Please review your Wefunder profile carefully to ensure it provides all material information, is not false or misleading, and does not omit any information that would cause the information included to be false or misleading.

RISK FACTORS

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission does not pass upon the merits of any securities offered or the terms of the offering, nor does it pass upon the accuracy or completeness of any offering document or literature.

These securities are offered under an exemption from registration; however, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission has not made an independent determination that these securities are exempt from registration.

8. Discuss the material factors that make an investment in the issuer speculative or risky:

Convesio's current business model is not proven or a source of significant revenue. Current revenues do not cover current expenditure of the company. As a result, the Convesio's business model is due to change and adapt according to market conditions, product market fit and finding a successful sales and revenue model.

A significant amount of the team's time is spent working remotely. Convesio uses the latest communication methods, such as Slack and Zoho message apps, to make sure the team is working towards a common goal and product development, however, as the team expands it is unproven that this method is optimal to product development. As a result, it may be necessary for the team to find a more stable base.

Convesio's current software applications are new and therefore do not have a stable or significant customer base. It is necessary that Convesio grows the number of customers of rapidly, although, there is no guarantee Convesio will do so.

Convesio's limited operating history may make it difficult to evaluate Convesio's current business and Convesio's future prospects. Convesio has encountered and will continue to encounter risks and difficulties frequently experienced by growing companies in rapidly developing and changing industries, including challenges in forecasting accuracy, determining appropriate investments of Convesio's limited resources, market acceptance of Convesio's existing and future products and services, competition from established companies with greater financial and technical resources, acquiring and retaining users and developing enhancements to Convesio's products and services. Convesio cannot assure you that the company will be successful in addressing these and other challenges Convesio may face in the future.

Convesio is reliant on single full-time Officer, which it must retain to ensure continued growth and productivity. The loss of the CEO may have an adverse effect on the business.

Many of Convesio's current and potential competitors have longer operating histories, significantly greater financial, technical, marketing and other resources and larger customer bases than Convesio does. These factors may allow Convesio's competitors to respond more quickly than Convesio can to new or emerging technologies and changes in customer preferences. These competitors may engage in more extensive research and development efforts, undertake more far-reaching marketing campaigns and adopt more aggressive pricing policies which may allow them to build a larger user base or to monetize that user base more effectively than us. Convesio's competitors may develop products or services that are similar to Convesio's products and services or that achieve greater market acceptance than Convesio's services. This could attract users away from Convesio's products and reduce Convesio's market share.

Investors will not see a return on Convesio until acquired, IPO, or becomes profitable to start paying dividends to shareholders. None of those events are guaranteed to happen. Also, that dividends will only be paid if and when declared by the Board.

If adequate funds are not available or not available on acceptable terms, Convesio may not be able to fund its expansion, promote its product as Convesio desires, take advantage of unanticipated acquisition opportunities, develop or enhance services or respond to competitive pressures. Any such inability would have a material adverse effect on Convesio's business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects.

The Company may never receive a future equity financing or elect to convert the Securities upon such future financing. In addition, the Company may never undergo a liquidity event such as a sale of the Company or an IPO. If neither the conversion of the Securities nor a liquidity event occurs, the Purchasers could be left holding the Securities in perpetuity. The Securities have numerous transfer restrictions and will likely be highly illiquid, with no secondary market on which to sell them. The Securities are not equity interests, have no ownership rights, have no rights to the Company's assets or profits and have no voting rights or ability to direct the Company or its actions.

Our future success depends on the efforts of a small management team. The loss of services of the members of the management team may have an adverse effect on the company. There can be no assurance that we will be successful in attracting and retaining other personnel we require to successfully grow our business.potentially result in departures in Convesio if team members did not want to relocate.

INSTRUCTION TO QUESTION 8: Avoid generalized statements and include only those factors that are unique to the issuer. Discussion should be tailored to the issuer's business and the offering and should not repeat the factors addressed in the legends set forth above. No specific number of risk factors is required to be identified.

Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

You should read the following discussion and analysis of our financial condition and results of operations together with our financial statements and the related notes and other financial information included elsewhere in this offering. Some of the information contained in this discussion and analysis, including information regarding the strategy and plans for our business, includes forward-looking statements that involve risks and uncertainties. You should review the "Risk Factors" section for a discussion of important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from the results described in or implied by the forward-looking statements contained in the following discussion and analysis.

Overview

Convesio provides WordPress website agencies with a platform for hosting scalable WordPress websites without the complexity of traditional cloud providers. Convesio sites outperform traditional hosting providers, reducing client complaints. We simplify hosting, providing a high availability, secure and scalable platform for client sites and streamlined workflows for agencies. This enables agencies to differentiate hosting and use it as a true selling point while maximizing hosting profits.

The hosting market is primed for disruption as businesses realize they cannot reliably host their website on discount legacy providers. Convesio's approach and technology makes it a clear choice over legacy competitors. Our aim over the next 5 years is to have a global server presence and host tens of thousands of websites. These projections are not guaranteed.

Milestones

Convesio, Inc. was incorporated in the State of Delaware in February 2018.

Since then, we have:

- WordPress runs 33.2% of the entire internet - approx 75M websites.
- Managed hosting is expected to grow to $75.6B in 2020.
- New technology, different from other managed hosting providers, at affordable prices.
- Already built, in beta and has very happy users providing great feedback. Ready to go to market!
- Hosting 500+ websites, with more than 90 million requests per month, and increasing each day.
- Deployed 5 clusters: 3 in N. America and 2 in the UK.
- Enable design agencies to harness the power of cloud providers, like Amazon, without the headache, resources, or heavy price tag.

Historical Results of Operations

Our company was organized in February 2018 and has limited operations upon which prospective investors may base an evaluation of its performance.

- Revenues & Gross Margin. For the period ended December 31, 2020, the Company had revenues of $192,730 compared to the year ended December 31, 2019, when the Company had revenues of $12,600.
- Assets. As of December 31, 2020, the Company had total assets of $731,591, including $714,627 in cash. As of December 31, 2019, the Company had $883,240 in total assets, including $405,827 in cash.
- Net Loss. The Company has had net losses of $777,675 and net losses of $459,174 for the fiscal years ended December 31, 2020 and December 31, 2019, respectively.
- Liabilities. The Company's liabilities totaled $126,264 for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2020 and $42,517 for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2019.

Related Party Transaction

Refer to Question 26 of this Form C for disclosure of all related party transactions.

Liquidity & Capital Resources

To-date, the company has been financed with $74,700 in debt and $750,000 in SAFEs.

After the conclusion of this Offering, should we hit our minimum funding target, our projected runway is 12 months before we need to raise further capital.

We plan to use the proceeds as set forth in this Form C under "Use of Funds". We don't have any other sources of capital in the immediate future.

We will likely require additional financing in excess of the proceeds from the Offering in order to perform operations over the lifetime of the Company. We plan to raise capital in 12 months. Except as otherwise described in this Form C, we do not have additional sources of capital other than the proceeds from the offering. Because of the complexities and uncertainties in establishing a new business strategy, it is not possible to adequately project whether the proceeds of this offering will be sufficient to enable us to implement our strategy. This complexity and uncertainty will be increased if less than the maximum amount of securities offered in this offering is sold. The Company intends to raise additional capital in the future from investors. Although capital may be available for early-stage companies, there is no guarantee that the Company will receive any investments from investors.

Runway & Short/Mid Term Expenses

Convesio, Inc. cash in hand is $586,385.75, as of March 2021. Over the last three months, revenues have averaged $47,325.93/month, cost of goods sold has averaged $56,527.50/month, and operational expenses have averaged $53,608/month, for an average burn rate of $62,809.57 per month. Our intent is to be profitable in 30 months.

Since the date our financials cover, demand in both platform and services have put us ahead of our original projections for 2021. Growth in average account MRR has contributed to this increased revenue. We continue to make strides to increase gross profit margins and expect to reach profitability sometime in the next 18 months given current financial models.

Over the next 3-6 months we will continue our sales and marketing strategy while conserving capital by optimizing our infrastructure footprint. We have seen 3 consecutive months of revenue growth in 2021 and believe that trend will continue. Through the first 3 months of 2021 we had an approximate MoM revenue growth rate of ~16%. Costs will increase over the next 9 months due to expiring Google Cloud credits. These projections are not guaranteed.

At the moment we have no other capital sources to rely on. We are active in the process of determining the next steps for raising capital during the current economic climate.

INSTRUCTIONS TO QUESTION 28: The discussion must cover each year for which financial statements are provided. For issuers with no prior operating history, the discussion should focus on financial milestones and operational, liquidity and other challenges. For issuers with an operating history, the discussion should focus on whether historical results and cash flows are representative of what investors should expect in the future. Take into account the proceeds of the offering and any other known or pending sources of capital. Discuss how the proceeds from the offering will affect liquidity, whether receiving these funds and any other additional funds is necessary to the viability of the business, and how quickly the issuer anticipates using its available cash. Describe the other available sources of capital to the business, such as lines of credit or required contributions by shareholders. References to the issuer in this Question 28 and these instructions refer to the issuer and its predecessors, if any.
