I am investing in HelloWoofy
because the landscape for social media marketing, content marketing, and more importantly content distribution has evolved. From the next generation of small businesses and entrepreneurs
to the rise of the gig and creator economy to the scaling of emerging businesses, comes down to being able to communicate to your audience
wherever they are using smart marketing. As many current solutions on the market have not made a significant improvement in their overall offering based on the demand
of the marketplace in years.
HelloWoofy is creating an all-in-one solution for creators and businesses to maximize their communication efforts across current and emerging social media, messaging, and blogging, and content creation platforms. With a simple 100% in experience and full-time designer for the army of one, the small business, the entrepreneur, the creator,
the growing agency and beyond,
coupled with AI integration and additional tools to expand, nurture,
accelerate distribution, and ultimately save time in overall marketing efforts, I truly believe this could be a game-changing solution for marketing that is giving many the advantage they need to prosper their businesses forward.

What is HelloWoofy.com and SelfTact.com?

Invest as low as $100 into HelloWoofy.com which is behind two software products for small business owners designed to automate digital marketing and in person networking to convert leads into customers, build a community and most importantly scale revenue. If you're a coach, real estate agent, podcaster, NFT community creator, etc. you use HelloWoofy.com to win big (more freedom, higher income and greater impact). Total addressable market, over $75B, with year over year growth of 149% in sales.

HelloWoofy.com (with over 16,000 small business members globally): Creates marketing content using patented AI technology, schedules minutes/days or weeks ahead of time and posts to over 5 separate marketing channels (and 8 by early 2023). Partnered with top marketer, Jim Edwards' ContentMarketingScripts platform, members can create content now with world renowned copywriting expertise and directly import into HelloWoofy.com to schedule and post.

Create. Schedule. Post. Everywhere!

5 Marketing Channels Soon 8

SelfTact.com (over 2,000 leads / contacts captured in weeks of launch): Capture leads visually by taking selfies at networking events in person and close deals easily via text or email. SelfTact users receive added discounts to use HelloWoofy.com marketing automation platform and in turn reducing CAC for parent company.

How will we be making money? And why you should invest with us today.

#1 A Business Model They Don't Teach You in Business School (HelloWoofy.com Platform):

- Customer buys SaaS subscription ~86% of the time paying Annually (or ~14% monthly)
- Customer estimated to have an average lifetime value of ~$650
- Customer may then become an affiliate earning 10% commission per sale (turning members into "revenue centers" with very low CAC for company)
- Customer/community member may invest an average ~$315 into a Reg CF or equity crowdfunding campaign such as this one (adding to the perceived "value" of said customer)
- Customer acquisition cost to HelloWoofy.com on average is $99
- Average cart value is ~$160 (our intention is to scale it to $2,000 as we shift to mid market)

Result? ~$1000 in total value incoming to HelloWoofy with a cost of acquisition of $99 (nearly a 1:10 ratio providing quick scalability for success long term).

*Woofy will be increasing the lifetime value of the HelloWoofy.com product for new customers to offset acquisition costs and create profits for a sustainable business model.

#2 Business Model Creative Ways to Reduce CAC (SelfTact.com, a HelloWoofy.com mobile app product)

Purpose: Reduce CAC (customer acquisition cost) with a low barrier easy to use smart networking mobile app for small business owners to capture and close new leads.

- Customer downloads free iOS or Android app, SelfTact.com (Selfies for Contacts)
- Customer takes first selfie with new lead, captures contact info and immediately lets SelfTact message new lead with their contact, booking, linkin in etc, information and selfie attached (visual reminder)
- Customer's new lead then receives message to connect with tagline attached, "Made with ❤️ on SelfTact.com" allowing for a network effect)
- Customer on average will add 22 contacts within first few days of downloading mobile app
- HelloWoofy.com will then upsell discounted offers to SelfTact users for subscriptions to HelloWoofy.com for marketing automation

Result: Lower CAC (customer acquisition cost) to company providing quick scalability for success long term.

*Goal is to reach as close to $0 in CAC as possible with scale and audience.

How does SelfTact.com by HelloWoofy.com work?

Customer at a business networking event captures a selfie with a new lead or contact, captures their contact information and SelfTact automatically reaches out to the new lead with customer's information including booking link, linked in URL, phone number, email, and more. The new lead sees "Sent with ❤️ by SelfTact.com" and has a high probability of downloading the app themselves in order to capture contact information when at networking events in future. With a growing userbase of over 2000 contacts already captured in just weeks of launch, HelloWoofy.com aims to upsell it's SaaS marketing automation solution to SelfTact.com users as a means to manage their social media marketing, blog marketing, smart speaker marketing, newsletter marketing and search engine optimization via google web stories.

How does HelloWoofy.com build its own community of thousands of small businesses?

First, we "dog food" our own products to capture leads, scale revenue and build a community by automating nearly 5 marketing channels for our business. Additionally, we host weekly mentoring and networking online calls for members of our community to cover such topics as the following but not limited to:

- How to I setup social media marketing for my business?
- How do I create content and never hit a creative block?
- How do I generate more revenue using sales funnels? What are funnels?
- How do I use paid marketing to help scale my small business?
- What tools do I need to improve my small business? How do I use them?

Who is behind HelloWoofy.com and why it matters we win?

HelloWoofy.com is founded by Arjun Rai a 4x entrepreneur and small business owner that understands we all today need an extra hand or two to win big in our industries as small businesses. Building a platform for small businesses by small businesses means you as an investor get a piece of a platform designed from the ground up with smart marketing and smart networking technology for the sole purpose of converting leads into customers and revenue. Mr. Rai understands this and along with his distributed global team of experts, has been able to create a business model that scales with you, our community members investing as low as $100 at a time, receiving perks for investing such as free membership of HelloWoofy.com (depending on level of investment) and having an impact on the software with your opinions, ideas and expertise. Mr. Rai is surrounded by board of directors with billions of dollars of shareholder value in returns as well as an advisory board packed with experts from various industries covering all facets of a scaling business. As we grow, our focus will shift to mid market and enterprise needs and thus increasing lifetime value of new customers.

In addition, our team of engineering, marketing and operations experts allows for our startup to scale quickly with added capital infusion and introduce additional products for increasing revenues. With scale, we intend on shifting to mid market and enterprise grade subscription plans increasing lifetime value of customers.
