PicMii does not make investment recommendations and no communication through this website or in any other medium should be construed as a recommendation for any security offered on or off this investment platform. Equity crowdfunding investments in private placements, Regulation A, D and CF offerings, and start-up investments in particular are speculative and involve a high degree of risk and those investors who cannot afford to lose their entire investment should not invest in start-ups. Companies seeking startup investments through equity crowdfunding tend to be in earlier stages of development and their business model, products and services may not yet be fully developed, operational or tested in the public marketplace. There is no guarantee that the stated valuation and other terms are accurate or in agreement with the market or industry valuations. Additionally, investors may receive illiquid and/or restricted stock that may be subject to holding period requirements and/or liquidity concerns. In the most sensible investment strategy for start-up investing, start-ups should only be part of your overall investment portfolio. Further, the start-up portion of your portfolio may include a balanced portfolio of different start-ups. Investments in startups are highly illiquid and those investors who cannot hold an investment for the long term (at least 5-7 years) should not invest.

Business and Anticipated Business Plan

6. Describe in detail the business of the issuer and the anticipated business plan of the issuer.

Arrive Mailboxes enable automated delivery of packages, products, food, and more.

Our mailbox-as-a-service enables on-demand, smart, secure, climate-controlled deliveries by couriers, drones, and robots. We are also developing a delivery marketplace. The marketplace sells optimal combinations of delivery times, mailbox space, and related promotions. This prioritizes pizza deliveries during the Super Bowl, carrier deliveries during business hours, and pharmacy at night.

As an early innovator, we have obtained patents that secure our leadership in automated delivery endpoints. It's a huge opportunity whose time has come. We aim to serve the 160 million+ businesses and residents , with US addresses - and later we will serve the globe.

We believe the future of automated delivery mailboxes has arrived in Arrive. As one of the earliest secured drone delivery receptacle patent application filers, we believe Arrive is the future of drone delivery.

Arrive controls the exclusive secured drone delivery smart mailbox patents which we believe is one of the largest undeveloped global market opportunities in the world. Arrive's patents have created a global opportunity that includes every residential and commercial address in the USA.*

* <https://www.Arrive.com/patents/>

All of the current Patent and patent applications are secured under an exclusive license from the owner/inventor Dan O'Toole (Signed 5/26/2020 and approved under Board Resolution No. 7). Additional IP including patents, derivatives, and trademarks from Dan O'Toole ("stockholder-") for Arrive Corporation are included in this Exclusive License. The license renews automatically (Part 7 of the license). Future Intellectual Property rights for pending applications of the corporation are protected by IP agreements with its employees and contractors as work-for-hire persons assigning their rights directly to the corporation.

Beginning June 1, 2020, the Company began paying the stockholder a monthly license fee of $10,000. Once revenue from sales, rentals, and leases begins, the Company is required to pay $25.00 per unit sold. If the Company does not sell 400 units per month (or $10,000), the original fixed $10,000 is to be paid. Accordingly, for the years ended December 31, 2021, and 2020, the Company recorded licensing fee costs in the amount of $120,000 and $70,000, respectively. For the eight months ended August 31, 2022, the Company recorded licensing fee costs in the amount of $80,000.

Competitors and Industry

Industry

We believe the total addressable market for Arrive is the 163 million addresses serviced by the United States Postal Service (source: <https://facts.usps.com>). Even at $100 per address, this opportunity represents tens of billions of dollars in opportunity.

Competition

Our competitive advantage is Arrive's intellectual property patents which provide the company with the first position in the secured drone and robotic delivery mailbox. We beat Amazon to the patent office by nine days and the United States Postal Services by two weeks.

Our aggressive sales and marketing campaign in the target markets, supported by a national branding campaign over the patent life through 2036 will support Arrive's first-in-market leading smart mailbox drone receptacle.

The competition (Amazon, UPS, FedEx, and other logistics players) may attempt to enter the market, but Arrive's patents will help protect our delivery system advantage. In addition, companies such as Valqari and Airbox are still looking for business models that don't infringe on our IP.

Current Stage and Roadmap

Current Stage

Arrive is presently pre-revenue. The financing and capitalization of the organization is the next step. We anticipate that this funding round will help us accelerate prototype development and test marketing with an initial limited production run for product development and identification of sourcing partners and manufacturers.

Future Roadmap

Arrive's Go live launch service offering/revenue phase will follow the 6 to 18- month pre-revenue phase.

Arrive's go-live revenue subscription phase includes sales and marketing of residential and commercial addresses in targeted geographical markets. Subscription service provides the last mile solutions for drone delivery and other unmanned autonomous vehicle delivery, conventional delivery, food, beverage, medical and pharmaceuticals, and other general parcels.

Implementation and go live for the early adapters in strategic markets includes medical and college campuses to build early penetration of adapters clusters.

Risk Factors

Investing in the Securities involves a high degree of risk and may result in the loss of your entire investment. Before making an investment decision with respect to the Securities, we urge you to carefully consider the risks described in this section and other factors set forth in this Form C. In addition to the risks specified below, the Company is subject to same risks that all companies in its business, and all companies in the economy, are exposed to. These include risks relating to economic downturns, political and economic events and technological developments (such as hacking and the ability to prevent hacking). Additionally, early-stage companies are inherently riskier than more developed companies. Prospective Investors should consult with their legal, tax and financial advisors prior to making an investment in the Securities. The Securities should only be purchased by persons who can afford to lose all of their investment.

Risks Related to the Company's Business and Industry

We have a limited operating history upon which you can evaluate our performance, and accordingly, our prospects must be considered in light of the risks that any new company encounters. The Company is still in an early phase and we are just beginning to implement our business plan. There can be no assurance that we will ever operate profitably. The likelihood of our success should be considered in light of the problems, expenses, difficulties, complications and delays usually encountered by early-stage companies. The Company may not be successful in attaining the objectives necessary for it to overcome these risks and uncertainties.

Any Valuation At This Stage is Difficult to Assess

The valuation for the offering was established by the Company. Unlike listed companies that are valued publicly through market-driven stock prices, the valuation of private companies, especially startups, is difficult to assess and you may risk overpaying for your investment.

Global crises such as COVID-19 can have a significant effect on our business operations and revenue projections.

There is an ongoing outbreak of a novel and highly contagious form of coronavirus ("COVID-19"), which the World Health Organization declared a global pandemic on March 11, 2020. The outbreak of COVID-19 has caused a worldwide public health emergency with a substantial number of hospitalizations and deaths and has significantly adversely impacted global commercial activity and contributed to both volatility and material declines in equity and debt markets. The global impact of the outbreak is rapidly evolving, and many national, state, and local governments have reacted by instituting mandatory or voluntary quarantines, travel prohibitions and restrictions, closures or reductions of offices, businesses, schools, retail stores, restaurants, and other public venues and/or cancellations, suspensions and/or postponements of certain events and activities, including certain non-essential government and regulatory activities. Businesses are also implementing their own precautionary measures, such as voluntary closures, temporary or permanent reductions in work force, remote working arrangements and emergency contingency plans.

Such measures, as well as the general uncertainty surrounding the dangers, duration, and impact of COVID-19, are creating significant disruption to supply chains and economic activity, impacting consumer confidence and contributing to significant market losses, including by having particularly adverse impacts on transportation, hospitality, healthcare, tourism, sports, entertainment and other industries dependent upon physical presence. Technological infrastructure has, and will likely continue to be, strained for so long as mandatory or voluntary quarantines are instituted, which will change, and potentially disrupt, the operations of the Company. As COVID-19 continues to spread, potential additional adverse impacts, including a global, regional or other economic recession of indeterminate duration, are increasingly likely and difficult to assess and, if the spread of COVID-19 is prolonged, it could adversely affect many economies, global financial markets and the Company even after COVID-19 is contained.

The extent of the impact of COVID-19 on the Company's operational and financial performance will depend on many factors, all of which are highly uncertain and cannot be predicted. Those factors include the duration and scope of the resulting public health emergency; the extent of any related restrictions implemented; the impact of such public health emergency on overall supply and demand, goods and services, investor liquidity, consumer confidence and levels of economic activity; and the extent of its disruption to important global, regional and local supply chains and economic markets. The effects of the COVID-19 pandemic may materially and adversely impact the value, performance and liquidity of the Company.

In addition, COVID-19 and the resulting changes to global businesses and economies likely will adversely impact the business and operations of the Company and therefore the business and operations of the Company. Certain businesses and activities may be temporarily or permanently halted as a result of government or other quarantine measures, voluntary and precautionary restrictions on travel or meetings and other factors, including the potential adverse impact of COVID-19 on the health of key personnel.

Regulatory changes and uncertainties.

Drones and our drone receptacles are subject to substantial regulation under federal, state, and local laws. Federal regulations include those of the Federal Aviation Administration, such as certifications for logistics companies. These laws are subject to change. To the extent the laws change, or if we introduce new delivery systems in the future, some or all of our products may not comply with applicable federal, state, or local laws. Further, certain federal, state, and local laws and industrial standards currently regulate the operation of drones. Although standards for drones are not yet generally available or accepted as industry standards, our products may become subject to federal, state, and local regulation in the future. Compliance with these regulations could be burdensome, time consuming, and expensive.

The amount of capital the Company is attempting to raise in this Offering may not be enough to sustain the Company's current business plan.

In order to achieve the Company's near and long-term goals, the Company may need to procure funds in addition to the amount raised in the Offering. There is no guarantee the Company will be able to raise such funds on acceptable terms or at all. If we are not able to raise sufficient capital in the future, we may not be able to execute our business plan, our continued operations may require a significant pivot in strategy and execution, which could cause an Investor to lose all or a portion of their investment.

We may face potential difficulties in obtaining capital

We may have difficulty raising needed capital in the future as a result of, among other factors, our lack of revenue, as well as the inherent business risks associated with our Company and present and future market conditions.

Terms of Subsequent Financings May Adversely Impact Your Investment

We will likely need to engage in common equity, debt, or preferred stock financings in the future, which may reduce the value of your investment in the Common Stock.

Interest on debt securities could increase costs and negatively impact operating results. Preferred stock could be issued in series from time to time with such designation, rights, preferences, and limitations as needed to raise capital. The terms of preferred stock could be more advantageous to those investors than to the holders of Common Stock. In addition, if we need to raise more equity capital from the sale of Common Stock, institutional or other investors may negotiate terms that are likely to be more favorable than the terms of your investment, and possibly a lower purchase price per share.

The Company's success depends on the experience and skill of its manager and other key personnel.

In particular, we are dependent on our managers. The loss of the Managers, the Principals or any other key personnel could harm the Company's business, financial condition, cash flow and performance. Accordingly, you should not invest in the Company unless you are willing to entrust all aspects of the management of the Company and the investment decisions we make on the behalf of the Company.

Management Discretion as to Use of Proceeds

Our success will be substantially dependent upon the discretion and judgment of our management team with respect to the application and allocation of the proceeds of this Offering. The use of proceeds described below is an estimate based on our current business plan. We, however, may find it necessary or advisable to re-allocate portions of the net proceeds reserved for one category to another, and we will have broad discretion in doing so.

Damage to our reputation could negatively impact our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our reputation and the quality of our brand are critical to our business and success and will be critical to our success as we form and advise new markets. Any incident that erodes confidence in our brand could significantly reduce the Company's value and damage our business. We may be adversely affected by any negative publicity, regardless of its accuracy. Also, there has been a marked increase in the use of social media platforms and similar devices, including blogs, social media websites and other forms of internet-based communications that provide individuals with access to a broad audience. The availability of information on social media platforms is virtually immediate as is its impact. Information posted may be adverse to our interests or may be inaccurate, each of which may harm our performance, prospects or business. The harm may be immediate and may disseminate rapidly and broadly, without affording us an opportunity for redress or correct.

Risks Related to the Offering

The U.S. Securities and exchange Commission does not pass upon the merits of the Securities or the terms of the Offering, nor does it pass upon the accuracy or completeness of any Offering document or literature.

You should not rely on the fact that our Form C is accessible through the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission's EDGAR filing system as an approval, endorsement or guarantee of compliance as it relates to this Offering. The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission has not reviewed this Form C, nor any document or literature related to this Offering.

Neither the Offering nor the Securities have been registered under federal or state securities laws.

No governmental agency has reviewed or passed upon this Offering or the Securities. Neither the Offering nor the Securities have been registered under federal or state securities laws. Investors will not receive any of the benefits available in registered Offerings, which may include access to quarterly and annual financial statements that have been audited by an independent accounting firm. Investors must therefore assess the adequacy of disclosure and the fairness of the terms of this Offering based on the information provided in this Form C and the accompanying exhibits.

The Company's management may have broad discretion in how the Company uses the net proceeds of the Offering.

Unless the Company has agreed to a specific use of the proceeds from the Offering, the Company's management will have considerable discretion over the use of proceeds from the Offering. You may not have the opportunity, as part of your investment decision, to assess whether the proceeds are being used appropriately.

The Company has the right to limit individual Investor commitment amounts based on the Company's determination of an Investor's sophistication.

The Company may prevent any Investor from committing more than a certain amount in this Offering based on the Company's determination of the Investor's sophistication and ability to assume the risk of the investment. This means that your desired investment amount may be limited or lowered based solely on the Company's determination and not in line with relevant investment limits set forth by the Regulation CF rules. This also means that other Investors may receive larger allocations of the Offering based solely on the Company's determination.

The Company has the right to extend the Offering Deadline.

The Company may extend the Offering Deadline beyond what is currently stated herein. This means that your investment may continue to be held in escrow while the Company attempts to raise the Target Amount even after the Offering Deadline stated herein is reached. While you have the right to cancel your investment in the event the Company extends the Offering Deadline, if you choose to reconfirm your investment, your investment will not be accruing interest during this time and will simply be held until such time as the new Offering Deadline is reached without the Company receiving the Target Amount, at which time it will be returned to you without interest or deduction, or the Company receives the Target Amount, at which time it will be released to the Company to be used as set forth herein. Upon or shortly after the release of such funds to the Company, the Securities will be issued and distributed to you.

The Company may also end the Offering early.

If the Target Offering Amount is met after 21 calendar days, but before the Offering Deadline, the Company can end the Offering by providing notice to Investors at least 5 business days prior to the end of the Offering. This means your failure to participate in the Offering in a timely manner, may prevent you from being able to invest in this Offering “ it also means the Company may limit the amount of capital it can raise during the Offering by ending the Offering early.

The Company has the right to conduct multiple closings during the Offering.

If the Company meets certain terms and conditions, an intermediate close of the Offering can occur, which will allow the Company to draw down on half of the proceeds committed and captured in the Offering during the relevant period. The Company may choose to continue the Offering thereafter. Investors should be mindful that this means they can make multiple investment commitments in the Offering, which may be subject to different cancellation rights. For example, if an intermediate close occurs and later a material change occurs as the Offering continues, Investors whose investment commitments were previously closed upon will not have the right to re-confirm their investment as it will be deemed to have been completed prior to the material change.

Risks Related to the Securities

The Securities will not be freely tradable under the Securities Act until one year from the initial purchase date. Although the securities may be tradable under federal securities law, state securities regulations may apply, and each Investor should consult with their attorney.

You should be aware of the long-term nature of this investment. There is not now and likely will not ever be a public market for the Securities. Because the Securities have not been registered under the Securities Act or under the securities laws of any state or foreign jurisdiction, the Securities have transfer restrictions and cannot be resold in the United States except pursuant to Rule 501 of Regulation CF. It is not currently contemplated that registration under the Securities Act or other securities laws will be affected. Limitations on the transfer of the Securities may also adversely affect the price that you might be able to obtain for the Securities in a private sale. Investors should be aware of the long-term nature of their investment in the Company. Each Investor in this Offering will be required to represent that they are purchasing the Securities for their own account, for investment purposes and not with a view to resale or distribution thereof.

Although Investors will have no right to voluntarily withdraw capital from the Company or withdraw their Securities, in certain circumstances they may be forced to withdraw from the Company.

An Investor may be forced to withdraw from the Company if the Company reasonably determines that it is necessary or desirable to do so in order to comply with applicable law or regulations, or to avoid a material adverse effect on the Company or the other holders of securities in the Company.

Investors will have no right to control the Company's operations.

The Investors will have no opportunity to control the day-to-day operations of the Company, including, without limitation, the investment and disposition decisions of the Portfolio Companies. In order to safeguard your limited liability for the liabilities and obligations of the Company, you must rely entirely on the Manager and Principals to conduct and manage the business affairs of the Company

Investors will not be entitled to any inspection or information rights other than those required by law.

Investors will not have the right to inspect the books and records of the Company or to receive financial or other information from the Company, other than as required by law. Other security holders of the Company may have such rights. Regulation CF requires only the provision of an annual report on Form C and no additional information. Additionally, there are numerous methods by which the Company can terminate annual report obligations, resulting in no information rights, contractual, statutory or otherwise, owed to Investors. This lack of information could put Investors at a disadvantage in general and with respect to other security holders, including certain security holders who have rights to periodic financial statements and updates from the Company such as quarterly unaudited financials, annual projections and budgets, and monthly progress reports, among other things.

The Company may never undergo a liquidity event and Investors may have to hold the Securities indefinitely.

The Company may never undergo a liquidity event such as a repurchase of the Securities by the Company, a sale of the Company or an initial public or coin offering. If a liquidity event does not occur, Investors could be left holding the Securities in perpetuity. The Securities have numerous transfer restrictions and will likely be highly illiquid, with no secondary market on which to sell them. The Securities have no voting rights or ability to direct the Company or its actions.

The Securities may be significantly diluted as a consequence of subsequent equity financings.

The Company's equity securities will be subject to dilution. The Company may issue additional equity to third-party financing sources in amounts that are uncertain at this time, and as a consequence holders of the Securities will be subject to dilution in an unpredictable amount. Such dilution may reduce the Investor's economic interests in the Company. The amount of additional financing needed by the Company will depend upon several contingencies not foreseen at the time of this Offering. Generally, additional financing (whether in the form of loans or the issuance of other securities) will be intended to provide the Company with enough capital to reach the next major corporate milestone. If the funds received in any additional financing are not sufficient to meet the Company's needs, the Company may have to raise additional capital at a price unfavorable to their existing investors, including the holders of the Securities. The availability of capital is at least partially a function of capital market conditions that are beyond the control of the Company. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to accurately predict the future capital requirements necessary for success or that additional funds will be available from any source. Failure to obtain financing on favorable terms could dilute or otherwise severely impair the value of the Securities.

The Securities may be substantially different from other equity securities offered or issued by the Company.

The Securities may be materially different from the other equity securities of the Company in many ways, including, but not limited to, liquidation preferences, dividend rights, or anti-dilution protection. The Securities may not provide the holders of such Securities with the same rights, preferences, protections, and other benefits or privileges provided to other investors of the Company.

In the event of the dissolution or bankruptcy of the Company, Investors will not be treated as debt holders and therefore are unlikely to recover any proceeds.

In the event of the dissolution or bankruptcy of the Company, the holders of the Securities will be entitled to distributions as described in the Securities. This means that such holders will only receive distributions once all of the creditors and more senior security holders, including any holders of preferred membership interests, have been paid in full. Neither holders of the Securities can be guaranteed any proceeds in the event of the dissolution or bankruptcy of the Company.

There is no guarantee of a return on an Investor's investment.

There is no assurance that an Investor will realize a return on their investment or that they will not lose their entire investment. For this reason, each Investor should read this Form C and all exhibits carefully and should consult with their attorney and business advisor prior to making any investment decision.

IN ADDITION TO THE RISKS LISTED ABOVE, RISKS AND UNCERTAINTIES NOT PRESENTLY KNOWN, OR WHICH WE CONSIDER IMMATERIAL AS OF THE DATE OF THIS FORM C, MAY ALSO HAVE AN ADVERSE EFFECT ON OUR BUSINESS AND RESULT IN THE TOTAL LOSS OF YOUR INVESTMENT.

Additional Issuer Specific Risks:

Some of our products are still in prototype phase and might never be operational products

It is possible that there may never be an operational product or that the product may never be used to engage in transactions. It is possible that the failure to release the product is the result of a change in business model upon the Company's making a determination that the business model, or some other factor, will not be in the best interest of the Company and its stockholders.

Developing new products and technologies entails significant risks and uncertainties

We are currently in the research and development stage and have only manufactured a prototype for our Arrive product. Delays or cost overruns in the development of our Arrive or failure of the product to meet our performance estimates may be caused by, among other things, unanticipated technological hurdles, difficulties in manufacturing, changes to design and regulatory hurdles. Any of these events could materially and adversely affect our operating performance and results of operations.

This offering involves "rolling closings, which may mean that earlier investors may not have the benefit of information that later investors have.

Once we meet our target amount for this offering, we may request that the escrow agent disburse offering funds to us. At that point, investors whose subscription agreements have been accepted will become our investors. All early-stage companies are subject to a number of risks and uncertainties, and it is not uncommon for material changes to be made to the offering terms, or to companies' businesses, plans or prospects, sometimes on short notice. When such changes happen during the course of an offering, we must file an amended to our Form C with the SEC, and investors whose subscriptions have not yet been accepted will have the right to withdraw their subscriptions and get their money back. Investors whose subscriptions have already been accepted, however, will already be our investors and will have no such right.

Our new product could fail to achieve the sales projections we expected

Our growth projections are based on an assumption that with an increased advertising and marketing budget our products will be able to gain traction in the marketplace at a faster rate than our current products have. It is possible that our new products will fail to gain market acceptance for any number of reasons. If the new products fail to achieve significant sales and acceptance in the marketplace, this could materially and adversely impact the value of your investment.

We face significant market competition

We will compete with larger, established companies who currently have products on the market and/or various respective product development programs. They may have much better financial means and marketing/sales and human resources than us. They may succeed in developing and marketing competing equivalent products earlier than us, or superior products than those developed by us. There can be no assurance that competitors will render our technology or products obsolete or that the products developed by us will be preferred to any existing or newly developed technologies. It should further be assumed that competition will intensify.

We are an early-stage company and have not yet generated any profits

We have a limited operating history on which you can evaluate our business. Our corporate entity has only existed since 2020, and many members of our management team are new to their positions. As a result, our business may be subject to many of the problems, expenses, delays, and risks inherent in the growth of a new business and the integration of key personnel and infrastructure.

We have existing patents that we might not be able to protect properly

One of the Company's most valuable assets is its intellectual property. The Company owns THREE trademarks, copyrights, Internet domain names, and trade secrets. We believe one of the most valuable components of the Company is our intellectual property portfolio. Due to the value, competitors may misappropriate or violate the rights owned by the Company. The Company intends to continue to protect its intellectual property portfolio from such violations. It is important to note that unforeseeable costs associated with such practices may invade the capital of the Company. In addition, we have pending patent approvals that may be vulnerable. We license the patents and IP from our founder and CEO, Dan O'Toole. These patents are material to our business.

The Company is vulnerable to hackers and cyber-attacks

As an internet-based business, we may be vulnerable to hackers who may access the data of our investors and the issuer companies that utilize our platform. Further, any significant disruption in service on ARRIVE or in its computer systems could reduce the attractiveness of the platform and result in a loss of investors and companies interested in using our platform. Further, we rely on a third-party technology provider to provide some of our back-up technology. Any disruptions of services or cyber-attacks either on our technology provider or on ARRIVE could harm our reputation and materially negatively impact our financial condition and business.

Execution Risks

ARRIVE requires a comprehensive organization and company infrastructure development including departmental support from sales, marketing, installation, customer service, technical, regulatory, human resources, accounting and legal to execute its business plan which may occur slower than anticipated. John Ritchison is a part-time officer. As such, it is likely that the company will not make the same progress as it would if they were not.

Lack of availability of components could adversely impact operations

Lack of availability of components for our drone delivery systems could delay or adversely impact our operations. We rely on components, materials, and component parts that are subject to occasional shortages depending on fluctuations in supply and demand and current issues in the global supply chain. Shortages may result in delayed shipments of materials, increased costs, or both.

We may not be able to effectively manage our growth

As we grow our business, slower growing or reduced demand for our products, increased competition, a decrease in the growth rate of our overall market, failure to develop and successfully market new products, or the maturation of our business or market could harm our business. We expect to make significant investments in research and development and sales and marketing, expand our operations and infrastructure, design and develop or acquire new products, and enhance our existing products. If our sales do not increase at a sufficient rate to offset these increases in our operating expenses, our profitability may decline in future periods.

The amount raised in this offering may include investments from officers and directors of the company or their immediate family members.

Once the total amount of funds raised in this offering exceeds the minimum funding goal, officers and directors (and immediate family members) of the company may make investments in this offering. Any such investments will be included in the raised amount reflected on the campaign page.

Specifically, if we reach the Minimum Raise Amount, we may conduct the first of multiple or rolling closings of the offering early if we provide notice about the new offering deadline at least five business days prior to such new offering deadline (absent a material change that would require an extension of the offering and reconfirmation of the investment commitment). 9. How will the issuer complete the transaction and deliver securities to the investors?

Transfer Agent - In entering into an agreement on PicMii Crowdfunding's Funding Portal to purchase securities, both investors and the Company must agree that a transfer agent, which keeps records of our outstanding Common Stock (the "Securities"), will issue digital Securities in the investor's name (a paper certificate will not be printed) or that the Company is capable of maintaining investment records on their own. In this case, the company will be utilizing a transfer agent.

10. How can an investor cancel an investment commitment?

You may cancel an investment commitment for any reason until 48 hours prior to the deadline identified in the offering PicMii will notify investors when the target offering amount has been met. If the issuer reaches the target offering amount prior to the deadline identified in the offering materials, it may close the offering early if it provides notice about the new offering deadline at least five business days prior to such new offering deadline (absent a material change that would require an extension of the offering and reconfirmation of the investment commitment). PicMii Crowdfunding will notify investors when the target offering amount has been met. If an investor does not cancel an investment commitment before the 48-hour period prior to the offering deadline, the funds will be released to the issuer upon closing of the offering and the investor will receive securities in exchange for his or her investment. If an investor does not reconfirm his or her investment commitment after a material change is made to the offering, the investor's investment commitment will be cancelled, and the committed funds will be returned.

11. Can the company perform multiple closings or rolling closings for the offering?

If we reach the target offering amount prior to the offering deadline, we may conduct the first of multiple closings of the offering early, if we provide notice about the new offering deadline at least five business days prior (absent a material change that would require an extension of the offering and reconfirmation of the investment commitment). Thereafter, we may conduct additional closings until the offering deadline. We will issue Securities in connection with each closing. Oversubscriptions will be allocated on a first come, first served basis. Changes to the offering, material or otherwise, occurring after a closing, will only impact investments which have yet to be closed.

Your reconfirmation must be completed within five business days of receipt of the notice of a material change, and if you do not reconfirm, your investment will be cancelled, and your money will be returned to you.

Restrictions on Transfer of the Securities Offered

The securities being offered may not be transferred by any purchaser of such securities during the one-year period beginning when the securities were issued, unless such securities are transferred:

- to the issuer;
- to an accredited investor;

- as part of an offering registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission; or to a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, to a trust controlled by the purchaser, to a trust created for the benefit of a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, or in connection with the death or divorce of the purchaser or other similar circumstance.
- The term "accredited investor" means any person who comes within any of the categories set forth in Rule 501(a) of Regulation D, or who the seller reasonably believes comes within any of such categories, at the time of the sale of the securities to that person. The term "member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent" includes a child, stepchild, grandchild, parent, stepparent, grandparent, spouse or spousal equivalent, sibling, mother-in-law, father-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, brother-in-law, or sister-in-law of the purchaser, and includes adoptive relationships. The term "spousal equivalent" means a cohabitant occupying a relationship generally equivalent to that of a spouse.

Description of Issuer's Securities

16. What other securities or classes of securities of the issuer are outstanding? Describe the material terms of any other outstanding securities or classes of securities of the issuer.

| Class of Security | Amount Authorized | Amount Outstanding | Reserved Options | Convertible Note/SAFEs | Voting Rights |
|-------------------|-------------------|--------------------|------------------|------------------------|---------------|
| Common Stock | 200,000,000 | 118,904,933 | N/A | N/A | Yes. |

*The total number of shares outstanding on a fully diluted basis, 118,904,933, includes 118,904,933 shares of Common Stock shares and does not include 510,000 shares of Common Stock Warrants.

Options, Warrants and Other Rights

17. How may the rights of the securities being offered be materially limited, diluted or qualified by the rights of any other class of securities?

Investors should understand the potential for dilution. The investor's stake in a company could be diluted due to the company issuing additional shares. In other words, when the company issues more shares, the percentage of the company that you own will go down, even though the value of the company may go up. You will own a smaller piece of a larger company. This increase in number of shares outstanding could result from a stock offering (such as an initial public offering, another crowdfunding round, a venture capital round, angel investment), employees exercising stock options, or by conversion of certain instruments (e.g., convertible bonds, preferred shares or warrants) into stock. If the company decides to issue more shares, an investor could experience value dilution, with each share being worth less than before, and control dilution, with the total percentage an investor owns being less than before. There may also be earnings dilution, with a reduction in the amount earned per share (though this typically occurs only if the company offers dividends, and most early-stage companies are unlikely to offer dividends, preferring to invest any earnings into the company)

18. Are there any differences not reflected above between the securities being offered and each other class of security of the issuer?

No, the only security the issuer has authorized and outstanding is Common Stock.

19. How could the exercise of rights held by the principal owners identified in Question 5 above affect the purchasers of Securities being offered?

The holder of a majority of the voting rights in the company may make decisions with which you disagree, or that negatively affect the value of your investment in the company, and you will have no recourse to change those decisions. Your interests may conflict with the interests of other investors, and there is no guarantee that the company will develop in a way that is advantageous to you. For example, the majority shareholder may decide to issue additional shares to new investors, sell convertible debt instruments with beneficial conversion features, or make decisions that affect the tax treatment of the company in ways that may be unfavorable to you. Based on the risks described above, you may lose all or part of your investment in the securities that you purchase, and you may never see positive returns.

20. How are the securities being offered valued? Include examples of methods for how such securities may be valued by the issuer in the future, including during subsequent corporate actions.

Pre-Money Valuation: $332,933,812

This valuation is a function of successfully raising funds, over multiple rounds, over multiple years, while exceeding investor expectations by delivering an ongoing series of valuable and de-risking milestones along the way.

Our assets and achievements include:

1. An industry-leading position in IP/patents, much like Qualcomm's in cellphone technology
2. The design, manufacture, and deployment of two generations of smart mailboxes with customers and partners.
3. The current development of our third-gen mailbox system and marketplace will be operationalized at scale.
4. We have grown our team and board with more industry expertise, knowledge, and ability to execute
5. Most recently, a multi-week automated and courier delivery pilot with the US Post Office, Uber Eats, Doordash, McDonald's, and other local retailers, businesses, and restaurants.

6. Acknowledged Market leader/brand in smart automation mailboxes – working with many drone, robotic, retail, and other players in automated delivery

Many industry counterparts, who are also pre-revenue, have 9-figure and IO-figure valuations. As leaders in drones, robotics, autonomy, and drone services they will benefit from the largest change in e-commerce since the internet - like we do. E-commerce on-demand - to your door or business - is a world-economy-changing opportunity.

It's now acknowledged that an automated delivery supply chain will have limited success without a secure, smart, climate-controlled receptacle like Arrive's. Our valuation reflects the fact that we are an indispensable component of the last mile of automated deliveries by drones, robots, autonomous vehicles, and couriers from the likes of Uber Eats, UPS, and Walmart.

Initially, we will be targeting a single-digit percentage of the US market with our mail-box-as-a-service and automated-delivery marketplace (which enables scheduling, space reservation, and promotion for automated deliveries). Our business model is designed to deliver annual recurring revenue in the billions. If we value our business with the same timeframe and industry potential that our comparable are valued with, its easy to see why future-looking investors, seeking the next Amazon or Google, have made investments in the building blocks of tomorrow's automated logistics and delivery industry at our prior levels of valuations. For Arrive, a single-digit percentage of just the 160 million plus US addresses represents a recurring revenue opportunity measured in the billions over the next decade.

Publicly-disclosed valuations of the following comparable companies include:

- Joby Aviation: Raised a $100M Series B in February 2018 at a valuation of $350M. The company is pre-commercial.
- Nuro: Raised a $600M Series D in November 2021 at a valuation of $8B. The company is pre-commercial.
- Zipline: Raised a $250M Series E in June 2021 at a valuation of $2.5B. The company remains in the pilot stage in the U.S. but offers autonomous delivery in Rwanda and Ghana.

Our competitive advantage is Arrive's intellectual property patents which provide the company with the first position for the secured drone and robotic delivery mailbox. We beat Amazon to the patent office by nine days and the United States Postal Services by two weeks.

Patent 1 <https://patents.google.com/patent/US9840340B2/en?q=9%2c840%2c340>

The Company set its valuation internally without a formal-third party independent evaluation.

The securities being offered are valued at the issuer's discretion. An early-stage company typically sells its shares (or grants options over its shares) to its founders and early employees at a very low cash cost, because they are, in effect, putting their "sweat equity" into the company. When the company seeks cash investments from outside investors, like you, the new investors typically pay a much larger sum for their shares than the founders or earlier investors, which means that the cash value of your stake is immediately diluted because each share of the same type is worth the same amount, and you paid more for your shares than earlier investors did for theirs.

There are several ways to value a company, and none of them is perfect and all of them involve a certain degree of guesswork. Any of these methods, plus others, may be used to determine valuation in the future:

Liquidation Value - The amount for which the assets of the company can be sold, minus the liabilities owed, e.g., the assets of a bakery include the cake mixers, ingredients, baking tins, etc. The liabilities of a bakery include the cost of rent or mortgage on the bakery. However, this value does not reflect the potential value of a business, e.g., the value of the secret recipe. The value for most startups lies in their potential, as many early-stage companies do not have many assets.

Book Value - This is based on analysis of the company's financial statements, usually looking at the company's balance sheet as prepared by its accountants. However, the balance sheet only looks at costs (i.e., what was paid for the asset), and does not consider whether the asset has increased in value over time. In addition, some intangible assets, such as patents, trademarks or trade names, are very valuable but are not usually represented at their market value on the balance sheet.

Earnings Approach - This is based on what the investor will pay (the present value) for what the investor expects to obtain in the future (the future return), considering inflation, the lost opportunity to participate in other investments, the risk of not receiving the return. However, predictions of the future are uncertain and valuation of future returns is a best guess.

Different methods of valuation produce a different answer as to what your investment is worth. Typically, liquidation value and book value will produce a lower valuation than the earnings approach. However, the earnings approach is also most likely to be risky as it is based on many assumptions about the future, while liquidation value and book value are much more conservative.

Future investors (including people seeking to acquire the company) may value the company differently. They may use a different valuation method, or different assumptions about the company's business and its market. Different valuations may mean that the value assigned to your investment changes. It frequently happens that when a large institutional investor such as a venture capitalist makes an investment in a company, it values the company at a lower price than the initial investors did. If this happens, the value of the investment would go down.

21. What are the risks to purchasers of the securities relating to minority ownership in the issuer?

The company's Certificate of Incorporation or Bylaws can be amended by the holders of a majority of the issued and outstanding shares of the Company. As minority owners, the crowdfunding investors are subject to the decisions made by the majority owners. The issued and outstanding shares of common stock give management voting control of the company. As a minority owner, you may be outvoted on issues that impact your investment, such as, among other things: (a) the liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the company, or effecting any merger or consolidation; (b) amendment of any provision of the Certificate of Incorporation or Bylaws; (c) creation and issuance of other securities having rights, preferences or privileges senior to the common stock sold to the crowdfunding investors, or increasing the authorized number of shares of stock of the company; or (d) creation of any debt security.

22. What are the risks to purchasers associated with corporate actions including:

- 1. Additional issuances of securities
- 2. Issuer repurchases of securities
- 3. A sale of the issuer or of assets of the issuer
- 4. Transactions with related parties

The authorization and issuance of additional shares of the company's common stock will dilute the ownership of the crowdfunding investors. As a result, if the company achieves profitable operations in the future, its net income per share will be reduced because of dilution, and the market price of the company's common stock, if there is a market price, could decline as a result of the additional issuances of securities. If the company repurchases securities, so that the above risk is mitigated, and there are fewer shares of common stock outstanding, the company may not have enough cash available for marketing expenses, growth, or operating expenses to reach our goals. If we do not have enough cash to operate and grow, we anticipate the market price of our securities would decline. A sale of the company or of all of the assets of the company may result in an entire loss of your investment. We cannot predict the market value of the company or its assets, and the proceeds of a sale may not be cash, but instead, unmarketable securities, or an assumption of liabilities. It is unlikely that in the near term, a sale would result in a premium that is significant enough over book value to generate a return to our investors. We may need to negotiate with a related party for additional capital. No assurance can be given that such funds will be available or, if available, will be on commercially reasonable terms satisfactory to us. Even if such financing is available, it may be on terms that are materially adverse to your interests with respect to dilution of book value, dividend preferences, liquidation preferences, or other terms.

23. Describe the material terms of any indebtedness of the issuer:

| Creditor(s) | Amount Outstanding | Interest Rate | Maturity Date |
|------------------------------|--------------------|---------------|---------------|
| Paul Evans and Brian Grigsby | $66,450.00 | 0.0% | May 11, 2025 |

*The Company has issued 510,000 shares of Common Stock warrants. They were granted to two investors. The first investor holds Common Stock warrants for 250,000 shares that were issued on March 21, 2021 and the Common Stock warrants for 260,000 were issued to the second investor on May 11, 2021.

Financial Condition of the Issuer

26. Does the issuer have an operating history?

Overview

Our current monthly burn rate is approximately $150,000/month, with zero revenue. Based on our current cash on hand as of December 2022, this means we are viable for another 10 months. Our plan is to go operational in 2025.

Bridge Years 2023-25

We are planning for a $3.5MM yearly crowdsourcing target (which we raised in a parallel effort in 2021 on WeFunder) for both 2023 and 2024, allowing us to hold plenty of cash on hand in preparation for future and ongoing operational expenses. This number does not include possible angel investments, which have averaged $1.0 MM per annum for the last two years.

We aim to be operational with 75,000 units installed by end of 2025.

Foreseeable major expenses based on projections:

The foreseeable major expenses based on projections include the following: Research & Development; Pilots/ Product Development; Test market identification and rollout; and Legal/ Intellectual Property.

Future operational challenges:

Future operational challenges include the following:

- Iterative development of product, customer pilots, and operations rely heavily on continuous learning and co-creation with customers. They inherently contain learning and risk. The goal is to de-risk the business as product-market-fit and milestones for scaling are achieved.
- The pace of market adaptation and customer penetration.
- Collaboration with key customers, technology providers, professional service providers, and channels

Future challenges related to capital resources:

Future challenges related to capital resources include access to continuing funding sources and raising on the platform as management executes the business plan.

Future milestones and events:

Future milestones and events that will significantly impact the company financially include the following:

- Marketing penetration
- Sales penetration
- Customer service support

- Product installation
- Development of key customers, technology providers, professional service providers and channels

27. Describe the financial condition of the issuer, including, to the extent material, liquidity, capital resources and historical results of operations.

Arrive had approximately $1.5M of cash on hand as of December 31, 2022. The Company has no existing lines of credit. We will likely require additional financing in excess of the proceeds from the current offering.

The funds from this campaign are critical to the company's operations and will allow the company to launch its business plan. These funds will provide the necessary capital to operate and execute its plan until the next fundraise.

Should Arrive meet its minimum funding target, the projected runway is 10 months. If the maximum is raised, Arrive would expect to operate for approximately 3 years and would have the flexibility to accelerate the pre-revenue phase with the appropriate growth. The objective is to become revenue-producing by the end of 2023 or early 2024.

The Company is actively pursuing other opportunities in the market that may provide additional sources of capital. We do not have the ability to make mandatory capital calls from existing investors.

28. Include the financial information specified by regulation, covering the two most recently completed fiscal years or the period(s) since inception if shorter.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORTS

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the Stockholders and Board of Directors of
Arrive Technology Inc. (formerly Dronedek Corporation)

Opinion on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying balance sheet of Arrive Technology Inc. (formerly Dronedek Corporation) (the Company) as of December 31, 2022, and the related statements of operations, stockholders' equity, and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes (collectively referred to as the financial statements). In our opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as of December 31, 2022, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year ended, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Explanatory Paragraph – Going Concern

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. As discussed in Note 3 to the financial statements, the Company has an accumulated deficit of $4,061,520 and a net loss for the current year of $2,388,614. These conditions raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. Management's plans regarding these matters are also described in Note 3. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

Basis for Opinion

These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's financial statements based on our audits. We are a public accounting firm registered with the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) (PCAOB) and are required to be independent with respect to the Company in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement, whether due to error or fraud. The Company is not required to have, nor were we engaged to perform, an audit of its internal control over financial reporting. As part of our audits, we are required to obtain an understanding of internal control over financial reporting, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion.

Our audits included performing procedures to assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to error or fraud, and performing procedures that respond to those risks. Such procedures included examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our audits also included evaluating the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

Critical Audit Matters

The critical audit matters communicated below are matters arising from the current period audit of the financial statements that were communicated or required to be communicated to the audit committee and that: (1) relate to accounts or disclosures that are material to the financial statements and (2) involved our especially challenging, subjective, or complex judgments. The communication of critical audit matters does not alter in any way our opinion on the financial statements, taken as a whole, and we are not, by communicating the critical audit matters below, providing separate opinions on the critical audit matters or on the accounts or disclosures to which they relate.

Assessment on commencement of depreciation related to construction-in-progress (CIP)

The Company's evaluation of when to commence depreciation of CIP involves determining when the assets are available for their intended use. The criteria the Company uses to determine whether CIP are available for their intended use involves subjective judgments and assumptions about the conditions necessary for the assets to be capable of operating in the intended manner. Changes in these assumptions could have a significant impact on when depreciation is recognized.

Our audit procedures to address this critical audit matter included, among others, examined and evaluated management's accounting policy to determine when assets are available for their intended use, tested supports and inquired responsible personnel and determined whether assets are ready for their intended use as of and subsequent to December 31, 2022. As a result of our testing we did not take exception to management's conclusion that projects under CIP are still on build in and testing stage, thus, not yet available for its intended use. Accordingly, no depreciation expense was recognized related to these projects for the year ended December 31, 2022.

Board of Directors and Stockholders
Arrive Technology Inc. (formerly DRONEDEK Corporation)
Indianapolis, Indiana

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Arrive Technology Inc. (formerly DRONEDEK Corporation) (a Delaware corporation) (the Company), which comprise the balance sheet as of December 31, 2021, and the related statements of operations, stockholders' equity, and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as of December 31, 2021, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of the Company and to meet our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audit. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Substantial Doubt about the Company's Ability to Continue as a Going Concern

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. As discussed in Note 3 to the financial statements, the Company has incurred net losses in all years of operations and expects to incur future losses which raise substantial doubt about its ability to continue as a going concern. Management's evaluation of the events and conditions and management's plans regarding those matters are also described in Note 3. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty. Our opinion is not modified with respect to this matter.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error. In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern within one year after the date that the financial statements are available to be issued.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control-related matters that we identified during the audit.

ARRIVE TECHNOLOGY INC.
(FORMERLY DRONEDEK CORPORATION)

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

December 31, 2022 and 2021

1. NATURE OF OPERATIONS

Arrive Technology Inc. (formerly DRONEDEK Corporation) (the Company) was incorporated on April 30, 2020, in the State of Delaware. In 2023, DRONEDEK Corporation changed its name to Arrive Technology Inc. On May 19, 2023, and June 27, 2023, the Company filed documentation for this name change with the State of Indiana and the State of Delaware, respectively. The Company is a developmental technology company with a focus on designing and implementing a commercially viable smart mailbox for drone package receiving and storage.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Accounting

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (USGAAP).

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with USGAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Management evaluates its estimates and assumptions on an ongoing basis using historical experience and other factors, including the current economic environment and makes adjustments when facts and circumstances dictate. These estimates are based on information available as of the date of the financial statements; therefore, actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash

Cash is defined as currency on hand and on-demand deposits. Cash equivalents are unrestricted highly liquid cash investments purchased with a maturity of three (3) months or less. There were no cash equivalents at December 31, 2022 and 2021.

Concentration of Credit Risk

The Company maintains its cash balances at one financial institution. The account is insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) up to a specified limit. The Company's balances at the financial institutions periodically exceed federally insured limits. At December 31, 2022 and 2021, the Company's uninsured cash balances totaled approximately $1,307,000 and $2,427,000, respectively.

ARRIVE TECHNOLOGY INC.
(FORMERLY DRONEDEK CORPORATION)

Management believes that the Company is not exposed to any significant risk concerning its cash balances. To date, the Company has not recognized any losses caused by uninsured balances.

Property and Equipment

The property and equipment is recorded at cost. The Company's policy is to depreciate the cost of the property and equipment using the straight-line method over the estimated useful life of the asset. The costs of maintenance and repairs are charged to expense when incurred (none noted in the current or prior year as it relates to the vehicle). The useful life of the property and equipment for purposes of computing depreciation is:

| | Useful Life |
|---------|--------------------|
| Vehicle | 5 years |

Construction-In-Progress

Construction-in-progress assets are measured at cost and consist of drone units, drone and mailbox support infrastructure, "smart" mailbox units, and a vehicle. Construction-in-progress assets are not depreciated until completed, commissioned, and ready for use. The cost of an item consists of the purchase price, any costs directly attributable to bringing the asset to the location, and conditions necessary for its intended use. As of December 31, 2022 and 2021, total costs accumulated in the construction-in-progress assets are $722,069 and $512,328, respectively. As of December 31, 2022 and 2021, there were no contracts with future commitments.

Intangible Assets – Patents

The Company capitalizes external costs, such as filing fees, registration documentation, and attorney fees associated with the application and issuance of patents. The Company expenses costs associated with maintaining and defending patents subsequent to issuance in the period incurred. The Company amortizes capitalized patent costs for internally generated patents on a straight-line basis over 20 years or the period in which the goods associated with the patent will be revenue-generating, which represents the estimated useful lives of the patents. The estimated useful lives for internally generated patents are based on the assessment of the following factors: the integrated nature of the patent portfolios being licensed (including the ability of the patent to generate viable goods and revenues), the overall makeup of the patent portfolio over time, and the length of license agreements for such patents. The Company assesses the potential impairment of all capitalized patent costs when events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of the Company's patent portfolio may not be recoverable.

Impairment of Long-Lived Assets

Intangibles and other long-lived assets are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of any long-lived asset may not be fully recoverable. In the event that facts and circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of any long-lived assets may be impaired, an evaluation of recoverability is performed. If an evaluation was required, the estimated future undiscounted cash flows associated with the asset (or group of assets) would be compared to the assets' (or group of assets') carrying amount to determine if a write-down to fair value is required on the basis of the assets' associated undiscounted cash flows. As of December 31, 2022 and 2021, there were no impairment charges recorded.

Accounts Payable and Accrued Liabilities

Payables are obligations to pay for materials or services that have been acquired or have been rendered in the ordinary course of business from suppliers or vendors. Payables and accrued liabilities are classified as current if payment is due within one year.

Equity Financing

The Company engages in equity financing transactions to obtain the funds necessary to continue operations and develop a commercially viable drone delivery system. These equity financing transactions involve the issuance of common stock and at times, if the cash investment by each investor exceeds $250,000, include equity warrants.

Equity warrants are instruments that bestow upon the holder of the instrument the right to buy a particular stock at a predetermined price within a stipulated time frame. Under Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) 480, the Company classified the warrants as equity instruments and carries the warrants at the grant date fair market value.

Depending on the terms and conditions of each equity financing transaction, the warrants are exercisable into additional common shares at an agreed-upon price, as defined in the Stock and Warrant Purchase Agreement ("the agreement") prior to the expiration of the warrants as stipulated by the terms of the transaction in the agreement. The fair value of the stock purchase warrants issued is determined by using the Black-Scholes-Merton ("Black-Scholes") model.

The Black-Scholes model requires the use of highly subjective and complex assumptions, which determine the fair value of warrants, including the warrants' expected terms and the price volatility of the underlying stocks. The Company calculates the fair value of warrants granted by using the Black-Scholes pricing model with the following assumptions:

Expected Volatility: The Company estimated volatility for warrants by evaluating the average historical volatility of a peer group of companies for the period immediately preceding the warrant for a term that is approximately equal to the warrants' expected terms.

Expected Term: The expected term of the Company's warrants represents the period that the warrants are expected to be outstanding (typically, to expiration). The Company used the time remaining to the expiration of the warrants (contractual expiration) to compute the expected term, as the Company does not have sufficient historical information to develop reasonable expectations about future exercise patterns and post-vesting employment termination behavior.

Risk-Free Interest Rate: The risk-free interest rate is based on the implied yield currently available on U.S. Treasury zero-coupon issues with a term that is equal to the warrants' expected terms at the grant date.

Dividend Yield: The Company has not declared or paid dividends to date and does not anticipate declaring dividends. As such, the dividend yield has been estimated to be zero.

The warrants have not been registered under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, or qualified under any state or foreign securities laws and may not be offered for sale, sold, pledged, hypothecated, or otherwise transferred or assigned unless (i) a registration statement covering such shares is effective under the act and is qualified under applicable state and foreign law or (ii) the transaction is exempt from the registration and prospectus delivery requirements under the act and the qualification requirements under applicable state and foreign law and, if the corporation requests, an opinion satisfactory to the corporation to such effect has been rendered by counsel. The Company registered with the Security and Exchange Commission (SEC) on July 16, 2021, however, is not yet traded on the public market.

Loss per share

Basic loss per share is computed by dividing net loss by weighted average number of shares of common stock outstanding during each period. Diluted loss per share is computed by dividing net loss by the weighted average number of shares of common stock, common stock equivalents and potentially dilutive securities outstanding during the period.

The Company had 652,857 warrants outstanding as of December 31, 2022, with exercise prices of $2.38 per share. The weighted average exercise price for these warrants is $2.38 per share. These warrants are excluded from the weighted average number of shares because they are considered anti-dilutive.

ARRIVE TECHNOLOGY INC.
(FORMERLY DRONEDEK CORPORATION)

The Company had 510,000 warrants outstanding as of December 31, 2021, with exercise prices of $2.38 per share. The weighted average exercise price for these warrants is $2.38 per share. These warrants are excluded from the weighted average number of shares because they are considered anti-dilutive.

Offering Costs

The Company complies with the requirements of FASB ASC 340-10-S99-1 and SEC Staff Accounting Bulletin (“SAB”) Topic 5A - Expenses of Offering. For the years ended December 31, 2022 and 2021, total offering costs were $24,640 and $274,123, respectively. Accumulated offering costs were $298,763 and $274,123 as of December 31, 2022 and 2021, respectively. These offering costs consisted of professional, regulatory, and other costs; all of which were charged to additional paid-in capital for all funding campaigns (crowdfunding, seed series, StartEngine, etc.) held by the Company.

General and Administrative Expenses

General and administrative expenses include general compensation (including stock compensation), compensation for executive management, employee benefits, finance administration, and human resources, facility costs (including rent and common area maintenance charges), professional service fees, and other general overhead costs to support the Company’s operations.

Research and Development

Research and development (R&D) costs, included in office supplies and software on the statements of operations, that do not meet the criteria for capitalization are expensed as incurred. Research and development expenses include fees paid to outside consultants for the Company’s proprietary technology. For the year ended December 31, 2022, the Company had R&D costs totaling $136,817. For the year ended December 31, 2021, there were no costs related to R&D.

Marketing Expenses

The Company uses various marketing methods to create brand awareness to promote and alert the public about future product and service offerings to generate future capital or revenue when a viable product is created. The Company’s policy is to charge marketing costs to expenses in the period they are incurred. Marketing expenses were $195,323 and $310,917 for the years ended December 31, 2022 and 2021, respectively.

Stock-Based Compensation

The Company measures and records the expense related to stock-based payment awards based on the fair value of those awards as determined on the date of the grant. The Company recognizes stock-based compensation expense over the requisite service period of the individual grant, generally equal to the vesting period, and uses the straight-line method to recognize stock-based compensation, as applicable. For stock-based compensation with performance conditions, the Company records compensation expenses when the performance condition is met. The Company uses the market approach, using the prior company transactions method, as the fair market value indication for one (1) share of the Company's common stock, which was determined to be $0.21 as of January 1, 2021. The Company has determined $1.82 as the fair market value of shares that were issued as stock compensation during 2022, based on the price per stock issued to investors for cash during 2022.

The prior company transaction method utilizes actual transactions in the Company's non-controlling, non-marketable private company equity interests. Therefore, the result is reflective of a non-controlling, non-marketable private company value and no discount for lack of control or marketability was considered necessary in the application of this methodology. As part of this methodology, there are a number of limiting assumptions, however, management believes it appropriately represents the fair market value indication for one (1) share of the Company's common stock. Since the Company's stock is not publicly traded, the expected volatility is based on the historical and implied volatility of similar companies whose stock or option prices are publicly available, after considering the industry, stage of the life cycle, size, market capitalization, and financial leverage of the other companies.

Income Taxes

Income taxes are accounted for under the asset and liability method. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases, operating loss, and tax credit carryforwards. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized in income in the period that includes the enactment date.

A valuation allowance is recorded for deferred tax assets if it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. As of December 31, 2022 and 2021, the Company has recorded a full valuation allowance against its deferred tax assets (see Note 13). The Company evaluates uncertain income tax positions in order to determine if it is more likely than not that they would be sustained upon examination.

ARRIVE TECHNOLOGY INC.
(FORMERLY DRONEDEK CORPORATION)

As the Company was incorporated in 2020, the Company's Federal income tax returns for all years of operation are subject to examination by the Internal Revenue Service.

Fair Value Measurements

Fair value accounting is applied for all assets and liabilities and non-financial assets and liabilities that are recognized or disclosed at fair value in the financial statements on a recurring basis (at least annually). Fair value is defined as the exchange price that would be received for an asset or an exit price that would be paid to transfer a liability in the principal or most advantageous market for the asset or liability in an orderly transaction between market participants on the measurement date. The Company follows established frameworks for measuring fair value and expands disclosures about fair value measurements (reference Note 4).

New Accounting Standards

In February 2016, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Accounting Standards Update (ASU) No. 2016-02, Leases (Topic 842), which supersedes existing guidance for accounting for leases under Topic 840, Leases. The FASB also subsequently issued the following additional ASUs, which amend and clarify Topic 842: ASU No. 2018-01, Land Easement Practical Expedient for Transition to Topic 842; ASU No. 2018-10, Codification Improvements to Topic 842, Leases; ASU 2018-11, Leases (Topic 842): Targeted Improvements; ASU No. 2018-20, Narrow-scope Improvements for Lessors; and ASU No. 2019-01, Leases (Topic 842): Codification Improvements. The Company elected to adopt certain of these ASUs, effective January 1, 2022, as disclosed in Note 8.

Upcoming Accounting Pronouncement

In November 2019, FASB issued ASU No. 2019-10, Financial Instruments—Credit Losses (Topic 326), Derivatives and Hedging (Topic 815): Effective Dates, which, among other items, allows public business entities that qualify as smaller reporting companies for SEC reporting purposes additional time to implement the guidance related to FASB ASC 623. Under ASU No. 2019-10, the effective date for such entities is deferred to fiscal years, and interim periods within those fiscal years, beginning after December 15, 2022. Earlier application was allowed for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2018, including interim periods within those fiscal years.

3. GOING CONCERN

The Company's financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis, which contemplates the realization of assets and satisfaction of liabilities in the normal course of business. The financial statements do not include any adjustment relating to recoverability and classification of recorded amounts of assets and liabilities that might be necessary should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern.

The Company has a minimum cash balance available for payment of ongoing operating expenses. As of December 31, 2022, the Company has an accumulated deficit of $4,061,520 and a net loss for the current year of $2,388,614. These conditions raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern for a period of twelve months from the issuance date of this report. The Company is subject to a number of risks similar to those of other companies of similar size in its industry, including, but not limited to, the need for successful development of products, the need for additional capital (or financing) to fund operating losses, competition from substitute products and services from larger companies, protection of proprietary technology, patent litigation, dependence on key individuals, and risks associated with changes in information technology.

The Company's continued existence is dependent upon its ability to continue to execute its operating plan and to obtain additional debt or equity financing. There can be no assurance that the necessary debt or equity financing will be available or will be available on terms acceptable to the Company.

4. FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS

The Company reports all financial assets and liabilities and non-financial assets and liabilities that are recognized or disclosed at fair value in the financial statements on a recurring basis. Valuation techniques used to measure fair value must maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs. The authoritative guidance establishes a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value.

The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 measurements) and the lowest priority to measurements involving significant unobservable inputs (Level 3 measurements). The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are as follows:

Level 1: Inputs to the valuation methodology are unadjusted quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in active markets that the Plan has the ability to access at the measurement date.

Level 2: Inputs to the valuation methodology other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly, such as:

ARRIVE TECHNOLOGY INC.
(FORMERLY DRONEDEK CORPORATION)

4. FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS (Continued)

- a. Quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets,
- b. Quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in inactive markets,
- c. Inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability, and
- d. Inputs that are derived principally from or corroborated by observable market data by correlation or other means.

If the asset or liability has a specified (contractual) term, the Level 2 input must be observable for substantially the full term of the asset or liability.

Level 3: Inputs to the valuation methodology are unobservable and significant to the fair value measurement.

The level in the fair value hierarchy within which a fair value measurement in its entirety falls is based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement in its entirety.

The financial statements as of and for the years ended December 31, 2022 and 2021, does not include any nonrecurring fair value measurements relating to assets or liabilities.

The Company measures the warrants using Level 3 unobservable inputs within the Black-Scholes pricing model, as described in Note 2. The Company used various key assumptions, such as the fair value of the common stock, volatility, the risk-free interest rate, and expected term (remaining contractual term of the warrants).

5. PROPERTY AND EQUIPMENT

Property and equipment consist of the following as of December 31, 2022 and 2021:

| | 2022 | 2021 |
|------------------------------------------|------------------|-------------|
| Vehicle | $ 58,443 | $ - |

5. PROPERTY AND EQUIPMENT (Continued)

For the year ended December 31, 2022, total depreciation expense was $9,764. For the year ended December 31, 2021, there was no depreciation expense.

6. PATENTS

Patents consist of the following as of December 31, 2022 and 2021:

| | 2022 | 2021 |
|--------------------------------|-------------------|-------------|
| Patents | $ 198,200 | $ - |
| Total patents | 198,200 | - |
| Less: accumulated amortization | - | - |
| TOTAL PATENTS | $ 198,200 | $ - |

As of December 31, 2022, there were no patents approved by the countries in which the patent applications were filed and accordingly, no amortization was recorded. In 2023, the two (2) of the Company's forty-four (44) pending patents were approved and began being amortized over twenty years.

For the years ended December 31, 2022 and 2021, there was no amortization expense.

7. NOTE PAYABLE

Note payable at December 31, 2022 is as follows:

| Vehicle note payable entered into during 2022 for $40,248 with monthly installment payments of $799, including interest at 6.99% per annum. The loan is collateralized by the respective vehicle and is due in February 2027. | $ 33,688 |

7. NOTE PAYABLE (Continued)

The balance of the above debt matures as follows:

| Year Ending December 31, | Amount |

| 2027 | 659 |
| TOTAL | $ 33,688 |

Interest expense related to this note payable for the years ended December 31, 2022 and 2021, was $1,571 and -$0-, respectively.

8. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

Lease Obligation

Effective November 15, 2021, the Company began leasing office spaces under a month-to-month lease which can be canceled with a 30-day written notice and agreement to suitable terms by both parties. Under this lease, for months 1 through 12, base rent is $1,500 and for months 13 through 24, increases to $1,545.

The Company is required to pay insurance, listing the property owner as an additional insured, and normal maintenance costs for certain of this leased property.

As discussed in Note 2, FASB, under ASU No. 2016-02, Topic 842, Leases, allows companies to elect certain policies for short-term leases. To qualify as a short-term lease, a lease must have an initial term of 12 months or less and not include renewal options or a purchase option that the lessee is reasonably certain to exercise.

The lease arrangement is a month-to-month arrangement that can be canceled with a 30-day written notice and agreement of suitable terms and does not include a purchase option. Due to the insignificant nature of the lease transaction, the Company has not recorded the potential right-of-use asset and the related lease liability and has recorded lease expenses on a straight-line basis.

8. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES (Continued)

Litigation

From time to time, the Company may become involved in various legal proceedings in the ordinary course of its business and may be subject to third-party infringement claims. In the normal course of business, the Company may agree to indemnify third parties with whom it enters into contractual relationships, including customers, lessors, and parties to other transactions with the Company, with respect to certain matters.

The Company has agreed, under certain conditions, to hold these third parties harmless against specified losses, such as those arising from a breach of representations or covenants, other third-party claims that the Company's products, when used for their intended purposes, infringe the intellectual property rights of such other third parties, or other claims made against certain parties. It is not possible to determine the maximum potential amount of liability under these indemnification obligations due to the Company's limited history of prior indemnification claims and the unique facts and circumstances that are likely to be involved in each particular claim.

From time to time, the Company is subject to various claims that arise in the ordinary course of business. Management believes that any liability of the Company that may arise out of or with respect to these matters will not materially adversely affect the financial position, results of operations, or cash flows of the Company.

9. RELATED-PARTY TRANSACTIONS

On May 26, 2020, the Company entered into a 3-year agreement with a stockholder of the Company for the use of a patent. Beginning June 1, 2020, the Company began paying the stockholder a monthly license fee of $10,000. Once revenue from sales, rentals, and leases begins, the Company is required to pay $25.00 per unit sold. If the Company does not sell 400 units per month (or $10,000), the original fixed $10,000 is paid. Accordingly, for the years ended December 31, 2022 and 2021, the Company recorded licensing fee costs in the amount of $120,000.

Although the contract expired in 2023, no new agreement has been executed as of the date of this report. The Company has constructively extended the contract by continuing to pay licensing fees in accordance with the agreement dated May 26, 2020.

The Company rents a warehouse from an officer and shareholder for $1,500 a month on a month-to-month basis.

Treasury Stock

The Company recognizes treasury stock based on the amount paid to repurchase its shares and is recorded as a reduction of stockholders' equity on the balance sheets. As treasury stock is not considered outstanding for share count purposes, it is excluded from average common shares outstanding for basic and diluted earnings per share. For the year ended December 31, 2022, the Company had ten million shares in treasury with a cost of $500. As of December 31, 2021, the Company did not have any treasury stock.

Promissory Note

Effective November 19, 2021, the Company entered into a promissory note with a stockholder to issue 87,000 shares for $152,250 ($1.75 per share), which was receivable to the Company in thirty-seven (37) equal payment of $4,000 and one (1) final payment of $4,250, beginning January 2022 through March 2025. Because the Agreement was canceled, the remaining shares were no longer deemed issued and outstanding. Because of the cancellation of this Agreement, within the statements of changes in stockholders' equity, the shares purchased by this individual are included in the "issuance of common stock" line item as if the individual were a market investor.

12. RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT CREDITS

Under the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Form 6765, the Company is eligible to claim a credit related to research and development expenses. The research credit is generally allowed for expenses paid or incurred for qualified research. Qualified research means research for which expenses may be treated as section 174 expenses. This research must be undertaken for discovering information that is technological in nature, and its application must be intended for use in developing a new or improved business component of the taxpayer. The payroll tax credit election is an annual election made by a qualified small business specifying the amount of research credit, not to exceed $250,000, that may be used against the employer portion of social security liability. The credit is the smallest of the current year's research credit, an elected amount not to exceed $250,000, or the general business credit carryforward for the tax year. For the year ended December 31, 2022 and 2021, the Company had available R&D credits totaling $77,193 and $53,410, respectively.

13. INCOME TAXES

The net deferred tax amounts in the accompanying balance sheets include the following components:

| | 2022 | 2021 |

13. INCOME TAXES (Continued)

The change in the valuation allowance of the following at December 31, 2022 and 2021:

| | 2022 | 2021 |
|-------------------------------|---------------------|-------------------|
| Beginning balance, January 1 | $ 439,000 | $ - |
| Change in valuation allowance | 581,585 | 439,000 |
| VALUATION ALLOWANCE | $ 1,020,585 | $ 439,000 |

In assessing the realization of the deferred tax assets, management considers whether it is more likely than not that some portion of all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. The ultimate realization of deferred tax assets is dependent upon the generation of future taxable income during the periods in which temporary differences representing net future deductible amounts become deductible. Management considers the scheduled reversal of deferred tax liabilities, projected future taxable income, and tax planning strategies in making this assessment. After consideration of all of the information available, management believes that significant uncertainty exists with respect to the future realization of the deferred tax assets and has therefore established a full valuation allowance.

A reconciliation of the statutory tax rate to the Company's effective tax rates as of December 31, 2022 and 2021 is as follows:

| | 2022 | 2021 |
|-----------------------------------|-------------|-------------|
| Statutory federal income tax rate | 21.0% | 21.0% |
| State taxes | 5.0% | 5.0% |
| Change in valuation allowance | (26.0%) | (26.0%) |
| INCOME TAX BENEFIT | 0.0% | 0.0% |

Economic Development for a Growing Economy (EDGE) Tax Credit

The EDGE Tax Credit (the Credit) provides an incentive to businesses to support job creation, capital investment and to improve the standard of living for Indiana residents. The refundable corporate income tax credit is calculated as a percentage (not to exceed 100%) of the expected increased tax withholdings generated from new job creation. The credit certification is phased in annually for up to ten years based on the employment ramp-up outlined by the business.

As identified in Note 1, the Company is not expected to have taxable income within the next operating year from the date these financial statements are issued, therefore, the Credit is classified as a long-term asset to be used against future Indiana taxable income. For the year ended December 31, 2022 and 2021, the Company was eligible for the Credit in the amount of $14,924 and $9,195, respectively. For the year ended December 31, 2022, the Company recorded a valuation allowance against the available Credit as State taxable income is not expected.

14. SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

Subsequent events are events or transactions that occur after the balance sheet date but before the financial statements are issued or are available to be issued. These events and transactions either provide additional evidence about conditions that existed at the date of the balance sheet, including the estimates inherent in the process of preparing the financial statements (that is, recognized subsequent events), or provide evidence about conditions that did not exist at the date of the balance sheet but arose after that date (that is, non-recognized subsequent events).

On April 27, 2023, the Company adopted an equity incentive plan, which was created to retain and provide incentives for key management and other non-employees. Under this equity incentive plan, the Company authorized six million shares to be issued. Accordingly, the plan provides for the granting of distribution equivalent rights, incentive stock options, non-qualified stock options, performance unit awards, restricted stock awards, restricted stock unit awards, stock appreciation rights, tandem stock appreciation rights, unrestricted stock awards, or any combination of the foregoing.

The Company changed its name to Arrive Technology Inc., as referenced in Note 1.

In 2023, the Company received approval for two (2) of its forty-four (44) patent applications filed, as disclosed in Note 6.

The Company has received $332,994 in funding from private investors in exchange for 127,500 common stock, an average price of $2.61. Additionally, the Company has awarded 118,654 common shares as stock-based compensation.

As part of crowdfunding rounds via StartEngine, from January 2023 to the date of this report, the Company raised approximately $923,000.

The Company has evaluated subsequent events through September 15, 2023, which was the date that these financial statements were available for issuance.

BUSINESS SUMMARY:

The Last Inch of the Last Mile™

arrive

Learn more at <https://arrive.tech/solutions>

Problem

The last mile is the most expensive and challenging part of delivery and pickup logistics operations. Theft, damage, missed deliveries, and other inefficiencies are straining conventional logistics, and the exponential rise of e-commerce and on-demand deliveries has made problems worse.

INDUSTRY PROBLEMS & PAIN POINTS

- Porch Pirates & Package Theft: 2.8M packages stolen in the US in 2022. 73% of Americans had a package stolen in 2022.
- Lost Goods & Services: $1.5B lost of US package theft in 2022, $3.1B+ spent annually on lost goods & services.
- Errors & Mis-shipments: Double picking, late processing, customer service, & extra on-site.
- Higher Enviro-related Costs: Increased carbon risks needed to keep up with rise in consumer demand.
- In-Person Receipts: Missed deliveries cost time, money, effort, and consumer confidence.

Solution

Industry leaders, such as Walmart, Amazon, UPS, FedEx, USPS, are transforming their operations and customer experiences with innovative autonomous logistics and automated solutions. Arrive is empowering this transformation to autonomous logistics by solving the pain points of an automated last mile, with a MaaS platform that facilitates the smart, seamless, and secure exchanges of packages and goods between people, robots, and drones.

SOLUTIONS & OPPORTUNITY

- Savings: Automate as delivery cost can go up to 50% with $100 in industry savings every 1.5 days.
- Delivery Traffic Decongestion: Reduce traffic density, enable non-road for many % of packages, autonomous delivered in arrive.
- State-of-the-Art Security: Customer service centers including biometric and facial chain of custody, and digital signatures.
- Climate-Assisted: Maximize cooler temperatures so packaging can do its job for food, oil, wine, and food delivery.
- Greener: Reduce carbon footprint of shipping 100 packages per Arrive robot or drone to save emissions on long haul routes.

Business Model

Arrive's smart and secure Mailbox-as-a-Service platform uniquely serves residences, businesses and campuses for people, robots, and drones to deliver packages, mail, medications, and food.

Business Model

We have three primary revenue sources:

- 1. MAILBOX-AS-A-SERVICE (MAAS) RECURRING REVENUE SUBSCRIPTIONS: This is a subscription service that provides businesses and consumers with mailboxes. The fee is low and covers all of the costs associated with owning and maintaining a mailbox, such as hardware, software, support, maintenance, un/installation, and financing. This is a convenient and affordable way for businesses and consumers to get the mailboxes they need without having to worry about the upfront costs or the hassle of maintenance.
- 2. DATA MONETIZATION VIA INSIGHTS GENERATED BY ML/AI: We generate unique transactional, performance, logistical, and locational data that we can use to generate insights and opportunities for our customers, partners, and our own operations. For example, we can use this data to help businesses optimize their delivery routes, improve their customer service, and make better marketing decisions. We can also use this data to develop new products and services.
- 3. OPERATIONAL PLATFORM FEES: Our Automated Delivery Marketplace (ADM) platform schedules arrival and departure times, optimizes mailbox space, and delivers real-time data and notifications. This allows our partners to make real-time value-based trade-offs, such as placing a premium on the ability to deliver food during a major sports event or at dinner time. Our Mailbox Financing Exchange (MFE) platform also enables financiers, business partners, and automation operators to share the cost of MaaS.

The Arrive Package Tower is a multi-tenant solution designed for business campuses, apartment buildings, and other similar settings. It offers a state-of-the-art package management solution that is both convenient and secure, providing your tenants, customers, or team with an exceptional experience.

The larger capacity can accommodate a higher volume of deliveries and pickups between Arrive Points and the "package tower" through an internal carousel mechanism. This configuration ensures that packages are safely shuffled internally, enabling drone, robotic, and manned deliveries and pickups, all from a single multi-tenant solution.

Artificial Intelligence (AI) and Machine Learning (ML) Insights:

There are four types of machine learning (a form of AI):

1. Classification
2. Prediction
3. Interpretation
4. Generation

As our distribution and density of units installed grows, our platform will be able to supply the data necessary to employ various types of AI/ML for increased value, delivery and revenue throughout our ecosystem of partners, services, and customers.

Further areas where we may employ ML/AI as part of our Mailbox-as-a-Service (MaaS) platform:

1. Delivery

- Classify packages into different sizes to maximize space efficiency.
- Predict when packages are likely to be delivered to reserve inventory space or delivery times in advance.
- Benefit: Improved delivery efficiency and reduced package theft.

2. Pickup

- Classify packages into different categories of reverse logistics to determine the best networks, economics, and means of pickup.
- Predict when returns are likely to be picked up to optimize space management and prevent returns from being left too long.
- Benefit: Reduced costs and improved customer experience.

3. Users

- Classify users into different categories to personalize the experience for users and for the delivery and pickup networks and autonomous logistics they are served by.
- Provide more information about users' packages and when they are likely to use the mailbox to optimize provider and user experiences and reduce wait and cycle times.
- Benefit: Improved user satisfaction and reduced costs.

4. Environment

- Classify environmental conditions to optimize delivery and pickup performance, schedules, and experience.
- Alert users to potential problems, such as packaging and packages that may be put at risk by changing temperature or overly long exposure to extreme temperatures.
- Benefit: Reduced environmental impact and improved customer experience.

5. Autonomous logistics

- Generate new or alternative routes for autonomous delivery vehicles based on a combination of environmental factors, user behavior, and mailbox space availability.
- Improve the efficiency of delivery operations, customer experience, and reduce the environmental impact of delivery vehicles.
- Benefit: Improved delivery efficiency and customer experience, reduced costs, and reduced environmental impact.

These are just a few examples of how AI and ML may be used in Arrive smart and secure mailboxes. As we increase our installed-units footprint and as ML algorithms become more sophisticated, we can expect to see even more innovative applications of ML in Arrive smart mailboxes in the future that will accelerate growth and revenue potential.

Traction & Customers

FIELD TESTED: Our solutions have had numerous demonstrations and field tests conducted with first and second generation products across a range of delivery scenarios including manned, robotic, and drone deliveries.

In August of 2022, we launched our first pilot program in Lawrence, Indiana. This multi-week, multi-unit pilot included the world's first delivery of First-Class mail by a traditional ground carrier to an Arrive smart mailbox, and was featured both locally and nationally. Pilot participants beyond USPS included DoorDash, McDonald's, Culver's, UberEats, and other local businesses. (Source 1; Source 2)

STRATEGIC PARTNERSHIPS: The company has announced strategic partnerships with a number of leading companies in the technology and logistics industries across its smart MaaS ecosystem, including Hush Aerospace (source), HEI Integrated Systems (source), Joule Case (source) and A2Z Drone Delivery (source).

GROWING DEMAND: Arrive has received significant interest from investors, partners, and customers. We are confident that Arrive can be the leading provider of secure, autonomous last mile delivery solutions in the years to come.

LOOKING AHEAD: We envision our smart mailbox solutions being at the center of your daily interactions with food, mail, and packages. We aim for our devices to be funnels to the last mile, in that piece of real estate where every delivery starts or ends. We feel that a successful capital campaign could allow us to accelerate research, ramp up development, increase operations, expand our marketing, and continue to grow our team.

Growth Strategies

Smart mailboxes for the automated and frictionless exchange of packages and goods between people, robots, and drones are a promising new emerging market and category of technology, validated by customer interest and new competition. To obtain sustainable advantageous growth we are employing proven strategies, platform thinking, and playbooks for bringing new technologies to market.

Planned Progression

While many have envisioned a future of pervasive automated delivery and pickup mailboxes available everywhere, the challenge is how to get there. No single organization or use case has provided sufficient return on investment ("ROI") for deploying last mile automation and smart mailboxes that are distributed everywhere. It is evident that it will take a planned progression of multiple business models, operators, and locations that can together provide justifiable ROI for an ecosystem of interconnected automation, smart mailbox, and business stakeholders. Businesses, technology providers, operators, consumers, and communities will all need to develop interdependent and compelling business cases to meet customer needs in a phased approach. Each with automated drone and robot delivery and pickup with our mailbox platform to provide smart, secure, and seamless exchanges. This phased approach to ultimate ubiquity of automated services informs our phased approach for going-to-market as well.

We believe an initial focus on Medical Operation, first on medical campuses and later growing to their extended networks for doctors, clinics, pharmacies and more, will provide a successful and profitable growth path towards more ubiquitous availability of automated delivery and pickup. By focusing initially on the delivery and pickup of lab samples, medicine and supplies on medical campuses and then reaching out to their local networks of medical business partners, we can build the requisite foundation and ROI for then further spreading smart mailboxes into communities and other use cases for automated delivery like food, goods, and services. If we were instead to start with the automated delivery of delivery of food, goods, and services, as many automation companies and retailers have, the requisite ROI and margins for automated operations and the business models is too low to support the growth of a collective ecosystem of partners - which to-date has been unable to justify the massive investment necessary. There may be some exceptions by the largest players like Walmart, but for our company and others, starting with automation in medical ops and then progressing over time to more businesses and areas, and ultimately culminating in consumer residential markets, makes the most sense.

Begin with a Beachhead

The order of growth for our go-to-market and ROI starts with a beachhead in medical operations and large assisted living communities.

It's a proven playbook/strategy now, first described in Geoffrey Moore's, "Crossing the Chasm", to approach the early market within niche markets that can be well-served before moving to the next adjacent market. We have begun our go-to-market by serving the needs of two associated and synergistic markets in medical operations and large assisted living communities. By solidifying our position in these markets first it allows us to obtain a profitable foundation and more learning to navigate a path forward to other markets and networks of value.

Medical Operations

We define medical operations as hospitals, medical campuses, and laboratories with associated networks of doctors and clinics. By starting with hospitals, medical campuses, and laboratories we can prove the value and ROI of better patient outcomes and operational efficiencies by employing our smart mailboxes across a portfolio of valuable use cases:

- A. Weekend, off-hour, and holiday lab sample deliveries and pickups when staffing is much lower. This begins with immediate improvements in the time-sensitive receiving, notification, and routing of courier lab sample deliveries, which will be improved with automated drone delivery and robotic pickup.
- B. For hospitals and labs that are already navigating the use of robots and drones, we can make exchanges of supplies, medicine and samples between buildings more smart, secure, and seamless - eliminating the friction of handoffs and optimizing the utilization/ROI of personnel, robots, and drones as a smart cross-dock and exchange point.
- C. Lab samples may require rare or costly tests, and surgeries may require specific or rare medical kits that are difficult to maintain an inventory for at every location. Our smart mailboxes can serve as an external, dynamic, JIT supply closet to maximize the ROI on rare inventory while supporting better availability and outcomes.
- D. Leading medical operations are at the cutting edge of formulating custom just in time ("JIT") treatment protocols that can require couriers specialty custom medicines between multiple facilities. Our smart mailboxes can provide a foundational network for optimizing courier and utilization for more reliable inventory and drug movement/re-positioning.

E. Similarly, prescription, biologics, and sample delivery networks that extend beyond the medical campus to networks of doctors and clinics can benefit from improved cycle times, notifications, climate control, security, and chain-of-custody capabilities of our Smart Mailboxes.

Large Assisted Living Communities

Second, we are simultaneously pursuing large, assisted living communities ("LALC"), where there is already a history of consolidating mail, package, prescription, and food delivery for a large dependent community. For LALC we can help introduce and improve the smart, secure, and seamless automated exchange of packages, goods, supplies, food, and medicine between people, robots, and drones. By placing banks of our smart mailboxes beside existing walls/banks of US Postal Mailbox we can expedite courier deliveries and residence convenience as a foundation, followed by automated drone and robotic deliveries and ultimately robotic pickup and delivery to residence front doors. Logistics services, whether leveraging automation or not, prefer delivering to a few locations that have banks of smart mailboxes which are convenient for residents and will ultimately support automated transfers to their front doors if desired.

Platform Design

We are also employing platform thinking and strategies in our product and market relationships. What do we mean by a platform? At the highest level, a platform is a group of technologies, data, processes, standards, licensing, and business operations/rules that are developed as a collective system and foundation upon which an ecosystem of stakeholders, comprised of businesses, consumers, and investors, can interoperate a share in the profits and benefits of collectively serving a market better than they can do alone or by narrow vertical integrations. It provides a market-driven foundation for multiple, interdependent, stakeholders to collectively supply and consume value more efficiently - like an ecosystem - for a given market opportunity. An example is Apple's iPhone, app store, chips, operating system, and developer resources together form a platform for multiple independent developers, consumers, suppliers, accessory makers, and others to serve Apple's iPhone customer/community base. Similarly our Mailbox-as-a-Service creates a common foundation for many independent businesses, carriers, automation operators, technology providers to partner in deploy solutions, services, and business models for an evolving set of end-customer needs in last-mile logistics and automated business operations marketplace.

1. Our Automated Delivery Marketplace (ADM) software provides platform services to multiple partners and automation operators for scheduling arrival and departure times at our mailboxes (and other locker boxes), optimizing space/inventory utilization of each mailbox, and delivers important real-time location and transaction data and smart notifications, like weather, restrictions, mailbox status, package statuses, and observable automation obstructions upon which our customers rely. Allowing our partners to inter-operate in environments with other providers, and to make real-time value-based trade-offs like placing a premium on the ability to deliver food during a major sports event or at dinner time, versus the ability of a carrier to schedule and guarantee delivery at multiple mailboxes on a specific route at a specific time for operational efficiency and margin.

2. Our Mailbox Financing Exchange (MFE) platform partner financiers, businesses, and automation operators to dynamically share and sponsor the cost of Mailbox-as-a-Service between themselves and for end-customers. For example, if a consumer is a loyal Walmart customer, uses DoorDash regularly, and orders prescription deliveries from CVS, these three partners can easily recognize and split the monthly tab together for this important customer's smart mailbox to further their loyalty, sales, and usage.

Mechanics of the Company's Go-to-market

Since we are bringing a complex mix of hardware, software, and machine learning to market within our Smart Mailbox-as-a-Service Platform, for larger medical and assisted living operations and enterprises, our initial go-to-market is similar to a SaaS enterprise sale. We will be reliant on a direct consultative sales model in the early market in which marketing provides leads. We will lean heavily on meeting medical leaders where they congregate and on providing valuable research and content on how to use a smart mailbox-as-a-service platform for the smart, simple, and seamless exchange of supplies, medicine, lab samples, and more between people, robots, and drones within medical operations, campuses, and networks of doctors, clinics, pharmacies, and suppliers.

We will also be working closely with drone and robotic technology providers and operators to coordinate and bring turnkey "whole solutions" to our medical operations and assisted living target markets.

Our initial emerging market will consist of sales to the most innovative and strategic medical operations. We will be collecting data to analyze the success, ROI, and results from early sales customer cohorts to determine the right features, product roadmap, and growth path to expand beyond our early innovative bellwether customers, as we aim to grow into a more mainstream market of early adopters.

According to our findings, trends are showing families and businesses order more online today more than ever. We believe there cannot be large-scale autonomous delivery programs of any kind without Arrive smart receptacles in the ecosystem.

Competition

Our competitive advantage is Arrive's intellectual property patents which provide the company with the first position in the secured drone and robotic delivery mailbox. We beat Amazon to the patent office by nine days and the United States Postal Services by two weeks. Our aggressive sales and marketing campaign in the target markets, supported by a national branding campaign over the patent life through 2036 will support Arrive's first-in-market leading smart mailbox drone receptacle.

The competition (Amazon, UPS, FedEx, and other logistics players) may attempt to enter the market, but Arrive's patents will help protect our delivery system advantage. In addition, companies such as Valqari and Airbox are still looking for business models that don't infringe on our IP.
