

Kingmakers Ops

Becoming the leading owner of recession-resistant businesses in America

KINGMAKERS.CO SEATTLE WASHINGTON

We see the next decade as a once in a lifetime opportunity to acquire several great businesses at bargain-sale prices. I grew up surrounded with small businesses and personally saw family friends struggle to find buyers for their successful companies. We created Kingmakers to help these owners retire and leave their businesses in good hands.

What Kind of Businesses Are We Talking About

Our Business Model

Why Is This Interesting?

A Covid-Resistant Business Model

• •
• •

The economic turmoil is creating further uncertainty and stress for business owners

How We Can Help

for us to provide stability to businesses owners by helping them optimize their business and then retire on their own terms by exiting their business to us.

What We Do

COMPANY

Developing systematic frameworks and training for running each key business process

A data sharing platform for each company and team member to share their learnings across the entire portfolio

- •
- •
- •

TEAM

An obsession with treating our employees well (health benefits, retirement plans, free snacks in the office, cash bonuses, etc)

Attracting and motivating strong leaders and managers to manage the day to day of our businesses

CUSTOMERS

An obsession with delighting our customers (above and beyond just solving their problem)

Empowering our portfolio companies to methodically give back to their communities - and including their entire team in the process

Our superpower
is using systems

- Our key training processes include:
- Sourcing and training a general manager
- Setting mission, vision, and long-term goals

& training to optimize our portfolio

Hiring & Retention

Hiring & retaining talent is the key differentiator to enabling growth

- The biggest challenge faced by home services companies is recruiting good technicians
- Every Kingmakers portfolio company is obsessed with identifying, hiring, and retaining top talent. We do this by:
 - Retaining a full-time staffer that turns recruiting into a constant process (not just an as-needed task)
 - Offering above market benefits (insurance, retirement, meals, flexible time off) to team members to encourage them to stay
 - We involve each team member in creating the company mission and culture
- We focus on technicians and leaders with strong technical and interpersonal skills

Serving Our Communities

We delight our customers & serve our community because everyone has the responsibility to do more

- The majority of home services businesses tend to do the bare minimum when it comes to customer service
- There is an opportunity to do more - and actually delight our customers
- This has the added benefit of:
 - Increasing customer referrals
 - Improving customer reviews
 - Increasing brand and company value
- We believe it is the responsibility of every business to give back to their community
- Portfolio companies are empowered to give back. We provide training on identifying unique ways to contribute and involve team members in the process

Investor Q&A

— COLLAPSE ALL

What does your company do? ▾

Kingmakers Ops acquires, systematizes and grows residential services businesses (with a focus on hvac and plumbing). We train owners to optimize their business and step away from the day-to-day operations and in exchange get the right to acquire the business on favorable terms (with heavy seller-financing). We focus on businesses with strong teams and a strong company culture. We then focus on improving the business systems, hiring and marketing.

Where will your company be in 5 years? ▾

In five years, we would like to (but can't guarantee): 1) Have a portfolio of recession-resistant small businesses that generate $20mm+ per year in EBITDA 2) Each portfolio company to be systematized, focused on growth, with a strong leadership team in place 3) Each of our portfolio companies to have made measurable improvements to the lives of their employees and community members 4) Be in the process of filing for an IPO or other arranging another liquidity event for shareholders

Why did you choose this idea? ▾

We see the next decade as a once in a lifetime opportunity to acquire several great businesses at bargain-sale prices. I grew up surrounded with small businesses and personally saw family friends struggle to find buyers for their successful companies. We created Kingmakers to help these owners retire and leave their businesses in good hands.

Why is this a good idea, right now? What changed in the world? Why wasn't this done a few years ago? ▾

60% of all small businesses in America are owned by individuals that plan to retire in the next 10 years. This plus the Covid-19 pandemic is accelerating the need for these business owners to transition out of their businesses.

The current market environment has also scared away the majority of buyers - creating a strong buyers market that didn't exist during the decade-long bull market.

The businesses we are targeting continue to generate sales and profits - and the pending recession will empower these businesses to hire better talent and take market share.

How far along are you? What's your biggest obstacle? ▾

Kingmakers Inc. (the parent company) was founded in 2019. We have evaluated hundreds of businesses and invested in 5 to date.

Kingmakers Ops is a new entity that already has reviewed 863 potential acquisitions since February 1st, 2020 and has offers out to acquire 2 new businesses - which would immediately make the company profitable.

Who competes with you? What do you understand that they don't? ▾

There are over 120,000 plumbing and hvac businesses in the US. It is a highly fragmented industry with few well-known leaders.

Our differentiators:

- 1) We're a mission with a company (not a company with a mission). Our mission is to improve the lives of every stakeholder in our organization (investors, employees, customers, and the local community).
- 2) We have an obsessive focus on systematic improvement and growth.
- 3) We are digital-native and have a deep understanding of digital marketing (which most 60-something business owners don't have).
- 4) We're in this for the long-haul. Our founders and team see this as company we will run for generations.

How will you make money? ▾

Kingmakers is primarily focused on operating residential plumbing and hvac businesses. These companies make money by conducting repairs and installations in individual homes.

The plumbing industry has a market size $120bn/year in the US and the HVAC industry has a market size of $16bn/year.

What are the biggest risks? If you fail, what would be the reason? What has to go right for you to succeed? ▾

Our major risks are:

- 1) Not being able to sufficiently capitalize the business to scale at the pace we are aiming for.
- 2) Not being able to find talent (management, employees) to support the growth of the business.
- 3) The United States enters a major depression where individuals cannot afford basic plumbing and air conditioning services.
- 4) The home warranty and insurance companies that often pay for the services that our portfolio delivers are unable to meet their obligations.

How many businesses does $1.07M buy you? ▾

We can't say for certain, but we expect the down payment for each business to be about $200k. We hope to purchase 4 - 5 companies through the Wefunder raise funds, and then go on to raise $10M through a Reg A+ campaign in 2021.
