LANCASTER, PA

- Lancaster County is magnificent! On the other hand, the city of Lancaster itself is booming and should be on your radar!
- Lancaster County has been mentioned in a 2019 survey appearing in US News as #1 place to retire in the nation and is considered as one of the "Top 50" as the best place to live in the country, an amazing accomplishment (source: US News and World Report).
- Lancaster was also recognized in 2018 by Forbes.com as "one of the 10 coolest cities to visit".
- What is driving these rankings? Lancaster gets great marks for the number of new and refurbished housing developments and the upcoming Rebman's Affordable Housing Project, located at 800 South Queen Street, will provide some much-needed affordable housing. Lancaster's healthcare resources are world-class and offered primarily by the University of Pennsylvania health care system along with UPMC, WellSpan and others. Other factors considered to determine scoring were things like happiness, desirability, retiree taxes, and the job market in the local area.
- The city's primary industries include healthcare, manufacturing, tourism and public administration and according to the United States Federal Reserve, Lancaster unemployment rate is 3.4% as of December of 2019.

LANCASTER, PA

- Lancaster median income has grown 12% over the last 4 years proving the area has a strong economy.
- While Lancaster City is doing extremely well, there is a huge need for affordable housing. Our project not just helps to fill that gap, but it also provides a high-quality return for investors.
- Remember the economic crisis in 2008, where the mortgage market collapsed, companies closed, people lost jobs and houses, retirement plans values went downhill? The above happened to many cities in the USA, affecting the many states across the nation. However, Lancaster survived. That tells us something about this small county consisting of a population totaling 543,557 people as of 2018.
- The job market is booming and there are more jobs available than ever before.
- Many commercial businesses are arriving, starting or expanding, creating hundreds of better-paying jobs and, attracting and encouraging working families to move to Lancaster which will improve the availability of affordable housing.
- Our project will be the first new construction of its kind in 50 years in Lancaster City, bringing 72 affordable apartments for working families and 14,684 sq. ft. of commercial space to our community.

LANCASTER, PA

- Our city believes in innovation, welcomes diversity, loves inclusion, and reports a relatively low crime rate.
- Lancaster also has over 770 non-profit organizations supporting community needs (source: <http://guidestar.org/>). These non-profits care about the community and are always doing great things for its constituents.
- Lancaster is a charming place to live, invest and enjoy life with peace of mind. The restaurant scene is buzzing with many different choices from upscale eateries to informal dining. It has also become very artsy and cultural, plus it is great for all ages but especially for families with kids and retirees.
- It's very close to major cities such as New York (less than 3 hours away by train or car), New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware (all-around 2 hours away) and around 6 hours to get to Niagara Falls in Canada or Virginia Beach.
- If you have not visited this Dutch side of the hemisphere, don't wait too long and come. Lancaster is a city with a rich and intriguing heritage that dates back to colonial times. Once America's largest inland city and the Capital of the United States for one day! Visit our exquisite food, creative art, experiences and activities for all ages, tastes and more. Enjoy the many things to see and do in Lancaster City and understand why we are focused on supporting our city's working families.

AFFORDABLE HOUSING

- What is Affordable Housing?

- The Government defines Affordable Housing for which the renters are paying no more than 30% of their income for gross housing costs, including utilities.

- Is Affordable Housing the same as Low-Income Housing?

- Not at all. Low-Income Housing is considered a government subsidized program (Ex. Section 8) and the renters must qualify based on their income. Renters yearly income must be below a certain level based on the area where they live.

INTRODUCTION

OZFund, Inc. is a community focused Qualified Opportunity Fund (QOF) with plans to acquire distressed below-market properties located in the 'Opportunity Zones' of Lancaster and York, Pennsylvania for redevelopment into affordable rental housing and commercial space. Each project is managed through a dedicated OZFund.

The Tax Cuts and Jobs Act (H.R. 1) of 2017 (TCJA) established the Opportunity Zone program, intended to spur economic development and job creation in distressed communities while providing investors with an opportunity with significant tax benefits. OZFund is a fund organized under the TCJA.

For its first project, OZFund has acquired a large property located at 800 South Queen Street, Lancaster, Pennsylvania, an Opportunity Zone. The OZFund property will be developed into 72 affordable apartments and 14,684+ sq. ft. of commercial space, including a day care center.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Finding Affordable Rental Housing Is A Struggle For Working Families

- Families who spend more than a third of their income on rent are considered to be spending an unaffordable amount on rent.
- Across the country, about half of renters are spending more than that on rent.
- Since 1960, renters' income has increased by only 5% while rents have risen 61%.

PROJECT MANAGEMENT TEAM

Project Development

- Mixed Used Zoning.
- Development will be managed by the Principals of the OZFund supported by:
 - Professional Design and Construction, Inc.

BUSINESS PLAN

Our first project is to redevelop the prior Rebman's Property located at 800 South Queen St, Lancaster, Pennsylvania

- Renters make up 29.11% in Lancaster County.
- As of 2019, less than 20% of 750 new units (rental and for sale) recently completed, under construction, or planned are considered affordable.
- In Lancaster County, the gap between wages and rents is becoming a chasm.
- Our first project will include +/- 72 affordable rental units and approximately 14,684 sq. ft of commercial space.
- We plan on doing multiple projects over the 10-year period.

("OZFund" or the "Company") is a new Fund that seeks capital appreciation through the acquisition of a commercial property/properties located in an Opportunity Zone (OZ) in Lancaster, Pennsylvania and possibly elsewhere. An OZ is an economically distressed community where new investments, under certain conditions, may be eligible for preferential tax treatment.

The Fund plans to employ a value-added investment, management and property development strategy to produce strong returns in addition to providing a meaningful solution in the southern end of Lancaster City to help combat the current housing shortage for working families along with commercial space for rent by both professionals and businesses.

A unique feature of the OZFund is to opportunistically make equity investments into some of the businesses that lease space from us. This feature is a unique return enhancer that has the potential to deliver significantly higher returns for investors than other affordable housing-focused funds.

In addition to the funds being raised in this offering, we will seek additional support and tax incentives from State, Federal, and private sources.

About the General Partner/Sponsor and Project Development Team

The General Partner/Sponsor ("GP") and Project Development Team include Principals, Professional Partners and Team Members with a 40+-year track record of multiple real estate investment and construction projects.

The GP/Sponsor plans to execute a dynamic "value-oriented" real estate improvement and property development practice through an experienced team with many years of buying, selling, designing, building and enhancing commercial and residential properties together with structuring, negotiating and managing large-scale business transactions.

The Fund is organized as a community focused 'Qualified Opportunity Fund' as authorized under the 'Opportunity Fund' program.

The overall project coordinator and construction contractor is Professional Design and Construction, Inc (PD&C). PD&C is a successful 30-year-old experienced design and construction firm based in Lancaster, Pennsylvania, with multiple large commercial construction projects to their credit.

Projected Investment Structure/Indicative Investor Economics

- $10.0 million offering to be decreased/increased as necessary at the option of the GP/Sponsor.
- Expected holding period of 10 years to take full advantage of the tax benefits offered by the Opportunity Zone Program.
- With the benefit of local tax incentives, we will make annual distributions to the equity investors, with future growth, during our initial hold period while reserving appropriate capital for future property purchases and development costs.
- We intend to provide investors with a market-based recapitalization opportunity when we sell or refinance the completed development in 10 years.
- We believe that even with modest "institutionalization" of our various properties, an appropriate exit cap rate when we recapitalize the properties will likely be in the 5.0% - 6.0% range.
- A project recapitalization in this cap rate range could result in an IRR to the investors that is about 13-15%, not including the benefit of tax breaks afforded to the Investor by the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act. Tax breaks and returns from other investments could be significant and are expected to eclipse the returns of the real estate investments.

Proposed Site Plan

Questions and Answers

What is an Opportunity Zone?

- Opportunity Zones were created by the 2017 Tax Cuts and Jobs Act. These zones are designed to spur economic development and job creation in distressed communities throughout the country and U.S. possessions by providing tax benefits to individuals who invest into these communities. For investors who invest a capital gain, there are special tax benefits, but you do not need a capital gain to invest in this project.

Who can invest in the Opportunity Zone?

- Accredited investors can invest in a Qualified Opportunity Fund (QOF), like the OZFund, Inc. (OZFund). The OZFund is a real estate fund that intends to develop affordable apartments and commercial space starting with the prior Rebmans Property on South Queen Street in Lancaster, PA. The return on your investment in the OZFund is worth it, regardless if you have a capital gain to invest or not.

How long until the project is completed?

- Approximately 18 months from Spring 2021.

Who is building the project?

- The overall project coordinator and construction contractor is Professional Design and Construction (PD&C). PD&C is a successful 30-year-old experienced design and construction firm based in Lancaster, Pennsylvania with multiple large commercial construction projects to their credit.

If I invest today when will I start receiving distributions?

- We are projecting 1st quarter of 2023.

What is my return on investment?

- Estimated annual returns are shown in our financial model under the Projected Cash Flow tab.

Do I need to live in an opportunity zone to take advantage of the tax benefits?

- No. You can get the tax benefits, even if you don't live, work or have a business in an opportunity zone. All you need to do is invest in a QOF like the OZFund. If you are investing a capital gain, you can elect to defer the tax on that gain until 2026.

Is there going to be a refinance event at any time in the 10-year horizon?

- We may sell the building or refinance it in the 10-year horizon but this will only be done as a benefit to our investors.

What are my risks in losing money?

- Now that we have explained the gains and benefits, let's talk about the risks. This fund is based on rent merit and will be backed by the newly-developed building so the risk is very low.

If an investor puts $100,000 in the OZFund can they lose the principal amount?

- We believe the possibility an investor may lose all or a part of his/her investment in this project is low; however, there is always a risk in any type of investment. This is explained in great detail in our offering documents. Our financial model suggests that based on the current building valuation and future improvements we make to the property; we estimate that equity investments in our fund (i.e. a total of $3,762,967) will be more than adequately covered by the property valuation of the completed project and ultimately, proceeds from the sale of the building. The value of the building increases greatly when the development is completed and the apartments and spaces are fully rented. Another factor to consider is the increase in Lancaster property values generally, as we've seen in recent years with all of the new developments either under construction and/or fully completed.

How many units have to be rented to break even?

- In year 1, we will break-even at about 15-20% residential vacancy or about 30% commercial vacancy. However, we think both residential and commercial will be rented very quickly and we will have a waiting list. This is due, in part, because of a lack of affordable housing and commercial space in the area.

What is a Reduction in Capital Gains Owed?

- A huge benefit of the Opportunity Zone legislation is that it allows investors to receive a reduction in capital gains owed. After five years of investing in an Opportunity Zone, any reinvested profits experience a 10% increase in basis.

What does that mean for you?

- Take the example of investing $100,000 of profits from the sale of a business, real estate or some other asset. If you keep that investment in a Qualified Opportunity Fund (QOF) until December 2026 the IRS gives you a tax break by reducing the amount of capital gain tax owed by 10%. This benefit is available to people who keep their investment in the QOF until December 31st, 2026. You have until December 31st, 2021 to benefit from the 10% reduction in taxes owed.

Can I Invest without Capital Gains?

- The benefit described above is really for people who have a capital gain to invest and want to defer paying taxes for a while (and reduce their taxable liability). However, anyone can invest in a QOF even though they didn't have a capital gain. This additional benefit is the only advantage that's for everyone but they will need to keep their money in the fund for 10 years.
- If you decide to keep your investment in a QOF for 10 years, then any profits you earn are tax exempt. The key to realizing this benefit is investing in a QOF and holding onto the investment for at least 10 years. This benefit is not set to expire on December 31st, 2026, so it has the long-term potential.

Could you give an example of a Major Benefit to After-Tax Returns?

- After-tax gains on a Qualified Opportunity Fund Investment can be more than double those of a similar investment without the Qualified Opportunity Fund benefits. The table below illustrates an investor's potential after-tax returns in a Qualified Opportunity Fund investment compared to the investment of capital gains in a traditional investment, both appreciating at 10%.

	TRADITIONAL CAPITAL GAIN INVESTMENT	OZFUND INVESTMENT USING CAPITAL GAIN	OZFUND INVESTMENT USING CASH

WASHINGTON, D.C.

Final Regulations on Opportunity Zones: Frequently Asked Questions

After considering over 300 formal comment letters and additional taxpayer feedback, the Treasury Department and IRS have issued final regulations on Opportunity Zones to provide clarity and certainty for investors and communities.

The questions and answers below describe changes made to the proposed regulations that are reflected in the final regulations in response to engagement with the public.

What types of gains may be invested and when?

- General rule — The final regulations amend the proposed regulations' general rule that only capital gain may be invested in a Qualified Opportunity Fund (QOF) during the 180-day investment period by clarifying that only eligible gain taxable in the United States may be invested in a QOF.
- Sales of business property — The proposed regulations only permitted the amount of an investor's gains from the sale of business property that were greater than the investor's losses from such sales to be invested in QOFs, and required the 180-day investment period to begin on the last day of the investor's tax year. The final regulations allow a taxpayer to invest the entire amount of gains from such sales without regard to losses and change the beginning of the investment period from the end of the year to the date of the sale of each asset.
- Partnership gain — Partners in a partnership, shareholders of an S corporation, and beneficiaries of estates and non-grantor trusts have the option to start the 180-day investment period on the due date of the entity's tax return, not including any extensions. This change addresses taxpayer concerns about potentially missing investment opportunities due to an owner of a business entity receiving a late Schedule K-1 or other form from the entity.
- Investment of Regulated Investment Company (RIC) and Real Estate Investment Trust (REIT) gains — The rules clarify that the 180-day investment period generally starts at the close of the shareholder's tax year and provides that gains can, at the shareholder's option, also be invested based on the 180-day investment period starting when the shareholder receives capital gains dividends from a RIC or REIT.
- Installment sales — The rules clarify that gains from installment sales are able to be invested when received, even if the initial installment payment was made before 2018.

- Nonresident investment — The final regulations provide that nonresident alien individuals and foreign corporations may make Opportunity zone investments with capital gains that are effectively connected to a U.S. trade or business. This includes capital gains on real estate assets taxed to nonresident alien individuals and foreign corporations under the Foreign Investment in Real Property Tax Act rules.

When may gains be excluded from tax after an investment is held for a 10-year period?

- Sales of property by a Qualified Opportunity Zone Business (QOZB) — In the proposed regulations, an investor could only elect to exclude gains from the sale of qualifying investments or property sold by a QOF operating in partnership or S Corporation form, but not property sold by a subsidiary entity. The final regulations provide that capital gains from the sale of property by a QOZB that is held by such a QOF may also be excluded from income as long as the investor's qualifying investment in the QOF has been held for 10 years. However, the amount of gain from such a QOF's or its QOZBs' asset sales that an investor in the QOF may elect to exclude each year will reduce the amount of the investor's interest in the QOF that remains a qualifying investment.
- Applicability to other gains — The final rules clarify that the exclusion is available to other gains, such as distributions by a corporation to shareholders or a partnership to a partner, that are treated as gains from the sale or exchange of property other than inventory for Federal income tax purposes.

How does a Fund determine levels of new investment in a Qualified Opportunity Zone?

- Aggregation of property for purposes of the substantial improvement test — QOFs and QOZBs can take into account purchased original use assets that otherwise would qualify as qualified opportunity zone business property if the purchased assets:
 - Are used in the same trade or business in the Qualified Opportunity zone QOZB or a contiguous QOZB for which a non-original use asset is used, and
 - Improve the functionality of the non-original use assets in the same QOZB or a contiguous QOZB.
- Aggregation of property for purposes of the substantial improvement test (continued) — In certain cases, the final regulations permit a group of two or more buildings located on the same parcel s of land to be treated as a single property. In these cases, any additions to the basis of the buildings in the group are aggregated to determine satisfaction of the substantial improvement requirement. Thus, a taxpayer need not increase the basis of each building by 100% as long as the total additions to basis for the group of buildings equals 100% of the initial basis for the group.
- Vacancy period to allow a building to qualify as original use — The final regulations reduce the five-year vacancy requirement in the proposed regulations to a one-year vacancy requirement, if the property was vacant for at least one-year prior to the QO being designated and remains vacant through the date of purchase. For other vacant property, the proposed five-year vacancy requirement is reduced to three years. In addition, property involuntarily transferred to local government control is included in the definition of the term vacant, allowing it to be treated as original use property when purchased by a QOF or QO-B from the local government.

- Leasing — The final regulations provide several changes to leasing provisions in the proposed regulations:
 - State and local governments, as well as Indian tribal governments, will be exempt from the market-rate requirements for leased tangible property.
 - Leases between unrelated parties are generally presumed to be at market rate terms, and
 - Short-term leases of personal property to lessors using the property outside a QO may be counted as Qualified Opportunity Zone Business Property (QO-BP).
- Working capital safe harbor — The final regulations provide several refinements to the working capital safe harbor:
 - They create an additional 62-month safe harbor for start-up businesses to ensure that they can comply with the 70-percent tangible property standard, the 50-percent gross income requirement, and other requirements to qualify as a QO-B;
 - They provide that a QO-B can receive an extra 24 months to use working capital if the QO is in a Federally-declared disaster area;
 - They clarify that the safe harbor can only be used for a 62-month period and that amounts remaining at the conclusion of the period cannot be counted as tangible property for purposes of the 70-percent tangible property standard; and
 - They allow a QO-B to treat equipment, buildings, and other tangible property that is being improved with the working capital as QO-BP that is “used in a trade or business” for purposes of the requirement that a QO-B must be engaged in a trade or business.
 - In addition, the final regulations provide that a QO-B not utilizing the working capital safe harbor may treat tangible property undergoing the substantial improvement process as being used in a trade or business.
- Measurement of “use” for the 70-percent use test— The final regulations provide that, if tangible property is used in one or more QOs, satisfaction of the 70-percent use test is determined by aggregating the number of days the tangible property in each QO is utilized. Accordingly, the final regulations set forth a clearer way for determining satisfaction of the 70-percent use test, including a safe harbor for certain tangible property used both inside and outside the geographic borders of a QO .

- Determinations of location and “use” of intangible property — The final regulations provide that intangible property qualifies as used in the QO if:
 - The use of the intangible property is normal, usual, or customary in the conduct of the trade or business, and
 - The use contributes to the generation of gross income for the trade or business.
- Other clarifications regarding business property of QOFs or QOZBs —
 - Real property straddling census tracts — The final regulations include both a square footage test and an unadjusted cost test to determine if a project is primarily in a QO , and provide that parcels or tracts of land will be considered contiguous if they possess common boundaries, and would be contiguous but for the interposition of a road, street, railroad, stream or similar property. Importantly, the final regulations also extend the straddle rules to QOF’s and QO B’s with respect to the 70-percent use test.
 - Brownfield sites — The final regulations provide that both the land and structures in a Brownfield site redevelopment are considered to be original use property as long as the QOF or QO B make investments into the Brownfield site to improve its safety and compliance with environmental standards.
 - Self-constructed property — The final rules provide that self-constructed property can count for purposes of the QOF’s 90-percent asset test and the QO B’s 70-percent asset test, and is valued at the purchase price as of the date when physical work of a significant nature begins.
 - De minimis exception for “sin businesses” — The final regulations provide that a QO B may have less than 5 percent of its property leased to a so-called “sin business” described in 26 U.S.C. 144 c 6 B . For example, a hotel business of a QO B could potentially lease space to a spa that provides tanning services.

How can large C Corporations invest in Opportunity Zones?

- The final regulations provide an election for a consolidated group of C Corporations to treat a lower-tier QOF C Corporation as a member of the consolidated group if:
 - Only other members of the consolidated group hold 100% of the QOF member’s stock, and

- The QOF member complies with special intergroup transaction rules to remain a member of the group.
- The regulations also provide alternative retroactive elections for a consolidated group that had formed a QOF C Corporation before the May 1, 2018, proposed regulations to elect to treat the QOF C Corporation as:
 - Always having been a QOF partnership, or
 - Never having been a member of the consolidated group.

An aerial plan of the proposed redevelopment at 800 S. Queen St., the former Rebman's property.

A composite image from Google Street View shows the existing state of the Rebman's site, 800 S. Queen St.

For decades, 800 S. Queen St. was the home of Rebman's, a quirky family-owned store that was a beloved Lancaster landmark.

Today the 1.5-acre commercial property, near the southern edge of the city, is run-down and mostly unused. But that's about to change, businessman Jeremy Feakins said.

Feakins has put together a project team and is raising capital to build a mixed-use complex at the site, which Rebman's left in 2003. It would have retail and residential space — designed, he said, with the needs of the surrounding community in mind.

88,000 square feet

Feakins has owned the property since 2006 and has an office there. Until recently, the main building was rented out as storage space.

The plan calls for razing the existing buildings. In their place would rise a four-story L-shaped building overlooking South Queen and Furnace streets, plus a one-story outbuilding envisioned as a daycare center.

The budget is $14.6 million, though Feakins emphasized it and other details are preliminary and subject to change.

All told, there would be about 88,000 square feet of space, of which about 14,684 square feet, including the proposed daycare, would be commercial or retail space.

Tentatively, the largest unit would be a medical office or urgent care center. The others would be for storefront businesses; at least one, it is hoped, would be a restaurant.

The rest of the building would consist of 72 one- and two-bedroom apartments. They would be rented at rates deemed affordable to households making 60% to 80% of Lancaster county's median income.

For the one-bedroom units, that works out to rent of $915 to $1,220. For the two-bedroom units, it's $1,029 to $1,372. The actual rents could end up lower, Feakins said.

"Our tenants will be working families," he said.

The units will not be subsidized. Nor does the project team plan to use construction subsidies designed to incentivize affordable housing. The numbers work without them, Feakins said.

The project will bring affordable rentals and new commercial space to an area with a shortage of both, he said.

Besides leading JPF, Feakins, a British native and naturalized U.S. citizen, heads Ocean Thermal Energy Corp., which is working to implement a technology that generates renewable energy from ocean temperature differentials. He lives on a 52-acre horse farm in Pequea Township.

Feakins said he's wanted to redevelop 800 S. Queen St. all along. The "turning point," he said, came when a federal opportunity zone that includes the property was established.

Created under the Trump administration's 2017 tax law, opportunity zones are intended to draw investments to distressed areas. The designation allows investors to defer capital gains taxes by putting money in eligible projects, or avoid them altogether on accrued profits if they stay invested for at least 10 years.

Feakins' team has set up an investment fund targeted at opportunity zone projects, with the Rebman's project as the inaugural effort.

Under federal securities rules, participating investors must be "accredited." That means they must have a high income — at least $200,000, or $300,000 with a spouse — or net worth of at least $1 million.

Feakins' team is still at an early stage: It has to finalize plans, secure financing and go through the city review and approval process. Nevertheless, it's hoping to break ground this year.

Every project is different, but if all goes smoothly, securing the necessary city approvals could probably be done in about nine months, Delfs said.

The project coordinator and contractor is Landisville-based Professional Design & Construction. Construction is expected to take about 18 months.

Young said 800 S. Queen St. is the only opportunity-zone project in Lancaster he's aware of.

Besides Lancaster's, there is an opportunity zone in Columbia. There, a local entrepreneur plans to partner with a New York state developer to rehab two adjoining former hotel buildings into a mix of retail and market-rate housing.
