RISK FACTORS

Risks Related to the Company's Business and Industry

We have a limited operating history upon which you can evaluate our performance, and accordingly, our prospects must be considered in light of the risks that any new company encounters.

The Company is still in an early phase and is just beginning to implement its business plan. There can be no assurance that it will continue to operate profitably. The likelihood of its success should be considered in light of the problems, expenses, difficulties, complications and delays usually encountered by companies in their early stages of development. The Company may not be successful in attaining the objectives necessary for it to overcome these risks and uncertainties.

The development and commercialization of our products is highly competitive.

We face competition with respect to any products that we may seek to develop or commercialize in the future. Our competitors include major companies worldwide. Many of our competitors have significantly greater financial, technical and human resources than we have and superior expertise in research and development and marketing approved products and thus may be better equipped than us to develop and commercialize products. These competitors also compete with us in recruiting and retaining qualified personnel and acquiring technologies. Smaller or early stage companies may also prove to be significant competitors, particularly through collaborative arrangements with large and established companies. Accordingly, our competitors may commercialize products more rapidly or effectively than we are able to, which would adversely affect our competitive position, the likelihood that our products will achieve initial market acceptance and our ability to generate meaningful additional revenues from our products.

Craft spirits face specific challenges when it comes to the commercialization of products. Traditionally the industry has been dominated by big multi-national players who monopolize the available shelf space and the attention of the traditional distributors. Some distributors may now have at least a small amount of craft products in their book. As a relatively new distillery we must actively work to get our brand into the public eye.

We rely on other companies to provide raw materials for our products.

We currently depend exclusively on one third-party co-manufacturer with one location to manufacture all of our products. We depend on this co-manufacturer to meet our contractual obligations to our customers and conduct our operations. Our ability to meet our obligations to our customers may be adversely affected if our co-manufacturer, suppliers or subcontractors do not provide the agreed-upon supplies or perform the agreed-upon services in compliance with customer requirements and in a timely and cost-effective manner. Likewise, the quality of our products may be adversely impacted if companies to whom we delegate manufacture of major components or subsystems for our products, or from whom we acquire such items, do not provide raw materials which meet required specifications and perform to our and our customers' expectations. Our suppliers may be less likely than us to be able to quickly recover from natural disasters and other events beyond their control and may be subject to additional risks such as financial problems that limit their ability to conduct their operations. The risk of these adverse effects may be greater in circumstances where we rely on only one or two subcontractors or suppliers for a particular raw material.

We are required to comply with various import laws and export control and economic sanctions laws, which may affect our transactions with certain customers, business partners and other persons and dealings between our employees and subsidiaries.

In certain circumstances, import control and economic sanctions regulations may prohibit the import of certain products, services and technologies. In other circumstances, we may be required to obtain an import license before importing the controlled item. Compliance with the various import laws that apply to our businesses can restrict our access to, and increase the cost of obtaining, certain products and at times can interrupt our supply of imported inventory.

Substantial disruption to production at our manufacturing and distribution facilities could occur.

A disruption in production at our manufacturing facility could have an adverse effect on our business. In addition, a disruption could occur at the facilities of our suppliers or distributors. The disruption could occur for many reasons, including possibility of fire, natural disasters or severe weather, water scarcity, manufacturing problems, disease, strikes, transportation or supply interruption, or government regulation. Alternative facilities with sufficient capacity or capabilities may not be available, may cost substantially more or may take a significant time to start production, each of which could negatively affect our online and offline business and results of operations. Such interruptions could cause delays in production and cause us to incur additional expenses such as charges for expedited deliveries for products that are delayed. Additionally, our customers have the ability to cancel purchase orders in the event of any delays in production and may decrease future orders if delays are persistent. Additionally, to the extent that such disruptions do not result from damage to our physical property, these may not be covered by our business interruption insurance. Any such disruptions may adversely affect our business and results of operations.

The process of distilling spirits utilizes a large amount of water.

Parts of the country have been experiencing a severe drought for the last several years. While there are currently no restrictions on our use of water based on the drought, we cannot predict whether such restrictions may be put in place in the future.

The Company's success depends on the experience and skill of its executive officers and key employees.

In particular, the Company is dependent on John Barlow and Lisa Barlow, the sole Members of the Company. The Company has or intends to enter into employment agreements with John Barlow and Lisa Barlow although there can be no assurance that it will do so or that they will continue to be employed by the Company for a particular period of time. Although dependent on key personnel, the Company does not have any key man life insurance policies for these individuals. The loss of John Barlow or Lisa Barlow could harm the Company's business, financial condition, cash flow and results of operations.

We rely on various intellectual property rights, including trademarks in order to operate our business.

Such intellectual property rights, however, may not be sufficiently broad or otherwise may not provide us a significant competitive advantage. In addition, the steps that we have taken to maintain and protect our intellectual property may not prevent it from being challenged, invalidated, circumvented or designed-around, particularly in countries where intellectual property rights are not highly developed or protected. In some circumstances, enforcement may not be available to us because an infringer has a dominant intellectual property position or for other business reasons, or countries may require compulsory licensing of our intellectual property. Our failure to obtain or maintain intellectual property rights that convey competitive advantage, adequately protect our intellectual property or detect or prevent circumvention or unauthorized use of such property, could adversely impact our competitive position and results of operations. We also rely on nondisclosure and noncompetition agreements with employees, consultants and other parties to protect, in part, trade secrets and other proprietary rights. There can be no assurance that these agreements will adequately protect our trade secrets and other proprietary rights and will not be breached, that we will have adequate remedies for any breach, that others will not independently develop substantially equivalent proprietary information or that third parties will not otherwise gain access to our trade secrets or other proprietary rights.

As we expand our business, protecting our intellectual property will become increasingly important. The protective steps we have taken may be inadequate to deter our competitors from using our proprietary information. In order to protect or enforce our patent rights, we may be required to initiate litigation against third parties, such as infringement lawsuits. Also, these third parties may assert claims against us with or without provocation. These lawsuits could be expensive, take significant time and could divert management's attention from other business concerns. The law relating to the scope and validity of claims in the spirits field in which we operate is still evolving and, consequently, intellectual property positions in our industry are generally uncertain. We cannot assure you that we will prevail in any of these potential suits or that the damages or other remedies awarded, if any, would be commercially valuable.

We are subject to income taxes as well as non-income based taxes, such as payroll, sales, use, value-added, net worth, property and goods and services taxes, in both the U.S. [and various foreign jurisdictions].

Significant judgment is required in determining our provision for income taxes and other tax liabilities. In the ordinary course of our business, there are many transactions and calculations where the ultimate tax determination is uncertain. Although we believe that our tax estimates are reasonable: (i) there is no assurance that the final determination of tax audits or tax disputes will not be different from what is reflected in our income tax provisions, expense amounts for non-income based taxes and accruals; and (ii) any material differences could have an adverse effect on our financial position and results of operations in the period or periods for which determination is made.

We are not subject to Sarbanes-Oxley regulations and lack the financial controls and safeguards required of public companies.

We do not have the internal infrastructure necessary, and are not required, to complete an attestation about our financial controls that would be required under Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002. There can be no assurance that there are no significant deficiencies or material weaknesses in the quality of our financial controls. We expect to incur additional expenses and diversion of management's time if and when it becomes necessary to perform the system and process evaluation, testing and remediation required in order to comply with the management certification and auditor attestation requirements.

Changes in employment laws or regulation could harm our performance.

Various federal and state labor laws govern our relationship with our employees and affect operating costs. These laws include minimum wage requirements, overtime pay, healthcare reform and the implementation of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, unemployment tax rates, workers' compensation rates, citizenship requirements, union membership and sales taxes. A number of factors could adversely affect our operating results, including additional government-imposed increases in minimum wages, overtime pay, paid leaves of absence and mandated health benefits, mandated training for employees, increased tax reporting and tax payment, changing regulations from the National Labor Relations Board and increased employee litigation including claims relating to the Fair Labor Standards Act.

Our profitability is vulnerable to cost increases, inflation and energy prices.

Future increases in our costs, such as the cost of merchandise, shipping rates, freight and fuel costs, and store occupancy costs, may reduce our profitability. These cost changes may be the result of inflationary pressures, which could further reduce our sales or profitability. Increases in other operating costs, including changes in energy prices, wage rates, and lease and utility costs, may increase our costs of sales or operating expenses and reduce our profitability.

Our profitability is currently dependent upon a single major client.

Consequently, a significant loss of business from, or adverse performance by, Total Wine & More may have a material adverse effect on our financial condition, results of operations and cash flows. In addition, Total Wine & More has an enhanced ability to influence pricing and other contract terms. We are also subject to credit risk associated with customer concentration. If this customer were to become bankrupt, insolvent or otherwise be unable to pay for services provided, we may incur significant write-offs of accounts receivable or incur lease or asset-impairment charges that may have a material adverse effect on our financial condition, results of operations or cash flows.

We source certain packaging materials, such bottles, labels, caps and other shipping materials from a number of third-party suppliers and, in some cases, single-source suppliers.

Although we believe that alternative suppliers are available, the loss of any of our packaging material suppliers could adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition. Our inability to preserve the current economics of these agreements could expose us to significant cost increases in future years.

Our spirits business uses oak barrels to age certain spirits we produce.

We compete with wine producers and other spirits producers for such oak barrels, which may be in limited supply. If we are unable to purchase a sufficient number of oak barrels at commercially reasonable prices, it could have a material adverse effect on the growth prospects, financial condition and results of operations of our business.

Most of our distribution relationships are governed by state laws that in certain respects may supersede the terms of any contractual relationships.

Under most of these state laws, distribution agreements for spirits can only be terminated by the supplier after the supplier shows some type of "cause" (usually an uncured deficiency in the distributor's operation) or upon payment of some sort of compensation to the distributor for the value of the distribution rights. State laws also may limit a spirits supplier's right to object to proposed assignments of distribution rights and/or changes in distributor ownership. A minority of states have enacted similar laws governing distillery-distributor relationships. Therefore, while we have entered into contractual relationships with some of our distributors, state law in various jurisdictions may limit our exercising our contractual termination and enforcement rights. Additionally, our distribution relationships are susceptible to changes in state legislation that could significantly alter the competitive environment for the beer distribution industry, which could adversely affect the financial stability of distributors on which we rely.

We are subject to governmental regulations affecting breweries, distilleries and tasting rooms.

Federal, state and local laws and regulations govern the production and distribution of beer and spirits, including permitting, licensing, trade practices, labeling, advertising and marketing, distributor relationships and various other matters. To import from our distillery, we must obtain and maintain numerous permits, licenses and approvals from various governmental agencies, including the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau, the Food and Drug Administration, state alcohol regulatory agencies and state and federal environmental agencies. A variety of federal, state and local governmental authorities also levy various taxes, license fees and other similar charges and may require bonds to ensure compliance with applicable laws and regulations. Our product is subject to alcohol beverage control regulations that generally require us to apply to a state authority for a license that must be renewed annually and may be revoked or suspended for cause at any time. These alcohol beverage control regulations relate to being able to sell in the respective states. Noncompliance with such laws and regulations may cause the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau or any particular state or jurisdiction to revoke its license or permit, restricting our ability to conduct business, assess additional taxes, interest and penalties or result in the imposition of significant fines.

The craft beer/spirits business is seasonal in nature, and we are likely to experience fluctuations in results of operations and financial condition.

Sales of craft beer/spirits products are somewhat seasonal, with the first and fourth quarters historically having lower sales than the rest of the year.

Our business is substantially dependent upon awareness and market acceptance of our products and brands.

Our business depends on acceptance by both our end consumers as well as our independent distributors of our brands as beverage brands that have the potential to provide incremental sales growth rather than reduce distributors' existing beverage sales. We believe that the success of our product name brands will also be substantially dependent upon acceptance of our product name brands. Accordingly, any failure of our brands to maintain or increase acceptance or market penetration would likely have a material adverse affect on our revenues and financial results.

Our products rely on independent certification that they are non-GMO, gluten-free or Kosher.

We rely on independent certification of our non-GMO, gluten-free and Kosher products and must comply with the requirements of independent organizations or certification authorities in order to label our products as such. Currently, the FDA does not directly regulate the labeling of Kosher or non-GMO products as such. The FDA has defined the term "gluten-free" and we must comply with the FDA's definition if we include this label on our products. Our products could lose their non-GMO and gluten-free certifications if our raw material suppliers lose their product certifications for those specified claims. We could also lose our Kosher product certification if a contract manufacturing plant is found to be in violation of required manufacturing or cleaning processes. The loss of any of these independent certifications, including for reasons outside of our control, could harm our business.

Ingredient and packaging costs are volatile and may rise significantly, which may negatively impact the profitability of our business.

We purchase large quantities of raw materials, including ingredients such as agave. In addition, we purchase and use significant quantities of glass, cardboard and plastic wrapping to package our products. In recent periods, the prices of agave have been priced in line with their respective averages and we have realized neither benefits nor negative effects from these prices in the form of reduced cost of goods sold and resulting higher gross profit margins. Costs of ingredients and packaging are volatile and can fluctuate due to conditions that are difficult to predict, including global competition for resources, weather conditions, natural or man-made disasters, consumer demand and changes in governmental trade and agricultural programs. As such, any material upward movement in raw materials pricing could negatively impact our margins, if we are not able to pass these costs on to our customers, or sales if we are forced to increase our prices, which would adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Our future business, results of operations and financial condition may be adversely affected by reduced availability of our core ingredients.

Our ability to ensure a continuing supply of our core ingredients at competitive prices depends on many factors beyond our control, such as the number and size of farms that grow crops, poor harvests, changes in national and world economic conditions and our ability to forecast our ingredient requirements. The agave used in our products are vulnerable to adverse weather conditions and natural disasters, such as floods, droughts, frosts, earthquakes, hurricanes and pestilences. Adverse weather conditions and natural disasters can lower crop yields and reduce crop size and quality, which in turn could reduce the available supply of our core ingredients. If supplies of our core ingredients are reduced or there is greater demand for such ingredients, from us and others, we may not be able to obtain sufficient supply on favorable terms, or at all, which could impact our ability to supply products to distributors and retailers.

If our brand or reputation is damaged, the attractive characteristics that we offer retailers may diminish, which could diminish the value of our business.

If our brand or reputation is damaged for any reason, consumers may no longer be willing to pay a premium price for our products, and we may no longer be able to generate a high sales velocity at our then-current prices. If we no longer offer these characteristics, retailers may decrease their orders of our products and downgrade the in-store placement of our products, which could have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

Risks Related to the Securities

Affiliates of the Company, including officers, directors and existing stockholders of the Company, may invest in this Offering and their funds will be counted toward the Company achieving the Minimum Amount.

There is no restriction on affiliates of the Company, including its officers, directors and existing shareholders, investing in the Offering. As a result, it is possible that if the Company has raised some funds, but not reached the Minimum Amount, affiliates can contribute the balance so that there will be a closing. The Minimum Amount is typically intended to be a protection for investors and gives investors confidence that other investors, along with them, are sufficiently interested in the Offering and the Company and its prospects to make an investment of at least the Minimum Amount. By permitting affiliates to invest in the Offering and make up any shortfall between what non-affiliate investors have invested and the Minimum Amount, this protection is largely eliminated. Investors should be aware that no funds other than their own and those of affiliates investing along with them may be invested in this Offering.

Upon conversion of the Crowd Notes, Purchasers who are not “Major Investors” will grant a proxy to vote their underlying securities to the Intermediary or its affiliate, and, thus, will not have the right to vote on any matters coming before the shareholders of the Company for a vote. By granting this proxy you are giving up your right to vote on important matters, including significant corporate actions like mergers, amendments to our certificate of incorporation, a liquidation of our Company and the election of our directors.

Upon conversion of the Crowd Notes and by virtue of a provision contained in the Crowd Notes, if you are not a Major Investor, that is, an investor who has purchased at least $25,000 in principal amount of the Crowd Notes, you will grant a proxy to the Intermediary or its affiliate to vote the underlying securities that you will acquire upon conversion on all matters coming before the shareholders for a vote. The Intermediary does not have any fiduciary duty to you to vote shares in a manner that is in your best interests. Accordingly, the Intermediary may vote its proxy in a manner that may not be in the best interests of you as a security holder. For example, the Intermediary may vote the proxy in favor of an amendment to our charter that adversely affects the rights of the holders of your class of securities in order to allow for a new investment to occur where the new investor requires senior rights.

The Crowd Notes will not be freely tradable until one year from the initial purchase date. Although the Crowd Notes may be tradable under federal securities law, state securities regulations may apply and each Purchaser should consult with his or her attorney.

You should be aware of the long-term nature of this investment. There is not now and likely will not be a public market for the Crowd Notes. Because the Crowd Notes have not been registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the “Securities Act”) or under the securities laws of any state or non-United States jurisdiction, the Crowd Notes have transfer restrictions and cannot be resold in the United States except pursuant to Rule 501 of Regulation CF. It is not currently contemplated that registration under the Securities Act or other securities laws will be effected. Limitations on the transfer of the Crowd Notes may also adversely affect the price that you might be able to obtain for the Crowd Notes in a private sale. Purchasers should be aware of the long-term nature of their investment in the Company. Each Purchaser in this Offering will be required to represent that it is purchasing the Securities for its own account, for investment purposes and not with a view to resale or distribution thereof.

Neither the Offering nor the Securities have been registered under federal or state securities laws, leading to an absence of certain regulation applicable to the Company.

No governmental agency has reviewed or passed upon this Offering, the Company or any Securities of the Company. The Company also has relied on exemptions from securities registration requirements under applicable state securities laws. Investors in the Company, therefore, will not receive any of the benefits that such registration would otherwise provide. Prospective investors must therefore assess the adequacy of disclosure and the fairness of the terms of this Offering on their own or in conjunction with their personal advisors.

Compliance with the criteria for securing exemptions under federal securities laws and the securities laws of the various states is extremely complex, especially in respect of those exemptions affording flexibility and the elimination of trading restrictions in respect of securities received in exempt transactions and subsequently disposed of without registration under the Securities Act or state securities laws.

No Guarantee of Return on Investment

There is no assurance that a Purchaser will realize a return on its investment or that it will not lose its entire investment. For this reason, each Purchaser should read the Form C and all Exhibits carefully and should consult with its own attorney and business advisor prior to making any investment decision.

A majority of the Company is owned by a small number of owners.

Prior to the Offering the Company’s current owners of 20% or more beneficially own 80% of the Company. Subject to any fiduciary duties owed to our other owners or investors under Delaware law, these owners may be able to exercise significant influence over matters requiring owner approval, including the election of directors or managers and approval of significant Company transactions, and will have significant control over the Company’s management and policies. Some of these persons may have interests that are different from yours. For example, these owners may support proposals and actions with which you may disagree. The concentration of ownership could delay or prevent a change in control of the Company or otherwise discourage a potential acquirer from attempting to obtain control of the Company, which in turn could reduce the price potential investors are willing to pay for the Company. In addition, these owners could use their voting influence to maintain the Company’s existing management, delay or prevent changes in control of the Company, or support or reject other management and board proposals that are subject to owner approval.

You will not have a vote or influence on the management of the Company.

All decisions with respect to the management of the Company will be made exclusively by the officers, directors, managers or employees of the Company. You, as a Purchaser of Crowd Notes, will have no ability to vote on issues of Company management and will not have the right or power to take part in the management of the Company and will not be represented on the board of directors or managers of the Company. Accordingly, no person should purchase a Security unless he or she is willing to entrust all aspects of management to the Company.

The Company has the right to extend the Offering deadline.

The Company may extend the Offering deadline beyond what is currently stated herein. This means that your investment may continue to be held in escrow while the Company attempts to raise the Minimum Amount even after the Offering deadline stated herein is reached. Your investment will not be accruing interest during this time and will simply be held until such time as the new Offering deadline is reached without the Company receiving the Minimum Amount, at which time it will be returned to you without interest or deduction, or the Company receives the Minimum Amount, at which time it will be released to the Company to be used as set forth herein. Upon or shortly after release of such funds to the Company, the Securities will be issued and distributed to you.

There is no present market for the Securities, and we have arbitrarily set the price.

We have arbitrarily set the price of the Securities with reference to the general status of the securities market and other relevant factors. The Offering price for the Securities should not be considered an indication of the actual value of the Securities and is not based on our net worth or prior earnings. We cannot assure you that the Securities could be resold by you at the Offering price or at any other price.

Purchasers will be unable to declare the Security in “default” and demand repayment.

Unlike convertible notes and some other securities, the Securities do not have any “default” provisions upon which the Purchasers will be able to demand repayment of their investment. With respect to Purchasers who invest less than $25,000 in the Securities, the Company has ultimate discretion as to whether or not to convert the Securities upon a future equity financing, and such Purchasers have no right to demand such conversion. Only in limited circumstances, such as a liquidity event, may such Purchasers demand payment, and even then, such payments will be limited to the amount of cash available to the Company.

The Company may never elect to convert the Securities or undergo a liquidity event.

The Company may never receive a future equity financing or, with respect to those Purchasers who invest less than $25,000, elect to convert the Securities upon such future financing. In addition, the Company may never undergo a liquidity event such as a sale of the Company or an IPO. If neither the conversion of the Securities nor a liquidity event occurs, the Purchasers could be left holding the Securities in perpetuity. The Securities have numerous transfer restrictions and will likely be highly illiquid, with no secondary market on which to sell them. The Securities are not equity interests, have no ownership rights, have no rights to the Company’s assets or profits and have no voting rights or ability to direct the Company or its actions.

In addition to the risks listed above, businesses are often subject to risks not foreseen or fully appreciated by the management. It is not possible to foresee all risks that may affect us. Moreover, the Company cannot predict whether the Company will successfully effectuate the Company’s current business plan. Each prospective Purchaser is encouraged to carefully analyze the risks and merits of an investment in the Securities and should take into consideration when making such analysis, among other, the Risk Factors discussed above.

THE SECURITIES OFFERED INVOLVE A HIGH DEGREE OF RISK AND MAY RESULT IN THE LOSS OF YOUR ENTIRE INVESTMENT. ANY PERSON CONSIDERING THE PURCHASE OF THESE SECURITIES SHOULD BE AWARE OF THESE AND OTHER FACTORS SET FORTH IN THIS FORM C AND SHOULD CONSULT WITH HIS OR HER LEGAL, TAX AND FINANCIAL ADVISORS PRIOR TO MAKING AN INVESTMENT IN THE SECURITIES. THE SECURITIES SHOULD ONLY BE PURCHASED BY PERSONS WHO CAN AFFORD TO LOSE ALL OF THEIR INVESTMENT.

BUSINESS

Description of the Business

We currently distribute our product through Deutsch Family Wine & Spirits, which then sells the product to Total Wine & More locations across the U.S. Retail prices are as follows:

- Ciudad Blanco: Suggested retail price is $52.99 per 750ml bottle (wholesale: $173 per case of six)
- Ciudad Reposado: Suggested retail price is $56.99 per 750ml bottle (wholesale: $190 per case of six)
- Ciudad Añejo: Suggested retail price is $59.99 per 750ml bottle (wholesale: $211 per case of six)

Business Plan

Tequila Ciudad's spirits are made from Blue Weber Agave grown in the Mexican Highlands of Arandas. The highlands region is known to produce a tequila that's different than those grown in the richer volcanic earth of the lowlands region of Mexico. Blue Agave cultivated in the red clay soil of the highlands tend to produce tequila that is softer, rounder, fruitier, and more floral.

To boost interest, we have hosted numerous branding events, including weekly in-market tastings across numerous Total Wine & More locations. We also sponsor private events, creating custom cocktails made from its tequila for the parties. Additionally, we rely on search engine optimization (SEO) and social media to promote the Tequila Ciudad brand.

The Company plans to use the funds from this Offering to help increase production, host more tasting events, and provide funds for general marketing.

History of the Business

Jack Henry Spirits LLC launched its Tequila Ciudad brand in August 2017 with three styles: Blanco, Reposado, and Añejo. Founded by two industry veterans, our brand seeks to capitalize on growing demand for premium sipping tequilas. Each bottle of Tequila Ciudad is etched with a map of Mexico City (ciudad is the Spanish word for city). To the Company, Mexico City represents a growing and progressive culture, and Tequila Ciudad seeks to replicate the energy, ambition, hustle, and strength of the people of Mexico City to succeed.

Competition

The Company's primary competitors are Patron, Don Julio, Casamigos, and Herradura. In addition, we face competition from companies including, but not limited to: Casa Noble, Clase Azul, Blue Nectar, Avion, and Tres Agaves.

The markets in which our products are sold are highly competitive. Our products compete against similar products of many large and small companies, including well-known global competitors. In many of the markets and industry segments in which we sell our products, we compete against other branded products as well as retailers' private-label brands. We believe we are well positioned in the industry segments and markets in which we operate. Product quality, value, and packaging are also important differentiating factors.

Customer Base

Our customers are consumers of premium tequila. However, the main customer we sell to is the retail liquor store market, who then markets the product to the end consumer.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Please see the financial information listed on the cover page of this Form C and attached hereto in addition to the following information. Financial statements are attached hereto as Exhibit A.

Recent Tax Return Information

Total Income	Taxable Income	Total Tax
$98,440.00	$32,111.00	$0.00

Operations

Financial milestones revolve around increasing purchase order values year-over-year. Our main challenges include scheduling enough in-store samplings to introduce Ciudad to end consumers and also marketing to end consumers via social media.

The Company intends to achieve profitability in the next 12 months by presenting at regional sales manager trainings, conducting at least 2 and up to 30 in-store samplings each month, and increasing social media presence in an effort to increase "click through" purchases.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

The Offering proceeds are important to our operations. While not dependent on the Offering proceeds, the influx of capital will assist in the achievement of our next milestones and expedite the realization of our business plan, specifically increasing the number of in-store samplings and increasing social media presence. Because we have already allocated the proceeds to a specific use dependent on the completion of this Offering, the proceeds will not have a material effect on our liquidity.

In 2018, the Company's average monthly burn rate was roughly $1,400 per month.

The Company does not have any additional sources of capital other than the proceeds from the Offering.

Capital Expenditures and Other Obligations

The Company does not intend to make any material capital expenditures in the future.

Material Changes and Other Information

Trends and Uncertainties

After reviewing the above discussion of the steps the Company intends to take, potential Purchasers should consider whether achievement of each step within the estimated time frame is realistic in their judgment. Potential Purchasers should also assess the consequences to the Company of any delays in taking these steps and whether the Company will need additional financing to accomplish them.

The financial statements are an important part of this Form C and should be reviewed in their entirety. The financial statements of the Company are attached hereto as Exhibit A.

THE OFFERING AND THE SECURITIES

The Offering

The Company is offering up to $107,000 in principal amount of Crowd Notes for up to $107,000.00. The Company is attempting to raise a minimum amount of $25,000.00 in this Offering (the “Minimum Amount”). The Company must receive commitments from investors in an amount totaling the Minimum Amount by April 1, 2019 (the “Offering Deadline”) in order to receive any funds. If the sum of the investment commitments does not equal or exceed the Minimum Amount by the Offering Deadline, no Securities will be sold in the Offering, investment commitments will be cancelled and committed funds will be returned to potential investors without interest or deductions. The Company will accept investments in excess of the Minimum Amount up to $107,000.00 (the “Maximum Amount”) and the additional Securities will be allocated on at the Company’s discretion.

The price of the Securities does not necessarily bear any relationship to the Company’s asset value, net worth, revenues or other established criteria of value, and should not be considered indicative of the actual value of the Securities.

In order to purchase the Securities you must make a commitment to purchase by completing the Subscription Agreement. Purchaser funds will be held in escrow with Evolve Bank & Trust Co. until the Minimum Amount of investments is reached. Purchasers may cancel an investment commitment until 48 hours prior to the Offering Deadline or the Closing, whichever comes first using the cancellation mechanism provided by the Intermediary. The Company will notify Purchasers when the Minimum Amount has been reached. If the Company reaches the Minimum Amount prior to the Offering Deadline, it may close the Offering at least five (5) days after reaching the Minimum Amount and providing notice to the Purchasers. If any material change (other than reaching the Minimum Amount) occurs related to the Offering prior to the Offering Deadline, the Company will provide notice to Purchasers and receive reconfirmations from Purchasers who have already made commitments. If a Purchaser does not reconfirm his or her investment commitment after a material change is made to the terms of the Offering, the Purchaser’s investment commitment will be cancelled and the committed funds will be returned without interest or deductions. If a Purchaser does not cancel an investment commitment before the Minimum Amount is reached, the funds will be released to the Company upon closing of the Offering, and the Purchaser will receive the Securities in exchange for his or her investment. Any Purchaser funds received after the initial closing will be released to the Company upon a subsequent closing, and the Purchaser will receive Securities via Digital Registry in exchange for his or her investment as soon as practicable thereafter.

Subscription Agreements are not binding on the Company until accepted by the Company, which reserves the right to reject, in whole or in part, in its sole and absolute discretion, any subscription. If the Company rejects all or a portion of any subscription, the applicable prospective Purchaser's funds will be returned without interest or deduction.

The price of the Securities was determined arbitrarily. The minimum amount that a Purchaser may invest in the Offering is $100.00.

The Offering is being made through MicroVenture Marketplace, Inc., the Intermediary. The following two fields below sets forth the compensation being paid in connection with the Offering.

“Irrevocable Proxy” shall mean the agreement appointing the Platform or an affiliate of the Platform as the sole and exclusive attorney and proxy of the Investor, with full power of substitution and re-substitution, to vote and exercise all voting and related rights with respect to all of the securities of the Company that now are or hereafter may be beneficially owned by Investor.

- a. If the Corporate Transaction occurs prior to a Qualified Equity Financing, the Investor shall receive the higher value received by either:
 - i. Quotient obtained by dividing the product of (1) the Outstanding Principal and the Fully-Diluted Capitalization immediately prior to the closing of the Corporate Transaction by the (2) the Valuation Cap; or

- ii. Obtaining the Corporate Transaction Payment.
- b. If the Corporate Transaction occurs after a Qualified Equity Financing the Company shall convert this Crowd Note into Conversion Units pursuant to Conversion Mechanics described above.

“Corporate Transaction” shall mean:

- ii. the consummation of the merger or consolidation of the Company with or into another entity (except a merger or consolidation in which the holders of equity interest of the Company immediately prior to such merger or consolidation continue to hold at least 50% of the voting power of the equity interest of the Company or the surviving or acquiring entity),
- iii. the closing of the transfer (whether by merger, consolidation or otherwise), in one transaction or a series of related transactions, to a person or group of affiliated persons (other than an underwriter of the Company’s securities), of the Company’s securities if, after such closing, such person or group of affiliated persons would hold 50% or more of the outstanding voting equity of the Company (or the surviving or acquiring entity), or
- iv. the IPO, liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Company; provided, however, that a transaction shall not constitute a Corporate Transaction if its sole purpose is to change the state of the Company’s incorporation or to create a holding company that will be owned in substantially the same proportions by the persons who held the Company’s securities immediately prior to such transaction.

“Corporate Transaction Payment” shall mean an amount equal to two times (2X) the Purchase Price. If there are not enough funds to pay the Investors in full, then proceeds from the respective transaction will be distributed with equal priority and pro rata among Investors in proportion to their Purchase Price.

COMPANY SUMMARY

Opportunity

Since 2002, tequila sales have grown 140%, reaching 17.2 million 9-liter cases sold in 2017. While tequila sales have experienced growth across a variety of price points, the fastest growth has been in brands that sell at premium price points. In fact, tequila that retails for over $30 per bottle has seen volumes increase 805% since 2002, reaching 3.2 million 9-liter cases sold in 2017 alone.ⁱⁱⁱ

Jack Henry Spirits LLC (the "Company") launched its Tequila Ciudad brand in August 2017 with three styles: Blanco, Reposado, and Añejo. Founded by two industry veterans, the brand seeks to capitalize on growing demand for premium sipping tequilas.^{iv} Each bottle of Tequila Ciudad is etched with a map of Mexico City (ciudad is the Spanish word for city). To the company, Mexico City represents a growing and progressive culture, and Tequila Ciudad seeks to replicate the energy, ambition, hustle, and strength of the people of Mexico City to succeed.

MICROVENTURES

Product

Tequila Ciudad's spirits are made from Blue Weber Agave grown in the Mexican Highlands of Arandas. The highlands region is known to produce a tequila that's different than those grown in the richer volcanic earth of the lowlands region of Mexico. Blue Agave cultivated in the red clay soil of the highlands tend to produce tequila that is softer, rounder, fruitier, and more floral.^y

CIUDAD BLANCO NOT AGED

Distilled in copper stills and immediately bottled. The aroma includes bright highland agave, fresh grass, and citrus green fruits like mango peel and pineapple. Taste is said to be lightly bitter, smoky with citrus predominance, with hints of mint and cinnamon.

CIUDAD REPOSADO
AGED 11 MONTHS

While other reposados are aged for two to six months, this tequila spends 11 months in American White Oak barrels. Aromas include fruit notes such as banana and green fruits, vanilla, and honey. Taste is said to be a smooth oak flavor, with hints of honey and vanilla, and a slightly smoky finish.

CIUDAD AÑEJO
AGED 24 MONTHS

Twice distilled and aged in two separate oak barrels—American White Oak and French Oak—before being blended together. The aroma is a blend of walnut, caramel, and vanilla. Taste is said to be spicy and slightly bitter, with the presence of cooked agave, a mixture of spices, including ginger, and fruit notes like apple and pear.

Marketing

Tequila Ciudad has hosted numerous branding events, including weekly in-market tastings across numerous Total Wine & More locations. The company also sponsors private events, creating custom cocktails made from its tequila for the parties. Ciudad also relies on search engine optimization (SEO) and social media to promote its brand.

Use of Proceeds

The company plans to use the funds from this raise to help increase production, host more tasting events, and provide funds for general marketing. If the minimum of $25,000 is raised, the company plans to allocate 40% to inventory and 60% for tasting/sampling events. If the maximum of $107,000 is raised, the company plans to allocate roughly 56% to inventory, ~33% to tastings/samplings, and ~11% to general marketing. The company may alter the above allocation at its discretion.

MICROVENTURES

Business Model

Tequila Ciudad is currently distributed by Deutsch Family Wine & Spirits, which then sells the product to Total Wine & More locations across the U.S. Prices are as follows:

- Ciudad Blanco: Suggested retail price is $52.99 per 750ml bottle (wholesale: $173 per case of six)
- Ciudad Reposado: Suggested retail price is $56.99 per 750ml bottle (wholesale: $190 per case of six)
- Ciudad Añejo: Suggested retail price is $59.99 per 750ml bottle (wholesale: $211 per case of six)

USER TRACTION

In February 2017, the company got its first purchase order, totaling 1,092 cases. For the whole year, it shipped 1,326 cases of its three products. In 2018, Tequila Ciudad sold 780 cases. The initial order of 1,092 cases in 2017 didn't actually start hitting Total Wine & More store shelves until June 2017, due to the time required to fulfill the order and ship across the U.S. Some Total Wine & More locations did not receive shipments until the end of 2018. This delay adversely impacted new purchase orders in 2018.

Ciudad Blanco has been the company's best-selling product thus far since launch (762 cases sold), followed by the Añejo (702 cases), and Reposado (642 cases).

INDUSTRY AND MARKET ANALYSIS

Distilled spirits gained market share relative to beer for the eighth consecutive year in 2017. In 2017, suppliers reported that distilled spirits sales rose by 4% year-over-year, with total sales worth $26.2 billion. Total volume rose 2.6% to 226 million cases, up 5.8 million cases from the prior year. Furthermore, the distilled spirits market has been primarily driven by growth in high-end premium and super premium products—bottles that retail for at least $20.^{vi}

MICROVENTURES

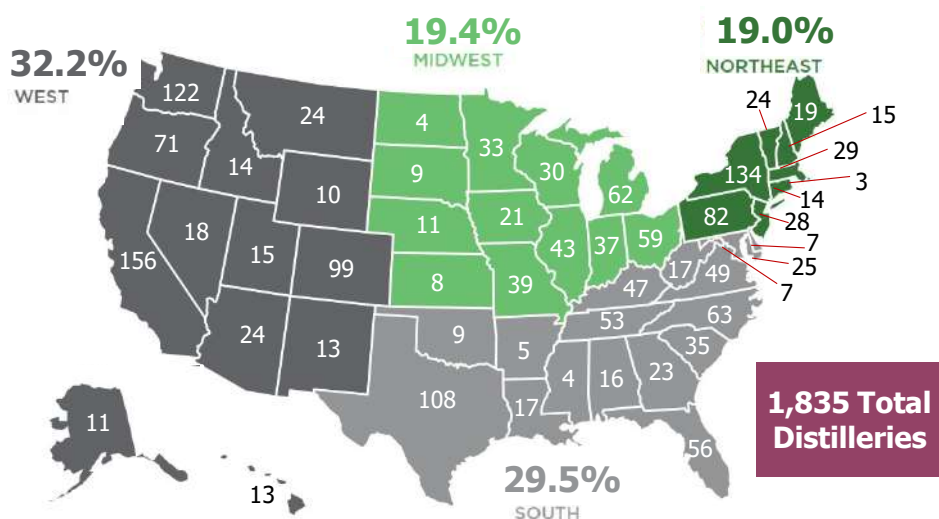

In 2017, vodka—the largest product category—accounted for almost one-third of total spirits volume, with 71.3 million cases sold. Total vodka sales generated $6.2 billion in revenue, up 3% year-over-year. Revenue from high-end premium vodka—bottles that retail for between $20 and $30—rose 15% to reach $1.6 billion. Tequila accounted for 17.2 million cases sold in 2017, up 8.5% from the prior year. Total tequila sales generated $2.7 billion, up 9.9% year-over-year, with strong growth across all price points. Revenue growth was led by high-end tequila brands, which saw sales increase 14.6% from 2016 to $340 million, and super-premium brands ($30+ per bottle), which saw sales increase 12% year-over-year to $1.2 billion.^{vii}

Local distilleries have contributed to the overall growth in the distilled spirits market. In 2017, the craft spirits industry generated $3.7 billion in retail sales, up 29.9% from the prior year. Overall volume reached nearly 7.2 million cases in 2017, up 23.7% from 2016. As of August 2018, there were 1,835 active craft distillers in the U.S., up 16% over the past 12 months. The largest concentrations of distilleries were primarily in the West, mostly in California, Washington, and Colorado, and in the South, mostly in Texas. The investments in craft distillery expansion have also increased. In 2017, total investment in the sector reached $593 million, up 49% from the $398 million invested in 2016.^{viii}

As of August 2018, 92% of craft distillers were defined as small producers. Yet, because small distilleries produce a limited quantity of spirits—usually single batches at a time—they accounted for just 13% of the craft spirit cases sold in 2017. For these small distillers, generating revenue in-state is especially important, as home state sales represented 92% of their total sales. Out-of-state and international sales accounted for just 10% of their total business.^{ix}

- iii. The undersigned confirms that it is not relying and will not rely on any communication (written or oral) of the Company, MicroVenture Marketplace Inc., or any of their respective affiliates, as investment advice or as a recommendation to purchase the Securities. It is understood that information and explanations related to the terms and conditions of the Securities provided in the Form C or otherwise by the Company, MicroVenture Marketplace Inc. or any of their respective affiliates shall not be considered investment advice or a recommendation to purchase the Securities, and that neither the Company, MicroVenture Marketplace Inc. nor any of their respective affiliates is acting or has acted as an advisor to the undersigned

Tequila Ciudad Background

- Seeking to capitalize on growing demand for premium sipping tequilas.
- Launched in 2017 with three styles (Blanco, Reposado and Anejo).
- Founded by two industry veterans.
- Each bottle of Tequila Ciudad is etched with a map of Mexico City (ciudad is the Spanish word for city). To the company, Mexico City represents a growing and progressive culture, and—like the people of Mexico City—we seek to replicate the same energy, ambition, hustle, and strength to succeed.
- Ciudad falls into the fastest growing Tequila category – Super Premium
- Ciudad has been on retail shelves in Total Wine & More stores since mid-2017 and is continuing to grow. Through Total Wine & More, Ciudad is sold in over 20 states and 150+ retail stores.
- Ciudad has been included in branding events including weekly in-market tastings and private tasting dinners.

Opportunity

- Ciudad is still relatively new in the market and in its growth phase. For now, the company is focusing on off-premise (retail stores) only.
- Nearly $400,000 in sales since hitting store shelves in June 2017 thanks to end-user interaction such as in-store tastings and partnership marketing with Total Wine & More.
- With outside investment, Ciudad hopes to increase retail distribution and build our brand recognition. There is also opportunity to sell on-premise (restaurants, bars, etc).
- As new craft breweries, distilleries and boutique wineries are opening their doors on a regular basis across the U.S., large suppliers are trying to keep up by releasing innovative products of their own. While these new product releases are meant to keep consumers engaged within supplier portfolios, the same suppliers have also been keen on acquiring up-and-coming breweries, distilleries, and wineries. Both suppliers and beverage alcohol investment firms have been purchasing controlling stakes in new start-ups.¹

The Tequila Market¹

- 17.2 million cases of tequila sold in 2017, up 8.5% year-over-year.
- Total tequila sales generated $2.7 billion, up 9.9% year-over-year.
- Major recent tequila company acquisitions include Patron selling to Bacardi for $5.1 billion² and Casamigos selling to Diageo in a deal that could value the tequila brand up to $1 billion.³

Super Premium Tequila Category

- While tequila has seen growth across a variety of price points, the fastest growth has been in brands that sell at premium price points. In fact, tequila that retails for over $30 per bottle has seen volumes increase 805% since 2002, reaching 3.2 million 9-liter cases sold in 2017 alone.¹
- In 2017, revenue growth was led by high-end tequila brands ($20+ per bottle), which saw sales increase 14.6% from 2016 to $340 million, and super-premium brands ($30+ per bottle), which saw sales increase 12% year-over-year to $1.2 billion.²

Tequila Ciudad's spirits are made from Blue Weber Agave grown in the Mexican Highlands of Arandas. The highlands region is known to produce a tequila that's different than those grown in the richer volcanic earth of the lowlands region of Mexico. Blue Agave cultivated in the red clay soil of the highlands tends to produce tequila that is softer, rounder, fruitier, and more floral.¹

John Barlow (founder): The energy of Mexico City, it's amazing, it's modern, it's chic. You could be sitting in a restaurant thinking you're in New York City or London. The energy is contagious, it makes you feel alive. Mexico City is the pulse, the heartbeat of the country that makes the best spirit in the world – tequila. We make an exquisite tequila; the bottle had to match the beautiful agave that's inside. We picked this one and etched the map of Mexico City on the bottle. Ciudad is made like a fine Scotch or champagne. From the red soil of the Highlands to the bottle, everything about the process is sophisticated and modern. Ciudad is a sipping tequila. It's something that you enjoy for creating memories. It's for savoring and sharing. I love sipping Ciudad. I will drink it in a Riedel glass or a rocks glass. We hustle to make the best tequila in the world. The whole process from farm to bottle is beautiful. Our destination is you and we don't take that lightly.

Webinar Transcript

Brett Andrews: Hi, everyone. This is Brett Andrews of MicroVentures. Thanks to all of you for joining us today. Today, we're going to be hearing from John Barlow, co-founder and CEO of Jack Henry Spirits, the maker of Tequila Ciudad. In addition to Jack Henry Spirits, John also co-founded and co-owns VIDA Tequila USA. He has more than 15 years of experience in the wine and spirits market. John also has extensive sales and distribution background spanning multiple industries, including the wine and spirits industry, software and manufacturing. John was also successful in developing a large sales channel in the RV industry for an upstart hitch manufacturing company. How you doing today, John?

John Barlow: I'm doing great. Thank you very much for the opportunity. Should I take it away?

Brett Andrews: I'm going to give some quick instructions to the people who are tuned in. We do have some people live. This is being recorded for later viewing as well. This is kind of the ground rules. Today, John's going to run through his pitch deck. It should be around 10 or 15 minutes. During that presentation, we encourage any of you who are listening in live to send in questions. If you go over to your GoToMeeting control panel, there's a Questions tab. You can click there and submit any questions that come up during the presentation. They won't distract John. They'll go straight to me, so you can feel free to submit during.

Brett Andrews: Then at the end when John wraps up, we'll open it up to Q&A so you can continue to ask questions after the presentation's over. That's pretty much it. With that, John, I'll let you take it away and introduce everyone to Tequila Ciudad.

John Barlow: All right. Well, thank you very much again for this opportunity. Again, my name is John Barlow. My wife and I own Jack Henry Spirits, and Tequila Ciudad is the brand. I really appreciate the opportunity to work with MicroVentures and everything that you guys have done for us so far and appreciate everybody taking time out of their schedule today to join this webinar and learn more about me, learn more about us, Ciudad, and this opportunity. Pass the legal notice. We'll scan through that. A little bit of background about my wife Lisa and I. We've been in the tequila business since 2004-2005. We've really enjoyed being in the spirits business, and we've always had plans to create a new brand.

John Barlow: About four years ago, Total Wine & More asked if we would create a tequila brand to participate in their spirits direct program. For that, we created Ciudad. We wanted a brand that would really pop on the retail shelf, as well as taste incredible. The bottles that we have for Ciudad, they're actually custom made and each bottle's etched with the map of Mexico City on the back. The goal was really to create a bottle that would be a conversation piece. Something that would look really good on someone's back bar and obviously hold some awesome tequila.

John Barlow: We chose the name Ciudad, which means city in Spanish, because we wanted to pay tribute to the capital of the country that produces, in our opinion obviously, the best spirit in the world. Mexico City, there's still kind of a misconception in our opinion about Mexico City. We feel just the opposite. We feel that it's a thriving, energizing, modern city. It's really neat. If you look into Mexico City, there's a lot of high-end eating establishments, retail shops, and a lot more located throughout the city. With Total Wine & More, Ciudad can actually be found on shelves in over 150 stores and growing.

John Barlow: A few weeks ago, I was talking with a manager in Northern California, just to give you an example of their growing pattern. In Northern California, they currently have around 12 stores. He told me that they have plans to add 20 more stores by the end of 2019. That's just in Northern California. They're doing the expansion all over the US, which just means benefit for Ciudad because more stores means more Ciudad on the shelf. We try to put Ciudad in front of everybody with every opportunity. A key to success in the spirits industry is what we call "liquid to lips." What that means is sample as much as possible and as often as possible. We have tastings just about every weekend throughout the US.

John Barlow: As a matter of fact, this morning I was calling throughout Massachusetts. We have a few tastings scheduled in Massachusetts for this weekend. We have them every weekend. Right now, we have probably completed around 80 tastings to date for this year so far and have at least a hundred tastings approved and scheduled through May and just waiting on approval for more requested tastings for the rest of 2019. We have also tried to take advantage of event opportunities where Ciudad can be featured. One example of these types of opportunities was during Oscars weekend. A couple weeks ago, Netflix actually hosted an event in Mexico City.

John Barlow: It was for a film that they created called Roma, and it was nominated for a few Oscars and actually won the best director Oscar. The cool thing with Netflix in this event was Ciudad was actually the only spirit featured during this event in Mexico City. It was a great branding opportunity for Ciudad and for people to try the tequila. Ciudad is still relatively young, new tequila brand. With the spirits direct program, our focus is growing within Total Wine & More and growing with them. We've only been on the shelf since the middle of 2017, and that's actually just for the first few stores. It took a national rollout, so some of the stores didn't actually have bottles on their shelf until late 2017.

John Barlow: But with all of that, we've actually generated nearly $400,000 in sales. With increased numbers of tastings, co-op marketing opportunities, the sales are just going to continue to increase. Just last week I was actually in Vegas and I had the opportunity to present to a sales training to about a hundred managers and team members in the Vegas area. Opportunities like this continue to be available and the cool thing about it is it's only for spirits direct brands. It's great for us, because we are allowed to get in front of the team members and help keep Ciudad in the minds of the sales manager and the team members. We also have opportunity to grow outside of Total Wine & More.

- John Barlow: Just because we're spirits direct, we're not actually exclusive to Total Wine & More. What that means is that if we want to go into markets where there are no Total Wine & More stores, we can. We could both sell on-premises or off-premises, so there's a lot of expansion opportunity for Ciudad. With the tequila market, now is really such a great time to be included in tequila. It's been on the rise since the early 2000s, and it's not slowing down whatsoever. Consumers are being educated about how tequila is something to be sipped and enjoyed and to get away from that college thought of something that you just want to do shots and drink until you pass out and hate yourself for a few days. The total tequila sales in 2017 were $2.7 billion, and that's just in 2017.
- John Barlow: To explain how valuable tequila is right now, some of the recent transactions include Bacardi purchasing the remaining 70% of Patron for $5.1 billion. They just did that last year. They had purchased the first 30% a few years back or I think probably 10 or 20 years back, 15 years back. Then Diageo, they're very active in the market, and they purchased Casamigos a couple of years ago for $1 billion. At the time, Casamigos had been on market for three years. Now as far as categories go, Ciudad definitely fits into the super-premium category. What that is, is a bottle at retail for anything over $30.
- John Barlow: In 2017, for the super-premium category, they showed an increase of 12% year over year or $1.2 billion. Product specific. About Ciudad itself, the product, the tequila, it comes from agave, and agave is a fruit. There are many strains of this fruit. We use the highest quality agave, and we grow our crops in the highlands of Jalisco, which creates a more fruity-tasting tequila, whereas lowlands tequilas are a little bit more earthy. From seed to harvest, to put in perspective of what it takes to make tequila, agave just to grow takes 12 years to reach full maturity from seed to harvest.
- John Barlow: One thing that we really prided ourselves with Ciudad is that we let our agave grow to full maturity. The reason I point that out is because with the explosion of tequila in general, many companies out there are harvesting their agave closer to six to seven years so they can try to get to the market faster. This ends up changing the taste or the quality of the tequila. What we like to compare it to really is like a strawberry. A fully ripe strawberry is sweet and flavorful. If you bite into one that's not quite ripe, it's a little bit bitter and sour. These tasting notes can be the same with agave. Another thing with our agave, to have our quality, we only bottle about 60% of what's distilled.
- John Barlow: What this is called is the heads and tails method. For the first 20% during distillation, we discard. That's called the head and that's to remove kind of the metal taste from the distillation process. Then we also discard the last 20%, which is called the tail. And so with that, the finished product is smooth, it's tasteful, it's clean, and best of all, it's delicious. Just on a fun note, if you can see this slide real well, right here, this is actually a picture of me harvesting agave. That was quite a fun experience. I enjoyed that a lot. We have three styles right now.

John Barlow: We have a Blanco, a Reposado, and Anejo. They're all doubled distilled. They're all great for sipping. They do mix well if you want to make some great cocktails as well. The Blanco, it's not aged. As soon as it's distilled, it's put right into the bottle. Everybody has different palates, so they get different tasting flavors. But with the Blanco, real upfront flavors are citrus, pineapple, pepper. It really ranges on what your palate can pick up. With our Reposado, it's again double distilled, then it's aged 11 months in American white oak barrels. With these barrels, we actually source them from Kentucky. They're all new barrels and what that means is that no other spirit has been aged in them.

John Barlow: The reason we do that is because we want the result to have a pure agave flavor. We also char our own barrels and use a level two char. Again, with the different flavors and notes, there's a lot of different ... You can pull on different ones. With me, I actually get a lot of caramel flavor when I sip our Reposado. Then last but definitely not least, our Anejo. This is one that we are really excited about because it's a blended Anejo. What we do is we age two years in American white oak barrels, two years in French oak barrels, and then blend it together. The French oak barrels are sourced from the Cognac Region in France.

John Barlow: I always hesitate to say if I like one more than the other because it feels like I'm preferring one child over another, but really the Anejo is my go-to. I love enjoying that just neat or on the rocks, and it's actually been really popular with Total Wine & More. Here are some pictures of what the tastings look like. If anybody lives near a Total Wine & More, you've probably been in and seen a tasting going on. There's possibly a chance you've been to a Ciudad tasting. As I mentioned before, liquid to lips. That's one of the best, if not the best, way to create customer traction and loyalty.

John Barlow: That's the whole point of all these tastings. Someone can go in and take a small sample and taste the quality of the tequila and then there's bottles there that they can just buy. We love doing these tastings. We work with an agency that sends out brand ambassadors that are trained on Ciudad. Then when I'm able to, I love to get out and do the tastings myself as well. We also have a very good and strong social media presence. We're always posting pictures, stories, all of that. We have a strong following with each platform. Rounding things off, this is Lisa and I. I don't know if I mentioned it at the beginning, but we really do love what we do.

John Barlow: We've been in the spirit industry for, tequila specific, for over 15 years and have really, really enjoyed it. A lot of the connections with film and entertainment through Lisa's marketing company actually creates a lot of tasting and sampling opportunities at low or even no cost to Ciudad. Kind of like that Roma Netflix event. Really what it comes down to is we also make the best tequila and we would really love for all of you to join in the hustle with us. I appreciate all the time again that you guys and the consideration in Ciudad. Brett?

Brett Andrews: Great. Thanks, John. I appreciate that. It was a great synopsis for us. Real quick before we jump into Q&A. We had some people joining a little late, so I just want to remind everyone that you can send in questions into the Question panel on your GoToWebinar control panel. Feel free to submit as we go here. I want to kick things off. How many Total Wines did you say you're currently being sold in?

John Barlow: Currently Total Wine has ... I know it's over 150. I've lost count actually. It might be closer to 180 or more stores throughout the US.

Brett Andrews: Okay. You're in all of them?

John Barlow: And growing. We're in the majority of them. The only ones that we would not be found in are ones that in control states like Virginia or North Carolina and that's just due to laws. In those Total Wine & More stores, they just are allowed to sell beer and wine and they can't carry any spirits.

Brett Andrews: Got you.

John Barlow: The total number of stores might even be reaching 200, but I say 150 to 180 just to take out the ones that are in those control states.

Brett Andrews: Okay. That was going to be my next question is what states that you're in. How many control states would you say there are?

John Barlow: Control states, I would say probably ... I think last I did research there is 17 or 18 control states. They do all vary just so you know. Just because it's a control state doesn't necessarily mean that a spirit can be sold in a Total Wine & More store. Just as an example, Georgia is an example. They actually have four stores in Georgia, but only two of those stores can they sell spirits.

Brett Andrews: Got you. Okay. Yeah. I should tell people and we'll point people to some places at the end. You do have a list on your website where that shows the states that you are available in. It's most of the big ones. I think depending on where our listeners are listening from, they should be able to find it. We've got a question from someone about distribution. I don't know if this is in the presentation, but I don't think you covered it. Who are you using as a distributor? Maybe you can kind of parlay that into talking a little bit about the difference for people that maybe not aware of off-premises and on-premises.

Brett Andrews: I know you mentioned that you're really just premise right now. Talk a little bit about distribution and how those two strategies vary a little bit.

John Barlow: Sure. Total Wine & More is our main end customer right now. Deutsch Fine Wine and Spirits is our distributor that we work with to go to ... Is the intermediary essentially. We sell to them and then it goes to Total Wine & More. They're our distributor on record. As far as on and off premise, there's two different ways that you can sell alcohol. On premise means you're consuming the alcohol on that location. That would be like a bar or a restaurant, a hotel, something like that. Then off premise is just meaning you purchase the alcohol and you take it off of the location. Right now, I mentioned earlier that we're just an off premise play.

John Barlow: With Total Wine & More, the bottles of alcohol purchased and then taken home essentially. That's our model right now. But moving forward, if we choose to go say a state where Total Wine & More is not there, then we could actually sell to on and off premise spots if we wanted to.

Brett Andrews: Got you. Just to kind of touch on that just a little bit further, am I correct in assuming that sort of the thought process and the strategy there is let's get people introduced to the brand via tastings and picking up a bottle themselves so that when they do eventually go to the on premise locations and they see Tequila Ciudad on the menu and they're familiar with it?

John Barlow: Yeah. Yeah. No. Yeah. The play right now is to be nationwide. With Total Wine & More, it allows us to have that opportunity to be right out of the gate. What happens with a lot of spirits brands is they have to kind of pick and choose which states they can start with because distribution is not easy to come by. It could take years to expand into two or three different markets and/or states. Like California, for example, is actually two markets. You have Northern California and Southern California. With this opportunity with Ciudad, right out of the door we are nationally distributed, nationally found. Yeah.

John Barlow: The goal right now is to become well-known in the Total Wine & More locations and then parlay that to our success to more of an on premise play as well.

Brett Andrews: Great. Okay. We have another question here about your other company VIDA and wanting to understand the relationship and the differences between the two, so between Tequila Ciudad and VIDA USA. Can you touch on that a little bit?

John Barlow: Sure. Yeah. VIDA Tequila is a tequila brand that we started and launched in 2007. I can talk to national distribution versus not so national because VIDA, we're still in only about eight markets because we have just select distribution in those markets. It's a different tequila. It comes from the same distillery, but it's a different aging process and everything. It is a different recipe. We are very specific to do that because we wanted to have separate tequilas for each brand. It's a lot like whisky. If you go into a whisky distillery, they can pump out all sorts of different styles of whisky from that distillery.

John Barlow: With tequila, with aging barrels, the agave strains, when you harvest, you can make hundreds of different types of tequilas or recipes of tequilas.

Brett Andrews: Got you. I think that make sense. We got a question about gross margins. What are the margins like on the three different skews that you have and maybe talk a little bit about pricing as well. I think this is on our campaign page, which I'll point people towards near the end, but if you don't mind touching on that a little bit, I think it'd be helpful.

John Barlow: Sure. Yeah, no problem. The retail is $49.99, $54.99, and $64.99 going Blanco, Reposado, Anejo. That's on the store shelf. The average margin with each style ranges around 50%. With the volume and everything, we can actually ... With larger volumes, we can actually cut our cost with the production and everything. But in general, the profit margins are around 50%.

Brett Andrews: Got you. That's very, very strong.

John Barlow: Yeah. Part of that too is because with it being spirits direct. The arrangements that we have with our distributor is they don't take quite as large a margin, whereas like with other brands going with other distributors, not spirits direct, they can actually lose margin through the distributor.

Brett Andrews: Okay. We've got another one here about ... It's about the funds used for marketing. Well maybe we'll kind of wrap this into a question that'll be a good one to ... Not in done, but get close. The use of funds. On the raise that you're doing right now, I think there's a portion ... Again, this is also split up on the campaign page as well so people can find it there. But maybe while we're here and if you could touch a little bit on what the funds of the raise will be put towards, and if there is a portion of that that is put towards marketing, maybe you can talk a little bit about what exactly you plan to do with the funds with regards to that.

John Barlow: Sure. Yeah, no. Really there's three main areas that the funds would be used for. If the full amount is raised, then it would be inventory, tastings and general marketing. If the full funds aren't raised, then what is raised would be used towards inventory and tastings. Obviously, inventory is a must. Then the tastings are such an impactful opportunity to get liquid to lip. That's why those are the main focuses. The general marketing, what that would be is really any in store advertising, online advertising that we can do at Total Wine & More. They have mailers. They have email blasts and everything. There are opportunities for us to include Ciudad or have more presence for Ciudad for small cost.

John Barlow: Then also another area that we've considered being cost effective obviously is outdoor advertising or billboards. I know a lot of the locations where the Total Wine & More stores are billboards are close by. If we had a billboard in various markets, then that would just draw more attention to sales.

Brett Andrews: Great. I know we're running up on the stop here. We're kind of out of questions. I think what would be cool, before we point people to where else they can find more information, do you have like one or two drink suggestions that you could give us with one or the various tequilas? I guess what's your favorite if you have one or two that you can suggest to everybody?

John Barlow: My favorite and this is ... I don't know if this is the best ... I can't think of the best way to put it. I'm trying to cut calories these days. Put it that way, so I don't like a lot of mixers in. Really all three styles are awesome neat or on the rocks. The Anejo, like I mentioned before, I usually will drink neat, but they do mix really well. One of the popular drinks right now is a Paloma. That is usually with a Blanco, and it's simple to make. It's like an ounce of Ciudad Blanco, a half ounce of simple syrup and then grapefruit soda and that's all you need. Maybe squeeze a lime in there too. It's similar to a margarita, but with a grapefruit soda it just adds a little bit more punch to it.

John Barlow: Wit the Reposado, another popular one is mixing it with pineapple juice and Cointreau. That's proven to be a favorite. With the Anejo, with the price point, a lot of times you don't want to mix because you just want to just savor the flavors of the tequila. But the drink out there, the White Russian, if you substitute vodka with the Anejo, so you have Anejo and ... What is it? Oh, I can't think of the other, whatever, the cream. Anejo cream and Kahlua. That's it. Anejo cream and Kahlua, it makes an awesome chocolate milk.

Brett Andrews: Wow. I've never heard of a White Russian that uses tequila, but you have me sufficiently thirsty this afternoon.

John Barlow: Yeah, no. Throw it in a shaker with some ice, shake it around and pour it. Like I said, it is the best adult chocolate milk you'll ever have.

Brett Andrews: Very cool. Well, I can't wait to try some of this stuff. I know we have somewhere around here in the office. It's definitely on the short-term agenda for me. Before we sign off here and I kind of give people the final steps, do you want to kind of point people to other places they might be able to find some information on you guys? I know you got a website. You mentioned the social channels in your presentation. Maybe you can verbally kind of give us the links for those so that if people want to go follow you or check out more information to stay up to date, then they can do that?

John Barlow: Sure. We have our website. You can also, if you want to, go to Total Wine & More and do a search for Ciudad Tequila. We have reviews up there of each style. Those are customers that have emailed ... Not emailed in, but typed in their reviews. Also with Instagram, it's just @tequilaciudad. We're constantly posting stories. We're constantly posting pictures. With the stories, we're doing a lot with the tastings when they're going on. Then with our Facebook page, it's just Tequila Ciudad also.

Brett Andrews: Great. Well, thanks for the time, guys. Thanks, John, and thanks for everybody who attended. If you have any more questions after we sign off here, you can submit them through the MicroVentures website and we'll most likely pass them along to John and his team to be answered. There's a discussion forum there. Also, this offering will be closing soon. Of course, if you'd like to invest in Tequila Ciudad, we make it as easy as we can for you there. If you go to Crowdfunding tab at the MicroVentures website and find their offering page, there's a big orange investment button you can click on. It'll walk you through the process.

Brett Andrews: I think there's some really cool perks that come with it if you get to certain levels of investment. You can check that out there as well along with a lot of the information that we touched on today. That should do it for this afternoon. I appreciate again the time, John, and for everyone who attended. I hope everyone-

John Barlow: Thank you.

Brett Andrews: ... has a great rest of the day and great rest of the week. Thanks, guys.

John Barlow: All right. Thank you. Thanks, Brett.

Brett Andrews: Yup.
