San Diego

NXT Robotics is a San Diego, CA-based company that provides service robots to support increased security monitoring and alerting requirements. Our autonomous platforms are able to deliver security-related services to our customers while meeting their performance and cost expectations for indoor and outdoor applications. Unmanned Ground Vehicles (UGVs) are becoming an increasingly popular choice for organizations that need to scale their operations while lowering costs and ensuring consistent and high-quality results. NXT Robotics delivers autonomous solutions that perform work for extended periods of time (8+ hours). This means that at least a half-day of unsupervised work can be accomplished for a fixed cost....
