We strongly encourage you to consult with qualified business financial analysis professionals, attorneys, or tax advisors prior to making any investment decisions.

Valuation of Class C Membership Units

There is no public market for our Class C Membership Units, the securities to be issued in this offering. Consequently, the offering price and the valuation of our membership units was determined by our board of directors. Among the factors that were considered in determining the offering price were our record of operations, our management, our estimated net income, our estimated funds from operations, our estimated cash available for distribution, our anticipated dividend yield, our growth prospects, the current market valuations, financial performance and dividend yields of similar companies comparable to us and the current state of the real estate industry and the economy as a whole.

The offering price does not necessarily bear any relationship to our book value, assets, financial condition or any other established criteria of value and may not be indicative of the market price for our Membership Units after this offering. In addition, we have not conducted an asset-by-asset valuation of our Membership Units based on historical cost or current market valuation. We also have not obtained an independent valuation from third-parties.

The valuation is based on the assumption that our total amount raised in this offering is $30,000, in which the investors in this offering will hold 54.81% of our Class C ownership interest.

Based on the above shareholding structure immediately after the offering and under certain assumptions set in our business plan, the projected return for the investors in this offering is expected to be 12.68% in 8-11 months if the offering price of our Class C Membership Units is priced at $100 per unit.

Offering Terms	Unit Price	Number of Units
Retail Investors, Management & Partners	$100	400

Shareholdings	Number of Units	Percentage
Management & Partners	330	45.19%
Retail Investors	400	54.81%
Total	730	100.00%

Expected Profit Per Unit	$12.7
Return in 8-11 months for Retail Investors	12.68%

We believe the offering price of our Class C Membership Units at $100 per unit, which represents an expected return of 12.68%, is a reasonable return for investors, after the consideration of the general low-interest-rate environment in the United States, risk of the project and the current and projected state of the real estate market in Philadelphia and the State of Pennsylvania.

Methods for how the securities may be valued by the issuer in the future:

1. Net asset value ("NAV"), calculated by dividing the value of the net assets by the number of outstanding membership units.
2. Price/Book Value, Price/Earnings Ratio of companies similar and comparable to us.
3. Dividend Yield of companies similar and comparable to us.
4. Current market value of the properties owned by the Company minus total amount of debt owed by the Company.

The Board of Directors will, from time to time, review the use of valuation methods in valuing our securities to ensure a fair and reasonable estimations in different situations and different corporate stages. For example, if the Company grows in size with significant assets accumulated, valuations based on our assets could be an appropriate approach to value the Company and the securities to be issued. The Company may hire independent third parties to assist in the assessment of the valuation of value the Company and the securities to be issued in the future.

22. What are the risks to purchasers of the securities relating to minority ownership in the issuer?

- The majority owner may make a decision that Purchasers would consider bad and that would put at risk Purchasers' interests in the Issuer.
- Although, as Class C Membership Unit holders, Purchasers would be entitled to a share of any proceeds from a sale of the entire business, Purchasers may not veto the sale even though the price of sale is below its fair valuation. Moreover, a sale can be structured in a way to avoid any payout to minority owners, such as a sale of assets over time with the proceeds reinvested in another business.

- Since the securities in this offering are not publicly traded and are subject to restrictions on resale or transfer including holding period requirements, the securities in this offering are illiquid.
- The Purchasers of the securities offered are not entitled to any voting rights and therefore they are not entitled to exert influence in the affairs of the company or the composition of its board of directors.
- The Purchasers of the securities offered are not entitled to any anti-dilution rights (other than proportionate adjustments for stock splits and similar events). Therefore future equity financings may dilute their ownership percentage in the issuer.

23. What are the risks to purchasers associated with corporate actions:

a. Additional Issuances of Securities

Purchasers of the securities offered are entitled no anti-dilution rights (other than proportionate adjustments for stock splits and similar events) and therefore future equity financings may dilute their ownership percentage in the issuer.

b. Issuer Repurchases of Securities

The issuer could be authorized to repurchase the company's issued securities subject to the approval by the company's board of directors. Purchasers of the securities may not impede the issuer's right to repurchase its securities from other shareholders. Moreover, the repurchase could be made at a price much lower than company's business value or its fair valuation, which could be indicative of the resale price of the securities thereafter.

c. A Sale of the Issuer or of Assets of the Issuer

Although as Membership Units holders the Purchasers would be entitled to a share of any proceeds from a sale of the entire business, the Purchasers may not veto the sale even though the price of sale is below its fair valuation. Moreover, a sale can be structured in a way to avoid any payout to minority owners, such as a sale of assets over time with the proceeds reinvested in another business.

d. Transactions with Related Parties

Transactions with related parties are transactions between the issuer or any of its subsidiaries and a connected person. These transactions include both capital and revenue nature transactions. They may be one-off transactions or continuing transactions. Purchasers should be aware that these transactions may create conflicts of interests between themselves and the Issuer.

24. Describe the material terms of any indebtedness of the issuer:

25. What other exempt offerings has the issuer conducted within the past three years?

Date of the Offering	Exemption Relied Upon	Securities Offered	Amount Sold	Use of Proceeds	Status

October 17, 2020	Reg CF	Class D Membership Units	$324,000	Construction Costs ($27,000)	Finished

26. Was or is the issuer or any entities controlled by or under common control with the issuer a party to any transaction since the beginning of the issuer's last fiscal year, or any currently proposed transaction, where the amount involved exceeds five percent of the aggregate amount of capital raised by the issuer in reliance on Section 4(a)(6) of the Securities Act during the preceding 12-month period, including the amount the issuer seeks to raise in the current offering, in which any of the following persons had or is to have a direct or indirect material interest:

- a. any director or officer of the issuer;
- b. any person who is, as of the most recent practicable date, the beneficial owner of 20 percent or more of the issuer's outstanding voting equity securities, calculated on the basis of voting power;

Discussion of our financial milestones and operational, liquidity and challenges

In this offering, the Company plans to issue Class C Membership Units and use the proceeds to finance part of the acquisition cost of property located at S Beulah St, Philadelphia, PA. The total cost of the project is estimated to be $309,230 and the detailed financing of this project is described in Appendix A - BUSINESS AND ANTICIPATED BUSINESS PLAN.

However, we may raise additional funds through public or private equity offerings or debt financings, but there can be no assurance that we will be able to do so on acceptable terms or at all.

If we raise cannot raise $30,000, the target offering amount, we may have to delay the renovation and construction and/or we will raise additional funding by extra rounds of Regulation Crowdfunding offerings and/or Regulation D (506c) offerings. We will also use debt instruments, primarily bank mortgages to finance our acquisitions of properties, but there can be no assurance that we will be able to do so on acceptable terms or at all.

After the renovation of the property, the Company expects to sell the property at market price and distribute all the profit to its Class C membership unitholders. However, there can be no assurance that we will be able to do so on acceptable terms or at all.

New business developments or other unforeseen events may occur, resulting in the need to raise additional funds. There can be no assurances regarding the Company's business prospects with respect to any other opportunity. Any other development would require us to obtain additional financing.

The Company is seeking a minimum of $30,000 in this offering. We expect that the Company's proceeds from this offering would be enough to finance its operation in the next 12 months.

Appendix B - RISK FACTORS

The Company's businesses, financial condition, results of operations and growth prospects may be affected by risks and uncertainties directly or indirectly pertaining to the Company's businesses. The risk factors set out below are those that could result in the Company's businesses, financial condition, results of operations or growth prospects differing materially from expected results. Such factors are by no means exhaustive or comprehensive, and there may be other risks in addition to those shown below which are not known to the Company or which may not be material now but could turn out to be material in the future. In addition, this Offering Statement does not constitute a recommendation or advice to invest in the securities issued in this offering and investors are advised to make their own judgment or consult their own investment advisors before making any investment in the securities offered in this offering.

RISKS RELATING TO OUR BUSINESS

Outbreak of coronavirus disease

The recent outbreak of coronavirus disease (COVID-19) in the US, including Pennsylvania, the place of businesses at which the Company operates, has a significant adverse impact on the economy due to the community standstill, disruption of business activities, and weakened sentiment. As the situation of the disease is still evolving, the heightened uncertainties surrounding the pandemic may pose a negative impact on the property market, which would adversely affect the Company's businesses, financial conditions, results of operations or growth prospects. There can be no assurance that there will not be another significant outbreak of a severe communicable disease, and if such an outbreak were to occur, it may have an impact on the operations of the Company and its results of operations may suffer.

We may not be able to acquire the properties listed in our business plan, identify any properties for replacement properties that meet our criteria

Concurrently with the closing of this offering, we plan to use net proceeds from this offering and new debt financing to acquire seven properties in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania listed in our business plan. We cannot guarantee we can acquire any of these properties because we did not enter into any written agreements with the seller and if we fail to acquire the properties or only acquire part of them, we may need to identify other properties for replacement that meet our criteria. Further, even if we enter into agreements for the acquisition of properties, these agreements are typically subject to customary conditions to closing, including the satisfactory completion of our due diligence investigations and we may be unable to finance the acquisition on favorable terms or at all. If we are unable to finance property acquisitions or acquire properties on favorable terms, or at all, our financial condition, results of operations could be adversely affected.

Our business and results of operations are affected by the performance of the property market in Pennsylvania and the US

Our investment properties will be located in Pennsylvania and it is our principal property investment strategy to remain focused on the Pennsylvania property market. Our business and prospects therefore depend principally on the performance of the property market in Pennsylvania and in the US. Any downturn in Pennsylvania and the US real estate market may therefore adversely affect our performance. We cannot assure you that the demand for properties in Pennsylvania and the US will continue to grow, or will grow at all. Our financial position and results of operations may be influenced by fluctuations of supply and demand in the property market.

We are dependent on rental income from our investment properties

We are dependent on rental income generated from our investment properties. We are subject to risks incidental to the leasing of residential properties including, amongst other things, changes in market rental levels, competition for tenants and inability to collect rent from tenants, or the failure of tenants to pay fees and charges (e.g. management fees and utilities charges) for which they are responsible under the terms of the tenancy agreement, but which the Company as the registered owner of the relevant property, is liable for under the terms of the deed of mutual covenant and as named account holders with utility companies. We may also face risks in connection with the ability to renew leases with tenants on terms acceptable to us, or at all, upon the expiration of the existing terms as this may be influenced by the demand for and supply of properties in the Pennsylvania property market which may have significant fluctuation historically. Any downturn in the rental market residential properties may negatively affect the demand for our rental properties and consequently their occupancy rate, and therefore the amount of rental income we earn. We cannot guarantee such downturn will not happen in the future and if it does, this may have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial position.

Rising construction costs and delayed construction schedule

There exist general risks inherent in property investment and in the ownership of properties, including rising construction costs, financing not available on favourable terms, construction not completed on schedule or within budget especially as well as the escalation of material prices. These factors, if occurring in certain circumstances, can result in a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial position.

Properties held for rental purposes will need to be renovated, repaired and re-let on a periodic basis

Properties held for rental purposes will need to be renovated, repaired and re-let on a periodic basis and thus we may not be able to renew existing leases which would adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

Environmental laws and regulations

Property and real estate market conditions are subject to changes in environmental laws and regulations and zoning laws and governmental rules. We are required to make capital and other expenditures in order to comply with these laws and regulations. However, the requirements of these laws and regulations are complex, change frequently, and could become more stringent in the future. It is possible that these requirements will change or that liabilities will arise in the future in a manner that could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We may not be able to obtain adequate funding or capital on commercially favorable terms for land acquisitions or property developments

Real estate investment and development is capital intensive. Our property projects are generally funded through cash generated from operations, bank loans, proceeds from securities offerings. We expect to continue to fund our projects through these sources. However, we cannot assure you that such funds will be sufficient or that any additional financing can be obtained on satisfactory or commercially reasonable terms, or at all. Our ability to procure adequate financing for property acquisition and development depends on many factors that are beyond our control.

We are subject to certain restrictive covenants and certain risks associated with debt financing which may limit or otherwise adversely affect our operations

We are subject to certain restrictive covenants contained in the terms of loans entered into between our Company and certain banks or other financial institutions. For our properties under mortgage, our entering into of tenancy agreements could be subject to the relevant financing bank's consent. The terms of the mortgage or consent letter issued by the mortgagee bank may in turn impose restrictions as to, for example, the rental rate and duration of tenancy of those properties. We cannot guarantee that we will be able to obtain consents from the relevant financing banks to lease our properties that are subject to mortgage, and even if any such consent is granted, we cannot ensure it does not impose restrictions adverse to our interests.

We may not be able to generate adequate returns on our properties which are held for longterm investment purposes

Our properties are generally held for long-term investment which is subject to varying degrees of risks. The investment returns available from our properties depend, to a large extent, on the amount of capital appreciation generated, income earned from the rental of the relevant properties as well as the expenses incurred. Maximizing yields from properties held for long-term investment also depends to a large extent on active ongoing management and maintenance of the properties. The ability to dispose of investment properties eventually will also depend on market conditions, which may be subject to significant fluctuation. The revenue derived from investment properties and the value of property investments may be adversely affected by a number of factors, including but not limited to changes in rental levels of comparable properties, the inability to collect rent from tenants and the cost resulting from periodic maintenance, repair and re-letting. If our property investment business is unable to generate adequate returns, our business, financial condition results of operations and prospects may be adversely affected.

Impact of state and federal regulations

State and federal regulations could have a material impact on our businesses, financial conditions, results of operations or growth prospects. The Company's business is exposed to different and changing political, social, legal, tax, regulatory and environmental requirements at the state or federal level. Further, new guidelines, directives, policies or measures by governments, whether fiscal, tax, regulatory, environmental or other competitive changes, may lead to an increase in additional or unplanned operating expenses and capital expenditures, increase in market capacity may adversely affect the Company's businesses, financial conditions, results of operations or growth prospects.

Changes in interest rates may affect our profitability and results of operations

Changes in interest rates affect our financing costs and, ultimately, our results of operations. We cannot assure you that mortgage rates will not fluctuate or that they will not increase. We cannot assure you that banks or other financial institutions from which we borrow will not raise lending rates for financing the Company in the future. Any increase in these rates will increase our financing cost and could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We may be materially and adversely affected if we fail to fulfill our obligations in financing arrangements, which expose us to the possibility of foreclosure

If we default on any financing repayment or otherwise breach the relevant trust or other financing agreement, we may be subject to litigation, our reputation may be damaged and we may have difficulties in raising further funds at our expected costs. Mortgage debt obligations expose us to the possibility of foreclosure, which could result in the loss of our investment in a property or group of properties subject to mortgage debt. Incurring mortgage and other debt obligations increases our risk of property losses because defaults on indebtedness secured by properties may result in foreclosure actions initiated by lenders and ultimately our loss of the property securing any loans for which we are in default.

Our results of operations may be materially and adversely affected by the rising cost of construction materials and labor

Prices for construction materials and wages for construction may increase in the future. We procure construction materials through our external contractors or by ourselves. We expect labor costs to continue to increase in the foreseeable future. Increases in the cost of construction materials and labor will likely prompt our contractors to increase their fee quotes for our new property development or renovation projects. The rising cost of construction materials and labor and our inability to pass cost increases on to our customers may adversely affect our results of operations.

We may not generate sufficient cash flow to pay our anticipated operating expenses and to service our debts

Our ability to generate sufficient cash to satisfy our future debt obligations will depend upon our future operating performance, which will be affected by, among other things, prevailing economic conditions, monetary policies, the demand for properties in the regions we operate and other factors, many of which are beyond our control. We may not generate sufficient cash flow to pay our anticipated operating expenses and to service our debts, in which case we will be forced to adopt an alternative strategy that may include actions such as reducing or delaying capital expenditures, disposing of our assets, restructuring or refinancing our indebtedness or seeking equity capital. These strategies may not be implemented on satisfactory terms, or at all, and, even when implemented, may result in an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We may not be able to successfully manage our growth

We plan to expand our property investment business and intend to continue to do so through further acquisitions of properties as and when suitable opportunities arise. Any future expansion may strain our managerial, operational and financial resources. We will need to manage our growth effectively, which may require additional efforts in implementing adequate controls and management systems in a timely and effective manner. In managing our costs, there may be instances whereby the actual expenses incurred may exceed our original estimate due to unexpected delay or additional resources required. This may adversely affect our results of operations and our financial condition. We cannot assure you that we will be successful in managing our growth or in integrating and assimilating any acquired business with our existing operations. In order to fund our ongoing operations and our future growth, we also require sufficient internal sources of liquidity or access to additional funding from external sources. Additionally, we may be required to manage relationships with a greater number of tenants, sales agents, property managers, lenders and other third parties. We cannot assure you that we will not experience issues such as capital constraints, transaction delays, compliance errors to manage and operate the expanded business. We also cannot assure you that our expansion plans will not adversely affect our existing operations and thereby have a material adverse effect on our results of operations, financial condition and business prospects.

We may not be able to retain existing tenants or attract new tenants

Our investment properties compete for tenants with other properties on, amongst other things, location, quality, maintenance, property management, rent levels and lease terms. We cannot assure you that existing or prospective tenants will not choose other properties. Any future increase in the supply of properties which compete with ours would increase the competition for tenants and as a result we may have to reduce our rent or incur additional costs to attract tenants. If we are not able to retain our existing tenants or attract new tenants to replace those that leave or to lease our new properties, our occupancy rates may decline. This in turn could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial position.

Our insurance may not cover every potential loss and claim

Our insurance policies may not cover all eventualities or payments by our insurers may not fully compensate us for all potential losses, damages or liabilities relating to our properties or our business operations. Further, our insurers may otherwise find themselves financially unable to meet claims. In addition, there are certain types of losses for which full insurance coverage is not generally available on commercial terms acceptable to us, or at all. Examples of these include insurance against losses suffered due to business interruption, earthquake, flooding or other natural disasters, war or civil disorder. Therefore, there may be instances when we will have to bear losses, damages and liabilities because of our lack or insufficiency of insurance coverage. If we suffer any losses, damages or liabilities in the course of our business operations arising from events for which we do not have any or adequate insurance cover, we may not have sufficient funds to cover such losses, damages or liabilities or to reinstate any properties which may be damaged or destroyed. In addition, any payment we make to cover any losses, damages or liabilities could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial position.

We may be involved in disputes, legal and other proceedings arising out of our operations from time to time and may face significant liabilities

We may be involved in disputes arising out of the leasing, sale or purchase of our properties with tenants, residents, residents of surrounding areas or other parties. These disputes may lead to protests, legal or other proceedings and may damage our reputation and divert our resources and management's attention. Significant costs may have to be incurred in settling such disputes or defending ourselves in such proceedings. If we are not successful in defending ourselves in such proceedings, we may be liable for damages, the amount of which may be significant. In addition, we may have disagreements with regulatory bodies in the course of our operations, which may subject us to administrative proceedings or unfavourable decrees that may result in liabilities and cause other material adverse effects on our business, results of operations and financial position.

The principal security holders have substantial control over the Company and their interests may not be aligned with the interests of the other Shareholders

The interests of the principal security holders, as identified in Question 6 may differ from the interests of other Shareholders and they are free to exercise their votes according to their interests. To the extent the interests of the Controlling Shareholders are not aligned with the interests of other Shareholders, the interests of other Shareholders may be disadvantaged and harmed.

There is no existing market for the Shares in the public and their market price and liquidity may fluctuate

There was no public market for the Shares. Investors must acknowledge and accept the high risks associated with investing in private securities offerings. These risks include holding your investment for periods of many years with limited ability to resell or even losing your entire investment.

Shareholders' interests in the Company's share capital may be diluted in the future

In order to expand our business, we may consider offering and issuing additional Securities in the future, which may result in a dilution in our net tangible book value or earnings per Units.

Our profitability and results of operations are affected by the continued success of our business model

Our success is dependent on our management, operational and capital resources, development and operational expertise, technical know-how, our knowledge of relevant industries and the needs of our targeted customers. The continued success of our business model depends on our ability to proactively conduct market research and gain foresight to understand our customers and tenants. We cannot assure you that there will not be any unfavorable changes in national or state market conditions which could adversely affect the demands of our customers and tenants. We may receive lower than anticipated demand for our properties due to our failure to accurately foresee national and local market development trends or the demands or preferences of our customers and to adjust our business model accordingly. Meanwhile, our competitors could develop and offer new properties that are comparable or superior to our properties or adapt more quickly and successfully to evolving industry trends, market conditions and customer and tenant requirements. As a result, our market share, business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects may be materially and adversely affected.
