain geographies and the emergence and growth of the use of smartphones and tablets for mobile e-commerce transactions, including through the increasing use of mobile apps. As a result, our future success will depend on our ability to adapt to rapidly changing technologies, to adapt our services to evolving industry standards and to continually innovate and improve the performance, features and reliability of our services in response to competitive service offerings and the evolving demands of the marketplace. In particular, we believe that it is increasingly important for us to effectively offer our services through mobile apps and mobile-optimized websites on smartphones and tablets. Any failure by us to successfully develop and achieve customer adoption of our mobile apps and mobile-optimized websites would likely have a material and adverse effect on our growth, market share, business and results of operations. Further, to the extent mobile devices enable users to block advertising content on their devices, our advertising revenue and our ability to market our brands and acquire new customers may be negatively affected. We believe that ease-of-use, comprehensive functionality and the look and feel of our mobile apps and mobile optimized websites increasingly will be competitively critical as consumers obtain more of their travel services through mobile devices. As a result, we intend to spend resources maintaining, developing and enhancing our websites and mobile platforms, including our mobile-optimized websites and mobile apps, and other technologies. Any failure to implement or adapt to new technologies in a timely manner or at all could adversely affect our ability to compete, increase our customer acquisition costs or otherwise adversely affect our business, and therefore adversely affect our brand, market share and results of operations.

Our processing, storage, use and disclosure of personal data exposes us to risks

Our processing, storage, use and disclosure of personal data exposes us to risks of internal or external security breaches and could give rise to liabilities. The security of data when engaging in electronic commerce is essential to maintaining consumer and travel service provider confidence in our services. Any security breach whether instigated internally or externally on our systems or other Internet-based systems could significantly harm our reputation and therefore our business, brand, market share and results of operations. Our existing security measures may not be successful in preventing security breaches. A party that is able to circumvent our security systems could steal consumer information or transaction data or other proprietary information. In the last few years, several major companies, including Yahoo!, Sony, Home Depot, JPMorgan, Target, Zappos, Apple, AOL, LinkedIn and Google experienced high-profile security breaches that exposed their customers' and/or employees' personal information. We will expend resources to protect against security breaches, and in the future, we may need to increase our security-related expenditures to maintain or increase our systems' security or to address problems caused and liabilities incurred by breaches. Security breaches could result in severe damage to our information technology infrastructure, including damage that could impair our ability to offer our services or the ability of consumers to make reservations or conduct searches through our services, as well as loss of customer, or other data that could materially and adversely affect our ability to conduct our business, satisfy our commercial obligations or meet our public reporting requirements in a timely fashion or at all. Security breaches could also result in negative publicity, damage our reputation, expose us to risk of loss or litigation and possible liability, subject us to regulatory penalties and sanctions, or cause consumers to lose confidence in our security and choose to use the services of our competitors, any of which would have a negative effect on the value of our brand, our market share and our results of operations. We also face risks associated with security breaches affecting third parties conducting business over the Internet. Consumers generally are concerned with security and privacy on the Internet, and any publicized security problems could negatively affect consumers' willingness to provide private information or effect commercial transactions on the Internet generally, including through our services. Our business is conducted with our third-party supplier/partners, which generate travel reservations through our infrastructure. Additionally, consumers using our services could be affected by security breaches at third parties such as travel service providers, payment processors or global distribution systems ("GDSs") upon which our third-party suppliers/partners rely. A security breach at any such third-party, could be perceived by consumers as a security breach of our systems and in any event could result in negative publicity, damage our reputation, expose us to risk of loss or litigation and possible liability and subject us to regulatory penalties and sanctions. In addition, such third parties may not comply with applicable disclosure requirements, which could expose us to liability.

If our third-party suppliers/partners do not cooperate with our business model, our business, market share and results of operations could be harmed.

We are dependent on our third-party suppliers/partners, for all of our inventory, including car rentals, hotels and airline tickets. We rely on these third-party providers/partners to make their inventory available to consumers through us. During the course of our business, we will be in communications with our third-party suppliers /partners about the nature and extent of their participation in our services. A significant inventory reduction on the part of any of our third-party suppliers /partners could have a material adverse effect on our business, market share and results of operations. To the extent that any of our third-party suppliers /partners cease to participate in our website offerings or decided to require consumers to purchase services directly from them, our business, market share and results of operations could be harmed.

What it means to be a minority holder

As a minority holder of Class A Common Stock of the company, you will have limited rights in regards to the corporate actions of the company, including additional issuances of securities, company repurchases of securities, a sale of the company or its significant assets, or company transactions with related parties. Further, investors in this offering may have rights less than those of other investors, and will have limited influence on the corporate actions of the company.

Dilution

Investors should understand the potential for dilution. The investor's stake in a company could be diluted due to the company issuing additional shares. In other words, when the company issues more shares, the percentage of the company that you own will go down, even though the value of the company may go up. You will own a smaller piece of a larger company. This increase in number of shares outstanding could result from a stock offering (such as an initial public offering, another crowdfunding round, a venture capital round, angel investment), employees exercising stock options, or by conversion of certain instruments (e.g. convertible bonds, preferred shares or warrants) into stock.

If the company decides to issue more shares, an investor could experience value dilution, with each share being worth less than before, and control dilution, with the total percentage an investor owns being less than before. There may also be earnings dilution, with a reduction in the amount earned per share (though this typically occurs only if the company offers dividends, and most early stage companies are unlikely to offer dividends, preferring to invest any earnings into the company).

Transferability of securities

For a year, the securities can only be resold:

- In an IPO;
- To the company;
- To an accredited investor; and
- To a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, to a trust controlled by the purchaser, to a trust created for the benefit of a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, or in connection with the death or divorce of the purchaser or other similar circumstance.

Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Financial Condition

You should read the following discussion and analysis of our financial condition and results of our operations together with our financial statements and related notes appearing at the end of this Offering Memorandum. This discussion contains forward-looking statements reflecting our current expectations that involve risks and uncertainties. Actual results and the timing of events may differ materially from those contained in these forward-looking statements due to a number of factors, including those discussed in the section entitled "Risk Factors" and elsewhere in this Offering Memorandum.

Results of Operations

How long can the business operate without revenue:

24 months

Foreseeable major expenses based on projections:

1. Operations, advertising, and business development; 2. Website development; 3. Legal & intellectual property protection costs; and 4. Intermediary fees;

Future operational challenges:

At Our Military Travel Inc., we pride ourselves on finding, motivating, and retaining talented employees. We plan to utilize our connections to locate talent that believe in our mission statement. Giving employees ownership of the company helps induce these individuals to work for us. It is conceivable that we might encounter future operational challenges. For example, we rely on third parties travel agencies to provide a variety of essential business functions, including travel inventory, and they might not be able to perform their services in an adequate manner. In addition, our company could be vulnerable to hackers and this could adversely affect our business.

Future challenges related to capital resources:

Obtaining capital resources is always difficult for startups. For investors to determine profitability, it's important to keep in mind our business' vision and mission when analyzing our business model. We will operate with integrity, be vigilant about cash flow, learn from our competition, leverage our business and marketing acumen, and keep true to our goal of serving our military community by providing them with travel at a reasonable price. We rely on cash flow from travel commissions for our primary source of income. Because we are a pre-revenue company, we are relying on raising funds to market, build our brand, and grow our organization. Following this capital raise, we are planning on raising an additional $963,000 for a total amount of $1,070,000 in exchange for Class A Common Stock. As a small business entity, various bank loans and external financing can be very limited. If we are unable to obtain financing through a subsequent raise or loan, it will adversely affect operations, cash flow, and profitability.

Future milestones and events:

Various marketing-related milestones that will impact the company financially include the following: successful strategic alliances with various military-related organizations, companies, and non-profit organizations, the ability to exceed 100,000 website visitors per month, and visitors enrolling in our free gift loyalty rewards program. In addition, we will be hiring mini-brand ambassadors that are branch specific, for the Army, the Navy, the Marines, the Air Force, the Coast Guard, and the National Guard. We believe future milestones will reflect the success of our developing business model and future fundraising activity. Our future success is determined by the following: our ability to implement optimal timing of our business model, our management team possessing the leadership skills to motivate and adapt, and obtaining adequate funding.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

What capital resources are currently available to the Company? (Cash on hand, existing lines of credit, shareholder loans, etc...)

We currently have $11,200 in cash available.

How do the funds of this campaign factor into your financial resources? (Are these funds critical to your company operations? Or do you have other funds or capital resources available?)

Any funds that are derived from equity crowdfunding will help propel our business model to the next phase. We are hopeful that we will raise $107,000 in this offering, and we will utilize equity crowdfunding again in the near future to obtain a total of $1,070,000. Many other future options of funding could include: equity, bank loans (debt), institutional funding, family offices, hedge funds, strategic alliance investments, or an IPO. Upon raising $1,070,000, we should be able to run our business off of net profits.

Are the funds from this campaign necessary to the viability of the company? (Of the total funds that your company has, how much of that will be made up of funds raised from the crowdfunding campaign?)

The funds we raise will help us get the traction for our future success. We are a pre-revenue company that needs cash to obtain market share and build ourselves as a branded travel leader in the military community.

How long will you be able to operate the company if you raise your minimum? What expenses is this estimate based on?

We already have the technology, the website, and the infrastructure in place for success. The ability to continue to grow and obtain future market share is based on the current and future capital raises. Based on anticipated expenditures listed in "use of proceeds", we believe we will be able to be operate for 12 months due to our lack of debt, very lean operations, and existing infrastructure.

How long will you be able to operate the company if you raise your maximum funding goal?

The goal of this round of funding is instrumental to our short-term progress. Based on anticipated expenditures listed in "use of proceeds", we believe we will be able to operate for 24-36 months.

Are there any additional future sources of capital available to your company? (Required capital contributions, lines of credit, contemplated future capital raises, etc...)

At this time, we have limited financial resources. We will be aggressive and prudent when pursuing additional financing. All future capital fundraising will be instrumental for our long-term success.

Indebtedness

The Company does not have any material terms of indebtedness.

Valuation

Pre-Money Valuation: $3,204,375.00

Valuation Details: We believe our website, OurMilitaryTravel.com, our apps, technology, and strategic alliance agreements are very valuable. In addition, the skills and expertise of our management team are a vital asset to our business. Our CEO has extensive travel experience and helped with the successful IPO for United Online (NASDAQ:UNTD). Our Team Lead of Technology and Engineering was instrumental in building out many initiatives at Priceline (NASDAQ: BKNG) for over 8 years. As Director of Global Engineering, he was responsible for directing IT teams in the design, development, and implementation of enterprise initiatives. We believe that the management team's experience and insight adds to the company's valuation. Major online travel booking companies are very successful and have a history of acquiring brands for market share. An example of this is Expedia. Since 2010, Expedia has acquired over 10 companies, exceeding seven billion dollars. The military affinity market is untapped, has 45M+ potential customers, and is without a true branded leader. OurMilitayTravel.com offers a valuable inventory of hotels, rental car, and air, plus travel resources unique to the community it serves. With this huge opportunity, combined with our attributes, we believe we are poised to be the branded leader in this lucrative vertical and be a target for acquisition.

OUR MILITARY TRAVEL, INC.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (UNAUDITED)
As of December 31, 2017 and for the period then ended

NOTE 1: NATURE OF OPERATIONS

Our Military Travel, Inc. (the “Company”), is a corporation organized May 18, 2017 under the laws of Delaware and headquartered in California. The Company operates a travel booking website, OurMilitaryTravel.com, marketed to the military community and patriotic Americans.

NOTE 2: SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Presentation

The accounting and reporting policies of the Company conform to accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP).

The Company adopted the calendar year as its basis of reporting.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash Equivalents

The Company considers all highly liquid securities with an original maturity of less than three months to be cash equivalents. The Company’s cash and cash equivalents in bank deposit accounts, at times, may exceed federally insured limits.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”) guidance specifies a hierarchy of valuation techniques based on whether the inputs to those valuation techniques are observable or unobservable. Observable inputs reflect market data obtained from independent sources, while unobservable inputs reflect market assumptions. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 measurement) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3 measurement). The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are as follows:

Level 1 - Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the reporting entity has the ability to access at the measurement date. Level 1 primarily consists of financial instruments whose value is based on quoted market prices such as exchange-traded instruments and listed equities.

Level 2 - Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly (e.g., quoted prices of similar assets or liabilities in active markets, or quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in markets that are not active).

No assurance is provided

OUR MILITARY TRAVEL, INC.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (UNAUDITED)
As of December 31, 2017 and for the period then ended

Level 3 - Unobservable inputs for the asset or liability. Financial instruments are considered Level 3 when their fair values are determined using pricing models, discounted cash flows or similar techniques and at least one significant model assumption or input is unobservable.

The carrying amounts reported in the balance sheets approximate their fair value.

Revenue Recognition

The Company recognizes revenue when: (1) persuasive evidence exists of an arrangement with the customer reflecting the terms and conditions under which products or services will be provided; (2) delivery has occurred or services have been provided; (3) the fee is fixed or determinable; and (4) collection is reasonably assured. No revenues have been earned or recognized as of December 31, 2017.

Income Taxes

The Company uses the liability method of accounting for income taxes as set forth in ASC 740, Income Taxes. Under the liability method, deferred taxes are determined based on the temporary differences between the financial statement and tax basis of assets and liabilities using tax rates expected to be in effect during the years in which the basis differences reverse. A valuation allowance is recorded when it is unlikely that the deferred tax assets will be realized.

The Company assesses its income tax positions and records tax benefits for all years subject to examination based upon its evaluation of the facts, circumstances and information available at the reporting date. In accordance with ASC 740-10, for those tax positions where there is a greater than 50% likelihood that a tax benefit will be sustained, our policy is to record the largest amount of tax benefit that is more likely than not to be realized upon ultimate settlement with a taxing authority that has full knowledge of all relevant information. For those income tax positions where there is less than 50% likelihood that a tax benefit will be sustained, no tax benefit will be recognized in the financial statements. The Company has determined that there are no material uncertain tax positions.

The Company accounts for income taxes with the recognition of estimated income taxes payable or refundable on income tax returns for the current period and for the estimated future tax effect attributable to temporary differences and carryforwards. Measurement of deferred income items is based on enacted tax laws including tax rates, with the measurement of deferred income tax assets being reduced by available tax benefits not expected to be realized in the immediate future. The Company had net operating loss carryforwards of $0 as of December 31, 2017. The Company pays Federal and California income taxes at an effective blended rate of 28%. Due to uncertainty as to the Company's ability to generate sufficient taxable income in the future to utilize the net operating loss carryforwards before they begin to expire in 2037, the Company has recorded a full valuation allowance to reduce the net deferred tax asset to zero.

The Company files U.S. federal and state income tax returns. All tax periods since inception remain open to examination by the taxing jurisdictions to which the Company is subject.

OUR MILITARY TRAVEL, INC.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (UNAUDITED)
As of December 31, 2017 and for the period then ended

NOTE 3: GOING CONCERN

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis, which contemplates the realization of assets and the satisfaction of liabilities in the normal course of business. The Company has not yet generated revenues or profits, incurred a net loss of $8,120 for the period ended December 31, 2017, has an accumulated deficit of $8,120 as of December 31, 2017, and lacks liquid assets with only $4,932 of cash available as of December 31, 2017. These factors, among others, raise substantial doubt about the ability of the Company to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time. The Company's ability to continue as a going concern in the next twelve months following the date the financial statements were available to be issued is dependent upon its ability to obtain capital financing from investors sufficient to meet current and future obligations and deploy such capital to produce profitable operating results.

Management has evaluated these conditions and plans to generate revenues and raise capital from outside investors to satisfy its capital needs. No assurance can be given that the Company will be successful in these efforts. These factors, among others, raise substantial doubt about the ability of the Company to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time. The financial statements do not include any adjustments relating to the recoverability and classification of recorded asset amounts or the amounts and classification of liabilities that might be necessary should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern.

NOTE 4: STOCKHOLDERS' EQUITY (DEFICIT)

The Company authorized 85,000,000 shares of common stock at $0.0001 par value, designated as 70,000,000 shares of Class A Common Stock and 15,000,000 shares of Class B Common Stock, and 15,000,000 shares of preferred stock at $0.0001 par value, designated as 15,000,000 shares of Series A Preferred Stock. As of December 31, 2017, 0, 12,750,000, and 0 shares of Class A Common Stock, Class B Common Stock, and Series A Preferred Stock were issued and outstanding, respectively. The Class A Common Stock are entitled to one vote per share, while Class B Common Stock are entitled to four votes per share.

In May 2017, the Company issued a 12,750,000 shares of Class B Common Stock to its founder at a price of $0.0001 per share, resulting in proceeds of $1,275. The founder contributed an additional $11,777 to the Company's equity during the period ended December 31, 2017.

NOTE 5: CONTINGENCIES

The Company may be subject to pending legal proceedings and regulatory actions in the ordinary course of business. The results of such proceedings cannot be predicted with certainty, but the Company does not anticipate that the final outcome, if any, arising out of any such matter will have a material adverse effect on its business, financial condition or results of operations.

NOTE 6: RECENT ACCOUNTING PRONOUNCEMENTS

In May 2014, the FASB issued ASU 2014-09, "Revenue from Contracts with Customers" (Topic 606). This ASU supersedes the previous revenue recognition requirements in ASC Topic 605—Revenue Recognition and most industry-specific guidance throughout the ASC. The core principle

No assurance is provided

OUR MILITARY TRAVEL, INC.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (UNAUDITED)
As of December 31, 2017 and for the period then ended within this ASU is to recognize revenues when promised goods or services are transferred to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration expected to be received for those goods or services.

In August 2015, the FASB issued ASU 2015-14, "Revenue from Contracts with Customers", which deferred the effective date for ASU 2014-09 by one year to fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2017, while providing the option to early adopt for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2016. Transition methods under ASU 2014-09 must be through either (i) retrospective application to each prior reporting period presented, or (ii) retrospective application with a cumulative effect adjustment at the date of initial application. We are continuing to evaluate the impact of this new standard on our financial reporting and disclosures, including but not limited to a review of accounting policies, internal controls and processes. We have adopted the new standard effective January 1, 2018.

In July 2014, the FASB issued the ASU No. 2015-11 on "Inventory (Topic 330): Simplifying the Measurement of Inventory", which proposed that inventory should be measured at the lower of cost and the estimated selling prices in the ordinary course of business, less reasonably predictable costs of completion, disposal, and transportation. These amendments are based on existing guidance that requires measuring inventory at the lower of cost or market to consider the replacement cost of inventory less an approximately normal profit margin along with net value in determining the market value. It is effective for reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2016. We have adopted the new standard effective January 1, 2017.

In August 2016, the FASB issued ASU 2016-15, "Statement of Cash Flows" (Topic 230). This ASU is intended to reduce diversity in practice in how certain transactions are classified in the statement of cash flows. This ASU is effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2017. We do not believe the adoption of ASU 2016-15 will have a material impact on our financial position, results of operations or cash flows.

Management does not believe that any other recently issued, but not yet effective, accounting standards could have a material effect on the accompanying financial statements. As new accounting pronouncements are issued, we will adopt those that are applicable under the circumstances.

NOTE 7: SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

Stock Issuances

On June 1, 2018, the Company issued 67,500 shares of Class A Common Stock in exchange for legal services rendered.

Management's Evaluation

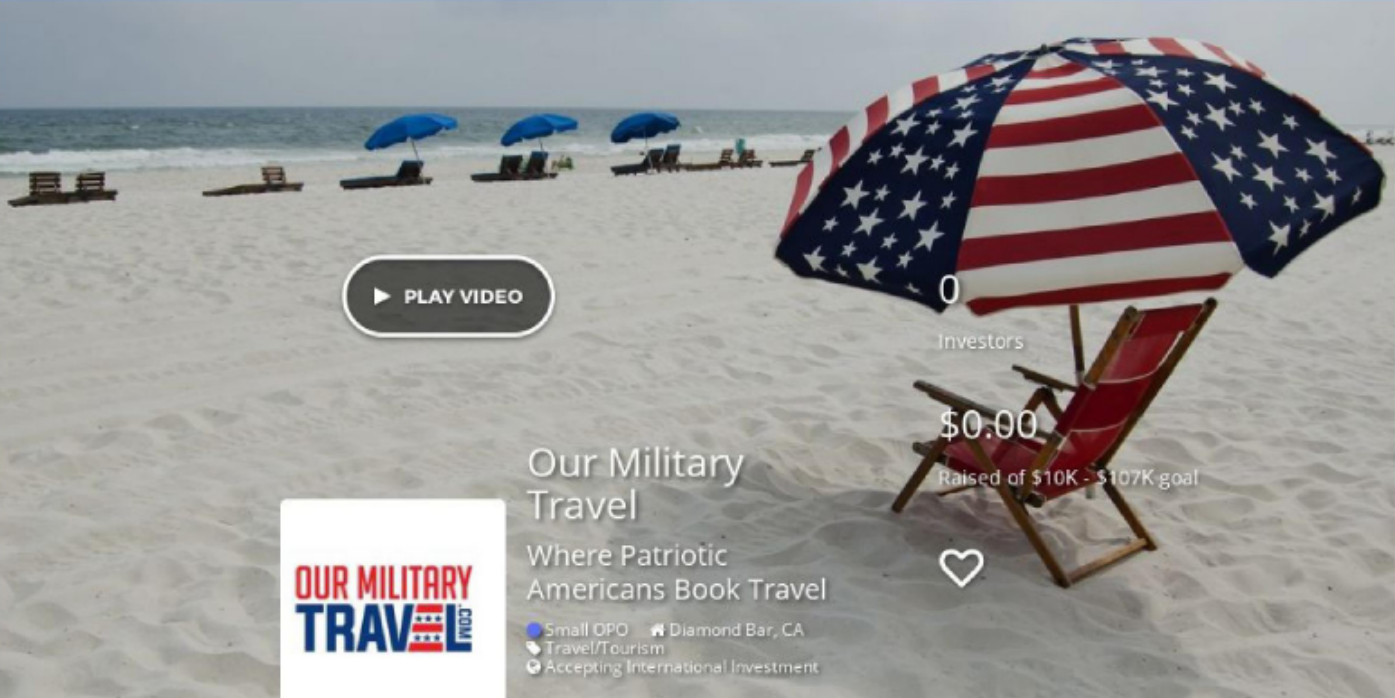

Management has evaluated subsequent events through October 29, 2018, the date the financial statements were available to be issued. Based on this evaluation, no material events were identified which require adjustment or disclosure in these financial statements.

The commission is paid in cash and in securities of the Issuer identical to those offered to the public in the Offering at the sole discretion of StartEngine Capital. Additionally, the issuer must reimburse certain expenses related to the Offering. The securities issued to StartEngine Capital, if any, will be of the same class and have the same terms, conditions and rights as the securities being offered and sold by the issuer on StartEngine Capital's website.

Information Regarding Length of Time of Offering

- Investment Cancellations: Investors will have up to 48 hours prior to the end of the offering period to change their minds and cancel their investment commitments for any reason. Once within 48 hours of ending, investors will not be able to cancel for any reason, even if they make a commitment during this period.
- Material Changes: Material changes to an offering include but are not limited to: A change in minimum offering amount, change in security price, change in management, material change to financial information, etc. If an issuer makes a material change to the offering terms or other information disclosed, including a change to the offering deadline, investors will be given five business days to reconfirm their investment commitment. If investors do not reconfirm, their investment will be cancelled and the funds will be returned.

Hitting The Target Goal Early & Oversubscriptions

- StartEngine Capital will notify investors by email when the target offering amount has hit 25%, 50% and 100% of the funding goal. If the issuer hits its goal early, and the minimum offering period of 21 days has been met, the issuer can create a new target deadline at least 5 business days out. Investors will be notified of the new target deadline via email and will then have the opportunity to cancel up to 48 hours before new deadline.
- Oversubscriptions: We require all issuers to accept oversubscriptions. This may not be possible if: 1) it vaults an issuer into a different category for financial statement requirements (and they do not have the requisite financial statements); or 2) they reach $1.07M in investments. In the event of an oversubscription, shares will be allocated at the discretion of the issuer.
- If the sum of the investment commitments does not equal or exceed the target offering amount at the offering deadline, no securities will be sold in the offering, investment commitments will be cancelled and committed funds will be returned.
- If a StartEngine issuer reaches its target offering amount prior to the deadline, it may conduct an initial closing of the offering early if they provide notice of the new offering deadline at least five business days prior to the new offering deadline (absent a material change that would require an extension of the offering and reconfirmation of the investment commitment). StartEngine will notify investors when the issuer meets its target offering amount. Thereafter, the issuer may conduct additional closings until the offering deadline.

Minimum and Maximum Investment Amounts

- In order to invest, to commit to an investment or to communicate on our platform, users must open an account on StartEngine Capital and provide certain personal and non-personal information including information related to income, net worth, and other investments.
- Investor Limitations: Investors are limited in how much they can invest on all crowdfunding offerings during any 12-month period. The limitation on how much they can invest depends on their net worth (excluding the value of their primary residence) and annual income. If either their annual income or net worth is less than $107,000, then during any 12-month period, they can invest up to the greater of either $2,200 or 5% of the lesser of their annual income or net worth. If both their annual income and net worth are equal to or more than $107,000, then during any 12-month period, they can invest up to 10% of annual income or net worth, whichever is less, but their investments cannot exceed $107,000.
