Education

Instructor tasked with educating children from ages 10-18 years of age in personal growth and development, leadership, respect and discipline. The cadets that passed through our ranks grew to great careers both in military and civilian life. There is no military requirement. This program is simply an opportunity to develop, grow and nurish the cadets confidence levels, provide basic military training skills and give them a clear and earned sense of accomplishment. I trained them in Military customs and courtesies, Military history, Physical fitness and various other leadership, management and etiquette courses.
