REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the Members of:
Arcview Capital, LLC

Opinion on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Arcview Capital, LLC (the "Company"), as of December 31, 2023, and the related statements of operations, changes in members' equity and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes and supplementary information (collectively referred to as the "financial statements"). In our opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as of December 31, 2023, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year ended December 31, 2023, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We are a public accounting firm registered with the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) ("PCAOB") and are required to be independent with respect to the Company in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB.

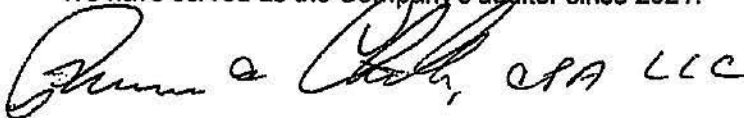

We conducted our audit in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement, whether due to error or fraud. Our audit included performing procedures to assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to error or fraud, and performing procedures that respond to those risks. Such procedures included examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our audit also included evaluating the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

Auditor's Report on Supplementary Information

The supplementary information, the Computation of Net Capital under Rule 15c3-1 of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the Computation for Determination of Reserve Requirements and Information Relating to Possession or Control Requirements Under Rule 15c3-3 of the Securities and Exchange Commission OR contained in schedules I and II, has been subjected to audit procedures performed in conjunction with the audit of the Company's financial statements. The supplementary information is the responsibility of the Company's management. Our audit procedures included determining whether the supplementary information reconciles to the financial statements or the underlying accounting and other records, as applicable, and performing procedures to test the completeness and accuracy of the information presented in the supplementary information. In forming our opinion on the supplementary information, we evaluated whether the supplementary information, including its form and content, is presented in conformity with 17 C.F.R. § 240.17a-5. In our opinion, the supplementary information is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the financial statements as a whole.

We have served as the Company's auditor since 2021.

Notes to Financial Statements
DECEMBER 31, 2023

1. Business and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Business

Arcview Capital, LLC. ("the Company") is a Limited Liability Company formed in the State of Delaware. Effective June 10, 2020 the Company commenced operations when it became registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") as a securities broker-dealer and received approval from, and became a member, of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA").

As a limited liability company, the members are not liable for the debts, obligations, or liabilities of the Company, whether arising in contract, tort or otherwise, unless a member has signed a specific guarantee.

Basis of Presentation

The Company's financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("US GAAP"). Revenue is recognized when earned, while expenses and losses are recognized when incurred.

Cash

The Company maintains its bank accounts in high credit quality institutions. Balances at times may exceed federally insured limits. The company has not experienced any losses in such accounts and believes it is not exposed to any significant risk.

Revenue Recognition

The Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") has issued a comprehensive revenue recognition standard that supersedes most existing revenue recognition guidance under U.S. GAAP FASB Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers ("ASC 606").

The core principle of ASC 606 is that a company should recognize revenue when it transfers goods or services to customers in amounts that reflect the consideration the Company expects to receive for those goods or services. ASC 606 prescribes a five-step process to accomplish this core principle, including:

- (i) Identification of the contract with the customer;
- (ii) Identification of the performance obligations in the contract;
- (iii) Determination of the transaction price;
- (iv) Allocation of the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract;
- (v) Recognition of revenue when (or as) the performance obligation is satisfied.

ARCVIEW CAPITAL, LLC
Notes to Financial Statements

Although total revenues may not be materially impacted by this guidance, management notes changes to the disclosures based on the additional requirements prescribed by ASC 606. These new disclosures include information regarding the judgments used in evaluating when and how revenue is recognized and disclosures related to contract assets and liabilities.

The Company provides advisory services related to mergers and acquisitions or raising capital in connection with the terms of its contracts with customers. Revenue for advisory arrangements is generally recognized based on when the services are provided or when the transaction is consummated. However, for certain contracts, revenue is recognized over time for advisory arrangements in which the performance obligations are simultaneously provided by the Company and consumed by the customer. Retainers and other fees received from customers prior to recognizing revenue would be reflected as contract liabilities (deferred revenue in the statement of financial condition).

Credit Losses

The Company accounts for estimated credit losses on financial instruments, such as trade receivables, in accordance with ASU 2016-13, "Financial Instruments - Credit Losses (Topic 326)". The Company periodically estimates the allowance for doubtful accounts. Those conditions may be considered in relation to individual receivables or in relation to groups of similar types of receivables. The Company reviews trade receivables for collectability and performs on-going credit evaluations of its customers and determines the allowance for doubtful accounts based on historical write-off experience, customer specific facts and general economic conditions. Total bad debts for the year ended December 31, 2023 were $4,000.

Income Taxes

As a limited liability company, U.S. Federal tax law provides that the Company's taxable income or loss is allocated to its member in accordance with the operating agreement, whereby the Company is not subject to income tax. Therefore, no provision or liability for income taxes has been included in the financial statements.

The Company applies ASC Topic 740, Income Taxes. A component of this standard prescribes a recognition and measurement threshold of tax positions taken or expected to be taken in a tax return. For those benefits to be recognized, a tax position must be more-likely-than-not to be sustained upon examination by taxing authorities. There was no material impact on the Company's financial position or operations as a result of the application of this standard. The Company's policy is to recognize interest and penalties associated with tax positions under this standard as a component of income tax expense, and none were recognized as there was no material impact of the overall application of this standard. As of December 31, 2023, the 2019- 2023 tax returns are subject to examination by the Internal

Revenue Service and, generally, to state taxing authorities.

Use of Estimates

The process of preparing financial statements in conformity with US GAAP requires the use of estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amount of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Such estimates primarily relate to transactions in process and events as of the date of the financial statements. Accordingly, upon completion, actual results may differ from estimated amounts.

2. Indemnification

In the normal course of its business, the Company indemnifies and guarantees certain service providers against specified potential losses in connection with their acting as an agent of, or providing services to, the Company. The maximum potential amount of future payments that the Company could be required to make under these indemnifications cannot be estimated. However, the Company believes that it is unlikely it will have to make material payments under these arrangements and has not recorded any contingent liability in the financial statements for these indemnifications.

The Company provides representations and warranties to counterparties in connection with a variety of commercial transactions and occasionally indemnifies them against potential losses caused by the breach of those representations and warranties. These indemnifications generally are standard contractual terms and are entered into in the normal course of business. The maximum potential amount of future payments that the Company could be required to make under these indemnifications cannot be estimated. However, the Company believes that it is unlikely it will have to make material payments under these arrangements and has not recorded any contingent liability in the financial statements for these indemnifications.

3. Net Capital Requirements

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission Uniform Net Capital Rule (15c3-1), which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, shall not exceed 15 to 1. At December 31, 2023, the Company had net capital of $(9,239) which was $(14,239) less than its minimum required net capital of $5,000. The Company's aggregate indebtedness to net capital ratio percentage was (672.65)%.

ARCVIEW CAPITAL, LLC
Notes to Financial Statements
DECEMBER 31, 2023

4. Net Capital Deficiency

During its 2020 routine examination, FINRA conducted a review of the Company's net capital challenges at the time. As a result of this review, FINRA's Enforcement Division brought an action against the Company, which was resolved on February 29, 2024 when the Company signed an Acceptance, Waiver, and Consent ("AWC"), without admitting or denying FINRA's findings. Among other corrective measures, the AWC imposes a censure on the Company as well as a $25,000 fine. As required by ASC 450 - Contingencies, matters that are discovered during the audit period (January 1, 2023 through December 31, 2023) and that have a probable outcome with an estimable impact on the Company's financial statements, must be accrued in the audit period. Since these conditions were met, the $25,000 fine was accrued as of December 31, 2023. The accrual resulted in the Company's net capital falling below its minimum net capital requirement and becoming negative. (see Note 5. Subsequent Events).

During the time of the hindsight net capital deficiency, the Company was not conducting a securities business.

5. Subsequent Events

Events of the Company subsequent to December 31, 2023, have been evaluated through April 10, 2024 which is the date the financial statements were available to be issued, for the purpose of identifying events that would require recording or disclosures in the financial statements in the year ended December 31, 2023.

The fine associated with the FINRA AWC was paid by the Company on March 1, 2024. Capital contributions of $25,500 and $20,000 were provided in February 2024 and March 2024 respectively. The Company has maintained regulatory net capital in excess of its required minimum amount since February 29, 2024.

The Company is seeking regulatory approval for the original members to sell their remaining ownership interest to the minority members who purchased ownership in 2023. The FINRA Continuing Membership Application was begun in 2023 and is expected to be successfully completed in May 2024.

Exemption Report Review

To the Members of:
Arcview Capital, LLC

We have reviewed management's statements, included in the accompanying Exemption Report, on which Arcview Capital, LLC identified the following provisions of 17 C.F.R. ~15c3-3 under which Arcview Capital, LLC claimed no obligations under 17 C.F.R. ~240.15c3-3. Arcview Capital, LLC stated that Arcview Capital, LLC had no obligations throughout the most recent fiscal year without exception. Arcview Capital, LLC's management is responsible for compliance with the exemption provisions and its statements.

Our review was conducted in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) and, accordingly, included inquiries and other required procedures to obtain evidence about Arcview Capital, LLC's compliance with the exemption provisions. A review is substantially less in scope than an examination, the objective of which is the expression of an opinion on management's statements. Accordingly, we do not express such an opinion.

Based on our review, we are not aware of any material modifications that should be made to management's statements referred to above for them to be fairly stated, in all material respects, based on the provisions set forth in paragraph 17 C.F.R. of Rule 15c3-3 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.
