RISK FACTORS

Risks Related to the Company's Business and Industry

We have a limited operating history upon which you can evaluate our performance, and accordingly, our prospects must be considered in light of the risks that any new company encounters.

We were organized as a Delaware corporation in 2018. Accordingly, we have a limited history upon which an evaluation of our prospects and future performance can be made. Our proposed operations are subject to all business risks associated with new enterprises. The likelihood of our creation of a viable business must be considered in light of the problems, expenses, difficulties, complications, and delays frequently encountered in connection with the inception of a business, operation in a competitive industry, and the continued development of advertising, promotions, and a corresponding client base. We anticipate that our operating expenses will increase for the near future. There can be no assurances that we will ever operate profitably. You should consider the Company's business, operations and prospects in light of the risks, expenses and challenges faced as an early-stage company.

Through our operations, we collect and store certain personal information of our customer's customer. This info is pulled from their CRM / Member database.

We may share information about such persons with vendors that assist with certain aspects of our business. Security could be compromised and confidential customer or business information misappropriated. Loss of customer or business information could disrupt our operations, damage our reputation, and expose us to claims from customers, financial institutions, payment card associations and other persons, any of which could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. In addition, compliance with tougher privacy and information security laws and standards may result in significant expense due to increased investment in technology and the development of new operational processes.

Our business could be negatively impacted by changes in TCPA laws or non-compliance of those laws.

Our business sends and receives text messages through our application on behalf of our customers. This text marketing is subject to TCPA laws. While we make every effort to stay compliant, software glitches or user error could damage our reputation or could cause heavy penalties as damages in lawsuits. In addition, we can lose customers & revenue that can adversely affect our business. Moreover, the TCPA laws can change at any time requiring us to update our software & our practices to adapt to the new laws which can delay or halt services to our clients and can cause us to lose customers and revenue.

Failure to obtain new clients or renew client contracts on favorable terms could adversely affect results of operations.

We may face pricing pressure in obtaining and retaining our clients. Our clients may be able to seek price reductions from us when they renew a contract, when a contract is extended, or when the client's business has significant volume changes. They may also reduce services if they decide to move services in-house. On some occasions, this pricing pressure results in lower revenue from a client than we had anticipated based on our previous agreement with that client. This reduction in revenue could result in an adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

Further, failure to renew client contracts on favorable terms could have an adverse effect on our business. Our contracts with clients generally run for several years and include liquidated damage provisions that provide for early termination fees. Terms are generally renegotiated prior to the end of a contract's term. If we are not successful in achieving a high rate of contract renewals on favorable terms, our business and results of operations could be adversely affected.

We depend on a few major clients for a substantial portion of our net sales.

For example, during fiscal year ended December 2018, United Planet Fitness - Planet Fitness Franchise and Excel Fitness accounted for 57% and 22.8% percent of our net sales, respectively. The loss of all or a substantial portion of our sales to any of our large-volume customers could have a material adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations by reducing cash flows and our ability to spread costs over a larger revenue base. In addition, our largest customers have an increased ability to influence pricing and other contract terms. Although we strive to broaden and diversify our customer base, a significant portion of our revenue is derived from a relatively small number of customers. Consequently, a significant loss of business from, or adverse performance by, our major customers, may have a material adverse effect on our financial condition, results of operations and cash flows. Similarly, the renegotiation of major customer contracts may also have an adverse effect on our financial results. We are also subject to credit risk associated with our customer concentration. If one or more of our largest customers were to become bankrupt, insolvent or otherwise were unable to pay for services provided, we may incur significant write-offs of accounts receivable or incur lease or asset-impairment charges that may have a material adverse effect on our financial condition, results of operations or cash flows.

The Company could be negatively impacted if found to have infringed on intellectual property rights.

Technology companies, including some of the Company's competitors, frequently enter into litigation based on allegations of patent infringement or other violations of intellectual property rights. In addition, patent holding companies seek to monetize patents they have purchased or otherwise obtained. As the Company grows, the intellectual property rights claims against it will likely increase. The Company intends to vigorously defend infringement actions in court and before the U.S. International Trade Commission. The plaintiffs in these actions frequently seek injunctions and substantial damages. Regardless of the scope or validity of such patents or other intellectual property rights, or the merits of any claims by potential or actual litigants, the Company may have to engage in protracted litigation. If the Company is found to infringe one or more patents or other intellectual property rights, regardless of whether it can develop non-infringing technology, it may be required to pay substantial damages or royalties to a third-party, or it may be subject to a temporary or permanent injunction prohibiting the Company from marketing or selling certain products. In certain cases, the Company may consider the desirability of entering into licensing agreements, although no assurance can be given that such licenses can be obtained on acceptable terms or that litigation will not occur. These licenses may also significantly increase the Company's operating expenses.

Regardless of the merit of particular claims, litigation may be expensive, time-consuming, disruptive to the Company's operations and distracting to management. In recognition of these considerations, the Company may enter into arrangements to settle litigation. If one or more legal matters were resolved against the Company's consolidated financial statements for that reporting period could be materially adversely affected. Further, such an outcome could result in significant compensatory, punitive or trebled monetary damages, disgorgement of revenue or profits, remedial corporate measures or injunctive relief against the Company that could adversely affect its financial condition and results of operations.

In order for the Company to compete and grow, it must attract, recruit, retain and develop the necessary personnel who have the needed experience.

Recruiting and retaining qualified personnel is important to our success. These demands may require us to hire additional personnel. If we experience difficulties in hiring and retaining personnel in key positions, we could suffer from delays in product development, loss of customers and sales and diversion of management resources, which could adversely affect operating results.

Indemnity provisions in various agreements potentially expose us to substantial liability for intellectual property infringement and other losses.

Our agreements with advertisers, advertising agencies, customers and other third parties may include indemnification provisions under which we agree to indemnify them for losses suffered or incurred as a result of claims of intellectual property infringement, damages caused by us to property or persons, or other liabilities relating to or arising from our products, services or other contractual obligations. The term of these indemnity provisions generally survives termination or expiration of the applicable agreement. Large indemnity payments would harm our business, financial condition and results of operations. In addition, any type of intellectual property lawsuit, whether initiated by us or a third party, would likely be time consuming and expensive to resolve and would divert management's time and attention.

Security breaches and other disruptions could compromise our information and expose us to liability, which would cause our business and reputation to suffer.

We pull and store personally identifiable data of customers of our clients in our data centers and on our networks. The secure processing, maintenance and transmission of this information is critical to our operations and business strategy. Despite our security measures, our information technology and infrastructure may be vulnerable to attacks by hackers or breached due to employee error, malfeasance or other disruptions. Any such breach could compromise our networks and the information stored there could be accessed, publicly disclosed, lost or stolen. Any such access, disclosure or other loss of information could result in legal claims or proceedings, liability under laws that protect the privacy of personal information, and regulatory penalties, disrupt our operations and the services we provide to customers, and damage our reputation, and cause a loss of confidence in our products and services, which could adversely affect our business and competitive position.

We rely on agreements with third parties to provide certain services, goods, technology, and intellectual property rights necessary to enable us to implement some of our applications.

Our ability to implement and provide our applications and services to our clients depends, in part, on services, goods, technology, and intellectual property rights owned or controlled by third parties. These third parties may become unable to or refuse to continue to provide these services, goods, technology, or intellectual property rights on commercially reasonable terms consistent with our business practices, or otherwise discontinue a service important for us to continue to operate our applications. If we fail to replace these services, goods, technologies, or intellectual property rights in a timely manner or on commercially reasonable terms, our operating results and financial condition could be harmed. In addition, we exercise limited control over our third-party vendors, which increases our vulnerability to problems with technology and services those vendors provide. If the services, technology, or intellectual property of third parties were to fail to perform as expected, it could subject us to potential liability, adversely affect our renewal rates, and have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

The Company's success depends on the experience and skill of the board of directors, its executive officers and key employees.

In particular, the Company is dependent on Sagar Babber, Anthony Favazza, Shubham Sethi, Andrea Grbavac, and Jennifer Illig who are CEO, Legal Adviser, Head of Product, Digital Marketing Manager, and Sales Executive of the Company. The Company has or intends to enter into employment agreements with Shubham Sethi, Andrea Grbavac, and Jennifer Illig although there can be no assurance that it will do so or that they will continue to be employed by the Company for a particular period of time. The loss of Anthony Favazza, Shubham Sethi, Andrea Grbavac, and Jennifer Illig or any member of the board of directors or executive officer could harm the Company's business, financial condition, cash flow and results of operations.

The Company has indicated that it has engaged in certain transactions with related persons.

Please see the section of this Memorandum entitled "Transactions with Related Persons and Conflicts of Interest" for further details.

We are subject to income taxes as well as non-income based taxes, such as payroll, sales, use, value-added, net worth, property and goods and services taxes, in the U.S.

Significant judgment is required in determining our provision for income taxes and other tax liabilities. In the ordinary course of our business, there are many transactions and calculations where the ultimate tax determination is uncertain. Although we believe that our tax estimates are reasonable: (i) there is no assurance that the final determination of tax audits or tax disputes will not be different from what is reflected in our income tax provisions, expense amounts for non-income based taxes and accruals and (ii) any material differences could have an adverse effect on our financial position and results of operations in the period or periods for which determination is made.

We are not subject to Sarbanes-Oxley regulations and lack the financial controls and safeguards required of public companies.

We do not have the internal infrastructure necessary, and are not required, to complete an attestation about our financial controls that would be required under Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002. There can be no assurance that there are no significant deficiencies or material weaknesses in the quality of our financial controls. We expect to incur additional expenses and diversion of management's time if and when it becomes necessary to perform the system and process evaluation, testing and remediation required in order to comply with the management certification and auditor attestation requirements.

Our operating results may fluctuate due to factors that are difficult to forecast and not within our control.

Our past operating results may not be accurate indicators of future performance, and you should not rely on such results to predict our future performance. Our operating results have fluctuated somewhat in the past, and could fluctuate in the future. Factors that may contribute to fluctuations include:

- changes in aggregate capital spending, cyclicalities and other economic conditions, or domestic and international demand in the industries we serve;
- our ability to effectively manage our working capital;
- our ability to satisfy consumer demands in a timely and cost-effective manner;
- pricing and availability of services from our third party vendors;
- our inability to adjust certain fixed costs and expenses for changes in demand;

If we fail to attract and retain enough sufficiently trained customer service associates and other personnel to support our operations, our business and results of operations will be seriously harmed.

We rely on customer service associates, and our success depends to a significant extent on our ability to attract, hire, train and retain qualified customer service associates. A significant increase in the attrition rate among our customer service associates could decrease our operating efficiency and productivity. Our failure to attract, train and retain customer service associates with the qualifications necessary to fulfill the needs of our existing and future clients would seriously harm our business and results of operations.

We may be adversely affected by cyclicalities, volatility or an extended downturn in the United States or worldwide economy, or in or related to the industries we serve.

Our revenues are generated primarily from customers looking for marketing technology to help them acquire and retain more members in the fitness and wellness industry. Demand for these technologies could be tied to economic and business cycles. Increases in the unemployment rate, specifically in the fitness and wellness industry and other vertical industries we serve, cyclicalities or an extended downturn in the economy could cause our revenues to decline. Therefore, our operating results, business and financial condition could be significantly harmed by an extended economic downturn or future downturns, especially in regions or industries where our operations are heavily concentrated. Further, we may face increased pricing pressures during such periods as customers seek to use lower cost or fee services, which may adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

We are subject to rapid technological change and dependence on new product development.

Our industry is characterized by rapid and significant technological developments, frequent new product introductions and enhancements, continually evolving business expectations and swift changes. To compete effectively in such markets, we must continually improve and enhance our products and services and develop new technologies and services that incorporate technological advances, satisfy increasing customer expectations and compete effectively on the basis of performance and price. Our success will also depend substantially upon our ability to anticipate, and to adapt our products and services to our collaborative partner's preferences. There can be no assurance that technological developments will not render some of our products and services obsolete, or that we will be able to respond with improved or new products, services, and technology that satisfy evolving customers' expectations. Failure to acquire, develop or introduce new products, services, and enhancements in a timely manner could have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations. Also, to the extent one or more of our competitors introduces products and services that better address a customer's needs, our business would be adversely affected.

Our business and financial condition may be impacted by military actions, global terrorism, natural disasters and political unrest.

Military actions in Iraq, Afghanistan and elsewhere, global terrorism, natural disasters and political unrest in the US and other countries are among the factors that may adversely impact regional and global economic conditions and our clients' ability, capacity and need to invest in our services. Additionally, hurricanes or other unanticipated catastrophes, both in the U.S. and globally, could disrupt our operations and negatively impact our business as well as disrupt our clients' businesses, which may result in a further adverse impact on our business. As a result, significant disruptions caused by such events could materially and adversely affect our business and financial condition.

The products we sell are advanced, and we need to rapidly and successfully develop and introduce new products in a competitive, demanding and rapidly changing environment.

To succeed in our competitive industry, we must continually improve, refresh and expand our product and service offerings to include newer features, functionality or solutions, and keep pace with price-to-performance gains in the industry. Shortened product life cycles due to customer demands and competitive pressures impact the pace at which we must introduce and implement new technology. This requires a high level of innovation by both our software developers and the suppliers of the third-party software components included in our systems. In addition, bringing new solutions to the market entails a costly and lengthy process, and requires us to accurately anticipate customer needs and technology trends. We must continue to respond to market demands, develop leading technologies and maintain leadership in analytic data solutions performance and scalability, or our business operations may be adversely affected.

We must also anticipate and respond to customer demands regarding the compatibility of our current and prior offerings. These demands could hinder the pace of introducing and implementing new technology. Our future results may be affected if our products cannot effectively interface and perform well with software products of other companies and with our customers' existing IT infrastructures, or if we are unsuccessful in our efforts to enter into agreements allowing integration of third-party technology with our database and software platforms. Our efforts to develop the interoperability of our products may require significant investments of capital and employee resources. In addition, many of our principal products are used with products offered by third parties and, in the future, some vendors of non-Company products may become less willing to provide us with access to their products, technical information and marketing and sales support. As a result of these and other factors, our ability to introduce new or improved solutions could be adversely impacted and our business would be negatively affected.

Industry consolidation may result in increased competition, which could result in a loss of customers or a reduction in revenue.

Some of our competitors have made or may make acquisitions or may enter into partnerships or other strategic relationships to offer more comprehensive services than they individually had offered or achieve greater economies of scale. In addition, new entrants not currently considered to be competitors may enter our market through acquisitions, partnerships or strategic relationships. We expect these trends to continue as companies attempt to strengthen or maintain their market positions. The potential entrants may have competitive advantages over us, such as greater name recognition, longer operating histories, more varied services and larger marketing budgets, as well as greater financial, technical and other resources. The companies resulting from combinations or that expand or vertically integrate their business to include the market that we address may create more compelling service offerings and may offer greater pricing flexibility than we can or may engage in business practices that make it more difficult for us to compete effectively, including on the basis of price, sales and marketing programs, technology or service functionality. These pressures could result in a substantial loss of our customers or a reduction in our revenue.

Our business could be negatively impacted by cyber security threats, attacks and other disruptions.

Like others in our industry, we continue to face advanced and persistent attacks on our information infrastructure where we manage and store various proprietary information and sensitive/confidential data relating to our operations. These attacks may include sophisticated malware (viruses, worms, and other malicious software programs) and phishing emails that attack our products or otherwise exploit any security vulnerabilities. These intrusions sometimes may be zero-day malware that are difficult to identify because they are not included in the signature set of commercially available antivirus scanning programs. Experienced computer programmers and hackers may be able to penetrate our network security and misappropriate or compromise our confidential information or that of our customers or other third-parties, create system disruptions, or cause shutdowns. Additionally, sophisticated software and applications that we produce or procure from third-parties may contain defects in design or manufacture, including "bugs" and other problems that could unexpectedly interfere with the operation of the information infrastructure. A disruption, infiltration or failure of our information infrastructure systems or any of our data centers as a result of software or hardware malfunctions, computer viruses, cyber attacks, employee theft or misuse, power disruptions, natural disasters or accidents could cause breaches of data security, loss of critical data and performance delays, which in turn could adversely affect our business.

Risks Related to the Securities

Upon conversion of the Crowd Notes, Purchasers who are not "Major Investors" will grant a proxy to vote their underlying securities to the intermediary or its affiliate, and, thus, will not have the right to vote on any matters coming before the shareholders of the Company for a vote. By granting this proxy you are giving up your right to vote on important matters, including significant corporate actions like mergers, amendments to our certificate of incorporation, a liquidation of our company and the election of our directors.

Upon conversion of the Crowd Notes and by virtue of a provision contained in the Crowd Notes, if you are not a Major Investor, that is, an investor who has purchased at least $25,000 in principal amount of the Crowd Notes, you will grant a proxy to the intermediary or its affiliate to vote the underlying securities that you will acquire upon conversion on all matters coming before the shareholders for a vote. The intermediary does not have any fiduciary duty to you to vote shares in a manner that is in your best interests. Accordingly, the intermediary may vote its proxy in a manner that may not be in the best interests of you as a security holder. For example, the intermediary may vote the proxy in favor of an amendment to our charter that adversely affects the rights of the holders of your class of securities in order to allow for a new investment to occur where the new investor requires senior rights.

The Crowd Notes will not be freely tradable until one year from the initial purchase date. Although the Crowd Notes may be tradable under federal securities law, state securities regulations may apply and each Purchaser should consult with his or her attorney.

You should be aware of the long-term nature of this investment. There is not now and likely will not be a public market for the Crowd Notes. Because the Crowd Notes have not been registered under the Securities Act or under the securities laws of any state or non-United States jurisdiction, the Crowd Notes have transfer restrictions and cannot be resold in the United States except pursuant to Rule 501 of Regulation CF. It is not currently contemplated that registration under the Securities Act or other securities laws will be effected. Limitations on the transfer of the Crowd Notes may also adversely affect the price that you might be able to obtain for the Crowd Notes in a private sale. Purchasers should be aware of the long-term nature of their investment in the Company. Each Purchaser in this Offering will be required to represent that it is purchasing the Securities for its own account, for investment purposes and not with a view to resale or distribution thereof.

Neither the Offering nor the Securities have been registered under federal or state securities laws, leading to an absence of certain regulation applicable to the Company.

No governmental agency has reviewed or passed upon this Offering, the Company or any Securities of the Company. The Company also has relied on exemptions from securities registration requirements under applicable state securities laws. Investors in the Company, therefore, will not receive any of the benefits that such registration would otherwise provide. Prospective investors must therefore assess the adequacy of disclosure and the fairness of the terms of this Offering on their own or in conjunction with their personal advisors.

No Guarantee of Return on Investment

There is no assurance that a Purchaser will realize a return on its investment or that it will not lose its entire investment. For this reason, each Purchaser should read the Form C/A and all Exhibits carefully and should consult with its own attorney and business advisor prior to making any investment decision.

A majority of the Company is owned by a small number of owners.

Prior to the Offering the Company's current owners of 20% or more beneficially own up to 94.44% of the Company. Subject to any fiduciary duties owed to our other owners or investors under Delaware law, these owners may be able to exercise significant influence over matters requiring owner approval, including the election of directors or managers and approval of significant Company transactions, and will have significant control over the Company's management and policies. Some of these persons may have interests that are different from yours. For example, these owners may support proposals and actions with which you may disagree. The concentration of ownership could delay or prevent a change in control of the Company or otherwise discourage a potential acquirer from attempting to obtain control of the Company, which in turn could reduce the price potential investors are willing to pay for the Company. In addition, these owners could use their voting influence to maintain the Company's existing management, delay or prevent changes in control of the Company, or support or reject other management and board proposals that are subject to owner approval.

You will not have a vote or influence on the management of the Company.

All decisions with respect to the management of the Company will be made exclusively by the officers, directors, managers or employees of the Company. You, as a Purchaser of Crowd Notes, will have no ability to vote on issues of Company management and will not have the right or power to take part in the management of the company and will not be represented on the board of directors or managers of the Company. Accordingly, no person should purchase a Security unless he or she is willing to entrust all aspects of management to the Company.

The Company has the right to extend the Offering deadline.

The Company may extend the Offering deadline beyond what is currently stated herein. This means that your investment may continue to be held in escrow while the Company attempts to raise the Minimum Amount even after the Offering deadline stated herein is reached. Your investment will not be accruing interest during this time and will simply be held until such time as the new Offering deadline is reached without the Company receiving the Minimum Amount, at which time it will be returned to you without interest or deduction, or the Company receives the Minimum Amount, at which time it will be released to the Company to be used as set forth herein. Upon or shortly after release of such funds to the Company, the Securities will be issued and distributed to you.

There is no present market for the Securities and we have arbitrarily set the price.

We have arbitrarily set the price of the Securities with reference to the general status of the securities market and other relevant factors. The Offering price for the Securities should not be considered an indication of the actual value of the Securities and is not based on our net worth or prior earnings. We cannot assure you that the Securities could be resold by you at the Offering price or at any other price.

Purchasers will be unable to declare the Security in "default" and demand repayment.

Unlike convertible notes and some other securities, the Securities do not have any "default" provisions upon which the Purchasers will be able to demand repayment of their investment. With respect to Purchasers who invest less than $25,000 in the Securities, the Company has ultimate discretion as to whether or not to convert the Securities upon a future equity financing and such Purchasers have no right to demand such conversion. Only in limited circumstances, such as a liquidity event, may Such Purchasers demand payment and even then, such payments will be limited to the amount of cash available to the Company.

The Company may never elect to convert the Securities or undergo a liquidity event.

The Company may never receive a future equity financing or, with respect to those Purchasers who invest less than $25,000, elect to convert the Securities upon such future financing. In addition, the Company may never undergo a liquidity event such as a sale of the Company or an IPO. If neither the conversion of the Securities nor a liquidity event occurs, the Purchasers could be left holding the Securities in perpetuity. The Securities have numerous transfer restrictions and will likely be highly illiquid, with no secondary market on which to sell them. The Securities are not equity interests, have no ownership rights, have no rights to the Company's assets or profits and have no voting rights or ability to direct the Company or its actions.

In addition to the risks listed above, businesses are often subject to risks not foreseen or fully appreciated by the management. It is not possible to foresee all risks that may affect us. Moreover, the Company cannot predict whether the Company will successfully effectuate the Company's current business plan. Each prospective Purchaser is encouraged to carefully analyze the risks and merits of an investment in the Securities and should take into consideration when making such analysis, among other, the Risk Factors discussed above.

THE SECURITIES OFFERED INVOLVE A HIGH DEGREE OF RISK AND MAY RESULT IN THE LOSS OF YOUR ENTIRE INVESTMENT. ANY PERSON CONSIDERING THE PURCHASE OF THESE SECURITIES SHOULD BE AWARE OF THESE AND OTHER FACTORS SET FORTH IN THIS FORM C/A AND SHOULD CONSULT WITH HIS OR HER LEGAL, TAX AND FINANCIAL ADVISORS PRIOR TO MAKING AN INVESTMENT IN THE SECURITIES. THE SECURITIES SHOULD ONLY BE PURCHASED BY PERSONS WHO CAN AFFORD TO LOSE ALL OF THEIR INVESTMENT.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Please see the financial information listed on the cover page of this Form C/A and attached hereto in addition to the following information. Financial statements are attached hereto as Exhibit A.

Operations

The company generates substantially all of its revenue from the sale of our customer engagement software platform. We will require additional capital to implement our marketing and sales strategies, which we believe will support future customer acquisition.

The Company hopes to aggressively grow in the next 12 months. Our objective is to acquire approximately 1,000 new customer locations with $1.25 million in annual recurring revenue. While we do not expect to become profitable in the next 12 months, we hope to continue to maintain lean operational costs with the objective of reaching our break-even point. Our focus in the next 12 months will be to: (1) add more marketing channels for customer acquisition, (2) add new integration and channel partners to help scale the Company, (3) ramp up our sales team to field more product demos and (4) invest in software development to strengthen our core AI Engine.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

The Offering proceeds are important to our operations. While not dependent on the Offering proceeds, the influx of capital will assist in the achievement of our next milestones and expedite the realization of our business plan.

The Company does not have any additional sources of capital other than the proceeds from the Offering.

Capital Expenditures and Other Obligations

The Company does not intend to make any material capital expenditures in the future.

Material Changes and Other Information

Trends and Uncertainties

After reviewing the above discussion of the steps the Company intends to take, potential Purchasers should consider whether achievement of each step within the estimated time frame is realistic in their judgment. Potential Purchasers should also assess the consequences to the Company of any delays in taking these steps and whether the Company will need additional financing to accomplish them.

The financial statements are an important part of this Form C/A and should be reviewed in their entirety. The financial statements of the Company are attached hereto as Exhibit A.

THE OFFERING AND THE SECURITIES

The Offering

The Company is offering up to $1,070,000.00 in principal amount of Crowd Notes for up to $1,070,000.00. The Company is attempting to raise a minimum amount of $50,000.00 in this Offering (the "Minimum Amount"). The Company must receive commitments from investors in an amount totaling the Minimum Amount by December 16, 2019 (the "Offering Deadline") in order to receive any funds. If the sum of the investment commitments does not equal or exceed the Minimum Amount by the Offering Deadline, no Securities will be sold in the Offering, investment commitments will be cancelled and committed funds will be returned to potential investors without interest or deductions. The Company has the right to extend the Offering Deadline at its discretion. The Company will accept investments in excess of the Minimum Amount up to $1,070,000.00 (the "Maximum Amount") and the additional Securities will be allocated at the Company's discretion.

The price of the Securities does not necessarily bear any relationship to the Company's asset value, net worth, revenues or other established criteria of value, and should not be considered indicative of the actual value of the Securities.

In order to purchase the Securities, you must make a commitment to purchase by completing the Subscription Agreement. Purchaser funds will be held in escrow with Evolve Bank & Trust until the Minimum Amount of investments is reached. Purchasers may cancel an investment commitment until 48 hours prior to the Offering Deadline or the Closing, whichever comes first using the cancellation mechanism provided by the Intermediary. The Company will notify Purchasers when the Minimum Amount has been reached. If the Company reaches the Minimum Amount prior to the Offering Deadline, it may close the Offering at least five (5) days after reaching the Minimum Amount and providing notice to the Purchasers. If any material change (other than reaching the Minimum Amount) occurs related to the Offering prior to the Offering Deadline, the Company will provide notice to Purchasers and receive reconfirmations from Purchasers who have already made commitments. If a Purchaser does not reconfirm his or her investment commitment after a material change is made to the terms of the Offering, the Purchaser's investment commitment will be cancelled and the committed funds will be returned without interest or deductions. If a Purchaser does not cancel an investment commitment before the Minimum Amount is reached, the funds will be released to the Company upon closing of the Offering and the Purchaser will receive the Securities in exchange for his or her investment. Any Purchaser funds received after the initial closing will be released to the Company upon a subsequent closing and the Purchaser will receive Securities via Digital Registry in exchange for his or her investment as soon as practicable thereafter.

Subscription Agreements are not binding on the Company until accepted by the Company, which reserves the right to reject, in whole or in part, in its sole and absolute discretion, any subscription. If the Company rejects all or a portion of any subscription, the applicable prospective Purchaser's funds will be returned without interest or deduction.

The price of the Securities was determined arbitrarily. The minimum amount that a Purchaser may invest in the Offering is $100.00.

The Offering is being made through MicroVenture Marketplace, Inc., the Intermediary. The following two fields below sets forth the compensation being paid in connection with the Offering.

Commission/Fees

The issuer will not owe a commission or any other form of compensation to the Intermediary at the conclusion of the offering.

Conversion of the Crowd Notes.

Upon the occurrence of a Qualified Equity Financing the Crowd Notes will convert into Conversion Shares pursuant to the following:

- a. If the investor is not a Major Investor, the Crowd Notes will convert into Conversion Shares upon the earlier of (i) the Company’s election or (ii) a Corporate Transaction.
- b. If the investor is a Major Investor, the Company will convert the Crowd Notes into Conversion Shares prior to the closing of the Qualified Equity Financing.

“Qualified Equity Financing” shall mean the first sale (or series of related sales) by the Company of its Preferred Shares following the Date of Issuance from which the Company receives gross proceeds of not less than $1,000,000 (excluding the aggregate amount of securities converted into Preferred Shares in connection with such sale (or series of related sales)).

Conversion Mechanics. Company shall convert the Crowd Notes into Conversion Shares equal to the quotient obtained by dividing the Outstanding Principal by the Conversion Price. The issuance of Conversion Shares pursuant to the conversion of the Crowd Notes shall be upon and subject to the same terms and conditions applicable to the shares sold in the Qualified Equity Financing; provided, however, that if the investor is not a Major Investor, the investor shall receive conversion shares of a Shadow Series with certain limited rights.

“Conversion Shares” shall mean with respect to a conversion of the Crowd Notes, the Company’s Preferred Shares issued in the Qualified Equity Financing.

“Shadow Series” shall mean series of the Company’s Preferred Shares that is identical in all respects to the Preferred Shares issued in the Qualified Equity Financing (e.g., if the Company sells Series A Preferred Shares in the Qualified Equity Financing, the Shadow Series would be Series A-1 Preferred Shares), except that the liquidation preference per share of the Shadow Series shall equal the Conversion Price and the following additional differences:

- i. Shadow Series shareholders shall grant their vote on any matter that is submitted to a vote or for the consent of the shareholders of the Company (except for on matters required by law) by Irrevocable Proxy;
- ii. Shadow Series shareholders shall receive quarterly business updates from the Company through the Platform but will have no additional information or inspection rights (except with respect to such rights which are required by law).

“Conversion Price” with respect to a conversion pursuant a Qualified Equity Financing shall be as follows:

- a. Purchasers that purchase the first Fifty Thousand (50,000) Crowd Notes and thereby fund the first Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000) will receive Crowd Notes with a conversion provision based on a $3.5 million valuation cap instead of a $5 million valuation cap. That means, in connection with equity financing of at least $1,000,000, the Company has the option to convert the Crowd Note into non-voting preferred shares (Conversion Shares) at a price based on the lower of (A) a 20% discount to the price per share paid for Preferred Stock by investors in the Qualified Equity Financing or (B) the price per share based on a $3.5 million valuation cap [instead of $5 million].
- b. For Purchasers that purchase Crowd Notes after the first Fifty Thousand (50,000) Crowd Notes have been purchased, the Conversion Price shall be: The lower of (A) the product of (1) one minus 20% and (2) the price paid per share for Preferred Stock by the investors in the Qualified Equity Financing or (B) the quotient resulting from the price per share based on an $5 million valuation cap.

“Irrevocable Proxy” shall mean the agreement appointing the Platform or an affiliate of the Platform as the sole and exclusive attorney and proxy of the Shadow Series shareholder, with full power of substitution and re-substitution, to vote and exercise all voting and related rights with respect to all of the securities of the Company that now are or hereafter may be beneficially owned by Shadow Series shareholder.

“Major Investor” shall mean any investor in Crowd Notes in which the Purchase Price is equal to or greater than $25,000.

“Outstanding Principal” shall mean the total of the Purchase Price.

Corporate Transaction

In the event of a Corporate Transaction, the Company shall notify the investor in writing of the terms of the Corporate Transaction.

- a. If the Corporate Transaction occurs prior to a Qualified Equity Financing, the investor shall receive the higher value received by either:
 - i. Quotient obtained by dividing the product of (1) the Outstanding Principal and the Fully-Diluted Capitalization immediately prior to the closing of the Corporate Transaction by the (2) the Valuation Cap; or
 - ii. Obtaining the Corporate Transaction Payment.
- b. If the Corporate Transaction occurs after a Qualified Equity Financing the Company shall convert the Crowd Notes into Conversion Shares pursuant to Conversion Mechanics described above.

“Corporate Transaction” shall mean:

- i. the closing of the sale, transfer or other disposition of all or substantially all of the Company’s assets,
- ii. the consummation of the merger or consolidation of the Company with or into another entity (except a merger or consolidation in which the shareholders of the Company immediately prior to such merger or consolidation continue to hold at least 50% of the voting power of the Company or the surviving or acquiring entity),
- iii. the closing of the transfer (whether by merger, consolidation or otherwise), in one transaction or a series of related transactions, to a person or group of affiliated persons (other than an underwriter of the Company’s securities), of the Company’s securities if, after such closing, such person or group of affiliated persons would hold 50% or more of the outstanding voting shares of the Company (or the surviving or acquiring entity), or
- iv. the IPO, liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Company; provided, however, that a transaction shall not constitute a Corporate Transaction if its sole purpose is to change the state of the Company’s incorporation or to create a holding company that will be owned in substantially the same proportions by the persons who held the Company’s securities immediately prior to such transaction.

“Corporate Transaction Payment” shall mean an amount equal to two times (2.0X) the Purchase Price. If there are not enough funds to pay the investors in full, then proceeds from the respective transaction will be distributed with equal priority and pro rata among Purchasers in proportion to their Purchase Price.

Termination

The Crowd Notes will terminate upon the earlier of: (a) a conversion of the entire Purchase Price under the Crowd Notes into Conversion Shares; or (b) the payment of amounts due to the investor pursuant to a Corporate Transaction.

In addition, the Purchaser may not transfer the Securities or any Securities into which they are convertible to any of the Company’s competitors, as determined by the Company in good faith.

Furthermore, upon the event of an IPO, the equity interest into which the Securities are converted will be subject to a lock-up period and may not be sold for up to 180 days following such IPO.

Voting and Control

The Securities do not have any voting rights. Further, upon conversion of the Crowd Notes into Conversion Shares, Shadow Series shareholders shall grant their vote on any matter that is submitted to a vote or for the consent of the members of the Company (except for on matters required by law) by Irrevocable Proxy.

The Company has a stockholder agreement in place by and among the Company and its two existing stockholders: Sagar Babber and Anthony Lavazza. Pursuant to the terms of the stockholder agreement, the existing stockholders grant an irrevocable proxy to the Executive Director of the Company. The agreement also includes the following transfer restrictions: right of first refusal, tag-along rights, and drag-along rights. In addition, the Company has the right to repurchase any of its capital stock from its existing stockholder: (i) prior to a qualified public offering or change of control event or (ii) for cause.

Anti-Dilution Rights

The Securities do not have anti-dilution rights, which means that future equity financings will dilute the ownership percentage that the Investor may eventually have in the Company.

Restrictions on Transfer

Any Securities sold pursuant to Regulation CF being offered may not be transferred by any Purchaser of such Securities during the one-year holding period beginning when the Securities were issued, unless such Securities were transferred: 1) to the Company, 2) to an accredited investor, as defined by Rule 501(d) of Regulation D of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, 3) as part of an Offering registered with the SEC or 4) to a member of the family of the Purchaser or the equivalent, to a trust controlled by the Purchaser, to a trust created for the benefit of a family member of the Purchaser or the equivalent, or in connection with the death or divorce of the Purchaser or other similar circumstances. “Member of the family” as used herein means a child, stepchild, grandchild, parent, stepparent, grandparent, spouse or spousal equivalent, sibling, mother/father/daughter/son/sister/brother-in-law, and includes adoptive relationships. Remember that although you may legally be able to transfer the Securities, you may not be able to find another party willing to purchase them.

Other Material Terms

The Company does not have the right to repurchase the Crowd Notes. The investor agrees to take any and all actions determined in good faith by the Company’s Manager to be advisable to reorganize the instrument and any shares issued pursuant to the terms of the Crowd Notes into a special purpose vehicle or other entity designed to aggregate the interests of holders of Crowd Notes.

GLEANTAP, INC.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (REVIEWED)
FROM APRIL 24, 2018 (INCEPTION) TO DECEMBER 31, 2018

NOTE A- ORGANIZATION AND NATURE OF ACTIVITIES

Gleantap, Inc. ("the Company") is a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Delaware. The Company creates software that leverages artificial intelligence to increase sales of fitness clubs.

NOTE B- SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("US GAAP").

Significant Risks and Uncertainties

The Company is subject to customary risks and uncertainties including, but not limited to, the need for protection of proprietary technology, dependence on key personnel, costs of services provided by third parties, the need to obtain additional financing, and limited operating history.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Significant estimates inherent in the preparation of these financial statements include, but are not limited to, estimates of useful lives.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include all cash balances, and highly liquid investments with maturities of three months or less when purchased.

Revenue

The Company recognizes revenue when persuasive evidence of an arrangement exists, delivery has occurred, or services have been rendered, the fee for the arrangement is fixed or determinable and collectability is reasonably assured.

Fixed Assets

The Company capitalizes assets with an expected useful life of one year or more, and an original purchase price of $1,000 or more. Depreciation is calculated on a straight-line basis over management's estimate of each asset's useful life.

GLEANTAP, INC.

Intellectual Property

The Company received intellectual property from Snyxius Technologies that has not been capitalized on the balance sheet. Snyxius Technologies was owned by related party, Sagar Babber. Sagar Babber is a member of the Company's management team.

Due to Related Party

Due to Related Party is money due to related Party, Sagar Babber. This loan bears no interest and has no formal repayment structure. Sagar Babber is a member of the Company's management team.

Advertising

The Company records advertising expenses in the year incurred.

Income Taxes

The Company applies ASC 740 Income Taxes ("ASC 740"). Deferred income taxes are recognized for the tax consequences in future years of differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their financial statement reported amounts at each period end, based on enacted tax laws and statutory tax rates applicable to the periods in which the differences are expected to affect taxable income. Valuation allowances are established, when necessary, to reduce deferred tax assets to the amount expected to be realized. The provision for income taxes represents the tax expense for the period, if any and the change during the period in deferred tax assets and liabilities. ASC 740 also provides criteria for the recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosure of uncertain tax positions. A tax benefit from an uncertain position is recognized only if it is "more likely than not" that the position is sustainable upon examination by the relevant taxing authority based on its technical merit.

The Company is subject to tax filing requirements as a corporation in the federal jurisdiction of the United States. The Company sustained net operating losses during fiscal year 2018. Net operating losses will be carried forward to reduce taxable income in future years. Due to management's uncertainty as to the timing and valuation of any benefits associated with the net operating loss carryforwards, the Company has elected to recognize an allowance to account for them in the financial statements, but has fully reserved it. Under current law, net operating losses may be carried forward indefinitely.

The Company is subject to franchise tax filing requirements in the State of Delaware.

Recently Adopted Accounting Pronouncements

From time to time, new accounting pronouncements are issued by the Financial Accounting Standards Board, or FASB, or other standard setting bodies and adopted by the Company as of the specified effective date. Unless otherwise discussed, the Company believes that the impact of recently issued standards that are not yet effective will not have a material impact on its financial position or results of operations upon adoption.

In May 2014, the FASB issued ASU, 2014-09—Revenue from Contracts with Customers (Topic 606), or ASU 2014-09, and further updated through ASU 2016-12, or ASU 2016-12, which amends the existing accounting standards for revenue recognition. ASU 2014-09 is based on principles that govern the recognition of revenue at an amount to which an entity expects to be entitled to when products are transferred to customers. This guidance is effective for annual reporting periods, and interim periods within those years, beginning December 15, 2018 for non-public entities. The new revenue standard may be applied retrospectively to each prior period presented or retrospectively with the cumulative effect recognized as of the date of adoption. The adoption of ASU 2014-09 had no material impact on the Company's financial statements and related disclosures.

NOTE C- FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS

Fair value is an exit price, representing the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants based on the highest and best use of the asset or liability. As such, fair value is a market-based measurement that should be determined based on assumptions that market participants would use in pricing an asset or liability. The Company uses valuation techniques to measure fair value that maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs. These inputs are prioritized as follows:

Level 1 - Observable inputs, such as quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in active markets;
Level 2 - Inputs, other than the quoted prices in active markets, that are observable either directly or indirectly, such as quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities, or market-corroborated inputs; and
Level 3 - Unobservable inputs for which there is little or no market data which require the reporting entity to develop its own assumptions about how market participants would price the assets or liabilities.

The valuation techniques that may be used to measure fair value are as follows:

Market approach - Uses prices and other relevant information generated by market transactions involving identical or comparable assets or liabilities.

Income approach - Uses valuation techniques to convert future amounts to a single present amount based on current market expectations about those future amounts, including present value techniques, option-pricing models, and excess earnings method.

Cost approach - Based on the amount that currently would be required to replace the service capacity of an asset (replacement cost).

NOTE D- CONCENTRATIONS OF RISK

Financial instruments that potentially subject the Company to credit risk consist of cash and cash equivalents. The Company places its cash and cash equivalents with a limited number of high-quality financial institutions and at times may exceed the amount of insurance provided on such deposits.

NOTE E- SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

Management considered events subsequent to the end of the period but before September 5, 2019, the date that the financial statements were available to be issued.

Subsequent to December 31, 2018, the Company issued 10,000 stock options.

Investors that purchase the first 50,000 Crowd Notes, and thereby fund the first $50,000, will receive Crowd Notes with a conversion provision based on a $3.5 million valuation cap instead of a $5 million valuation cap. That means, in connection with equity financing of at least $1,000,000, the company has the option to convert the Crowd Note into non-voting preferred shares (Conversion Shares) at a price based on the lower of (A) a 20% discount to the price per unit paid for Preferred Shares by investors in the Qualified Equity Financing or (B) the price per share based on a $3.5 million valuation cap (instead of $5 million).

COMPANY SUMMARY

Opportunity

Shaped by the ever-increasing accessibility of information afforded by technology, consumers' expectations for service are forcing companies to reevaluate the ways in which they interact with their customers. According to research conducted by Salesforce, 73% of consumers expect companies to understand their needs and expectations, while only 51% believe that companies generally understand these needs. This could pose issues for companies who don't adapt to customers' expectations, given that 83% of the customers polled in the same report stated that the experience provided by a company is as important as its product or services. In response, Salesforce notes that companies need to develop tailored, contextualized engagement methods across multiple touchpoints in lieu of one-size-fits-all approaches.^{iv}

For companies, engaging customers can reap benefits. In a study conducted by Gallup, fully engaged customers represented a 23% increase in revenue for companies relative to the average customer.^v Further, leveraging technology such as artificial intelligence (AI) to engage customers has been found to reduce the churn, or loss, of customers by up to 50%.^{vi} Now, as consumers continue to adopt various channels of communication such as email, text messages, and messaging apps, companies may leverage these platforms to better engage individual customers.

MICROVENTURES

Business

To begin its process, Gleantap connects to a business's pre-existing member management system and automatically pulls member profiles and activity information.

Next, the company begins building profiles on members, gathering demographic and behavioral data, as well as conducting targeted polls. Then, using its proprietary algorithm, Gleantap analyzes the data, calculating the probability that a customer will return, churn, upgrade, or refer a friend. Gleantap's algorithm is designed to work by referencing specific consumer profile data with member data from other gyms to more accurately predict consumer behavior.

MICROVENTURES

Once analyzed, consumer profiles can be used by companies to connect with customers at the most appropriate time with the most appropriate message. Companies can choose to trigger campaigns manually, or leverage Gleantap's automation engine to drive engagement campaigns.

Gleantap uses multiple channels to send out messages to the end-customers, providing an omnichannel experience to allow them to converse with the gym or wellness studio. Currently, Gleantap is equipped with the following channels - email, SMS, mobile push notifications & Facebook. Below is a high-level snapshot of Gleantap's channel architecture.

SMS

Emails

Push

Gleantap plans to expand to a wider array of social channels in the future in an attempt to tap into the international markets where Whatsapp, WeChat, LINE, and others are more predominant modes of communication. Gleantap plans to continue improving its omnichannel experience, allowing end-customers to jump from one channel to another while maintaining a single thread of conversation.

MICROVENTURES

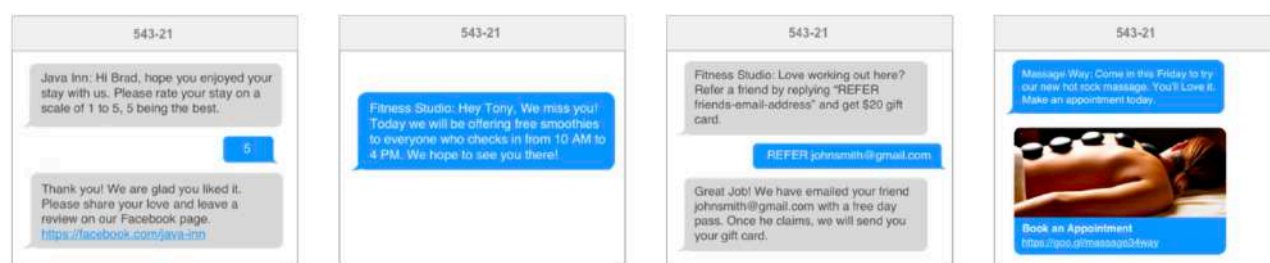

Every campaign that gets triggered through Gleantap is monitored and measured. Gleantap tracks not only opens and clicks but everything down to conversions. For instance, if it runs a campaign to up-sell members to premium plan, it can actually track in real-time how many members upgraded to that plan and the ROI generated from those upgrades.

Gleantap's suite of products includes text message marketing, email marketing, mobile push notifications, chatbots, and business intelligence features. The company's platform also integrates with point-of-sale (POS) systems, customer relationship management (CRM) platforms, and marketing tools including MindBody, ABC Financial, Facebook, Shopify, MailChimp, and HubSpot.

commissions, and substantial increases in software development costs as the company worked to improve its platform. The company's expenses began to ramp up starting in May 2018, coinciding with the company's first month of revenue generation.

Expenses in 2019 can be attributed largely to costs of goods sold, general administrative costs such as office supplies and accounting/legal services, and sales and marketing. Though it has averaged a net loss since inception, the company has achieved profitability in the following months: June through September 2018, November through December 2018, and June 2019. Net losses increased sharply in July 2019 due to increases in cost of goods sold related to the company's email and messaging services, as well as increased tradeshow costs related to the company's registration for the MindBody BOLD Conference which occurred in August 2019. In 2019, as of July, the company has averaged a monthly burn rate of $857. As of August 31, the company had $31,182 of cash on hand, giving it roughly 36 months of runway.

(the “Company”), hereby promises to pay to each investor (the “Investor”) who is recorded in MicroVenture Marketplace Inc., (the “Platform”) records as having subscribed to this security (the “Crowd Note”) the principal sum of his/her subscription (the “Purchase Price”) unless converted into equity securities pursuant to Section 2.

The “Valuation Cap” is $3.5 million or $5 million (See the Conversion Price Below)

The “Discount Rate” is 20%

The “Offering End Date” is December 16, 2019

1. Definitions.

- a. “Conversion Shares” shall mean with respect to a conversion pursuant to Section 2, shares of the Company’s Preferred Stock issued in the Qualified Equity Financing.

 - i. That means, in connection with equity financing of at least $1,000,000, the Company has the option to convert the Crowd Note into non-voting preferred shares (Conversion Shares) at a price based on the lower of (A) a 20% discount to the price per share paid for Preferred Stock by investors in the Qualified Equity Financing or (B) the price per share based on a $3.5 million valuation cap [instead of $5 million].
 - ii. The lower of (A) the product of (1) one minus 20% and (2) the price paid per share for Preferred Stock by the investors in the Qualified Equity Financing or (B) the quotient resulting from dividing (1) the Valuation Cap by (2) the Fully-Diluted Capitalization immediately prior to the closing of the Qualified Equity Financing.

 - iii. the closing of the transfer (whether by merger, consolidation or otherwise), in one transaction or a series of related transactions, to a person or group of affiliated persons (other than an underwriter of the Company’s securities), of the Company’s securities if, after such closing, such person or group of affiliated persons would hold 50% or more of the outstanding voting stock of the Company (or the surviving or acquiring entity), or
 - iv. the IPO, liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Company; provided, however, that a transaction shall not constitute a Corporate Transaction if its sole purpose is to change the state of the Company’s incorporation or to create a holding company that will be owned in substantially the same proportions by the persons who held the Company’s securities immediately prior to such transaction.
- d. “Corporate Transaction Payment” shall mean an amount equal to two times (2X) the Purchase Price. If there are not enough funds to pay the Investors in full, then proceeds from the respective transaction will be distributed with equal priority and pro rata among Investors in proportion to their Purchase Price.
- e. “Date of Issuance” shall mean the date upon which the Investor subscription is recorded in the Platform’s records as having been accepted by the Company at the date of closing.
- f. “Fully-Diluted Capitalization” shall mean the number of shares of outstanding Common Stock of the Company on a fully-diluted basis, including (i) conversion or exercise of all securities convertible into or exercisable for Common Stock, (ii) exercise of all outstanding options and warrants to purchase Common Stock and, in the case of Section 1(b), (iii) the shares reserved or authorized for issuance under the Company’s existing stock option plan or any stock option plan created or increased in connection with such transaction; but excluding, for this purpose, the conversion contemplated by the applicable provision of Section 2.
- g. “Irrevocable Proxy” shall mean the agreement appointing the Platform or an affiliate of the Platform as the sole and exclusive attorney and proxy of the Investor, with full power of substitution and re-substitution, to vote and exercise all voting and related rights with respect to all of the securities of the Company that now are or hereafter may be beneficially owned by Investor.

- i. “Maximum Raise Amount” shall mean $1,070,000 under Regulation CF.
- j. “Qualified Equity Financing” shall mean the first sale (or series of related sales) by the Company of its Preferred Stock following the Date of Issuance from which the Company receives gross proceeds of not less than $1,000,000 (excluding the aggregate amount of securities converted into Preferred Stock in connection with such sale or series of related sales).

- k. “Shadow Series” shall mean shares of a series of the Company’s Preferred Stock that is identical in all respects to the shares of Preferred Stock issued in the Qualified Equity Financing (e.g., if the Company sells Series A Preferred Stock in the Qualified Equity Financing, the Shadow Series would be Series A-1 Preferred Stock), except that the liquidation preference per share of the Shadow Series shall equal the Conversion Price (as determined pursuant to Section 2) and the following additional differences:
 - i. Shadow Series shareholders shall grant their vote on any matter that is submitted to a vote or for the consent of the stockholders of the Company (except for on matters required by law) by Irrevocable Proxy;

- 2. Conversion Mechanics. Company shall convert the Crowd Note into Conversion Shares equal to the quotient obtained by dividing the Outstanding Principal by the Conversion Price.
 - a. The issuance of Conversion Shares pursuant to the conversion of this Crowd Note shall be upon and subject to the same terms and conditions applicable to the stock sold in the Qualified Equity Financing; provided, however, that if the Investor is not a Major Investor, the Investor shall receive shares of a Shadow Series with certain limited rights.
- 3. Corporate Transaction. In the event of a Corporate Transaction, the Company shall notify the Investor in writing of the terms of the Corporate Transaction.
 - a. If the Corporate Transaction occurs prior to a Qualified Equity Financing, the Investor shall receive the higher value received by either:
 - i. Quotient obtained by dividing the product of (1) the Outstanding Principal and the Fully-Diluted Capitalization immediately prior to the closing of the Corporate Transaction by the (2) the Valuation Cap; or
 - ii. Obtaining the Corporate Transaction Payment.
 - b. If the Corporate Transaction occurs after a Qualified Equity Financing the Company shall convert this Crowd Note into Conversion Shares pursuant to Section 2 (a).

5. Valid Issuance of Stock. The Conversion Shares, when issued, sold and delivered upon conversion of this Crowd Note, will be duly authorized and validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable, will be free of restrictions on transfer other than restrictions on transfer set forth herein and pursuant to applicable state and federal securities laws and, based in part upon the representations and warranties of the Investor herein, will be issued in compliance with all applicable federal and state securities laws.

There is no judgment, decree or order against the Company, or, to the knowledge of the Company, any of its directors or managers (in their capacities as such), that could prevent, enjoin, or materially alter or delay any of the transactions contemplated by this Crowd Note, or that could reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the Company.

4. Representations and Warranties of the Investor. In connection with the transactions provided for herein, the Investor hereby represents and warrants to the Company that:

1. Authorization. This Crowd Note constitutes Investor's valid and legally binding obligation, enforceable in accordance with its terms, except as may be limited by (i) applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, or similar laws relating to or affecting the enforcement of creditors' rights and (ii) laws relating to the availability of specific performance, injunctive relief or other equitable remedies.

6. Voting and Inspection Rights. The Investor acknowledges that if they are not a Major Investor they shall have limited voting, information and inspection rights.
7. No Public Market. The Investor acknowledges that no public market now exists for any of the securities issued by the Company, and that the Company has made no assurances that a public market will ever exist for this instrument and the securities to be acquired by the Investor hereunder.

2. The Investor agrees to take any and all actions determined in good faith by the Company's board of directors to be advisable to reorganize this instrument and any shares of Capital Stock issued pursuant to the terms of this instrument into a special purpose vehicle or other entity designed to aggregate the interests of holders of Crowd Notes.
3. Successors and Assigns. The terms and conditions of this Crowd Note shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the respective successors and assigns of the parties hereto; provided, however, that the Company may not assign its obligations under this Crowd Note without the prior written consent of the Investor.

Notes to each Investor are separate sales.

6. Dispute Resolution.

1. General Rule. Any dispute under this Crowd Note will be resolved through arbitration, not through the court system. All arbitration will be conducted in Wilmington, Delaware unless both parties agree otherwise in writing in a specific case. All arbitration will be conducted before a single arbitrator in following the rules of the American Arbitration Association. Except as required by law, neither a party nor the arbitrator may disclose the existence, content or results of any arbitration without the prior written consent of the other parties.
 2. Appeal of Award. Within thirty days of a final award by the single arbitrator, either party may appeal the award for reconsideration by a three-arbitrator panel. If there is an appeal, the other party may cross-appeal within thirty days after notice of the appeal. The panel will reconsider all aspects of the initial award that are appealed, including related findings of fact.
 3. Effect of Award. Any award by the individual arbitrator that is not subject to appeal, and any panel award on appeal, shall be final and binding, except for any appeal right under the Federal Arbitration Act, and may be entered as a judgment in any court of competent jurisdiction.
 4. No Class Action Claims. NO ARBITRATION SHALL PROCEED ON A CLASS, REPRESENTATIVE, OR COLLECTIVE BASIS. No party may join, consolidate, or otherwise bring claims for or on behalf of two or more individuals or unrelated corporate entities in the same arbitration unless those persons are parties to a single transaction. An award in arbitration shall determine the rights and obligations of the named parties only, and only with respect to the claims in arbitration, and shall not (i) determine the rights, obligations, or interests of anyone other than a named party, or resolve any claim of anyone other than a named party, or (ii) make an award for the benefit of, or against, anyone other than a named party. No administrator or arbitrator shall have the power or authority to waive, modify, or fail to enforce this paragraph, and any attempt to do so, whether by rule, policy, and arbitration decision or otherwise, shall be invalid and unenforceable. Any challenge to the validity of this paragraph shall be determined exclusively by a court and not by the administrator or any arbitrator. If this paragraph shall be deemed unenforceable, then any proceeding in the nature of a class action shall be handled in court, not in arbitration.
7. Approval. The Company hereby represents that its Board of Directors, in the exercise of its fiduciary duty, has approved the Company's execution of this Crowd Note based upon a reasonable belief that the Purchase Price provided hereunder is appropriate for the Company after reasonable inquiry concerning the Company's financing objectives and financial situation. In addition, the Company hereby represents that it intends to use the proceeds primarily for the operations of its business, and not for any personal, family or household purpose.
8. Subscription Procedure. Each Investor, by providing his or her name, and subscription amount, confirms such investment through the Platform and has signed this Crowd Note electronically. Investor agrees that his or her electronic signature is the legal equivalent of his or her manual signature on this Crowd Note. By confirming, the Investor consents to be legally bound by the Crowd Note's terms and conditions, and to the terms and conditions of subscription established by the Platform. All Investors will be processed via Regulation CF. Investments may be accepted up to the Maximum Raise Amount up until the Offering End Date.

Client Attrition is a Major Problem

The majority of Fitness Clubs and Studios lose up to 50% of their members every year.

As membership grows larger, it can become more and more difficult for a club to maintain high-rate growth...or any growth at all.

Growth Strategy

#1 Target Multi-Location Franchise Owners

Our current average client has 13 locations, which results in a higher MRR per customer and more efficient use of our marketing spend. Additionally, our current base of multi-location owners helps provide credibility and entry into other multi-location owners and the corporate franchise.

#2 Partner with Marketing Agencies

Most fitness clubs and studios use marketing agencies to attract and convert new members. Gleantap enables an agency to expand their service offering by managing the Gleantap platform for marketing to existing and canceled clients. The goal is to encourage agencies to deploy Gleantap to all of their fitness club clients.

#3 Partner with Member Management Software

We integrate with most major member management software solutions in the fitness industry. We plan on pursuing deeper partnerships with solutions like Mindbody & ABC in order to promote Gleantap to their base of customers.

Long-Term Strategy

Our unique ability to gather member data, predict likely future behavior using AI, and send automated messages at the right time can be applied to other industries.

After establishing a foothold in the fitness industry, we plan to expand into related industries such as wellness, spas, salons, and fun parks.

There's a big problem out there where fitness clubs and studios are losing their customers, they are not able to engage with their members and they're not able to acquire the members at a rate where they want to be.

Gleantap is an Artificial Intelligence marketing platform that helps fitness clubs & studios drive and retain more members. To give you an example, a platform can predict if a member is going to cancel in the next 30 days or not and can send them a message through text, email or Facebook to engage them and keep them coming back.

Our software collects complete demographic and behavioral data about each customer individually. This allows us to target specific customers and to tailor messaging based on where they are in their customer journey.

We are at an amazing place right now. We work with over 300 fitness locations engaging 1.5 million members for brands such as Planet Fitness, OrangeTheory, Anytime Fitness. We were able to bring down the churn by 6.5% and in the process, drive up more ROI through member upgrades, referrals, reviews and more.

We have seen anywhere from 20 to 100x ROI on their monthly investment. But we are at a stage where we want to go to the next level.

We are looking to crowdfund to fuel our sales and marketing to get us to the next milestone. And we're just getting started.

Webinar Transcript

- Brett: Hi everybody. This is Brett Andrews with MicroVentures. Thank you all for joining us for the webinar today. Today we'll be hearing from Gleantap an AI-enabled mobile engagement platform for fitness centers and other brick and mortar retailers, and we are joined today by their founder and CEO, Sagar Babber. Sagar has served as CEO of Gleantap since its inception. At Gleantap, Sagar is responsible for leading the executive team and growing the business on all fronts. Before Gleantap, he ran a successful web and mobile development consultancy, Snyxius Technologies, which he sold to First Tek in 2018. As part of that business, Sagar helped launch numerous tech companies by working closely with their founders and getting their product off the ground.
- Brett: Sagar also co-founded CollaborateCloud a business-to-business collaboration software company. Sagar holds his bachelor's degree in Information Science from Visvesvaraya Technological University. We're also joined today by Gleantap's head of products Shubham Sethi. Shubham has served as Gleantap's head of product since April 2019. At Gleantap, Shubham is responsible for the execution of product releases. Before joining Gleantap, Shubham was a product management lead at Athena health. A healthcare cloud computing company. He has also held positions at Hive9 and Iancop. Shubham holds his bachelor's degree in Engineering from the Institute of Technology and Management, and MBA with a focus on marketing and strategy from the University of Georgia. How are you guys doing today?
- Sagar: Great. How are you?
- Shubham: I'm great.
- Brett: Doing very well. Real quick, before we get started, I just want to let everyone, all the attendees, know what the format's going to be today. So, Sagar and Shubham are going to spend about 10 minutes or so going through their presentation for Gleantap. Hopefully you guys can see the pitch deck, which is up on the screen. During that presentation, we encourage you to send any questions. GoToWebinar control panel, there's a tab titled Questions where you can submit them, feel free to send them in during the presentation. They won't interrupt the Gleantap team, they'll just go to me. And then at the end of the presentation, we will open it up for Q&A, and answer the questions that have been submitted, and any others that anyone else has. So, with that guys, I'll let you take it away and introduce everyone to Gleantap.
- Sagar: Yeah, for sure. Thanks Brett. Yeah, I'm happy to share and walk through the Gleantap pitch deck. So Gleantap is basically an AI-enabled marketing platform for fitness clubs and studios, and we basically help them increase retention and lifetime value through automated and human outreach. So, we have focused on the fitness and wellness market. There are about 430,000 fitness clubs and wellness studios globally, and that's a pretty big market for us. We plan to focus on this market for the next few years before we explore some of the other industries, like the fun parks, the auto industries, the education industry.
- Sagar: So, in a previous business when I was doing software development and consulting, we had a chance of working with fitness studios, and that's where we saw most of these businesses were having a big problem with the member attrition. They were losing customers every year, and some of these businesses were losing almost about 50% of their customers every year. So, they had a leaky bucket where they were losing customers. They were just trying to fill more water into it, trying to acquire more customers. So, with my software background, we figured there's a way we could actually detect the member attrition before really it happened. So, looking at some of the past historical data, looking at the member's activity, asking them the right questions, we can actually predict who is at the risk of canceling. And not just predict, but can actually engage them to influence positive action. We can engage them at the right time with the right message to keep them motivated and keep that coming back. And that's what we are all about. We are a member engagement platform. We send automated messages throughout the customer journey, through SMS, Facebook, email, engaging these members to keep them coming back.
- Sagar: We currently work with some of the biggest brands in the nation, and we've seen some amazing results. We've seen a drop of 6.5% in annual churn. We have helped them reactivate 1% of canceled membership. The lifetime value has gone up about 26.5%. A lot of members who were on a lower tier plan, have upgraded to a higher premium plans. And we've seen that to be close to about 9%. And every hundred members we engage asking for a referral, two of them actually refer a friend who ends up joining the club. And we also driving positive reviews for every hundred. Three positive reviews for every hundred members that we engage with. Overall that's an uplift of about $250,000 in annual revenue per location we work with. Attraction so far we were seeing about $392,000 in annual recurring revenue, and we worked with close to about 30 clients, 300 plus locations engaging over 1.5 million members.

Sagar: Our average MRR per client is about $1,300 and our LTV to CAC ratio is 4:1, so we work with some of the biggest brands, Planet Fitness, Anytime, Retro, Orange Theory. We even work with Gold's Gym today. Our cost of customer acquisition is close to about $7,000 right now. Further down our pricing model, we are a SAS platform software subscription. Our pricing starts at about $99 a month, goes up to $249, the pricing has changed since we launched. So, our current pricing is $99 we have a $199 plan which is the second plan, and then there's a $249 plan. And this scale is based on the size of the club we work with and also based on the features.

Sagar: So, there are a few players out there, but 80% of the time when we are talking with potential prospect clients, we see we're just competing with status quo. In a lot of these businesses are not engaging their members, or they're randomly sending one off emails and messages. Apart from that... Beyond that there are a few players like ClubOS, Loyalsnap, HireFrederick, TapToBook, where we have some overlaps, and we see some competition from them. The way we differ, the way we see ourselves as unique. The whole AI engine, we're able to do that. The two way texting. So, we are not just automation, we feel a nice blend of automation and human outreach is the perfect mix to engage your customers.

Sagar: A lot of these companies out there, are just automated messaging. What we do is we bring in the two way feature as well where you can actually get on a personalized one-on-one conversation with some of your members. And the business intelligence is another piece. We focus very heavily on data analytics showing the impact of your campaigns to your business. So, you're tracking your churn rate. We're tracking the lifetime value. We are tracking how each cohort of member is retained within your club. So, we're tracking all of these metrics very religiously on a dashboard, and we're showing them to see what kind of ROI we are bringing to the club. And we have the expert strategy in consulting on top of everything, where you we feel the platform is only as good as the campaigns we can run on it. So, we really work with the clients bringing in our knowledge to implement some of the best campaigns and drive ROI. We're working with a few hundred fitness studios, so we know what works, what doesn't work. We're able to bring all of that in helping some of these clients retain more members.

Sagar: So, a growth market strategy, growth strategy. We try to go after multi-location franchise owners. Planet Fitness was one of those, Gold's Gym. A lot of these big brands who, have multiple locations out there. The whole fitness industry we've seen is broken down into franchises, and each franchise can have anywhere from one location to hundreds of locations. Our average client today has about 13 locations. We also going after marketing agencies who actually work with these fitness and wellness studios. They're quite a few out there. And these guys have hundreds and thousands of fitness clients with them. We're trying to have a partner model with them where we onboard these agencies as Gleantap certified partners, where they get a little bit of kickback on the revenue and they would upsell our platform, our product to their clients.

Sagar: And then the member management software, the core POS billing software, which most of these fitness studios use. We are working with them to partner with them as well, because our platform, Gleantap layers perfectly on top of those solutions where we integrate with them, we've pulled in all the member data, all the activity information that we can, and then we are using that information to set up these journey based touchpoints to send out these messages. So, we've got a pretty good relationship with some of these guys, and we're looking to leverage that even further to get in front of the clients.

Sagar: I touched on this a little bit in the beginning, so currently we're focused in the fitness and wellness industry, but we're looking to expand further. We're looking to go into fun parks, and auto industry, hospitality, retail, education. These are more long-term. Our focus for the next couple of years is going to be fitness and wellness, but we have seen some organic traction from some of these other industries, and we're looking to explore that even further in the future. And our platform can pretty easily work for any of these industries.

Sagar: So, the investment opportunity here, so we're doing this crowd funding round to basically use the funds to increase marketing and sales. And we want to drive for the growth, we want to expand to new locations, acquire more customers. We want to hire some sales executive, further pursue the growth strategy, I was talking about the agency and integration partnerships, and build out further additional features and integration on our platform. Here's a quick snapshot of our team. My name is Sagar Babber. I've been in the software industry for over a decade now. Like Brett mentioned, I sold my previous company last year and Gleantap actually came out of that. Shubham has over 14 plus years' experience in the software product side of things where he's worked with enterprises, helping on launching successful software products. We've got Jennifer, who's our sales rep, and Andrea who handles the customer success and marketing side of things. Yeah, that pretty much sums up. I'm happy to answer any questions you guys have.

Brett: Thanks Sagar, we had a couple people join late, so I want to remind folks that if you do have any questions you can submit them into the Questions tab on your GoToWebinar control panel. I'll go ahead and kick things off. So, from your experience for something like the fitness industry, what have you seen when consulting with your clients is the biggest contributor to churn for their customers?

Sagar: Yeah, for sure. So, one of the big factors is obviously as you can imagine, lack of motivation. Someone who joins the club, joins the gym, very soon in a few months, if there is no engagement, their motivation is going to wear off, and they're going to stop coming in. And what we know is they were motivated at some point, they were motivated to really come to the club in the first place and join the club, and pay for the membership. And what we typically do is, capitalize on that motivation in the beginning to make sure that, he stays motivated and he keeps coming back. The moment we see it in a declining trend on the motivation, he's not coming in as consistently, not showing up. We know at some point he's going to cancel and churn.

Brett: Got it. And then that leads to a question about the product specifically. So, the content that is in the messaging that goes out to the customers when you guys notice, or your system notices that somebody is on the verge of potentially churning out. Who's responsible for putting that content together? Is that, I guess the content that's in the messaging, is that you, is that the customer? Is it a combination?

Sagar: Yeah, it's combination. We work with our customers in a collaborative way to really set up those touch points when the messages need to go out, and what the messages go out. So, we would write the copy for them or they would send us a copy either way it basically goes on a collaborative way. We'll tell them, hey, this is what we've seen work well and they would provide their thoughts, and once we all agree on it, then that's when we deploy.

Brett: Got it. And what have, you mentioned some of this during the presentation as well, but the ways that the businesses have been doing in the fitness industry prior to working with you, and your clients in specific, how frequently is it that they had some other system that you're coming into replace, or they just didn't have anything at all. And it's really more of just a, we're going to add something new to the process that we haven't had before.

Sagar: Yeah, yeah. Like I was saying that in the competition slide, 80% of the time we compete with status quo. We don't see these guys using or engaging the members at all. A lot of these gyms would send out a lot of messages to acquire customers on the prospect stage of things, to really make that sale, but once a member joins there is little to no engagement after some of them would probably use old school tools like MailChimp and Constant Contact to send out email blasts randomly. But yeah, so in most cases we are just bringing in this whole new engagement program for them where it's not really replacing much, but just adding on top of what they have. And in some cases, we have seen them use some of the competition. I mentioned the ClubOS and the Longsnap, which we'll come in and replace.

Brett: Got it. Yeah and I think certainly most times, especially when you have a recurring revenue stream, like a gym membership, it's cheaper to keep a customer. Even if you're using something like this service, you're basically spreading the cost amongst your entire membership base, and it's cheaper to do that than acquiring a new one, which seems to be where these companies have put most of their marketing dollars. I'm sorry.

Sagar: Yeah, that's right. I mean I think we've seen them number seven times. It's seven times cheaper to retain your existing members than to go and acquire, for sure.

Brett: Yeah, exactly. And is there a primary form of communication that seems to work best? I know you have several different channels that you guys use, but for example, is SMS seem to be getting a lot better response with customers than email, or do you see it's fairly even across the board?

Sagar: Yeah, so SMS definitely is more powerful for sure. We see 95% plus open rates or read rates, literally everyone's checking their messages. So definitely the SMS has a more powerful impact. But then there's an opt in process. Not everybody wants to receive messages. So, we've seen about 30% of the members would want to receive messages, but even then with that, it's powerful. Emails are good too, naturally everybody would receive emails, but the click throughs and the opens are at least a third of SMS. So yeah, so SMS is powerful. The Facebook is something new that we are just starting on this month, and we actually with some initial tests we saw pretty good results with Facebook Messenger. So, we know a lot of these members are using Facebook Messenger to communicate with each other, communicate with other brands. We're just leveraging that same channel to engage them.

Brett: Got it. I've got a question here about, it's a little specific to the fitness industry itself, but since you've got a lot of experience there, you may have some insight into this, but do you see that there's a spike in people that join membership for these clubs during the winter when it's cold outside, and then shift into exercising outside. And then how do you guys handle that from an engagement perspective?

Sagar: Yeah, on the fitness there's definitely a lot of seasonality. We've seen a big spike in joins during the December, January time for sure. A lot of members join the clubs, and we've seen a big spike in churn around June and July because, people who are actually joining during the December, January timeframe, we're seeing a lot of these guys drop off around the mid-year mark. Yeah. So, we basically have our engagement campaigns around that, we would motivate members who ever is joining around that time, to really build that adaption. The primary reason, like I was saying that they would drop off, would be lack of motivation. So, we try and basically have some onboarding and adoption campaigns to make sure guys who are motivated in the beginning of the year, continue to work out, continue to come in and stay through out. So, we definitely help these clubs capitalize on that seasonality.

Brett: Got it. Great. Thanks. And then we had a question here about the name of the company. The person is curious how you guys came up with the name, and if you could give a little insight into what it means for Gleantap.

Sagar: Yeah, for sure. So, the whole idea is we are glean information from the core POS systems, this cloud. And just to further on that idea, we are planning to integrate with a lot of other systems or information. One of the plans we have is to integrate with variables and, equipment like the Peloton. So, pull all sorts of work out information to be able to engage these members. So, the whole idea is to glean information and tap into that, to engage these members. And that's how we really thought and came up with Gleantap.

Brett: Got it. Thanks, and then shifting back to the product, we had a question here about offering other marketing services that are not just centered around retention, but also around promoting or marketing to potential new customers. Do you see that as an avenue that you guys may go down, or do you think you'll stick to the retention piece of it?

Sagar: Retention we see as our current focus. We may look at other aspects of marketing, but that's also one of the key differentiators. A lot of the other competition now that they are focusing on acquisition, and some kind of do a full spectrum. But just because we are so heavily focused on retention, a lot of our clients just look at us as retention experts. And even though they might be using some of the competition tools for acquisition, when they want to retain members, they would layer us on top of that. Then we'd like to stay on the retention side of things for the time being. We may add other areas in the future.

Brett: Got it. Then we had a couple of different questions about expansions. The first is about geographical, so do you plan to expand outside of the active community of Austin. And do you see other cities or states that are next potential addressable markets. And I guess I'll add onto that, that kind of just ask, is there any geographical constraint for this? I mean we know it's, as you mentioned a couple of times, that it's a software as a service, so there really isn't any physical boundaries, but do you guys see your expansion plan as following any sort of geographical plan, or can you expand on that a little?

Sagar: Yeah, for sure. So, right now we're not limited to Austin or Texas. We have clients all over the US. And our current plan is to focus within the US. There's a pretty big market just within the US. By 2021 we want to start scaling outside US. And that's why we're looking at Canada, UK, Australia and Europe, some of these other developed countries where we see a lot of the same model will just apply. Similar problems, fitness studios. I mean potential problems that we can actually help with by engagement. So yeah, for the time being, we'll stay within the US market right now, the 300 plus locations that we work with, they're all across spread out in different states, so yeah.

Brett: But as far as a customer service side, you don't necessarily need to have boots on the ground within a market that can penetrate it.

Sagar: Yeah, no, not at all. Everything happens remotely, or over conference calls and webinars like this where we are connecting with our clients. We typically touch base with the clients every month. So, we have calls like this to just go over the campaigns and help them out and provide them support. So yeah, we don't really physically need to be present where the client is.

Brett: Great. We've got a couple more here. One other on the expansion side, and this one has more to do with some of the other markets outside of fitness. Specifically asking, is this product really work more for subscription type businesses, like the fitness industry, or are there opportunities to get into brick and mortar retailers like restaurants or shopping? I know you mentioned some of this on your slide, but maybe if you can detail a little bit about what you see with regards to your customer's business models and how this fits in.

Sagar: Yeah, for sure. So, it doesn't necessarily have to be subscription. I mean, it works well for subscription. Most of our clients are on a subscription-based model, but we do have some clients who are outside fitness or have some fitness overlaps. But are not on a membership. We basically help them drive repeat visits, like the wellness, salons and spas. A lot of these guys don't really have memberships but have walk-ins, and they basically want a lot of these customers to come back for repeat visits. So, we help them still in driving repeat visits, making sure customers who have not come in, in six months are making an appointment again and coming back. Incentivizing, pushing them. So yeah, it can work well for outside membership subscription-based businesses as well.

Brett: Great. And then a couple of questions on sales. So, you mentioned part of the use of funds is bringing on sales executives. How are sales currently being handled with customers? Is it a self-serve type of product where customers are coming inbound and signing up, or are you doing active outreach?

Sagar: Yeah, for sure. So, we do a lot of online ads on Facebook and some on Google. We also do trade shows, so we do get a lot of inbound traffic and leads coming through, and our sales rep right now basically gets on calls and does demos, walks them through and tries to convert them. It's not self-serve. We don't really get them to sign up on their own. They can if they want to, but we typically take them to a full walkthrough of the platform showing them use cases and results we have seen in case studies and things like that.

Brett: Got it. And correct me if I'm wrong, but I think I remember when we initially talked a lot, and you may have mentioned this in the presentation, a lot of your clients have multiple locations. So, when you're doing a sale, I know this isn't the case for all of them, but it's not necessarily just one account that you're signing up. It could potentially be a numerous number of accounts. I think you did show on your slide that the number of quote-unquote customers you had and then the number of doors you have, and the doors number is much larger. So, I think it's helpful to keep in mind, that when some of these sales processes are going on, it's not just to sign up for potentially up to $200 a month. It could be much more than that.

Sagar: Yes. Yes, exactly. So, our average customer currently has about 13 locations, so yeah. So, when we're signing them up, it's a slightly big decision for them and the other parties involved within the company that we were talking with. Yeah. And we've also seen interest from one location who are much quicker to make that jump. To go through the demo, and just probably sign up. But whereas a bigger franchise we'll do talking and marketing to the CEOs.

Brett: Right. Got it. And that's a good segue into the last question we had here, which is really about the pricing. So, you show it on the slide with the pricing model, you've got pretty different tiers. Each the higher you go, the more capability that you have. Can you share any information in terms of the percentages of customers that are kind of in each one of those tiered buckets? How many you're seeing on the higher end versus the lower end?

Sagar: Yeah, I don't have exact persons in numbers, but I can tell you most of our customers are on our middle tier plan, which is right now the $199 plan. So, I would say about 70, 75% of our customer base goes up for that plan. The remaining, out of the 25% we'll have 10, 15% going for the $249 our new plan, and some would just go for the $99. One thing we don't offer on the $99 plan is we did not offer any dedicated account management or expert consulting, so not many people go for that. A lot of our clients want to have that dedicated, accountable, someone they can work with who is head of these campaigns.

Brett: Got it. Okay. Well before I let you guys give your final thoughts to close things out, I just want to answer any questions that we had submitted. I want to thank everybody who did attend this webinar today, and for the folks who are listening to this recording after the fact as we would typically have, many of the listeners will be listening to this recording. I also want to just remind folks that, and backing up a bit. That recording will be posted on the Gleantap campaign page, which is where I would like to point you as well. If you have any other questions or would like to see any more information, the presentation that Sagar went through is posted there. You can go through that deck again if you'd like to. There's also a lot of other information and certain financial graphs of the business over the last couple years, or since it since inception I believe.

Brett: The terms of the raise and the detailed use of funds. A little more background on the team and there's a discussion forum down at the bottom. So, if you do have any specific questions, if you are, for example, somebody who's listening to the recording and you'd like to ask some questions there. The Gleantap team's been good at responding. So, you can put questions there. And then of course if you'd like to invest, we have the, if you go to that same page, the invest, there's a bright orange Invest button up in the corner, the right corner, and you can click there and walk through the process. There's still some time left on this campaign. So, if you'd like to be a part of it, now's the time. And with that, before we sign off Sagar and Shubham, are there any other kind of closing thoughts you guys would like to share, or any other places you'd like to [inaudible 00:32:12]?

Sagar: Yeah, I mean we're definitely seeing tremendous traction. Being around just for about 18, 19 months now, and the kind of response we've seen from the industry is incredible. But we have a long way to go, and we're really excited about this, and I'd love to have more investors be part of this journey we're having, so I'm excited about this.

Brett: Great. Well, I appreciate the time, both of you guys for doing this today and sharing the presentation, and likewise, everybody who tuned in, and that's going to be it for us. So, I hope everyone has a great rest of the day and rest of the week.

Sagar: Thanks, Brett.

Brett: Thanks, Sagar.
