Why A Team of Brains May be Better Than One

John Craig
Published on LinkedIn

If you want to go fast, go alone. If you want to go far, go together. ~African Proverb In the public eye today, it is usually one person that gets all the credit for major successes. Name a visionary today. Steve Jobs, Jeff Bezos, Elon Musk. None of these men alone pulled off the great successes for which they're known. Why do we credit individuals alone when we know there were teams behind them pushing, creating, and collaborating? The Apoll...
