Why did you branch off from chocolate into the cuisine industry? ▾

We saw a need for a new and unique dining experience that would not only serve as a conversation piece but a place where people can enjoy dishes, drinks and flavors in 3's. We would like our restaurant to be the Cheesecake Factory of the Chocolate Industry where customers will also be able to buy our unique chocolate products and enjoy a flavorful meal. We are also looking to take some aspects from some of our other favorite restaurants we've been to around the world, especially with design and creative influences from Paris, Brussels Toronto and Montreal.
