About

SunState Laboratories is committed to developing innovative, cost-effective, environmentally responsible household cleaning products. Our goal is to go beyond green formulations and address the global concern of plastic waste being dumped into our environment.

After years of research, we have successfully engineered a line of concentrated cleaning products in easy-to-use tablet form. Now, rather than throwing away perfectly good spray bottles, you can refill those same bottles at home and use them again and again. Consumers finally have a viable alternative to the traditional practice of buying, using, and discarding cleaning bottles & sprayers.
