We're Growing Fast, Even During COVID

The Market Opportunity is Now

By investing now, you'll get in on the ground floor as we capitalize on a window of opportunity never before seen in this market. Dealers need our solution more than ever, and we're confident we can embed our platform into their workflow during this key time to secure lasting, lucrative partnerships.

Used Car Sales are Skyrocketing

In hard times, used car sales significantly outperform new vehicle sales. Right now, this trend is rising side-by-side with increased demand for remote solutions. Our platform serves both of these needs simultaneously, positioning us at the center of two fast-growing markets.

Used Car Sales Trends

We've Achieved Positive Net Income in Year One

In year one alone, we've achieved positive net income (extremely rare!)—and we expect to continue this trend with robust growth across the years to come.

We're Lightyears Ahead of the Competition

Think of us as the “better mortgage of the auto industry.” We're not offering a new solution, we're improving upon an existing solution with superior UX and integrated vendors, while focusing on the underserved independent dealer market.

With this in mind, we're actively improving our product, making key hires, and refining our loan program to position ourselves as the #1 lending solution provider for independent dealers. — COLLAPSE ALL

“FinTech in the auto industry has failed to evolve for far too long, leaving dealerships with the burden of manual data entry and time-consuming processes. Now is the time for a digital platform connecting independent dealers, lenders, and investors with transparency and trust—and automatic is answering the call.” ~ Eric Burney, CEO & Co-Founder
