RISK FACTORS

Risks Related to the Company's Business and Industry

We have a limited operating history upon which you can evaluate our performance, and accordingly, our prospects must be considered in light of the risks that any new company encounters.

We were incorporated as a Delaware corporation in 2017. Accordingly, we have a limited history upon which an evaluation of our prospects and future performance can be made. Our proposed operations are subject to all business risks associated with new enterprises. The likelihood of our creation of a viable business must be considered in light of the problems, expenses, difficulties, complications, and delays frequently encountered in connection with the inception of a business, operation in a competitive industry, and the continued development of advertising, promotions, and a corresponding client base. We anticipate that our operating expenses will increase for the near future. There can be no assurances that we will ever operate profitably. You should consider the Company's business, operations and prospects in light of the risks, expenses and challenges faced as an early-stage company.

We depend on third-party service providers and outsource providers for a variety of services and we outsource a number of our non-core functions and operations.

In certain instances, we rely on single or limited service providers and outsourcing vendors because the relationship is advantageous due to quality, price, or lack of alternative sources. If production or service was interrupted and we were not able to find alternate third-party providers, we could experience disruptions in manufacturing and operations including product shortages, higher freight costs and re-engineering costs. If outsourcing services are interrupted or not performed or the performance is poor, this could impact our ability to process, record and report transactions with our customers and other constituents. Such interruptions in the provision of supplies and/or services could result in our inability to meet customer demand, damage our reputation and customer relationships and adversely affect our business.

In order for the Company to compete and grow, it must attract, recruit, retain and develop the necessary personnel who have the needed experience.

Recruiting and retaining highly qualified personnel is critical to our success. These demands may require us to hire additional personnel and will require our existing management personnel to develop additional expertise. We face intense competition for personnel. The failure to attract and retain personnel or to develop such expertise could delay or halt the development and commercialization of our product candidates. If we experience difficulties in hiring and retaining personnel in key positions, we could suffer from delays in product development, loss of customers and sales and diversion of management resources, which could adversely affect operating results. Our consultants and advisors may be employed by third parties and may have commitments under consulting or advisory contracts with third parties that may limit their availability to us.

Quality management plays an essential role in determining and meeting customer requirements, preventing defects, improving the Company's products and services and maintaining the integrity of the data that supports the safety and efficacy of our products.

Our future success depends on our ability to maintain and continuously improve our quality management program. An inability to address a quality or safety issue in an effective and timely manner may also cause negative publicity, a loss of customer confidence in us or our current or future products, which may result in the loss of sales and difficulty in successfully launching new products. In addition, a successful claim brought against us in excess of available insurance or not covered by indemnification agreements, or any claim that results in significant adverse publicity against us, could have an adverse effect on our business and our reputation.

The development and commercialization of our service is highly competitive.

We face competition with respect to any products that we may seek to develop or commercialize in the future. Our competitors include major companies worldwide. Many of our competitors have significantly greater financial, technical and human resources than we have and superior expertise in research and development and marketing approved products and thus may be better equipped than us to develop and commercialize said products. These competitors also compete with us in recruiting and retaining qualified personnel and acquiring technologies. Smaller or early stage companies may also prove to be significant competitors, particularly through collaborative arrangements with large and established companies. Accordingly, our competitors may commercialize products more rapidly or effectively than we are able to, which would adversely affect our competitive position, the likelihood that our product will achieve initial market acceptance and our ability to generate meaningful additional revenues from our products.

We plan to implement new lines of business or offer new products and services within existing lines of business.

There are substantial risks and uncertainties associated with these efforts, particularly in instances where the markets are not fully developed. In developing and marketing new lines of business and/or new products and services, we may invest significant time and resources. Initial timetables for the introduction and development of new lines of business and/or new products or services may not be achieved and price and profitability targets may not prove feasible. We may not be successful in introducing new products and services in response to industry trends or developments in technology, or those new products may not achieve market acceptance. As a result, we could lose business, be forced to price products and services on less advantageous terms to retain or attract clients, or be subject to cost increases. As a result, our business, financial condition or results of operations may be adversely affected.

The use of individually identifiable data by our business, our business associates and third parties is regulated at the state, federal and international levels.

Costs associated with information security – such as investment in technology, the costs of compliance with consumer protection laws and costs resulting from consumer fraud – could cause our business and results of operations to suffer materially. Additionally, the success of our online operations depends upon the secure transmission of confidential information over public networks, including the use of cashless payments. The intentional or negligent actions of employees, business associates or third parties may undermine our security measures. As a result, unauthorized parties may obtain access to our data systems and misappropriate confidential data. There can be no assurance that advances in computer capabilities, new discoveries in the field of cryptography or other developments will prevent the compromise of our customer transaction processing capabilities and personal data. If any such compromise of our security or the security of information residing with our business associates or third parties were to occur, it could have a material adverse effect on our reputation, operating results and financial condition. Any compromise of our data security may materially increase the costs we incur to protect against such breaches and could subject us to additional legal risk.

The collection, processing, storage, use and disclosure of personal data could give rise to liabilities as a result of governmental regulation, conflicting legal requirements or differing views of personal privacy rights.

We receive, collect, process, transmit, store and use a large volume of personally identifiable information and other sensitive data from customers and potential customers. There are federal, state and foreign laws regarding privacy, recording telephone calls and the storing, sharing, use, disclosure and protection of personally identifiable information and sensitive data. Specifically, personally identifiable information is increasingly subject to legislation and regulations to protect the privacy of personal information that is collected, processed and transmitted. Any violations of these laws and regulations may require us to change our business practices or operational structure, address legal claims and sustain monetary penalties and/or other harms to our business.

The regulatory framework for privacy issues in the United States and internationally is constantly evolving and is likely to remain uncertain for the foreseeable future. The interpretation and application of such laws is often uncertain, and such laws may be interpreted and applied in a manner inconsistent with our current policies and practices or require changes to the features of our platform. If either we or our third party service providers are unable to address any privacy concerns, even if unfounded, or to comply with applicable laws and regulations, it could result in additional costs and liability, damage our reputation and harm our business.

Security breaches and other disruptions could compromise our information and expose us to liability, which would cause our business and reputation to suffer.

We collect and store sensitive data, including intellectual property, our proprietary business information and that of our customers, business partners, and personally identifiable information of our customers and employees, in our data centers and on our networks. The secure processing, maintenance and transmission of this information is critical to our operations and business strategy. Despite our security measures, our information technology and infrastructure may be vulnerable to attacks by hackers or breached due to employee error, malfeasance or other disruptions. Any such breach could compromise our networks and the information stored there could be accessed, publicly disclosed, lost or stolen. Any such access, disclosure or other loss of information could result in legal claims or proceedings, liability under laws that protect the privacy of personal information, and regulatory penalties, disrupt our operations and the services we provide to customers, and damage our reputation, and cause a loss of confidence in our products and services, which could adversely affect our business/operating margins, revenues and competitive position.

The secure processing, maintenance and transmission of this information is critical to our operations and business strategy, and we devote significant resources to protecting our information by keeping all personal information securely stored in an encrypted data base and working with partners to make sure our data collection and storing processes are both secure and COPPA compliant. The expenses associated with protecting our information/ these steps could reduce our operating margins.

An intentional or unintentional disruption, failure, misappropriation or corruption of our network and information systems could severely affect our business.

Such an event might be caused by computer hacking, computer viruses, worms and other destructive or disruptive software, "cyber attacks" and other malicious activity, as well as natural disasters, power outages, terrorist attacks and similar events. Such events could have an adverse impact on us and our customers, including degradation of service, service disruption, excessive call volume to call centers and damage to our plant, equipment and data. In addition, our future results could be adversely affected due to the theft, destruction, loss, misappropriation or release of confidential customer data or intellectual property. Operational or business delays may result from the disruption of network or information systems and the subsequent remediation activities. Moreover, these events may create negative publicity resulting in reputation or brand damage with customers.

Negative public opinion could damage our reputation and adversely affect our business.

Reputation risk, or the risk to our business from negative public opinion, is inherent in our business. Negative public opinion can result from our actual or alleged conduct in any number of activities, including corporate governance, and actions taken by government regulators and community organizations in response to those activities. Negative public opinion can also result from media coverage, whether accurate or not. Negative public opinion can adversely affect our ability to attract and retain customers and employees and can expose us to litigation and regulatory action.

The Company could be negatively impacted if found to have infringed on intellectual property rights.

Technology companies, including many of the Company's competitors, frequently enter into litigation based on allegations of patent infringement or other violations of intellectual property rights. In addition, patent holding companies seek to monetize patents they have purchased or otherwise obtained. As the Company grows, the intellectual property rights claims against it will likely increase. The Company intends to vigorously defend infringement actions in court and before the U.S. International Trade Commission. The plaintiffs in these actions frequently seek injunctions and substantial damages. Regardless of the scope or validity of such patents or other intellectual property rights, or the merits of any claims by potential or actual litigants, the Company may have to engage in protracted litigation. If the Company is found to infringe one or more patents or other intellectual property rights, regardless of whether it can develop non-infringing technology, it may be required to pay substantial damages or royalties to a third-party, or it may be subject to a temporary or permanent injunction prohibiting the Company from marketing or selling certain products. In certain cases, the Company may consider the desirability of entering into licensing agreements, although no assurance can be given that such licenses can be obtained on acceptable terms or that litigation will not occur. These licenses may also significantly increase the Company's operating expenses.

Regardless of the merit of particular claims, litigation may be expensive, time-consuming, disruptive to the Company's operations and distracting to management. In recognition of these considerations, the Company may enter into arrangements to settle litigation. If one or more legal matters were resolved against the Company's consolidated financial statements for that reporting period could be materially adversely affected. Further, such an outcome could result in significant compensatory, punitive or trebled monetary damages, disgorgement of revenue or profits, remedial corporate measures or injunctive relief against the Company that could adversely affect its financial condition and results of operations.

Indemnity provisions in various agreements potentially expose us to substantial liability for intellectual property infringement and other losses.

Our agreements with advertisers, advertising agencies, customers and other third parties may include indemnification provisions under which we agree to indemnify them for losses suffered or incurred as a result of claims of intellectual property infringement, damages caused by us to property or persons, or other liabilities relating to or arising from our products, services or other contractual obligations. The term of these indemnity provisions generally survives termination or expiration of the applicable agreement. Large indemnity payments would harm our business, financial condition and results of operations. In addition, any type of intellectual property lawsuit, whether initiated by us or a third party, would likely be time consuming and expensive to resolve and would divert management's time and attention.

We rely heavily on our technology and intellectual property, but we may be unable to adequately or cost-effectively protect or enforce our intellectual property rights, thereby weakening our competitive position and increasing operating costs.

To protect our rights in our services and technology, we rely on a combination of copyright and trademark laws, patents, trade secrets, confidentiality agreements with employees and third parties, and protective contractual provisions. We also rely on laws pertaining to trademarks and domain names to protect the value of our corporate brands and reputation. Despite our efforts to protect our proprietary rights, unauthorized parties may copy aspects of our services or technology, obtain and use information, marks, or technology that we regard as proprietary, or otherwise violate or infringe our intellectual property rights. In addition, it is possible that others could independently develop substantially equivalent intellectual property. If we do not effectively protect our intellectual property, or if others independently develop substantially equivalent intellectual property, our competitive position could be weakened.

Effectively policing the unauthorized use of our services and technology is time-consuming and costly, and the steps taken by us may not prevent misappropriation of our technology or other proprietary assets. The efforts we have taken to protect our proprietary rights may not be sufficient or effective, and unauthorized parties may copy aspects of our services, use similar marks or domain names, or obtain and use information, marks, or technology that we regard as proprietary. We may have to litigate to enforce our intellectual property rights, to protect our trade secrets, or to determine the validity and scope of others' proprietary rights, which are sometimes not clear or may change. Litigation can be time consuming and expensive, and the outcome can be difficult to predict.

Industry consolidation may result in increased competition, which could result in a loss of customers or a reduction in revenue.

Some of our competitors have made or may make acquisitions or may enter into partnerships or other strategic relationships to offer more comprehensive services than they individually had offered or achieve greater economies of scale. In addition, new entrants not currently considered to be competitors may enter our market through acquisitions, partnerships or strategic relationships. We expect these trends to continue as companies attempt to strengthen or maintain their market positions. The potential entrants may have competitive advantages over us, such as greater name recognition, longer operating histories, more varied services and larger marketing budgets, as well as greater financial, technical and other resources. The companies resulting from combinations or that expand or vertically integrate their business to include the market that we address may create more compelling service offerings and may offer greater pricing flexibility than we can or may engage in business practices that make it more difficult for us to compete effectively, including on the basis of price, sales and marketing programs, technology or service functionality. These pressures could result in a substantial loss of our customers or a reduction in our revenue.

If we do not respond to technological changes or upgrade our websites and technology systems, our growth prospects and results of operations could be adversely affected.

To remain competitive, we must continue to enhance and improve the functionality and features of our websites and technology infrastructure. As a result, we will need to continue to improve and expand our hosting and network infrastructure and related software capabilities. These improvements may require greater levels of spending than we have experienced in the past. Without such improvements, our operations might suffer from unanticipated system disruptions, slow application performance or unreliable service levels, any of which could negatively affect our reputation and ability to attract and retain customers and contributors. Furthermore, in order to continue to attract and retain new customers, we are likely to incur expenses in connection with continuously updating and improving our user interface and experience. We may face significant delays in introducing new services, products and enhancements. If competitors introduce new products and services using new technologies or if new industry standards and practices emerge, our existing websites and our proprietary technology and systems may become obsolete or less competitive, and our business may be harmed. In addition, the expansion and improvement of our systems and infrastructure may require us to commit substantial financial, operational and technical resources, with no assurance that our business will improve.

The Company's success depends on the experience and skill of the board of directors, its executive officers and key employees.

In particular, the Company is dependent on Christiaan Best and Hayden Luckadoo who are CFO, CEO, and Secretary; and Analyst of the Company, respectively. The Company has or intends to enter into employment agreements with Christiaan Best and Hayden Luckadoo although there can be no assurance that it will do so or that they will continue to be employed by the Company for a particular period of time. The loss of Christiaan Best and Hayden Luckadoo or any member of the board of directors or executive officer could harm the Company's business, financial condition, cash flow and results of operations.

The amount of capital the Company is attempting to raise in this Offering is not enough to sustain the Company's current business plan.

In order to achieve the Company's near and long-term goals, the Company will need to procure funds in addition to the amount raised in the Offering. There is no guarantee the Company will be able to raise such funds on acceptable terms or at all. If we are not able to raise sufficient capital in the future, we will not be able to execute our business plan, our continued operations will be in jeopardy and we may be forced to cease operations and sell or otherwise transfer all or substantially all of our remaining assets, which could cause an Investor to lose all or a portion of his or her investment.

Although dependent on certain key personnel, the Company does not have any key man life insurance policies on any such people.

The Company is dependent on Christiaan Best and Hayden Luckadoo in order to conduct its operations and execute its business plan, however, the Company has not purchased any insurance policies with respect to those individuals in the event of their death or disability. Therefore, if any of Christiaan Best and Hayden Luckadoo die or become disabled, the Company will not receive any compensation to assist with such person's absence. The loss of such person could negatively affect the Company and its operations.

We have not prepared any audited financial statements.

Therefore, you have no audited financial information regarding the Company's capitalization or assets or liabilities on which to make your investment decision. If you feel the information provided is insufficient, you should not invest in the Company.

We are not subject to Sarbanes-Oxley regulations and lack the financial controls and safeguards required of public companies.

We do not have the internal infrastructure necessary, and are not required, to complete an attestation about our financial controls that would be required under Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002. There can be no assurance that there are no significant deficiencies or material weaknesses in the quality of our financial controls. We expect to incur additional expenses and diversion of management's time if and when it becomes necessary to perform the system and process evaluation, testing and remediation required in order to comply with the management certification and auditor attestation requirements.

The Company has indicated that it has engaged in certain transactions with related persons.

Please see the section of this Memorandum entitled "Transactions with Related Persons and Conflicts of Interest" for further details.

Our operating results may fluctuate due to factors that are difficult to forecast and not within our control.

Our past operating results may not be accurate indicators of future performance, and you should not rely on such results to predict our future performance. Our operating results have fluctuated significantly in the past, and could fluctuate in the future. Factors that may contribute to fluctuations include:

- * changes in aggregate capital spending, cyclicalities and other economic conditions, or domestic and international demand in the industries we serve;
- * our ability to effectively manage our working capital;
- * our ability to satisfy consumer demands in a timely and cost-effective manner;
- * pricing and availability of labor and materials;
- * our inability to adjust certain fixed costs and expenses for changes in demand;
- * shifts in geographic concentration of customers, supplies and labor pools; and
- * seasonal fluctuations in demand and our revenue.

If we fail to attract and retain enough sufficiently trained customer service associates and other personnel to support our operations, our business and results of operations will be seriously harmed.

We rely on customer service associates, and our success depends to a significant extent on our ability to attract, hire, train and retain qualified customer service associates. Companies in our industry, including us, experience high employee attrition. A significant increase in the attrition rate among our customer service associates could decrease our operating efficiency and productivity. Our failure to attract, train and retain customer service associates with the qualifications necessary to fulfill the needs of our existing and future clients would seriously harm our business and results of operations.

We may be adversely affected by cyclicalities, volatility or an extended downturn in the United States or worldwide economy, or in or related to the industries we serve.

Our revenues are generated primarily from servicing customers seeking to hire qualified professionals in the automotive sector. Demand for these professionals tends to be tied to economic and business cycles. Increases in the unemployment rate, specifically in the automotive industry, cyclicality or an extended downturn in the economy could cause our revenues to decline. Therefore, our operating results, business and financial condition could be significantly harmed by an extended economic downturn or future downturns, especially in regions or industries where our operations are heavily concentrated. Further, we may face increased pricing pressures during such periods as customers seek to use lower cost or fee services, which may adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

We may rely on subcontractors and partners to provide customers with a single-source solution or we may serve as a subcontractor to a third party prime contractor.

From time to time, we may engage subcontractors, teaming partners or other third parties to provide our customers with a single-source solution for a broader range of service needs. Similarly, we are and may in the future be engaged as a subcontractor to a third party prime contractor. Subcontracting arrangements pose unique risks to us because we do not have control over the customer relationship, and our ability to generate revenue under the subcontract is dependent on the prime contractor, its performance and relationship with the customer and its relationship with us. While we believe that we perform appropriate due diligence on our prime contractors, subcontractors and teaming partners and that we take adequate measures to ensure that they comply with the appropriate laws and regulations, we cannot guarantee that those parties will comply with the terms set forth in their agreements with us (or in the case of a prime contractor, their agreement with the customer), or that they will be reasonable in construing their contractual rights and obligations, always act appropriately in dealing with us or customers, provide adequate service, or remain in compliance with the relevant laws, rules or regulations. We may have disputes with our prime contractors, subcontractors, teaming partners or other third parties arising from the quality and timeliness of work being performed, customer concerns, contractual interpretations or other matters. We may be exposed to liability if we lose or terminate a subcontractor or teaming partner due to a dispute, and subsequently have difficulty engaging an appropriate replacement or otherwise performing their functions in-house, such that we fail to fulfill our contractual obligations to our customer. In the event a prime contract, under which we serve as a subcontractor, is terminated, whether for non-performance by the prime contractor or otherwise, then our subcontract will similarly terminate and we could face contractual liability and the resulting contract loss could adversely affect our business and results of operations.

Our business, results of operations, and financial condition may be impacted by the recent coronavirus (COVID-19) outbreak.

The ongoing and evolving coronavirus (COVID-19) outbreak, which was designated as a pandemic by the World Health Organization on March 11, 2020, has caused substantial disruption in international and U.S. economies and markets. If repercussions of the outbreak are prolonged, they could have a materially significant adverse impact on our business. The Company's management cannot at this point estimate the impact of the outbreak on its business, and no provision for this outbreak is reflected in the accompanying financial statements.

Affiliates of the Company, including officers, directors and existing shareholders of the Company, may invest in this Offering and their funds will be counted toward the Company achieving the Minimum Amount.

There is no restriction on affiliates of the Company, including its officers, directors and existing shareholders, investing in the Offering. As a result, it is possible that if the Company has raised some funds, but not reached the Minimum Amount, affiliates can contribute the balance so that there will be a closing. The Minimum Amount is typically intended to be a protection for investors and gives investors confidence that other investors, along with them, are sufficiently interested in the Offering and the Company and its prospects to make an investment of at least the Minimum Amount. By permitting affiliates to invest in the offering and make up any shortfall between what non-affiliate investors have invested and the Minimum Amount, this protection is largely eliminated. Investors should be aware that no funds other than their own and those of affiliates investing along with them may be invested in this Offering.

The Company has the right to conduct multiple closings during the Offering.

If the Company meets certain terms and conditions, and more than thirty (30) days remain before the Offering Deadline, an intermediate close of the Offering can occur, which will allow the Company to draw down on the first $75,000 of the proceeds of the offering committed and captured during the relevant period, as well as every $125,000 raised after. The Company may choose to continue the Offering thereafter. Purchasers should be mindful that this means they can make multiple investment commitments in the offering, which may be subject to different cancellation rights. For example, if an intermediate close occurs and later a material change occurs as the Offering continues, Purchasers previously closed upon will not have the right to re-confirm their investment as it will be deemed completed.

Risks Related to the Securities

Neither the Offering nor the Securities have been registered under federal or state securities laws, leading to an absence of certain regulation applicable to the Company.

No governmental agency has reviewed or passed upon this Offering, the Company or any Securities of the Company. The Company also has relied on exemptions from securities registration requirements under applicable state securities laws. Investors in the Company, therefore, will not receive any of the benefits that such registration would otherwise provide. Prospective investors must therefore assess the adequacy of disclosure and the fairness of the terms of this Offering on their own or in conjunction with their personal advisors.

No Guarantee of Return on Investment

There is no assurance that a Purchaser will realize a return on its investment or that it will not lose its entire investment. For this reason, each Purchaser should read the Form C/A and all Exhibits carefully and should consult with its own attorney and business advisor prior to making any investment decision.

Upon conversion of the Crowd Notes, Purchasers who are not “Major Investors” will grant a proxy to vote their underlying securities to the intermediary or its affiliate, and, thus, will not have the right to vote on any matters coming before the shareholders of the Company for a vote. By granting this proxy you are giving up your right to vote on important matters, including significant corporate actions like mergers, amendments to our certificate of incorporation, a liquidation of our company and the election of our directors.

Upon conversion of the Crowd Notes and by virtue of a provision contained in the Crowd Notes, if you are not a Major Investor, that is, an investor who has purchased at least $25,000 in principal amount of the Crowd Notes, you will grant a proxy to the intermediary or its affiliate to vote the underlying securities that you will acquire upon conversion on all matters coming before the shareholders for a vote. The intermediary does not have any fiduciary duty to you to vote shares in a manner that is in your best interests. Accordingly, the intermediary may vote its proxy in a manner that may not be in the best interests of you as a security holder. For example, the intermediary may vote the proxy in favor of an amendment to our charter that adversely affects the rights of the holders of your class of securities in order to allow for a new investment to occur where the new investor requires senior rights.

The Crowd Note will not be freely tradable until one year from the initial purchase date. Although the Crowd Note may be tradable under federal securities law, state securities regulations may apply and each Purchaser should consult with his or her attorney.

You should be aware of the long-term nature of this investment. There is not now and likely will not be a public market for the Crowd Note. Because the Crowd Note have not been registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act") or under the securities laws of any state or non-United States jurisdiction, the Crowd Note have transfer restrictions and cannot be resold in the United States except pursuant to Rule 501 of Regulation CF. It is not currently contemplated that registration under the Securities Act or other securities laws will be effected. Limitations on the transfer of the Crowd Note may also adversely affect the price that you might be able to obtain for the Crowd Note in a private sale. Purchasers should be aware of the long-term nature of their investment in the Company. Each Purchaser in this Offering will be required to represent that it is purchasing the Securities for its own account, for investment purposes and not with a view to resale or distribution thereof.

You will not have a vote or influence on the management of the Company.

All decisions with respect to the management of the Company will be made exclusively by the officers, directors, managers or employees of the Company. You, as a Purchaser of Crowd Notes, will have no ability to vote on issues of Company management and will not have the right or power to take part in the management of the company and will not be represented on the board of directors or managers of the Company. Accordingly, no person should purchase a Security unless he or she is willing to entrust all aspects of management to the Company.

The Company has the right to extend the Offering deadline.

The Company may extend the Offering deadline beyond what is currently stated herein. This means that your investment may continue to be held in escrow while the Company attempts to raise the Minimum Amount even after the Offering deadline stated herein is reached. Your investment will not be accruing interest during this time and will simply be held until such time as the new Offering deadline is reached without the Company receiving the Minimum Amount, at which time it will be returned to you without interest or deduction, or the Company receives the Minimum Amount, at which time it will be released to the Company to be used as set forth herein. Upon or shortly after release of such funds to the Company, the Securities will be issued and distributed to you.

There is no present market for the Securities, and we have arbitrarily set the price.

We have arbitrarily set the price of the Securities. The Offering price for the Securities should not be considered an indication of the actual value of the Securities and is not based on our net worth or prior earnings. We cannot assure you that the Securities could be resold by you at the Offering price or at any other price.

Purchasers will be unable to declare the Security in "default" and demand repayment.

Unlike convertible notes and some other securities, the Securities do not have any "default" provisions upon which the Purchasers will be able to demand repayment of their investment. With respect to Purchasers who invest less than $25,000 in the Securities, the Company has ultimate discretion as to whether or not to convert the Securities upon a future equity financing and such Purchasers have no right to demand such conversion. Only in limited circumstances, such as a liquidity event, may Such Purchasers demand payment and even then, such payments will be limited to the amount of cash available to the Company.

The Company may never elect to convert the Securities or undergo a liquidity event.

The Company may never receive a future equity financing or, with respect to those Purchasers who invest less than $25,000, elect to convert the Securities upon such future financing. In addition, the Company may never undergo a liquidity event such as a sale of the Company or an IPO. If neither the conversion of the Securities nor a liquidity event occurs, the Purchasers could be left holding the Securities in perpetuity. The Securities have numerous transfer restrictions and will likely be highly illiquid, with no secondary market on which to sell them. The Securities are not equity interests, have no ownership rights, have no rights to the Company's assets or profits and have no voting rights or ability to direct the Company or its actions.

A majority of the Company is owned by a small number of owners.

Prior to the Offering, the Company's current owners of 20% or more beneficially own 89.63% of the Company. Subject to any fiduciary duties owed to our other owners or investors under Delaware law, these owners may be able to exercise significant influence over matters requiring owner approval, including the election of directors or managers and approval of significant Company transactions, and will have significant control over the Company's management and policies. Some of these persons may have interests that are different from yours. For example, these owners may support proposals and actions with which you may disagree. The concentration of ownership could delay or prevent a change in control of the Company or otherwise discourage a potential acquirer from attempting to obtain control of the Company, which in turn could reduce the price potential investors are willing to pay for the Company. In addition, these owners could use their voting influence to maintain the Company's existing management, delay or prevent changes in control of the Company, or support or reject other management and board proposals that are subject to owner approval.

In addition to the risks listed above, businesses are often subject to risks not foreseen or fully appreciated by the management. It is not possible to foresee all risks that may affect us. Moreover, the Company cannot predict whether it will successfully effectuate the its current business plan. Each prospective Purchaser is encouraged to carefully analyze the risks and merits of an investment in the Securities and should take into consideration when making such analysis, among other things, the Risk Factors discussed above.

THE SECURITIES OFFERED INVOLVE A HIGH DEGREE OF RISK AND MAY RESULT IN THE LOSS OF YOUR ENTIRE INVESTMENT. ANY PERSON CONSIDERING THE PURCHASE OF THESE SECURITIES SHOULD BE AWARE OF THESE AND OTHER FACTORS SET FORTH IN THIS FORM C/A AND SHOULD CONSULT WITH HIS OR HER LEGAL, TAX AND FINANCIAL ADVISORS PRIOR TO MAKING AN INVESTMENT IN THE SECURITIES. THE SECURITIES SHOULD ONLY BE PURCHASED BY PERSONS WHO CAN AFFORD TO LOSE ALL OF THEIR INVESTMENT.

BUSINESS

Description of the Business

The Car Savior is an online car repair marketplace designed to make car repairs faster, easier, and more convenient for drivers and the mechanics. Drivers can go to the Car Savior website or app and describe their car problems through an online questionnaire, and the Car Savior's proprietary diagnostic algorithm determines the most likely problem(s). Using the diagnostic information, the Car Savior provides drivers with quotes for nearby vetted and independent mechanics with scheduling availability. The platform aims to help mechanics by providing them with the benefit of knowing how long each repair should take and thus helping schedule their time more efficiently.

Business Plan

The Car Savior is committed to bringing the best user experience to its customers through its innovative software and services. The Car Savior's business strategy leverages its proprietary diagnostic software to provide its customers services and solutions. The Car Savior was created to help customers easily schedule and hire repair specialists for their specific needs. As part of its strategy, the Car Savior plans to continue expanding its platform for the discovery and delivery of third-party digital content and applications.

The Car Savior operates under a general marketplace business model. It enlists mechanics into its system, obtains their pricing, availability, and services, subsequently marks up their prices by 15-20% (18% on average), and the customer pays the listed price. The service is free for mechanics and aims to create a competitive advantage over repair shop chains by providing a higher level of service verification and making the repair process more efficient.

If a customer chooses not to proceed with the necessary service following a Car-Savior facilitated onsite diagnostic service, they are charged a fee between $28 and $38.

The Company currently uses Google Ads as a primary acquisition tool but is also working on Google Search Engine Optimization (SEO) as a complementary method.

History of the Business

The Company's Products and/or Services

Product / Service	Description	Current Market
Car Repair Marketplace	We intermediate the transactions between drivers with broken cars and mechanics in need of work.	Medium-income consumers with vehicles needing repairs in Texas.

We intend to expand our geographical area of service and to expand our product beyond the automotive repair industry to include other complex repair markets. We do not intend to have the market expansion implemented within the next year.

We offer our car repair diagnostic and scheduling service and mechanic enrollment via our online website, www.thecarsavior.com.

Competition

The Company's primary competitors are Firestone, Midas International, RepairPal, Open Bay, and Your Mechanic.

The market in which we operate is competitive. Many consumers have personal connections with their mechanic, and this may result in a difficult-to-acquire consumer in many cases. Additionally, the car repair industry is large, and consumers may prefer better-known brand names. We believe we are differentiated from these competitors by our diagnostic algorithm that aims to facilitate detailed scheduling, pre-on-site inspection pricing, and same-day repairs for drivers, as well as better scheduling, the ability to specialize in service, and more efficient workflow for mechanics.

Customer Base

Car Savors customers are primarily in the mid-income tier with cars over five years old.

Governmental/Regulatory Approval and Compliance

The Company is subject to various U.S. laws and regulations. Failure to comply with these laws and regulation could subject the Company to administrative and legal proceedings and actions by these various governmental bodies. Changes in laws, regulations and related interpretations, including changes in accounting standards, taxation requirements and increased enforcement actions and penalties may alter the environment in which we do business. Our ability to continue to meet these challenges could have an impact on our legal, reputational, and business risk.

Litigation

There are no existing legal suits pending, or to the Company's knowledge, threatened, against the Company.

Other

The Company's principal address is 4409 Enclave Cove, Austin, Texas 78731.

The Company conducts business in Louisiana and Texas.

Exhibit B to this Form C/A is a detailed Company summary. Purchasers are encouraged to review Exhibit B carefully to learn more about the business of the Company, its industry and future plans and prospects. Exhibit B is incorporated by reference into this Form C/A.

Operations

Following the Offering, assuming the minimum amount is raised, we should have enough liquidity to execute our business plan until Spring 2021. We intend to be profitable by March 2022. Our significant challenges are scaling up operations to a volume that will become both sustainable internally with new inside sales staff and will be able to be subject to the rigorous quality control that the Car Savior deems vital.

The core strategy of the Car Savior to reach profitability in the next 18 months, and approach profitability in the next 12 months, is to enact an SEO strategy utilizing geo-targeting and other techniques to develop a higher efficiency of customer acquisition on a per-city basis, as well as geographically expanding the regions the Car Savior provides service.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

The Offering proceeds are essential to our operations. We plan to use the proceeds as set forth above under "use of proceeds", which is an indispensable element of our business strategy. The Offering proceeds will have a beneficial effect on our liquidity, as of the end of July 2020, we had approximately $19,500 in cash on hand which will be augmented by the Offering proceeds and used to execute our business strategy. Additionally, the company received $108,000 in investment commitments in August 2020, prior to this offering.

The Company does not have any additional sources of capital other than the proceeds from the Offering.

Capital Expenditures and Other Obligations

The Company does not intend to make any material capital expenditures in the future.

Material Changes and Other Information

Trends and Uncertainties

After reviewing the above discussion of the steps the Company intends to take, potential Purchasers should consider whether achievement of each step within the estimated time frame is realistic in their judgment. Potential Purchasers should also assess the consequences to the Company of any delays in taking these steps and whether the Company will need additional financing to accomplish them.

The financial statements are an important part of this Form C/A and should be reviewed in their entirety. The financial statements of the Company are attached hereto as Exhibit A.

THE OFFERING AND THE SECURITIES

The Offering

The Company is offering up to $250,000 in principal amount of Crowd Notes for up to $250,000.00. The Company is attempting to raise a minimum amount of $50,000.00 in this Offering (the "Minimum Amount"). The Company must receive commitments from investors in an amount totaling the Minimum Amount by February 8, 2021 (the "Offering Deadline") in order to receive any funds. If the sum of the investment commitments does not equal or exceed the Minimum Amount by the Offering Deadline, no Securities will be sold in the Offering, investment commitments will be cancelled and committed funds will be returned to potential investors without interest or deductions. The Company has the right to extend the Offering Deadline at its discretion. The Company will accept investments in excess of the Minimum Amount up to $250,000.00 (the "Maximum Amount") and the additional Securities will be allocated on a At the Company's discretion.

The price of the Securities does not necessarily bear any relationship to the Company's asset value, net worth, revenues or other established criteria of value, and should not be considered indicative of the actual value of the Securities.

In order to purchase the Securities, you must make a commitment to purchase by completing the Subscription Agreement. Purchaser funds will be held in escrow with Evolve Bank & Trust until the Minimum Amount of investments is reached. Purchasers may cancel an investment commitment until 48 hours prior to the Offering Deadline or the Closing, whichever comes first using the cancellation mechanism provided by the Intermediary. The Company will notify Purchasers when the Minimum Amount has been reached. If the Company reaches the Minimum Amount prior to the Offering Deadline, it may close the Offering at least five (5) days after reaching the Minimum Amount and providing notice to the Purchasers. If any material change (other than reaching the Minimum Amount) occurs related to the Offering prior to the Offering Deadline, the Company will provide notice to Purchasers and receive reconfirmations from Purchasers who have already made commitments. If a Purchaser does not reconfirm his or her investment commitment after a material change is made to the terms of the Offering, the Purchaser's investment commitment will be cancelled and the committed funds will be returned without interest or deductions. If a Purchaser does not cancel an investment commitment before the Minimum Amount is reached, the funds will be released to the Company upon closing of the Offering and the Purchaser will receive the Securities in exchange for his or her investment. Any Purchaser funds received after the initial closing will be released to the Company upon a subsequent closing and the Purchaser will receive Securities via Digital Registry in exchange for his or her investment as soon as practicable thereafter.

In the event that $75,000 in investments is committed and received by the escrow agent and more than thirty (30) days remain before the Offering Deadline, the Company may conduct the first of multiple closings of the Offering (an "Intermediate Close"), provided all investors receive notice that an Intermediate Close will occur and funds will be released to the Company, at least five (5) business days prior to the Intermediate Close (absent a material change that would require an extension of the offering and reconfirmation of the investment commitment). Investors who committed on or before such notice will have until 48 hours before the Intermediate Close to cancel their investment commitment.

In the event the Company does conduct the first of multiple closes, the Company agrees to only withdraw $75,000 from escrow and will only conduct the Intermediate Close if more than thirty (30) days remain before the Offering Deadline. The Company may only conduct another Intermediate Close before the Offering Deadline if: (i) the amount of investment commitments made and received in escrow exceeds $125,000 since the time of the last Intermediate Close; and (ii) more than thirty (30) days remain before the Offering Deadline.

The Company has agreed to return all funds to investors in the event a Form C-W is ultimately filed in relation to this Offering, regardless of any subsequent closes.

Subscription Agreements are not binding on the Company until accepted by the Company, which reserves the right to reject, in whole or in part, in its sole and absolute discretion, any subscription. If the Company rejects all or a portion of any subscription, the applicable prospective Purchaser's funds will be returned without interest or deduction.

The price of the Securities was determined arbitrarily. The minimum amount that a Purchaser may invest in the Offering is $100.00.

The Offering is being made through MicroVenture Marketplace, Inc., the Intermediary. The following two fields below sets forth the compensation being paid in connection with the Offering.

Commission/Fees

At the conclusion of the Offering, the Issuer shall pay to the Intermediary a fee consisting of five percent (5%) commission based on the amount of investments raised in the Offering and paid upon distribution of funds from escrow at the time of closing.

Stock, Warrants and Other Compensation

The Intermediary will receive a number of Crowd Notes of the Issuer equal to two percent (2%) of the total number of Securities sold by the Issuer in the Offering.

Transfer Agent and Registrar

The Company will act as transfer agent and registrar for the Securities.

Company: Car Savior

EXECUTIVE SNAPSHOT

The Car Savior is an online car repair marketplace designed to make car repairs faster, easier, and more convenient for drivers and the mechanics. Drivers can go to the Car Savior website or app and describe their car problems through an online questionnaire, and the Car Savior's proprietary diagnostic algorithm determines the most likely problem(s). Using the diagnostic information, the Car Savior provides drivers with quotes for nearby vetted and independent mechanics with scheduling availability. The platform aims to help mechanics by providing them with the benefit of knowing how long each repair should take and thus helping schedule their time more efficiently. The Car Savior founder, Christiaan Best, has previously founded and scaled a startup. Prior to Car Savior, he founded and led Green Revolution Cooling, later transitioning to CTO, where he received approval for multiple patents.ⁱ

Since graduating from the Capital Factory accelerator program in 2018, the Car Savior has undergone significant growth. Notable milestones include the following:

- From January 2019 to June 2020, 1,224 car repair bookings were made through the Car Savior platform

PERKS

Investors who purchase the first 50,000 Crowd Notes, and thereby fund the first $50,000, will receive Crowd Notes with a conversion provision based on a $3 million valuation cap instead of a $3.8 million valuation cap. That means, in connection with equity financing of at least $1 million, the company has the option to convert the Crowd Note into non-voting preferred shares (Conversion Shares) at a price based on the lower of (A) a 20% discount to the price per share paid for Preferred Shares by investors in the Qualified Equity Financing or (B) the price per share based on a $3 million valuation cap (instead of $3.8 million).

COMPANY SUMMARY

Opportunity

In 2019, there were approximately 280 million cars and light trucks on the road in the United States, with an average age of 11.8 years.ⁱⁱ Driving older vehicles can involve more car repairs and possible trips to the mechanic.ⁱⁱⁱ For many people, taking a car to the mechanic is not a pleasant experience. People may need to wait for an extended period of time while their car is being repaired^{iv} and can experience poor price transparency. Over time, repair shops, in general, have garnered a reputation for poor service that values short-term profits over the customer experience. However, new technology can provide tools that mechanics can use to improve the client experience and foster trust in a scalable and cost-effective manner. Companies that truly understand their customers can be uniquely positioned to offer a superior customer experience and create a sustainable competitive advantage.^v

In addition to the poor service consumers might receive at repair shops, car repairs can also be costly. According to AAA, drivers spend approximately $1,200 each year for automotive maintenance and repair.^{vi} One of the reasons car repairs can be so costly is overhead expenses incurred by repair shops such as rent, utility expenses, safety equipment, miscellaneous supplies (such as lubricants and solvents), and high-tech diagnostic gear. These costs can lead to repair shops charging a premium on parts and repairs in order to be financially viable as a business.^{vii}

Founded in 2017, the Car Savior is an online car repair marketplace with a proprietary car diagnostic algorithm. Users can upload their car trouble information to the Car Savior platform, where its proprietary algorithm determines the likely cause of the described issue. Users are then provided with repair quotes from nearby mobile mechanics and repair shops vetted by the Car Savior team. Before booking, users can view customer reviews and choose a repair date when mechanics are sure their car parts will be available. Similarly, mechanics have the option to select specific repairs for which they appear as an option and receive scheduling information when bookings are made to better facilitate efficient use of their time.

The Car Savior currently operates in the Texas cities of Austin, Houston, San Antonio, and Dallas. The company has diagnosed more than 6,500 vehicles to date. With the proceeds from this round, the company plans to expand its services into eight new cities, develop and release an online web service for mechanics to host their own website and manage bookings, and build out its team.

Product

The Car Savior and its proprietary diagnostic algorithm were designed to combine an online automotive diagnostic tool with specific vehicle information to provide customers with the most likely problem(s) with their vehicle and a more precise upfront cost estimate. Customers can get quotes from multiple mechanics to shop for the best deal. When diagnoses are known and repair appointments booked, mechanics can order car parts before the customer arrives. This helps customers to better understand when they will get their vehicle back and mechanics to schedule their time accordingly.

The Car Savior platform works in a four-step process:

The company can diagnose car problems for the majority of automotive manufacturers and brands, including Ford, Chevrolet, Chrysler, Jeep, GMC, Cadillac, Toyota, Honda, Nissan, Mazda, Lexus, Acura, Kia, Hyundai, Mercedes-Benz, BMW, and Volkswagen.

Diagnostics

To assist customers in determining what is wrong with their car and to provide an accurate quote, The Car Savior begins the process with an interactive 20-question survey. The survey asks various questions, including whether there are any odd noises, what part of the car the issue may be stemming from, whether the car can be driven, and what are the driver's driving habits. Car Savior provides sample noises for customers to determine which might most closely resemble any strange noises they may be hearing. Additionally, the survey is dynamic, with several hundred branches for the diagnostic tree. Each question is dependent on the previous question in the diagnostic process.

Once the customer has completed the survey, Car Savior's proprietary algorithm determines the most likely issue with the car. The diagnosis is then checked by using large data sets to compare the frequency of the failed part on similar vehicles from similar years. This data is collected by The Car Savior and is expected to increase the diagnostic accuracy over time as the collected data increases.

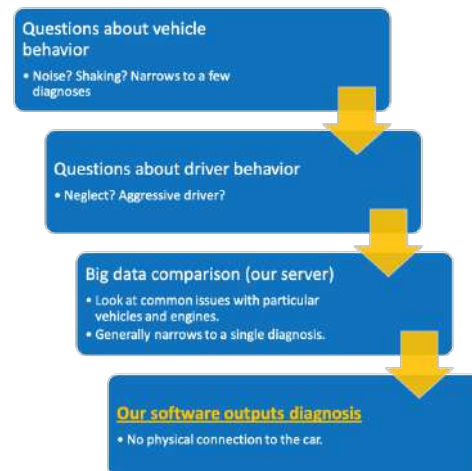

MICROVENTURES

The four screenshots show the following steps in the 'The Car Savior' app:

- Step 1: A header bar with 'The Car Savior' and a menu icon. Below it, a message: 'We're sorry to hear your car is giving you trouble. Help us understand the issue!'. The main content area asks 'Is it drive-able?' with two buttons: 'I can start the engine and drive it.' and 'I can not drive it.'. At the bottom are 'Back' and 'Restart' buttons.
- Step 2: The header bar is the same. The main content area asks 'What is the issue related to?' and lists six categories: 'A warning light is on or gauge is concerning', 'A/C or heater', 'Makes a noise or shakes', 'Doesn't drive like it should (go, stop, or turn)', 'Leaks, smells, smokes, or vents steam', and 'Non-essential gizmo (like a power window, radio, or light)'. At the bottom are 'Back' and 'Restart' buttons.
- Step 3: The header bar is the same. The main content area asks 'When is the noise most noticeable (the loudest)?' and lists six scenarios: 'When braking', 'All of the time (braking or accelerating, turning or going straight)', 'When accelerating or driving uphill', 'Going over a bump', 'Only when going fast - more than 40 mph - both accelerating and braking', and 'Turning a corner'. At the bottom is a 'Back' button.
- Step 4: The header bar is the same. The main content area asks 'What does the noise sound like?' and says 'Click the speakers below to hear example sounds.' It lists three sound types: 'Grinding noise while braking', 'Squeaking noise while braking', and 'Scraping noise while braking'. Below these are three buttons: 'Grinding', 'Squeaking', and 'Scraping and grinding or scraping'. At the bottom are 'Back' and 'Restart' buttons.

HOW IT WORKS

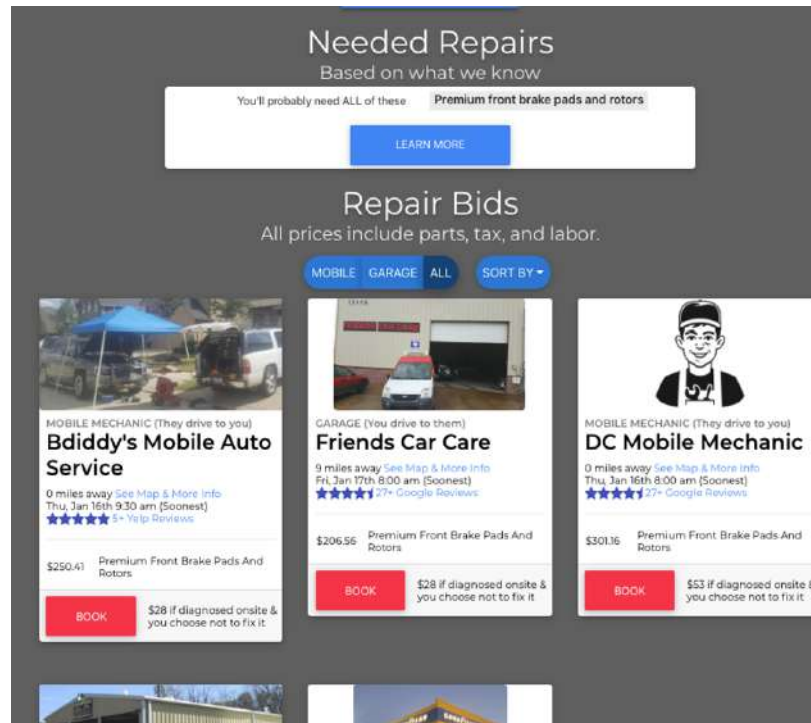

Quotes and Bookings

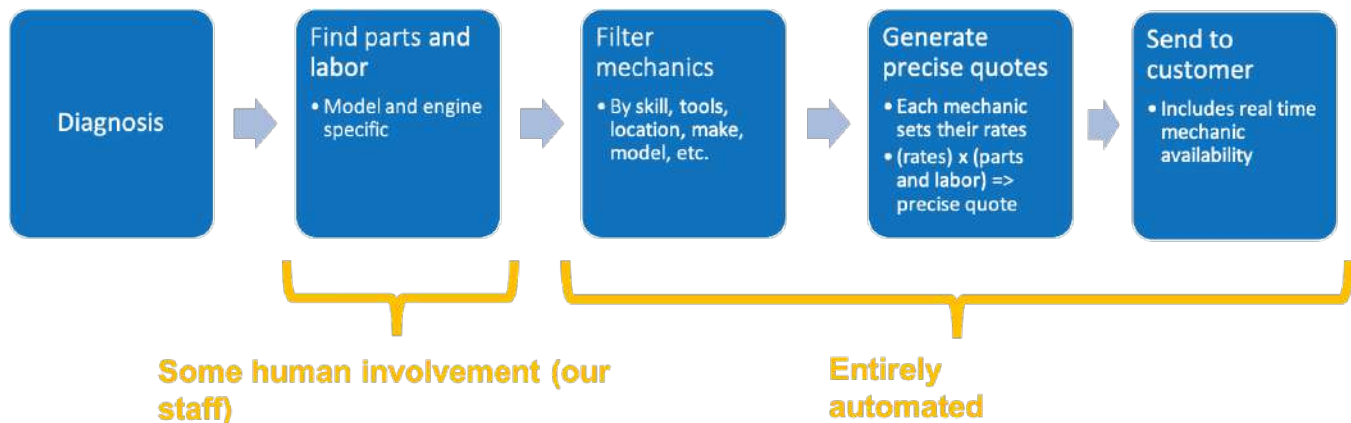

After likely problem(s) have been identified, the Car Savior provides multiple quotes on how much it would cost to perform repairs from the Car Savior's network of vetted mechanics. In addition to a quote, the Car Savior also provides customers with available booking dates and the ability to book the repair directly through the website. Booking dates reflect the time when a mechanic will have the necessary parts to complete the repairs, in an attempt to reduce the time a customer may be without access to their car.

MICROVENTURES

Providing a quote to customers works in a five-step process:

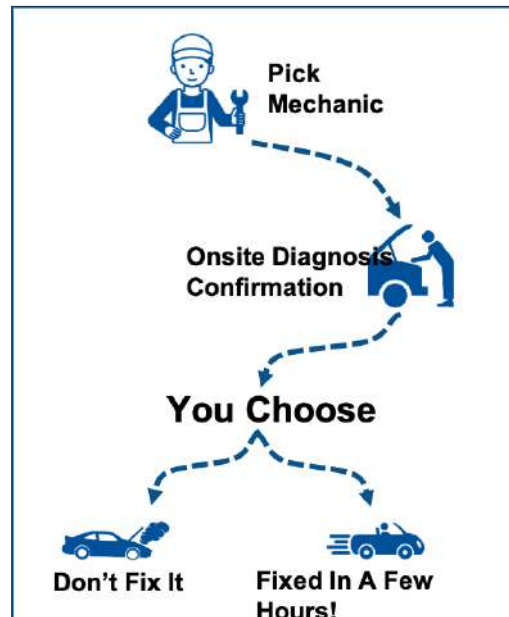

Repair

Car Savior's network includes both mobile mechanics and more traditional repair shops. As a result, some mechanics can come to the customer's house to complete the repairs. When a customer meets with the mechanic at the scheduled time, the mechanic will first perform an onsite inspection to confirm the online diagnosis. Car Savior aims to be very transparent about this process and notifies customers that its proprietary diagnostic tool currently has around 80% accuracy when the platform provides booking quotes. If a customer chooses not to proceed with the necessary service following an onsite diagnostic service, they are charged a fee usually between $28 and $38 (depending on the specific mechanic's pricing). If they do choose to continue with the service (either originally diagnosed or revised after meeting with a mechanic), there is no diagnostic fee. The onsite diagnosis by a mechanic is done as a safeguard for accuracy and to ensure only the correct repairs are being made.

Use of Proceeds

Car Savior aims to raise a minimum of $50,000 and a maximum of $250,000 in this campaign. It plans to use the funds raised almost exclusively for expansion into new cities and new product development, with a small amount dedicated to onboarding inside sales staff as demand warrants. The company has the discretion to alter the use of proceeds based on general economic conditions or a change in business needs.

Marketing

If the minimum amount is raised, approximately $3,500 will go toward marketing expenses. If the maximum amount is raised, approximately $30,928 will go toward marketing expenses. Marketing expenses are expected to be primarily used to advertise the Car Savior's service as it expands into new geographic areas. This will be done through hiring an outside firm.

Research and Development

MICROVENTURES

If the minimum amount is raised, approximately $16,000 will go toward research and development expenses. If the maximum amount is raised, approximately $92,784 will go toward research and development expenses. Research and development expenses will be primarily used to fund efforts to better automate Car Savior's quoting process.

Working Capital

If the minimum amount is raised, approximately $13,000 will go toward working capital. If the maximum amount is raised, approximately $34,021 will go toward working capital. The working capital will be used to meet business needs as the company expands its operations geographically and releases new product lines such as AC repair and other services.

Future Wages

If the minimum amount is raised, approximately $12,000 will go toward future wages. If the maximum amount is raised, approximately $66,495 will go toward future wages. Positions the company aims to add in the coming year include legal and accounting services, an inside sales role, and a sales and customer experience representative.

Product Roadmap

The company is focused on several initiatives over the coming months:

- Search engine optimization (SEO): The Car Savior aims to bring in more organic (unpaid) traffic. This can require very specific website structures.
- Automation of bid creation: Currently, when customers request a quote, human intervention is required. The company hopes increasing automation will lead to faster quotes, increase the likelihood of booking, and help save on future labor costs. This process is expected to be ongoing for the next 12 months.
- Website as a service for mechanics: This service would provide mechanics with their own website, populated from Car Savior's database content. Plans for these websites include features such as bid creation, scheduling, receiving payment, and getting reviews. The Car Savior plans to release a minimum viable product (MVP) in July 2020 and continue to refine the product as it receives feedback from customers and mechanics.

Following the coronavirus outbreak, the company began to focus on its core operations in Texas. As a result, it pulled back from its operations in Atlanta, Georgia, and Louisiana. However, in the coming months, it plans to evaluate those locations for a potential re-launch.

Over the next several years, Car Savior intends to focus on offering car repair services and expanding geographically into eight new cities. These cities are Chicago, Denver, Miami, New York, Phoenix, Riverside (CA), Seattle, and Tampa Bay. These cities were chosen for expansion due to the company's internal research on which cities have the most aptitude for its service based on historical trends, census data, and Google-collected statistics on search volumes and trends.

MICROVENTURES

Following its expansion efforts, the company plans to add additional services to its platform, such as air conditioning (AC) repair. The initial expansion into new services would be done through a 6 to 12-month market verification process for AC repair, followed by adding additional complex repair processes. Car Savior believes its system is effective at diagnosing complex machinery that everyday people may struggle with and can facilitate more efficient repairs by adding transparency and convenience.

Business Model

Car Savior operates under a general marketplace business model. It enlists mechanics into its system, obtains their pricing, availability, and services, subsequently marks up their prices, and the customer pays the listed price. The company has worked to increase the percentage of each sale it keeps as it gains pricing power. The service is free for mechanics and aims to create a competitive advantage over repair shop chains by providing a higher level of service verification and a more efficient repair process.

If a customer chooses not to go ahead with the necessary service following an onsite diagnostic service, they are charged a fee between $28 and $38.

The company currently uses Google Ads as its primary acquisition tool but is also working on Google SEO as a complementary method.

USER TRACTION

From January 2019 to June 2020, 5,877 requests for car repair quotes were made through the platform. Monthly bookings peaked in the summer 2019. Fall 2019 saw declines, in part, due to the seasonality of car repairs in southern climates. The company believes its early spring 2020 declines were due to a decrease in driving related to COVID-19 prevention measures. In June 2020, 271 quote requests were made, compared with 482 in June 2019. Since January 2019, Car Savior has, on average, converted 20.83% of quote requests into actual bookings. In June 2020, the company had a conversion rate of 31%. The company attributes this conversion rate improvement to an improved user experience. The Car Savior changed how it presents information and what information it presents to customers. Historically, approximately 10.50% of requests for quotes have come from repeat customers.

MICROVENTURES

From January 2019 to June 2020, 1,224 car repair bookings were made through the Car Savior platform. As with requests, requests peaked in the summer and fall of 2019, in part due to the seasonality of car repairs in southern climates, and in part due to a change in the company's marketing methods. However, January and February 2020 saw a substantial increase compared to the same period in 2019 (up by 97.65%). In June 2020, the company processed 84 bookings through its platform, compared with 93 in June 2019.

From January 2019 to June 2020, repairs worth a total of $269,799 were booked through the Car Savior platform, representing an average repair cost of ~$220. For 2020, $83,207 in bookings were booked through June, with an average repair value of $218.39. Over the same period in 2019, repairs worth $81,384 were booked through the platform. The company believes the repair value dropped slightly due to the impact of COVID-19 on car repair services.

Since inception, the Car Savior has diagnosed more than 6,500 vehicles. There are currently 105 mechanics on its platform.

Capital Factory Accelerator Program

In 2018, the Car Savior participated in the Capital Factory accelerator program in Austin, Texas. As of 2018, the accelerator program had more than 250 graduates,^{viii} and notable companies in its portfolio include Adyen, Diligent Robotics, Icon, and SpareFoot.^{ix}

The Car Savior also generates some revenue from a consulting service it provides to a third-party company in an unrelated industry that consists of marketing, advertising, and software development efforts.

Through Q2, the Car Savior generated approximately $93,543 in revenue in 2020, up by 17.92% from the same period in 2019. Approximately $78,043 came from bookings and $15,500 from consulting. The company believes it witnessed declines in gross bookings in spring 2020 due to a decrease in driving related to COVID-19 stay-at-home prevention measures. In Q3 2019, Car Savior had its strongest quarter ever in terms of gross bookings. Revenue information for 2019 and 2018 is as follows:

INDUSTRY AND MARKET ANALYSIS

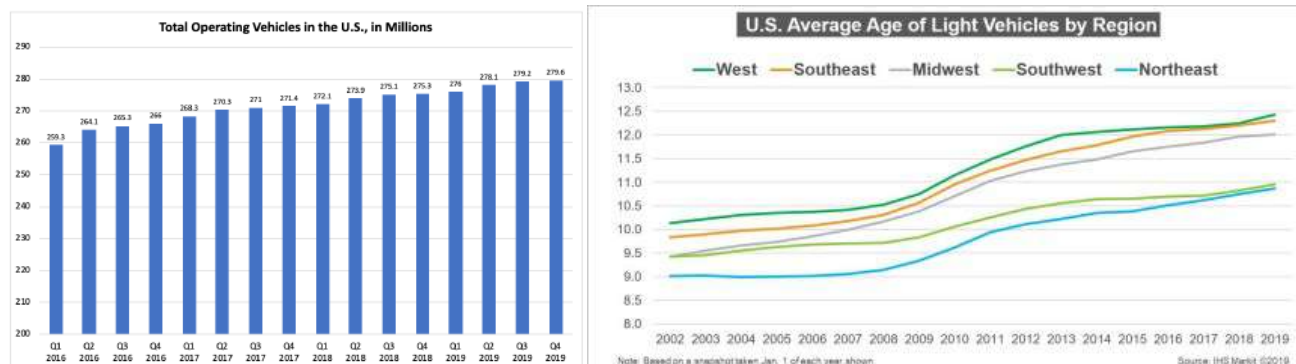

According to Reports and Data, the global automotive repair and maintenance service market is estimated to reach $810 billion by 2026, up from $516 billion in 2018. Growth can largely be attributed to the availability of flexible and reliable maintenance services, an increase in the average age of vehicles on the road, higher maintenance and repair expenses, an increase in sales of used cars, and technological advancements. Based on service type, car maintenance was valued at $300 billion in 2018 and is estimated to reach $478 billion by 2026, with repair services making up the remaining $216 billion in 2018 and estimated $332 billion in 2026.^x

As of Q4 2019, approximately 279.6 million vehicles were in operation in the U.S., up by about 1.6% from 275.3 million vehicles in Q4 2018. Between Q1 2016 and Q4 2019, total vehicles in operation in the U.S. increased by about 7.8%, from 259.3 million in Q1 2016.^{xi} According to IHS Markit, the average vehicle age was 11.8 years in 2019. Since IHS Markit began gathering data in 2002, the average age of vehicles on the road in the U.S. has increased almost every year in every region (see chart below).

Several factors have driven the increase in ageing vehicles, including better technology and overall vehicle quality improvements. IHS Markit predicts the average age growth of vehicles will bring new opportunities for the automotive aftermarket. The new reality of a higher average age of vehicles in operation could be a very positive trend for the automotive aftermarket as it points to a growing repair “sweet spot,” where growth takes place in the vehicles which drive the most repair opportunities. However, IHS Markit believes that the industry needs to understand how the trend will impact service opportunities. Branding and pricing strategies for good, better, and best products and services could become more important as consumers decide how much they are willing to pay for a repair based on the age of their vehicle.^{xii}

Source: Statista

According to AAA, drivers will spend approximately $1,200 on average per year on maintenance and repair costs for their vehicles.^{xiii} However, the cost can go much higher when a vehicle has been poorly maintained. A 2017 AAA survey found that roughly one-third of drivers skip or delay recommended service or repairs, which can increase the likelihood of unexpected mechanical failures.^{xiv}

Car repair bills can be expensive for several reasons, including patents on aftermarket parts, overhead expenses for repair shops, labor costs, and more intricate vehicles coming to market with new technology. Overhead expenses in particular can significantly add to the cost of a car repair due to the money needed to cover tools, equipment, rent, utility expenses, safety equipment, miscellaneous supplies (such as lubricants and solvents required), floor jacks, and high-tech diagnostic gear. This can lead to repair shops charging a premium on parts and repairs order to be financially viable as a business.^{xv} The Car Savior aims to address the expensive nature of car repairs by reducing overhead expenses.

In 2019, $21.92 billion was invested in venture deals in the automotive industry, down by 29.2% from $30.97 billion in 2018. Investments in 2019 were spread across 708 deals, down slightly from 727 deals in 2018. Between 2009 and 2019, venture capital funds invested in the automotive industry grew at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 36.29%. Further information for investment in the automotive industry includes the following:^{xvi}

- Median pre-money valuation of $30.33 million in 2019, down from $33.50 million in 2018
- Median post-money valuation of $36.70 million in 2019, down from $41.69 million in 2018
- Median deal size of $2.39 million in 2019, down from $2.66 million in 2018

Mechanics go to customers' homes to perform services. Only basic services, diagnostics, and maintenance are currently available. YourMechanic makes money from a markup on both labor and parts. In October 2018, the company raised $10.2 million to augment its Series B round from 2016, bringing its total amount raised to $38.5 million. Investors include Royal Bank of Canada Ventures, SoftBank Capital, Verizon Ventures, and Data Point Capital.^{xxiv}

KarSavior, Inc.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (UNAUDITED)
FOR YEARS ENDING DEC 31, 2018, 2019

NOTE 1: Organization and Nature of Business

KarSavior, Inc. (dba The Car Savior (“The Company”, “We”)) is a C-corporation formed under the laws of the State of Delaware and is headquartered in Austin, TX. The Car Savior is an online marketplace for car repair designed to provide transparency and convenience. The Company derives revenue from a markup on each transaction mediated by The Company. Additionally, The Company receives revenue from a monthly consulting service in which development and advertising assistance is offered for a fee.

NOTE 2: Summary of Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying financial statements were consolidated under the council of CPA without notes. The Company is providing these notes without formal training and in good faith.

Financials are provided in good faith conformance with GAAP guidelines with accrual accounting.

The Company’s fiscal year-end is December 31.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company considers all highly liquid investments with an original maturity of 90 days or less to be cash equivalents. The Company maintains its cash in bank deposit accounts that may at times, exceed federal insured limits. No losses have been recognized as a result of these excess amounts.

Income Taxes

We filed income taxes through a CPA. We don’t believe any are owed to date.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”) guidance specifies a hierarchy of valuation techniques based on whether the inputs to those valuation techniques are observable or unobservable. Observable inputs reflect market data obtained from independent sources, while unobservable inputs reflect market assumptions. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 measurement) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3 measurement). The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are as follows:

- Level 1 - Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the reporting entity has the ability to access at the measurement date. Level 1 primarily consists of financial instruments whose value is based on quoted market prices such as exchange-traded instruments and listed equities.
- Level 2 - Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly (e.g., quoted prices of similar assets or liabilities in active markets, or quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in markets that are not active).
- Level 3 - Unobservable inputs for the asset or liability. Financial instruments are considered Level 3 when their fair values are determined using pricing models, discounted cash flows or similar techniques and at least one significant model assumption or input is unobservable.

Revenue Recognition

The Company recognizes revenue only when the customer has been charged and the mechanic has verified completion of the repair. The revenue recognized is as the entirety of the customer receipt and the payment to the mechanic is itemized as a cost of goods sold. Some parties may choose to further distinguish “Bookings” from revenue, under which the difference between mechanic payments and customer receipts is thereby referred to as the revenue and the gross volume as reported by customer receipts is the aforementioned “Bookings”. This results in higher revenue reporting on the financial statements relative to the “Bookings” system that is used by some other major marketplace companies.

Consulting revenue originates from a single agreement for The Car Savior to assist in marketing, advertising, and software development efforts of a third-party company in an unrelated industry. Originally this was a software development contract that morphed into consulting. We continue the contract as a non-traditional way to decrease our burn rate with minimal effort by the management. We do not currently plan to have more of these agreements. The potential for this agreement is unknown and unlikely to significantly increase.

Leases

At current, The Company handles monthly leasing on a per month basis and does not have accrued future rent liability beyond one month.

Advertising and Marketing Costs

The Company’s marketing and advertising costs are expensed as incurred.

NOTE 3 -- GOING CONCERNS

Going Concern Matters

The accompanying consolidated financial statements have been prepared assuming the Company will continue as a going concern, which contemplates the recoverability of assets and the satisfaction of liabilities in the normal course of business.

(UNAUDITED FINANCIALS)

The Company has incurred losses from inception which, among other factors, raises substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. The ability of the Company to continue as a going concern is dependent upon management's plans to raise additional capital from the issuance of debt or the sale of stock, its ability to commence profitable sales of its flagship services, and its ability to generate positive operational cash flow. The accompanying financial statements do not include any adjustments that might be required should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern.

Risks and Uncertainties

The Company is subject to customary risks and uncertainties associated with dependence on key personnel, costs of services provided by third parties, the need to obtain additional financing, limited operating history, ability to recruit mechanics, unknown future litigation and liabilities, and changes to consumers needs and tastes.

The company has received differing opinions by CPA's about sales tax liability on their margin. We are not currently paying sales tax on monies received after COGS - as instructed.

The COVID crisis has decreased revenue in the past. While we believe long term car repair will return to pre-COVID levels, we are uncertain about long this will take.

8. Obligations Irrevocable. Following the Closing, the obligations of the undersigned shall be irrevocable.

9. Legend. The certificates, book entry or other form of notation representing the Securities sold pursuant to this Subscription Agreement will be notated with a legend or designation, which communicates in some manner that the Securities were issued pursuant to Section 4(a)(6) of the Securities Act and may only be resold pursuant to Rule 501 of Regulation CF.

10. Waiver, Amendment. Neither this Subscription Agreement nor any provisions hereof shall be modified, changed, discharged or terminated except by an instrument in writing, signed by the party against whom any waiver, change, discharge or termination is sought.

11. Assignability. Neither this Subscription Agreement nor any right, remedy, obligation or liability arising hereunder or by reason hereof shall be assignable by either the Company or the undersigned without the prior written consent of the other party.

12. Waiver of Jury Trial. THE UNDERSIGNED IRREVOCABLY WAIVES ANY AND ALL RIGHT TO TRIAL BY JURY WITH RESPECT TO ANY LEGAL PROCEEDING ARISING OUT OF THE TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED BY THIS SUBSCRIPTION AGREEMENT.

13. Dispute Resolution.

a) General Rule.

Any dispute under this Subscription Agreement will be resolved through arbitration, not through the court system. All arbitration will be conducted in Wilmington, Delaware unless both parties agree otherwise in writing in a specific case. All arbitration will be conducted before a single arbitrator in following the rules of the American Arbitration Association. Except as required by law, neither a party nor the arbitrator may disclose the existence, content or results of any arbitration without the prior written consent of the other parties.

b) Appeal of Award.

Within thirty days of a final award by the single arbitrator, either party may appeal the award for reconsideration by a three-arbitrator panel. If there is an appeal, the other party may cross-appeal within thirty days after notice of the appeal. The panel will reconsider all aspects of the initial award that are appealed, including related findings of fact.

c) Effect of Award.

Any award by the individual arbitrator that is not subject to appeal, and any panel award on appeal, shall be final and binding, except for any appeal right under the Federal Arbitration Act, and may be entered as a judgment in any court of competent jurisdiction.

d) No Class Action Claims.

NO ARBITRATION SHALL PROCEED ON A CLASS, REPRESENTATIVE, OR COLLECTIVE BASIS. No party may join, consolidate, or otherwise bring claims for or on behalf of two or more individuals or unrelated corporate entities in the same arbitration unless those persons are parties to a single transaction. An award in arbitration shall determine the rights and obligations of the named parties only, and only with respect to the claims in arbitration, and shall not (i) determine the rights, obligations, or interests of anyone other than a named party, or resolve any claim of anyone other than a named party, or (ii) make an award for the benefit of, or against, anyone other than a named party. No administrator or arbitrator shall have the power or authority to waive, modify, or fail to enforce this paragraph, and any attempt to do so, whether by rule, policy, and arbitration decision or otherwise, shall be invalid and unenforceable. Any challenge to the validity of this paragraph shall be determined exclusively by a court and not by the administrator or any arbitrator. If this paragraph shall be deemed unenforceable, then any proceeding in the nature of a class action shall be handled in court, not in arbitration.

14. Governing Law. This Subscription Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware, without regard to conflict of law principles thereof.

15. Section and Other Headings. The section and other headings contained in this Subscription Agreement are for reference purposes only and shall not affect the meaning or interpretation of this Subscription Agreement.

described in the Form C/A which are not material or which are to the benefit of the undersigned and (iii) the death or disability of the undersigned.

20. Notification of Changes. 2. Appeal of Award. Within thirty days of a final award by the single arbitrator, either party may appeal the award for reconsideration by a three-arbitrator panel. If there is an appeal, the other party may cross-appeal within thirty days after notice of the appeal. The panel will reconsider all aspects of the initial award that are appealed, including related findings of fact.
 3. Effect of Award. Any award by the individual arbitrator that is not subject to appeal, and any panel award on appeal, shall be final and binding, except for any appeal right under the Federal Arbitration Act, and may be entered as a judgment in any court of competent jurisdiction.
 4. No Class Action Claims. NO ARBITRATION SHALL PROCEED ON A CLASS, REPRESENTATIVE, OR COLLECTIVE BASIS. No party may join, consolidate, or otherwise bring claims for or on behalf of two or more individuals or unrelated corporate entities in the same arbitration unless those persons are parties to a single transaction. An award in arbitration shall determine the rights and obligations of the named parties only, and only with respect to the claims in arbitration, and shall not (i) determine the rights, obligations, or interests of anyone other than a named party, or resolve any claim of anyone other than a named party, or (ii) make an award for the benefit of, or against, anyone other than a named party. No administrator or arbitrator shall have the power or authority to waive, modify, or fail to enforce this paragraph, and any attempt to do so, whether by rule, policy, and arbitration decision or otherwise, shall be invalid and unenforceable. Questions about driver behavior

- Neglect? Aggressive driver?

Big data comparison (our server)

- Look at common issues with particular vehicles and engines
- Generally narrows to a single diagnosis

Our software outputs diagnosis

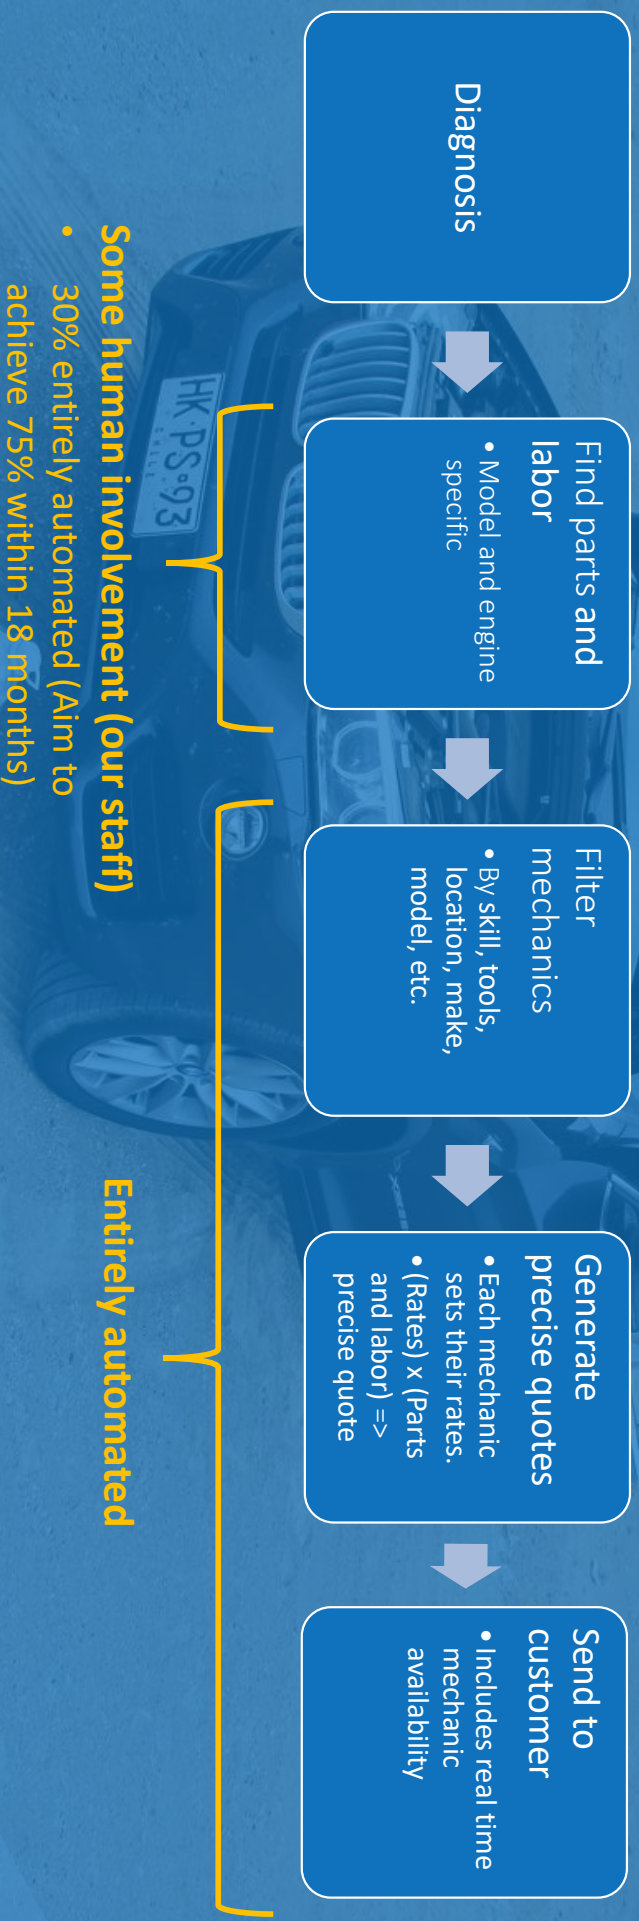

- No physical connection to the car

20 questions answered by driver

- 6,500 vehicles diagnosed with ~80% accuracy
- No on-board diagnostics II (OBDii) connection or physical device required
- Only a website: works from smartphones and computers

We're more than a simple marketplace. Our software aims to unlock convenience for drivers and efficiency for mechanics. We believe this creates a high barrier to entry and a high company value.

Booking Rate

Customers book ~21% of the time when requesting a quote

We believe we can improve this with easy changes such as more sales centered staff and a faster response time (target of less than 30 minutes)

EXHIBIT F
Video Script

Hi. We have Christiaan Best here to talk about what he's been working on the past few years. So, what exactly does The Car Savior do?

What problem are you trying to solve with this company?

So we all know what's wrong with the status quo; when your car breaks on Monday, you drop it off at whatever place is recommended to you by your friends. They call you back on Tuesday saying, 'hey this is what's wrong,' you don't know if you're getting a good deal, you don't know if the right thing is being fixed, but you go ahead with the repair because you need your car back. You get your car back whether it's Wednesday or Thursday, and the most amazing thing about that entire experience is that the mechanic who was working on it was only working on it for a couple of hours.

That's why we think our system is so much better. On Monday, you get on your phone to answer a few questions. You get an answer saying 'hey this is what's wrong with your car, and these are vetted mechanics that can work on it, and exactly how much that they charge and their availability.' So you can book when your car breaks on Monday, you book on Tuesday, saying "hey, get got an appointment on Monday at 1PM, the parts are ready. You go there and your car is back to you by 3:30. And chances are you paid a lot less than what you would have at another place.

So what makes The Car Savior so special? Why hasn't anyone else done this before?

So, the key to our system, and the reason why we think what we have done is special, is in our ability to be able to diagnose a car. So, in order to have a marketplace and you think about AirBnB or Expedia, the special thing about ours' is that if your car breaks, you don't know what to bid on, and the mechanics don't know what to bid unless somebody can diagnose the car. And that's what we have done; in two minutes through a simple set of questions, then it will say "hey, this is what's wrong" and the mechanics know what to bid on and the user knows what to buy.

Ok, can you take me through a quick example? Do you have to plug something into your car? What if I don't know anything about cars at all?

So you don't have to plug anything into your car and it's specifically geared towards people who don't know anything about cars. So let's go through a very simple example. Let's say your car is making noise while braking. So you get on the website and you would go through a series of questions and you say 'ok, it's with my brakes.'

Here on the screen we can kind of go through an example.

Let's start from the first prompt. You would say "ok, its making a noise" and then you would listen to each one of the sounds that are actually on the website, so you can click on each on of these, and you can hear, like this is a grinding noise, this is a squeaking noise, this is a scraping noise. So you click on this one and say "ok, it's grinding", you'd say "whenever I stop" and then you would think say "ok, is this in the front or the back?" and lo and behold we know that you need brake pads and rotors for your vehicle. So, you'd continue through these questions and answer a few pieces of information about the kind of car that you drive, and then a few minutes later you would get the quotes.

Ok, here you can see this screenshot. It's like "ok, it told you exactly what's wrong". You have premium front brakes is probably what you need. You can click this "Learn More" button in the center and it will actually tell you like "hey, this is what's actually wrong with your car, it is a pretty serious problem, you've got to get it done soon". And also it lists all of the mechanics. In this case it looks like there are three garages and two mobile mechanics that can do that. And the pricing for exactly each one. So you can go through and say like "ok, Bdidddy Mobile Auto Service. Looks like they could be there the next day at 9:30 in the morning" it shows the exact Yelp reviews, it's two-hundred fifty-one dollars and forty-eight cents. So you know that you are going to pay, not approximately two-hundred and fifty dollars, not 200 not 400, you know exactly before you get in the car or before they come to you that you will pay two-hundred fifty-one dollars and forty-eight cents.

The best thing about this system is that the mechanic, as soon as you click book, that mechanic will order those parts, so they are ready when they arrive. So in this particular instance, you're going to be done in an hour and a half. The mechanic's going to come to your house, if you book it at 9:30 on a Thursday, and they're going to be done by 11 o'clock. So you're going to be without your car for an hour and a half.

So the whole system: you know exactly what's wrong, you get pricing transparency, you know you got a good deal, all these mechanics are vetted, you knew when you were going to get your car back, it took you hours not days to get your car fixed

Alright, so what if the diagnosis is wrong? What if your website tells me my car is broken in a way that it isn't?

So, the page works 80% of the time, which is definitely not 100% of the time. But the way the process works, is the first thing the mechanic does when they come onsite is they are going to verify that repair, and if the diagnosis is wrong, they'll get you a quote, and it will sort of revert to the status quo.

Where are you in the life of a startup anyway? Are you in the idea stage, pre-revenue, post-revenue?

So, we spent three years putting this together. The first year specifically devoted towards writing the algorithm, and then the following years putting together the backend. Which you can imagine, being able to coordinate all these mechanics, blocking off calendars, figuring out you know "hey this repair is going to take six hours", wondering if this mechanic has time, "this repair is going to take an hour", automated payments -- there's a lot of software that was put together to put this together. So we have had revenue, we've had well more than 1,000 repairs and that's why we're raising money.

It's been, you know we feel we have this great product, we have this great software put together, and now we want to be able to use these funds in order to tell people about it. Because, you know, it's cheaper, faster and more convenient. We know that our customers love us, and the more people know about it, we think that the more people will use it.

What about your industry? What's the market like in the world of car repair?

There is -- to our knowledge -- nothing like us that has been able to diagnose a car online and build that true marketplace, which necessitates, which requires that ability to diagnosis a car online.

Alright, let's talk about the elephant in the room, COVID. How has that impacted your business?

Certainly, when there was the initial shutdown, there was a slowdown. You know, so people really weren't driving their cars, and they didn't really need them repaired. We've seen repairs pick back up. In certain cities, we are actually up. We think that long term, that recessions, which we think will be likely, car repair often does well because people are more likely to get their older cars fixed than buy new ones.

Can you tell me a little bit more about your team?

So I'm fortunate to have cofounder, Hayden Luckadoo. He comes from the University of Texas', College of Engineering. Very modest guy, you can talk to him and he'll be like "oh yeah, I may have entered some math competitions, but you really got to pull it out of him. So I'm really proud to be able to say he's my cofounder, he's really been instrumental in helping put all of this together. We have also had a myriad of other people which have helped, both advise, doing customer service, so we think we have a great team to be able to put this together.

What about you? Why did you start this company?

So, cars are my passion. My parents will tell you my first word was car. I have six cars, I have a floor lift. I went to school to study mechanical engineering specifically because I wanted to design cars. It has been a lifelong passion and I am so fortunate to be able to work in an area to which I love, to be able to help people get a great deal on their car repair and to know that every morning, afternoon and evening, I am working in an industry I love.
