

DRONEDEK

2021 Report

Dear investors,

Hi all,

Dan O'Toole here. I just wanted to say what a phenomenal year it has been and this year is sizing up to be even bigger! We are poised to rollout DroneDek units throughout the country in various pilot programs testing different use-cases. This is exciting because it gives us the chance to show off what our technology can do and why it will be relevant to the marketplace. Our pilot programs also serve as an opportunity for people to get acclimated to this futuristic piece of technology, while allowing us to continue perfecting our product based on real customer feedback.

I really want to reiterate what it means to have each and everyone of you as part of our investor community. The heavy lift that we embark on every single day would not be remotely possible without every single one of you, no matter the size of your contribution. It means everything to us.

Stay tuned for our regular updates, exciting news on new partnerships and collaborations, and for another opportunity to invest in DroneDek! Thank you for being a part of our journey!

Together the Future,

Dan O'Toole

We need your help!

Our community is really the backbone of what we do, and your involvement means the world to us! We wouldn't be where we are today if not for every one of our supporters. So from the bottom of our hearts, thank you.

How to get involved:

- Get engaged with DroneDek via social media by liking, commenting, and sharing our posts.
- Reach out to the team if you have ideas about DroneDek you'd like to share or companies you'd like to introduce us to.

Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

You should read the following discussion and analysis of our financial condition and results of operations together with our financial statements and the related notes and other financial information included elsewhere in this offering. Some of the information contained in this discussion and analysis, including information regarding the strategy and plans for our business, includes forward-looking statements that involve risks and uncertainties. You should review the "Risk Factors" section for a discussion of important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from the results described in or implied by the forward-looking statements contained in the following discussion and analysis.

Overview

We are the patented safe, secure, smart drone delivery receptacle. Through the DRONEDEK Platform we are able to ship and receive food, beverages, pharmaceuticals and parcels. We are app driven and are feature-rich with several offerings including a UV treatment process to disinfect deliveries from Coronavirus and other viral hazards.

We hope to be accelerating our growth as drone delivery becomes commonplace and the only receptacle solution is DRONEDEK. These are forward looking projections and are not guaranteed.

Given the Company's limited operating history, the Company cannot reliably estimate how much revenue it will receive in the future, if any.

Related Party Transaction

Refer to Question 26 of this Form C for disclosure of all related party transactions.

Liquidity & Capital Resources

To-date, the company has been financed with $5,100,000 in equity, net of expenses.

After the conclusion of this Offering, should we hit our minimum funding target, our projected runway is 6 months before we need to raise further capital.

We plan to use the proceeds as set forth in this Form C under "Use of Funds". We don't have any other sources of capital in the immediate future.

we will likely require additional financing in excess of the proceeds from the Offering in order to perform operations over the lifetime of the Company. We plan to raise capital in 6 months. Except as otherwise described in this Form C, we do not have additional sources of capital other than the proceeds from the offering. Because of the complexities and uncertainties in establishing a new business strategy, it is not possible to adequately project whether the proceeds of this offering will be sufficient to enable us to implement our strategy. This complexity and uncertainty will be increased if less than the maximum amount of securities offered in this offering is sold. The Company intends to raise additional capital in the future from investors. Although capital may be available for early-stage companies, there is no guarantee that the Company will receive any investments from investors.

Runway & Short/Mid Term Expenses

DRONEDEK Corporation cash in hand is $2,418,913, as of March 2022. Over the last three months, revenues have averaged $0/month, cost of goods sold has averaged $0/month, and operational expenses have averaged $115,000/month, for an average burn rate of $115,000 per month. Our intent is to be profitable in 60 months.

Since the date of our latest financial report, December 31, 2021, there have been no material changes to our finances or operations.

We expect to make no revenue over the next 6 months. Forecasted expenses over the next 6 months will be focused on research and development, and will fall in the range of $500,000 to $750,000 in accordance with the company's financial projections that includes a 18-24 month pre-revenue phase.

The company is not profitable as of March 31, 2022. We anticipate needing $20-25 million of additional funding to reach a point of profitability.

The company is actively pursuing multiple opportunities in the market that may provide significant sources of capital.

Risks

Funding Risks -We expect to require additional financing in the future to generate revenue growth. If we do not obtain such additional financing, our business prospects, financial condition and results of operations could be significantly affected. There could be financial conditions, and results of operations could be adversely affected. There can be no assurance that such financing will be available at all or on favorable terms. Subsequent financing may dilute the ownership interest of our stockholders at the time of the financing and may dilute the value of their stock. We have a limited operating history on which you can evaluate our business. Our corporate entity has only existed since 2020, and many members of our management team are new to their positions. As a result, our business may be subject to many of the problems, expenses, delays, and risks inherent in the growth of a new business and the integration of key personnel and infrastructure. Lack of availability of components for our drone delivery systems could delay or adversely impact our operations. We rely on components, materials, and component parts that are subject to occasional shortages depending on fluctuations in supply and demand and current issues in the global supply chain. Shortages may result in delayed shipments of materials, increased costs, or both.

John Ritchison and Jackie Byers are part-time officers. As such, it is likely that the company will not make the same progress as it would if they were not.

Regulatory Risks – There are certain regulatory requirements, including Federal Aviation Administration certifications for logistic companies, that may be required for DRONEDEK to execute the business plan.

Industry Risks – DRONEDEK requires commercial logistic supply chain and other companies to participate in fully developing the DRONEDEK business plan which may occur slower than anticipated, or may not occur at all.

Execution Risks – DRONEDEK requires a comprehensive organization and company infrastructure development including departmental support from sales, marketing, installation, customer service, technical, regulatory, human resources, accounting and legal to execute its business plan which may occur slower than anticipated.

Financial Risks – DRONEDEK's use of assumptions and estimates, though are conservative and reasonable at time of preparation, may be materially different than estimates used in forward-looking financial forecasts.

Our future success depends on the efforts of a small management team. The loss of services of the members of the management team may have an adverse effect on the company. There can be no assurance that we will be successful in attracting and retaining other personnel we require to successfully grow our business.

Market Risks – As a new industry, the commercial market may not develop at the same pace and size required to execute DRONEDEK's business plan.

Description of Securities for Prior Reg CF Raise

Additional issuances of securities. Following the Investor's investment in the Company, the Company may sell interests to additional investors, which will dilute the percentage interest of the Investor in the Company. The investor may have the opportunity to increase its investment in the Company in such a transaction, but such opportunity cannot be assured. The amount of additional financing needed by the Company, if any, will depend upon the maturity and objectives of the Company. The declining of an opportunity or the inability of the investor to make a follow-on investment, or the lack of an opportunity to make such a follow-on investment, may result in substantial dilution of the Investor's interest in the Company.

Issuer repurchases of securities. The Company may have authority to repurchase its securities from shareholders, which may serve to decrease any liquidity in the market for such securities, decrease the percentage interests held by other similarly situated investors to the Investor, and create pressure on the Investor to sell its securities to the Company concurrently.

A sale of the issuer or of assets of the issuer. As a minority owner of the Company, the Investor will have limited or no ability to influence a potential sale of the Company or a substantial portion of its assets. Thus, the Investor will rely upon the executive management of the Company and the Board of Directors of the Company to manage the Company so as to maximize value for shareholders. Accordingly, the success of the Investor's investment in the Company will depend in large part upon the skill and expertise of the executive management of the Company and the Board of Directors of the Company. If the Board Of Directors of the Company authorizes a sale of all or a part of the Company, or a disposition of a substantial portion of the Company's assets, there can be no guarantee that the value received by the Investor, together with the fair market estimate of the value remaining in the Company, will be equal to or exceed the value of the Investor's initial investment in the Company.

Transactions with related parties. The Investor should be aware that there will be occasions when the Company may encounter potential conflicts of interest in its operations. On any issue involving conflicts of interest, the executive management and Board of Directors of the Company will be guided by their good faith judgement as to the Company's best interests. The Company may engage in transactions with affiliates, subsidiaries or other related parties, which may be on terms which are not arm's-length, but will be in all cases consistent with the duties of the management of the Company to its shareholders. By acquiring an interest in the Company, the Investor will be deemed to have acknowledged the existence of any such actual or potential conflicts of interest and to have waived any claim with respect to any liability arising from the existence of any such conflict of interest.

Minority Ownership

An Investor in the Company will likely hold a minority position in the Company, and thus be limited as to its ability to control or influence the governance and operations of the Company.

The marketability and value of the Investor's interest in the Company will depend upon many factors outside the control of the Investor. The Company will be managed by its officers and be governed in accordance with the strategic direction and decision-making of its Board Of Directors, and the Investor will have no independent right to name or remove an officer or member of the Board Of Directors of the Company.

Following the Investor's investment in the Company, the Company may sell interests to additional investors, which will dilute the percentage interest of the Investor in the Company. The Investor may have the opportunity to increase its investment in the Company in such a transaction, but such opportunity cannot be assured.

The amount of additional financing needed by the Company, if any, will depend upon the maturity and objectives of the Company. The declining of an opportunity or the inability of the Investor to make a follow-on investment, or the lack of an opportunity to make such a follow-on investment, may result in substantial dilution of the Investor's interest in the Company.

Exercise of Rights Held by Principal Shareholders

As holders of a majority-in-interest of voting rights in the Company, the shareholders may make decisions with which the Investor disagrees, or that negatively affect the value of the Investor's securities in the Company, and the Investor will have no recourse to change those decisions. The Investor's interests may conflict with those of other to change these decisions. The investor's interests may conflict with those of other investors, and there is no guarantee that the Company will develop in a way that is optimal for or advantageous to the investor.

For example, the shareholders may change the terms of the Articles of Incorporation for the company, change the terms of securities issued by the Company, change the management of the Company, and even force out minority holders of securities. The shareholders may make changes that affect the tax treatment of the Company in ways that are unfavorable to you but favorable to them. They may also vote to engage in new offerings and/or to register certain of the Company's securities in a way that negatively affects the value of the securities the investor owns. Other holders of securities of the Company may also have access to more information than the investor, leaving the investor at a disadvantage with respect to any decisions regarding the securities he or she owns. The shareholders have the right to redeem their securities at any time. Shareholders could decide to force the Company to redeem their securities at a time that is not favorable to the investor and is damaging to the Company. Investors' exit may affect the value of the Company and/or its viability. In cases where the rights of holders of convertible debt, SAFES, or other outstanding options or warrants are exercised, or if new awards are granted under our equity compensation plans, an investor's interests in the Company may be diluted. This means that the pro-rata portion of the Company represented by the investor's securities will decrease, which could also diminish the investor's voting and/or economic rights. In addition, as discussed above, if a majority-in-interest of holders of securities with voting rights cause the Company to issue additional stock, an investor's interest will typically also be diluted.

Based on the risks described above, the investor could lose all or part of his or her investment in the securities in this offering, and may never see positive returns.

Restrictions on Transfer

The securities offered via Regulation Crowdfunding may not be transferred by any purchaser of such securities during the one year period beginning when the securities were issued, unless such securities are transferred:

- to the issuer;
- to an accredited investor[®];
- as part of an offering registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission; or
- to a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent; to a trust controlled by the purchaser, to a trust created for the benefit of a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, or in connection with the death or divorce of the purchaser or other similar circumstance.

Valuation Methodology for Prior Reg CF Raise

The offering price for the securities offered pursuant to this Form C has been determined arbitrarily by the Company, and does not necessarily bear any relationship to the Company's book value, assets, earnings or other generally accepted valuation criteria. In determining the offering price, the Company did not employ investment banking firms or other outside organizations to make an independent appraisal or evaluation. Accordingly, the offering price should not be considered to be indicative of the actual value of the securities offered hereby.

In the future, we will perform valuations of our common stock that take into account factors such as the following:

unrelated third party valuations of our common stock;
the price at which we sell other securities, such as convertible debt or preferred stock, in light of the rights, preferences and privileges of our those securities relative to those of our common stock;
our results of operations, financial position and capital resources;
current business conditions and projections;
the lack of marketability of our common stock;
the hiring of key personnel and the experience of our management;
the introduction of new products;
the risk inherent in the development and expansion of our products;
our stage of development and material risks related to our business;
the likelihood of achieving a liquidity event, such as an initial public offering or a sale of our company given the prevailing market conditions and the nature and history of our business;
industry trends and competitive environment;
trends in consumer spending, including consumer confidence;
overall economic indicators, including gross domestic product, employment, inflation and interest rates; and the general economic outlook.

We will analyze factors such as those described above using a combination of financial and market-based methodologies to determine our business enterprise value. For example, we may use methodologies that assume that businesses operating in the same industry will share similar characteristics and that the Company's value will correlate to those characteristics, and/or methodologies that compare transactions in similar securities issued by us that were conducted in the market.
