I cofounded Trustwire in 2017 with the goal to bring highly secure data/file sharing solutions to all Internet users.

If you are like me, you have probably puzzled by why there isn't a simple and secure solution for sharing important data/file such as medical records and trade secrets. Solutions such as Dropbox and Google Drive are just not designed with true security in mind, and other security tools either require download/installation or are difficult to use. That was why I teamed up with some top talents in the computer security field and created Trustwire -- an extrem... See more
