So the investment goals of the Fund are simple, they're straightforward, and there are three components to it. So, first and foremost, this Yieldstreet Prism Fund is focused on income generation, we aim to provide our investors with a consistent and reliable stream of passive income through the recurring and expected distributions, as we'll talk about more later, the second piece is the total return. So on the one hand, while we do look for opportunities that are going to consistently generate continued passive income, we are also very interested in some opportunities that may have a different cash flow stream, but provide a very attractive total return story. At the end of the day, what we're trying to do here is a balance between the most attractive risk/reward return while also providing consistent passive income to investors. The third, and arguably most important, is downside protection. We are here to take on the least amount of risk we can to achieve the goals that we have for the Fund and total return of passive income. So that is very broadly what it is that we set out to do with this Yieldstreet Prism Fund.
