

VAMPR

2021 Report

Dear investors,

Dear investors,

We are pleased to publish our third annual report since the company's first Regulation Crowdfunding round closed in January 2020.

For many of us 2021 looked a lot like a curtain call of the trying circumstances we were all dealt in 2020 with the pandemic and various other interrelated world events ongoing. Nevertheless, Vampr had its most productive year to-date and we are excited to summarize many of those developments for you today.

Last year's annual report pointed towards a 2021 which would include the introduction of Advertising on Vampr, Happy Hour events, new social features, repeated NPS studies, UA challenges with anticipated changes to IDFA and mobile privacy, in addition to continued growth across the many areas of the Vampr business.

Not only did we hit our goals and exceed expectations on every one of these fronts, we also achieved something far more profound and important to our longevity: increasing LTV (lifetime value), reducing CAC (customer acquisition cost), and a laser-like focus on user retention across the board.

If 2020 was the year that Vampr transitioned from a gut-based decision-making company into a data driven company, then 2021 was the year that we focused on and prioritized improvements across our unit economics ahead of customer acquisition for the sake of it. This decision and focus over 12 months was crucial to laying the foundation for a future where funding could be derived from Venture Capital with confidence. This is important to Vampr if we are to raise enough private capital to scale in the ways necessary for the kinds of returns we know our early stage investors want to see.

Given the launch of our crowdfunding campaign at the start of Q4 2021 where we kept existing and prospective investors updated with regular company updates, much of this report will cover information which the company may have previously made public, with numbers updated for accuracy where appropriate.

For 2021, the company recorded $521,492 in Total Income with Net Revenues of $351,483. This is slightly below projections due to a smaller than anticipated R&D claim, as a result of overseas remote workers becoming ineligible for inclusion in the program. With more R&D resources added to the team towards the end of 2021 we anticipate our 2022 claim to be higher, which is reflected in our Accounts Receivable of $204,646.

Historical growth in subscription revenue from Vampr Pro held steady with an average 22% MoM increase through December. As of 12/31, 8,736 users had purchased a Vampr Pro product, up an incredible 755% Year over Year, with 1 month retention at an impressive 89%. Our conversion rate to Pro stands at 3% of Weekly Active Users up from 1.7% just last April at the time of our previous report.

Advertising on Vampr, which was launched in Q4, had a strong debut generating $30K from 12 advertisers in its first quarter. We have since deprecated two lesser performing ad models and increased CPM pricing by 50% while also increasing ad inventory by 25%. We will continue to optimize the ads program throughout 2022 and expect strong Year over Year growth in revenue.

As projected in our last Annual Report, we passed the 1M registered users milestone in September 2021 with 330,000 new users signing up in the past 12 months alone. Whilst IDFA privacy changes did indeed see our cost per install rise to 20-30 cents depending on the season, we managed to consistently bring down our Pro customer acquisition cost to $28.20 in November, down 16% from July, and as of publishing this report is now closer to $22.

This helped dramatically improve our LTV:CAC ratio from 0.1 in November 2020 to 2.1 in November 2021, with projections indicating 3.5 by November 2022. We will achieve this through continued optimization of CAC and through a modest increase in the base cost of Vampr Pro as supported by the industry average subscription price. These are the unit economics which get us excited and form the basis of our pitch to Venture Capital investors.

The size of our Vampr Publishing catalog has grown 121% YoY and now sits at an impressive 55,000 songs. We have begun signing deals with sync representation firms in various territories to bring songs. We have begun signing deals with sync representation firms in various territories to bring this catalog to market and start placing these songs in films, TV shows, video games and advertisements, starting with THINK Music in Los Angeles.

The other primary area we focused on heavily in 2021 was the social features in the app. This saw the introduction of Rooms, Questions, improvements to the Feed and Vamps, our answer to Instagram Stories. Part of this optimization involved our very first technology acquisition with MuzeRoom, whose scraping service brings breaking news about all your favorite artists into the Feed and Artist Rooms. We are now proud to boast that the average user makes 2 new connections per session, matching the benchmark set by Facebook. When it comes to time in app our most recent analysis shows an average of 31 minutes per day, which is more than 3X longer than people spend on LinkedIn. Over the course of 12 months we saw the number of messages sent between users grow 182%. So in a nutshell, is Vampr getting stickier? Unequivocally, yes.

We also opened up music distribution to all users, with free customers retaining 80% of royalties while Pro users keep 100% of royalties. In December we released our first ever virtual instrument plug-in with Canadian brand MNTRA. The plugin, called FRCUTRE, now serves as a case study in our ad deck, with our impressive campaign driving 15,000 downloads in the first month alone, an engagement rate of 35% across in-app placements and 1M+ impressions across all Vampr channels. These results and case study will help to attract future brands to advertise on Vampr.

From a public perception standpoint we've had a strong 12 months in the press, most recently with the inclusion of Vampr in Fast Company's Most Innovative Companies 2022 list, and a Music Week Award nomination in the Music Consumer Innovation category, up against Apple Music, TikTok, Soundcloud, YouTube and Amazon Music, for the second year running. We've also enjoyed numerous features in the App Store and Google Play Store and have enjoyed further support and server credits from the team at AWS.

What's next? We've recently begun making public our plans to introduce an online learning Academy. Vampr Academy will formally debut at this year's NOLA MusicTech on April 27 and we couldn't be more excited. We've poached the Professor of Music Business from Melbourne University to develop our inaugural course, Music Business Essentials, and plan to roll out additional courses throughout the remainder of the year. Vampr Academy will be offered primarily as a subscription service with a monthly cost of $23, which is significantly higher than the current Vampr Pro subscription base of $4.99. This also marks our first significant foray into the world of desktop, which as indicated last year will become increasingly important to our bottom line.

We have two other major tentpole releases planned for the year with the introduction of Marketplace and Metaverse Collaborations. For the former, we observed a trend of users transacting on Vampr. This is practically unsafe for many of our users and opens the door to fraud. By introducing Marketplace features and allowing people to transact directly on Vampr ALA Fivver, we can increase security while also opening the company up to an additional revenue stream with massive growth potential. As far as our plans go for the Metaverse, we'll have more to say on that in the second half of the year! Watch this space...

We need your help!

There are now well over 3000 investors in Vampr from over 50 countries. Of the $3.5M raised to-date, over $2.1M has come from our Wefunder investors alone!

This year we want to engage with and activate this impressive Investor Army to help spread awareness of both Vampr and our new product releases as they arrive in-market.

When we release these tentpole products we'll let you know through a Wefunder update. We simply ask that you share the news on your socials and tell anyone in your real world network who might benefit from using our products. With Vampr Academy arriving on April 27 we hope that with your help we can catapult monthly revenue in a profound way.

We have no doubt that together we will thrive!

Sincerely,

Barry Palmer

Our Mission

In five years time, we intend for Vampr to be the go-to resource for anyone seeking a livelihood in the creative arts or for those looking to hire specialised creative personnel. When you think of it, that means Vampr has the opportunity to intersect with every business on the planet. Our aim is to capitalise on our current competitive advantage and take the mantle as the definitive 'LinkedIn for creatives', growing well past 100 million users.

How did we do this year?

Report Card

The Good

New features saw app grow stickier; time in-app outpacing LinkedIn 3:1 + 2 new connections per session = Facebook benchmark

Vampr Pro revenue continued strong historical growth of 22% MoM and 3% adoption, with Ad revenue off to a strong start

Phenomenal improvement in LTV:CAC laying the foundation for future Venture Capital raises

The Bad

Net Revenue below projections due to smaller R&D claim than anticipated as a result of remote workers

User growth, whilst still impressive, slowed due to conscious focus on improving unit economics

Despite our largest and most impressive crowdfund turnout to date, we missed our target by $100K, shortening our runway by one month
