The Company and its Business

Company Overview

GLOW sparkling highly functional beverages in premium sustainable packaging formulated to support the entire body and mind without adding unnecessary artificial ingredients, sugar, carbohydrates and calories. GLOW's award winning drinks are perfect for any occasion, from the gym and office to a night out. GLOW supports today's healthy, productive and socially active consumers.

Glow Beverages expects triple digit growth over the next several years with anticipated revenues of over 1 million in the current year. Our current supply chain consists of a copacker (UNIX Packaging Inc.) who has the capacity to sustain anticipated growth as well as a flavor house (Allen Flavors) who has worked with us in developing our award winning flavors, and we also anticipate releasing a new flavor in the upcoming quarter.

The Glow Beverages first began in January 2015 as a California based corp. In 2018 it briefly was converted to an LLC, and finally in 2019 we converted to a Delaware Based C-Corp which is held by Torero Holdings LLC, and John Larson is the sole member of Torero Holdings LLC.

Competitors and Industry

While we still face competition from well-known brands that are falsely associated in the functional beverage category, GLOW Beverages has a focus on differentiating our offering. Current products in the functional beverage market include kombucha and yerba mate. Our goal, at GLOW Beverages, is to be the only “go to” functional beverage by utilizing our proprietary blend which is a combination of premium ingredients and combining that with custom premium packaging and luxury branding that all the other brands lack.

Current Stage and Roadmap

We are already in existence looking to scale in growing our brand tremendously over the next few years and are targeting triple digit growth in each of those years. We believe the strategic partnerships we have in place with Live Nation will result in increased brand awareness within our targeted audience. Also we are very excited to expand upon our flavors for the upcoming quarter.

The Team

Officers and Directors

Name: John Larson

John Larson's current primary role is with the Issuer.

Positions and offices currently held with the issuer:

- Position: CEO
Dates of Service: January 15, 2015 - Present
Responsibilities: Running the company and innovating new ideas and products.

Risk Factors

The SEC requires the company to identify risks that are specific to its business and its financial condition. The company is still subject to all the same risks that all companies in its business, and all companies in the economy, are exposed to. These include risks relating to economic downturns, political and economic events and technological developments (such as hacking and the ability to prevent hacking).

Additionally, early-stage companies are inherently more risky than more developed companies. You should consider general risks as well as specific risks when deciding whether to invest.

These are the risks that relate to the Company:

Uncertain Risk

An investment in the Company (also referred to as “we”, “us”, “our”, or “Company”) involves a high degree of risk and should only be considered by those who can afford the loss of their entire investment. Furthermore, the purchase of any of the Common Stock should only be undertaken by persons whose financial resources are sufficient to enable them to indefinitely retain an illiquid investment. Each investor in the Company should consider all of the information provided to such potential investor regarding the Company as well as the following risk factors, in addition to the other information listed in the Company’s Form C. The following risk factors are not intended, and shall not be deemed to be, a complete description of the commercial and other risks inherent in the investment in the Company.

The transferability of the Securities you are buying is limited

Any Common Stock purchased through this crowdfunding campaign is subject to SEC limitations of transfer. This means that the stock/note that you purchase cannot be resold for a period of one year. The exception to this rule is if you are transferring the stock back to the Company, to an “accredited investor,” as part of an offering registered with the Commission, to a member of your family, trust created for the benefit of your family, or in connection with your death or divorce.

Your investment could be illiquid for a long time

You should be prepared to hold this investment for several years or longer. For the 12 months following your investment there will be restrictions on how you can resell the securities you receive. More importantly, there is no established market for these securities and there may never be one. As a result, if you decide to sell these securities in the future, you may not be able to find a buyer. The Company may be acquired by an existing player in the educational software development industry. However, that may never happen or it may happen at a price that results in you losing money on this investment.

If the Company cannot raise sufficient funds it will not succeed

The Company, is offering Common Stock in the amount of up to 107,000 in this offering, and may close on any investments that are made. Even if the maximum amount is raised, the Company is likely to need additional funds in the future in order to grow, and if it cannot raise those funds for whatever reason, including reasons relating to the Company itself or the broader economy, it may not survive. If the Company manages to raise only the minimum amount of funds, sought, it will have to find other sources of funding for some of the plans outlined in “Use of Proceeds.”

We may not have enough capital as needed and may be required to raise more capital.

We anticipate needing access to credit in order to support our working capital requirements as we grow. Although interest rates are low, it is still a difficult environment for obtaining credit on favorable terms. If we cannot obtain credit when we need it, we could be forced to raise additional equity capital, modify our growth plans, or take some other action. Issuing more equity may require bringing on additional investors. Securing these additional investors could require pricing our equity below its current price. If so, your investment could lose value as a result of this additional dilution. In addition, even if the equity is not priced lower, your ownership percentage would be decreased with the addition of more investors. If we are unable to find additional investors willing to provide capital, then it is possible that we will choose to cease our sales activity. In that case, the only asset remaining to generate a return on your investment could be our intellectual property. Even if we are not forced to cease our sales activity, the unavailability of credit could result in the Company performing below expectations, which could adversely impact the value of your investment.

Terms of subsequent financings may adversely impact your investment

We will likely need to engage in common equity, debt, or preferred stock financings in the future, which may reduce the value of your investment in the Common Stock. Interest on debt securities could increase costs and negatively impact operating results. Preferred stock could be issued in series from time to time with such designation, rights, preferences, and limitations as needed to raise capital. The terms of preferred stock could be more advantageous to those investors than to the holders of Common Stock. In addition, if we need to raise more equity capital from the sale of Common Stock, institutional or other investors may negotiate terms that are likely to be more favorable than the terms of your investment, and possibly a lower purchase price per share.

Management Discretion as to Use of Proceeds

Our success will be substantially dependent upon the discretion and judgment of our management team with respect to the application and allocation of the proceeds of this Offering. The use of proceeds described below is an estimate based on our current business plan. We, however, may find it necessary or advisable to re-allocate portions of the net proceeds reserved for one category to another, and we will have broad discretion in doing so.

Projections: Forward Looking Information

Any projections or forward looking statements regarding our anticipated financial or operational performance are hypothetical and are based on management's best estimate of the probable results of our operations and will not have been reviewed by our independent accountants. These projections will be based on assumptions which management believes are reasonable. Some assumptions invariably will not materialize due to unanticipated events and circumstances beyond management's control. Therefore, actual results of operations will vary from such projections, and such variances may be material. Any projected results cannot be guaranteed.

You are trusting that management will make the best decision for the company

You are trusting in management discretion. You are buying voting rights as a minority holder, and therefore must trust the management of the Company to make good business decisions that grow your investment.

Insufficient Funds

The company might not sell enough securities in this offering to meet its operating needs and fulfill its plans, in which case it will cease operating and you will get nothing. Even if we sell all the common stock we are offering now, the Company will (possibly) need to raise more funds in the future, and if it can't get them, we will fail. Even if we do make a successful offering in the future, the terms of that offering might result in your investment in the company being worth less, because later investors might get better terms.

The Convertible Promissory Notes have no rights to vote until the date of maturity

The Convertible Promissory Notes have no rights to vote until the date of maturity. This means you are trusting in management discretion. Therefore, you will have no say in the day-to-day operation of the Company and must trust the management of the Company to make good business decisions that grow your investment. Holders of our outstanding Preferred Stock have liquidation preferences over holders of Common Stock, including the Common Stock being offered in this offering. This liquidation preference is paid if the amount a holder of Preferred Stock would receive under the liquidation preference is greater than the amount such holder would have received if such holder's shares of Preferred Stock had been converted to Common Stock immediately prior to the liquidation event. If a liquidation event, including a sale of our company, were to occur then first all creditors and Preferred Stockholder of the Company will be paid out. If there is any cash remaining, then the Common stockholders will be paid.

Our new product could fail to achieve the sales projections we expected

Our growth projections are based on an assumption that with an increased advertising and marketing budget our products will be able to gain traction in the marketplace at a faster rate than our current products have. It is possible that our new products will fail to gain market acceptance for any number of reasons. If the new products fail to achieve significant sales and acceptance in the marketplace, this could materially and adversely impact the value of your investment.

We face significant market competition

We will compete with larger, established companies who currently have products on the market and/or various respective product development programs. They may have much better financial means and marketing/sales and human resources than us. They may succeed in developing and marketing competing equivalent products earlier than us, or superior products than those developed by us. There can be no assurance that competitors will render our technology or products obsolete or that the products developed by us will be preferred to any existing or newly developed technologies. It should further be assumed that competition will intensify.

Our trademarks, copyrights and other intellectual property could be unenforceable or ineffective

Intellectual property is a complex field of law in which few things are certain. It is possible that competitors will be able to design around our intellectual property, find prior art to invalidate it, or render the patents unenforceable through some other mechanism. If competitors are able to bypass our trademark and copyright protection without obtaining a sublicense, it is likely that the Company's value will be materially and adversely impacted. This could also impair the Company's ability to compete in the marketplace. Moreover, if our trademarks and copyrights are deemed unenforceable, the Company will almost certainly lose any potential revenue it might be able to raise by entering into sublicenses. This would cut off a significant potential revenue stream for the Company.

The cost of enforcing our trademarks and copyrights could prevent us from enforcing them

Trademark and copyright litigation has become extremely expensive. Even if we believe that a competitor is infringing on one or more of our trademarks or copyrights, we might choose not to file suit because we lack the cash to successfully prosecute a multi-year litigation with an uncertain outcome; or because we believe that the cost of enforcing our trademark(s) or copyright(s) outweighs the value of winning the suit in light of the risks and consequences of losing it; or for some other reason. Choosing not to enforce our trademark(s) or copyright(s) could have adverse consequences for the Company, including undermining the credibility of our intellectual property, reducing our ability to enter into sublicenses, and weakening our attempts to prevent competitors from entering the market. As a result, if we are unable to enforce our trademark(s) or copyright(s) because of the cost of enforcement, your investment in the Company could be significantly and adversely affected.

The loss of one or more of our key personnel, or our failure to attract and retain other highly qualified personnel in the future, could harm our business

To be successful, the Company requires capable people to run its day to day operations. As the Company grows, it will need to attract and hire additional employees in sales, marketing, design, development, operations, finance, legal, human resources and other areas. Depending on the economic environment and the Company's performance, we may not be able to locate or attract qualified individuals for such positions when we need them. We may also make hiring mistakes, which can be costly in terms of resources spent in recruiting, hiring and investing in the incorrect individual and in the time delay in locating the right employee fit. If we are unable to attract, hire and retain the right talent or make too many hiring mistakes, it is likely our business will suffer from not having the right employees in the right positions at the right time. This would likely adversely impact the value of your investment.

Our ability to sell our product or service is dependent on outside government regulation which can be subject to change at any time

Our ability to sell product is dependent on the outside government regulation such as the FDA (Food and Drug Administration), FTC (Federal Trade Commission) and other relevant government laws and regulations. The laws and regulations concerning the selling of product may be subject to change and if they do then the selling of product may no longer be in the best interest of the Company. At such point the Company may no longer want to sell product and therefore your investment in the Company may be affected.

We rely on third parties to provide services essential to the success of our business

We rely on third parties to provide a variety of essential business functions for us, including manufacturing, shipping, accounting, legal work, public relations, advertising, retailing, and distribution. It is possible that some of these third parties will fail to perform their services or will perform them in an unacceptable manner. It is possible that we will experience delays, defects, errors, or other problems with their work that will materially impact our operations and we may have little or no recourse to recover damages for these losses. A disruption in these key or other suppliers' operations could materially and adversely affect our business. As a result, your investment could be adversely impacted by our reliance on third parties and their performance.

This offering involves "rolling closings," which may mean that earlier investors may not have the benefit of information that later investors have.

Once we meet our target amount for this offering, we may request that StartEngine instruct the escrow agent to disburse offering funds to us. At that point, investors whose subscription agreements have been accepted will become our Note Holders. All early-stage companies are subject to a number of risks and uncertainties, and it is not uncommon for material changes to be made to the offering terms, or to companies' businesses, plans or prospects, sometimes on short notice. When such changes happen during the course of an offering, we must file an amended to our Form C with the SEC, and investors whose subscriptions have not yet been accepted will have the right to withdraw their subscriptions and get their money back. Investors whose subscriptions have already been accepted, however, will already be our Note Holder and will have no such right.

What it means to be a minority holder

As a holder of the Convertible Notes of the company, you will have limited rights in regards to the corporate actions of the company, including additional issuances of securities, company repurchases of securities, a sale of the company or its significant assets, or company transactions with related parties. Further, investors in this offering may have rights less than those of other investors, and will have limited influence on the corporate actions of the company.

Dilution

Investors should understand the potential for dilution. The investor's stake in a company could be diluted due to the company issuing additional shares. In other words, when the company issues more shares, the percentage of the company that you own will go down, even though the value of the company may go up. You will own a smaller piece of a larger company. This increase in number of shares outstanding could result from a stock offering (such as an initial public offering, another crowdfunding round, a venture capital round, angel investment), employees exercising stock options, or by conversion of certain instruments (e.g. convertible bonds, preferred shares or warrants) into stock. If the company decides to issue more shares, an investor could experience value dilution, with each share being worth less than before, and control dilution, with the total percentage an investor owns being less than before. There may also be earnings dilution, with a reduction in the amount earned per share (though this typically occurs only if the company offers dividends, and most early stage companies are unlikely to offer dividends, preferring to invest any earnings into the company).

Transferability of securities

For a year, the securities can only be resold:

- In an IPO;
- To the company;
- To an accredited investor; and
- To a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, to a trust controlled by the purchaser, to a trust created for the benefit of a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, or in connection with the death or divorce of the purchaser or other similar circumstance.

Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Financial Condition

You should read the following discussion and analysis of our financial condition and results of our operations together with our financial statements and related notes appearing at the end of this Offering Memorandum. This discussion contains forward-looking statements reflecting our current expectations that involve risks and uncertainties. Actual results and the timing of events may differ materially from those contained in these forward-looking statements due to a number of factors, including those discussed in the section entitled "Risk Factors" and elsewhere in this Offering Memorandum.

Results of Operations

Circumstances which led to the performance of financial statements:

Revenue:

Revenue for the fiscal year 2018 was $183,927, up compared to fiscal year 2017 of $32,614 and increase of 464%. This increase in revenues was due to 2018 being a growth year; we gained accounts in the latter half of the year and also had a great push towards the final quarter of 2018 which we carried into 2019. The big difference being in 2018 4th Quarter where we gained the account of Canteen Vending who services large corporate accounts in their food and beverage needs such as Facebook and Google at their Austin Texas Campuses. GLOW's popularity among the employees at those locations has taken off, which resulted in almost 50% of our 2018 sales occurring in Q4 2018. 2019 has continued to be successful in these high volume corporate accounts. Our popularity has given us the opportunity to place our beverage in more campuses in Northern California and we expect revenues to continue to flourish as we have much more room to grow. We will continue to focus in these high volume corporate accounts because it gives us a great foundation to build on, We believe the popularity in these accounts will allow us to leverage ourselves as an established brand into more Grocery/retail space as well as continued success in the corporate accounts, University Campuses, and On Premise locations.

Gross Margins:

2018 Gross Profit was $58232, an increase from $13528 in 2017. 2017 Gross margin percentage was about 49% and 2018 was 36%, 2017. The reason being was online sales were much higher percentage of total sales where the margins are much higher. In 2018 we had sales grow in retail, but margins took a hit with promotional pricing with bill backs for the majority of the year. We saw this as costly and that's where we turned our focus towards these corporate accounts where the margins are closer to the expected 52% because these corporate accounts purchase in high volumes and do not require discounts.

Expenses

Cost of sales in 2018 was $629,363, up approximately $270,110 or 75% from 2017. The majority of the increase is due to grocery store demos and promos as well as payroll. As many beverage companies in the growth stage there expenses are expected to exceed revenues. With our focus now being corporate accounts where we can achieve high volume and higher margins in sales along with strengthening customer loyalty we believe grocery store demos and promo costs will drop in 2019 and we will be able to use those marketing dollars towards advertising and our partnership with Live Nation and Insomniac Events.

Historical results and cash flows:

The historical data thus far is just the beginning of what investors should expect. We have much more room to grow as we are just beginning to scratch the surface of our potential and have only begun laying the foundation of GLOW Beverage's success. We are still in the early growth stage and are excited to give investors the opportunity join us in our journey to making GLOW Beverages a household name.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

What capital resources are currently available to the Company? (Cash on hand, existing lines of credit, shareholder loans, etc...)

We have $200,000 available to us now. $50,000 is a line of credit that we have received from Kabbage Inc. currently $20,000 is outstanding on this line of credit, and the $150,000 is an amount John Larson is willing to extend to GLOW beverages should the capital raise funds less than expected.

We are also currently in a 2 million dollar raise concurrently with this crowdfunding campaign. We would like to raise 1,070,000 through the crowdfunding campaign and will continue to raise the remaining as we seek investors outside of this campaign until we reach our 2 million goal.

How do the funds of this campaign factor into your financial resources? (Are these funds critical to your company operations? Or do you have other funds or capital resources available?)

We have other sources of capital available but this raise critical to expansion especially. We need these funds in order to grow.

Are the funds from this campaign necessary to the viability of the company? (Of the total funds that your company has, how much of that will be made up of funds raised from the crowdfunding campaign?)

No it is not, depending on the funds raised from the crowdfunding campaign we would hope that our campaign can fund all our needs for the year so that we can focus and dedicate our time towards marketing and expanding our reach among potential customers.

Total funds we would like to fund at least 50% of our 2 million raise with crowdfunding.

Therefore with the 107,000 raised with the 200,000 we have now, we will hopefully have about $307,000 at the end of the raise.

How long will you be able to operate the company if you raise your minimum? What expenses is this estimate based on?

The 10k is not significant enough for us to have a significant amount operations. It will be going towards StartEngine Premium fees and inventory. Our current burn is about 30k a month, so we would have to rely on our alternate funding sources such as debt or will look to John Larson to extend a loan to keep GLOW going until we can fund.

How long will you be able to operate the company if you raise your maximum funding goal?

We will be able to operate through Q2 of 2020. These expenses are based off of our future budget Marketing and administrative expenses.

Are there any additional future sources of capital available to your company?
(Required capital contributions, lines of credit, contemplated future capital raises, etc...)

Besides the campaign, we are looking to angel groups, PO financing, other debt, and will look to John Larson to loan GLOW funds until GLOW has been able to complete its anticipated raise.

Valuation

Valuation Cap: $7,000,000.00

Valuation Cap Details: Valuation cap is based on Gross sales projection of 1.5 million multiplied by a factor of 4 which would equal 6 million plus the additional 1 million raised to get 7 million. We used a factor of four because it was modest in the beverage industry where factors range from 4 to 11.7 when the sales multiplier is used. For example a 4x multiplier was used when Bai was purchased at 1.7 Billion in 2017 and a 11.7x multiplier was used when Vitamin Water was purchased at 4.1 Billion in 2007.

NOTE 2 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Year End

The company has a calendar year end.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make certain estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, and the reported amount of expenses during the reporting periods. Actual results could materially differ from these estimates. It is reasonably possible that changes in estimates will occur in the near term.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

Fair value is defined as the exchange price that would be received for an asset or paid to transfer a liability (an exit price) in the principal or most advantageous market for the asset or liability in an orderly transaction between market participants as of the measurement date. Applicable accounting guidance provides an established hierarchy for inputs used in measuring fair value that maximizes the use of observable inputs and minimizes the use of unobservable inputs by requiring that the most observable inputs be used when available. Observable inputs are inputs that market participants would use in valuing the asset or liability and are developed based on market data obtained from sources independent of the Company. Unobservable inputs are inputs that reflect the Company's assumptions about the factors that market participants would use in valuing the asset or liability. There are three levels of inputs that may be used to measure fair value:

- Level 1 - Observable inputs that reflect quoted prices (unadjusted) for identical assets or liabilities in active markets.

Level 2 - Include other inputs that are directly or indirectly observable in the marketplace.

Level 3 - Unobservable inputs which are supported by little or no market activity.

The fair value hierarchy also requires an entity to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs when measuring fair value.

Fair-value estimates discussed herein are based upon certain market assumptions and pertinent information available to management as of December 31, 20X1 and 20XX. The respective carrying value of certain on-balance-sheet financial instruments approximated their fair values.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purpose of the statement of cash flows, the Company considers all highly liquid debt instruments purchased with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Revenue Recognition

The Company will recognize revenues from customers upon purchase order requests when (a) persuasive evidence that an agreement exists; (b) the service has been performed; (c) the prices are fixed and determinable and not subject to refund or adjustment; and (d) collection of the amounts due is reasonably assured.

Income Taxes

The Company applies ASC 740 Income Taxes ("ASC 740"). Deferred income taxes are recognized for the tax consequences in future years of differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their financial statement reported amounts at each period end, based on enacted tax laws and statutory tax rates applicable to the periods in which the differences are expected to affect taxable income. Valuation allowances are established, when necessary, to reduce deferred tax assets to the amount expected to be realized. The provision for income taxes represents the tax expense for the period, if any and the change during the period in deferred tax assets and liabilities.

ASC 740 also provides criteria for the recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosure of uncertain tax positions. A tax benefit from an uncertain position is recognized only if it is "more likely than not" that the position is sustainable upon examination by the relevant taxing authority based on its technical merit.

The Company is subject to tax in the United States ("U.S.") and files tax returns in the U.S. Federal jurisdiction and CA state jurisdiction. The Company is subject to U.S. Federal, state and local income tax examinations by tax authorities for all periods since Inception. The Company currently is not under examination by any tax authority for the last 3 years. The Company is not currently under examination by any tax authority.

Concentration of Credit Risk

The Company maintains its cash with a major financial institution located in the United States of America which it believes to be creditworthy. NOTE 2 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make certain estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, and the reported amount of expenses during the reporting periods. Actual results could materially differ from these estimates. It is reasonably possible that changes in estimates will occur in the near term.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

Fair value is defined as the exchange price that would be received for an asset or paid to transfer a liability (an exit price) in the principal or most advantageous market for the asset or liability in an orderly transaction between market participants as of the measurement date. Applicable accounting guidance provides an established hierarchy for inputs used in measuring fair value that maximizes the use of observable inputs and minimizes the use of unobservable inputs by requiring that the most observable inputs be used when available. Observable inputs are inputs that market participants would use in valuing the asset or liability and are developed based on market data obtained from sources independent of the Company. Unobservable inputs are inputs that reflect the Company's assumptions about the factors that market participants would use in valuing the asset or liability. There are three levels of inputs that may be used to measure fair value:

Level 1 - Observable inputs that reflect quoted prices (unadjusted) for identical assets or liabilities in active markets.

Level 2 - Include other inputs that are directly or indirectly observable in the marketplace.

Level 3 - Unobservable inputs which are supported by little or no market activity.

The fair value hierarchy also requires an entity to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs when measuring fair value.

Fair-value estimates discussed herein are based upon certain market assumptions and pertinent information available to management as of December 31, 2018. The respective carrying value of certain on-balance-sheet financial instruments approximated their fair values.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purpose of the statement of cash flows, the Company considers all highly liquid debt instruments purchased with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Revenue Recognition

The Company will recognize revenues from customers upon purchase order requests when (a) persuasive evidence that an agreement exists; (b) the service has been performed; (c) the prices are fixed and determinable and not subject to refund or adjustment; and (d) collection of the amounts due is reasonably assured.

Income Taxes

The Company is taxed as a Limited Liability Company (LLC). Under these provisions, the Company does not pay federal corporate income taxes on its taxable income. Instead, the shareholders are liable for individual federal and state income taxes on their respective shares of the Company's taxable income. The Company will pay state income taxes at reduced rates. The Company has not yet filed a tax return and therefore is not yet subject to tax examination by the Internal Revenue Service or state regulatory agencies.

Concentration of Credit Risk

The Company maintains its cash with a major financial institution located in the United States of America which it believes to be creditworthy. Balances are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation up to $250,000. At times, the Company may maintain balances in excess of the federally insured limits.

THE PROBLEM

Traditional hydration and energy drinks are failing consumers

Functional hydration & energy drinks are currently created for, and marketed to, extreme athletes & adolescent males. More sophisticated beverages, like sparkling waters, lack function and are merely water with added flavor.

“It is becoming extremely important for those health oriented consumers that products “meet their needs over the course of each day towards greater productivity and health in this insanely fast-paced world we live in.”

Chris Olivier
Principal at Craft Catalyst

These products fail to meet the needs of millennials today, who live through experiences: they're more sophisticated in taste, health, fitness, and social activities.

THE SOLUTION

Providing premium nutrients, for all occasions

GLOW offers sparkling, highly functional beverages in premium sustainable packaging - formulated to support the entire body and mind without unnecessary artificial ingredients, sugar, carbohydrates, and calories. Our award-winning drinks are perfect any time of day: from the gym, to the office, to a night out. GLOW supports today's healthy, productive, and socially active consumers.

The Functional & New Age Ready-To-Drink beverage segment is ripe for innovation.

Current offerings for energy and hydration drinks lack appeal to a premium audience. GLOW Beverages speaks to this audience directly via its sleek custom glass packaging, crisp sparkling finish, and premium healthy functional ingredients. GLOW Beverages produces low-calorie premium sparkling beverages offered in Spicy Watermelon and Mango Apricot flavors. Our two lines include:

- GLOW Beverages - Hydration: infused with vitamins, herbs, amino acids, minerals, electrolytes and antioxidants
- GLOW Beverages - Hydration + Energy: the same composition as our hydration drink, in addition to Green Coffee Bean Extract and B-12. Both hydration and energy are offered in two different flavor profiles

"Consumers are also becoming more knowledgeable about different ingredients and their effect to human body which leads to assuming that it is becoming a lot more difficult to trick them into thinking that a certain product does any good when it does not and encourage creating new beverages that actually do."

- MyDrink

GLOW Beverages is dedicated to providing truly functional beverages with healthy ingredients that our consumers are looking for.

THE MARKET

Serving the under-served market

GLOW Beverages was created to serve a premium audience who is currently underserved or forgotten in the current functional beverage landscape. Specifically, those audiences include the Fitness Conscious, Health Conscious, Socially Active, and Productive & Professional individuals. All four of these personas share some common attributes: above average education, disposable income, a "story living" lifestyle. They want a voice in the brands they support. They go for brands that care about sustainability, are environmentally conscious and care about convenience.

With the U.S. Organic Food and health conscious market growing to $70.4 Billion by 2025. Our partnership with Live Nation alone will allow us to target 1 million individuals who fall directly in line with this target market.

THE BUSINESS MODEL

Be everywhere and become a household brand

GLOW is unique in that we have an all day and all night appeal. Therefore, we have the ability to target a number of different arenas that cater to all types of different customers:

- Distributors: UNFI, KeHE, Core-Mark, Sysco, US Foods, and DPI

HOW WE ARE DIFFERENT

Health, taste, and functionality from Day to Night

The GLOW Beverages advantage can be broken down into 3 words:
Disruptive, Innovative and Simple.

DISRUPTIVE:

GLOW Beverages is disrupting the functional and new-age beverage market by not only incorporating the expected ingredients of vitamins, minerals and electrolytes, but by adding what we believe to be never before seen ingredients such as 5HTP, Amino Acids, Prickly Pear Extract and Milk Thistle Extract.

These combined premium ingredients create GLOW Beverages innovative proprietary blend of functional benefits that include fighting viral infections, aiding in lower blood glucose levels, improving digestion, promoting liver recovery, increasing serotonin production, fighting free radicals and empowering heart functionality.

INNOVATIVE:

Innovation was behind creating a glass bottle in a unique custom shape and creating sleek minimal packaging. Drinking our GLOW Beverages empowers you to GLOW from within and look as good on the outside as you feel on the inside.

SIMPLE:

GLOW Beverages was created with a simple idea: to give the consumer a premium functional beverage in a premium design. It is simple, feel good about drinking it and look good while carrying a bottle.

The basis of our growth rate has been developed over time with consultants familiar with the beverage space. Successful beverage companies often have growth rates of 100% year after year, especially in our early growth stage. We also have detailed our projected sales with a mixture of historical data as well as we believe to be attainable benchmarks. Projections were created using a simple Price x Duration x Velocity x locations for each of our revenue channels.

Platform Compensation

- As compensation for the services provided by StartEngine Capital, the issuer is required to pay to StartEngine Capital a fee consisting of a 6-8% (six to eight percent) commission based on the dollar amount of securities sold in the Offering and paid upon disbursement of funds from escrow at the time of a closing. The commission is paid in cash and in securities of the Issuer identical to those offered to the public in the Offering at the sole discretion of StartEngine Capital. Additionally, the issuer must reimburse certain expenses related to the Offering. The securities issued to StartEngine Capital, if any, will be of the same class and have the same terms, conditions and rights as the securities being offered and sold by the issuer on StartEngine Capital's website.

Information Regarding Length of Time of Offering

- Investment Cancellations: Investors will have up to 48 hours prior to the end of the offering period to change their minds and cancel their investment commitments for any reason. Once within 48 hours of ending, investors will not be able to cancel for any reason, even if they make a commitment during this period.
- Material Changes: Material changes to an offering include but are not limited to: A change in minimum offering amount, change in security price, change in management, material change to financial information, etc. If an issuer makes a material change to the offering terms or other information disclosed, including a change to the offering deadline, investors will be given five business days to reconfirm their investment commitment. If investors do not reconfirm, their investment will be cancelled and the funds will be returned.

Hitting The Target Goal Early & Oversubscriptions

- StartEngine Capital will notify investors by email when the target offering amount has hit 25%, 50% and 100% of the funding goal. If the issuer hits its goal early, and the minimum offering period of 21 days has been met, the issuer can create a new target deadline at least 5 business days out. Investors will be notified of the new target deadline via email and will then have the opportunity to cancel up to 48 hours before new deadline.
- Oversubscriptions: We require all issuers to accept oversubscriptions. This may not be possible if: 1) it vaults an issuer into a different category for financial statement requirements (and they do not have the requisite financial statements); or 2) they reach $1.07M in investments. In the event of an oversubscription, shares will be allocated at the discretion of the issuer.
- If the sum of the investment commitments does not equal or exceed the target offering amount at the offering deadline, no securities will be sold in the offering, investment commitments will be cancelled and committed funds will be returned.
- If a StartEngine issuer reaches its target offering amount prior to the deadline, it may conduct an initial closing of the offering early if they provide notice of the new offering deadline at least five business days prior to the new offering deadline (absent a material change that would require an extension of the offering and reconfirmation of the investment commitment). StartEngine will notify investors when the issuer meets its target offering amount. Thereafter, the issuer may conduct additional closings until the offering deadline.

Minimum and Maximum Investment Amounts

If both their annual income and net worth are equal to or more than $107,000, then during any 12-month period, they can invest up to 10% of annual income or net worth, whichever is less, but their investments cannot exceed $107,000.
